(1) Yard switching tracks. Includes tracks in yards where separate switching services are maintained, including classification, house, team, industry, and other tracks switched by yard locomotives. Excludes running tracks located within yards which are regularly used by road trains, passing tracks, and all turnouts from these tracks to clearance points.

(2) Way switching tracks. Includes station, team, industry, and other switching tracks for which no separate switching service is maintained.

(3) Running tracks. Includes running tracks, passing tracks, crossovers, etc., including turnouts from those tracks to clearance points.

(b) The separation of the expenses between yard switching tracks, way switching tracks, and running tracks shall be based either on the work actually performed and materials used for each class of track or on a weighted track-mile basis, developed from special studies. The expenses for each class of track shall be separated between freight service and passenger service as follows:

(1) Yard switching tracks. Expenses for exclusively freight or passenger yards shall be directly assigned. Expenses for yards used in common by freight and passenger services shall be apportioned on the basis of the respective switching locomotive hours in the common yards.

(2) Way switching tracks. Expenses of exclusively freight or passenger tracks shall be directly assigned. Where the tracks at any one location are used in common by both freight and passenger services, expenses may be assigned to that service which makes the preponderant use of them.

(3) Running tracks. Expenses of tracks exclusively used for freight or passenger service shall be directly assigned. The expenses of tracks used in common by both services shall be apportioned on the basis of gross ton-miles (including locomotive ton-miles) handled over these common tracks in the respective services.

§ 121.3 Station and office buildings (account 227). Assign directly as per § 121.01. If the sum of the direct freight and the direct passenger expenses is more than 50 percent of the total charges to this account for an accounting division, apportion the common expenses on the basis of the directly assigned expenses in this account for the accounting division involved. Where the sum of the direct freight and the direct passenger expenses does not aggregate 50 percent of the total charges for an accounting division, the common expenses should be apportioned on the basis of special test. Where common expenses exist in any accounting division but the direct expenses are applicable to only one service, i. e., freight or passenger, the common expenses shall be apportioned on the basis of a special test. If the accounting is performed on a system basis rather than by accounting divisions, follow the intent of the above instructions.

§ 121.4 Roadway buildings (account 229). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion common expenses according to proportions of accounts 202 to 221, inclusive.

§ 121.5 Water stations (account 231). Assigns directly as per § 121.01. Apportion common expenses according to proportions of accounts 385 and 397, after deducting charges for water issued from stations assigned direct.

§ 121.6 Fuel stations (account 233). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion common expenses according to proportions of charges to accounts 382 and 394, after deducting charges from fuel stations assigned direct.

§ 127.7 Shops and enginehouses (account 235). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion common expenses of shops according to proportions of accounts 308, 311, 314, 317, 323, and 326, excluding common expenses in account 326; of enginehouses according to proportions of accounts 388 and 400.

§ 121.8 Grain elevators; storage warehouses; wharves and docks; and coal and ore wharves (accounts 237–243). Assign directly or apportion according to facts in individual instances.

§ 121.9 Communication systems (account 247). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion common expenses on basis of accounts 201, 301, 351, 371, and 372 taken together.

NOTE: As accounts 451 and 452 are apportioned on the basis of proportions established for accounts 201 to 448, inclusive, they are not included here as bases for apportioning account 247.

§ 121.10 Signals and interlockers (account 249). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion common expenses on the basis of the total locomotive-miles (road and yard) plus train-miles without locomotives (motor car propelled trains) but excluding helper-locomotive-miles.

§ 121.11 Power plants (account 253). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion common expenses on basis of power used.

§ 121.12 Power-transmission systems; and miscellaneous structures (accounts 257–265). Assign according to the facts in individual instances.

§ 121.13 Road property—depreciation; retirements; road; and deferred maintenance; way and structures, etc. (accounts 266–268). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion common expenses according to the proportions of charges under the appropriate maintenance of way and structures accounts.

§ 121.14 Roadway machines (account 269). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion common expenses according to proportions of accounts 202 to 221, inclusive.

§ 121.15 Dismantling retired road property (account 270). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion common expenses according to proportions of charges under the appropriate maintenance of way and structures accounts.

§ 121.16 Small tools and supplies; removing snow, ice, and sand; and public improvements; maintenance (accounts 271–273). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion common expenses according to proportions of accounts 202 to 221, inclusive.

§ 121.17 Injuries to persons; insurance; stationery and printing; and other expenses (accounts 274–277). When not determined by the particulars in individual instances, these expenses shall be apportioned according to the percentages used to divide common expenses of account 201.

§ 121.18 Maintaining joint tracks, etc. (accounts 278–279). Joint facility debits shall be separated according to use made of the facilities by the debtor carrier regardless of the use by the other carriers. The creditor carrier shall apportion the credits on the basis of accounts 202 to 277, inclusive, and 281, excluding common expenses in account 247.

§ 121.19 Right-of-way expenses (account 281). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion common expenses according to proportions of accounts 202 to 221, inclusive.

MAINTENANCE OF EQUIPMENT

§ 121.20 Superintendence (account 301). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion common expenses according to the proportions of accounts 302, 304, 306 to 329, inclusive, and 332 to 335, inclusive, excluding common expenses in accounts 328, and 332 to 335, inclusive.

§ 121.21 Shop machinery (account 302). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion common expenses according to proportions of accounts 308, 311, 314, 317, 323, and 326 combined.

§ 121.22 Power-plant machinery (account 304). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion common expenses on basis of power used.

§ 121.23 Shop and power-plant machinery; depreciation; and dismantling retired shop and power-plant machinery (accounts 305–306). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion common expenses according to tenor of accounts 302 and 304.

§ 121.24 Steam locomotives, repairs (account 308).—(a) Where the carrier maintains records of the repairs by individual locomotives or classes of locomotives. When the individual locomotives or classes of locomotives are used exclusively in road-freight, road-passenger, yard-freight or yard-passenger services, the separation shall be actual. When the individual locomotives or classes of locomotives are used interchangeably in road-freight (including train switching), road-passenger, yard-freight or yard-passenger services, distribute the heavy shop repairs between these services on the basis of the run-out miles of the individual locomotives or classes of locomotives since the previous shopping; and distribute the cost of running repairs between such services on the basis of the miles run by the individual locomotive or class of locomotive in each service during the accounting period for which the separation is being made.

(b) Where the cost of heavy shop repairs is kept by individual locomotives or classes of locomotives, but the cost of running repairs is not kept either by individual locomotives or classes of locomotives. The heavy shop repairs should be distributed as indicated in paragraph (a) of this section. The cost of running repairs shall be apportioned among road-freight (including train switching), road-passenger, yard-freight and yard-passenger services on the basis of locomotive-ton-miles or locomotive unit miles for the accounting period for which the separation is being made.

(c) Where record is not kept of either heavy shop repairs or running repairs by individual locomotives or classes of locomotives. The expenses shall be distributed among road-freight service (including train switching), road-passenger service, yard-freight, and yard-passenger, on the basis of locomotive-ton-miles or locomotive unit miles for the accounting period for which the separation is being made.

§ 121.26 Freight-train cars; repairs; and passenger-train cars; repairs (accounts 314–317). Assign directly.

§ 121.27 Floating equipment; repairs (account 323). Apportion according to use made of the floating equipment.

§ 121.28 Work equipment; repairs (account 326). Apportion common expenses according to proportions of accounts 202 to 265, inclusive, 269 to 273, inclusive, and 281, excluding common expenses in account 247.

§ 121.29 Miscellaneous equipment; repairs (328). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion common expenses according to percentages used to divide common expenses of accounts 201, 301, 351, and 371.

§ 121.30 Dismantling retired equipment (account 329). Observe tenor of directions under accounts 308 to 328, inclusive.

§ 121.32 Equipment; depreciation (account 331). Observe tenor of directions under accounts 308 to 328, inclusive.

§ 121.33 Injuries to persons; insurance; stationery and printing; and other expenses (accounts 332–335). When not determined by the particulars in individual instances, these expenses shall be apportioned according to the percentages use to divide common expenses of account 301.

§ 121.34 Joint maintenance of equipment expenses, etc. (accounts 336–337). Joint equipment charges shall be treated on appropriate basis according to the use made of the equipment by the debtor carrier, regardless of the use by other carriers. Creditor carrier should apportion the credits on the basis of accounts 302 to 335, inclusive, 339, and 340.

§ 121.35 Deferred maintenance; equipment, etc.; and major repairs; equipment, etc., (accounts 339–340). Observe tenor of directions under the appropriate maintenance of equipment accounts 301 to 335, inclusive.

TRAFFIC

§ 121.36 Superintendence; outside agencies; advertising; traffic associations; fast freight lines; industrial and immigration bureaus; insurance; stationery and printing; and other expenses (accounts 351–359). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion the unassigned remainder on the basis of the directly assigned expenses in this general account, other than advertising expense.

TRANSPORTATION; RAIL LINE

§ 121.37 Superintendence (account 371). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion common expenses according to the proportions of accounts 372 to 420, inclusive, excluding the total expenses in accounts 390, 391, 412, and 413, and common expenses in accounts 407, 410, and 411.

§ 121.38 Dispatching trains (account 372). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion common expenses on the basis of transportation service train hours, including train switching hours.

§ 121.39 Station employees (account 373). Assign directly as per § 121.01. If the sum of the direct freight and the direct passenger expenses is more than 50 percent of the total charges to this account for an accounting division, apportion the common expenses on the basis of the directly assigned expenses in this account for the accounting division involved. Where the sum of the direct freight and the direct passenger expenses does not aggregate 50 percent of the total charges for an accounting division, the common expenses should be apportioned on the basis of special test. Where common expenses exist in any accounting division but the direct expenses are applicable to only one service, i. e., freight or passenger, and even though the direct charges are over 50 percent of the total charges, the common expenses shall be apportioned on the basis of a special test. If the accounting is performed on a system basis rather than by accounting divisions, follow the intent of the above instructions.

§ 121.41 Station supplies and expenses (account 376). Assign directly as per § 121.01. If the sum of the direct freight and the direct passenger expenses is more than 50 percent of the total charges to this account for an accounting division, apportion the common expenses on the basis of the directly assigned expenses in this account for the accounting division involved. Where the sum of the direct freight and the direct passenger expenses does not aggregate 50 percent of the total charges for an accounting division, the common expenses should be apportioned on the basis of special test. Where common expenses apply in any accounting division but the direct expenses are applicable to only service, i. e., freight or passenger, and even though the direct charges are over 50 percent of the total charges, the common expenses shall be apportioned on the basis of a special test. If the accounting is performed on a system basis rather than by accounting divisions, follow the intent of the above instructions.

§ 121.42 Yardmasters and yard clerks; yard conductors and brakemen; yard switch and signal tenders; and yard enginemen (accounts 377–380). Expenses for exclusively freight or passenger yards shall be assigned directly. Apportion the expenses of common yards on the basis of the total switching locomotive-hours in those yards.

§ 121.43 Yard switching fuel (account 382). Expenses for exclusively freight and passenger yards shall be assigned directly. Apportion the common expenses of each kind of fuel on the basis of the switching locomotive-hours of the locomotives using that kind of fuel in those yards.

§ 121.44 Yard switching power produced; and purchased (accounts 383–384). Expenses for exclusively freight and passenger yards shall be assigned directly. Apportion the expenses of the common yards on the basis of the other switching locomotive-hours of the locomotives in those yards using the power produced or purchased.

§ 121.45 Water for yard locomotives (account 385). Expenses for exclusively freight and passenger yards shall be assigned directly. Apportion the expenses of common yards on the basis of the steam switching locomotive-hours in those yards.

§ 121.46 Lubricants, and other supplies for yard locomotives; enginehouse expenses—yard; and yard supplies and expenses (accounts 386–389). Expenses for exclusively freight or passenger yards shall be assigned directly. Apportion the expenses of common yards on the basis of the total switching locomotive-hours in those yards.

§ 121.47 Operating joint yards and terminals, etc. (accounts 390–391). Joint facilities shall be treated on appropriate bases according to the use made of the facilities by the debtor carrier, regardless of the use by other carriers. Creditor carriers shall apportion the total of account 391 on the basis of accounts 373, and 376 to 389, inclusive.

§ 121.48 Train enginemen; train fuel; train power produced; and train power purchased (accounts 392–396). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion common expenses on the basis of the direct assignment.

§ 121.49 Water for train locomotives (account 397). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion common expenses on the basis of the tons or gallons of fuel consumed by steam locomotives in freight-train and passenger-train services, respectively. Where more than one type of fuel is used by steam locomotives, the kinds of fuel shall be converted to a common equated unit. The equating factors shall be based on the facts in the individual instances.

§ 121.50 Lubricants for train locomotives; and other supplies for train locomotives (accounts 398–399). Observe tenor of directions under accounts 392 to 396, inclusive.

§ 121.51 Enginehouse expenses; train (account 400). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Common expenses at each enginehouse shall be divided according to the number of engines handled for each service. Where various classes of engines differ considerably in expense of handling at an enginehouse, an arbitrary should be adopted representing such variation and the number of engines handled modified accordingly.

§ 121.52 Trainmen; and train supplies and expenses (accounts 401–402). Observe tenor of directions under accounts 392 to 396, inclusive.

§ 121.54 Signal and interlocker operation; and crossing protection (accounts 404–405). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion common expenses on the basis of the total locomotive-miles (road and yard) plus train-miles without locomotives (motor car propelled trains) but excluding helper-locomotive-miles.

§ 121.55 Drawbridge operation (account 406). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion common expenses on the basis of train hours of the particular operating division on which the bridge is located.

§ 121.56 Communication system operation (account 407). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion common expenses on the basis of the sum of the charges (assigned or apportioned) to accounts 201, 301, 351, 371, and 372.

NOTE: As accounts 451 and 452 are apportioned on the basis of proportions established for accounts 201 to 448, inclusive, they are not included here as bases for apportioning this account.

§ 121.57 Operating floating equipment (account 408). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion common expenses according to the use made of the floating equipment.

§ 121.58 Stationery and printing (account 410). When not determined by the particulars in individual instances, apportion according to common expenses in account 371.

§ 121.59 Other expenses (account 411). When not determined by the particulars in individual instances, these expenses shall be apportioned according to the percentages used to divide common expenses of account 371.

§ 121.60 Operating joint tracks and facilities, etc. (accounts 412–413). Joint facilities shall be treated on appropriate bases according to the use made of the facilities by the debtor carrier, regardless of the use by other carriers. Creditor carrier shall apportion the total of account 413 on the basis of accounts 392 to 402, inclusive.

§ 121.61 Insurance; clearing wrecks; damage to property; and damage to livestock on right-of-way (accounts 414–417). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion unassigned remainder on the basis of the directly assigned expenses.

§ 121.63 Loss and damage, baggage (account 419). Assign to passenger.

§ 121.64 Injuries to persons (account 420). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion unassigned remainder on the basis of the directly assigned expenses.

MISCELLANEOUS OPERATIONS

§ 121.65 Dining and buffet service; hotels and restaurants; grain elevators; producing power sold; other miscellaneous operations; and operating joint miscellaneous facilities, etc. (accounts 441–448). Assign directly as per § 121.01 Apportion remainder on appropriate units according to local conditions.

GENERAL EXPENSES

§ 121.66 Salaries and expenses of general officers, and of clerks and attendants; general office supplies and expenses; law expenses; insurance; relief department expenses; pensions and gratuities; stationery and printing; valuation expenses; other expenses; and general joint facilities, etc. (accounts 451–462). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion the remainder according to proportions of accounts 201 to 448, inclusive.

INCOME ACCOUNT

TAXES, EQUIPMENT RENTS, AND JOINT FACILITY RENTS

§ 121.67 Hire of freight cars, credit balance (account 503). Assign directly to freight service.

§ 121.68 Rent from locomotives (account 504). Assign according to type of locomotive rented.

§ 121.69 Rent from passenger-train cars (account 505). Assign directly.

§ 121.72 Joint facility rent income (account 508). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion common expenses on basis of the sum of accounts 279, 337, 391, 413, 448, and 462.

§ 121.73 Railway tax accruals (account 532). (a) Apportion current income tax accruals in accordance with separation of net railway operating income before deducting Federal and State income taxes. If result for one service upon that basis is a deficit, assign income tax to the other service showing an income.

(b) Apportion large or unusual debit and credit adjustments of prior years' income tax accruals on the basis of the respective tax accruals applicable to the year to which such tax adjustments relate.

(c) Apportion all other tax accruals on the basis of separation of total operating expenses.

§ 121.74 Hire of freight cars, debit balance (account 536). Assign directly to freight service.

§ 121.75 Rent for locomotives; rent for passenger-train cars; and rent for floating equipment (accounts 537–539). Assign directly.

§ 121.76 Rent for work equipment (account 540). Apportion in accordance with rules for treating account 326.

§ 121.77 Joint facility rents (account 541). Assign directly as per § 121.01. Apportion common expenses on the basis of the sum of accounts 278, 336, 390, 412, 447 and 461.

CHARGES AND CREDITS BETWEEN SERVICES

§ 121.78 Charges and credits between services. Carriers in making apportionments under the preceding rules should not, until further notice, make any allowance for the credit that should be given to the freight service for work performed (such as carrying company fuel) for the passenger service and vice versa.

NOTE A: If compilation of the information in compliance with any of the foregoing rules or parts thereof result in an undue burden or increase in accounting expense, the matter of relief therefrom may be referred to the Bureau of Transport Economics and Statistics for consideration and decision. Also, if data as good or better can be developed through methods and procedures other than any of those above prescribed, permission for substitution thereof should be requested of the said Bureau. Requests in either event should be supported by full particulars.

NOTE B: The total distribution to freight service or passenger service derived under the foregoing rules for separation consists of the solely related or directly assignable amounts plus an apportionment of the common on a service or use basis. Inasmuch as the amounts assigned and/or apportioned to the freight and passenger services, respectively, are based on the performance of both services, the operating expenses, taxes, equipment, and joint facility rents assigned and/or apportioned to either service may not represent the amounts that could be eliminated if either service were discontinued.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

Bureau of Internal Revenue

[26 CFR Part 29]

INCOME TAX; TAXABLE YEARS BEGINNING AFTER DEC. 31, 1941

COMPENSATION OF CERTAIN MEMBERS OF ARMED FORCES; ABATEMENT OF INCOME TAX FOR SUCH MEMBERS UPON DEATH

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, that the regulations set forth in tentative form below are proposed to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury. Prior to the final adoption of such regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing in duplicate to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C., within the period of 30 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The proposed regulations are to be issued under the authority contained in sections 62 and 3791 of the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. 32, 467; 26 U. S. C. 62, 3791).

[SEAL] JOHN S. GRAHAM,
Acting Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

In order to conform Regulations 111 (26 CFR Part 29) to sections 305 and 334 of the Revenue Act of 1951, approved October 20, 1951, such regulations are hereby amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately preceding § 29.22 (b) (13)–1 the following:

SEC. 305. COMPENSATION OF CERTAIN MEMBERS OF THE ARMED FORCES (REVENUE ACT OF 1951, APPROVED OCTOBER 20, 1951).

(a) Amendment of section 22 (b) (13). Section 22 (b) (13) (relating to exclusion from gross income of compensation of certain members of the armed forces) is hereby amended by striking out subparagraphs (A) and (B) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

(A) Enlisted personnel. Compensation received for active service as a member below the grade of commissioned officer in the armed forces of the United States for any month during any part of which such member—

(i) Served in a combat zone after June 24, 1950, and prior to January 1, 1954, or

(ii) Was hospitalized as a result of wounds, disease, or injury incurred while serving in a combat zone prior to January 1, 1954; but this clause shall not apply for any month during any part of which there are no combatant activities in any combat zone as determined under subparagraph (C) (iii) of this paragraph.

(B) Commissioned officers. So much of the compensation as does not exceed $200 received for active service as a commissioned officer in the armed forces of the United States for any month during any part of which such officer—

(i) Served in a combat zone after June 24, 1950, and prior to January 1, 1954, or

(ii) Was hospitalized as a result of wounds, disease, or injury incurred while serving in a combat zone prior to January 1, 1954; but this clause shall not apply for any month during any part of which there are no combatant activities in any combat zone as determined under subparagraph (C) (iii) of this paragraph.

(b) Definition of service in combat zone. Clause (iii) of section 22 (b) (13) (C) is hereby amended by striking out "such zone; and" and inserting in lieu thereof "such zone, except that June 25, 1950, shall be considered the date of the commencing of combatant activities in the combat zone designated in Executive Order 10195; and".

• • • • •

(d) Effective dates. The amendments made by subsections (a) and (b) shall be applicable to taxable years ending after June 24, 1950. • • •

PAR. 2. Section 29.22 (b) (13)–2, as added by Treasury Decision 5832, approved March 8, 1951, is hereby amended as follows:

(A) By changing the headnote and paragraphs (a) and (b) thereof to read as follows:

§ 29.22 (b) (13)–2 Compensation of members of the armed forces of the United States for service in a combat zone after June 24, 1950, and prior to January 1, 1954, or for service while hospitalized as a result of such combat-zone service. In addition to the exemptions and credits otherwise applicable, section 22 (b) (13) provides that there shall be excluded from gross income:

(a) Compensation received for active service as a member below the grade of commissioned officer in the armed forces of the United States for any month during any part of which such member (1) served in a combat zone after June 24, 1950, and prior to January 1, 1954, or (2) was hospitalized at any place as a result of wounds, disease, or injury incurred while so serving provided that during all of such month there are combatant activities in some combat zone.

(b) In the case of compensation received for active service as a commissioned officer in the armed forces of the United States for any month during any part of which such officer (1) served in a combat zone after June 24, 1950, and prior to January 1, 1954, or (2) was hospitalized at any place as a result of wounds, disease, or injury incurred while so serving provided that during all of such month there are combatant activities in some combat zone, so much of such compensation as does not exceed $200.

The exclusions under section 22 (b) (13) and this section are applicable only if active service is performed in a combat zone after June 24, 1950, and prior to January 1, 1954. Compensation is subject to exclusion whether or not it is received outside a combat zone or while the recipient is hospitalized or in a year (including a year after 1953) different from that in which the service was rendered for which the compensation is paid. Service is performed in a combat zone only if it is performed in an area which the President of the United States has designated by Executive order, for the purpose of section 22 (b) (13), as an area in which armed forces of the United States are or have (after June 24, 1950) engaged in combat, and only if it is performed on or after the date designated by the President by Executive order as the date of the commencing of combatant activities in such zone (except that the date June 25, 1950, in the combat zone designated in Executive Order 10195, shall be considered the date of the commencing of combatant activities in such zone) and on or before the date designated by the President by Executive order as the date of the termination of combatant activities in such zone. If a member of the armed forces serves in a combat zone or is hospitalized for any part of a month, he is entitled to the exclusion for such month to the same extent as if he had served in such zone, or had been hospitalized, for the entire month.

(B) By adding after the first undesignated paragraph following paragraph (b) thereof the following:

If an individual is hospitalized for a wound, disease, or injury while serving in a combat zone, the wound, disease, or injury will, unless the contrary clearly appears, be presumed to have been incurred while serving in a combat zone. In certain cases, however, a wound, disease, or injury may have been incurred while serving in a combat zone even though the individual was not hospitalized for it while so serving. And, in exceptional cases, a wound, disease, or injury will not have been incurred while serving in a combat zone even though the individual was hospitalized for it while so serving.

These principles may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). An individual is hospitalized in a combat zone for a specific disease after having served in such zone for three weeks. The incubation period of such disease is from two to four weeks. Such disease was incurred while serving in the combat zone.

Example (2). The facts are the same as in example (1) except that the incubation period is one year. Such disease was not incurred while serving in the combat zone.

Example (3). A member of the Air Force, stationed outside the combat zone, is shot while participating in an aerial flight over the combat zone, but is not hospitalized until he returns to his home base. Such injury was incurred while serving in a combat zone.

Example (4). An individual is hospitalized for a specific disease three weeks after having departed from a combat zone. The incubation period of such disease is from two to four weeks. Such disease was incurred while serving in a combat zone.

An individual is hospitalized only until such time as his status as a hospital patient ceases by reason of his discharge from the hospital.

PAR. 3. There is inserted immediately following § 29.153–4, as added by Treasury Decision 5838, approved April 17, 1951, the following:

SEC. 334. ABATEMENT OF INCOME TAX FOR CERTAIN MEMBERS OF ARMED FORCES UPON DEATH (REVENUE ACT OF 1951, APPROVED OCTOBER 20, 1951).

Supplement D of chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to returns and payment of tax) is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof the following new section:

SEC. 154. INCOME TAXES OF MEMBERS OF ARMED FORCES UPON DEATH.

In the case of any individual who dies after June 24, 1950, and prior to January 1, 1954, while in active service as a member of the Armed Forces of the United States, if such death occurred while serving in a combat zone (as determined under section 22 (b) (13)) or as a result of wounds, disease, or injury incurred while so serving—

(a) The tax imposed by this chapter shall not apply with respect to the taxable year in which falls the date of his death, or with respect to any prior taxable year ending on or after the first day he so served in a combat zone after June 24, 1950; and

(b) The tax under this chapter and under the corresponding title of each prior revenue law for taxable years preceding those specified in clause (a) which is unpaid at the date of his death (including interest, additions to the tax, and additional amounts) shall not be assessed, and if assessed the assessment shall be abated, and if collected shall be credited or refunded as an overpayment.

§ 29.154–1 Abatement of income taxes of certain members of the armed forces upon death. (a) If an individual dies after June 24, 1950, and prior to January 1, 1954, while in active service as a member of the armed forces of the United States, and such death occurs while serving in a combat zone, as determined under section 22 (b) (13), or at any place as a result of wounds, disease, or injury incurred while so serving, then

(1) The tax liability of such individual under chapter 1 for the taxable year ending on the date of his death, or for any prior taxable year ending on or after the first day he so served in a combat zone after June 24, 1950, is cancelled and if the tax (including interest, additions to the tax, and additional amounts) is assessed, the assessment shall be abated, and if the amount of such tax is collected (regardless of the date of collection) the amount so collected shall be credited or refunded as an overpayment; and

(2) That amount of tax of such individual for taxable years preceding those specified in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph under chapter 1, or corresponding provisions of prior revenue laws, which remains unpaid as of the date of death shall not be assessed, and if any such unpaid tax (including interest, additions to the tax, and additional amounts) has been assessed, such assessment shall be abated, and if the amount of any such unpaid tax is collected subsequent to the date of death, the amount so collected shall be credited or refunded as an overpayment.

(b) If such an individual and his spouse have for any such year filed a joint return, the tax abated, credited, or refunded pursuant to the provisions of section 154 for such year shall be an amount equal to that portion of the joint tax liability which is the same percentage of such joint tax liability as a tax computed upon the separate income of such individual is of the sum of the taxes computed upon the separate income of such individual and his spouse, but with respect to taxable years ending prior to June 24, 1950, and with respect to taxable years ending prior to the first day such individual served in a combat zone, as determined under section 22 (b) (13), the amount so abated, credited, or refunded shall not exceed the amount unpaid at the date of death. For such purpose, the separate tax of each spouse shall be the tax computed under chapter 1 before the application of sections 32, 35, and 322 (a), but after the application of section 31, as if such spouse were required to make a separate return.

(c) If such an individual and his spouse filed a joint declaration of estimated tax for the taxable year ending with the date of his death, the estimated tax paid pursuant to such declaration may be treated as the estimated tax of either such individual or his spouse, or may be divided between them, in such manner as his legal representative and such spouse may agree. Should they agree to treat such estimated tax, or any portion thereof, as the estimated tax of such individual, the estimated tax so paid shall be credited or refunded as an overpayment for the taxable year ending with the date of his death.

(d) For the purpose of determining the tax which is unpaid at the date of death, any amounts deducted and withheld under subchapter D of chapter 9 constitute payment of a tax imposed under chapter 1.

(e) This section shall have no application whatsoever with respect to the liability of an individual as a transferee of property of a taxpayer where such liability relates to the tax imposed upon the taxpayer by chapter 1.

(f) As to what constitutes active service as a member of the armed forces, service in a combat zone, and wounds, disease, or injury incurred while serving in a combat zone, see § 29.22 (b) (13)–2. As to who are members of the armed forces, see § 29.3797–11.

EARNED INCOME FROM SOURCES WITHOUT THE UNITED STATES

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, that the regulations set forth in tentative form below are proposed to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury. Prior to the final adoption of such regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing in duplicate to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C., within the period of 30 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The proposed regulations are to be issued under the authority contained in sections 62 and 3791 of the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. 32, 467; 26 U. S. C. 62, 3791).

[SEAL] JOHN S. GRAHAM,
Acting Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

In order to conform Regulations 111 (26 CFR Part 29) to the provisions of section 321 (relating to earned income from sources without the United States) of the Revenue Act of 1951, approved October 20, 1951, such regulations are hereby amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately preceding § 29.116–1 the following:

SEC. 321. EARNED INCOME FROM SOURCES WITHOUT THE UNITED STATES [REVENUE ACT OF 1951, APPROVED OCTOBER 20, 1951].

(a) Exclusion from gross income. Section 116 (a) (relating to earned income from sources without the United States) is hereby amended by striking out paragraphs (1) and (2) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

(1) Bona fide resident of foreign country. In the case of an individual citizen of the United States, who establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary that he has been a bona fide resident of a foreign country or countries for an uninterrupted period which includes an entire taxable year, amounts received from sources without the United States (except amounts paid by the United States or any agency thereof) if such amounts constitute earned income (as defined in paragraph (3)) attributable to such period; but such individual shall not be allowed as a deduction from his gross income any deductions properly allocable to or chargeable against amounts excluded from gross income under this paragraph.

(2) Presence in foreign country for 17 months. In the case of an individual citizen of the United States, who during any period of 18 consecutive months is present in a foreign country or countries during at least 510 full days in such period, amounts received from sources without the United which the President of the United States has designated by Executive order, for 1951, the following:

States (except amounts paid by the United States or any agency thereof) if such amounts constitute earned income (as defined in paragraph (3)) attributable to such period; but such individual shall not be allowed as a deduction from his gross income any deductions properly allocable to or chargeable against amounts excluded from gross income under this paragraph.

• • • • • •

(c) Effective dates. The amendment made by subsection (a) shall be applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1950. • • •

PAR. 2. Section 29.116–1, as amended by Treasury Decision 5373, approved May 23, 1944, is further amended as follows:

(A) By revising so much thereof as precedes the first sentence of paragraph (a) thereof to read as follows:

§ 29.116–1 Earned income from sources without the United States—(a) Resident of a foreign country.

(B) By inserting in the first sentence thereof, immediately after "December 31, 1942,", the following: "and before January 1, 1951,".

(C) By deleting from paragraph (a) thereof the last two sentences, which commence with the words "However, once bona fide residence" and "Whether the individual citizen", respectively.

(D) By redesignating present paragraph (a) as subparagraph (1) and adding the following new subparagraphs (2) and (3):

(2) For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1950, amounts constituting earned income as defined in section 116 (a) (3) shall be excluded from gross income in the case of an individual citizen of the United States who establishes to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that he has been a bona fide resident of a foreign country or countries for an uninterrupted period which includes with with respect to such citizen an entire taxable year, if such amounts are (i) from sources without the United States, (ii) attributable to such uninterrupted period, and (iii) not paid by the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof. The exemption from tax thus provided is applicable to such amounts as are attributable to that portion of an uninterrupted period of bona fide foreign residence which falls within a taxable year during the course of which the citizen takes up or terminates bona fide residence in a foreign country, provided that such period includes with respect to him at least one entire taxable year. If attributable to an uninterrupted period in respect of which the citizen qualifies for the exemption from tax thus provided, the amounts shall be excluded from gross income irrespective of when they are received, if received in taxable years beginning after December 31, 1950. The period during which the citizen was a bona fide resident of a foreign country or countries prior to the commencement of his first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1950, may be taken into account in determining whether such citizen has been a bona fide resident of a foreign country or countries for an uninterrupted period which includes an entire taxable year.

(3) Though the period of bona fide foreign residence must, in the application of either of the above rules, be continuous and uninterrupted, once bona fide residence in a foreign country or countries has been established, temporary visits to the United States or elsewhere on vacation or business trips will not necessarily deprive the citizen of his status as a bona fide resident of a foreign country. Whether the individual citizen of the United States is a bona fide resident of a foreign country shall be determined, to the extent applicable, by the principles of §§ 29.211–2, 29.211–3, 29.211–4, and 29.211–5, relating to what constitutes residence or nonresidence, as the case may be, in the United States in the case of an alien individual.

(E) By inserting in the first sentence of paragraph (b) thereof, immediately after "December 31, 1941,", the following: "and before January 1, 1951,".

(F) By adding at the end of paragraph (c) thereof, which commences with the words "In any case in which any amount", the following new sentence: "The apportionment and allocation of such expenses, losses, or deductions as between income from sources within, and income from sources without, the United States shall be determined in accordance with the principles of section 119 and the regulations thereunder."

(G) By redesignating present paragraphs (b) through (e) as subparagraphs (4) through (7) and adding the following new subparagraphs (8) through (10):

(8) Amounts derived from sources without the United States shall not be included in gross income solely because they are received within the United States, since the place of receipt is immaterial in determining whether amounts constituting earned income are excluded from gross income under the provisions of section 116 (a). No amounts received for services performed within the United States shall be excluded from gross income by such section. For the allocation or segregation as between sources within, and sources without, the United States in the case of compensation for labor or personal services, see section 119 and the regulations thereunder.

(9) The term "foreign country" includes only territory under the sovereignty of a government other than that of the United States. It does not include a possession or territory of the United States.

(10) If the citizen has at the due date prescribed by law or regulations for filing a return of income been a bona fide resident of a foreign country or countries for an uninterrupted period which does not include with respect to him an entire taxable year, he shall, in applying the rule applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1950, include in gross income on his return all amounts received or accrued as earned income from sources without the United States which are attributable to the portion of such period covered by his return, even though such amounts may ultimately be excluded from gross income when the taxpayer has, in respect of such period, satisfied the requirement of having been a bona fide resident of a foreign country or countries for an uninterrupted period which includes an entire taxable year. Once that requirement has been satisfied and it is determined that amounts attributable to such period and previously returned as gross income are excluded therefrom pursuant to section 116 (a) (1), then a claim for refund or credit of any overpayment of tax resulting from the inclusion of such excluded amounts shall be made under the provisions of section 322. See sections 51, 53, 322, and the regulations thereunder.

(H) By adding a new paragraph (b) as follows:

(b) Presence in a foreign country. (1) For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1950, amounts constituting earned income as defined in section 116 (a) (3) shall be excluded from gross income in the case of an individual citizen of the United States who during any period of 18 consecutive months is present in a foreign country or countries during a total of at least 510 full days, if such amounts are (i) from sources without the United States, (ii) attributable to such period, and (iii) not paid by the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof. If attributable to a period of 18 consecutive months in respect of which the citizen qualifies for the exemption from tax thus provided, the amounts shall be excluded from gross income irrespective of when they are received, if received in taxable years beginning after December 31, 1950. The period during which the citizen was present in a foreign country or countries prior to the commencement of his first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1950, may be taken into account in determining whether such citizen is present in a foreign country or countries during at least 510 full days during any period of 18 consecutive months.

(2) If the citizen has at the due date prescribed by law or regulations for filing a return of income been present in a foreign country or countries during a period of time, but is unable at such date in respect of such period to satisfy the requirements of section 116 (a) (2), he shall include in gross income on his return all amounts received or accrued as earned income from sources without the United States which are attributable to the portion of such period covered by his return, even though such amounts may ultimately be excluded from gross income when the taxpayer has, in respect of such period, satisfied the requirements of having been present in a foreign country or countries for a total of at least 510 full days during a period of 18 consecutive months. Once those requirements have been satisfied and it is determined that amounts attributable to such period and previously returned as gross income are excluded therefrom pursuant to section 116 (a) (2), then a claim for refund or credit of any overpayment of tax resulting from the inclusion of such excluded amounts shall be made under the provisions of section 322. See sections 51, 53, 322, and the regulations thereunder.

(3) The provisions of paragraph (a) of this section respecting the disallowance of certain deductions, the definition of earned income, the source of income, and the immateriality of the place of receipt of amounts constituting earned income are equally effective in the application of this paragraph.

(4) The term "foreign country" includes only territory under the sovereignty of a government other than that of the United States. It would thus not include the high seas or a possession of the United States, but would include the territorial waters of, and the air space over, a foreign country.

(5) The exclusion provided by section 116 (a) (2) applies to income attributable to any period of 18 consecutive months during which the citizen satisfies the 510 full-day requirement, even though such period constitutes a part of a longer period of presence in a foreign country or countries. For this purpose, the term "18 consecutive months" means any period of such duration, that is, any period commencing with the beginning of any day of a calendar month and terminating (i) with the close of the day which precedes that day in the eighteenth succeeding calendar month numerically corresponding to the day of the period's beginning, or, if there is no such corresponding day, (ii) with the close of the last day of such eighteenth succeeding month. Such period need not necessarily commence with the day of arrival in a foreign country, nor terminate with the day of departure therefrom. In no event will the 510 full-day requirement be prorated over a period of less than 18 consecutive months.

(6) Thus, a citizen who arrives in a foreign country on January 1, 1952, and departs therefrom on January 1, 1955, may not be present in such country for 510 full days during the 18-month period commencing with January 1, 1952, and ending with the close of June 30, 1953, because of his visits to the United States during such period, but may satisfy the 510 full-day requirement during the 18–month period commencing with February 15, 1952, and ending with the close of August 14, 1953. In such event, the exclusion will apply to income attributable to the latter period, but not to income attributable to the period commencing with January 1, 1952, and ending with the close of February 14, 1952. Conversely, the mere fact that the 510 full-day requirement has been satisfied with respect to the period ending with the close of August 14, 1953, does not mean that income earned thereafter will be excluded under section 116 (a) (2) unless such income is attributable to another 18-month period during which there is compliance with the 510 full-day requirement.

(7) The term "full day" means, not any consecutive 24-hour period, but a continuous period of twenty-four hours commencing from midnight and ending with the following midnight. In computing the minimum of 510 full days of presence in a foreign country or countries, all separate periods of such presence during the period of 18 consecutive months are to be aggregated. The 510 full days need not be consecutive, but may be interrupted by a number of short periods during which the citizen is not present in a foreign country. Time spent in a foreign country in the employment of the United States Government will count toward satisfaction of the 510 full-day requirement, even though amounts paid by such Government are not exempt from tax under section 116 (a) (2).

Example (1). At 2 p. m. on January 18, 1952, Mr. Brown, a citizen of the United States privately employed, arrived in England on a business trip from the United States. On May 19, 1952, at 10 p. m. he departed from England by steamer and arrived in the United States on May 25, 1952. After spending a period therein on official business, he left the United States by steamer on June 9, 1952, and arrived in France at 3 p. m., June 14, 1952. At 8 a. m. on February 3, 1953, he departed from France by airplane for a brief visit to Puerto Rico, arriving there on February 4; and thence went to England, arriving there at 1 a. m. on February 12, 1953, where he remained until midnight July 18, 1953, at which time the 510 full-day requirement was satisfied in respect of the period of 18 consecutive months which began with January 19, 1952. Mr. Brown continued his presence in England, not leaving such country until 5 a. m. on November 18, 1953, at which time he departed for the United States. During the 18-month period commencing with January 19, 1952, and ending with the close of July 18, 1953, the taxpayer was in a foreign country or countries an aggregate of 510 full days; in addition, during the 18-month period commencing with June 16, 1952, and ending with the close of December 15, 1953, he was in a foreign country or countries an aggregate of 510 full days. The exemption from tax provided by section 116 (a) (2) will thus apply to the entire period which commences with January 19, 1952, and ends with the close of December 15, 1953.

Example (2). On March 6, 1952, at 3 p. m. Mr. Green, a citizen privately employed, arrived in Cuba where he remained until 9 p. m., June 25, 1952, at which time he departed from Cuba for a short business trip to Puerto Rico. Upon completion of his negotiations in that possession, he departed for Mexico, arriving there at 2 p. m. on July 24, 1952, where he remained until 10 a. m., August 22, 1953, at which time he departed from such country for a vacation in the United States. He arrived again in Mexico at 9 a. m. on September 5, 1953, where he remained until 8 a. m., January 1, 1954, at which time he departed from such country for new assignment in the United States. During the 18-month period commencing with March 7, 1952, and ending with the close of September 6, 1953, the taxpayer was in a foreign country or countries an aggregate of 504 full days; during the 18-month period commencing with July 1, 1952, and ending with the close of December 31, 1953, he was in a foreign country an aggregate of 510 full days. The exemption from tax provided by section 116 (a) (2) will thus not apply to any part of the period beginning with March 6, 1952, and ending with the close of June 30, 1952; it will apply, if the taxpayer so desires, to the period commencing with July 1, 1952, and ending with the close of December 31, 1953.

EXCESS PROFITS TAX; TAXABLE YEARS ENDING AFTER JUNE 30, 1950

MAXIMUM TAX FOR NEW CORPORATIONS

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, that the regulations set forth in tentative form below are proposed to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury. Prior to the final adoption of such regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing in duplicate to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C., within the period of 30 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The proposed regulations are to be issued under the authority contained in section 62 of the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. 32; 26 U. S. C. 62).

[SEAL] JOHN S. GRAHAM,
Acting Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

In order to conform Regulations 130 (26 CFR Part 40) to section 501 of the Revenue Act of 1951, approved October 20, 1951, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately preceding § 40.430–1 the following:

SEC. 501. MAXIMUM TAX FOR NEW CORPORATIONS (REVENUE ACT OF 1951, APPROVED OCTOBER 20, 1951).

Section 430 (relating to imposition of tax) is hereby amended as follows:

(1) By adding at the end of subsection (a) thereof, as amended by section 121 of this act, the following:

(3) In the case of a corporation for which an amount is determined for the taxable year under subsection (e), the amount determined under such subsection.

(2) By redesignating subsection (e) as subsection (f); and

(3) By inserting after subsection (d) the following new subsection:

(e) New corporations—(1) Alternative amount. In the case of a taxpayer which commenced business after July 1, 1945, and whose fifth taxable year ends after June 30, 1950, the amount referred to in subsection (a) (3) shall be—

(A) If the taxable year is the first or second taxable year of the taxpayer, an amount equal to 5 per centum of the excess profits net income for the taxable year, except that if the excess profits net income exceeds $300,000, the amount shall be the sum of $15,000 plus the amount determined under subparagraph (E) of this paragraph.

(B) If the taxable year is the third taxable year of the taxpayer, an amount equal to 8 per centum of the excess profits net income for the taxable year, except that if the excess profits net income exceeds $300,000, the amount shall be the sum of $24,000 plus the amount determined under subparagraph (E) of this paragraph.

(C) If the taxable year is the fourth taxable year of the taxpayer, an amount equal to 11 per centum of the excess profits net income for the taxable year, except that if the excess profits net income exceeds $300,000, the amount shall be the sum of $33,000 plus the amount determined under subparagraph (E) of this paragraph.

(D) If the taxable year is the fifth taxable year of the taxpayer, an amount equal to 14 per centum of the excess profits net income for the taxable year, except that if the excess profits net income exceeds $300,000, the amount shall be the sum of $42,000 plus the amount determined under subparagraph (E) of this paragraph.

(E) The amount determined under this subparagraph shall be—

(I) If the taxable year ends before April 1, 1951, an amount equal to 15 per centum of the excess of the excess profits net income for the taxable year over $300,000.

(II) If the taxable year begins on January 1, 1951, and ends on December 31, 1951, an amount equal to 17¼ per centum of the excess of the excess profits net income for the taxable year over $300,000.

(III) If the taxable year (other than a taxable year described in clause (II)) ends after March 31, 1951, an amount equal to 18 per centum of the excess of the excess profits net income for the taxable year over $300,000.

(2) First five taxable years. For the purpose of this subsection—

(A) The taxable year in which the taxpayer commenced business and the first, second, third, and fourth succeeding taxable years shall be considered its first, second, third, fourth, and fifth taxable years, respectively.

(B) The taxpayer shall be considered to have been in existence and to have had taxable years for any period during which it or any corporation described in any clause of this subparagraph was in existence, and the taxpayer shall be considered to have commenced business on the earliest date on which it or any such corporation commenced business:

(I) Any corporation which during or prior to the taxable year was a party with the taxpayer to a transaction described in section 445 (g) (2) (A), (B), or (C), determined as if the date "July 1, 1945" were substituted for the date "December 1, 1950" in section 445 (g) (2) (C).

(II) Any corporation if a group of not more than four persons who control the taxpayer at any time during the taxable year also controlled such corporation at any time during the period beginning twelve months preceding their acquisition of control of the taxpayer and ending with the close of the taxable year; but only if at any time during such period (and while such persons controlled such corporation) such corporation was engaged in a trade or business substantially similar to the trade or business of the taxpayer during the taxable year. For the purpose of this clause, the term "control" means the ownership of more than 50 per centum of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote, or more than 50 per centum of the total value of shares of all classes of stock. A person shall not be considered a member of the group referred to in this clause unless during the period referred to in this clause he owns stock in such corporation at a time when the members of the group control such corporation and he owns stock in the taxpayer at a time when the members of the group control the taxpayer. For the purpose of this clause, the ownership of stock shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of section 503, except that constructive ownership under section 503 (a) (2) shall be determined only with respect to the individual's spouse and minor children.

(III) In case the taxpayer during or prior to the taxable year was a purchasing corporation (as defined in part IV), the selling corporation (as defined in such part) whose properties were acquired in the part IV transaction; but this clause shall not apply unless for the taxable year or for any preceding taxable year the conditions of paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) of section 474 (c) were satisfied with respect to such transaction.

(IV) Any corporation which, under regulations prescribed by the Secretary, is determined by one or more additional applications of clauses (I) to (III) to stand indirectly in the same relation to the taxpayer as though such corporation were described in any such clause.

If as of the beginning of December 1, 1950, the adjusted basis for determining gain upon sale or exchange of the aggregate assets theretofore acquired by the taxpayer in transactions described in clauses (I) and (III) (or acquired in the ordinary course of business in replacement of such assets) and held by it at such time constituted less than 20 per centum of the adjusted basis for determining gain upon sale or exchange of its total assets held at such time, then transactions described in such clauses occurring prior to such date shall be disregarded in determining the date as of which the taxpayer shall be considered to have commenced business.

(3) Limitation. The provisions of paragraph (1) of this subsection shall not apply to a taxpayer which derives more than 50 per centum of its gross income (determined without regard to dividends and without regard to gains from sales or exchanges of capital assets) for the taxable year from contracts and subcontracts to which the provisions of title I of the Renegotiation Act of 1951 (or the provisions of any prior renegotiation act) are applicable.

SEC. 523. EFFECTIVE DATE OF TITLE V (REVENUE ACT OF 1951, APPROVED OCTOBER 20, 1951).

Except as otherwise provided in section 506 (d), the amendments made by this title (including sec. 501) shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years ending after June 30, 1950.

PAR. 2. Section 40.430-2 is amended as follows:

(A) By striking the period at the end of subdivision (ii) of paragraph (a) (1) and inserting in lieu thereof ", or", and by adding after such subdivision (ii) the following new subdivision (iii):

(iii) In the case of a new corporation for which the excess profits tax is determined for the taxable year under section 430 (e), the amount determined under such section and under paragraph (e) of this section.

(B) By redesignating the present paragraph (e) thereof as paragraph (f).

(C) By inserting immediately following paragraph (d) thereof the following new paragraph (e):

(e) New corporations. (1) Section 430 (e), together with section 430 (a) (3), provides, in the case of any corporation which commenced business after July 1, 1945, for a maximum excess profits tax for any of its first five taxable years which ends after June 30, 1950. The determination of such maximum excess profits tax, which is the amount referred to in section 430 (a) (3) and in paragraph (a) of this section, depends upon the amount of the excess profits net income and upon whether the taxable year is the first, second, third, fourth, or fifth taxable year of the taxpayer. If the excess profits net income for the taxable year does not exceed $300,000, the maximum excess profits tax will be an amount equal to 5 percent of the excess profits net income for the taxable year if such taxable year is the first or second taxable year of the taxpayer; an amount equal to 8 percent of the excess profits net income if the taxable year is the third taxable year of the taxpayer; an amount equal to 11 percent of the excess profits net income if the taxable year is the fourth taxable year of the taxpayer; and an amount equal to 14 percent of the excess profits net income if the taxable year is the fifth taxable year of the taxpayer. If the excess profits net income for the taxable year exceeds $300,000, the maximum excess profits tax will be an amount equal to the sum of $15,000, if the taxable year is the first or second taxable year of the taxpayer, $24,000, if the taxable year is the third taxable year of the taxpayer, $33,000, if the taxable year is the fourth taxable year of the taxpayer, and $42,000, if the taxable year is the fifth taxable year of the taxpayer, plus, in each case, an amount equal to (i) 15 percent of the amount by which the excess profits net income for such taxable year exceeds $300,000 if the taxable year ends before April 1, 1951, or (ii) 17¼ percent of such excess if the taxable year begins on January 1, 1951, and ends on December 31, 1951 (the calendar year 1951), or (iii) 18 percent of such excess if the taxable year ends after March 31, 1951, but is not the calendar year 1951.

(2) The determination of the maximum excess profits tax, as described in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, is shown in the following chart:

A	B	C	D
If the excess profits tax taxable year of the taxpayer is—	If excess profits net income for the taxable year does not exceed $300,000, the maximum excess profits tax is—	If excess profits net income for the taxable year exceeds $300,000, the maximum excess profits tax is—	Amount to be added to column C where excess profits net income exceeds $300,000 —
The first or second taxable year.	5 percent of excess profits net income.	$15,000 plus the amount specified in column D.	(i) If the taxable year ends before April 1, 1951, 15 percent of the amount by which the excess profits net income for such taxable year exceeds $300,000, or (ii) If the taxable year begins on January 1, 1951, and ends on December 31, 1951 (the calendar year 1951), 17¼ percent of such excess, or (iii) If the taxable year ends after March 31, 1951 (except the calendar year 1951), 18 percent of such excess.
The third taxable year.	8 percent of excess profits net income.	$24,000 plus the amount specified in column D.
The fourth taxable year.	11 percent of excess profits net income.	$33,000 plus the amount specified in column D.
The fifth taxable year.	14 percent of excess profits net income.	$42,000 plus the amount specified in column D.

(3) The date the corporation commenced business shall be determined for purposes of section 430 (e) and of this section under the rules provided in the regulations promulgated under section 445, relating to the computation of average base period net income in the case of new corporations. See § 40.445–1 (a) (2). The taxable year in which the taxpayer commenced business, unless the taxpayer is considered to have had an earlier constructive existence, shall be considered its first taxable year and the next four succeeding taxable years shall be considered its second, third, fourth, and fifth taxable years, respectively. The taxpayer, however, shall be considered to have been in existence and to have had taxable years for any period during which any corporation described in section 430 (e) (2) (B) (i), (ii), (iii), or (iv), and in subparagraphs (5) through (8), of this paragraph, was in existence, and the taxpayer shall be considered to have commenced business on the earliest date on which it or any such corporation commenced business. See subparagraph (4) of this paragraph for the determination of constructive taxable years of the taxpayer where such other corporation came into existence prior to the date the taxpayer came into existence.

(4) If the taxpayer is deemed under the provisions of section 430 (e) (2) (B) and of this section to have been in existence prior to the date on which it in fact came into existence and to have had taxable years prior to such date, its first five taxable years for purposes of section 430 (e) and of this section shall be determined by reference to the annual accounting period first established by the taxpayer. Any 12-month period ending with the day on which such annual accounting period first established by the taxpayer ends and during all or part of which the taxpayer or any corporation described in section 430 (e) (2) (B) (i)–(iv) and in subparagraphs (5) through (8) of this paragraph was in existence shall be considered a taxable year of the taxpayer for the purpose of determining its first five taxable years. If both the taxpayer and any other such corporation were in existence during all or part of any such 12-month period, such period shall nevertheless be considered to be only one taxable year of the taxpayer. Any such 12-month period, however, shall be considered a taxable year of the taxpayer if any such other corporation was in existence during all or part of such period, even though such period, or the part thereof in which such other corporation was in existence, did not constitute a taxable year of such other corporation. The rule set forth in this paragraph may be illustrated by the following examples:

Examples. (i) Corporation A came into existence and commenced business on April 1, 1947. It adopted the calendar year as its annual accounting period and filed income tax returns for the period April 1, 1947, through December 31, 1947, and for the calendar year 1948. Corporation A was dissolved on June 30, 1949, and an income tax return was filed for the period January 1, 1949, through June 30, 1949. Corporation B came into existence and commenced business on July 1, 1949. Corporation B likewise adopted the calendar year as its annual accounting period and filed income tax returns for the period July 1, 1949, through December 31, 1949, and also for the calendar year 1950 and subsequent calendar years. By reason of a transaction described in section 430 (e) (2) (B), Corporation B is deemed for purposes of section 430 (e) and of this subsection to have commenced business on April 1, 1947, the date Corporation A commenced business, and to have been in existence and to have had taxable years since that date. Since Corporation B first adopted the calendar year as its annual accounting period, any 12-month period ending on December 31 during which either Corporation B or Corporation A was in existence will constitute a taxable year of Corporation B. Since Corporation A came into existence on April 1, 1947, it was in existence during part of the 12-month period January 1, 1947, through December 31, 1947, and such 12-month period will be deemed to be the first taxable year of Corporation B for purposes of section 430 (e) and of this subsection. Corporation A was in existence during the whole 12-month period January 1, 1948, through December 31, 1948, and such period will be deemed to be the second taxable year of Corporation B. Corporation A was in existence during part of the 12-month period January 1, 1949, through December 31, 1949, and Corporation B also was in existence during part of such period. The 12-month period January 1, 1949, through December 31, 1949, accordingly will be considered to be a taxable year of Corporation B and will be its third taxable year for purposes of section 430 (e) and of this subsection. The calendar years 1950 and 1951 will be the fourth and fifth taxable years, respectively, of Corporation B. It is to be noted that the 12-month period January 1, 1949, through December 31, 1949, is deemed to be one taxable year of Corporation B even though both Corporation A and Corporation B were in existence during part of such period and even though Corporation A filed an income tax return for the period January 1, 1949, through June 30, 1949, and Corporation B filed an income tax return for the period July 1, 1949, through December 31, 1949. It is to be further noted that in this example the 12-month period January 1, 1949, through December 31, 1949, would constitute one taxable year of Corporation B even though Corporation A had not been dissolved on June 30, 1949, but had continued in existence until after December 31, 1949.

(ii) Assume in the above example that when Corporation A came into existence and commenced business on April 1, 1947, it adopted the fiscal year ending March 31 as its annual accounting period and filed income tax returns for the fiscal years April 1, 1947, through March 31, 1948, and April 1, 1948, through March 31, 1949, and also an income tax return for the period April 1, 1949, through June 30, 1949. Since Corporation B first adopted the calendar year as its annual accounting period, Corporation B's first five taxable years must be determined by reference to the 12-month periods ending on December 31. Corporation A came into existence on April 1, 1947, and accordingly was in existence during part of the 12-month period January 1, 1947, through December 31, 1947. Such 12-month period January 1, 1947, through December 31, 1947, accordingly will be deemed to be the first taxable year of Corporation B for purposes of section 430 (e) and of this subsection even though the period April 1, 1947, through December 31, 1947, did not constitute a taxable year of Corporation A. Similarly, the 12-month period January 1, 1948, through December 31, 1948, will be deemed to be the second taxable year of Corporation B even though such 12-month period did not constitute a taxable year of Corporation A. The 12-month periods January 1, 1949, through December 31, 1949, January 1, 1950, through December 31, 1950, and January 1, 1951, through December 31, 1951, will be deemed to be Corporation B's third, fourth, and fifth taxable years, respectively.

(5) (i) If any corporation during or prior to the taxable year for which the excess profits tax is being determined was a party with the taxpayer to a transaction described in section 445 (g) (2) (A), (B), or (C), determined as if the date "July 1, 1945" were substituted for the date "December 1, 1950" in section 445 (g) (2) (C), and if such other corporation had commenced business prior to the date on which the taxpayer commenced business, then the taxpayer, under the provisions of section 430 (e) (2) (B) (i), shall be deemed to have commenced business on the date such other corporation commenced business. The taxpayer shall also be considered to have been in existence during the whole period such other corporation was in existence and to have had taxable years during such period as determined under the provisions of subparagraph (4) of this paragraph. For limitation on the application of section 430 (e) (2) (B) (i) in certain cases, see subparagraph (9) of this paragraph.

(ii) The provisions of section 430 (e) (2) (B) (i) and of subdivision (i) of this subparagraph are applicable only if the party to the transaction with the taxpayer was a corporation. They do not apply, for example, where such party was an individual or a partnership. Thus, if an individual who has been operating a certain business as a sole proprietorship incorporates such business and transfers all the assets of the business to a newly formed corporation in a transaction which qualifies as a section 112 (b) (5) transaction, the newly formed corporation will not be deemed to have been in existence during the prior period when the individual was conducting the business as a sole proprietorship nor will the corporation be deemed to have had taxable years during such prior period.

(6) (i) If a group of not more than four persons control the taxpayer at any time during the taxable year for which the excess profits tax is being determined and if this same group of not more than four persons at any time during the period beginning 12 months prior to its acquisition of control of the taxpayer and ending with the close of such taxable year also controlled a second corporation which at some time during such period (and while the group controlled such second corporation) was engaged in a trade or business substantially similar to the trade or business carried on by the taxpayer during such taxable year, then under the provisions of section 430 (e) (2) (B) (ii) the taxpayer will be deemed to have commenced business on the date on which it itself commenced business or on the date on which such second corporation commenced business, whichever is the earlier. If the second corporation commenced business on a date prior to that on which the taxpayer commenced business, the taxpayer for purposes of section 430 (e) and of this section will also be deemed to have been in existence for the entire period during which such second corporation was in existence and to have had taxable years during such period as determined under the provisions of subparagraph (4) of this paragraph.

(ii) For purposes of section 430 (e) (2) (B) (ii) and of subdivision (i) of this subparagraph a group of not more than four persons will be deemed to control the taxpayer or any other corporation if, and only if, the total stock ownership of such persons in the taxpayer or such other corporation represents more than 50 percent of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote or more than 50 percent the adjusted basis for determining gain upon of new corporations. See § 40.445–1 (a) fourth, and fifth taxable years, respe of the total value of the shares of all classes of stock. For purposes of section 430 (e) (2) (B) (ii) and of this subdivision the ownership of stock shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of section 503, except that constructive ownership under section 503 (a) (2) shall be determined only with respect to the individual's spouse and minor children. A person will not be considered to be a member of the group of not more than four persons which controls the taxpayer at some time during the taxable year and which also controlled a second corporation at some time during the period referred to in section 430 (e) (2) (B) (ii) and in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph unless such person owned stock in the taxpayer at the time the group controlled the taxpayer during the taxable year and also owned stock in the second corporation at the time the group controlled such second corporation during the prescribed period. The individual does not have to own the same percentage of stock in the taxpayer as in the second corporation, but the individual must own some stock in the corporation at the time the group controls such corporation. It is not necessary for the group to control the taxpayer and second corporation at the same time. If the group controlled the taxpayer at any time during the taxable year for which the excess profits tax is being determined and if the same group also controlled the second corporation at some time during the prescribed period, then the requirements of control provided in section 430 (e) (2) (B) (ii) will be met without regard to whether the group controlled the two corporations at the same time or at different times.

(iii) Whether or not the second corporation, at the time it was controlled by the group, was engaged in a trade or business substantially similar to the trade or business carried on by the taxpayer during the taxable year is a question of fact which must be determined in each particular case in the light of all the circumstances of that case.

(7) (i) If during or prior to the taxable year for which the excess profits tax is being determined the taxpayer was a purchasing corporation in a part IV transaction and if the selling corporation in such part IV transaction had commenced business on a date prior to that on which the taxpayer commenced business, then the taxpayer, under the provisions of section 430 (e) (2) (B) (iii), shall be deemed to have commenced business on the date such selling corporation commenced business. The taxpayer shall also be considered to have been in existence during the whole period such selling corporation was in existence and to have had taxable years during such period as determined under the provisions of subparagraph (4) of this paragraph. The provisions of section 430 (e) (2) (B) (iii) and of this subdivision shall not be applicable, however, unless for the taxable year or any preceding taxable year the conditions of paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) of section 474 (c) were satisfied with respect to the part IV transaction. For limitation on the application of section 430 (e) (2) (B) (iii) in certain cases, see subparagraph (9) of this paragraph.

(ii) The terms "purchasing corporation" and "selling corporation" have the same meaning for purposes of section 430 (e) (2) (B) (iii) as for purposes of part IV. Since an individual operating a business as a sole proprietorship or a partnership, under certain circumstances, can be a selling corporation under part IV, such an individual or partnership, unlike the situation with respect to a transaction described in section 430 (e) (2) (B) (i), can likewise be considered to be a corporation for purposes of section 430 (e) (2) (B) (iii). If the taxpayer acquires assets from a sole proprietorship or from a partnership in a part IV transaction and if the sole proprietorship or the partnership constitutes a selling corporation under part IV, then the taxpayer will be deemed to have commenced business on the date the sole proprietorship or partnership commenced business, provided such date is prior to that on which the taxpayer itself commenced business, and to have been in existence and to have had taxable years, as determined under subparagraph (4) of this paragraph, during all of such prior period.

(8) Section 430 (e) (2) (B) (iv) provides that the three clauses in section 430 (e) (2) (B) (i), (ii), and (iii) may be applied several times to determine when the taxpayer commenced business and what are its first five taxable years. Thus, if the taxpayer under section 430 (e) (2) (B) (iii), for example, is deemed to have commenced business on the date Corporation A commenced business and to have been in existence and to have had taxable years during the period Corporation A was in existence, and if Corporation A under section 430 (e) (2) (B) (i) in turn would be deemed to have commenced business on the date Corporation B had commenced business and to have been in existence and to have had taxable years during the period Corporation B was in existence, then the taxpayer, for purposes of section 430 (e) and of this section, shall be deemed to have commenced business on the date Corporation B commenced business and to have been in existence and to have had taxable years during the entire period beginning with the date Corporation B came into existence. The taxpayer's first five taxable years accordingly will be determined, under the provisions of subparagraph (4) of this paragraph, by reference to the date on which Corporation B came into existence. It is immaterial that the taxpayer had no direct relationship with Corporation B. It is sufficient that Corporation B stands indirectly in the same relationship to the taxpayer as if it were a corporation described in one of the three clauses in section 430 (e) (2) (B) (i), (ii), or (iii). It is immaterial which of the clauses in section 430 (e) (2) (B) (i), (ii), (iii) are to be applied, or how many times they are to be applied, or in what order. The taxpayer shall be considered to have commenced business and its first five taxable years will be determined by reference to that corporation which first came into existence and commenced business and with which the taxpayer directly or indirectly stands in a relationship described in any of the three clauses in section 430 (e) (2) (B) (i), (ii), or (iii).

(9) If as of the beginning of December 1, 1950, the adjusted basis for determining gain upon the sale or exchange of the aggregate assets which had been acquired prior to that date by the taxpayer in one or more transactions described in section 430 (e) (2) (B) (i) or in section 430 (e) (2) (B) (iii) (or acquired in the ordinary course of business in replacement of such assets) and which were held by it at such time constituted less than 20 percent of the adjusted basis for determining gain upon sale or exchange of all the assets held by the taxpayer at such time, then such transactions shall be disregarded in determining the date as of which the taxpayer shall be considered to have commenced business and also in determining the first five taxable years of the taxpayer. The provisions of this subparagraph are applicable only to transactions which occurred prior to December 1, 1950, but have no application to any transaction which occurred on or after December 1, 1950.

(10) The maximum excess profits tax provided in section 430 (e) (1) and in this section shall not be available to a taxpayer which derives more than 50 percent of its gross income (determined without regard to dividends and without regard to gains from sales or exchanges of capital assets) for the taxable year for which the excess profits tax is being determined from contracts or subcontracts to which the provisions of title I of the Renegotiation Act of 1951 (or the provisions of any prior renegotiation act) are applicable. In determining whether the taxpayer has derived more than 50 percent of its income from contracts or subcontracts which are subject to renegotiation, all income from contracts or subcontracts which are the type of contracts or subcontracts that are subject to renegotiation must be taken into account without regard to whether a particular contract or subcontract is in fact renegotiated or whether the applicable statute in effect exempts the receipts and accruals of the particular contract or subcontract from renegotiation. Thus, the determination whether a taxpayer has derived more than 50 percent of its gross income from contracts and subcontracts which are subject to renegotiation shall be made without regard to the provisions of the Renegotiation Act of 1951 which exempt from renegotiation receipts and accruals of less than $250,000 in any taxable year. If a taxpayer, for example, had gross income for the taxable year of $200,000 of which $150,000 was derived from a contract of a type which is subject to renegotiation under title I of the Renegotiation Act of 1951, such taxpayer would not be eligible for the benefits of the maximum excess profits tax provided in section 430 (e) (1) since 75 percent of its gross income for the taxable year was derived from a contract of a type that is subject to renegotiation under title I of the Renegotiation Act of 1951 even though the $150,000 received from such contract in fact is exempt from renegotiation under the provisions of such act.

[26 CFR Part 40]

EXCESS PROFITS TAXES; TAXABLE YEARS ENDING AFTER JUNE 30, 1950

TELEVISION BROADCASTING COMPANIES

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, that the regulations set forth below in tentative form are proposed to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury. Prior to the final adoption of such regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing in duplicate to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C., within the period of 30 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The proposed regulations are to be issued under the authority contained in section 62 of the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. 32; 26 U. S. C. 62) and in section 459 (d) of the Internal Revenue Code as added by section 519 of the Revenue Act of 1951 (Pub. Law 183, 82d Cong., approved October 20, 1951).

[SEAL] JOHN S. GRAHAM,
Acting Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

In order to conform Regulations 130 (26 CFR, Part 40) to section 519 of the Revenue Act of 1951, approved October 20, 1951, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. Section 40.435–6 (a) (1) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new sentence: "In the case of a taxpayer engaged in the television broadcasting business which computes its average base period net income under section 459 (d), see § 40.459 (d)–5 (c)."

PAR. 2. Section 40.435–7 (a) (2) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new sentence: "For rules applicable in the case of a taxpayer engaged in the television broadcasting business which computes its average base period net income under section 459 (d), see § 40.459 (d)–5 (d)."

PAR. 3. There is inserted immediately after § 40.458–8 the following:

SEC. 519. TELEVISION BROADCASTING COMPANIES (REVENUE ACT OF 1951, APPROVED OCTOBER 20, 1951)

Section 459, as added by sections 516 to 518 of this Act, is hereby amended by adding after subsection (c) thereof the following new subsections:

(d) Television broadcasting companies—(1) In general. In the case of a taxpayer engaged in the business of television broadcasting throughout a period beginning before January 1, 1951, and ending with the close of the taxable year, the taxpayer's average base period net income determined under this subsection shall be the amount computed under paragraph (2) or (3), whichever is applicable.

(2) If engaged in television broadcasting at close of base period. If the taxpayer was engaged in the business of television broadcasting at the close of its base period, the average base period net income computed under this paragraph shall be computed as follows:

(A) If the taxpayer was engaged during its base period in any business or businesses other than television broadcasting, by computing the average base period net income under section 435 (d) for such other business or businesses (determined without regard to income, deductions, losses, or other items attributable to the television broadcasting business).

(B) By multiplying such part of its total assets (as defined in section 442 (f)) for the last day of its base period, as was attributable to the television broadcasting business by—

(i) The base period rate of return determined under section 447 (c) for the industry classification which includes radio broadcasting, or

(ii) If the taxpayer was engaged during its base period in the business of radio broadcasting, its individual rate of return computed under paragraph (4), whichever rate of return produces the greater average base period net income under this subsection. If the amount computed under this subparagraph is computed by the use of the rate of return specified in clause (i), the amount so computed shall be reduced by an amount equal to such portion of the total interest paid or incurred by the taxpayer, for the period of 12 months following the close of its base period, as is attributable to its television broadcasting business.

(C) By adding the amount computed under subparagraph (B) to the amount, if any, computed under subparagraph (A).

(3) Commencing television broadcasting after base period and before 1951. If the taxpayer acquires its television broadcasting business after the close of its base period and before January 1, 1951, the average base period net income computed under this paragraph shall be computed as provided in paragraph (2), except that—

(A) the applicable rate of return under paragraph (2) (B) shall be multiplied by such part of its total assets (as defined in section 442 (f)), for the last day of the calendar month in which it first engaged in such business, as was attributable to such business, and

(B) the reduction specified in the last sentence of paragraph (2) (B) shall, if applicable, be equal to such portion of the total interest paid or incurred by the taxpayer, for the period of 12 months following the month in which it first engaged in such business, as is attributable to such business.

(4) Individual rate of return. The individual rate of return shall be computed as follows:

(A) By determining the amount of the taxpayer's total assets (as defined in section 442 (f) attributable to the business of radio broadcasting for the last day of each month in its base period.

(B) By computing the aggregate of the amounts ascertained under subparagraph (A) and dividing by 48.

(C) By computing for each month in the base period the excess profits net income of the radio broadcasting business (determined without regard to income, deductions, losses, or other items attributable to any other business), by adding such amounts for all of the months in the base period, and by dividing by 4.

(D) By dividing the amount computed under subparagraph (C) by the amount computed under subparagraph (B).

(5) Rules for application of subsection. (A) For the purpose of section 435 (a) (1) (B), an average base period net income determined under this subsection shall be considered an average base period net income determined under section 435 (d); but, in computing the base period capital addition under section 435 (f), the computations under such section shall be adjusted, under regulations prescribed by the Secretary, so as to exclude therefrom items attributable to the television broadcasting business.

(B) If any part of the total assets referred to in paragraph (2) (B) or paragraph (3) (A), whichever is applicable, were acquired, directly or indirectly, through the use of assets attributable at any time during the base period to a business of the taxpayer other than television broadcasting, the amount determined under paragraph (2) (A) shall be properly adjusted by eliminating from the excess profits net income (computed for the purpose of paragraph (2) (A)) for each month prior to such acquisition such portion thereof as is attributable to the assets used, directly or indirectly, for such acquisition. For the purpose of this subparagraph, the excess profits net income for any month shall be attributed to such assets on the basis of the ratio, as of the beginning of the day of the acquisition, of such assets to total assets (as defined in section 442 (f)) determined without regard to assets attributable to the television broadcasting business.

(C) The Secretary shall by regulations prescribe rules for the application of this subsection, including rules for the computation of the taxpayer's net capital addition or reduction.

SEC. 523. EFFECTIVE DATE OF TITLE V (REVENUE ACT OF 1951, APPROVED OCTOBER 20, 1951).

Except as otherwise provided in section 506 (d), the amendments made by this title (including sec. 519) shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years ending after June 30, 1950.

§ 40.459 (d)–1 Television broadcasting companies; in general. (a) A corporation which was engaged in the business of television broadcasting throughout a period beginning before January 1, 1951, and ending with the close of an excess profits tax taxable year may compute its average base period net income for the purpose of determining its excess profits tax for such taxable year under section 459 (d) instead of under any other applicable provision of the Code. The average base period net income computed under section 459 (d) shall be the amount computed under paragraph (2) of section 459 (d) and under § 40.459 (d)–2 if the taxpayer was engaged in the business of television broadcasting at the end of its base period, and shall be the amount computed under paragraph (3) of section 459 (d) and under § 40.459 (d)–3 if the taxpayer did not acquire its television broadcasting business until after the close of its base period. In no event shall the benefit of section 459 (d) be available, however, unless the taxpayer was engaged in the television broadcasting business before January 1, 1951. The amount determined as the average base period net income under section 459 (d) shall be used as the average base period net income in computing the excess profits tax for any taxable year ending after June 30, 1950, if the taxpayer continued in the business of television broadcasting through the end of such taxable year, and if the use of such amount computed under section 459 (d) as the average

(3) of section 474 (c) were satisfied with respect to the part IV transaction. For erence to that corporation which first came into existence and commenced title I of the Renegotiation Act of 1951

base period net income would result in a lesser excess profits tax for such taxable year than would result under any other allowable computation of such tax.

(b) A taxpayer which does not actually broadcast television will not be considered to be engaged in the television broadcasting business even though it is engaged in a business which is related to television broadcasting, such as advertising, the manufacturing of television equipment, or the preparation and sale of television programs. A taxpayer which is engaged in the television broadcasting business and also in any other business or businesses, however, may be entitled to the benefit of section 459 (b).

§ 40.459 (d)–2 Computation of average base period net income if taxpayer was engaged in television broadcasting at close of base period. If the taxpayer was engaged in the business of television broadcasting at the close of its base period, its average base period net income determined under section 459 (d) shall be computed as follows:

(a) If the taxpayer was engaged during its base period in any business or businesses other than television broadcasting, its average base period net income for such other business or businesses shall be computed under section 435 (d) and § 40.435–1 (d), relating to the computation of average base period net income under the general average method. The determination of the average base period net income of such business or businesses other than television broadcasting shall be made without regard to any income, deductions, losses, or other items which are attributable to the television broadcasting business. See § 40.459 (d)–5 (a). If the taxpayer was not engaged during its base period in any business other than television broadcasting, the amount determined under this subparagraph shall be zero. See § 40.459 (d)–5 (b) for adjustment of the amount computed under this subparagraph where assets attributable to the television broadcasting business were acquired, directly or indirectly, through the use of assets attributable at any time during the base period to a business other than the television broadcasting business.

(b) Such part of the taxpayer's total assets for the last day of its base period as was attributable to the television broadcasting business shall be multiplied:

(1) By the base period rate of return determined under section 447 (c) for the industry classification which includes radio broadcasting, and the amount so determined shall then be reduced by an amount equal to such portion of the total interest paid or incurred by the taxpayer for the period of 12 months following the close of its base period as is attributable to its television broadcasting business, or

(2) If the taxpayer was engaged during its base period in the business of radio broadcasting, by its individual rate of return computed under section 459 (d) (4) and § 40.459 (d)–4, whichever produces the greater average base period net income under section 459 (d) and this section.

(c) The amount, if any, computed under section 459 (d) (2) (A) and paragraph (a) of this section shall be added to the amount computed under section 459 (d) (2) (B) and paragraph (b) of this section.

The amount determined under paragraph (c) of this section—that is, the total of the amounts determined under paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section—shall be the average base period net income computed under section 459 (d) of a taxpayer which was engaged in the television broadcasting business at the close of its base period.

§ 40.459 (d)–3 Computation of average base period net income if taxpayer commenced television broadcasting after close of base period and before 1951. If the taxpayer did not acquire its television broadcasting business until after the close of its base period (but before January 1, 1951), its average base period net income determined under section 459 (d) shall be computed in the same manner as provided in section 459 (d) (2) and § 40.459 (d)–2 as in the case of a taxpayer which was engaged in the television broadcasting business at the close of its base period, except that:

(a) The applicable rate of return specified in section 459 (d) (2) (B) and § 40.459 (d)–2 (b) shall be multiplied by such part of the taxpayer's total assets for the last day of the calendar month in which it first engaged in the television broadcasting business (instead of for the last day of its base period) as was attributable to such television broadcasting business; and

(b) The reduction for interest specified in the last sentence of section 459 (d) (2) (B) and in § 40.459 (d)–2 (b) (1) shall, if applicable, be equal to that portion of the total interest paid or incurred by the taxpayer for the period of 12 months following the month in which it first engaged in the television broadcasting business (instead of for the period of 12 months following the close of its base period) as is attributable to such television broadcasting business.

§ 40.459 (d)–4 Individual rate of return. The individual rate of return, for the purpose of the computations provided in sections 459 (d) (2) (B) (ii) and § 40.459 (d)–2 (b) (2) and in sections 459 (d) (3) (A) and § 40.459 (d)–3 (a), in the case of a taxpayer which was engaged in the business of radio broadcasting during its base period, shall be computed as follows:

(a) The taxpayer's total assets attributable to its radio broadcasting business for the last day of each month in its base period shall be determined. See § 40.459 (d)–5 (a) for rules for the determination of the business to which assets are attributable.

(b) The amounts determined under paragraph (a) of this section shall be added together and the aggregate divided by 48.

(c) The excess profits net income for each month in the base period attributable to the radio broadcasting business shall be computed, such excess profits net income being determined without regard to income, deductions, losses, or any other items attributable to any business other than the radio broadcasting business (see § 40.459 (d)–5 (a)). Such amounts of excess profits net income attributable to the radio broadcasting business for each month in the base period shall be added together and the total of such amounts then divided by 4.

(d) The amount computed under paragraph (c) of this section shall be divided by the amount computed under paragraph (b) of this section. That is, the aggregate, divided by 4, of the excess profits net income attributable to the radio broadcasting business for each month in the base period shall be divided by the aggregate, divided by 48, of the taxpayer's total assets attributable to the radio broadcasting business for the last day of each month in the base period. The resulting figure shall be the taxpayer's individual rate of return.

§ 40.459 (d)–5 Rules for application of section 459 (d)—(a) Determination of business to which items are attributable. The determination, for the purpose of section 459 (d) and §§ 40.459 (d)–1 through 40.459 (d)–5, whether any income, deductions, losses, interest, assets or any other items are attributable to the television broadcasting business, to the radio broadcasting business, or to any other business activity shall be made in such manner as will clearly reflect the income attributable to each such business or activity, and, in the case of assets will reflect the extent to which assets are used in, or devoted to, the businesses or activities of the taxpayer. Administrative expenses, for example, in the case of a taxpayer which is engaged in the television broadcasting business and also in some other business or businesses may not be attributed to any one business but shall be properly allocated among the various businesses of the taxpayer. If an asset is used in or devoted to the television broadcasting business, or the radio broadcasting business, and also some other business or activity, such asset shall not be included at an amount equal to its full adjusted basis in determining at any time the total assets of the taxpayer which are attributable, as the case may be, to the television broadcasting business or to the radio broadcasting business. In such case, proper adjustment shall be made to reflect the fact that such asset directly or indirectly is used in or devoted to, or is part of, the television broadcasting business, the radio broadcasting business, or some other business or activity. Similarly, proper adjustment shall also be made in the case of any other items (including, for example, interest) as are attributable to more than one business or activity.

(b) Adjustment of average base period net income of business other than television broadcasting business. (1) If any part of the total assets attributable to the television broadcasting business which were held by the taxpayer on the date as of which the applicable rate of return is to be applied to its television broadcasting assets was acquired directly or indirectly, through the use of assets which were attributable at any time during the base period to a business broadcasting business (see paragraph (3) of this paragraph), an adjustment, as provided in section 459 (d) (5) (B) and in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, must be made in determining under section 459 (d) (2) (A) the average base period net income, if any, of the taxpayer's nontelevision broadcasting business or businesses. The conversion in whole of in part of assets attributable to a business other than the television broadcasting business to use in the television broadcasting business shall be considered for the purpose of section 459 (d) and of this section, to the extent of such conversion, to be an acquisition of television broadcasting assets by the use of assets attributable to a business of the taxpayer other than its television broadcasting business.

(2) If an adjustment is required under the provisions of section 459 (d) (5) (B) and of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, with respect to any acquisition of assets attributable to the television broadcasting business, then in determining the average base period net income under section 459 (d) (2) (A) of such nontelevision broadcasting business or businesses there shall be excluded from the excess profits net income for each month prior to any such acquisition such portion of such excess profits net income as is attributable to the assets used, directly or indirectly, for such acquisition. In determining the amount which is to be excluded from the excess profits net income for any month, under the provisions of section 459 (d) (5) (B) and of this paragraph, the part of the excess profits net income attributable to any assets which were used, directly or indirectly, to acquire assets attributable to the television broadcasting business shall be determined on the basis of the ratio, as of the beginning of the date of acquisition, of such assets which were so used to the total assets of the taxpayer other than its assets attributable to the television broadcasting business. If the acquisition took place on any day other than the first day of a calendar month, the adjustment for the month in which the acquisition took place shall be reduced to an amount determined on the basis of the ratio of the number of days in such month prior to the day on which the acquisition was made to the total number of days in such month.

(3) The adjustment provided in section 459 (d) (5) (B) and in this subsection shall be made in any case in which assets of the taxpayer not attributable to its television broadcasting business are used, directly or indirectly, to acquire assets attributable to the television broadcasting business prior to the date as of which the applicable rate of return is to be applied to its television broadcasting assets. No such adjustment shall be made, however, where such television broadcasting assets were acquired through a bona fide long-term increase in the capital structure of the taxpayer made in conjunction with and for the purpose of such acquisition. A bona fide long-term increase in the capital structure within the meaning of this paragraph (whether an increase in equity capital or in borrowed capital as defined in section 439 (b)) shall be deemed to have occurred only to the extent that such increase is reflected in the capital structure throughout the period beginning with the time such increase was originally made and ending with the close of the taxable year for which the tax is being computed. For the purpose of determining whether such increase is reflected in the capital structure, proper adjustment shall be made to eliminate the effect of any loss occurring after the original increase is made, and, in the case of such determination as of any time during a taxable year, the determination shall be made without regard to the earnings and profits of such taxable year. If the increase in the capital structure is the result of a Part II transaction, this paragraph and § 40.462–9 (b) (1) (ii) shall be applied in the light of the facts applicable both to the taxpayer and to the component corporation in such transaction. For the purpose of this paragraph, an increase in the capital structure does not result from the conversion of inadmissible assets into admissible assets or from the accumulation of earnings and profits prior to the beginning of the first taxable year which begins after the date of the acquisition. If the assets of the television broadcasting business were acquired partly in the manner described in this paragraph and partly in another manner the adjustment shall be made to the extent the acquisition was made in such other manner.

(1) In computing the yearly base period capital as of any day, there shall be excluded from each item in the computation (such as assets, liabilities, borrowed capital, or the adjustment for interest) any amount attributable or allocable to the assets of the television broadcasting business held on such day (including funds held for the purpose of acquiring television broadcasting assets).

(2) If an adjustment is required to be made under section 459 (d) (5) (B) with respect to assets of the taxpayer used directly or indirectly to acquire television broadcasting assets, the amount of the adjusted basis of assets with respect to which such adjustment is required shall be excluded from assets of the taxpayer in computing equity capital as of any day prior to such acquisition. Such further adjustments shall be made in computing other items (such as liabilities, borrowed capital, or the adjustment for interest) in the determination of yearly base period capital as of such day as are, under generally accepted accounting principles, consistent with the elimination of such amount from total assets.

(3) In making computations necessary for the determination of yearly base period capital for any taxable year, such computations shall be made, under the rules and principles set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, in the light of all the facts of the particular case and consistent with the purpose of restricting the base period capital addition to the business or activities of the taxpayer other than its television broadcasting business and the avoidance of any duplication in the computation of such base period capital addition.

(d) Computation of net capital addition or reduction. (1) In the case of a taxpayer which was engaged in the business of television broadcasting at the close of its base period, the net capital addition or reduction, provided in section 435 (g), shall be computed in the same manner as in the case of any taxpayer which computes its average base period net income under the general average method provided in section 435 (d). See §§ 40.437–6 and 40.437–7.

(2) In the case of a taxpayer which did not acquire its television broadcasting business until after the close of its base period (but before January 1, 1951), the net capital addition or reduction, provided in section 435 (g), shall be determined in the same manner as in the case of any taxpayer which computes its average base period net income under the general average method provided in section 435 (d) (see §§ 40.437–6 and 40.437–7), except that the following adjustment shall be made:

(i) There shall be determined the amount of any proceeds obtained from borrowing, from the issuance of capital stock, as paid-in surplus, as a contribution to capital, or in any other manner, on or after the first day of the taxpayer's first taxable year ending after June 30, 1950, and before the first day of the first calendar month following the calendar month in which the taxpayer first engaged in the television broadcasting business.

(ii) There shall be determined the excess of (a) the amount of the taxpayer's assets attributable to the television broadcasting business as of the last day of the calendar month in which the taxpayer first engaged in the television broadcasting business over (b) the amount of the taxpayer's assets with respect to which an adjustment is required under the provisions of section 459 (d) (5) (B) and of paragraph (b) of this section.

(iii) The amount determined under subdivision (i) of this subparagraph, but not more than the amount determined under subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph, shall be considered, for the purpose of any computations necessary for the determination of the net capital addition or reduction, to have been obtained prior to the first day of the taxpayer's first taxable year ending after June 30, 1950.

§ 40.459 (d)–6 Definitions. For the purpose of section 459 (d) and §§ 40.459 (d)–1 through 40.459 (d)–5:

(a) The term "total assets" shall have the same meaning as in sections 442 (f) and § 40.442–3 (d) (1).

(b) The "amount of an asset" in the case of property other than money shall be an amount equal to the adjusted basis of such property for determining gain on the sale or exchange thereof, and in the case of money shall be the amount thereof.

SEC. 519. TELEVISION BROADCASTING COMPANIES (REVENUE ACT OF 1951, APPROVED OCTOBER 20, 1951).

Section 459, as added by sections 516 to 518 of this Act, is hereby amended by adding after subsection (c) thereof the following new subsections:

* * * * *

(e) Basis of assets. For the purposes of this section, any reference to the adjusted basis of property or to the basis (unadjusted) of property means the adjusted basis or the basis (unadjusted), as the case may be, for determining gain upon sale or exchange.

SEC. 523. EFFECTIVE DATE OF TITLE V (REVENUE ACT OF 1951, APPROVED OCTOBER 20, 1951).

Except as otherwise provided in section 506 (d), the amendments made by this title [including sec. 519] shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years ending after June 30, 1950.

§ 40.459 (e)–1 Basis of assets. For the purpose of section 459 (including all subsections thereof) and the regulations thereunder, any reference to the adjusted basis of property or to the basis (unadjusted) of property means the adjusted basis or the basis (unadjusted), as the case may be, of such property for determining gain upon the sale or exchange thereof.

CLARIFICATION OF TREATMENT OF TAXPAYER'S LIABILITY FOR FEDERAL INCOME AND EXCESS PROFITS TAX FOR PURPOSE OF DETERMINING BOTH EQUITY CAPITAL AND EQUITY INVESTED CAPITAL

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, that the regulations set forth in tentative form below are proposed to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury. Prior to the final adoption of such regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing in duplicate to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C., within the period of 30 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The proposed regulations are to be issued under the authority contained in sections 62 and 3791 of the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. 32, 467; 26 U. S. C. 62, 3791).

[SEAL] JOHN S. GRAHAM,
Acting Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Regulations 130 (26 CFR Part 40) are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. Section 40.437–5 is amended by redesignating paragraph (c) of such section as paragraph (c) (1), and by adding at the end of such section the following new subparagraph (2):

(2) In computing liabilities as of the beginning of the taxable year, a taxpayer keeping its books and making its income tax returns on the accrual basis shall, in accordance with the principles applicable in the determination of earnings and profits, treat as a liability the Federal income and excess profits taxes imposed for the preceding taxable year. This rule is applicable whether or not such taxes were definite and ascertainable in amount at the close of the preceding year and whether or not such taxes were contested by the taxpayer. The provisions of the Excess Profits Tax Act of 1950 shall be taken into account for this purpose in determining the income and excess profits tax for taxable years ending after June 30, 1950. In general, subsequently enacted legislation will affect the tax computation for those prior taxable years for which returns are required to be filed after the enactment of such legislation.

PAR. 2. Section 40.458–4 is amended by striking the fourth sentence of paragraph (a) (1) and by inserting in lieu thereof the following: "In computing accumulated earnings and profits as of the beginning of the taxable year, a taxpayer keeping its books and making its income tax returns on the accrual basis shall, in accordance with the principles applicable in the determination of earnings and profits, subtract the Federal income and excess profits taxes imposed for the preceding taxable year. This rule is applicable whether or not such taxes were definite and ascertainable in amount at the close of the preceding year and whether or not such taxes were contested by the taxpayer. The provisions of the Excess Profits Tax Act of 1950 shall be taken into account for this purpose in determining the income and excess profits tax for taxable years ending after June 30, 1950. In general, subsequently enacted legislation will affect the tax computation for those prior taxable years for which returns are required to be filed after the enactment of such legislation."

[26 CFR Part 405]

COLLECTION OF INCOME TAX AT SOURCE ON WAGES

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, that the regulations set forth below in tentative form are proposed to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury. Prior to the final adoption of such regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing in duplicate to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C., within the period of 30 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The proposed regulations are to be issued under the authority contained in sections 1429 and 3791 (53 Stat. 178, 467; 26 U. S. C. 1429, 3791), and section 1627 (57 Stat. 138; 26 U. S. C. 1627), of the Internal Revenue Code.

[SEAL] JOHN S. GRAHAM,
Acting Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

In order to conform Regulations 116 (26 CFR, Part 405) to the provisions of section 321 of the Revenue Act of 1951, relating to earned income from sources without the United States, approved October 20, 1951, such regulations are hereby amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately preceding § 405.101 the following:

SEC. 321. EARNED INCOME FROM SOURCES WITHOUT THE UNITED STATES (REVENUE ACT OF 1951, APPROVED OCTOBER 20, 1951).

(b) Withholding of tax on wages. Section 1621 (a) (8) (A) (relating to definition of wages) is hereby amended to read as follows:

(A) for services for an employer (other than the United States or any agency thereof) performed in a foreign country by a citizen of the United States, if at the time of the payment of such remuneration the employer is required by the law of any foreign country to withhold income tax upon such remuneration, or it is reasonable to believe that such remuneration will be excluded from gross income under the provisions of section 116 (a) (1) or (2), or.

(c) Effective dates. * * * The amendment made by subsection (b) shall be applicable with respect to wages paid on or after January 1, 1952.

PAR. 2. Section 405.102, as amended by Treasury Decision 5891, approved April 4, 1952, is further amended as follows:

(A) By inserting immediately after "January 1, 1948," in the headnote of paragraph (h) (2) thereof "and before January 1, 1952," so that such heading will read as follows:

(2) Remuneration paid on or after January 1, 1948, and before January 1, 1952, to citizens resident in foreign countries.

(B) By inserting immediately after "January 1, 1948," in the first sentence of paragraph (h) (2) thereof "and before January 1, 1952,".

(C) By redesignating paragraph (h) (3) thereof as paragraph (h) (4).

(D) By inserting immediately after paragraph (h) (2) (vi) thereof the following new subparagraph (3):

(3) Remuneration paid on or after January 1, 1952, to citizens in foreign countries—(i) Elimination of double withholding. (a) The remuneration paid on or after January 1, 1952, for services performed in a foreign country for an employer (other than the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof) by a citizen of the United States does not constitute wages under section 1621 (a) (8) (A) and hence is not subject to withholding, if at the time of the payment of such remuneration the employer is required by the law of any foreign country to withhold income tax upon such remuneration. Remuneration paid in respect of services performed in an area other than a foreign country, for example, the United States, a possession of the United States, or the high seas, shall not be excluded from wages under section 1621 (a) (8) (A).

(b) The remuneration is not exempt from withholding under this subdivision if the employer is not required by the law of a foreign country to withhold income tax upon such remuneration. Mere agreements between the employer and the employee whereby the estimated income tax of a foreign country is withheld from the remuneration in anticipation of actual liability under the law of such country will not suffice.

(c) The exemption from withholding provided by this subdivision does not apply by reason of withholding of income tax pursuant to the law of a possession or territory of the United States or of a political subdivision of a foreign state.

(d) A determination under the provisions of this subdivision that the remuneration is not wages and hence is not subject to withholding shall be made independently of the provisions of subdivisions (ii) and (iii) of this subparagraph.

(ii) Resident of a foreign country. (a) The remuneration paid on or after January 1, 1952, for services performed in a foreign country for an employer (other than the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof) by a citizen of the United States does not constitute wages under section 1621 (a) (8) (A) and hence is not subject to withholding, if at the time of payment it is reasonable to believe that such remuneration will be excluded from gross income for the taxable year under the provisions of section 116 (a) (1). Section 116 (a) (1) provides that, in the case of an individual citizen of the United States who establishes to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that he has been a bona fide resident of a foreign country or countries for an uninterrupted period which includes an entire taxable year, all amounts received from sources without the United States (except amounts paid by the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof) shall be excluded from gross income if such amounts constitute earned income, as defined in section 116 (a) (3), which is attributable to such uninterrupted period. See section 116 (a) and the regulations thereunder. Remuneration paid in respect of services performed in an area other than a foreign country, for example, the United States, a possession of the United States, or the high seas, shall not be excluded from wages under section 1621 (a) (8) (A).

(b) The reasonable belief mentioned in section 1621 (a) (8) (A) with respect to the exclusion of the remuneration from gross income may be based upon any evidence reasonably sufficient to induce such belief, even though such evidence might be insufficient upon closer examination by the Commissioner or the courts finally to establish the exclusion from gross income, and exemption from tax, allowed by section 116 (a) (1).

(c) If with respect to his taxable year the employee cannot possibly at the date prescribed by law or regulations for filing a return of income for such year have satisfied the bona fide foreign-residence requirement of section 116 (a) (1), then the remuneration paid in respect of and during such taxable year for services performed in the foreign country shall constitute wages subject to withholding, unless otherwise excluded by section 1621 (a), even though at the time of payment the employer has good reason to believe that ultimately such remuneration will be excluded from gross income under the provisions of section 116 (a) (1). For such purpose the taxable year of the employee shall, in the absence of information to the contrary, be deemed to be the calendar year. In general, if the remuneration paid during any calendar year, or portion thereof, must be returned by the employee as income, even though ultimately the employee may satisfy the bona fide foreign-residence requirement and thereby be entitled in respect of such remuneration to the exclusion provided by section 116 (a) (1), then such remuneration constitutes wages and hence is subject to withholding. Expectation of ultimate exclusion from gross income is not sufficient under this subdivision to exclude from wages remuneration which in the first instance must be returned as income.

(d) The employer may, in the absence of cause for a reasonable belief to the contrary, presume that remuneration for services performed in a foreign country during the taxable year will be excluded from gross income under the provisions of section 116 (a) (1) for each taxable year in respect of which the employee properly executes and files in duplicate with the employer a statement in the following form:

STATEMENT FOR CLAIMING BENEFIT OF SECTION 116 (a) (1)
FOR CALENDAR YEAR ------ OR FISCAL YEAR
BEGINNING ------ AND ENDING ------

(A) My name is ----------. My present address is ---------- I am employed by ----------.

(B) My last address in the United States was ----------. The collection district in which I filed my last income tax return was ----------.

(C) I ---------- file my income tax return on the calendar-year basis.

(D) I file my income tax return on the basis of the fiscal year beginning ----------, 19----, and ending ----------, 19----.

(E) I am a citizen of the United States.

(F) I have been a bona fide resident of the following foreign country or countries, namely, ----------, for an uninterrupted period which began on ----------, 19----.

(G) I expect to remain a bona fide resident of a foreign country or countries from the date of this statement until the end of the taxable year in respect of which this statement is filed.

(H) On the basis of the facts in my case I have good reason to believe that at the date, namely, ----------, 19----, prescribed by law or regulations for filing a return of income in respect of the taxable year I will have satisfied the bona fide foreign-residence requirement prescribed by section 116 (a) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code in respect of the above period of residence in a foreign country or countries falling within the taxable year.

(I) I understand that any exemption from withholding of tax permitted by reason of the filing of this statement is not a determination by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue that any remuneration paid to me for services performed in a foreign country during the taxable year is excludable from gross income under the provisions of section 116 (a) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code.

I declare under the penalties of perjury that this statement has been examined by me and to the best of my knowledge and belief is true and correct.

Date ----------, 19----.

(e) If with respect to any employee the employer was entitled (by reason of having received the above statement) to presume for two consecutive taxable years immediately preceding the first day of the employee's current taxable year that the employee's remuneration for services performed in a foreign country or countries during such preceding taxable years would be excluded from gross income for such taxable years under the provisions of section 116 (a) (1), he may, if such employee is residing in a foreign country on the first day of such current taxable year, presume that, in the absence at that time of clear and definite knowledge to the contrary, the remuneration for services performed in a foreign country during such current taxable year will be excluded from gross income for such year under the provisions of section 116 (a) (1). This presumption with respect to such current taxable year will apply whether or not a statement is filed by the employee for such year.

(f) The original of the statement filed with the employer shall be transmitted to the Director of Internal Revenue with the employer's return on Form 941 required by § 405.601 for the quarter of the calendar year within which such statement is filed. The duplicate copy of the statement shall be retained by the employer.

(g) A determination under the provisions of this subdivision that the remuneration is not wages and hence is not subject to withholding shall be made independently of the provisions of subdivisions (i) and (iii) of this subparagraph.

(iii) Physical presence in a foreign country. (a) The remuneration paid on or after January 1, 1952, for services performed in a foreign country for an employer (other than the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof) by a citizen of the United States does not constitute wages under section 1621 (a) (8) (A) and hence is not subject to withholding, if at the time of payment it is reasonable to believe that such remuneration will be excluded from gross income for the taxable year under the provisions of section

116 (a) (2). Remuneration paid in respect of services performed in an area other than a foreign country, for example, the United States, a possession of the United States, or the high seas, shall not be excluded from wages under section 1621 (a) (8) (A).

(b) Section 116 (a) (2) provides that, in the case of an individual citizen of the United States who during any period of 18 consecutive months is present in a foreign country or countries during at least 510 full days in such period, all amounts received from sources without the United States (except amounts paid by the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof) shall be excluded from gross income if such amounts constitute earned income, as defined in section 116 (a) (3), which is attributable to such period. See section 116 (a) and the regulations thereunder.

Example. At 2 p. m. on January 18, 1952, Mr. Brown, a citizen of the United States privately employed, arrived in England on a business trip from the United States. On May 19, 1952, at 10 p. m. he departed from England by steamer and arrived in the United States on May 25, 1952. After spending a period therein on official business, he left the United States by steamer on June 9, 1952, and arrived in France at 3 p. m., June 14, 1952. At 8 a. m. on February 3, 1953, he departed from France by airplane for a brief visit to Puerto Rico, arriving there on February 4; and thence went to England, arriving there at 1 a. m. on February 12, 1953, where he remained until midnight, July 18, 1953, at which time the 510 full-day requirement was satified in respect of the period of 18 consecutive months which began with January 19, 1952. Mr. Brown continued his presence in England, not leaving such country until 5 a. m. on November 18, 1953, at which time he departed for the United States. During the 18-month period commencing with January 19, 1952, and ending with the close of July 18, 1953, the taxpayer was in a foreign country or countries an aggregate of 510 full days; in addition, during the 18-month period commencing with June 16, 1952, and ending with the close of December 15, 1953, he was in a foreign country or countries an aggregate of 510 full days. The exemption from tax provided by section 116 (a) (2) will thus apply to the entire period which commences with January 19, 1952, and ends with the close of December 15, 1953.

(c) The reasonable belief mentioned in section 1621 (a) (8) (A) with respect to the exclusion of the remuneration from gross income may be based upon any evidence reasonably sufficient to induce such belief, even though such evidence might be insufficient upon closer examination by the Commissioner or the courts finally to establish the exclusion from gross income, and exemption from tax, allowed by section 116 (a) (2).

(d) If with respect to his taxable year the employee cannot possibly at the date prescribed by law or regulations for filing a return of income for such year have satisfied the 510 full-day requirement prescribed by section 116 (a) (2), then the remuneration paid in respect of and during such taxable year for services performed in the foreign country shall constitute wages subject to withholding, unless otherwise excluded by section 1621 (a), even though at the time of payment the employer has good reason to believe that ultimately such remuneration will be excluded from gross income under the provisions of section 116 (a) (2). For such purpose the taxable year of the employee shall, in the absence of information to the contrary, be deemed to be the calendar year. In general, if the remuneration paid during any calendar year, or portion thereof, must be returned by the employee as income, even though ultimately the employee may satisfy the 510 full-day requirement and thereby be entitled in respect of such remuneration to the exclusion provided by section 116 (a) (2), then such remuneration constitutes wages and hence is subject to withholding. Expectation of ultimate exclusion from gross income is not sufficient under this subdivision to exclude from wages remuneration which in the first instance must be returned as income.

Example. On April 1, 1952, Mr. Green, a citizen of the United States who files his return on a calendar-year basis, arrived in Peru to assume charge of the Peruvian branch of the X Corporation, a domestic entity, under the terms of a contract providing for services to be performed in Peru during a three-year period. Even though it is apparent in 1952 that, if the terms of the contract are complied with, Mr. Green will ultimately be entitled to exclude such remuneration from gross income under section 116 (a) (2), X Corporation must deduct and withhold the tax upon remuneration paid him in that year for services performed in Peru under the agreement. This is necessary in view of the fact that Mr. Green, when filing his return on June 15, 1953, must include such remuneration in gross income without regard to any refund or credit which may ultimately be made in respect of the tax thereon.

(e) The employer may, in the absence of cause for a reasonable belief to the contrary, presume that remuneration for services performed in a foreign country during the taxable year, or applicable portion thereof, will be excluded from gross income under the provisions of section 116 (a) (2) for each taxable year in respect of which the employee properly executes and files in duplicate with the employer a statement in the following form:

STATEMENT FOR CLAIMING BENEFIT OF SECTION 116 (a) (2) FOR CALENDAR YEAR ------ OR FISCAL YEAR BEGINNING ------- AND ENDING -------

(A) My name is ----------. My present address is ----------. I am employed by ----------.

(B) My last address in the United States was ----------. The collection district in which I filed my last income tax return was ----------.

(C) I ---------- file my income tax return on the basis of the fiscal year beginning ----------, 19----, and ending ----------, 19----

(D) I file my income tax return on the basis of the calendar-year basis.

(E) I am a citizen of the United States.

(F) Except for occasional absences in areas outside a foreign country which have not disqualified me for the benefit of section 116 (a) (2) of the Internal Revenue Code, I have been present in the following foreign country or countries, namely, ----------, during the period of time which began on ----------, 19----.

(G) I expect to be present in a foreign country or countries, except for occasional absences in areas outside a foreign country not disqualifying me for the benefit of section 116 (a) (2), from the date of this statement until the end of the taxable year in respect of which this statement is filed, or, if not for such period, from the date of this statement until the following date within such taxable year, namely, ----------, 19----.

(H) On the basis of the facts in my case I have good reason to believe that at the date, namely, ----------, 19----, prescribed by law or regulations for filing a return of income in respect of the taxable year I will have satisfied the 510 full-day requirement prescribed by section 116 (a) (2) of the Internal Revenue Code in respect of the above period of presence in a foreign country or countries falling within the taxable year.

(I) In the event I become disqualified for the exclusion provided by section 116 (a) (2) in respect of all or part of the above period of presence in a foreign country or countries falling within the taxable year, I will immediately notify my employer, giving sufficient facts to indicate the part, if any, of such period falling within such year in respect of which I am qualified for such exclusion.

(J) I understand that any exemption from withholding of tax permitted by reason of the filing of this statement is not a determination by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue that any remuneration, paid to me for services performed in a foreign country during the period of presence in a foreign country or countries falling within the taxable year, is excludable from gross income under the provisions of section 116 (a) (2) of the Internal Revenue Code.

I declare under the penalties of perjury that this statement has been examined by me and to the best of my knowledge and belief is true and correct.

---------- (Signature of taxpayer)

Date ----------, 19----.

(f) The original of the statement filed with the employer shall be transmitted to the Director of Internal Revenue with the employer's return on Form 941 required by § 405.601 for the quarter of the calendar year within which such statement is filed. The duplicate copy of the statement shall be retained by the employer.

(g) The term "foreign country", as used in this subdivision, does not include the United States, a possession of the United States, or the high seas; it does include the territorial waters of, and the air space over, a foreign country.

(h) A determination under the provisions of this subdivision that the remuneration is not wages and hence is not subject to withholding shall be made independently of the provisions of subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph.

ECONOMIC STABILIZATION AGENCY

Office of Price Stabilization

[Ceiling Price Regulation 128, Special Order 1]

CORPS OF ENGINEERS, U. S. ARMY

CEILING PRICES FOR SHIP DECKING PURCHASED FOR THE U. S. NAVY

Statement of considerations. Ship decking is a highly specialized lumber item, produced by only a few large sawmills. In order to obtain an adequate supply of ship decking to meet its requirements, the U. S. Navy has authorized the purchase of ship decking which deviates from the grade specifications of the West Coast Bureau of Lumber Grades and Inspection, Grading Rules No. 14. The new Navy specification, therefore, requires the establishment of a ceiling price different from the ceiling prices for ship decking graded in exact accordance with West Coast Rules. The new specification permits a combination of defects found only by combining parts of West Coast Rules, Paragraphs 310 and 311.

CPR 128, section 45, Table 31, establishes base ceiling prices for decking grades under paragraph 310, the highest grade. Ceiling prices for lower grades are established through deductions from the base ceiling prices for the highest grade. The new Navy specification falls between West Coast Bureau specifications for paragraphs 310 and 311, in that it is in accordance with paragraph 311 except that it limits the size of knots to one inch or less and the slope of grain to one inch in ten. A lesser deduction is therefore required for the Navy specification than for decking graded under paragraph 311.

This order is accordingly issued to establish sellers' ceiling prices which will reflect the modification of requirements as specified in Paragraph 311. Ship decking for Navy use is procured by the Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army.

Special provisions. For the reasons set forth in the Statement of Considerations, and pursuant to Ceiling Price Regulation 128, this Special Order is hereby issued.

1. The ceiling price, f. o. b. mill, for the sale of Douglas Fir ship decking under paragraph 311 of the West Coast Bureau of Lumber Grades and Inspection, Grading Rules No. 14, as modified by paragraph 2 of this order, to the Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army, shall be $15.00 per M b. m. less than the ceiling prices as specified in CPR 128 for ship decking graded in accordance with paragraph 310 of Rules No. 14.

2. For sales of Douglas Fir ship decking to the Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army, pursuant to this Special Order, the requirements of paragraph 311 of Rules No. 14 shall be modified to the extent that the size of knots shall be limited to one inch or less and the slope of grain to one inch in ten.

Effective date. This Special Order 1 to Ceiling Price Regulation 128 shall become effective December 13, 1952.

JOSEPH H. FREEHILL,
Acting Director of Price Stabilization.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. G-2027]

TEXAS EASTERN TRANSMISSION CORP.

ORDER FIXING DATE OF HEARING

DECEMBER 5, 1952.

On August 8, 1952, Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation (Texas Eastern), a Delaware corporation having its principal place of business at Shreveport, Louisiana, filed an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing it to construct and operate a 24-inch river crossing of the Arkansas River near Little Rock, Arkansas, as described in the application on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

The Commission finds: This proceeding is a proper one for disposition under the provisions of § 1.32 (b) (18 CFR 1.32 (b)) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure. Applicant having requested that its application be heard under the shortened procedure provided by the aforesaid rule for noncontested proceedings, and no request to be heard, protest, or petition having been filed subsequent to the giving of due notice of the filing of the application, including publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER on August 23, 1952 (17 F. R. 7759).

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing be held on December 23, 1952, at 9:45 a. m., in the Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved and the issues presented by such application: Provided, however, That the Commission may, after a noncontested hearing, forthwith dispose of the proceeding pursuant to the provisions of § 1.32 (b) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

(B) Interested State Commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)) of said rules of practice and procedure.

Date of issuance: December 8, 1952.

[Docket No. G-2087]

TOWN OF BOYCE, LA.

NOTICE OF PETITION

DECEMBER 8, 1952.

Take notice that the Town of Boyce, Louisiana (Petitioner), a municipal corporation located in the Parish of Rapides, State of Louisiana, filed on November 14, 1952, a petition pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act for:

(1) An order directing Trunkline Gas Company (Trunkline) to establish physical connection of its transmission facilities near Boyce, Louisiana, with the proposed facilities of and to sell and deliver natural gas to Petitioner for resale as hereinafter described; and

(2) An order directing and requiring Trunkline to negotiate and enter into a gas supply contract with Petitioner under a schedule or schedules of rates specified or approved by such order; and

(3) An order amending or supplementing the certificate of public convenience and necessity issued to Trunkline to authorize and direct Trunkline to establish physical connection of its transmission facilities with the proposed facilities of and to sell and deliver natural gas to Petitioner.

Petitioner proposes to construct and operate a natural-gas transmission line from a point of interconnection with Trunkline's existing pipe line to its proposed distribution system, a distance of approximately 3.7 miles, and to construct and operate a distribution system within its corporate limits and the immediate surrounding area serving approximately 1,700 people. Natural gas is not presently distributed in the Town of Boyce. Petitioner requests that Trunkline be ordered and directed to sell and deliver gas to it in volumes not to exceed 400 Mcf a day. Petitioner has been authorized by its electorate to issue, sell and deliver $235,000 of bonds to finance the project.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the 2d day of January 1953. The petition is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

PUBLIC POWER AND WATER CORP.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR LICENSE (MAJOR)

DECEMBER 8, 1952.

Public notice is hereby given pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Power Act (16 U. S. C. 791a–825r) that Public Power and Water Corporation, Trenton, New Jersey, has made application for license for a proposed water-power and navigation Project No. 2121 to be located on International Rapids Section of the St. Lawrence River near Massena, New York. The proposed project would consist of and include the portion of the Iroquois Control Dam to be located within the United States; the Long Sault Dam; the portion of the Barnhart Island powerhouse to be located within the United States with an installation of about 1,100,000 horsepower, a switchyard; a toll-free canal on the United States side with locks at Grass River and Robinson Bay; and appurtenant works and facilities. The normal pool level would be at elevation 238 feet for initial operation. The energy generated would be sold to customers at the switchyard to be located on the United States side of the river.

Any protest against approval of this application, or request for hearing thereon, or petition to intervene, giving reasons for such protest, request or intervention together with the name and address of the parties protesting, requesting or intervening should be submitted on or before the 19th day of January 1953 to the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. PUBLIC POWER AND WATER CORP.

ORDER FIXING HEARING

DECEMBER 9, 1952.

On December 4, 1952, Public Power and Water Corporation, with offices at 28 West State Street, Trenton, New Jersey, filed an application for a license under the Federal Power Act for a proposed navigation and hydrolelectric development, Project No. 2121, to be located in and along the International Rapids section of the St. Lawrence River on the United States side of the international boundary line in St. Lawrence County, New York. The application proposes construction of the same facilities as those covered by the application filed for Project No. 2000 by the Power Authority of the State of New York, plus a canal on the United States side paralleling the project.

On December 8th the applicant requested a hearing as soon as possible. Since notice of the application for Project No. 2121 has not been given as required by the Federal Power Act, the applicant should be given an opportunity to support its application, after which the hearing should be recessed until the conclusion of the publication of notice.

The Commission finds: The proposed project is of widespread interest and in view of the conflict with proposed Project No. 2000 it is desirable to hold a hearing respecting the matters and issues presented therein following the conclusion of the hearing already scheduled on the application for Project No. 2000.

It is ordered that: Pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon it by the Federal Power Act and particularly sections 4, 6 and 308 thereof, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a public hearing be held commencing at 10:00 a. m., on December 18, and continuing on December 19, 1952, in the Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., said hearing to be recessed at such time as may be appropriate to be resumed on February 2, 1953, at the same place.

Date of issuance: December 9, 1952.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 70-2959]

MISSOURI POWER & LIGHT CO.

ORDER GRANTING AUTHORITY TO ISSUE AND SELL SHORT TERM UNSECURED NOTES

DECEMBER 8, 1952.

Missouri Power & Light Company ("Missouri Power"), a public utility subsidiary of Union Electric Company of Missouri, a registered holding company and, a public utility company, having filed a declaration pursuant to sections 6 (a) and 7 of the act and Rules U-20, U-23 and U-24, promulgated thereunder, with respect to the following proposed transactions:

Missouri Power proposes to enter into a loan agreement with the Chase National Bank of the City of New York whereby such bank will extend to the Company bank loans in the aggregate principal amount of $2,800,000. The first loan in the amount of $1,800,000 will be completed on or before December 10, 1952. The balance of the loan of $1,000,000 is to be made available as needed. Each loan will be evidenced by an unsecured promissory note, which notes in the aggregate will equal the principal amount of the loan. All such notes will mature on December 10, 1953, but may be prepaid without penalty. The interest on the initial loan will be at the rate of 3 percent per annum, and the interest rate on all other loans made as part of the proposed transactions will be at the bank's current prime rate of interest for such paper at the time of borrowing, but not to exceed 3¼ percent. The interest will be payable on June 10, 1953 and at maturity or earlier date of prepayment.

Declarant states that upon completion of the proposed initial loan, the Company will pay off $1,350,000 of unsecured promissory notes now outstanding and held by the Chase National Bank of the City of New York, and the balance of the proceeds of the initial loan will be added to the general funds of the Company to reimburse the treasury for capital expenditures previously made and for other corporate purposes. The balance of the loan is to be utilized as needed to finance the Company's construction program.

It is represented that no State or other Federal Commission has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions and that Missouri Power intends subsequently to fund the proposed loans through the issuance of stocks or bonds or other form of permanent financing.

Declarant estimates that the fees and expenses to be incurred in connection with the proposed transactions will not exceed $1,250, including $500 of legal fees. Declarant requests that the Commission's order herein become effective upon issuance.

Due notice having been given of the filing of the declaration, and a hearing not having been requested of or ordered by the Commission; and the Commission finding that the applicable provisions of the act and the rules promulgated thereunder are satisfied and that no adverse findings are necessary, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers that said declaration be permitted to become effective forthwith:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, that said declaration be, and it hereby is, permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

By the Commission.

ARLINGTON GAS LIGHT CO.

ORDER AUTHORIZING ISSUANCE AND SALE OF PROPOSED NOTES

DECEMBER 9, 1952.

Arlington Gas Light Company ("Arlington"), a public-utility subsidiary company of New England Electric System, a registered holding company having filed a declaration with this Commission, pursuant to sections 6 (a) and 7 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and Rule U-23 thereunder, with respect to the following proposed transactions:

The declaration states that Arlington presently has outstanding $1,435,000 principal amount of 3¼ percent promissory notes, due April 1, 1953, issued pursuant to a bank loan agreement with the National City Bank of New York. Arlington proposes to issue to this bank, from time to time but not later than December 31, 1952, additional unsecured promissory notes in an aggregate principal amount not in excess of $350,000 and upon the same terms and conditions as the presently outstanding notes.

Arlington desires to issue the proposed notes in order to have available funds for the temporary financing of its construction program through December 31, 1952 and to reimburse its treasury for prior construction expenditures. Arlington proposes that if any permanent financing is done, the proceeds therefrom will be applied in reduction of, or in total payment of, promissory notes then outstanding, and the amount of authorized but unissued notes, if any, will be reduced by the amount, if any, by which such permanent financing exceeds the notes at the time outstanding.

The declaration states that incidental services in connection with the proposed note issues will be performed, at cost, by New England Power Service Company, an affiliated service company, such cost being estimated not to exceed $500. The declaration further states that no State commission or Federal commission, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

Arlington requests that the Commission's order herein become effective forthwith upon issuance.

Notice of the filing of the declaration having been given in the manner and form provided by Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, and a hearing not having been requested or ordered by the Commission within the time specified in said notice; and the Commission finding that the applicable provisions of the act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder are satisfied, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that said declaration be permitted to become effective forthwith:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, that said declaration be, and hereby is, permitted to become effective, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24, and that this order shall become effective upon its issuance.

By the Commission.

OHIO EDISON CO.

NOTICE OF FILING REGARDING SALE OF COMMON STOCK THROUGH A RIGHTS OFFERING AND SALE OF PREFERRED STOCK AT COMPETITIVE BIDDING

DECEMBER 8, 1952.

Notice is hereby given that an application-declaration has been filed with this Commission by Ohio Edison Company ("Ohio Edison"), a registered holding company and a public utility company. The filing has designated sections 6 (a), 7, 12 (c) and 12 (d) of the act and Rules U-42 and U-50 as applicable to the proposed transactions, which are summarized as follows:

By order, dated November 21, 1952, the Commission authorized the submission by Ohio Edison to its stockholders of a proposed amendment to its Articles of Incorporation which would:

[1] Commissioners Doty and Draper dissenting.

(a) Increase the authorized number of shares of preferred stock, par value $100 per share, from 500,000 to 1,000,000; and

(b) Increase the par value of the shares of common stock from $8 per share to $12 per share.

A special stockholders meeting will be held on December 30, 1952, for the purpose of obtaining the requisite stockholder approval of the proposed amendment. Ohio Edison has proposed the following transactions subject to the obtaining of such approval.

Ohio Edison proposes to issue 479,846 shares of its common stock, which will have a par value of $12 per share. The shares of common stock are to be offered, during a period of approximately two weeks expiring January 23, 1953, to the holders of the outstanding common stock of the company for subscription in the ratio of 1 share of common stock for each 10 shares of common stock now held. The holders will also be given the privilege, subject to allotment, of oversubscribing at the subscription price.

The rights to subscribe and oversubscribe are to be evidenced by transferable subscription warrants. No fractional shares are to be issued. The warrants provide that persons subscribing for stock may direct the subscription agent to purchase additional rights required to complete a full share subscription or to sell rights in excess of full share subscriptions. In each case the purchase or sale may not exceed 9 rights for any single stockholder.

The above-described offering is to be underwritten and the company proposes to select the purchasers of any unsubscribed stock and any stock acquired by the company through stabilizing operations, as described below, at competitive bidding pursuant to Rule U-50. At least 42 hours prior to the time for the submission and opening of bids, Ohio Edison will advise the prospective bidders of the susbcription price per share, which will also be the price per share at which unsubscribed shares and any shares acquired by the company through stabilization operations will be sold to the successful bidder. The bidders will be required to specify an aggregate amount of compensation to be paid by the company for their commitments. Under the terms of the bidding the prospective purchasers must agree that, in the event any shares purchased by them from the company shall be sold by them prior to 30 days following the expiration of the subscription period for a price in excess of the subscription price plus $1.50 per share, the purchasers shall pay to the company 50 percent of such excess. The company requests that the ten-day period required by Rule U-50 to elapse between the time of inviting bids and the entering into of an agreement with respect to the sale of the common stock be shortened to six days.

Ohio Edison proposes, if considered necessary or desirable, to stabilize the price of the common stock of the company for the purpose of facilitating the offering and distribution of the additional shares of common stock. In connection therewith the company may, during the period commencing with the second full business day prior to the time for submission of bids for the purchase of the common stock and continuing until such time, purchase shares of its common stock, but not in excess of 47,984 shares, on the New York Stock Exchange, the Midwest Stock Exchange, or otherwise. Such purchases are to be made through brokers with the payment of regular stock exchange commissions.

On or about January 13, 1953, Ohio Edison also proposes to issue and sell, pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, 150,000 shares of -- percent Preferred Stock, $100 par value. The dividend rate and the price per share to be paid the company will be determined by competitive bidding, except that the invitation for bids will specify that the price to the company shall not be less than $100 per share or more than $102.75 per share.

The proceeds of the sale of the common stock and the preferred stock will be used for construction purposes.

The filing indicates that the issuance and sale of the common stock and the issuance and sale of the preferred stock are subject to authorization by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

It is requested that the Commission's order herein become effective upon issuance.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than December 29, 1952, at 5:30 p. m., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after said date, the application-declaration, as filed or as amended, may be granted and permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rules U-20 and U-100 thereof.

By the Commission.

App. and Sup. 1-40); Public Law 181, 82nd Congress, 65 Stat. 451; Executive Order 9193, as amended by Executive Order 9567 (3 CFR 1943 Cum. Supp.; 3 CFR 1945 Supp.); Executive Order 9788 (3 CFR 1946 Supp.) and Executive Order 9989 (3 CFR 1948 Supp.), and pursuant to law, after investigation, it is hereby found:

1. That Victor Henry de Somoskeoy, Jr., whose last known address is Germany, on or since December 11, 1941, and prior to January 1, 1947, was a resident of Germany and is, and prior to January 1, 1947, was a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

2. That all the property and estate of Victor Henry de Somoskeoy, Jr., of any nature whatsoever in the possession of the First National Bank and Trust Company of La Porte, as guardian of the estate of Victor Henry de Somoskeoy, Jr., is property which is and prior to January 1, 1947, was within the United States owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of, or on account of, or owing to, or which is evidence of ownership or control by the aforesaid national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

3. That such property is in the process of administration by the First National Bank and Trust Company of La Porte, as guardian, acting under the judicial supervision of the La Porte Circuit Court of La Porte County, Indiana; and it is hereby determined:

4. That the national interest of the United States requires that the person identified in subparagraph 1 hereof be treated as a person who is and prior to January 1, 1947, was a national of a designated enemy country (Germany).

All determinations and all action required by law, including appropriate consultation and certification, having been made and taken, and it being deemed necessary in the national interest,

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described above, subject to all lawful fees and expenses of said First National Bank and Trust Company of La Porte, as guardian of the estate of Victor Henry de Somoskeoy, Jr., to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold, or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of Executive Order 9193, as amended.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on December 10, 1952.

For the Attorney General.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter III—Office of Price Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

GCPR, SR 63—AREA MILK PRICE ADJUSTMENTS

AMPR 5—CHICAGO MILK MARKETING AREA, STATE OF ILLINOIS

PERMANENT INCREASE IN CEILING PRICES OF FLUID MILK PRODUCTS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161, and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2, and Delegation of Authority No. 41, this Amendment to Area Milk Price Regulation 5, pursuant to Supplementary Regulation 63 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

The Office of Price Stabilization has just completed an extensive review of milk costs and prices in the Chicago area. This review was undertaken to determine whether or not the ½ cent per sales point increase in the ceiling price of milk in Chicago granted by Amendment 5 to Area Milk Price Regulation 5 was warranted. A careful analysis of these recently obtained data leaves no doubt that this increase was justified under the O. P. S. Industry Earnings Standard. Accordingly, this amendment makes this increase permanent.

In the judgment of the Director, the provisions of this amendment to Area Milk Price Regulation No. 5 in Region VII are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purpose of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended by the Defense Production Act amendments of 1951 and 1952.

The Director gave due consideration to the national effort to achieve the maximum production in furtherance of the objectives of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended; to prices prevailing during the period from May 24, 1950, to June 24, 1950, inclusive; and to all relevant factors of general applicability. In the fromulation of this amendment, the Director has consulted industry representatives, including trade association representatives, to the fullest extent practicable and has given due consideration to their recommendations.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Area Milk Price Regulation 5, issued under Supplementary Regulation 63 to the General Ceiling Price Regulations, is amended in the following respect:

1. Section 4 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 4. Ceiling prices for milk for fluid consumption—(a) Your ceiling prices. Your ceiling prices for any milk product for fluid consumption shall be your ceiling price determined under the provisions of the General Ceiling Price Regulation and in effect on November 15, 1951, plus (except for sales to vendors) one cent per sales point. Your ceiling price for any milk product for fluid consumption sold to vendors shall be your ceiling price determined under the provisions of the General Ceiling Price Regulation and in effect November 15, 1951, plus one-quarter cent per sales point.

(b) Sales points. Each of the following categories shall be considered one sales point for the specified container size. To determine the sales point value for a container of another size in any category, divide the contents of that container size by the contents of container size in the same category specified in this section:

(1) One quart of fluid milk products, such as regular milk, homogenized milk, vitamin D milk, special buttermilk, chocolate whole milk, and fluid milk or drinks specially treated or flavored with a butterfat content between 3½ and 6 percent.

(2) One-half gallon of fluid milk products such as skim milk with a butterfat content of less than 3½ percent.

(3) One-third of a quart of concentrated whole milk and allied products having a butterfat content of 10 percent or more.

(4) One pint of cream products having a butterfat content between 10 percent and 15 percent.

(5) One-half pint of cream products having a butterfat content of more than 15 percent.

(6) Sixteen ounces of cottage cheese products.

(7) Sixteen ounces or one pint of specialty products such as yogurt.

(Sec. 704, 64 Stat. 816, as amended; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 2154)

Effective date. This amendment 7 to Area Milk Price Regulation 5, pursuant to Supplementary Regulation 63 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation shall become effective December 15, 1952.

B. EMMET HARTNETT,
Regional Director.

SCHEDULE B—SPECIFIC PROVISIONS RELATING TO INDIVIDUAL DEFENSE-RENTAL AREAS OR PORTIONS THEREOF

KANSAS CITY

Effective December 15, 1952, Rent Regulation 1 is amended as set forth below.

(Sec. 204, 61 Stat. 197, as amended; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 1894)

Issued this 11th day of December 1952.

JAMES McI. HENDERSON,
Director of Rent Stabilization.

Item 68 in Schedule B of Rent Regulation 1—Housing, is amended to read as follows:

68. Provisions relating to the Kansas City Defense-Rental Area (Item 170 of Schedule A).

With respect to housing accommodations in the Kansas City Defense-Rental Area, section 141 of this regulation is changed to read as follows:

SEC. 141. Alternate adjustment for increases in costs and prices. (a) The housing accommodation had a maximum rent in effect on November 10, 1952, and the present maximum rent for the housing accommodation does not equal (1) 130 percent of the maximum rent in effect on June 30, 1947, or 130 percent of the maximum rent for comparable housing accommodations on June 30, 1947, if no maximum rent was in effect on that date; (2) plus or minus any increases or decreases in maximum rent ordered after June 30, 1947 under this regulation for major capital improvements or increases or decreases in living space, services, furniture, furnishings or equipment or substantial deterioration. The adjustment under this section 141 (a) shall be in an amount sufficient to cause the maximum rent to equal (1) 130 percent of the maximum rent in effect on June 30, 1947 for the housing accommodations or comparable housing accommodations, whichever is applicable; (2) plus or minus appropriate increases or decreases in rental value, if any, as specified herein: Provided, however, That the Director shall give appropriate consideration to orders issued under sections 157 or 162 decreasing rents which were in effect on June 30, 1947. Adjustments under this section 141 (a) shall be effective automatically upon the filing of the petition if a maximum rent was in effect on June 30, 1947. In all other cases, they shall not be effective until the order is issued by the Director.

(b) The housing accomodations had a maximum rent in effect on June 30, 1947, and did not have a maximum rent in effect on November 10, 1952, and the present maximum rent does not equal (1) 130 percent of the maximum rent in effect on June 30, 1947, (2) plus any increase in rental value because of a major capital improvement or an increase in services, furniture, furnishings, or equipment which occurred after June 30, 1947, (3) minus any decrease in rental value because of any decrease in services, furniture, furnishings, or equipment required by the rent regulations on June 30, 1947, or because of a substantial deterioration. The adjustment under this section 141 (b) shall be in an amount sufficient to cause the maximum rent to equal (1) 130 percent of the maximum rent in effect on June 30, 1947, (2) plus or minus appropriate increases or decreases in rental value, if any, heretofore specified.

All provisions of this regulation insofar as they are applicable to the Kansas City Defense-Rental Area are amended to the extent necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this Item of Schedule B.

Issued this 11th day of December 1952.

JAMES MCI. HENDERSON,
Director of Rent Stabilization.

Item 82 is added to Schedule B of Rent Regulation 2—Rooms, reading as follows:

82. Provisions relating to Monmouth County, New Jersey, a portion of the Northeastern New Jersey Defense-Rental Area (Item 190 of Schedule A):

The application of this regulation is terminated with respect to housing accommodations which on November 18, 1952, were rooms in rooming houses in Monmouth County, New Jersey. For purposes of this Item of Schedule B the definition of a rooming house is the same definition of a rooming house set forth in section 14 of this regulation.

All provisions of this regulation insofar as they are applicable to the territory to which this Item of Schedule B relates are hereby amended to the extent necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this Item of Schedule B.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

Bureau of Internal Revenue

[26 CFR Part 40]

EXCESS PROFITS TAXES; TAXABLE YEARS ENDING AFTER JUNE 30, 1950

EXCLUSION OF CERTAIN INCOME DERIVED FROM FOREIGN SOURCES

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, that the regulations set forth in tentative form below are proposed to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury. Prior to the final adoption of such regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing in duplicate to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C., within the period of 30 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The proposed regulations are to be issued under the authority contained in sections 62 and 3791 of the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. 32, 467; 26 U. S. C. 62, 3791).

[SEAL] JUSTIN F. WINKLE,
Acting Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Regulations 130 (26 CFR Part 40) are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. Section 40.433 (a)–2 is hereby amended by striking out all of paragraph (m) and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

(m) (1) Under section 433 (a) (1) (M) there shall be excluded income derived from sources within any foreign country to the extent that such income—

(i) But for monetary, exchange, or other restrictions imposed by such foreign country; or

(ii) But for the taxpayer's election to defer the reporting of such income under a method of accounting, approved by the Commissioner, applicable to income which could not be readily converted into United States dollars or into other money or property readily convertible into United States dollars; would have been includible in the gross income of the taxpayer for any taxable year which preceded its first taxable year ended after June 30, 1950. If such income is includible in the gross income of the taxpayer for a taxable year succeeding the first taxable year ended after June 30, 1950, and, but for such restrictions or such election, would have been includible in the gross income of the taxpayer for its first taxable year ended after June 30, 1950, and if such first taxable year began prior to July 1, 1950, such income shall be excluded in an amount which is the same proportion of such income as the number of days prior to July 1, 1950, in such first taxable year is of the total number of days in such first taxable year. Deductions properly chargeable and allocable to the income excluded under section 433 (a) (1) (M) shall not be allowed.

(2) For the purpose of this paragraph:

(i) The term "blocked foreign income" means income derived from sources within any foreign country during any taxable year which would, but for the restrictions or the election described in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, have been includible in the gross income of the taxpayer for such taxable year.

(ii) The term "unblocked foreign income" means income which was "blocked foreign income" during the taxable year in which it was derived from sources within any foreign country, but which becomes includible in the gross income of the taxpayer for any subsequent taxable year, whether as a result of the removal of such restrictions, or of such income becoming readily convertible into United States dollars or into other money or property readily convertible into United States dollars, or for other reasons.

(3) In cases where unblocked foreign income cannot be specifically identified as the blocked foreign income or portion thereof of a particular taxable year, the determination whether unblocked foreign income from sources within any foreign country has become includible in the gross income of the taxpayer for a taxable year ending after June 30, 1950, and the determination of the taxable year in which any such unblocked foreign income would have been includible but for the restrictions or the election, shall be made in accordance with the following rules:

(i) The aggregate amount includible in gross income for the taxable year in respect of income derived from sources within such foreign country shall first be deemed attributable to the income derived from sources within such foreign country during such taxable year. To the extent that such unblocked foreign income is attributable to income so derived during the taxable year, such unblocked foreign income shall not be excluded under section 433 (a) (1) (M).

(ii) The amount of such unblocked foreign income in excess of the portion thereof attributable to income derived from sources within such foreign country during such taxable year under the rule stated in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph shall be deemed to be attributable to the earliest blocked foreign income derived from sources within such foreign country, which blocked foreign income has not been previously deemed unblocked in a prior taxable year. Such excess shall be excluded under section 433 (a) (1) (M) only to the extent of the aggregate of the blocked foreign income derived from sources within such foreign country in all taxable years beginning prior to July 1, 1950, but such aggregate shall be reduced by the proportion of the blocked foreign income derived from sources within such foreign country during the taxpayer's first taxable year ending after June 30, 1950, if such taxable year began prior to July 1, 1950, as the number of days after June 30, 1950, in such first taxable year is of the total number of days in such first taxable year.

In determining whether unblocked foreign income which becomes includible in the gross income of the taxpayer for a taxable year ending after June 30, 1950, can be specifically identified as attributable to the blocked foreign income or portion thereof derived from sources within such foreign country in a particular taxable year, effect shall be given to the previous application of the rules in subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph to unblocked foreign income derived from sources within such foreign country which became includible in gross income of the taxpayer for a prior taxable year ending after June 30, 1950.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Bureau of Land Management

[Doc. 9, Region II]

CALIFORNIA

STOCK DRIVEWAY WITHDRAWAL NO. 235, CALIFORNIA NO. 17, REDUCED

DECEMBER 9, 1952.

Pursuant to the authority delegated by the Director, Bureau of Land Management, in section 2.22 (a) (1) of Order No. 427, dated August 16, 1950 (15 F. R. 5639), it is ordered as follows:

Subject to valid rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, the Departmental order of January 21, 1933, establishing Stock Driveway Withdrawal No. 235, California No. 17, under section 10 of the act of December 10, 1916 (39 Stat. 865; 43 U. S. C. 300), is hereby revoked so far as it affects the following described lands:

MOUNT DIABLO MERIDIAN

T. 28 S., R. 35 E.,
Sec. 3, Lots 7, 8, 9, 10 and 13.
T. 26 S., R. 37 E.,
Sec. 7, W½SE¼; Sec. 18, N½NE¼.

The area described aggregates 361.69 acres.

The lands are principally suited for grazing purposes.

No applications for these lands may be allowed under the homestead, small tract, desert land, or any other nonmineral public land laws, unless the lands have already been classified as valuable or suitable for such type of application, or shall be so classified upon consideration of an application.

This order shall not otherwise become effective to change the status of such lands until 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this order. At that time the said lands shall, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, become subject to application, petition, location, and selection as follows:

(a) Ninety-one day period for preference right filings. For a period of 91 days, commencing at the hour and on the day specified above, the public lands affected by this order shall be subject only to (1) application under the homestead or the desert-land laws or the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609; 43 U. S. C. 682a), as amended, by qualified veterans of World War II and other qualified persons entitled to preference under the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747; 43 U. S. C. 279–284), as amended, subject to the requirements of applicable law; and (2) application under any applicable public land law, based on prior existing valid settlement rights and preference rights conferred by existing laws or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation. Applications under subdivision (1) of this paragraph shall be subject to applications and claims of the classes described in subdivision (2) of this paragraph. All applications filed under this paragraph at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this order shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at that time. All applications filed under this paragraph after 10:00 a. m. on the said 35th day shall be considered in the order of filing.

(b) Date for non-preference right filings. Commencing at 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this order, any lands remaining unappropriated shall become subject to such application, petition, location, selection, or other appropriation by the public generally as may be authorized by the public land laws. All such applications filed either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this order shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at the hour specified on such 126th day. All applications filed thereafter shall be considered in the order of filing.

A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides) of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their applications by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

Applications for these lands, which shall be filed in the Land Office, Los Angeles, California, shall be acted upon in accordance with the regulations contained in § 295.8 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations and Part 296 of this title, to the extent that such regulations are applicable. Applications under the homestead laws shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 166 to 170, inclusive, of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, and applications under the desert land laws and the said Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 232 and 257, respectively, of this title.

Inquiries concerning these lands shall be addressed to the Manager, Land Office, Los Angeles, California.

L. T. HOFFMAN,
Regional Administrator.

SECTION 1. Purpose. The purpose of this order is to provide for the continued administration of the wage stabilization program during the period that the Wage Stabilization Board is rendered inoperative by the resignation of the industry members of the Board. This order provides for an interim Wage Stabilization Committee and defines its functions.

SEC. 2. Legal basis and authority. This order is promulgated under the authority vested in the Economic Stabilization Administrator by the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., Pub. Laws 96 and 429, 82d Cong.), Executive Order 10161, as amended, Executive Order 10182, and Executive Order 10205.

SEC. 3. The Wage Stabilization Committee. The present Public Members of the Wage Stabilization Board and any persons appointed as Public Members of the Board shall also serve and are hereby designated as members of the Wage Stabilization Committee. The Chairman of the Wage Stabilization Board is hereby designated as Chairman of the Wage Stabilization Committee.

SEC. 4. Functions and redelegation. (a) With the exception of promulgating general policies and regulations, the Wage Stabilization Committee is hereby authorized to perform, under the supervision and direction of the Economic Stabilization Administrator, and with respect to persons who are under the jurisdiction of the Wage Stabilization Board, created by section 403 (b) of the Defense Production Act, as amended, and Executive Order 10377 and Executive Order 10390, the wage stabilization functions authorized by Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended.

(b) The Chairman of the Committee is hereby authorized to perform so much of the functions of the Administrator, pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, and provided for in sections 902 and 903 of Executive Order No. 10161, as amended, as is necessary for the performance of the functions with respect to wage stabilization hereinabove redelegated to the Committee and, except as redelegation may be prohibited therein, so much of the functions of the Administrator pursuant to Executive Order No. 10182, as amended by Executive Order No. 10205, as is necessary for the performance of the functions with respect to wage stabilization so redelegated hereinabove to the Committee.

(c) The Chairman of the Wage Stabilization Committee is hereby authorized to carry out the internal administrative affairs of the Wage Stabilization Committee.

(d) All present employees and other personnel of the Wage Stabilization Board shall comply with all instructions, orders, and directives issued by the Chairman of the Wage Stabilization Committee.

SEC. 5. Termination. This order shall terminate as of the date on which the Wage Stabilization Board is rendered operative by appointment of Members representative of business and industry.

SEC. 6. Effect upon other orders. Any orders or parts of orders, the provisions of which are inconsistent with the provisions of this order, are hereby superseded or amended accordingly.

Effective date. This order shall become effective immediately.

HOUSING AND HOME FINANCE AGENCY

Office of the Administrator

CRITICAL DEFENSE HOUSING AREAS

NOTICE OF DEFENSE HOUSING PROGRAMS

Appearing below are amendments to previously published defense housing programs, additional new defense housing programs, and supplemental housing programs to defense housing programs previously published. These amendments are published herein as amendments to Part II (Defense Housing Programs) initially published in the FEDERAL REGISTER October 27, 1951 (16 F. R. 10963).

Applications relating to the construction of such defense housing may be filed with the local FHA office serving the particular critical defense housing area in which the proposed defense housing is located under appropriate regulations of the FHA; and in connection with such housing, the aids authorized by the Defense Housing and Community Facilities and Services Act of 1951 (Pub. Law 139, 82d Cong.) are available. These aids include the more liberal form of Federal Housing Administration mortgage insurance under Title IX of the National Housing Act, as amended, and the special benefits provided in Title III of that act in connection with commitments by the Federal National Mortgage Association for the purchase of mortgages covering defense housing programmed by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator. To be eligible for these special aids all applicable requirements, conditions and restrictions imposed by or pursuant to said Title III or Title IX of the National Housing Act, as amended, must be complied with. Information concerning such requirements, conditions and restrictions may be obtained from the local FHA and FNMA offices.

The critical defense housing areas listed in Part II hereof indicate the areas in connection with which defense housing has been programmed. In order to be eligible for the special aids authorized, the housing must be located within the designated critical defense housing area.

PART II—DEFENSE HOUSING PROGRAMS

AMENDMENTS TO DEFENSE HOUSING PROGRAMS PREVIOUSLY PUBLISHED

Amendment 1. Area program numbered 84 (Tullahoma, Tennessee) appearing in the FEDERAL REGISTER of December 19, 1951 (16 F. R. 12731) is amended by reducing the total number of dwelling units (rental and sale) authorized in the original program from 220 dwelling units to 191, comprised of 178 rental units and 13 sales units. The aforesaid 191 units are either completed or in the course of construction.

Amendment 2. Area Program numbered 106 (Umatilla-Hermiston, Oregon) appearing in the FEDERAL REGISTER of January 24, 1952 (17 F. R. 740) is amended by eliminating and deleting the previously authorized quota of 10 sales units, by reducing the previously authorized 30 two-bedroom rental units to 20, and by eliminating and deleting the previously authorized quota of 10 one-bedroom rental units. As thus amended, the total of all types of dwelling units is reduced form 50 to 20.

Amendment 3. Area program numbered 111 (Ishpeming-Negaunee, Michigan) appearing in the FEDERAL REGISTER of January 24, 1952 (17 F. R. 740) is amended by transferring from the previously authorized quota of 50 two-bedroom sales units, 40 such two-bedroom sales units to 40 two-bedroom rental units at a rental not to exceed $75.00. The sales price of the remaining 10 two-bedroom sales units is amended by increasing the original sales price not to exceed $8,500 to a sales price not to exceed $9,500. The total number of dwelling units of all types remains the same as in the original program, 50.

Amendment 4. Area program numbered 181 (Butte, Montana) appearing in the FEDERAL REGISTER of November 6, 1952 (17 F. R. 10091) is amended by changing the rent for two-bedroom rental units from a rental not to exceed $60.00 to $70.00, for three-bedroom rental units from a rental not to exceed $65.00 to $80.00; and by increasing the maximum sales prices for two-bedroom sales units from $9,000 to $10,500, and by increasing the maximum sales prices for three-bedroom sales units from $10,000 to $11,500. The number of units in each category (rental and sale) remain the same.

Amendment 5. Area program numbered 154 (Indian Head, Maryland) appearing in the FEDERAL REGISTER of April 12, 1952 (17 F. R. 3244), is amended by reducing the maximum sales price with respect to 15 of the 30 authorized two-bedroom sales units from $9,000 to $6,000.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 54-205, 59-95]

NORTH AMERICAN CO. ET AL.

SUPPLEMENTAL ORDER RELEASING JURISDICTION WITH RESPECT TO CONSUMMATION OF PLAN

DECEMBER 10, 1952.

In the matter of the North American Company, Union Electric Company of Missouri, File No. 54-205; and the North American Company, respondent; File No. 59-95.

The Commission having issued its findings and opinion and order on October 31, 1952, approving a Plan for the liquidation and dissolution of the North American Company ("North American"), pursuant to section 11 (e) of the act; said Plan having been joined in to the extent necessary for its consummation by Union Electric Company of Missouri ("Union"); an application having been filed by the Commission with the United States District Court for the District of New Jersey for the entry of an order approving said Plan and ordering it enforced; North American having represented to the Commission that upon the entry of such an order North American will declare said Plan to be effective as of approximately January 20, 1953;

It appearing that in connection with and as a part of the final liquidation and dissolution of North American, as required by the Plan, North American and Union have proposed that the presently outstanding 11,450,000 shares of no par value common stock of Union be reclassified into 10,300,000 shares of no par value common stock, that North American surrender certificates representing 11,450,000 shares of no par value common stock of Union and receive in exchange therefor 10,300,000 shares of no par value common stock of Union, that North American surrender for conversion 796,791 shares of no par value common stock of Union and receive 796,791 shares of $10 par value common stock of Union as part of the securities required for distribution, on or about January 20, 1953, to the common stockholders of North American;

North American having requested the Commission to issue an appropriate order, with respect to said transactions, under Supplement R of Chapter 1 and section 1808 (f) of Chapter 11 of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended;

The Commission in said order of October 31, 1952, having reserved jurisdiction, inter alia, with respect to (i) the amount of cash to be paid by North American to its stockholders in lieu of fractional shares of such Union common stock which would otherwise be distributed to such stockholders; and (ii) the terms and provisions of the assistance to be provided by North American to its stockholders receiving four shares or less of such Union common stock, in interim distributions as proposed in said Plan, to enable such stockholders to dispose of such shares without brokerage charges or commissions;

North American, subsequent to the issuance of said order of October 31, 1952, having advised the Commission that the amount of cash to be paid in lieu of fractional shares of such Union common stock is to be determined by the closing sale price or closing bid price on December 31, 1952, whichever is higher, for such Union common stock as traded or quoted on a "when distributed" basis on the New York Stock Exchange; and North American having further advised the Commission that arrangements have been made with the firm of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Beane which will ensure to stockholders receiving four shares or less of such Union common stock, as proposed in the Plan, who desire to sell the same, a price approximating the closing sale price, but not less than the closing bid price, of such Union common stock as traded or quoted on a "when distributed" basis on the New York Stock Exchange on the day preceding the day on which such Union common stock is to be distributed;

The Commission deeming it appropriate and in the public interest to grant North American's request for an order pursuant to Supplement R and section 1808 (f) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended; and

The Commission having considered the entire record and finding that the proposals respecting the cash to be paid in lieu of fractional shares of such Union common stock and the assistance to be rendered those stockholders of North American receiving four shares or less of such Union common stock who desire to sell the same, are fair and equitable and meet the other applicable standards of the act, and that the jurisdiction heretofore reserved with respect to such matters should be released to the extent indicated below;

It is hereby ordered and recited and the Commission Finds, That:

(a) The proposed surrender by North American to Union of 11,450,000 shares of no par value common stock of Union and the receipt by North American of 10,300,000 shares of no par value common stock of Union, pursuant to the reclassification of no par value common stock of Union; and

(b) The proposed surrender by North American to Union of 796,791 shares of no par value common stock of Union and the proposed issuance by Union and the receipt by North American in exchange therefor of 796,791 shares of $10 par value Union common stock, represented by certificates numbered TNB1, TNB2 and TNB3;

All in connection with and as a part of the final liquidation and dissolution of North American and all as authorized permitted by the order of this Commission of October 31, 1952, and in obedience thereto are necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

It is further ordered, That in connection with the first distribution of such Union common stock, as proposed in the Plan, jurisdiction be, and the same hereby, is released with respect to (a) the amount of cash to be paid to the North American stockholders in lieu of fractional shares of such Union common stock and (b) the assistance to be rendered those North American stockholders receiving four shares or less of such Union common stock who desire to sell the same.

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be, and hereby is, reserved to enter such other or further orders conforming to the requirements of Supplement R of Chapter 1 and section 1808 (f) of Chapter 11 of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, and with respect to all other matters as to which jurisdiction has heretofore been reserved and not herewith specifically released.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] ORVAL L. DUBOIS,
Secretary.

5977, governing the making of loans and containing the requirements of the Farm-Storage Facility Loan Program are hereby amended as follows:

Paragraph (a) Maximum term of loan, of § 674.180 Terms and conditions of loan is amended for the purpose of clarifying the provision relating to the maximum term of the loan, so that the paragraph reads as follows:

(a) Maximum term of loan. The maximum term of the loan will be approximately four years from the first anniversary date of the first disbursement of the loan, except that the term of an individual loan may be extended for one year or less by the county committee in case of catastrophic losses of crops or other conditions beyond the control of the borrower. Loans will be secured by chattel mortgages on the storage facilities, real estate mortgage, deed of trust, or other security instrument approved by CCC, on the borrower's farm or other property on which the facility is to be located, or on a sufficient acreage of the farm which, in the judgment of the county committee, will make the site easily accessible for use of other farmers in the area, and constitutes a salable unit. A first mortgage will be required except that where a first mortgage is not obtainable, a second mortgage loan may be made provided the prior lien on the farm is small enough that the borrower's equity in the farm, in the opinion of the county committee, is sufficient to assure his continued tenure of the farm, and provided the prior lien-holder subordinates his lien as to the structure and the site on which it is located, with the right of ingress and egress to the storage facility. No second mortgage loans will be made on structures not located on the farm.

Issued this 11th day of December 1952.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter IV—Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, Department of Agriculture

PART 420—MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE

SUBPART—REGULATIONS FOR THE 1950 AND SUCCEEDING CROP YEARS

1. The publication in the Code of Federal Regulations of multiple crop insurance riders for the two counties designated below is hereby discontinued due to the fact that multiple crop insurance is no longer offered in these counties:

7 CFR 420.88–1 Aiken County, South Carolina (15 F. R. 2656; 16 F. R. 4872).
7 CFR 420.94–1 Northumberland County, Virginia (14 F. R. 7833).

2. The multiple crop insurance rider for Calumet County, Wisconsin (17 F. R. 3316) is hereby revoked due to the fact that an insurance program was not placed in operation in the county.

[SEAL] JOHN W. BRAINARD, Manager,
Federal Crop Insurance Corporation.

Chapter VII—Production and Marketing Administration (Agricultural Adjustment), Department of Agriculture

PART 726—FIRE-CURED, DARK AIR-CURED, AND VIRGINIA SUN-CURED TOBACCO

PROCLAMATION OF RESULTS OF MARKETING QUOTA REFERENDUM

§ 726.406 Basis and purpose. Sections 726.406 and 726.407 are issued to announce the results of the Virginia sun-cured tobacco marketing quota referendum for the marketing year beginning October 1, 1953, and for the three-year period beginning October 1, 1953. Under the provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, the Secretary proclaimed a national marketing quota for Virginia sun-cured tobacco for the 1953-54 marketing year (17 F. R. 10135). The Secretary announced (17 F. R. 10149) that a referendum would be held on November 22, 1952, to determine whether Virginia sun-cured tobacco producers were in favor of or opposed to marketing quotas for the marketing year beginning October 1, 1953, and to determine whether Virginia sun-cured tobacco producers were in favor of or opposed to marketing quotas for the three-year period beginning October 1, 1953. Since the only purpose of this proclamation is to announce the results of the referendum, it is hereby found and determined that with respect to this proclamation, application of the notice and procedure provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003) is unnecessary.

§ 726.407 Proclamation of the results of the Virginia sun-cured tobacco marketing quota referendum for the marketing year beginning October 1, 1953, and for the three-year period beginning October 1, 1953. In a referendum of farmers engaged in the production of the 1952 crop of Virginia sun-cured tobacco held on November 22, 1952, 2,095 farmers voted. Of those voting 2,034 or 97.1 percent favored quotas for a period of three years beginning October 1, 1953; 41 or 2.0 percent favored quotas for only the one year beginning October 1, 1953; and 20 or 0.9 percent were opposed to quotas. Therefore, the national marketing quota of 4,854,000 pounds proclaimed November 5, 1952 (17 F. R. 10135) for Virginia sun-cured tobacco for the 1953-54 marketing year will be in effect for such year and marketing quotas on Virginia sun-cured tobacco will be in effect for three marketing years beginning October 1, 1953.

PART 727—MARYLAND TOBACCO

PROCLAMATION OF RESULTS OF MARKETING QUOTA REFERENDUM

§ 727.403 Basis and purpose. Sections 727.403 and 727.404 are issued to announce the results of the Maryland tobacco marketing quota referendum for the marketing year beginning October 1, 1953, and for the three-year period beginning October 1, 1953. Under the provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, the Secretary proclaimed a national marketing quota for Maryland tobacco for the 1953-54 marketing year (17 F. R. 8893). The Secretary announced (17 F. R. 8925) that a referendum would be held on October 29, 1952, to determine whether Maryland tobacco producers were in favor of or opposed to marketing quotas for the marketing year beginning October 1, 1953, and to determine whether Maryland tobacco producers were in favor of or opposed to marketing quotas for the three-year period beginning October 1, 1953. Since the only purpose of this proclamation is to announce the results of the referendum, it is hereby found and determined that with respect to this proclamation, application of the notice and procedure provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003) is unnecessary.

§ 727.404 Proclamation of the results of the Maryland tobacco marketing quota referendum for the marketing year beginning October 1, 1953, and for the three-year period beginning October 1, 1953. In a referendum of farmers engaged in the production of the 1952 crop of Maryland tobacco held on October 29, 1952, 6,383 farmers voted. Of those voting 4,114 or 64.5 percent favored quotas for a period of three years beginning October 1, 1953; 614 or 9.6 percent favored quotas for only the one year beginning October 1, 1953; and 1,655 or 25.9 percent were opposed to quotas. Therefore, the national marketing quota of 42,000,000 pounds proclaimed on October 1, 1952 (17 F. R. 8893), for Maryland tobacco for the 1953-54 marketing year will be in effect for the year beginning October 1, 1953.

(Sec. 375, 52 Stat. 66, 7 U. S. C. 1375. Interpret or apply sec. 312, 52 Stat. 46, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 1312)

Done at Washington, D. C., this 11th day of December 1952. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter I—Civil Aeronautics Board

Subchapter A—Civil Air Regulations

PART 16—AIRCRAFT RADIO EQUIPMENT AIRWORTHINESS

TYPE CERTIFICATION; AIRBORNE RADIO EQUIPMENT

This supplement outlines the Civil Aeronautics Administration's policy governing the environmental tests procedures to be followed in type certificating airborne radio equipment. These procedures were established through the medium of the Radio Technical Commission for Aeronautics' Special Committee 37 and are to be used on all newly designed equipment submitted for type certification approval. A provision has been included permitting the applicant for a type certificate to use either the Civil Aeronautics Manual 16 tests or the new RTCA tests for a period of a year after the effective date of this supplement. Technical Standard Orders will eventually replace the policies stated in this supplement.

The following policies are hereby adopted:

§ 16.30-3 Environmental test procedures for airborne radio equipment. (CAA policies which apply to § 16.30 (c)). Environmental test procedures are used to provide a laboratory means of determining the reliability of airborne radio equipment by evaluating its performance under conditions representative of those which are encountered in actual aeronautical operations. In performing these tests, the environmental test procedures contained in Radio Technical Commission for Aeronautics' paper entitled, "Environmental Test Procedures—Airborne Radio Equipment" (Paper 50-52/DO-44 dated March 20, 1952) should be used on newly designed equipment submitted for type certification approval. However, in order to provide a smooth transition to the new environmental test procedures, either the currently used tests contained in Civil Aeronautics Manual 16 dated February 13, 1941,[1] or those contained in the R. T. C. A. paper 50-52/DO-44 may be used at the option of the applicant for a type certificate for a period of one year from (date of publication). After this date, the tests contained in paper 50-52/DO-44 should be used. The environmental test procedures in Civil Aeronautics Manual 16 dated February 13, 1941[1] under which the equipment was originally type certificated should be used on modifications of previously type certificated equipment. However, the tests contained in the R. T. C. A. paper 50-52/DO-44 may be used at the option of the applicant.

[1] Not filed for publication in the Federal Register.

These policies shall become effective January 1, 1953.

Acting Administrator of Civil Aeronautics.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY TO THE COMMISSIONER; CONDITIONS OF DEFAULT IN MORTGAGE

1. Section 295.10 (c) is hereby amended to read as follows:

(c) For the purposes of this section, the date of default shall be considered as 30 days after the first uncorrected failure to perform a covenant or obligation, or the first failure to make a monthly payment which subsequent payments by the mortgagor are insufficient to cover when applied to the overdue monthly payments in the order in which they became due: Provided, however, That a mortgagee may, with and subject to the written consent of the Commissioner, apply partial payments to delinquent interest not in excess of 2½ percent, to the exclusion of prior delinquent principal payments, in which event the date of default shall be 30 days after the due date of the earliest monthly payment, any part of which remains unpaid.

2. Section 295.10 is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

(h) Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to prevent the mortgagee, with the consent of the Commissioner, from entering into a written agreement with the mortgagor postponing for a period not to exceed one year that part of the monthly payment or any part thereof which represents amortization of principal where the mortgagor is the owner of a group of properties consisting of a project of not less than ten rental units, each covered by a mortgage insured under section 903 of the National Housing Act and by the provisions of the agreement, and where the agreement obligates the mortgagor to deposit with the mortgagee the entire net income from all of the properties comprising the project, under arrangements satisfactory to the Commissioner, and obligates the mortgagor to resume monthly payments after the effective period of the agreement in such amounts as will completely amortize the mortgage indebtedness within the original maturity. Such agreement will in no way affect the amount of the annual mortgage insurance premiums, which will continue to be calculated in accordance with the original amortization provisions.

(e) Psychology specialist. Possess a doctor's degree in psychology.

(3) Have completed 18 months' active Federal commissioned service in the United States Army, performed within the 3-year period immediately preceding submission of an application. Tours of active duty of 90 days or less may not be included in computing service for this program.

(4) Have served at least 6 months on current tour of duty.

(5) Have served 60 or more duty days in present assignment to permit rendition of a special, complete, efficiency report.

(6) Have performed at least 12 months of the required service in duties other than as a student, in a travel status, awaiting assignment, on leave, etc.

(e) Army Nurse Corps. Applicant must:

(1) Have reached twenty-first birthday but not have attained twenty-eighth birthday on date of appointment.

(2) Hold a Reserve commission and be assigned to the Army Nurse Corps branch in the Army, and have served in the active military service for at least 6 months immediately prior to appearance before evaluation board. To assure adequate time for administrative processing of an application, applicants who will attain or who have attained the age of 27 years prior to completion of 6 months active duty may request approval from Department of the Army to submit applications prior to completion of 6 months active duty.

(3) Have been graduated from a school of nursing acceptable to the Department of the Army and must possess current nursing registration in the United States, the District of Columbia, or a Territory of the United States.

(f) Women's Medical Specialist Corps. Applicant must:

(1) Have reached twenty-first birthday but not have attained twenty-eighth birthday on date of appointment.

(2) Hold a Reserve commission and be assigned to the Women's Medical Specialist Corps branch of the Army Reserve and have served in the active military service for at least 6 months immediately prior to appearance before evaluation board. To assure adequate time for administrative processing of an application, applicants who will attain or who have attained the age of 27 years prior to completion of 6 months active duty may request approval from Department of the Army to submit application prior to completion of 6 months active duty.

(3) Have the educational requirements for appointment in the Women's Medical Specialist Corps, Regular Army.

(i) Dietitian section. A bachelor's degree from a college or university with either a major in foods and nutrition or institution management; and, in addition, have completed a dietetic internship, both of which must be acceptable to the Department of the Army.

(ii) Physical therapist section. A bachelor's degree from a college or university including satisfactory completion of courses in biological and physical sciences and psychology; and, in addition, have completed a course in physical therapy, both of which must be acceptable to the Department of the Army.

(iii) Occupational therapist section. A bachelor's degree from a college or university, and have completed a training course in occupational therapy, both of which must be acceptable to the Department of the Army.

§ 573.3 Service credit. Each individual appointed in the Regular Army under the Officer Personnel Act of 1947, as amended, shall at time of appointment be credited with an amount of service equivalent to the total period of active Federal service performed after attaining the age of 21 years as a commissioned officer in the Army of the United States subsequent to December 31, 1947, and prior to appointment in the Regular Army, but not to exceed 5 years. In addition to the foregoing, individuals appointed in the following corps will be given service credit on the basis of professional training as indicated below:

Corps and Credit

Medical Corps: 4 years.
Dental Corps: 3 years.
Veterinary Corps: 2 years.
Medical Service Corps: 3 years, if at time of appointment the individual holds a degree of doctor of philosophy or comparable degree recognized by the Surgeon General in a science allied to medicine.

§ 573.4 Grade determination. (a) Upon the basis of service credited in § 573.3, individuals who have less than 3 years service credit shall be appointed in the grade of second lieutenant; 3 or more years but less than 7, shall be appointed in the grade of first lieutenant; 7 or more years, shall be appointed in the grade of captain.

(b) Appointment in the Medical Corps or Dental Corps will be in grades determined according to the applicant's age and years of active professional experience subsequent to graduation from a medical or dental school acceptable to the Department of the Army.

Grade	Professional experience	Maximum age
1st lieutenant	No years	Not have attained 32d birthday.
Captain	4 years	Not have attained 37th birthday.
Major	11 years	Not have attained 42d birthday.
Lt. colonel	18 years	Not have attained 48th birthday.

Initial appointments in the Medical Corps or Dental Corps in the grade of colonel are authorized. Persons appointed in this grade will possess outstanding qualifications for special positions determined by the Surgeon General as requirements necessitate.

(c) Individuals appointed in the Army Nurses Corps or Women's Medical Specialist Corps, Regular Army, under the Army-Navy Nurse Act of 1947 shall be appointed in the grade of second lieutenant.

§ 573.5 Application. (a) Applications will be submitted on DA Form 62 (Application for Appointment as a Commissioned Officer in the Regular Army), in duplicate. Forms may be obtained at all Army installations, including recruiting stations, and at the Office of the Surgeon General.

(b) Applications will be accompanied by:

(1) Recent photograph, head-and-shoulders type, not smaller than 3 by 5 inches. The applicant's name and current Army service number, if any, will appear on the reverse side.

(2) DD Form 98 (Loyalty Certificate for Personnel of the Armed Forces), and DD Form 98a (List of Organizations to accompany DD Form 98).

(3) Transcript of all college credits (Medical Service Corps applicants only).

(c) Applications will be forwarded as follows:

(1) Applications for appointment in Medical, Dental, Army Nurse, or Women's Medical Specialist Corps submitted by qualified individuals on active duty within the continental United States may be submitted at any time through command channels to appropriate installation commanders. Installation commanders will, in turn, forward the original and inclosures to the commander of the nearest named Army hospital or Army Area Evaluation Board (§ 573.6 (a) (1)) for evaluation, and the duplicate copy to The Adjutant General, Washington 25, D. C., Attention: AGPB-R. Applicants in an oversea command, if on active duty, will forward applications in accordance with instructions issued by the appropriate oversea commander.

(2) Applications for appointment in the Medical or Dental Corps from qualified members of a Reserve component of the Army of the United States not on active duty or from civilians may be submitted at any time to the commander of the nearest named Army hospital or Army Area Evaluation Board listed in (§ 573.6 (a) (1)). The hospital or Evaluation Board will retain the original and inclosures for use in evaluating the applicant, and will forward, without delay, the duplicate copy to The Adjutant General, Washington 25, D. C., Attention: AGPB-R. Individuals in this category residing in an oversea command will forward applications in accordance with instructions issued by the appropriate oversea commander.

(3) Applications for appointment in the Veterinary Corps and Medical Service Corps:

(i) May be submitted only during the periods May 1 to June 30, and from November 1 to December 31, and will be forwarded through command channels to appropriate installation commanders.

(ii) The indorsement to the application, effected by installation commander, will contain a statement to the effect that the applicant's records have been carefully examined, that he is fully eligible under the regulations of this part, and that nothing is contained therein of a sufficiently derogatory nature to preclude favorable consideration. In the event of derogatory or questionable findings, sufficient explanation of the circumstances will be furnished.

(iii) Normally, a special complete efficiency report will be attached thereto at the appropriate headquarters. The only exception in this regard will be in those instances when the period subsequent to the submission of the last efficiency report does not permit coverage of at least 60 duty days prior to the end of an application period, and the applicant would become ineligible by virtue of age prior to the next application period. This report will constitute full and complete evaluation of the pertinent duty period, and the next efficiency report to be submitted will commence with the date immediately following the closing date of this special report.

(iv) Installation commanders will forward the original and inclosures to the commander of the nearest Evaluation Board (§ 573.6 (a) (1) and (4)) for evaluation, and the duplicate copy to The Adjutant General, Washington 25, D. C., Attention: AGPB-R. Applicants in oversea commands will forward applications in accordance with instructions issued by the appropriate oversea commander.

§ 573.6 Evaluation boards—(a) Appointment. (1) Commanders of the following named installations and appropriate major commanders will appoint evaluation boards at stations indicated to evaluate applicants for appointment in all Corps of the Army Medical Service except Veterinary Corps:

(i) Headquarters Fifth Army, 1660 East Hyde Park Boulevard, Chicago, Ill.

(ii) Army and Navy Hospital, Hot Springs, Ark.

(iii) William Beaumont Army Hospital, Fort Bliss, Tex.

(iv) Brooke Army Medical Center, Fort Sam Houston, Tex.

(v) Fitzsimons Army Hospital, Denver, Colo.

(vi) Letterman Army Hospital, San Francisco, Calif.

(vii) Walter Reed Army Medical Center, Washington 12, D. C.

(viii) Madigan Army Hospital, Tacoma, Wash.

(ix) Murphy Army Hospital, Waltham, Mass.

(x) Percy Jones Army Hospital, Battle Creek, Mich.

(xi) Valley Forge Army Hospital, Phoenixville, Pa.

(xii) Headquarters First Army, Governors Island, N. Y.

(xiii) United States Army Hospital, Fort Knox, Ky.

(xiv) United States Army Hospital, Fort Benning, Ga.

(xv) United States Army Hospital, Fort Bragg, N. C.

(2) Major commanders will appoint evaluation boards at the stations indicated below to evaluate applicants for appointment in the Veterinary Corps.

(i) Headquarters First Army, Governors Island, N. Y.

(ii) Headquarters Second Army, Fort Meade, Md.

(iii) Headquarters Third Army, Fort McPherson, Ga.

(iv) Headquarters Fourth Army, Fort Sam Houston, Tex.

(v) Headquarters Fifth Army, 1660 East Hyde Park Boulevard, Chicago, Ill.

(vi) Headquarters Sixth Army, Presidio of San Francisco, Calif.

(3) In oversea commands, evaluation boards will be appointed in general hospitals designated by the appropriate oversea commander.

(4) Boards will consist of a minimum of three senior officers of the corps in which the individual is applying for appointment. In the event that three senior officers of the proper corps are not available, senior officers of the Medical Corps will be substituted. No substitutions will be made for veterinary applicant evaluation boards.

§ 573.7 Action within Department of the Army. (a) Upon receipt of an application and allied papers, The Adjutant General will review the case including available Department of the Army records in order to determine statutory and administrative eligibility, and will then forward all papers to the Surgeon General. The Surgeon General, after determining physical qualifications, will recommend appointment or nonappointment and return each case to The Adjutant General. When applicable, recommendations for appointment will include grade in which appointment is to be made. Recommendations for nonappointment will include reasons therefor, and such applicants will be notified promptly by The Adjutant General.

(b) The Adjutant General will transmit names of applicants recommended for appointment to the Secretary of the Army for action to effect appointments, and will issue necessary instructions through commanders of major commands concerned to consummate such appointments.

[SEAL] WM. E. BERGIN,
Major General, U. S. Army,
The Adjutant General.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter III—Office of Price Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

[Ceiling Price Regulation 22, Amdt. 4 to Supplementary Regulation 6, Revision 1]

CPR 22—MANUFACTURERS' GENERAL CEILING PRICE REGULATION

SR 6—CEILING PRICE FOR MANUFACTURERS FOR THE SALE OF PAINTS, VARNISHES, AND LACQUERS

POSTPONEMENT OF EFFECTIVE DATE

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161, and Economic Stabilization General Order No. 2, this Amendment 4 to Revision 1 of Supplementary Regulation 6 to Ceiling Price Regulation 22 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment postpones until January 30, 1953, the mandatory effective date of Supplementary Regulation 6, Revision 1, to Ceiling Price Regulation 22.

The revision calls for significant calculations and filings. Unfortunately, typographical errors in the OPS Public Form 150 and the text of the regulation governing the calculation of ceiling prices delayed compliance and necessitated the issuance of a revised form and Amendment 2 and Amendment 3 to the regulation which corrected those errors and extended the filing date to December 15, 1952. However, it has been demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Director of Price Stabilization that that extension of time was inadequate.

In the formulation of this amendment informal consultation has been had with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Supplementary Regulation 6, Revision 1, to Ceiling Price Regulation 22 is amended by changing the last paragraph thereof (effective date) to read as follows:

Effective date. The mandatory effective date of this supplementary regulation is January 30, 1953. However, if you so elect, you may make this regulation effective as to you at any time between August 13, 1952 and January 30, 1953. If you do so elect, this supplementary regulation, on the date you exercise your option, becomes effective as to you for all your commodities covered hereby.

This Amendment 4 to Supplementary Regulation 6, Revision 1 is effective December 15, 1952.

JOSEPH H. FREEHILL,
Acting Director of Price Stabilization.

DECEMBER 15, 1952.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 25, Amdt. 5 to Revision 1]

CPR 25—CEILING PRICES OF BEEF ITEMS SOLD AT RETAIL

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161, Delegation of Authority by the Secretary of Agriculture with respect to meat, as amended, Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2, and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 5, Revision, this Amendment 5 to the Ceiling Price Regulation 25, Revision 1, is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment makes four substantive changes in Ceiling Price Regulation (CPR) 25, Revision 1, as well as certain clarifications and corrections of a minor nature:

(1) By applying single price schedules to groups of several zones in CPR 25, Revised, an attempt was made to reflect gross profit margins on a relatively uniform basis. Experience has demonstrated that in the cases of stores operating in Zones 19 and 24, the applicable price schedules do not yield the intended gross profit margin. Therefore, this amendment provides new schedules of beef cut ceiling prices for stores operating in Zones 19 and 24. No changes are made in the pertinent price schedules for beef variety meats and by-products. Adjustments on these items are minimal and would not substantially affect gross profit margins.

(2) This amendment removes the item "Lean prediced stew" from all of the ceiling price schedules in Article IV and from the list of standard retail beef cuts in Appendix V. This amendment, on the other hand, will permit retailers to predice boneless neck meat and heel of round.

Prior to controls, retailers customarily merchandised boneless neck or heel of round by displaying it in trays as boneless stew meat. However, before this amendment, retailers who handled prime, choice, and good grades of meat had not been provided a practical method of merchandising heel of round and boneless neck meat as lean prediced stew beef at the ceiling price established for that cut. If they cut boneless neck meat and heel of round into stew meat, they had to sell it at the lower stew beef prices. On the other hand, retailers who handled commercial and utility grades of beef could obtain a considerable price advantage by displaying and selling boneless neck meat and heel of round as lean prediced stew meat.

This amendment will permit retailers who handle prime, choice, and good grades of beef to display these cuts of beef as stew meat without having to sell these items at a discount and will prevent retailers who handle lower grades from obtaining the advantage of selling lower priced cuts as lean prediced stew meat.

(3) This amendment also allows certain specialty stores selling mostly prime grade beef to apply for exemption from the ceiling prices of prime grade beef set forth in Article IV, and for the establishment by the Director of separate and higher ceiling prices applicable to this group of specialty stores. The purpose of this amendment is to parallel similar provisions for specialty stores in CPR 15 and CPR 16 for the reasons set forth in the Statements of Considerations accompanying those regulations, which are incorporated herein.

(4) Because of recent amendments to CPR 24, this amendment also defines and prices two new specialty products, the ceiling prices of which are determined under section 4 (c). A minor change is also made in the definition of specialty product, prefabricated, quick frozen and packaged. The product may now be packaged in a sealed moisture proof container rather than a carton as previously required.

(5) The definitions of cured and smoked tongues, dried beef, and wafer steaks have been amended to conform to the changes made in the definition of these items in CPR 24.

In formulating this amendment, the Director of Price Stabilization has consulted so far as practicable with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and has given full consideration to their recommendations. In his judgment, the provisions of this amendment are generally fair and equitable, are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Titles I and IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, are necessary and appropriate to promote the National Defense, and comply with all the applicable standards of the Act.

All standards prescribed in this amendment were, prior to the issuance of Ceiling Price Regulation 25, in general use in the meat industry. Such standards as are prescribed are indispensable to price control of beef, since no practicable alternative to such standardization exists for securing effective price control of this commodity. It is not believed that this amendment will cause any substantial changes in business practices, cost practices or methods, or means or aids to distribution; however, to the extent that such changes may be compelled, they are necessary to prevent circumvention or evasion of Ceiling Price Regulation 25, Revision 1, as amended.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 25, Revision 1, is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 34 is redesignated Section 35 and a new Section 34 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 34. How certain stores may apply for exemption from the ceiling prices for prime grade beef specified in Article IV and for the establishment of higher ceiling prices. (a) If your store meets the gross margin requirements specified in paragraph (b) of this section and does business in the manner outlined in that paragraph, you may apply under paragraph (d) of this section to be exempted from the ceiling prices of prime grade beef specified in Article IV of this regulation, and to have your ceiling prices for prime grade beef established for you by the Director of the Office of Price Stabilization. Your application must set forth the information required by paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section. The Director may then establish such prime grade beef ceiling prices for you as appear in his judgment to be generally fair and equitable, and to reflect customary gross margins on meat department sales.

(b) Your application must state that:

(1) The total gross meat department margin of your store in your fiscal year 1950 was at least 23 percent on all meat department sales, and also if you are not an "independent store", at least 23 percent on the combined meat department sales in all the stores in your organization for which you seek adjustment. In determining your total gross meat department margin, do not count a restaurant as part of a meat department. If your store was not in business for the entire year 1950, determine the total gross meat department margin of your store for that portion of 1950 during which you were in business. The period used must cover at least three months' operation. In any case, specify the period covered.

(2) Whether your store or stores have been exempted from using the markups in CPR 15 or CPR 16 by qualifying under the provisions of section 26 (a) of CPR 15 or section 24 (a) of CPR 16;

(3) Prior to January 1, 1951, more than one-half of the beef you purchased and sold was U. S. Prime grade;

(4) The majority of your sales in your meat department are made by employees who assist customers in selecting, collecting and wrapping merchandise;

(5) Your store generally offers to all its customers the services of taking orders by telephone, carrying monthly charge accounts, and providing delivery service; and

(6) The general level of beef prices in your store was substantially higher than that of Group 1 stores in your community during the fiscal year 1950.

(c) Your application must set forth:

(1) Your ceiling prices determined under the General Ceiling Price Regulation for each retail cut of prime grade beef;

(2) Your highest purchase invoice cost during the GCPR base period (December 19, 1950 to January 25, 1951) for:

(a) Prime grade beef carcasses;

(b) Prime grade wholesale cuts (enumerate);

(3) What percentage of your total prime grade beef purchases during the GCPR base period were:

(a) Prime grade beef carcasses;

(b) Prime grade wholesale cuts (enumerate).

(d) You must file your application with the National Office of the Office of Price Stabilization. The Director of Price Stabilization may establish, by letter order, ceiling prices in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section for your retail sales of beef, if he finds that you meet the requirements of this section. This authority may be withdrawn if it is later determined by the Director that your store does not qualify for adjustment under this section, or if he finds that for any quarter subsequent to the date of approval of your application 80 percent of your total beef purchases are not prime grade beef. Applications for adjustment are governed by Price Procedural Regulation 1, Revision 2.

2. A new ceiling price list is added to section 40 (a), following section 40 (a) (6), to read as follows:

(7) Zones 19 and 24.

7. Section 40 (c) (1) is amended by changing the heading of the ceiling price list to read as follows:

(1) Zones 1, 17, 19, 20, 23, 24, and 25.

[The following ceiling prices per pound apply in all Groups 3B and 4B stores selling the grades of beef cuts listed below at retail in Zones 1, 17, 19, 20, 23, 24, and 25.]

8. Section 40 (c) (2) is amended by changing the heading of the ceiling price list to read as follows:

(2) Zones 2, 3, and 22.

[The following ceiling prices per pound apply in all Groups 3B and 4B stores selling the grades of beef cuts listed below at retail in Zones 2, 3, and 22.]

9. Section 42 is amended by changing the heading of the ceiling price list in section 42 (a) to read as follows:

(a) Zones 1, 17, 19, 20, 23, 24, and 25.

[The following ceiling prices per pound apply in all stores selling the grades of beef cuts listed below on specially authorized sales to eating places or other retailers in Zones 1, 17, 19, 20, 23, 24, and 25.]

10. Section 42 is further amended by changing the heading of the ceiling price list in section 42 (b) to read as follows:

(b) Zones 2, 3, and 22.

[The following ceiling prices per pound apply in all stores selling the grades of beef cuts listed below on specially authorized sales to eating places or other retailers in Zones 2, 3, and 22.]

11. Section 42 is further amended by deleting item 14, "Lean prediced stew beef", in Heading "III. Stews and other cuts" in paragraphs (a); (b); (c); (d); (e); and (f).

12. Appendix 5 (b) (8) is amended to read as follows:

(8) Heel of round (boneless). The heel of round may be separated from the hind shank; however, it shall not include the front muscle of the shin bone and it must be entirely boneless. (See bone structure chart, Appendix 6.) This cut may be sold prediced.

13. Appendix 5 (j) (8) is amended to read as follows:

(8) Neck (boneless). The boneless neck is the meat remaining after all the bone, cartilage, fat, tendon, gristle, and throat trimmings have been removed from the neck. (See paragraph (j) (7).) This cut may be sold prediced.

14. Appendix 5 is further amended by deleting paragraph (m).

15. Appendix 8 (s) is amended to read as follows:

(s) Tongues, short cut, cured and/or smoked, means tongues as defined in Appendix 8 (n), which have been cured in accordance with good commercial practice and whose cured weights do not exceed the green weight by more than 15 percent. The weight of the smoked tongue may not exceed the green weight of the tongue. The hinge (hyoid) bones shall be cut off at the point where they protrude from the skin surface of the tongue.

16. Appendix 8 (t) is amended to read as follows:

(t) Dried beef. Dried beef means cured insides, outsides, or knuckles of the beef ham, which have been sliced and have had the moisture content reduced so that the resulting weight is not in excess of 65 percent of the green weight. Dried beef may be sold in bulk form or in one-quarter pound cellophane or similar packages.

17. The first paragraph of Appendix 9 is amended to read as follows:

Appendix 9—Specialty Product, Prefabricated, Quick Frozen and Packaged.

When used in this regulation, the term specialty product, prefabricated, quick frozen, and packaged means and is limited to any of the following products. The product must be thoroughly frozen at quick freezing temperatures and packaged in a sealed moisture proof container of distinctive appearance bearing the name of the product, i. e., both the trade name, if any, and the name of the product as designated in this regulation, the net weight of the meat, the name and the address of the processor, and a space wherein the selling price per pound and the selling price per package is clearly marked. This definition is limited to the following:

18. Appendix 9 (a), Wafer Steaks, is amended to read as follows:

(a) Wafer steak means a beef product made from any grade of boneless beef derived from the skeletal portion of the beef carcass, from which all sinews and excess fat have been removed so that it does not contain more than ten percent of trimmable fat; which has been placed in molds or in casings, without being ground at any stage of the manufacturing process; which has been thoroughly frozen at quick freezing temperatures; and which has been sliced to a degree of thinness so that no slice weighs more than one ounce and no individual steak contains less than two slices. Each wafer steak must be separately wrapped or separated by a parchment or waxed paper.

19. Appendix 9 is further amended by adding two new items, (f) and (g), to read as follows:

(f) Dinner steak means a product produced from rounds, loins, and/or ribs of any grade, from which all flank, sinews, cartilage, back strap, and excess fat have been removed so that the trimmable fat left on the steak does not exceed ten percent of the weight of the steak, and which has not been ground at any stage of the manufacturing process.

(g) Flake steak means a product prepared from unground boneless beef which has been thoroughly frozen at quick freezing temperatures, which has been flaked and molded into individual steaks; which does not have a fat content of more than 15 percent by chemical analysis; and which is packaged in the same manner as wafer steaks.

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective December 22, 1952.

NOTE: The record-keeping and reporting provisions of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

CPR 34—SERVICES

SR 20—POWER LAUNDRIES IN THE CITY OF ST. LOUIS, MISSOURI

DRY CLEANING SERVICES OF POWER LAUNDRIES IN THE CITY OF ST. LOUIS, MISSOURI

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 as amended, Executive Order 10161 and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 this Amendment 1 to Supplementary Regulation 20 to Ceiling Price Regulation 34 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This Amendment 1 to Supplementary Regulation 20 permits an increase in ceiling prices for dry cleaning services supplied by power laundries situated in the City of St. Louis, Missouri. Supplementary Regulation 20 effective June 23, 1952 permitted power laundries in the City of St. Louis to increase their ceiling charges for power laundry services by 7 percent. Excluded from the application of such increase were the diaper supply, linen supply and dry cleaning services of such power laundries. This Amendment 1 removes the limitation of the application of Supplementary Regulation 20 only as to dry cleaning services supplied by power laundries. The ceiling prices of diaper supply and linen supply services of such power laundries are not affected by this amendment. Such services shall continue to be priced under the pricing provisions of Ceiling Price Regulation 34.

When the power laundries in this area submitted their financial data which was the basis for the limited relief granted by Supplementary Regulation 20, such financial data covered their total operations. Their request for ceiling price increases covered both laundry and dry cleaning services. At the time of the issuance of Supplementary Regulation 20 it was determined that hardship resulting from dry cleaning price ceilings could be relieved by individual adjustment under section 20 (a) of Ceiling Price Regulation 34, as amended. Upon reexamination of this decision at the request of the power laundries it was decided that a uniform increase would relieve the hardship still existing and substantially reduce the administrative burden to OPS which is occasioned in the processing, and issuing of individual adjustment orders.

The same considerations that governed the action taken in Supplementary Regulation 20 exist in connection with the granting of relief by way of this amendment.

This amendment only affects the coverage of Supplementary Regulation 20 and does not make any changes in the amount of permitted increase or the methods by which the increase granted by this amendment is to be effected. The pricing technique of Supplementary Regulation 20 remains the same. However, a definition of "dry cleaning services" has been added.

The uniform increase granted by this amendment has been determined in accordance with the standards for individual adjustments under Section 20 of CPR 34 and is the minimum necessary to maintain the financial stability of these laundries and to assure a continued supply of dry cleaning services.

In the formulation of this amendment there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives to the extent practicable, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Supplementary Regulation 20 to Ceiling Price Regulation 34 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1 is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 1. Purpose. This supplementary regulation permits power laundries whose plants are located in the City of St. Louis, Missouri, to increase their ceiling prices for power laundry services and dry cleaning services by 7 percent. This Supplementary Regulation does not apply to diaper supply and linen supply services of power laundries.

2. The first paragraph of section 3 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 3. Adjustment of ceiling prices. If you are a power laundry, you may increase by 7 percent your ceiling prices for dry cleaning and power laundry services, except for diaper supply and linen supply services, rendered from plants located in the City of St. Louis, Missouri. You may put such increase into effect by either of the following methods:

3. The first sentence of paragraph (b) of section 3 is amended to read as follows:

(b) You may, in lieu of the method provided in paragraph (a) of this section, increase by 7 percent the ceiling prices of each power laundry service article and dry cleaning services article, except a diaper supply and linen supply services article.

4. Paragraph (a) of section 4 is amended to read as follows:

(a) A seller subject to this supplementary regulation may not, after the effective date of this supplementary regulation, apply for an adjustment of any of his ceiling prices for power laundry services and dry cleaning services, except diaper supply and linen supply services under section 20 of Ceiling Price Regulation 34, as amended.

5. Paragraph (b) of section 4 is amended to read as follows:

(b) The adjustment of ceiling prices granted by section 3 of this supplementary regulation shall be the maximum adjustment permitted any such supplier of power laundry services and dry cleaning services, in lieu of, and irrespective of, any adjustment heretofore granted any such supplier under the provisions of Ceiling Price Regulation 34, as amended. Any order adjusting the ceiling prices of any such supplier's power laundry services and dry cleaning services, except diaper supply and linen supply services, under section 20 of Ceiling Price Regulation 34, as amended, is hereby revoked as of the effective date of this supplementary regulation.

6. A new paragraph (b) is added to section 5 to read as follows:

(b) "Dry Cleaning Services" as used in this Amendment 1 to Supplementary Regulation 20 to Ceiling Price Regulation 34, means services rendered in the cleaning of garments and other items primarily with fluids other than water, and shall include pressing the garment or item.

(Sec. 704, 64 Stat. 816, as amended; 50 U. S. C. App. Supp. 2154)

Effective date. This Amendment 1 to Supplementary Regulation 20 to Ceiling Price Regulation 34 is effective December 20, 1952.

CPR 63—LUBRICATING OILS, GREASES, WAXES AND CERTAIN OTHER PETROLEUM PRODUCTS

TERRITORIES AND POSSESSIONS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161, and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2, this amendment to Ceiling Price Regulation 63 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment excepts from the coverage of Ceiling Price Regulation 63 sales of lubricating oils, greases, waxes and certain other petroleum products which have been imported into the territories and possessions of the United States. This action places the sales of these petroleum products in the territories and possessions under the provisions of Ceiling Price Regulation 9.

Ceiling Price Regulation 9 was first effective March 7, 1951. It is tailored to the needs and problems of the stabilization program in the sale in the territories and possessions of commodities imported into them. It covered the petroleum products dealt with here until Ceiling Price Regulation 63 became effective on August 13, 1951. Experience with the operation of Ceiling Price Regulation 63 on sales in the territories and possessions since then has shown that the considerations stated as the basis for the issuance of Ceiling Price Regulation 9 are fully present with respect to the products covered by Ceiling Price Regulation 63, and that the fair and effective administration of price control over them in the territories and possessions will be aided by removing them from Ceiling Price Regulation 63 and restoring them to Ceiling Price Regulation 9.

The Director of Price Stabilization has consulted with trade association representatives and members of the industry affected by this amendment and consideration has been given to the information and suggestions received from them.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Section 4 of Ceiling Price Regulation 63 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 4. Sales of products imported into the territories and possessions. This regulation does not cover sales of products imported into the territories and possessions of the United States, whether made by resellers or by refiners, blenders and compounders performing the function of reseller.

(Sec. 704, 64 Stat. 816, as amended; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 2154)

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective December 20, 1952.

CPR 66—ASPHALT AND ASPHALT PRODUCTS

TERRITORIES AND POSSESSIONS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161, and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2, this amendment to Ceiling Price Regulation 66 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment excepts from the coverage of Ceiling Price Regulation 66 sales of asphalt and asphalt products which have been imported into the territories and possessions of the United States. This action places the sales of these petroleum products in the territories and possessions under the provisions of Ceiling Price Regulation 9.

Ceiling Price Regulation 9 was first effective March 7, 1951. It is tailored to the needs and problems of the stabilization program in the sale in the territories and possessions of commodities imported into them. It covered the petroleum products dealt with here until Ceiling Price Regulation 66 became effective on July 30, 1951. Experience with the operation of Ceiling Price Regulation 66 on sales in the territories and possessions since then has shown that the considerations stated as the basis for the issuance of Ceiling Price Regulation 9 are fully present with respect to the products covered by Ceiling Price Regulation 66, and that the fair and effective administration of price control over them in the territories and possessions will be aided by removing them from Ceiling Price Regulation 66 and restoring them to Ceiling Price Regulation 9.

The Director of Price Stabilization has consulted with trade association representatives and members of the industry affected by this amendment and consideration has been given to the information and suggestions received from them.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Section 2 of Ceiling Price Regulation 66 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 2. Sales of products imported into the territories and possessions. This regulation does not cover sales of products imported into the territories and possessions of the United States, whether made by resellers or by refiners, blenders and compounders performing the function of reseller.

(Sec. 704, 64 Stat. 816, as amended; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 2154)

CPR 73—FOOD PRODUCTS SOLD IN THE VIRGIN ISLANDS

CEILING PRICES FOR FROZEN BEEF, PORK, AND MUTTON AT RETAIL

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161, and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2, this Amendment 3 to Ceiling Price Regulation 73 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 73 establishes specific dollar and cent ceiling prices for the sale at wholesale and at retail of locally produced, uninspected beef, beef by-products, veal, sheep mutton, goat mutton, and pork, in the Virgin Islands. Prices on certain cuts of frozen beef and all cuts of frozen pork were omitted from the regulation as originally issued because those particular cuts of beef and all cuts of pork derived from locally produced, uninspected meat were sold as "fresh" cuts. All frozen pork sold in the Virgin Islands originates in the continental United States. Retail meat dealers now desire to sell these cuts of meat frozen.

In amending CPR 73 to provide ceiling prices for specific cuts of frozen beef and frozen pork, it was necessary to make certain adjustments in the ceiling prices of frozen mutton which were established in section 3.2 of the regulation and to revise the posting requirements for retail sellers.

Dollar and cent ceiling prices are established for locally produced, uninspected, frozen beef roasts, clear or plain meat and fillet, and the ceiling prices for these cuts are added to the table in section 3.1 (b). Section 3.3 has been amended to include dollar and cent ceiling prices for frozen pork cuts which hitherto have been sold only as fresh meat.

When CPR 73 was written, the ceiling price on all cuts of frozen goat and sheep mutton sold at retail in the Municipality of St. Thomas and St. John was established at the same level—47 cents. As a result, inequities have existed between the price relationship of frozen and unfrozen cuts of mutton. This amendment revises section 3.2, Article 3 of the regulation, by establishing ceiling prices for each cut of frozen mutton. This permits specific differentials between the better and inferior cuts of meat and eliminates the discrepancies between the ceiling prices of fresh and frozen cuts. The change in pricing method results in an increase of three cents in the ceiling price of leg cuts and chops but a decrease of from two to four cents in the ceiling prices of inferior cuts.

Retail ceiling prices for sales in the Municipality of St. Croix continue to reflect the traditional practice of selling all cuts and classes of sheep mutton at one price which is higher than the single price established for all cuts and classes of goat mutton in accordance with the established practice of the Island.

The ceiling prices established for cuts of frozen beef, frozen pork, and frozen goat and sheep mutton reflect the actual cost of freezing, as determined by a study conducted by the Territorial Office. They do not permit any additional retail markups over and above those allowed in CPR 73 for unfrozen cuts. The cost of freezing includes (1) cost of freezing carcass, (2) cutting, (3) shrinkage, and (4) trimming. The allowance for cutting up the carcass does not represent a duplication of costs of cutting fresh carcasses since fresh carcasses are purchased and cut up without charge by the retail butchers.

Several changes in posting requirements have been made in accordance with the OPS policy of broadening consumer participation in the program of price stabilization and simplifying procedures incumbent upon the retailers. This amendment makes mandatory the use of official OPS Ceiling Price Posters upon which are listed the various retail cuts of meat together with the prevailing ceiling prices. To accomplish this, a new section has been incorporated into Article 3 of CPR 73; section 1.4 (b) no longer applies to meat cuts under Article 3. The prices on the posters are those established for retail sellers by section 3.1 (b), section 3.2 (b) (1) and (2), and section 3.3 (b) (1) and (2) of CPR 73, as amended.

In the opinion of the Director, these posters will (1) greatly simplify the responsibilities of the retailers in complying with the posting requirements of the regulation, and (2) permit fuller participation in the stabilization program by the consumers by providing a uniform method of displaying ceiling prices in retail stores.

Prices of retail cuts of beef and veal, pork and mutton which originate in the continental United States remain under Ceiling Price Regulation 9, Revision 1, and are in no way affected by this amendment.

In the formulation of the pricing provisions of this amendment, there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration was given to their recommendations. Because of the nature of the changes made in the posting requirements, and the fact no new burdens are imposed on the sellers affected, formal consultation with the industry has been impracticable.

In the judgment of the Director, the provisions of this regulation are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 73 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 3.1 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Ceiling prices. Ceiling prices for the sale at retail and at wholesale of beef, veal, and beef by-products, not inspected by U. S. Government Inspectors, and produced in the Virgin Islands of the United States are established as follows:

4. Article 3 is amended by adding the following new section 3.4:

SEC. 3.4 Posting. Every person offering to sell at retail the commodities for which ceiling prices are established in sections 3.1, 3.2, and 3.3, shall plainly mark the selling price and name of the commodity on either the commodity itself, or on the tray or shelf on which it is displayed. In addition, you must, not later than seven days after you receive an official OPS poster, post such official poster in a prominent place in your establishment near the meat counter where it can easily be seen and read by your customers. In the event you do not receive an official poster, you must, not later than January 2, 1953, obtain an official poster from your OPS Territorial Office, and post your ceiling prices in accordance with this section. If a poster is mutilated or becomes badly soiled or otherwise damaged, it must be replaced by a new one which may be obtained from the OPS Territorial Office. Erasures or changes in ceiling prices listed on your poster are prohibited unless authorized by the OPS. The provisions of section 1.4 (b) do not apply to sales of commodities covered by Article 3.

Effective date. This Amendment 3 to Ceiling Price Regulation 73 is effective December 22, 1952.

NOTE: The posting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 119, Amdt. 3]

CPR 119 — MECHANICAL PRECISION SPRINGS, METAL STAMPINGS AND SCREW MACHINE PRODUCTS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161, and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2, this Amendment 3 to Ceiling Price Regulation 119 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 119 established manufacturers' ceiling prices for mechanical precision springs, metal stampings, and screw machine products when produced from materials owned by the manufacturer. This amendment adds to the coverage of the regulation those manufacturing services supplied in connection with the production of mechanical precision springs, metal stampings, and screw machine products from materials owned, in whole or in part, by the customer when such services are performed by a person who is a manufacturer as defined in section 17 (d) of this regulation. If, however, a person merely supplies manufacturing services but is not a manufacturer within the meaning of this regulation he will continue to price such services under the General Ceiling Price Regulation. This amendment also exempts from the coverage of CPR 119 any manufacturer whose gross sales of commodities and manufacturing services do not exceed $25,000 during certain specified periods. It also makes several changes which clarify, define and limit the coverage of this regulation.

Under the regulation, as now amended, manufacturers who produce commodities from either their own or both their own and their customers' materials may determine their ceiling prices under the same regulation. However, if a manufacturer elects to use the regulation he must elect to do so for both his manufactured commodities and manufacturing services. Previously, those who produced commodities from customers' materials have determined their ceiling prices for such manufacturing services under the General Ceiling Price Regulation. Frequently, it is not known at the time of making estimates on a job whether the manufacturer or the customer will furnish the materials, and it is particularly desirable that these manufacturers determine prices for both types of orders under the same regulation.

Since this amendment adds manufacturing services to the coverage of the regulation the amendment also provides that a manufacturer who elected to be covered by the regulation prior to the effective date of this amendment may reexamine his election in the light of this added coverage. Since this amendment provides that a manufacturer in making his election to be covered by the regulation must elect to do so for both his manufactured commodities and manufacturing services, it is manifestly just that a manufacturer may review his election with this added coverage in view.

This amendment also provides that the small order exemption does not apply to the sale of manufacturing services. This exemption was established on the basis of normal orders including materials cost, and no determination has been made of any appropriate small order exemption where materials cost is excluded from the value of the order.

This amendment also exempts small manufacturers of mechanical precision springs, metal stampings, and screw machine products from the coverage of CPR 119. Any manufacturer whose gross sales of commodities manufactured and manufacturing services supplied by him did not exceed $25,000 in his last complete fiscal year prior to July 1, 1952, for all manufacturing and manufacturing service units under his ownership and control is exempted. The exemption is also extended to any new manufacturer who has not completed a fiscal year but who expects his gross sales during his first complete fiscal year not to exceed $25,000 for all manufacturing and manufacturing service units under his ownership and control. In any event, the exemption ceases if sales reach $25,000 during the seller's first complete fiscal year ending after July 1, 1952. The reasons for this action are essentially the same as those contained in the statement of considerations to Amendment 33 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation. This amendment, of itself, would only exempt affected manufacturers from the coverage of CPR 119. However, Amendment 33 to the GCPR similarly exempts manufacturers covered by the GCPR. Therefore, this amendment in conjunction with Amendment 33 to the GCPR exempts these manufacturers from all price control at this time.

Further, in order to avoid possible misunderstanding as to the type of manufacturer covered by this regulation, the definition of "manufacturer" is amended. Section 1 of the regulation limits the coverage of this regulation to the sale of mechanical precision springs, metal stampings, and screw machine products which are made in accordance with the purchaser's specifications. The amended definition of manufacturer makes it clear that the regulation only covers sales by the actual producer of the specified commodities.

Furthermore, since some confusion has arisen from the definition of "screw machine product" this amendment also clarifies the definition of "screw machine product."

It has come to the attention of the Office of Price Stabilization that certain "end-use" consumer items have been construed to be covered by this regulation. In order to clarify the coverage in this respect, an appendix listing specific exclusions is added by this amendment.

In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization, the provisions of this ceiling price regulation are generally fair and equitable to buyers and sellers alike, and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended.

So far as practicable, the Director has given due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in furtherance of the objectives of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, and to relevant facts of general applicability. In the judgment of the Director, the provisions of this amendment comply with all the requirements with respect to the establishment of ceiling prices set forth in the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended.

In formulating this amendment, the Director consulted with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, to the extent practicable under existing conditions, and has given full consideration to their recommendations.

The provisions of this amendment and their effect upon business practices, cost practices, or means or aids to distribution in the industry have been considered. It is believed that no changes in such practices or methods have been effected. To the extent, however, that the provisions of this amendment may compel changes in such practices or methods, such provisions are necessary to prevent circumvention or evasion of the regulation and to effectuate the policies of the act.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

CPR 119 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1 (a) is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 1. Sales and sellers covered by this regulation. (a) Applicability. This regulation applies to you if you are a manufacturer located in the United States, the District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii, or Puerto Rico. It applies to your sales of mechanical precision springs, metal stampings, and screw machine products which you manufacture from your own materials in accordance with a purchaser's specifications. It also applies to the manufacturing services which you supply in connection with the production of mechanical precision springs, metal stampings, and screw machine products from materials owned in whole, or in part, by others. This regulation does not apply to you if you merely supply manufacturing services and are not a manufacturer as defined in section 17 (d). Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, this regulation supersedes any ceiling price regulation previously issued by the Office of Price Stabilization, insofar as transactions covered by this regulation are concerned. The terms "manufacturer," "manufacturing service," "mechanical precision springs," "metal stampings," and "screw machine products" are defined in section 17 (definitions).

* * * * *

2. Paragraph (b) (3) of section 1 is amended to read as follows:

(3) Notwithstanding any prior election, you may at any time elect to determine your ceiling prices under the provisions of this regulation. You make this election by filing OPS Form 129. If you elect to use this regulation, you must use it for all your commodities and manufacturing services covered by this regulation. In the case of an election made subsequent to December 19, 1952, you must use this regulation for all your commodities and manufacturing services covered by it, at the time of election. However, where you elected prior to December 20, 1952, to come under this regulation for your commodities you must determine your ceiling prices for your manufacturing services under this regulation by February 1, 1953, unless you comply with subparagraph (4) of paragraph (b) of this section.

3. A new paragraph (b) (4) is added to section 1 to read as follows:

(4) If you elected to come under this regulation prior to December 20, 1952, you may revoke this election if you notify the Industrial Materials and Manufactured Goods Division, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., by registered mail, return receipt requested, prior to February 1, 1953. Upon such revocation you will determine the ceiling prices of your commodities covered by this regulation pursuant to Ceiling Price Regulation 30, and the ceiling prices for your manufacturing services covered by this regulation pursuant to the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

4. Section 2 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 2. Exemptions. This section provides for both a general and small order exemption. Paragraph (a) provides for the general exemption while paragraph (b) provides for the small order exemption.

(a) General exemption. (1) This regulation does not apply to sales or deliveries of commodities manufactured or produced and manufacturing services supplied by a seller whose gross sales of such commodities and services did not exceed $25,000 in his last complete fical year prior to July 1, 1952 for all manufacturing and manufacturing services units under his ownership and control.

(2) This regulation does not apply to sales or deliveries of commodities manufactured or produced and manufacturing services supplied by a seller who did not complete a fiscal year prior to July 1, 1952 whose gross sales of such commodities and services are not expected to exceed $25,000 in his first complete fiscal year for all manufacturing and manufacturing services units under his ownership and control.

(3) In the event that the gross sales for all manufacturing and manufacturing services units under the ownership and control of a seller exempt under the preceding subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph reach $25,000 during the seller's first fiscal year ending after July 1, 1952, the exemption under this paragraph ceases.

(4) If your sales or deliveries of commodities manufactured or produced and manufacturing services are exempt from the provisions of this regulation, you must nevertheless maintain and keep for inspection by the OPS for the period specified the records you were required by this regulation to have on December 19, 1952.

(b) Small order exemption. If you are not exempt under paragraph (a) of this section but your net sales price for any particular sale is less than the amount set forth below, that sale is not subject to the provisions of this regulation, or any other regulation previously issued by the Office of Price Stabilization, if you file the report required by subparagraph (3) of this paragraph. (This exemption does not apply to the sale of your manufacturing services. It applies only to the sale of products you manufacture from materials owned by you.)

Mechanical precision springs	$200.00
Metal stampings	500.00
Screw machine products	400.00

(1) Limitations. You may select any three consecutive months during the period February 1, 1950, through January 31, 1951, as a basis for determining the limit of your exemptions under this paragraph (b). If, after the effective date of this regulation, the total amount which you charge during any calendar quarter for exempted sales equals the highest total amount which you charged for such sales in the three consecutive months which you have selected, the exemptions set forth in this section shall not apply to any of your subsequent sales during the calendar quarter involved.

(2) If you are unable to select a three consecutive month period under this section because you were not in business for three months during the period February 1, 1950, through January 31, 1951, the total amount of exempted sales during any calendar quarter may not exceed the total amount of such sales during your first three months in business. At the expiration of your first year in business, you may, for the purposes of the exemptions permitted by this paragraph, choose any other three consecutive months during your first year of operations provided you notify the Industrial Materials and Manufactured Goods Division, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., in writing, of your selected period, and your total dollar value of sales exempted by this paragraph for that period.

(3) Reports. The exemptions set forth in this paragraph (b) shall not be applicable to you until you file with the Industrial Materials and Manufactured Goods Division, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a report by registered mail. This report may be filed on OPS Form 129, which may be obtained from your nearest OPS office. This report shall contain the following information:

(i) The three consecutive months in the period February 1, 1950, through January 31, 1951, in which you had the highest total dollar amount of sales exempted by this paragraph (b). If you were not in business for three consecutive months during that period, your first three months in business.

(ii) Your total dollar value of sales exempted by this paragraph (b) for the three consecutive months which you have selected.

5. Section 3 is amended in the following respects:

a. Paragraph (a) of section 3 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 3. Ceiling prices—(a) Commodities and manufacturing services for which you have previous production experience. In the case of a commodity which you have manufactured, or a manufacturing service which you have supplied, one or more times during the period from July 1, 1951, to the effective date of this regulation, you determine your ceiling price in accordance with the provisions of this section on the basis of your previous production experience for that commodity or manufacturing service. The resulting ceiling price is applicable to all of your subsequent sales of the same commodity or manufacturing service to a purchaser of the same class. Your ceiling price for other classes of purchasers is determined by adjusting this ceiling price to reflect the differential which you had in effect in the period January 1, 1950, through June 24, 1950, between the different classes of purchasers as shown by your written records. If you had no differential between different classes of purchasers in effect in that period, as shown by your written records, you must determine your ceiling price under section 4. The terms "class of purchaser" and "purchaser of the same class" are defined in section 17 (Definitions).

b. Paragraph (b) of section 3 is amended to read as follows:

(b) Commodities and manufacturing services for which you do not have pre- vious production experience; trial run.

e. Paragraph (d) (3) of section 3 is the material or service had you pur-manufacturing service under any other and the price determining methods used

vious production experience—trial run. Where you have not previously manufactured a commodity or supplied a manufacturing service during the period from July 1, 1951, to the effective date of this regulation, you determine your ceiling price, in accordance with the provisions of this section, on the basis of your previous production experience for the most comparable commodity or manufacuring service. Upon the second sale of the commodity or manufacturing service being priced you recompute your ceiling price on the basis of your production experience for the first sale. The ceiling price for your second sale is applicable to all of your subsequent sales of the same commodity or manufacturing service to a purchaser of the same class. Your ceiling price for other classes of purchasers is determined by adjusting this ceiling price to reflect the differential which you had in effect in the period from January 1, 1950, through June 24, 1950, between the different classes of purchasers as shown by your written records. If you had no differential between different classes of purchasers in effect in this period, as shown by your written records, you must determine your ceiling price under section 4.

c. Paragraph (c) of section 3 is amended to read as follows:

(c) Price determining method. You determine your ceiling price by using the method of determining price by relation to costs which your written records show you had in effect in the period from January 1, 1950, through June 24, 1950, for determining the prices of commodities or manufacturing services of the same or similar type. This means that you must use the overhead rates, rates for general administrative and selling expenses, profit markup, discounts and allowances, and any other bases of computing price by relation to cost that were in use in your plant in the period from January 1, 1950, through June 24, 1950, with respect to the commodity or manufacturing service being priced. If you use machine hour rates to determine your prices, you may recompute your machine hour rates by using labor rates in effect in your plant on March 15, 1951. You must apply this price determining method in accordance with the provisions of paragraphs (d) through (j) of this section using March 15, 1951 costs.

d. Paragraph (d) (2) of section 3 is amended to read as follows:

(2) Labor rates. In determining allowable direct labor costs you use the rate in your plant for each classification of labor in effect on March 15, 1951. If you require the use of labor of a classification not employed by you in your plant on March 15, 1951, you use as the rate for that classification of labor the rate in effect on March 15, 1951, in the locality in which the manufacturing or manufacturing service is to be performed. If labor of that classification was not employed in that locality on March 15, 1951, you use the rate in effect on March 15, 1951, in the most comparable locality as accurately as you are able to determine that rate.

e. Paragraph (d) (3) of section 3 is amended to read as follows:

(3) Overtime and shift premium. (i) In calculating a ceiling price computed by formula, you use as elements of the formula only straight-time labor rates. After you have calculated a ceiling price in this way, you may add an amount for overtime or shift premium if such will be required to produce the commodity or supply the manufacturing service. If you cannot determine the amount of overtime or shift premium cost for each commodity or manufacturing service, you may allocate your overtime or shift premium over your production by using the same method which you used in the period from January 1, 1950, through June 24, 1950, as shown by your written records.

(ii) The amount to be added for overtime or shift premium is determined by multiplying the estimated number of overtime or shift premium hours which you expect will be required to produce the commodity or supply the manufacturing service by the overtime or shift premium rate in your plant, for each classification of labor that was in effect on March 15, 1951. If you require the use of labor of a classification not employed by you in your plant on March 15, 1951, you use the overtime or shift premium rate for that clasification of labor in effect on March 15, 1951, in the locality in which the manufacturing or manufacturing service is to be performed. If labor of that classification was not employed in that locality on March 15, 1951, you use the overtime and shift premium rate in effect on March 15, 1951, in the most comparable locality, as accurately as you are able to determine that rate.

f. Paragraph (e) of section 3 is amended to read as follows:

(e) Materials costs. You determine the allowable cost of any purchased raw materials, processed and fabricated materials, and parts or subassemblies as follows: Multiply your March 15, 1951, cost for each material, part or subassembly, not in excess of the applicable ceiling price, by the estimated quantity of that material, part or subassembly. You base your estimate of the quantity of the material, part or subassembly which is to be used in the production of the commodity or in the supplying of the manufacturing service upon your previous production experience.

g. Paragraph (h) (8) of section 3 is amended to read as follows:

(8) If none of the foregoing is available to you, you must apply to the Industrial Materials and Manufactured Goods Division, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., for a determination of your March 15, 1951, costs for use in your calculations. Your report must be sent by registered mail and must refer specifically to this subparagraph. You must name the product line or category in which the commodity or manufacturing service being priced falls and the commodity or service whose cost you wish to determine; you must propose a cost you consider appropriate based on what you would have paid for the material or service had you purchased it on March 15, 1951; and you must set forth in detail your supporting reasons and why this subparagraph is applicable. Although you need not await a reply from the Director of Price Stabilization before using the cost you propose, he may at any time disapprove the cost you propose, stipulate the cost which he will approve, or request additional information.

h. Paragraph (j) of section 3 is amended to read as follows:

(j) Purchaser's allowance for scrap or waste. Where your January 1, 1950 through June 24, 1950 price determining method included an allowance to the purchaser for scrap or waste generated during the manufacturing process, or in connection with the performance of a manufacturing service, you will determine the allowance for scrap or waste generated during the manufacturing process in accordance with subparagraph (1) and the allowance for scrap or waste generated in the performance of the manufacturing service in accordance with subparagraph (2).

(1) Where you included an allowance to the purchaser for scrap or waste generated during the manufacturing process, you will determine this allowance as follows:

(i) If, during the period January 1, 1950 through June 24, 1950, you determined the amount of this allowance by the current market price, you multiply the estimated quantity of scrap or waste by its market price in effect on March 15, 1951.

(ii) If, during the period January 1, 1950, through June 24, 1950, you determined the amount of this allowance by a percentage of the current market price, you first multiply the market price in effect on March 15, 1951, for the scrap or waste by the percentage of the market price you were using in the period January 1, 1950, through June 24, 1950, and then multiply the result by the estimated quantity of scrap or waste.

(2) Where you included an allowance to the purchaser for scrap or waste generated in connection with the performance of a manufacturing service, you will determine this allowance as follows:

(i) If, during the period January 1, 1950 through June 24, 1950, you determined the amount of this allowance by the current market price you multiply the estimated quantity of scrap or waste by its current market price.

(ii) If, during the period January 1, 1950 through June 24, 1950, you determined the amount of this allowance by a percentage of the current market price, you first multiply the current market price for the scrap or waste by the percentage of the market price you were using in the period January 1, 1950, through June 24, 1950, and then multiply the result by the estimated quantity of scrap or waste.

6. Section 4 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 4. Ceiling prices—commodities and manufacturing services which cannot be priced under section 3. If you are unable to determine your ceiling price under section 3, your ceiling price is a price approved by the Director of Price Stabilization in line with ceiling prices established by this regulation. You may seek such approval either for specific prices or for a method of determining prices by relation to cost. If you seek approval of specific prices, you must file the report required by paragraph (a) of this section. If you seek approval of a method of determining prices by relation to costs, you must file the report required by paragraph (b) of this section. You must file the required report by registered mail, return receipt requested, with the Industrial Materials and Manufactured Goods Division, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., before you sell, offer to sell, or deliver a commodity or manufacturing service covered by this section.

After receipt of this report, the Director of Price Stabilization may approve the proposed ceiling price or price determining method, disapprove the proposed ceiling price or price determining method, establish by order a different ceiling price or price determining method, or request further information. If, thirty days after receipt of the required report by the Office of Price Stabilization as shown by your return postal receipt, none of the actions just listed has been taken, you may treat your proposed ceiling price or proposed price determining method as approved.

The ceiling price or price determining method established in the manner just set forth is applicable to all subsequent sales and deliveries. However, if the Director of Price Stabilization determines that this price or price determining method is not in line with the level of ceiling prices established by this regulation, he may disapprove that price or price determining method at any time. This disapproval will not be retroactive as to any deliveries made before the date of such disapproval.

(a) Report where you are proposing a specific ceiling price. Where you are proposing a specific ceiling price, your report must contain the following information: (This information may be filed on OPS Public Form No. 90 which may be obtained from your nearest Office of Price Stabilization District Office. If OPS Public Form No. 90 is used, indicate that the filing is being made under section 4 (a) of this regulation.)

(1) The name and address of your company.

(2) A description of the commodity or manufacturing service for which you seek a ceiling price. This description must include the type of commodity or manufacturing service, model and serial number, if any, and any other specifications commonly shown on invitations to bid for similar commodities or services.

(3) The category or categories in which the commodity or manufacturing service falls.

(4) The most comparable category or categories dealt in by you during the period March 15, 1951, to the effective date of this regulation.

(5) A statement of the reasons why you cannot price the commodity or manufacturing service under any other provisions of this regulation.

(6) A statement of your unit costs for the commodity or manufacturing service stating separately direct labor costs, direct materials cost, factory overhead, selling expenses, administrative expenses, any other cost factors, and profit markup. You must use March 15, 1951, costs wherever possible.

(7) A statement of your proposed prices to all classes of purchasers, together with applicable discounts and allowances to all classes of purchasers.

(8) The names, addresses, and types of business of your most closely competitive sellers of the same class; a statement of their ceiling prices for the most comparable commodity or manufacturing service and their differentials to each of their classes of purchasers; and your reasons for selecting them as your most closely competitive sellers.

(9) If you are starting a new business, you must include a statement as to whether you, or the principal owner of your business, are now, or have been during the past twelve months, engaged in any capacity in the same or similar business at any other establishment. If so, you must state the trade name and address of each such establishment.

7. Paragraph (d) of section 4 is amended to read as follows:

(d) GCPR ceiling prices. If you have established a ceiling price for a commodity or manufacturing service covered by this section under the General Ceiling Price Regulation, and if the Office of Price Stabilization has received the report (as shown by your return postal receipt) required by paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section, you may continue to use your ceiling price established by the General Ceiling Price Regulation until a ceiling price is established in accordance with the provisions of this section.

8. Section 6 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Transportation costs. You may not require any purchaser to pay a larger proportion of transportation costs incurred in the delivery or supply of any commodity, or in the supplying of a manufacturing service, than you last required a purchaser of the same class to pay during the period March 15, 1951 to the effective date of this regulation on deliveries or supplies of the same or similar types of commodities, or manufacturing services.

9. Section 11 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 11. Records—(a) Base upon which ceiling prices are determined. Every person who sells any commodity or manufacturing service covered by this regulation shall prepare and preserve for inspection by the Director of Price Stabilization for so long as the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, shall remain in effect, and two years thereafter, accurate records of the following:

(1) The prices at which you contracted to sell each commodity or manufacturing service during the period March 15, 1951, to the effective date of this regulation and the price determining methods used during this period.

(2) Price determining methods, overhead rates, selling and administrative rates and profit markups which you had in effect in the period January 1, 1950, through June 24, 1950.

(3) Detailed cost estimate sheets and other data showing your calculation of ceiling prices under this regulation.

(b) Current records. Every person who sells any commodity or manufacturing service covered by this regulation shall make and keep for inspection by the Director of Price Stabilization for a period of two years accurate records of each sale or purchase made after the effective date of this regulation. The records must show the date of the sale or purchase, the name and address of the seller and purchaser, and the price charged or paid, itemized by quantity, grade, model or type if the sale includes more than one of these. The records must indicate whether each commodity shipped pursuant to a sale of a manufactured commodity or pursuant to a sale of a manufacturing service is shipped f. o. b. shipping or basing point basis or on a delivered basis, and in the former case the shipping or basing point and transportation charges unless delivery is by common carrier. Records must also show all premiums, discounts and allowances.

10. Section 12 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 12. Reports. On or before April 1, 1952, or upon any subsequent election thereto in accordance with the provisions of section 1, you shall file by registered mail, return receipt requested, with the Industrial Materials and Manufactured Goods Division, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., within the time set out in section 1, all price determining methods which you had in effect in the period from January 1, 1950, through June 24, 1950, for determining the selling prices of commodities and manufacturing services covered by this regulation. This report shall include the following information for each price determining method: (This report may be filed on OPS Public Form 129, a copy of which may be obtained from your nearest Office of Price Stabilization District Office.)

(a) The types of commodities or manufacturing services to which it applies.

(b) The overhead rates, rates for general administrative and selling expenses, profit markup, discounts and allowances, and any other basis of computing price by relation to cost used in the price determining method.

11. Paragraph (b) (3) of section 15 is amended to read as follows:

(3) Requiring a purchaser to buy any commodity or service as the condition of the sale of a commodity or manufacturing service covered by this regulation.

12. Paragraph (d) of section 17 is amended to read as follows:

(d) Manufacturer. This term means any person who produces from materials owned by him and to the specifications of the purchaser a commodity covered by this regulation.

13. Paragraph (l) of section 17 is amended to read as follows:

(l) Screw machine product. This term refers to any component part upon which the manufacturing process is initiated on a hand operated or automatic screw machine. The manufacturer may also perform finishing, or secondary operations such as drilling, grinding, chamfering, heat treating, plating, etc.

14. A new paragraph (p) is added to section 17 to read as follows:

(p) Manufacturing service. This term means the production of commodities covered by this regulation to the purchasers' specifications from materials owned, in whole or in part, by the purchaser.

15. An Appendix A is added to read as follows:

APPENDIX A

The following commodities are not covered by this regulation.
Badges and ornaments.
Buttons and eyelets.
Cooking utensils.
Name plates and instruction plates.
Pen and pencil clips other than those to be incorporated in a pen or pencil.

(Sec. 704, 64 Stat. 816, as amended; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 2154)

Effective date. This amendment is effective December 20, 1952.

NOTE: The record-keeping and reporting requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 126, Amdt. 1]

CPR 126—CEILING PRICES FOR PACIFIC NORTHWEST DOUGLAS FIR AND PONDEROSA PINE POLES AND PILING

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161, and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2, this Amendment 1 to Ceiling Price Regulation 126 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

As issued, Ceiling Price Regulation 126 established ceiling prices for all sales of untreated and treated Pacific Northwest Douglas Fir and Ponderosa Pine poles, piling and related items. This amendment removes from the coverage of CPR 126 sales by resellers who traditionally buy and resell the items covered without substantial alteration in their form; it also makes it clear that CPR 126 no longer covers sales of items treated by a pressure process.

Section 402 (k) of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended (the so-called Herlong Amendment), provides in essence that no regulation shall be issued by the Office of Price Stabilization, or allowed to remain in effect, which denies to sellers of materials at retail or wholesale their customary margins over costs of the materials during the period May 24, 1950 to June 24, 1950, or on such other nearest representative date as shown by their records.

At the time CPR 126 was issued, it was believed by OPS that none of the items covered by this regulation is resold without substantial alteration in its form. However, since the issuance of CPR 126, OPS has ascertained that a small percentage of the items covered are customarily resold by wholesalers. Accordingly, in conformance with the provisions of section 402 (k), this action is taken. Ceiling prices for the resellers affected will hereafter be determined under the General Ceiling Price Regulation, SR 29 to the GCPR, or SR 87 to the GCPR.

Since the issuance of CPR 126, Ceiling Price Regulation 170 which superseded CPR 126 with respect to sales of items treated by pressure process, was issued by the Office of Price Stabilization. For this reason, in the interest of clarification, provisions of CPR 126 dealing with items treated by pressure process are herein deleted.

The character of this amendment made it impracticable to consult formally with industry representatives, although, wherever feasible, various representatives of industry were informally consulted and consideration was given to their recommendations.

In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization the provisions of this amendment are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 126 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) This regulation establishes dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for producer's sales of untreated Douglas Fir and Ponderosa Pine poles, piling, anchor logs, reinforcing stubs, and short round material produced in California, and in the portions of Oregon and Washington in and west of the Cascade Mountains. It also establishes ceiling prices for the sales of those items after they have been preservatively treated by a non-pressure process.

2. Section 11 (a) (1) is amended to read as follows:

(1) You shall determine your ceiling prices for preservatively non-pressure treated Douglas Fir and Ponderosa Pine poles, piling, anchor logs, reinforcing stubs, and short round material by taking your General Ceiling Price Regulation ceiling price for the treated item you are pricing and adjusting it to reflect the dollar and cent difference between the highest price at which you contracted to purchase the item in its untreated form during the period from January 25 through February 24, 1951, and the ceiling price established by this regulation for the identical untreated item.

3. Section 21 (a) (12) is amended to read as follows:

(12) You. The pronoun "you" indicates any person who produces, or treats by non-pressure preservative process, an item subject to this regulation. The terms "your" and "yours" shall be construed accordingly.

4. A new subparagraph, numbered (13), is added to section 21 (a) to read as follows:

(13) Producer. This term includes the original producer of an untreated item covered by this regulation as well as concentration and pole yards. A concentration or pole yard is an establishment which procures untreated poles, piling, anchor logs, reinforcing stubs, and short round material from original producers or other concentration yards, and prepares these items for commercial shipment by grading, sorting, peeling, trimming, cutting out defects, cutting to length, pointing, and scarfing.

Effective date. This Amendment 1 to Ceiling Price Regulation 126 is effective December 20, 1952.

[General Ceiling Price Regulation, Amdt. 8 to Supplementary Regulation 2, Revision 1]

GCPR, SR 2—RETAIL COAL DEALERS

ADJUSTED CEILING PRICES IN PORTLAND, MAINE, AREA

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161 and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2, this Amendment 8 to Supplementary Regulation 2, Revision 1, to the General Ceiling Price Regulation is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment to SR 2, Revision 1, to the General Ceiling Price Regulation permits the retail solid fuels dealers in the Portland, Maine, area as defined in the amendment, to increase their ceiling prices on anthracite, anthracite briquets and coke by $1.25 per net ton.

Available information indicates that the Portland dealers held down their coal prices in the pre-Korean period and the period immediately preceding the issuance of the GCPR, and that they were frozen with low prices in the base period. A comparison of ceiling prices on these products sold in the Portland area shows them to be considerably lower than in other comparable New England cities. There is a small number of dealers in the area, and the outlying districts are dependent on the Portland dealers for their supplies.

These dealers sell other products in addition to anthracite, anthracite briquets and coke. The volume of these latter products constitutes an important segment of their entire business, but has not returned full operating costs, although sales have been made at ceiling prices.

This adjustment is made following a study of earnings and other data submitted by a sample of the dealers covering their entire business. It reveals that the dealers in the Portland area have been operating at a loss on that part of their business relating to sales of anthracite, anthracite briquets and coke, principally because of the low gross margin at which they were frozen, added to increased labor and material costs. This amendment gives these dealers a price increase on those products which should permit them to break even on this phase of their business. Where the retail dealer situated in the "Portland area" delivers anthracite, anthracite briquets, and coke to points outside the "Portland area" he may, of course, continue to add the delivery charges which he has customarily added for such deliveries.

In the judgment of the Director of the Office of Price Stabilization, the provisions of this amendment are generally fair and equitable, and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended.

So far as practicable the Director of Price Stabilization gave due consideration to the National Defense effort to achieve the maximum production in the furtherance of the objectives of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended.

In formulating this amendment the Director has consulted with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and has given consideration to their recommendations.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Section 3 of Supplementary Regulation 2, Revision 1 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation, as amended, is further amended by adding a new paragraph (i) as follows:

(i) Each retail coal dealer located in the "Portland Area" which consists of the cities and towns of Portland, South Portland, Cape Elizabeth Falmouth, Scarborough and Westbrook, all in the state of Maine, may add $1.25 per net ton to the ceiling prices previously established under this supplementary regulation for each size and grade of anthracite, anthracite briquets and coke sold by such dealer.

CPR 158—CALIFORNIA REDWOOD LUMBER

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161, and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2, this Amendment 1 to Ceiling Price Regulation 158 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment to Ceiling Price Regulation 158 changes the citation of the California Redwood Association standard grading rules for lumber in section 45, in order to include the latest revisions made by the California Redwood Association. It also changes the wording of the note regarding the permitted addition for "Foundation" grade because of changes in the specifications of this grade which appears in the revised grading rules.

In order to conform to customary industry practice, this amendment requires transportation additions on delivered sales to be rounded to the nearest quarter dollar per 1,000 feet board measure or other measure, as applicable. This method of computation is standard in the industry, and the failure of the regulation to permit its continuance has caused inconvenience to lumber producers whose prices and pricing methods are so governed. Since the change hereby effected only requires the addition or deduction of odd cents to arrive at the nearest quarter dollar, this amendment makes no change in the level of ceiling prices already established by the regulation.

The amendment provides a differential for Moulded Sill which will enable producers to determine their ceiling prices for this item in all the various grades and sizes in which it is produced.

The amendment provides ceiling prices and established weights for dry Common Shims, together with required deductions for excess short lengths and lengths shorter than 10 feet. These differentials for dry items and for short lengths are the same as the differentials established elsewhere in the regulation for similar items.

To conform to standard industry practice, this amendment provides a flat set-up charge on orders for pattern items involving 3,000 feet board measure or less. The permitted addition is identical to that allowed in other regulations for the same service.

In the formulation of this amendment, there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization, the provisions of this amendment are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 158 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 11 is amended by adding at the end of the first paragraph the following sentence: "The transportation addition must be rounded to the nearest quarter dollar per 1,000 feet board measure or other measure, whichever may be applicable", so that section 11 reads as follows:

SEC. 11. Delivered sales, general. This regulation permits you to sell your lumber on a delivered basis, as well as on an f. o. b. basis. On sales on a delivered basis, you may add to the f. o. b. ceiling price an appropriate transportation addition as explained in sections 12, 13, and 14. The transportation addition must be rounded to the nearest quarter dollar per 1,000 feet board measure or other measure, whichever may be applicable.

A sale "ceiling delivered" or "f. o. b. mill with freight paid, allowed, or included, to a given destination" will be considered, for the purpose of this regulation, a sale on a delivered basis.

2. Paragraph (a) of section 45 is amended by adding the words "revised, March 1952 and July 1952," following the words "effective August 1, 1951," so that paragraph (a) of section 45 reads as follows:

(a) Nomenclature. All grade terms, size terms, and pattern numbers appearing in this section refer to, and have the meanings given in, either "Standard Specifications for Grades of California Redwood Lumber" published by the California Redwood Association, effective August 1, 1951, revised, March 1952 and July 1952; or "Standard Patterns of Worked Redwood Lumber, Pattern Book 738", published by the California Redwood Association, issued May, 1938 and revised May, 1941; or "Standard Patterns of Worked Redwood Lumber, Pattern Book 948", published and adopted by the California Redwood Association on September 21, 1948.

3. The following language is added to note 4, entitled "Working (when not otherwise provided)", of the notes applicable to Tables 1, 2, and 3 of section 45:

(g) Moulded Sill, add $12.00 per M to rough prices, size and grade specified.

4. The word "Select" is deleted from the third line of note 6, entitled "Additional Grades Not on Tables", of the notes applicable to Tables 1, 2, and 3 of section 45, and the word "Construction" inserted therefor so that the line reads as follows:

Foundation, add $10.00 to Construction Heart.

5. Three lines are added to the Notes applicable to Table 11 of section 45, which read as follows:

For dry, add $15.00 per M.
For lengths shorter than 10', deduct $6.00 per M.
For excess short lengths, deduct $6.00 per M.

6. The table of established weights applicable to Table 11 of section 45 is amended to read as follows:

containers, made principally of tin

the cost of metals covered by that regu-

Effective date. This amendment is

Dry Surfaced and Pattern	1,250	1,550	1,700
Dry Rough	1,300	1,750	1,900

7. A new note, 9, is added to the General Notes in Section 45, applicable to all basic ceiling prices, which reads as follows:

9. For an order of 3,000 feet board measure or less of a pattern item, you may add a flat set-up charge of $15.00 to the basic ceiling prices.

CPR 128—CEILING PRICES FOR PACIFIC NORTHWEST DOUGLAS FIR, TRUE FIR, AND WEST COAST HEMLOCK LUMBER

ROUNDING OUT DELIVERY CHARGES

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161, and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2, this Amendment 2 to Ceiling Price Regulation 128 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment to CPR 128 requires the rounding of transportation additions to the nearest quarter dollar per 1,000 feet board measure or other measure in computing delivered ceiling prices.

This method of computation is standard in the industry, and the failure of the regulation to permit its continuance was inadvertent. The amendment corrects this situation.

Since the change hereby effected only requires the addition or deduction of odd cents to arrive at the nearest quarter dollar, this amendment makes no change in the level of ceiling prices already established by the regulation.

In the formulation of this amendment, there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization, the provisions of this amendment are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

1. Section 11 (a) is amended by the addition of a new sentence at end thereof, so that section 11 (a) reads as follows:

(a) This regulation permits you to sell your lumber on a delivered basis, as well as on an f. o. b. basis. For sales on a delivered basis, you may add to the f. o. b. ceiling (or lower) price an appropriate transportation addition as explained in sections 12, 13, and 14. The transportation addition must be rounded to the nearest quarter dollar per 1,000 feet board measure or other measure, whichever may be applicable.

[General Ceiling Price Regulation, Supplementary Regulation 128]

GCPR, SR 128—ADJUSTED CEILING PRICES FOR MANUFACTURERS OF METAL CAPS AND HOME CANNING CLOSURES

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161, and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2, this Supplementary Regulation 128 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This supplementary regulation establishes adjusted ceiling prices for manufacturers of metal caps and metal home canning closures. The method provided is to apply a uniform adjustment factor of 7¾ percent to the General Ceiling Price Regulation (GCPR) ceiling prices of the industry.

At an Industry Advisory Committee meeting held on September 4, 1952, the Committee indicated that the level of earnings for this industry had fallen below the minimum prescribed by the "industry earnings standard." This standard provides that the level of ceiling prices for an industry shall normally be considered "fair and equitable" under the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, if the industry's dollar profits (computed before Federal income and excess profits taxes), amount to 85 percent of the average return on net worth for the industry's best three years during the period 1946–49, inclusive.

A survey was undertaken by OPS and financial data were obtained from nine of the 29 companies in the industry. The combined sales of these nine companies represent approximately 70 percent of total sales for the industry. Based upon this survey, the Director of Price Stabilization has determined that in order for the dollar profits of the industry to meet the industry earnings standard, and for ceiling prices therefore to be generally fair and equitable, ceiling prices for this industry would have to be established at 7¾ percent above their present level. In conducting this survey, and computing the appropriate adjustment, such operations performed by the manufacturer as lithographing, coloring, painting, coating and packaging the closures were taken into consideration. These so-called "extras" are covered by this regulation.

Also, in determining the 7¾ percent adjustment factor recognition was given, among other costs, to the increased cost of steel and aluminum incurred by the industry since the issuance of SR 100 and SR 113 to the GCPR on August 19, 1952, and increased costs of outbound transportation. For this reason, use of this regulation precludes metal cap and metal home canning closure manufacturers from applying the provisions of General Overriding Regulation 35, which permits manufacturers to pass-through such metals costs increases, and SR 122 to the GCPR, which permits adjustments to reflect increases in cost of outbound transportation. However, manufacturers covered by this supplementary regulation are relieved of the necessity of reporting to their purchasers the amount of the metals cost increase passthrough, as is required by GOR 35. An amendment to GOR 35 will inform purchasers of metal caps and home canning closures of the exact amount which they, in turn, may pass-through.

In the formulation of this supplementary regulation, there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

REGULATORY PROVISIONS

Sec.
1. What this supplementary regulation does.
2. Coverage.
3. Adjusted ceiling prices.
4. Use of GOR's 20, 21, and 35, and SR 122 to the GCPR.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 4 issued under sec. 704, 64 Stat. 816, as amended; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 2154. Interpret or apply Title IV, 64 Stat. 805, as amended; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 2101–2110, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6104; 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.

SECTION 1. What this supplementary regulation does. This supplementary regulation establishes adjusted ceiling prices for sales by manufacturers of metal caps and metal home canning closures, as defined in section 2. Such manufacturers are currently subject to the General Ceiling Price Regulation (GCPR). The method provided is to apply to the GCPR ceiling prices of the industry a uniform adjustment ratio.

SEC. 2. Coverage—(a) Persons covered. This supplementary regulation applies to you if you manufacture the commodities described in paragraph (b) of this section, and establishes your ceiling prices for sales of such commodities. Except to the extent that they are inconsistent with the provisions of this supplementary regulation, all provisions of the GCPR shall continue to be applicable to you.

(1) Metal caps are screw, lug, vacuum and friction closures for commercial glass containers, made principally of tin plate and aluminum.

(2) Home canning closures include one-piece metal screw caps and two-piece closures consisting of a metal screw-band and a cap with flowed-on rubber seal.

(3) For the purpose of this supplementary regulation, metal caps and metal home canning closures as defined in this section shall include all "extras" supplied by the manufacturer, such as, but not limited to, lithographing, printing, coloring, coating and packaging irrespective of whether the charges for such extras are separately stated or are included in a single charge together with the basic cap or closure.

(4) This supplementary regulation does not apply to crown closures, as defined in SR 123 to the GCPR, to milk bottle closures or to novelty closures.

SEC. 3. Adjusted ceiling prices—(a) How to compute. Your ceiling price for the sale of any commodity covered by this supplementary regulation is your ceiling price in effect under the GCPR increased by 7¾ percent (i. e., 107¾ percent of your GCPR ceiling price). Note that for the purposes of this section your "GCPR ceiling price" does not include any adjustment permitted by any other regulation or supplementary regulation under the GCPR. For the relation of this regulation to others, see section 4 of this supplementary regulation.

(b) Rounding ceiling prices. You may round your ceiling prices per unit determined under this section so that they will be expressed to the nearest cent. If you elect to do so, you must round the ceiling prices for all your commodities covered by this supplementary regulation to reflect decreases as well as increases. For example, if your ceiling price for one carton of closure A is $1.927 you may round that ceiling price to $1.93. However, if your ceiling price for one carton of closure B is $2.233 you must round its ceiling price to $2.23.

(c) Terms and conditions of sale. Your ceiling prices under this supplementary regulation must be consistent in all respects with your GCPR ceiling prices; that is, they must carry all customary discounts, allowances, premium and extras, deductions, guarantees and other terms and conditions of sale.

SEC. 4. Use of GOR's 20, 21, and 35, and SR 122 to GCPR—(a) GOR 20, GOR 21. Notwithstanding any provision of this supplementary regulation you may elect to apply the provisions of General Overriding Regulation 20 or 21 to establish your ceiling prices. If you do so elect, you may not use the provisions of this supplementary regulation.

(b) GOR 35; SR 122 to GCPR. You may not employ any of the provisions of General Overriding Regulation 35 (pass-through for steel, pig-iron, copper and aluminum cost increases) or SR 122 to GCPR (adjustments to reflect increased outbound transportation rates).

Accordingly, you will not have to make any of the reports to your purchasers required by GOR 35 as to the amount of your selling prices or ceiling prices reflecting the pass-through for increases in the cost of metals covered by that regulation.

Effective date. This supplementary regulation shall become effective December 16, 1952.

Acting Director of Price Stabilization.

GOR 5—EXEMPTIONS AND SUSPENSIONS OF CERTAIN CONSUMER DURABLE GOODS AND RELATED COMMODITIES

EXEMPTION OF CUSTOM BUILT ELECTRONIC ORGANS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161 and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2, this Amendment to General Overriding Regulation 5, Revision 1 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment to General Overriding Regulation 5, Revision 1, extends the coverage of Article II to exempt custom built electronic organs from price control.

Custom built pipe organs were exempted from price control by Amendment 3 to General Overriding Regulation 5 on October 24, 1951. The reasons for that exemption were set forth in the Statement of Considerations for that amendment. It has since come to the attention of the Office of Price Stabilization that these reasons equally apply to custom built electronic organs. This action is taken in line with that finding.

In the formulation of this amendment there has been consultation with industry representatives to the extent practicable, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

AMENDATORY PROVISION

Section 6 of General Overriding Regulation 5, Revision 1, is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 6. Musical instruments. The following musical instruments: Custom built pipe and electronic organs. A custom built organ is one designed, manufactured, assembled and installed specially upon the order and to meet the specifications of a particular purchaser. Such design, manufacture, assembly, and installation must be made with reference to the architecture and structure of the building in which installation is intended and will generally require structural and acoustical studies and general consideration of all architectural features so that the organs when installed will function satisfactorily in accordance with the purchaser's specifications and as an integral part of the building.

GOR 14—EXCEPTED AND SUSPENDED SERVICES

CENTRAL STATION ELECTRIC PROTECTION SYSTEM SERVICES

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161, and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2, this amendment to General Overriding Regulation 14, is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This Amendment 30 to General Overriding Regulation 14 exempts from ceiling price regulation the service charges made by central station electric protection systems. A central station electric protection system is one in which the operations of electrical protection circuits and devices are signalled automatically to, recorded in, maintained, and supervised from a central station having trained operators and guards in attendance at all times.

Section 3 (a) (67) of General Overriding Regulation 14 exempts "watchman and guard" services from price control and is limited in applicability to the services of guards and watchmen who are physically present on the premises at all times during their tour of duty, or who regularly visit the premises on a tour of neighborhood duty. It was not originally contemplated that the exemption include protection services rendered by means of electrical or mechanical warning devices installed by and leased by companies whose representatives appear on the premises in response to any alarm given by the warning device.

The present action now exempting these protective services is consistent with previous exemptions granted by the Office of Price Stabilization in General Overriding Regulation 14. These include the exemption of rates, fees and charges of detective agencies by section 3 (a) (16); watchman and guard services by section 3 (a) (67) and armored car transportation services rates and charges by section 3 (a) (103).

The types of protection services involved here are very similar to those of the ordinary watchman or guard. The essential difference is that central station systems depend mainly upon electrical signalling devices rather than physical presence on the protected premises. The most common type of system now in use provides for the maintenance of a central station staffed with uniformed guards and other personnel on a twenty-four hour basis for the purpose of investigating and responding to alarms and other danger signals.

Several different types of services are supplied by these sellers, including burglar alarm, fire alarm, night watch, and sprinkler supervision, either by the use of automatic signalling devices or the supervision of regular guards employed by the buyer of the service. In addition, maintenance, installation, inspection, and related services are performed with respect to the electrical devices. As a practical matter, however, the purchaser of central station protection services pays for the potential personal service of guards and watchmen.

Because of the nature of these services, ceiling price regulation is difficult. The expense of establishing and maintaining a central station requires that those sellers negotiate long-term contracts, usually for five year periods. Thus, only about one-fifth of the outstanding contract prices may be adjusted in any given year. Since labor represents approximately 50 percent of total operating costs, fluctuations in this cost, which occur constantly, require that these sellers have some degree of flexibility in order to adjust their operating ratios. Further, rates charged for these services are affected by diverse factors in each case, depending upon the type of service supplied, the value of the property protected, and the degree of coverage. In view of these facts and the previous exemptions granted in the general field of protective services, it is felt that the administrative workload involved does not warrant continued price regulation of this limited segment of the protective services field.

In the formulation of this amendment there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, to the extent practicable, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

General Overriding Regulation 14, as amended, is further amended in the following respect:

Paragraph (a) of section 3 is amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

(117) Fees, rates and charges for supplying central station electric protection system services.

GOR 35—PASS-THROUGH FOR INCREASED COST IN COPPER, STEEL AND ALUMINUM NOT COMPENSATED FOR

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161, and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2, this Amendment to General Overriding Regulation 35 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment to GOR 35 permits certain manufacturers using copper, steel, or aluminum in the manufacture of their products to adjust their prices to reflect increases in the cost of copper, steel, or aluminum for which they have not been compensated in any other regulation. It also corrects several clerical errors in Appendix A of this regulation.

GOR 35 was intended to permit manufacturers using copper, steel and aluminum products to pass on the increased cost of these metals. Manufacturers of certain commodities, however, were not permitted to pass through any increased cost under this regulation, since they had already received an adjustment reflecting the increased cost of one of these metals under either Supplementary Regulation 100, Revision 1 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation, Supplementary Regulation 113 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation, Amendment 1 to Ceiling Price Regulation 68, or Amendment 1 to Ceiling Price Regulation 110. Some of the products, however, covered by these regulations are composed of more than one metal. Thus, while the manufacturer has received an adjustment to reflect the cost increase in one metal, he has been prevented under this regulation from receiving an adjustment for the increased cost of other metals.

For example, certain copper cable, covered by CPR 110, is composed of copper with a steel covering. Amendment 1 to CPR 110 permitted manufacturers of this product to adjust the ceiling price to reflect the increased cost of copper. After the issuance of this amendment, SR 100, Revision 1, to the GCPR was issued increasing the cost of the steel used in the manufacture of this cable. In issuing GOR 35, it was not intended to permit such a manufacturer to receive a second increase for the copper contained in his product, and thus no adjustment was permitted for this product. The fact that steel was also used in this product was overlooked, and thus this manufacturer has not received an adjustment for the increased cost of steel. This amendment permits a manufacturer using copper, steel or aluminum, in the manufacture of a product to adjust the ceiling price of the product to reflect the increased cost of metal resulting from any of the above named regulations for which he has not been previously compensated.

With respect to manufacturers using copper clad steel products as manufacturing material, this amendment provides for the same adjustment as has been provided for the manufacturers of these products by Amendment to SR 100, Revision 1 to the GCPR.

This amendment also corrects several clerical errors in Appendix A.

In the formulation of this amendment there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, to the extent practicable, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

1. Section 5 (b) (1) is amended to read as follows:

Products listed in Appendix A. (1) No adjustment may be taken under this regulation on sales by the manufacturer of any of the products listed in Appendix A except as follows: In the case of products listed in Appendix A which are composed of more than one metal, you may adjust your ceiling price to reflect any metal cost increase resulting from the regulations listed in section 1 for which you have not received an adjustment. However, if you are a manufacturer of any such products, and also use them in the manufacture of processed commodities, you should refer to section 14, which deals specifically with this problem.

2. The first sentence in the third paragraph of section 14 is amended to read as follows:

No adjustment may be taken under this regulation on sales of any of the products listed in Appendix A except as authorized under section 5 (b) (1).

3. Example 4 is added to section 14 to read as follows:

Example 4. You are a manufacturer of steel covered cable, a wire mill product which is listed in Book A of CPR 110. Your ceiling price for this product was increased under Amendment 1 to CPR 110 to reflect your increased cost of copper. Even though your product is listed in Appendix A, you may adjust its ceiling price for the increased cost of the steel covering, since the cost of steel was increased under Revision 1 of SR 100 to the GCPR and you have not received an adjustment reflecting this increased cost.

4. Under section A in Appendix A, delete the footnote reference opposite items 61 to 65 inclusive.

5. Add the following item (66) at the end of section A in Appendix A: (66) Copper clad steel products: 3.84 cents per pound on the net copper content of the product plus 4.7 percent on that part of the unadjusted ceiling price of the product which remains after deducting from it the value of its net copper content figured at a price of 24.5 cents per pound.

6. Under section I in Appendix A, items 2 and 3 are corrected to read as follows:

(2) Bare and magnet copper and copper alloy wire and cable	[1] $1.22
(3) Copper weatherproof wire and cable:
(i) When sold by the foot	[1] 4.2[illegible]
(ii) When sold by the pound	[1] 3.2[illegible]

(Sec. 704, 64 Stat. 816, as amended; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 2154)

GOR 35—PASS THROUGH FOR STEEL, PIG IRON, COPPER AND ALUMINUM COST INCREASES

ADDITION OF METAL CAPS AND HOME CANNING CLOSURES TO APPENDIXES C AND D

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161, and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2, this Amendment 4 to General Overriding Regulation 35 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment adds metal caps and home canning closures to Appendixes C and D of GOR 35. The purpose and effect of listing certain commodities in these appendixes are explained in detail in the statement of considerations which accompanied Amendment 1 to GOR 35. The same considerations apply to the issuance of this amendment. This amendment is occasioned by the issuance of Supplementary Regulation 128 (SR 128), to the General Ceiling Price Regulation, which provides for an 8 percent increase in ceiling prices for sale by manufacturers of metal caps and home canning closures, an adjustment which includes the metals cost increases.

Due to the nature of this amendment, special circumstances have made general consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, impracticable. However, consultations with representatives of the metal cap and home canning closure industry were held prior to the issuance of SR 128.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

General Overriding Regulation 35 is amended in the following respects:

1. Appendix C is amended by adding thereto in the appropriate columns the words listed below under the columns headed "Commodity" and "Regulation":

Commodity	Regulation
Metal caps and home canning closures.	SR 128 to the GCPR.

2. Appendix D is amended by adding thereto in the appropriate columns the words listed below under the columns headed "Commodity," "Amount of Increase," and "Permissible Adjustment Date:"

Commodity	Amount of increase	Permissible adjustment date
Metal caps and home canning closures.	.00775 (0.775 percent) of net invoice cost after permissible adjustment date.	Dec. 16, 1952.

Effective date. This Amendment 4 to General Overriding Regulation 35 is effective December 16, 1952.

SECTION 1. What this order does. The purpose of this order is to provide the means whereby aluminum distributors who purchase aluminum from domestic aluminum producers may obtain replacements of their stock, and also to provide the means whereby aluminum distributors who deal with surplus stocks of aluminum may acquire material for resale. It specifies a tonnage limitation and item limitation for acceptance of authorized controlled material orders by distributors, and also permits distributors to accept and fill certain orders for aluminum controlled materials although they are not authorized controlled material orders. It authorizes mill distributors to place authorized controlled material orders with producers, and supplements CMP Regulation No. 4. It authorizes surplus distributors to place authorized controlled material orders with consumers of aluminum, an owner, a contractor, or a subcontractor (as defined in Revised CMP Regulation No. 6) to whom certain quantities may have become surplus, and it supplements section 17 (d) of GMP Regulation No. 1 and section 17 (f) of Revised CMP Regulation No. 6.

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this order: (a) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, and includes any agency of the United States Government or of any other government.

(b) "Aluminum" means only the following aluminum wrought forms and shapes:

Rolled bar, rod, wire (including drawn wire), structural shapes.
Aluminum cable steel reinforced (ACSR) and bare aluminum cable.
Insulated or covered wire or cable.
Extruded bar, rod, shapes, tubing (including drawn or welded tubing).
Sheet, strip, plate.
Pig or ingot, granular or shot.

(c) "Surplus aluminum" means aluminum in the possession of a consumer (as defined in CMP Regulation No. 1), an owner, a contractor, or a subcontractor (as defined in Revised CMP Regulation No. 6) who has properly received delivery of aluminum but cannot use it for a purpose permitted by section 17 (b) of CMP Regulation No. 1, or section 17 (d) of Revised CMP Regulation No. 6.

(d) "Distributor" means any person who is regularly engaged in the business of stocking any of the forms and shapes of aluminum listed in paragraph (b) of this section at a location regularly maintained by him for such purpose, for general sale or resale, in the form or shape in which received, or after performing such operations as cutting to length, slitting, shearing to size or shape, or sorting and grading. A person who, in connection with any sale from his stock, bends, punches, or performs any fabricating or processing operation designed to prepare aluminum for final use or assembly, is not a distributor with respect to such sale; and a person who, in connection with any purchase of aluminum for resale, does not take physical delivery of the material into his own stock, at a location regularly maintained by him for such purpose, shall not be deemed a distributor with respect to such resale.

(e) "Mill distributor" means a distributor who obtained aluminum from a domestic aluminum producer during the base period.

(f) "Surplus distributor" means a distributor who buys and sells surplus aluminum.

(g) "Producer" means any person producing aluminum in any one or more of the forms or shapes listed in paragraph (b) of this section.

(h) "Base period" means the calendar year 1950.

(i) "AM number" means the allotment symbol AM together with the number which is assigned by NPA to each person who produces, smelts, fabricates, distributes, or sells aluminum.

(j) "AS symbol" means the allotment symbol AS used by persons engaged in the distribution of surplus aluminum in making purchases of aluminum in accordance with this order.

(k) "NPA" means the National Production Authority.

SEC. 3. Assignment and use of AM numbers. AM numbers in the 9000 series are assigned to mill distributors by NPA upon application in writing. A mill distributor shall use the AM number assigned to him by NPA, in the manner set forth in section 6 of this order, whenever he purchases or receives delivery of aluminum. No person shall use an AM number unless it has been assigned to him in writing by NPA. Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to prevent the assignment of an AM number to persons who are assigned the symbol AS in accordance with section 4 of this order.

SEC. 4. Assignment and use of the symbol AS. The allotment symbol AS is assigned by NPA to surplus distributors upon application in writing. A surplus distributor shall use the allotment symbol AS in the manner set forth in section 7 of this order, whenever he purchases or receives delivery of surplus aluminum. No person may use the allotment symbol AS unless it has been assigned to him in writing by NPA. Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to prevent the assignment of the symbol AS to persons who have been assigned an AM number.

SEC. 5. Distributors who operate more than one warehouse or in more than one capacity. (a) Any distributor who operates more than one warehouse may, for the purpose of this order, elect to consider all warehouses operated by him as one warehouse, or may treat each such warehouse as a separate distributor. Once an election is made, it may not thereafter be changed without written authorization of NPA.

(b) Any distributor may operate both as a mill distributor and a surplus distributor. In any such case, his operations as a mill distributor shall be governed by the provisions of this order applicable to mill distributors, and his operations as a surplus distributor shall be governed by the provisions of this order applicable to surplus distributors.

SEC. 6. How a mill distributor obtains aluminum. (a) A mill distributor may place orders with a domestic producer for delivery in the first calendar quarter of 1953, and in each subsequent calendar quarter, of a quantity of aluminum equal to the greater of the following: (1) His average quarterly receipts of aluminum from that producer during the base period; or (2) his average quarterly deliveries during the last 6 months of 1952 of aluminum received from that producer to fill authorized controlled material orders, orders which he is permitted to accept under the provisions of section 9 of this order, and orders which he has been directed to fill by NPA. The quantity of any particular form or shape of aluminum ordered pursuant to this paragraph shall not exceed the average quantity of that form or shape included in the greater of (1) or (2) above.

(b) Whenever a producer informs a mill distributor that within the limits which NPA has authorized to be set aside for delivery to distributors, and without conflicting with any NPA regulation, order, direction, or directive, the producer will have available for delivery to the mill distributor a quantity of any form or shape of aluminum in excess of the quantity of that form or shape of aluminum which the mill distributor may order in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section, the mill distributor may order and accept delivery of such quantity of aluminum in addition to the quantities he may order pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) In order to enable mill distributors to maintain inventories at a level consistent with the total supply of aluminum and the needs of consumers who normally purchase aluminum from mill distributors, NPA may from time to time authorize a mill distributor to acquire specific quantities of a given form or shape of aluminum in addition to the quantity he is permitted to order pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

(d) All orders which a mill distributor tenders a producer must bear the distributor's AM number and the certification required by section 11 of this order. Such orders are hereby designated authorized controlled material orders for the purpose of all CMP regulations.

SEC. 7. How a surplus distributor obtains aluminum. (a) A surplus distributor may place orders for aluminum only with a consumer of such material, or an owner, a contractor, or a subcontractor who has properly received delivery thereof but who cannot use them for a purpose permitted by section 17 (b) of CMP Regulation No. 1 or section 17 (d) of Revised CMP Regulation No. 6, and who desires to dispose of them. Such orders must bear the allotment symbol AS and the certification required by section 11 of this order.

(b) A surplus distributor's order bearing the allotment symbol AS and his certification as required by section 11 of this order is hereby designated an authorized controlled material order for the purpose of section 17 (d) of CMP Regulation No. 1 and section 17 (f) of Revised CMP Regulation No. 6.

SEC. 8. Limitations on acceptance of mill distributors' orders by aluminum producers. (a) An aluminum producer need not accept an order bearing the mill distributor's AM number and the certification required by section 11 of this order if the mill distributor placing the order did not purchase aluminum from such producer during the base period.

(b) An aluminum producer need not accept an order bearing the mill distributor's AM number and the certification required by section 11 for any form or shape of aluminum which the mill distributor placing the order did not purchase from the producer during the base period.

(c) If any order of a mill distributor is rejected by a producer, the mill distributor should apply to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: NPA Order M-88, specifying the aluminum producer that refused to accept the order. NPA will assist him in locating sources of supply.

(d) NPA may from time to time issue directives to aluminum producers with respect to the acceptance of and shipment to fill a mill distributor's order.

SEC. 9. Acceptance of orders which are not authorized controlled material orders. Subject to the limitations provided in section 10 of this order, a mill distributor who has been assigned an AM number, or a surplus distributor who is entitled to use the allotment symbol AS may accept orders from persons who are not required to have an authorized production schedule or allotment, and who are not entitled to place an authorized controlled material order under any other order or regulation of NPA (for example: persons ordering aluminum for personal or household use), for shipment each month of a quantity of aluminum not to exceed, in the aggregate shipped to all such persons, 5 percent of his total sales from stock during the previous month.

SEC. 10. Rejection of orders by distributors. (a) Unless specifically directed by NPA, no distributor shall be required to accept any order calling for delivery to any one person at any one destination for any one month, and regardless of gages, alloys, sizes, or shapes, of more than 1,000 pounds of aluminum sheet or plate, more than 300 pounds of aluminum wire, rod, or bar, or more than 300 pounds of aluminum tubing, extrusions, or structural shapes.

(b) A mill distributor may accept an order from another mill distributor, but is not required to do so unless specifically directed to by NPA. No person operating solely as a surplus distributor may place an order with, or accept delivery from, any other distributor.

(c) NPA from time to time may earmark particular aluminum products in the inventory of any aluminum distributor for special treatment by such distributor. Any such earmarking shall be accomplished by the issuance by NPA of published schedules under this order or by directives to specified distributors. Such schedules or directives may provide, among other things, that the aluminum products so earmarked shall be held by the aluminum distributor solely for sale to persons designated by an agency of the United States Government. Such schedules or directives may contain such other provisions particularly applicable to such earmarked stock as NPA may deem appropriate. All provisions of any schedule or directive shall be deemed to be incorporated into and made a part of this order as of the effective date of the schedule, or directive, or amendment thereto, as the case may be. In the event of any inconsistency between a schedule or directive and this order, the provisions of the schedule or directive shall govern. Schedules or directives may be issued or amended at any time and from time to time, and shall remain in full force and effect until individually amended, superseded, or revoked.

SEC. 11. Certification. Each order for aluminum bearing the allotment symbol AM placed by a distributor with an aluminum producer and each order for aluminum bearing the allotment symbol AS placed by a distributor with a consumer, an owner, a contractor, or a subcontractor pursuant to this order shall contain a certification in substantially the following form:

Certified under CMP Regulation No. 1 and NPA Order M-88

The certification shall be signed as set forth in NPA Reg. 2, and will constitute a representation to the person with whom the order is placed and to NPA that the purchaser is authorized to use the AM number or allotment symbol AS under the provisions of this order to obtain the material so ordered.

SEC. 12. Imported aluminum. Nothing contained in this order restricts or limits the acquisition of imported aluminum by persons who acquire title to such material before its entry into the United States, its territories or possessions, and who do not use the aluminum so acquired.

SEC. 13. Applicability of other regulations and orders. Nothing contained in this order shall be construed to relieve any person from the obligation of complying with such limitations as may be contained in any other applicable NPA regulation or order or of any order or regulation of any other competent authority.

SEC. 14. Request for adjustment or exception. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that his business operation was commenced during or after the base period, that any provision otherwise works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. In examining requests for adjustment or exception claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of the public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each request shall be in writing, by letter in triplicate, and shall set forth all pertinent facts, the nature of the relief sought, and the justification therefor.

SEC. 15. Records and reports. (a) Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall make and preserve, for at least 3 years thereafter, accurate and complete records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, production, and use, in sufficient detail to permit the determination, after audit, whether each transaction complies with the provisions of this order. This order does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily used, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals by those persons who, at the time such microfilm or other photographic records are made, maintain such copies of records in the regular and usual course of business.

(b) All records required by this order shall be made available for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of the National Production Authority, at the usual place of business where maintained.

(c) Each distributor shall file a report on Form NPAF-122 with the Bureau of the Census not later than the tenth day of each month following the month covered by the report.

(d) Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such other reports to the National Production Authority as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act of 1942 (5 U. S. C. 139-139F).

SEC. 16. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: NPA Order M-88.

SEC. 17. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or any other order or regulation of NPA, or who wilfully furnishes false information or conceals any material fact in the course of operation under this order, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order as amended shall take effect December 16, 1952.

NATIONAL PRODUCTION AUTHORITY,
By GEORGE W. AUXIER,
Executive Secretary.

TITLE 49—TRANSPORTATION

Chapter I—Interstate Commerce Commission

Subchapter A—General Rules and Regulations

[4th Rev. Service Order 95]

PART 95—CAR SERVICE

APPOINTMENT OF REFRIGATOR CAR AGENT

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 3, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 10th day of December A. D. 1952.

It appearing, the matter of car service (section 1, paragraphs 10 to 17, inclusive) of the Interstate Commerce Act being under consideration, that car service will be promoted in the interest of the public and commerce of the people by the appointment of an agent with the authority and duties herein described.

It further appearing, that the above conclusion is supported by the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, and the American Short Line Railroad Association and they urge that such action be taken.

§ 95.95 Appointment of refrigerator car agent. (a) D. W. Benton, Assistant to Chairman, Car Service Division, Association of American Railroads, 59 East Van Buren Street, Chicago 5, Illinois, is hereby designated and appointed refrigerator car agent of the Interstate Commerce Commission. As agent he is required to provide the Commission with current information, through its Director of the Bureau of Service, with respect to the supply of and the need for refrigerator cars in all sections of the United States, and in this connection to utilize the services of an Advisory Committee consisting of the Chairman, Car Service Division, Association of American Railroads, and subject to the Commission's approval of at least one representative of the railroad industry, of railroad-controlled refrigerator car companies, of non-railroad controlled refrigerator car companies and of shipper-owned refrigerator car companies. As agent of the Commission, he is authorized and directed to supervise, coordinate, and direct the distribution of all refrigerator cars, without regard to ownership or assignment, according to the needs of the various loading areas and with due regard to economy in their use and mileage.

(b) Application. The provisions of this section shall apply to shipments moving in intrastate commerce as well as to those moving in interstate commerce.

(c) Effective date. This section shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., December 13, 1952.

(d) Expiration date. This section shall expire at 11:59 p. m., April 30, 1953, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended or annulled by order of this Commission.

It is further ordered, that this order shall vacate and supersede Third Revised Service Order No. 95 as amended on the effective date hereof and that a copy of this order and direction shall be served upon each State railroad regulatory body, the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, and upon The American Short Line Railroad Association as agents of the railroad subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement, and that notice of this order be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

(Sec. 12, 24 Stat. 383, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 12. Interprets or applies sec. 1, 24 Stat. 379, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 1)

By the Commission, Division 3.

[SEAL] GEORGE W. LAIRD,
Acting Secretary.

Subchapter D—Freight Forwarders

PART 400—CONTRACTS, FORWARDERS—MOTOR COMMON CARRIERS

FILING OF CONTRACTS BETWEEN FREIGHT FORWARDERS AND MOTOR COMMON CARRIERS

Upon consideration of petition of counsel for certain freight forwarders requesting postponement of date evidence of agreements and amendments thereto, remaining in effect in the Commission's files in accordance with § 400.5 of the Commission's order of June 4, 1951, shall be superseded by new contracts complying with the rules and regulations prescribed in said order of June 4, 1951; and good cause appearing therefor:

It is ordered, that the compliance date of § 400.5 Contracts continued, in regulations promulgated by the order of June 4, 1951, which requires the filing by freight forwarders of new contracts not later than December 31, 1952, be, and it is hereby, postponed from December 31, 1952, to June 30, 1953.

Notice of this order shall be given to every freight forwarder subject to the act and to the general public by depositing a copy thereof in the office of the Acting Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director of the Division of the Federal Register.

(56 Stat. 285; 49 U. S. C. 1003)

Dated at Washington, D. C., this 9th day of December A. D. 1952.

By the Commission.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

[49 CFR Parts 71–78]

[Docket No. 3666; Notice 9]

TRANSPORTATION OF EXPLOSIVES AND OTHER DANGEROUS ARTICLES

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DECEMBER 12, 1952.

The commission is in receipt of applications for early amendment of the above-entitled regulations insofar as they apply to shippers in the preparation of articles for transportation, and to all carriers by rail and highway, as published in orders pursuant to section 835, of the Criminal Code, and Part II of the Interstate Commerce Act.

Application for these amendments ordinarily would be considered at our next hearing in this docket. It appears, however, that the proposed amendments have been the subject of exchanges and study by interested parties, in which substantial agreement has been reached, and it is proposed that the applications be disposed of by modified procedure. The reasons for the proposed amendments are shown in the appendix hereof.

Any party desiring to be heard upon any of the proposed amendments shall advise the Commission in writing within 20 days from the date of this notice; otherwise, the Commission may proceed to investigate and determine the matters involved in the application, or may suspend action pending formal hearing in this docket.

[SEAL] GEORGE W. LAIRD.
Acting Secretary.

PART 72—COMMODITY LIST OF EXPLOSIVES AND OTHER DANGEROUS ARTICLES CONTAINING THE SHIPPING NAME OR DESCRIPTION OF ALL ARTICLES SUBJECT TO PARTS 71–78 OF THIS CHAPTER

Amend § 72.5 Commodity List (15 F. R. 8265, 8266, 8271, 8272, Dec. 2, 1950) (16 F. R. 11775, Nov. 21, 1951) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1951 Supp., 72.5) as follows:

§ 72.5 List of explosives and other dangerous articles. (a) • • •

SUBPART A—PREPARATION OF ARTICLES FOR TRANSPORTATION BY CARRIERS BY RAIL FREIGHT, RAIL EXPRESS, HIGHWAY, OR WATER

1. Amend entire § 73.21 (15 F. R. 8276, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.21, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.21 Prohibited packing. (a) The offering of packages of dangerous articles in outside packages containing in the same compartment interior packages the mixture of contents of which would be liable to cause a dangerous evolution of heat or gas or produce corrosive materials is prohibited for transportation by common carriers by rail freight, rail express, highway, or water, except as specified in §§ 73.152 (a), 73.242 (a), (b), and 73.301 (a).

(b) The offering for transportation of any package or container of any liquid, solid, or gaseous material which under conditions incident to transportation may polymerize (combine or react with itself) so as to cause dangerous evolution of heat or gas is prohibited. Such materials may be offered for transportation when properly stabilized or inhibited. Refrigeration may be used as a means of stabilization only when approved by the Bureau of Explosives.

2. Amend § 73.31 paragraph (c) (15 F. R. 8278, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.31, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.31 Qualification, maintenance, and use of tank cars. • • •

(c) For repairs to forge-welded tanks of ICC–105A (§§ 78.271 to 78.274 of this chapter) series, or fusion-welded tanks of ICC–W (§§ 78.280 to 78.289 of this chapter) series, or equipment therefor, requiring welding, the owner of the tank, or party authorized by the owner, must secure approval of such repairs from the Association of American Railroads' committee on tank cars. Fusion welds for repairs must be performed, inspected, and tested in the manner described by currently effective specification for the class of tank concerned, or the specification under which the tank was originally constructed, except that local stress-relieving is permitted when approved by the Association of American Railroads' committee on tank cars. X-raying and stress-relieving are required and must be done in an approved manner. Caulking of welded joints is prohibited. Tanks must be retested, as prescribed in paragraph (g) of this section, before being returned to service. For repairs to forge-welded tanks of ICC–105A series, or fusion-welded tanks of ICC–W classes, involving hot or cold working of the shell to restore contours as near as practicable to original design and construction, the owner of the tank, or party authorized by the owner, must render a detailed report of such repairs to the Secretary, Mechanical Division, Association of American Railroads, 59 East Van Buren Street, Chicago 5, Illinois.

• • • • •

SUBPART B—EXPLOSIVES; DEFINITIONS AND PREPARATION

3. Amend § 73.56 paragraphs (c) and (d) (15 F. R. 8286, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.56, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.56 Ammunition, projectiles, grenades, bombs, mines and torpedoes. • • •

(c) Explosive projectiles, explosive torpedoes, explosive mines, or explosive bombs, exceeding 90 pounds in weight, and explosive projectiles of not less than 4½ inches in diameter, may be shipped without being boxed only by, for or to the Departments of the Army, Navy, and Air Force of the United States Government when securely blocked and braced in accordance with methods approved by the Bureau of Explosives.

(d) Gas projectiles, smoke projectiles, incendiary projectiles, illuminating projectiles, gas bombs, smoke bombs, incendiary bombs, gas grenades, smoke grenades, and incendiary grenades, containing a bursting charge must be packed and properly secured in strong wooden boxes. Detonating fuzes, bouchons or ignition elements must not be assembled in these articles unless shipped by, for, or to the Departments of the Army, Navy, and Air Force of the United States Government or unless of a type approved by the Bureau of Explosives. (See §§ 73.100, 73.330, 73.350, and 73.383 for nonexplosive chemical or poisonous ammunition.)

• • • • •

4. Amend § 73.61 paragraph (e) (15 F. R. 8288, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.61, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.61 High explosives. • • •

(e) Bags shall be made of strong paper or equally efficient material so treated or of such nature that it will not absorb the liquid ingredient of the explosive.

• • • • •

5. Amend § 73.62 paragraph (a) (15 F. R. 8288, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.62, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.62 High explosives, liquid. (a) Liquid explosives as defined in § 73.53 (e) must be packed in specification containers as follows:

(1) Spec. 15L (§ 78.176 of this chapter). Wooden boxes which must be plainly marked on top and on one side or end "High Explosives—Dangerous" in letters not less than 7/16 inch in height. The tops of boxes must be marked "This Side Up".

(2) Spec. MC–200 (§ 78.315 of this chapter). Motor vehicle container.

• • • • •

6. Amend § 73.63 paragraphs (d) (2) and (f) (17 F. R. 1559, Feb. 20, 1952) (15 F. R. 8288, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1952 Supp., 73.63) to read as follows:

§ 73.63 High explosive with liquid explosive ingredient. • • •

(d) • • •

(2) Spec. 14, 15A, or 16A (§§ 73.165, 78.166, or 78.185 of this chapter). Wooden boxes, or spec. 23F or 23H (§§ 78.214 or 78.219 of this chapter) fiberboard boxes, with inside containers which must be cartridges not exceeding 12 inches in diameter or 50 pounds in weight with length not to exceed 36 inches, or bags not exceeding 12½ pounds each. Bags if not completely sealed against leakage by method of closure must be packed with filling holes up. Gross weight of fiberboard boxes not to exceed 65 pounds.

• • • • •

(f) Boxes containing high explosives must be plainly marked on top and on one side or end, except those made in compliance with spec. 23G which must be marked on the side or end, and kegs, drums, or barrels containing high explosives must be marked on both ends, "High Explosives—Dangerous" in letters not less than 7/16 inch in height. The tops of boxes except those made in compliance with spec. 23G, must be marked "This Side Up".

• • • • • •

7. Amend § 73.64 paragraph (b) (15 F. R. 8289, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.64, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.64 High explosives with no liquid explosive ingredient. • • •

(b) Boxes containing high explosives must be plainly marked on top and on one side or end, except those made in compliance with spec. 23G which must be marked on the side or end, and kegs, drums, or barrels containing high explosives must be marked on both ends, "High Explosives—Dangerous" in letters not less than 7/16 inch in height.

• • • • • •

8. Amend § 73.65 paragraph (i) (15 F. R. 8290, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.65, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.65 High explosives with no liquid explosive ingredient nor any chlorate. • • •

(i) Boxes containing high explosives must be plainly marked on top and on one side or end, except those made in compliance with spec. 23G which must be marked on the side or end, and kegs, drums, or barrels containing high explosives must be marked on both ends, "High Explosives—Dangerous" in letters not less than 7/16 inch in height. The tops of boxes, except those referred to in paragraph (a) (1) to (7) of this section, must be marked "This Side Up".

• • • • • •

SUBPART C—FLAMMABLE LIQUIDS; DEFINITION AND PREPARATION

9. Amend § 73.119, introductory text of paragraph (a), introductory text of paragraph (b) and (b) (1) (15 F. R. 8298, 8299, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.119, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.119 Flammable liquids not specifically provided for—(a) Flammable liquids with flash point 20° F. or below. Flammable liquids with flash point 20° F. or below and having vapor pressure (Reid [1] test) not over 16 pounds per square inch, absolute, at 100° F., other than those for which special requirements are prescribed in this part, must be prepared for shipment in specification containers of a design and constructed of materials that will not react dangerously with or be decomposed by the chemical packed therein, as follows (see paragraphs (c) to (i) of this section for high pressure liquids, paragraphs (j) to (l) of this section for viscous liquids, and paragraph (m) of this section for flammable liquids which are also oxidizing materials or corrosive liquids):

• • • • • •

(b) Flammable Liquids with flash point above 20° F. to 80° F. Flammable liquids with flash point above 20° F. to 80° F. and having vapor pressure (Reid [1] test) not over 16 pounds per square inch, aboslute, at 100° F., other than those for which special requirements are prescribed in this part, must be prepared for shipment in specification containers of a design and constructed of materials that will not react dangerously with or be decomposed by the chemical packed therein, as follows (see paragraphs (c) to (i) of this section for high pressure liquids and paragraph (m) of this section for flammable liquids which are also oxidizing materials or corrosive liquids):

(1) Containers as specified in paragraph (a) of this section, except that openings greater than 2.3 inches in diameter in barrels and drums are authorized when permitted by the specification, and also the following.

• • • • • •

SUBPART D—FLAMMABLE SOLIDS AND OXIDIZING MATERIALS; DEFINITION AND PREPARATION

10. Amend § 73.154, introductory text of paragraph (a) (15 F. R. 8303, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.154, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.154 Flammable solids and oxidizing materials not specifically provided for. (a) Flammable solids and oxidizing materials, as defined in §§ 73.150 and 73.151, other than those for which special packing requirements are prescribed, must be packed in specification containers of a design and constructed of materials that will not react dangerously with or be decomposed by the chemical packed therein, as follows:

• • • • • •

11. Amend § 73.158 paragraph (a) (4) (17 F. R. 9837, Nov. 1, 1952) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1952 Supp., 73.158) to read as follows:

§ 73.158 Benzoyl peroxide, dry, lauroyl peroxide, dry, chlorobenzoyl peroxide (para), dry, or succinic acid peroxide, dry. (a) • • •

(4) Spec. 12B (§ 78.205 of this chapter). Fiberboard boxes with inside fiber containers securely closed by taping or gluing, not over 1 pound capacity each. Each inside container must be surrounded by asbestos or fire-resistant cushioning material which will protect the contents with equal efficiency. Gross weight in spec. 12B65 boxes may be more than 65 but not more than 70 pounds provided net weight of contents does not exceed 50 pounds.

• • • • • •

12. Amend § 73.217 introductory text of paragraph (a) (16 F. R. 11778, Nov. 21, 1951) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1952 Supp., 73.217) to read as follows:

§ 73.217 Calcium hypochlorite compounds, dry, and lithium hypochlorite compounds, dry. (a) Calcium hypochlorite compounds, dry, containing more than 39 percent available chlorine, and lithium hypochlorite compounds, dry, containing more than 39 percent available chlorine must be packed in specification containers as follows:

• • • • •

13. Amend § 73.233 paragraphs (a) (1) and (2) (17 F. R. 9837, Nov. 1, 1952) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1952 Supp., 73.233) to read as follows:

§ 73.233 Nickel catalyst, finely divided, activated or spent. (a) • • •

(1) Spec. 15A or 15B (§§ 78.168 or 78.169 of this chapter). Wooden boxes with airtight metal inside containers which must have closing device fastened by positive means (not friction); or airtight glass inside containers of not over 1 quart capacity each, securely cushioned in asbestos wool, vermiculite, or equally efficient incombustible cushioning material.

(2) Spec. 12B (§ 78.205 of this chapter). Fiberboard boxes with airtight metal inside containers which must have closing device fastened by positive means (not friction); or airtight glass inside containers of not over 1 quart capacity each, securely cushioned in asbestos wool, vermiculite, or equally efficient incombustible cushioning material.

• • • • •

SUBPART E—ACIDS AND OTHER CORROSIVE LIQUIDS; DEFINITION AND PREPARATION

14. Amend § 73.245 introductory text of paragraph (a) (15 F. R. 8313, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.245, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.245 Acids or other corrosive liquids not specifically provided for. (a) Acids or other corrosive liquids, as defined in § 73.240, other than those for which special requirements are prescribed, must be packed in specification containers of a design and constructed of materials that will not react dangerously with or be decomposed by the chemical packed therein, as follows:

• • • • •

15. Amend § 73.247 introductory text of paragraph (a), (a) (10) and add paragraph (a) (13) (15 F. R. 8313, 8314, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.247, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.247 Acetyl chloride, antimony pentachloride, benzoyl chloride, benzyl chloride, pyro sulfuryl chloride, silicon chloride, sulfur chloride (mono and di), sulfuryl chloride, thionyl chloride, tin tetrachloride (anhydrous), and titanium tetrachloride. (a) Acetyl chloride, antimony pentachloride, benzoyl chloride, benzyl chloride, pyro sulfuryl chloride, silicon chloride, sulfur chloride (mono and di), sulfuryl chloride, thionyl chloride, tin tetrachloride (anhydrous), and titanium tetrachloride, must, except as indicated, be packed in specification containers as follows:

• • • • •

(10) Spec. 5K (§ 78.88 of this chapter). Nickel drums, authorized for acetyl chloride, benzyl chloride, benzoyl chloride, pyro sulfuryl chloride, sulfuryl chloride, and thionyl chloride only. When shipped in unstabilized condition, the lading must be anhydrous and must be free from impurities such as iron.

• • • • •

(13) Spec. 103A or 103W (§ 78.266 or § 78.280 of this chapter). Tank cars, nickel clad at least 10 percent, authorized for acetyl chloride, benzyl chloride, benzoyl chloride, pyro sulfuryl chloride, sulfuryl chloride, and thionyl chloride only. When shipped in unstabilized condition, the lading must be anhydrous and must be free from impurities such as iron.

16. Add paragraphs (a) (8) and (9) to § 73.249 and amend paragraph (b) (15 F. R. 8314, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.249, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

(8) Spec. 12B (§ 78.205 of this chapter). Fiberboard boxes with inside containers of glass, polyethylene, or other material resistant to lading, having capacity not over 16 ounces each.

(9) Spec. 15A, 15B, 15C, 16A, or 19A (§§ 78.168, 78.169, 78.170, 78.185, or 78.190 of this chapter). Wooden boxes with inside containers of polyethylene having capacity not over 1 gallon each.

(b) Alkaline corrosive liquids, n. o. s., alkaline caustic liquids, n. o. s., and alkaline battery fluids when offered for transportation by rail express must be packed in specification containers as follows:

(1) In containers as prescribed in paragraph (a) (8) and (9) of this section.

(2) Spec. 5 or 5A (§§ 78.80 or 78.81 of this chapter). Metal barrels or drums, capacity not exceeding 10 gallons, with openings not exceeding 2.3 inches in diameter.

(3) Spec. 15A, 15B, 15C, 16A, or 19A (§§ 78.168, 78.169, 78.170, 78.185, 78.190 of this chapter). Wooden boxes with metal cans not over 2 gallons each.

• • • • •

17. Amend § 73.250 Introductory text of paragraph (a) (15 F. R. 8314, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.250, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.250 Automobiles or other self-propelled vehicles. (a) Automobiles or other self-propelled vehicles equipped with charged electric storage batteries, or with charged electric storage batteries removed from vehicles; and charged electric storage batteries when included in carload or truckload shipments of automobile parts or assembled material are exempt from specification packaging, marking, and labeling requirements as follows: See also § 73.257 (b).

• • • • •

18. Add paragraphs (a) (8), (b) and (b) (1) to § 73.257 (15 F. R. 8315, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.257, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.257 Electrolyte (acid) or corrosive battery fluid. (a) • • •

(8) Spec. 1EX (§ 78.6 of this chapter). Carboys in plywood drums (single-trip).

(b) Shipments of electrolyte (acid) or corrosive battery fluid with self-propelled motor vehicles offered for transportation by, for, or to the Departments of the Army, Navy, or Air Force of the United States Government are exempt from Parts 71–78 of this chapter when packed as follows:

(1) In one inside glass bottle of not over 1 gallon capacity, tightly and securely closed, packed in a strong outside container and cushioned therein on all sides with incombustible absorbent material in sufficient quantity to completely absorb liquid contents in event of breakage. Outside container must be so blocked, braced or stayed within the self-propelled vehicle that it cannot change position during transit.

19. Amend § 73.263 paragraph (a) (7) and add paragraph (a) (13) (16 F. R. 11778 Nov. 21, 1951) (15 F. R. 8317, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1952 Supp., 73.263) to read as follows:

§ 73.263 Hydrochloric (muriatic) acid, hydrochloric acid mixtures, and sodium chlorite solution. (a) • • •

(7) Spec. 1D, 1E, or 1EX (single-trip) (§§ 78.4, 78.7, or 78.6 of this chapter). Glass carboys in boxes or plywood drums, of not over 6.5 gallons nominal capacity. Means shall be provided so that accumulated total pressure in bottle shall not exceed 10 p. s. i. gauge at 130° F. or shall vent at a pressure not to exceed 10 p. s. i. gauge.

• • • • •

(13) Spec. 1G (§ 78.11 of this chapter). Polyethylene carboys in plywood or wooden boxes.

• • • • •

20. Amend § 73.264 paragraph (a) (16) (17 F. R. 7281, Aug. 9, 1952) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1952 Supp., 73.264) to read as follows:

§ 73.264 Hydrofluoric acid. (a) • • •

(16) Spec. 1F or 1G (§§ 78.10 or 78.11 of this chapter). Polyethylene carboys in plywood boxes or drums, or wooden boxes. Authorized for acid not over 60 percent strength.

• • • • •

21. Amend § 73.271 paragraph (a) (9) (17 F. R. 7282, Aug. 9, 1952) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1952 Supp., 73.271) to read as follows:

§ 73.271 Phosphorus oxychloride, phosphorus trichloride, and thiophosphoryl chloride. (a) • • •

(9) Spec. 103A or 103A–W (§§ 78.266 or 78.281 of this chapter). Tank cars. Spec. 103A tanks must be of steel at least 10 percent nickel clad and Spec. 103A–W tanks must be of steel at least 20 percent nickel clad.

• • • • •

22. Amend § 73.289 paragraph (a) (4) (16 F. R. 11779, Nov. 21, 1951) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1952 Supp., 73.289) to read as follows:

§ 73.289 Formic acid and formic acid solutions. (a) • • •

(4) Spec. MC 310 (§ 78.330 of this chapter). Tank motor vehicles.

• • • • •

SUBPART F—COMPRESSED GASES; DEFINITION AND PREPARATION

23. Amend § 73.312 paragraph (a) (1) (16 F. R. 9376, Sept. 15, 1951) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1952 Supp., 73.312) to read as follows:

§ 73.312 Liquefied petroleum gas. (a) • • •

(1) Spec. 3,[1] 3A, 3AA, 3B, 3E, 4, 4A, 4B, 4BA (§§ 78.36, 78.37, 78.38, 78.42, 78.48, 78.49, 78.50, 78.51 of this chapter), 4B240X[1] (see appendix A to subpart C of Part 78 of this chapter), 4B240FLW or 9 (§§ 78.54 or 78.63 of this chapter), 25,[1] 26,[1] or 38.[1] Cylinders authorized under § 73.34 (a) to (c) may be used.

• • • • •

SUBPART G—POISONOUS ARTICLES; DEFINITION AND PREPARATION

24. Amend § 73.346 introductory text of paragraph (a) (15 F. R. 8334, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.346, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.346 Poisonous liquids not specifically provided for. (a) Poisonous liquids as defined in § 73.343, other than those for which special requirements are prescribed, must be packed in specification containers of a design and constructed of materials that will not react dangerously with or be decomposed by the chemical packed therein, as follows:

• • • • •

25. Amend § 73.364 introductory text of paragraph (a) (16 F. R. 11780, Nov. 21, 1951) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1952 Supp., 73.364) to read as follows:

§ 73.364 Exemptions for poisonous solids, class B. (a) Poisonous solids, class B, except cyanides, other than as specified in § 73.370 (b) and § 73.370 (d), and beryllium metal powder, in tightly closed inside containers, securely cushioned when necessary to prevent breakage and packed as follows, are exempt from specification packaging, marking, and labeling requirements for transportation by rail freight, rail express, or highway, but when for transportation by carrier by water they are exempt from specification packaging, marking other than name of contents, and labeling requirements.

• • • • •

26. Amend § 73.365 introductory text of paragraph (a) (15 F. R. 8336, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.365, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.365 Poisonous solids not specifically provided for. (a) Poisonous solids, as defined in § 73.343, other than those for which special requirements are prescribed, must be packed in specification containers of a design and constructed of materials that will not react dangerously with or be decomposed by the chemical packed therein, as follows:

• • • • •

27. Amend § 73.370 introductory text of paragraph (a), (a) (1), introductory text of paragraph (b) and add paragraphs (c) and (d) (16 F. R. 9379, Sept. 15, 1951) (15 F. R. 8337, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1952 Supp., 73.370) to read as follows:

§ 73.370 Cyanides, or cyanide mixtures, except cyanide of calcium and mixtures thereof. (a) Cyanides, or cyanide mixtures (see paragraph (b) of this section for exemptions), except cyanide of calcium and mixtures thereof (see paragraph (c) of this section for packing requirements and paragraph (d) of this section for exemptions), if containing the cyanogen equivalent of 10 percent or more of potassium cyanide, must be packed in specification containers as follows:

(1) Spec. 15A, 15B, or 15C (§§ 78.168, 78.169, or 78.170 of this chapter). Wooden boxes with metal inside containers, spec. 2F (§ 78.25 of this chapter), not over 25 pounds capacity each; or hermetically sealed (soldered) metal lining, spec. 2F, or in glass bottles not over 5 pounds capacity each.

• • • • •

(b) Cyanides, except cyanide of calcium and mixtures thereof; exemptions. Cyanides, except cyanide of calcium and mixtures thereof (see paragraph (d) of this section), when packed and described as follows are exempt from specification packaging and labeling requirements:

• • • • •

(c) Cyanide of calcium and mixtures thereof. Cyanide of calcium and mixtures thereof must be packed in specification containers as follows:

(1) As prescribed in paragraph (a) (2), (3), (4), (5), (6), (7), (8), (9), (10), or (11) of this section.

(2) Spec. 15A, 15B, or 15C (§§ 78.168, 78.169, or 78.170 of this chapter). Wooden boxes with metal inside containers, spec. 2F, not over 25 pounds capacity each; or hermetically sealed (soldered) metal lining, spec. 2F (§ 78.25 of this chapter).

(d) Cyanide of calcium and mixtures thereof; exemptions. Cyanide of calcium and mixtures thereof when packed and described as follows are exempt from specification packaging and labeling requirements:

(1) Cyanide of calcium and mixtures thereof in tightly closed metal inside containers, not over 1 pound each, securely cushioned and packed in outside wooden or fiberboard boxes, or in wooden barrels. Net weight of cyanide of calcium or mixtures thereof in any outside container, not over 25 pounds.

(2) Cyanide of calcium or mixtures thereof in tightly closed metal inside containers, securely cushioned and packed in outside wooden or fiberboard boxes, or in wooden barrels. Net weight of cyanide of calcium or mixtures thereof in any outside container, not over 5 pounds.

PART 74—CARRIERS BY RAIL FREIGHT

1. Amend the headnote and introductory text of paragraph (a) and (a) (2) of § 74.506 (15 F. R. 8344, Dec. 2, 1950) to read as follows:

§ 74.506 Improperly packed or damaged shipments in transportation. (a) For the protection of the public against fire, explosion, or other, or further hazard with respect to shipments of explosives or other dangerous articles offered for transportation or in transit by any carrier by railroad, such carrier shall make immediate report to the Bureau of Explosives, 30 Vesey Street, New York, N. Y., for handling, any of the following emergency matters coming to their attention:

• • • • •

(2) Railroad wrecks or accidents involving damage to containers of explosives or other dangerous articles to such a degree as to necessitate repacking of the articles. (See § 74.588.)

• • • • •

SUBPART A—LOADING, UNLOADING, PLACARDING AND HANDLING CARS; LOADING PACKAGES INTO CARS

2. Amend § 74.525 paragraph (b) (9) (15 F. R. 8346, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 74.525, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 74.525 Loading packages of explosives in cars, selection, preparation, inspection of car and certificate. • • •

(b) • • •

(9) When packages of explosives are to be loaded over exposed draft bolts or king bolts, these bolts must have pieces of sound wood with beveled ends spiked to the floor over them (or empty wooden boxes of the same character as those used for the explosive may be used for this purpose) to prevent possibility of the bolts causing damage to the packages of explosives. Metal floor plates must be completely covered with wood, plywood, or fiber or composition sheets of adequate thickness and strength to prevent contact of the floor plates with the packages of explosives under conditions incident to transportation, except that the covering of metal floor plates is not necessary for carload shipments loaded by the Departments of the Army, Navy, or Air Force of the United States Government provided the explosives are of such nature that they are not liable to leakage of dust, powder, or vapor which might become the cause of an explosion.

• • • • •

PART 75—CARRIERS BY RAIL EXPRESS

Amend § 75.660 paragraph (a) (3) (15 F. R. 8360, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 75.660, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 75.660 Violations and accidents or fires must be reported. (a) • • •

(3) Accidents or fires in connection with the transportation or storage on express or railway property of explosives or other dangerous articles. (See § 74.588 of this chapter.)

PART 76—RAIL CARRIERS IN BAGGAGE SERVICE

1. Amend § 76.701 paragraph (a) (15 F. R. 8360, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 76.701, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 76.701 Application. (a) Parts 71–78 of this chapter apply to all shipments in rail baggage service of dangerous articles as prescribed in this part. Shipments of explosives, other than small arms ammunition, or any dangerous articles, except as provided in this part, must not be accepted for transportation in rail baggage service. The Commission will make provision as occasion and safety may require for dangerous articles other than those described in this part. Carriers engaged in interstate or foreign commerce must make the regulations in this part effective and must provide for the thorough instruction of their employees.

2. Amend § 76.707 paragraph (a) (15 F. R. 8361, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 76.707, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 76.707 Reporting violations and accidents or fires. (a) Serious violations of the regulations in Parts 71–78 of this chapter, facts relating to leaking or broken containers, and accidents or fires in connection with the transportation or storage on railway property of explosives or other dangerous articles, must be reported promptly by the rail carrier in baggage service to the Bureau of Explosives, 30 Vesey Street, New York, N. Y. (See § 74.588 of this chapter.)

* * * * *

PART 77—SHIPMENTS MADE BY WAY OF COMMON, CONTRACT, OR PRIVATE CARRIER BY PUBLIC HIGHWAY

Amend § 77.807 introductory text of paragraph (a) and (a) (2) (15 F. R. 8362, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 77.807, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§77.807 Improperly packed or damaged shipments in transportation (a) For the protection of the public against fire, explosion, or other, or further hazard, with respect to shipments of explosives or other dangerous articles offered for transportation or in transit by any common or contract carrier by motor vehicle, such carrier shall make immediate report to the Bureau of Explosives, 30 Vesey Street, New York, N. Y., for handling, any of the following emergency matters coming to their attention (see also §§ 77.853 to 77.870 for handling shipments in transit):

* * * * *

(2) Motor carrier accidents involving damage to container of explosives or other dangerous articles to such a degree as to necessitate repacking of the articles. (See § 74.588 of this chapter.)

* * * * *

PART 78—SHIPPING CONTAINER SPECIFICATIONS

SUBPART A—SPECIFICATIONS FOR CARBOYS, JUGS IN TUBS, AND RUBBER DRUMS

1. Amend of § 78.6, § 78.6–9 and § 78.6–10 entire paragraph (d) (15 F. R. 8377, 8378, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 78.6, 78.6–9, 78.6–10, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 78.6 Specification 1EX; glass carboys in plywood drums. Single trip container.

* * * * *

§ 78.6–9 Marking of outside container for use. (a) Each outside container must also be plainly marked "Single-Trip Container" just above or below the mark specified in § 78.6–8 (a) (1) of this section.

§ 78.6–10 Tests. * * *

(d) When required. By each manufacturing and each filling plant: during each 6 months of each year, one series each year to be witnessed by representative of Bureau of Explosives; separate tests required for:

(1) New packages (those with new outside containers).

(2) Packages differing in kind of cushioning.

* * * * *

2. Add §§ 78.11 to 78.11–7 (15 F. R. 8379, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 78.11, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 78.11–1 Compliance. (a) Required in all details.

§ 78.11–2 Capacity and marking of carboy. (a) Containers 5 to 16½ gallons capacity are classed as carboys. Actual capacity must be the marked capacity plus 5 percent minimum. Must be permanently marked to indicate capacity, maker, and month and year of manufacture; mark of maker to be registered with the Bureau of Explosives.

§ 78.11–3 Polyethylene carboys. (a) Carboys shall be fabricated from polyethylene of virgin quality and having no plasticisers or additives. Carboys must have a minimum weight and wall thickness after forming in accordance with the following table:

Marked capacity (not over)	Minimum wall thickness	Minimum weight of polyethylene carboy
Gallons	Inch	Pounds
5	0.125	8
15	.125	11½

(b) Closing device shall be of material resistant to the lading and adequate to prevent leakage.

(c) Each polyethylene carboy as manufactured shall be subjected to at least 7 pounds per square inch air pressure during which time all seams must be examined for leakage by application of soap suds or heavy oil, or submerged under water. Containers which show leakage in this test must be repaired in a workmanshiplike manner, after which they must be retested and show no leakage.

§ 78.11–4 Outside containers. (a) Wooden boxes, or glued-plywood boxes of not less than three plies, completely enclosing body and neck of carboy or completely enclosing the body of the carboy, shall be constructed in such manner and so formed that inside container cannot permanently change position and be of sufficiently strong wood or plywood to withstand prescribed tests without serious rupture of box or damage to inside container.

(b) Lumber to be well seasoned, commercially dry, and free from decay, loose knots, knots that would interfere with nailing, and other defects that would materially lessen the strength.

(c) Plywood sections used in construction of this container shall be firmly glued together with waterproof glue. A section of plywood from any part when immersed in water at room temperature for 48 hours shall show no delamination or separation of plies to qualify glue as waterproof.

§ 78.11–5 Approval. (a) Specifications for the outside container and inner carboy must be filed with and approved by the Bureau of Explosives.

§ 78.11–6 Marking of outside container. (a) Each outside container must be plainly marked with letters and figures at least ¾ inch high applied by hot branding iron or dark colored printing ink with pressure dies as follows:

(1) ICC–1G. This mark shall be understood to certify that the complete package complies with all specification requirements.

(2) Name or symbol (letters) of company setting up the package, or other party assuming responsibility for its compliance with the specification requirements; this must be registered with the Bureau of Explosives and located just above or below the mark specified in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

§ 78.11–7 Tests. (a) One sample, taken at random and with inner container filled to marked capacity with water and closed as for use, shall be capable of withstanding prescribed tests without leakage. Tests shall be made of each size by each company starting production. The type tests are as follows:

(1) Complete package must be capable of withstanding 2 drops from a height of 4 feet onto solid concrete, the first drop to be made diagonally so top corner will strike the concrete; the second drop onto a 2-inch by 6-inch timber resting on the concrete with the 6-inch leg vertical, the drop being made with the box in a horizontal position and at right angles to the timber so that impact is near the center of the box side-wall.

Production and Marketing Administration

[P. & S. Docket No. 1558]

MISSISSIPPI VALLEY STOCKYARDS, INC.

NOTICE OF PETITION FOR MODIFICATION OF RATE ORDER

Pursuant to the provisions of the Packers and Stockyards Act, 1921, as amended (7 U. S. C. 181 et seq.), an order was issued in this proceeding on December 27, 1951 (10 A. D. 1505), amending and extending prior orders and authorizing the respondent to assess the current rates and charges for stockyard services to and including March 15, 1953.

By a petition filed on December 2, 1952, and amended on December 8, 1952, the respondent requested authority to file an amendment to its current tariff establishing rates for yardage services as indicated under the heading "Proposed Rates" in the tabulation below. The respondent further requested that the proposed rates, if authorized, be made effective as soon as possible.

Per head	Current	Proposed rates
Yardage on all classes of original receipts and resales in commission division:
Bulls (800 pounds and over)	$1.25	$1.50
Cattle	.75	.90
Calves (under 400 pounds)	.40	.50
Hogs	.25	.30
Sheep and goats	.10	.20
Horses and mules	1.00	1.00
Livestock consigned direct to packers:
Bulls	.52	.62
Cattle	.40	.40
Calves (under 400 pounds)	.20	.24
Hogs	.15	.15
Sheep and goats	.08	.09
Livestock resold by commission firms:
Bulls	1.25	1.50
Cattle	.75	.90
Calves (under 400 pounds)	.40	.50
Hogs	.25	.30
Sheep and goats	.12	.20
Livestock resold for local delivery other than resales in commission divisions:
Bulls	.25	.25
Cattle	.20	.20
Calves (under 400 pounds)	.14	.14
Hogs	.08	.08
Sheep and goats	.06	.06
Livestock resold by dealer and shipped other than resales in commission divisions:
Bulls	.12	.12
Cattle	.10	.10
Calves (under 400 pounds)	.07	.07
Hogs	.05	.05
Sheep and goats	.05	.05

The respondent also requested authority to amend section 2, Feeding Charges, of its current tariff to read as follows:

All hay shall be billed at cost plus 60 cents per hundredweight, and corn at cost plus 50 cents per bushel.

The authorization, if granted, will produce additional revenue for the respondent and increase the cost of marketing livestock. Accordingly, it appears that this public notice of the filing of the petition and its contents should be given.

All interested persons who wish to be heard in the matter shall notify the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., within 15 days after the publication of this notice.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 10th day of December 1952.

[7 CFR Part 906]

HANDLING OF MILK IN TULSA, OKLA., MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF RECOMMENDED DECISION AND OPPORTUNITY TO FILE WRITTEN EXCEPTIONS THERETO WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED MARKETING AGREEMENT AND PROPOSED ORDER AMENDING ORDER, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of the filing with the Hearing Clerk of this recommended decision of the Assistant Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, with respect to a proposed marketing agreement and a proposed order amending the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Tulsa, Oklahoma, marketing area.

Interested parties may file written exceptions to this recommended decision with the Hearing Clerk, Room 1353, South Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the close of business on the 5th day after the publication of this recommended decision in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Exceptions should be filed in quadruplicate.

Preliminary statement. The hearing, on the record of which the proposed amendment to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, was formulated, was conducted at Tulsa, Oklahoma, on July 29–31, 1952, pursuant to notice thereof which was issued on July 9, 1952 (17 F. R. 6275).

A decision of the Secretary of Agriculture issued August 22, 1952, disposed of certain issues of the hearing with respect to the amount of the differential to be added to basic formula prices in determining the level of prices for Class I milk for the months of September through December 1952, and the period to be used in determining bases for producers. The remaining material issues of record to be considered related to:

1. The level of the Class I differentials for continuing use in determining prices for Class I milk, and a "supply-demand" adjustment of Class I milk prices;
2. Enlargement of the marketing area;
3. Pool plant requirements;
4. Location adjustments to handlers and to producers;
5. Classifications of aerated products containing milk or cream; and
6. The allocation of other source milk in periods of short supply.

The notice of hearing contained proposals that milk be priced on the basis of 3.5 percent butterfat rather than 4.0 percent, and that the maximum rate of assessment for administrative purposes be reduced. No testimony was introduced at the hearing in support of such proposals.

Findings and conclusions. The following findings and conclusions are supplementary to the findings and conclusions of the aforesaid decision, and are based upon the evidence introduced at the hearing and the record thereof.

1. No change should be made at this time in the amounts of the differentials added to basic formula prices to determine the prices for Class I milk; provision should, however, be made for automatic adjustment of Class I prices on the basis of the relationship of the supply of producer milk to Class I sales.

Except for a temporary increase for the months of September through December of this year made effective on the basis of drought conditions shown on this record, the prices for Class I milk under the Tulsa order is determined by adding $1.45 to a basic formula price for the months of April through June and adding $1.85 to the basic formula price for all other months. These differentials, which average $1.75 on an annual basis, have been in effect since April 1951. From the effective date of the order in May 1950 through March 1951 the differentials were $1.25 and $1.65 with the $1.25 figure applying to July in addition to the months for which the $1.45 now applies.

Producers proposed that the present differentials be increased by 20 cents for all months. In support of this proposal they contend that the market has not been adequately supplied with milk on a year around basis and that costs of dairy production have increased. Handlers proposed that the present annual average level of $1.75 in the differential should be maintained but that this should be accomplished through a $1.45 differential for the four months of May through August, with a differential of $1.90 for the other eight months of the year.

Supplies of producer milk have not been sufficient for Class I needs of the market during the past two winter seasons. In the months of October 1950 through February 1951 approximately 800,000 pounds of other source milk were allocated to Class I use. From October 1951 through March 1952, the figure was slightly more than 900,000 pounds. This represents in each case slightly more than one percent of annual Class I sales.

Supplies of producer milk have increased in the Tulsa market since the order became effective. Class I sales have, however, also increased and at a somewhat greater rate. While producer receipts for May 1952 were approximately 7 percent more than for May 1950 (the first month that the order was effective) Class I sales were 13 percent greater. For the first six months of 1952 production was 5 percent greater than for the same period of 1951 but sales were about 12 percent greater. The drought conditions noted in the previous decision issued on the record of this hearing have affected the rate of increase in production for months beginning with July.

It is evident that the prices of the order have not been sufficient to increase the milk supply rapidly enough to supply the expanding demand for milk. Such prices have, however, resulted in a steadily increasing supply, which were it not for the rapid rate of increase in demand, might be expected to be adequate for the needs of the market within a reasonable period. In view of the conclusions of this decison with respect to the inclusion of a supply-demand adjustment of Class I prices it is concluded that the annual level of the fixed differentials of the order should not be changed at this time. The supply-demand adjustment recommended herein will provide an increase in prices at this time so as to compensate for the imbalance of supply that has resulted from the rapid increase in sales. While the record indicates that such increases in sales have been characteristic in the Tulsa market for a considerable time, it does not appear wise to predicate the level of the fixed differential of the order on the indefinite continuation of this situation until there is opportunity to observe what adjustments in supply to demand result from the automatic adjustment features herein decided.

The handler proposal for changing the pattern of months for which seasonal changes in the differential apply should not be adopted. To some extent the standard utilization percentages adopted for the supply-demand adjustment and the time log involved in their application may tend to change the relationship of prices in April, July and August to that of the annual average of prices. This tendency should not be accentuated further by a change in the fixed differentials for these months.

Provision should be made for automatic adjustments of the Class I price in response to changes in the relationship between market supply and demand. It is extremely difficult to predict accurately the level of prices necessary to assure that the market will be supplied adequately but not excessively. Automatic changes in the Class I prices as the level of supply changes in relation to sales should avoid the necessity for frequent amendment hearings.

Many factors affect market supply and demand, but total producer receipts and gross Class I sales reflect the net effect of all these factors. Extension of recent experience appears to be the most accurate means of estimating current and prospective supply and demand conditions. It is concluded that the ratio of total producer receipts to gross Class I sales in the immediately preceding two-month period should be used as the measure by which to estimate the relationship in the month to be priced. If supplies in this recent period are less than a desirable level for these months the Class I price should be increased; conversely, oversupplies of milk indicate the propriety of a price decrease. Experience indicates that conditions in a recent period are more likely to be reflected in the current pricing period than are conditions in an earlier period.

Use of the experience of this recent two-month period requires that a representative ratios of supply to sales for successive two-month periods be established to serve as a standard from which the deviation of the actual experience may determine what change if any should be made in the Class I price. Since the Tulsa market has not been adequately supplied on a year-round basis these representative ratios must be constructed. Producers proposed a series of representative ratios which in general appear to approximate those that would result if fall and winter supplies were increased to a level of 110 percent of sales without increasing supplies in the flush production months. Considerable reduction in the seasonal variation of production is required to achieve such a standard. The adoption of such a standard will, however, provide considerable incentive to achieve this desirable pattern by increasing the seasonal variation in prices until it is achieved.

An analysis of the ratio of total approved supplies (local production plus approved imports) to sales over the past two winters indicates that somewhat less than 110 percent of sales are needed in the months of short supply. The representative ratio adopted reflects a supply equal to 106 percent of Class I sales for the month of November, and certain refinements of the proposal of producers based on an analysis of the seasonal pattern of both production and sales, after adjustment for the constant trend of increase shown by both. It is concluded that the standard utilization percentages for each two month period during a year should be as follows:

Month for which price applies	Months used in computation	Standard utilization percentage
January	November–December	108
February	December–January	110
March	January–February	112
April	February–March	114
May	March–April	117
June	April–May	129
July	May–June	137
August	June–July	137
September	July–August	134
October	August–September	128
November	September–October	119
December	October–November	109

If the current Class I utilization percentage for the first and second months preceding the month for which prices are being computed varies from the standard percentage the Class I price should be adjusted upward if the standard utilization percentage exceeds the current Class I utilization percentage, and downward if the reverse is true. For each percentage point of variation in excess of 2, the Class I price should change as follows: 2 cents upward and 4 cents downward for the months of April, May and June; 3 cents in either direction for the months of July, August, January, February and March; and 4 cents upward and 2 cents downward for the months of September through December. Such adjustments recognize that shortages indicated for fall months and excess supplies indicated for spring months require greater adjustment of prices than do the reverse relationships. The deduction of 2 percentage points from the variation will dampen the effects of certain variations in the current utilization percentage that are not indicative of actual trends. A maximum adjustment of 50 cents should also be provided. Any conditions which would indicate a continuing adjustment beyond this limit should be considered at a hearing.

The use of the experience of the immediately preceding month in the supply-demand adjustment requires that announcement of the Class I price be deferred until handlers' reports have been received and tabulated. Provision is made for the price to be announced on the 12th of the month instead of the 5th.

2. The marketing area should not be enlarged at this time.

The marketing area of the Tulsa order now consists of Tulsa County, Oklahoma, the city of Sapulpa and Sapulpa Township in Creek County, and a small portion of Osage County adjacent to the city of Tulsa. It was proposed that the marketing area be expanded to include all or significant portions of twelve counties in Northeastern Oklahoma.

In support of this proposal Tulsa handlers contend that they sell a majority of the milk in the area proposed for addition to the marketing area. In addition to the milk sold by Tulsa handlers, milk is sold in this area by five handlers with plants located in the proposed area, by three handlers not now under regulation whose plants are located outside the area proposed, by three handlers regulated by the order for the Neosho Valley marketing area, by two handlers regulated by the order for the Muskogee marketing area and by one handler regulated by the order for the Oklahoma City marketing area. These handlers dispute the contention that Tulsa handlers have a majority of the milk sales in the area but do not present as definite data concerning their volumes of sales as do the Tulsa handlers.

The evidence indicates that Tulsa handlers have in recent years expanded their volume of sales outside the Tulsa marketing area. Approximately 20 percent of total Class I sales of the Tulsa market are outside the presently defined marketing area. Since the Tulsa order has been in effect Tulsa handlers have increased their out-of-market area sales at about the same rate as total Class I sales of the market have increased.

The proposed expansion of the marketing area would for all practical purposes make the northern and northeastern boundaries of the Tulsa marketing area the Oklahoma state line. In this area this is the boundary of the Neosho Valley marketing area. Much of this area is nearer to the plants of Neosho Valley handlers than it is to the plants of Tulsa handlers. The situation of two immediately adjacent markets subject to different regulations would require particularly close alignment of the regulation between the markets. The Neosho Valley marketing area is an extensive area in which handlers compete for either production, sales, or both with the Greater Kansas City, Topeka, Wichita and Springfield markets in addition to the Tulsa market. Maintenance of particularly close alignment with a single market would inevitably result in greater variation with respect to other markets.

To include an area of this extent in the Tulsa marketing area at this time would involve pooling milk of some handlers located considerable distances from Tulsa whose distribution in the proposed area is a minor portion of their sales of Class I milk or would require alternative provisions in lieu of pooling such milk. Adoption of the proposal would probably result in further proposals for expansion of the marketing area in order to include the principal sales areas of handlers so situated.

On the whole it appears that additional problems would be created by adoption of the proposal which would be more serious than those encountered under the marketing area as presently defined. The proposal should therefore not be adopted at this time.

3. The order should not be amended at this time to restrict milk to be pooled to that received at approved plants from which a minimum percentage of receipts are disposed of as Class I milk in the marketing area.

The order currently prices and includes in the computation of the uniform price to producers the qualified receipts of all plants approved by health authorities which operate routes in the marketing area or act as receiving stations for such plants. It was proposed that an approved plant be required to dispose of 20 percent of its qualified receipts as Class I milk in the marketing area in order for its receipts to be pooled.

There are currently no plants operating in the Tulsa market which would be affected by the proposal. The expressed purpose of the proponents was to prevent receipts of outside plants with considerable surplusses of milk from being pooled on the basis of token sales in the marketing area with a resulting reduction in the uniform price of the order. The record, however, shows little likelihood of such an occurrence in the near future. The need for the proposal shown on the record was to a considerable extent based on the situation that would have resulted from adoption of proposals to expand the marketing area. The base-excess plan of distributing returns to Tulsa producers would protect the returns of regular producers if plants with surplus production enter the market in April, May, or June.

4. Location adjustments to handlers and to producers should be modified with respect to the facilities at which they apply and to the method of determining the volume of milk for which adjustment credit to the handler shall be computed.

Under the present order location adjustments apply with respect to milk received from producers at receiving stations or receiving platforms located 35 or more miles from the city hall in Tulsa. There is no longer need for providing these adjustments at receiving platforms. The milk collected at such platforms is actually transported to Tulsa plants in the producer's cans and weighed and sampled there. There is, however, at least one case where milk collected at such platform has at times in the past been diverted directly to a manufacturing plant located in the immediate vicinity. In order to maintain returns to such producers relative to other producers on the basis presently provided for provision is included for location adjustments to producers on milk diverted to unapproved plants located 35 miles or more from Tulsa.

Location adjustments should apply to milk received at any approved plant, including a bottling plant, rather than be restricted to that received at receiving stations. At the present time, the only Tulsa plant now located more than 35 miles from the city hall in Tulsa is a receiving station. However, in the event a bottling plant so located should enter distribution in the Tulsa marketing area, the present provisions of the order would result in returns to producers delivering to such a plant differing from returns to producers delivering to a receiving station similarly located.

The present order provides that location adjustment credits to handlers be computed on the volume of milk moved from the receiving station at which the credit applies to an approved plant in the marketing area in the form of milk, skim milk or cream. If such adjustments are to apply at bottling plants located outside the marketing area some other basis must be considered for determining the volume for which credits should be computed for the handler.

The volume of milk classified as Class I milk provides an adequate basis for determining location adjustment credits due a handler with a bottling plant located in the area to which location adjustments apply. Accordingly provision is made that location adjustment credits to handlers apply on the volume of milk moved to and received at an approved plant located in the marketing area in the form of milk, skim milk or cream, and to that which is classified as Class I milk without such movement.

5. Aerated products containing milk or cream should be classified as Class II milk rather than as Class I milk.

Aerated products containing milk or cream are not now required by the health authorities of the Tulsa market to be made from inspected milk. Tulsa handlers secure these products in manufactured form from outside plants. It is concluded that such products should be classified as Class II milk with other manufactured dairy products for which local inspection is not required.

6. The order should not be amended to allocate increased amounts of other source milk to Class I in periods of short supply.

Current provisions of the Tulsa milk order allocate other source milk to Class I only after all receipts of producer milk (other than allowable plant loss) have been allocated to Class I. Handlers proposed that whenever producer receipts were less than Class I sales, other source milk in an amount equal to the difference between producer milk and 110 percent of Class I sales in a handler's plant should be allocated to Class I before producer milk was so allocated.

Much of the testimony offered in support of this proposal related to periods in which changes in supplies or sales within a month resulted in handlers importing supplies of approved other source milk during part of a month when producer receipts over the entire month were such that all Class I sales were allocated to producer milk. The proposal made would not, however, be effective under such circumstances.

Any proposal to allocate additional other source milk to Class I milk would reduce the uniform price of the order and therefore lessen the incentive to supply milk in the short season of the year. Such a provision should not be included in the Tulsa order under present supply conditions.

General findings. (a) The proposed marketing agreement and the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for milk, in the marketing area and the minimum prices specified in the proposed marketing agreement and the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(c) The proposed order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and will be applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Rulings on proposed findings and conclusions. Briefs were filed on behalf of the Producers Association, handlers subject to the order and other interested parties.

The briefs contained statements of fact, proposed findings and conclusions, and arguments with respect to the provisions of the proposed amendments. Every point covered in the briefs was carefully considered along with the evidence in the record in making the findings and reaching the conclusions hereinbefore set forth. To the extent that the findings and conclusions proposed in the briefs are inconsistent with the findings and conclusions contained herein, the request to make such findings or to reach such conclusions in denied on the basis of the facts found and stated in connection with the conclusions in this recommended decision.

Recommended marketing agreement and amendments to the order. The following amendments to the order are recommended as the detailed and appropriate means by which the foregoing conclusions may be carried out. The recommended marketing agreement is not included in this decision because the regulatory provisions thereof would be identical with those contained in the order as hereby proposed to be amended.

1. Delete § 906.51 (a) and substitute therefor the following:

(a) Class I milk. The basic formula price plus $1.45 during the months of April, May and June and plus $1.85 during all other months: Provided, That for each of the months of September, October, November and December, such price shall not be less than that for the preceding month, and that for each of the months of April, May and June such price shall be not more than that for the preceding month. To this price add or subtract a "supply-demand adjustment" computed as follows:

(1) Divide the total receipts of producer milk in the first and second months preceding by the total gross volume of Class I milk (excluding interhandler transfers and sales by producer-handlers and handlers partially exempt from this order pursuant to § 906.61) for the same months, multiply the result by 100, and round to the nearest whole number. The result shall be known as the Class I utilization percentage;

Month for which price applies	Months used in computation	Standard utilization percentage
January	November-December	108
February	December-January	110
March	January-February	112
April	February-March	114
May	March-April	117
June	April-May	120
July	May-June	127
August	June-July	127
September	July-August	134
October	August-September	128
November	September-October	119
December	October-November	109

(3) For each minus percentage point in excess of 2 in the "net utilization percentage" the Class I price shall be increased 3 cents in January, February, March, July and August; 2 cents in April, May and June; 4 cents in September, October, and November and December; and for each plus percentage point in excess of 2 in the "net utilization percentage" the Class I price shall be decreased 3 cents in January, February, March, July and August; 4 cents in April, May and June; and 2 cents in September, October, November and December: Provided, That in no event shall an adjustment made pursuant to this subparagraph exceed 50 cents per hundredweight.

2. Amend § 906.22 (j) (1) to read as follows:

(1) On or before the 12th day of each month the minimum price for Class I milk computed pursuant to § 906.51 (a) and the Class I butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 906.52 (a) both for the current month; and on or before the 5th day of each month the minimum price for Class II milk pursuant to § 906.51 (b) and the Class II butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 906.52 (b), both for the previous month; and

3. Delete § 906.41 (a) and substitute therefor the following:

(a) Class I milk shall be skim milk (including reconstituted skim milk) and butterfat disposed of in the form of milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk, flavored milk drinks, cream, cultured sour cream, any mixture (except bulk ice cream mix) of cream and milk or skim milk, and all skim milk and butterfat not specifically accounted for under paragraph (b) of this section;

4. Delete § 906.53 and substitute therefor the following:

§ 906.53 Location adjustment credit to handlers. For that portion of milk which is (a) received directly from producers at an approved plant located 35 or more miles from City Hall in Tulsa by shortest hard-surfaced highway distance, as determined by the market administrator, and (b) is either (1) moved to and received at an approved plant located in the marketing area in the form of milk, skim milk or cream, or (2) is classified as Class I milk without such movement, the prices specified in § 906.51 shall be subject to a location adjustment credit to the handler, computed as follows:

Distance from the City Hall in Tulsa:	Cents per Hundredweight
35 to 50 miles	15
50.1 to 65 miles	17
65.1 to 80 miles	19
80.1 to 95 miles	21
95.1 miles or over	23

5. Delete § 906.81 and substitute therefor the following:

§ 906.81 Location adjustment to producers. In making payments to producers pursuant to § 906.80, each handler may deduct per hundredweight of milk received from producers at an approved plant, or diverted to an unapproved plant, either of which is located 35 or more miles from the City Hall in Tulsa by shortest hard-surfaced highway distance, as determined by the market administrator, the applicable amounts set forth below:

Distance from the City Hall in Tulsa:	Cents per hundredweight
35 to 50 miles	15
50.1 to 65 miles	17
65.1 to 80 miles	19
80.1 to 95 miles	21
95.1 miles or over	23

[Suspension Order 7; Docket No. 8]

M & B METAL PRODUCTS CO. ET AL.

ORDER OF MODIFICATION

This is a proceeding arising from an application by the respondents to revoke or modify Suspension Order No. 7, Docket No. 8. An oral argument was heard on this petition before me on December 3, 1952, there being present Mr. M. M. Magnus, a partner in the respondent firm, Mr. R. Ray Troutman, from the Consumers' Durable Goods Division of the National Production Authority, and Jonathan B. Rintels, Esquire, from the Office of General Counsel.

It appears that of the 548 tons ordered to be repaid to the national economy by the respondents there will remain 123 tons to be repaid after the end of the fourth quarter of 1952. The repayment to this point has proceeded in accordance with the terms of the suspension order, and it appears from a letter from Paul W. Jones, District Manager, to the National Production Authority, dated December 1, 1952, that the respondent has fully cooperated under the terms of the suspension order.

It was stated by Mr. Troutman, and agreed to by Mr. Magnus, that the respondents have received supplemental allotments during 1952 in accordance with a memorandum to that effect in the file, dated November 26, 1952. The total allotment for the year is as follows:

	Tons
First quarter	285
Second quarter	309
Third quarter	206
Fourth quarter	192
Total	992

Mr. Magnus pleads hardship on the ground that his plant has been closed for 24 weeks out of the current year, having last closed on November 13th. Without relief for the fourth quarter it must remain closed until the first of the year. He seeks total relief from the suspension order or such modification as might be possible. He pleads the loss of customers and difficulty in getting them back. He asserts that the mills have the wire and that he could get the wire if tickets were issued to him.

On the side of the Government it was asserted that there are no unused tickets and that any material released to the respondents by modifying the suspension order could not be made available. I see no reason to disbelieve this statement by Mr. Troutman and hence proceed on the assumption that no current relief is possible because the material is not available.

After the first of the year, however, the situation will be somewhat different. Respondents are in position to self-certify for 115 tons for the first quarter of 1953 and upon application should be able to receive a supplemental allotment of 137 tons. If the suspension order continued in its present terms, repayment would be completed by the middle of March.

The Government asserts, and I heard no contradiction, that steel is in short supply for everyone. In view of the fact that respondents have been closed for almost half of the year of 1952, I am of the opinion that some relief is in order. Since none is possible for the remainder of the current quarter, I think it would be equitable both to the respondents and to the national economy to extend the repayment period and reduce the amounts of repayment. This can be effected by spreading the final repayment of the remaining 123 tons over the next 2 quarters instead of over the next 1, and by requiring a repayment of 75 tons in each of the first 2 quarters of 1953 or until the amount of 123 tons has been repaid.

The suspension order is modified in accordance with the following:

Order. And now, this fourth day of December 1952, the respondents' allotment of iron and steel products is hereby reduced in the amount of 50,000 pounds, or 25 tons per month, or a total of 75 tons for the first quarter of 1953, and also for the second quarter of 1953, or until the total reduction of 123 tons remaining after the end of the fourth quarter of 1952 shall have been effected.

In all other respects Suspension Order No. 7 remains unmodified.

Dated December 4, 1952.

By CURTIS BOK,
Deputy Chief Hearing Commissioner.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket Nos. G-1142, G-1508, G-2019, G-2074]

UNITED GAS PIPE LINE CO.

ORDER GRANTING MOTION FOR CONTINUANCE OF HEARING AND DENYING REQUEST FOR AMENDMENT OF ORDER ISSUED NOVEMBER 26, 1952, IN OTHER RESPECTS

DECEMBER 10, 1952.

On December 4, 1952, United Gas Pipe Line Company filed objections to paragraph (C) of the order issued November 26, 1952, requiring United to "go forward first with the presentation of its evidence" so far as the requirement relates to Docket No. G-1142.

On the same date United filed its motion for continuance of the hearing from December 15, 1952, to such date as may be just and proper under the circumstances referred to below.

It appears that prior to the issuance of the order in these proceedings the Louisiana Public Service Commission initiated a proceeding against United Gas Pipe Line Company respecting the rates of that company within the jurisdiction of the Louisiana Commission. The Louisiana Commission's proceeding is to be heard beginning December 15, 1952, which is the date fixed for the beginning of hearings in this Commission's proceedings.

By letter received December 5, 1952, the Louisiana Commission has requested that this Commission grant the postponement sought by United.

The Commission finds:

(1) Good cause has been shown for postponement of the hearing as hereinafter ordered.

(2) Orderly procedure requires that United shall go forward first with the presentation of its evidence in each of the dockets involved in these proceedings.

The Commission orders:

(A) The hearing now set for December 15, 1952, in the above-entitled matters be and the same is hereby postponed to February 2, 1953, said postponed hearing to be held in the Commission's Hearing Room, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., beginning at 10:00 a. m., e. s. t.

(B) United Gas Pipe Line Company's request for amendment of paragraph (C) of the order issued November 26, 1952, be and the same is hereby denied.

Date of issuance: December 11, 1952.

By the Commission.

[Docket Nos. G-1985, G-2013]

OHIO FUEL GAS CO.

ORDER DENYING REQUESTS FOR SHORTENED PROCEDURE, CONSOLIDATING PROCEEDINGS AND FIXING DATE OF HEARING

DECEMBER 9, 1952.

On June 30, 1952, the Ohio Fuel Gas Company (Applicant), an Ohio corporation having its principal place of business at Columbus, Ohio, filed an application in Docket No. G-1985, which was supplemented on September 29, 1952, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act authorizing the construction and operation of certain natural-gas facilities required in connection with the expansion of Applicant's underground storage operations, all as more fully described in said application, as supplemented, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission.

On July 28, 1952, Applicant filed an application in Docket No. G-2013, which was supplemented on September 25, 1952, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing the construction and operation of approximately 34.5 miles of natural-gas transmission pipeline consisting of 20-inch pipe and extending from a point of connection with the facilities of Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation near Johnstown, Ohio, and partially looping Applicant's existing Lines "B" and B-100 all as more fully described in said application, as supplemented, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission.

Due notice of the filing of said applications has been given, including publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER on July 17, 1952 (Docket No. G-1985) (17 F. R. 6572), and on August 20, 1952 (Docket No. G-2013) (17 F. R. 7610).

Applicant has requested that its applications be heard under the shortened procedure provided by § 1.32 (b) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.32 (b)) for noncontested proceedings.

It appears that the above-entitled proceedings involve common questions of law and fact with respect to the operation and expansion of Applicant's proposed Holmes Storage Area.

The Commission finds:

(1) Good cause has not been shown for granting Applicant's request that its applications in Docket Nos. G-1985 and G-2013 be heard under the shortened procedure as provided by the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and said request should be denied as hereinafter ordered.

(2) It is appropriate for carrying out the provisions of the Natural Gas Act and good cause exists for consolidating the above proceedings for purpose of hearing.

The Commission orders:

(A) The Ohio Fuel Gas Company's request that its applications in Docket Nos. G–1985 and G–2013 be heard under the shortened procedure provided by § 1.32 (b) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure [18 CFR 1.32 (b)] be and the same hereby is denied.

[Docket No. G–2090]

CHICAGO DISTRICT PIPELINE CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

DECEMBER 10, 1952.

Take notice that on November 18, 1952, Chicago District Pipeline Company (Applicant), an Illinois corporation having its principal place of business in Joliet, Illinois, filed an application pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the construction and operation of certain natural-gas transmission pipeline facilities and for an order authorizing the abandonment of certain other such facilities, all as more fully hereinafter described.

The facilities which Applicant seeks authorization to construct and operate are as follows: (1) A section of 36-inch pipeline to be constructed from a point at the city limits of the City of Chicago and on Applicant's right-of-way, at which point said pipeline will connect with a 36-inch pipeline to be constructed by Peoples Gas from its Crawford Station, thence southwesterly from said point approximately 3.4 miles to a point on its right-of-way near the east bank of the Des Plaines River; (2) a 24-inch submerged pipeline to be constructed across the Des Plaines River, approximately .3 mile; (3) a section of 30-inch pipeline to be constructed from a point of connection with said 24-inch river crossing near the west bank of the Des Plaines River southwesterly to the junction of Applicant's Crawford and Calumet pipelines in Will County, Illinois, approximately 31.2 miles; (4) moving the Weber Road Regulating Station to Willow Springs (5) installing additional regulating and metering facilities at Crawford Station delivery point to Peoples Gas. The proposed new facilities will also include cross connections with the present dual Crawford pipeline at seven locations and the appropriate valves in connection therewith.

The facilities which Applicant seeks to abandon includes the following: Approximately 3.4 miles of 20-inch pipeline extending east from the Des Plaines River to the city limits of the City of Chicago, Illinois, and the existing 0.3 mile overhead 20-inch pipeline across the Des Plaines River.

Applicant's proposed new construction will enlarge the capacity of its existing transportation system and will enable the Applicant to meet increasing gas requirements of existing customers.

The estimated cost of Applicant's proposed facilities approximates $5,500,000 which will be financed through funds to be borrowed from its parent company, The Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company.

Applicant has requested that its application be heard under the shortened procedure pursuant to § 1.32 (b) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the 29th day of December 1952. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

PUBLIC UTILITY DISTRICT NO. 2 OF GRANT COUNTY, EPHRATA, WASH.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR PRELIMINARY PERMIT

DECEMBER 11, 1952.

Public notice is hereby given that Public Utility District No. 2 of Grant County, Ephrata, Washington, has made application for preliminary permit under the provisions of the Federal Power Act (16 U. S. C. 791–825r) for a proposed hydroelectric project, designated as Project No. 2114 and to be known as the Priest Rapids Project, to be located on the Columbia River, in Chelan, Douglas Kittitas, Grant, Yakima, and Benton Counties, Washington, and affecting lands of the United States. The project would comprise a dam across Columbia River at about mile 397, forming a reservoir extending upstream about 56 miles to the tailwater of Rock Island Project; a concrete spillway occupying the present channel, a stilling pool, and sluiceways through the dam; provisions for future installation of navigation locks; suitable fish ladders for passing migratory fish; a powerhouse to contain an initial installation of 23 turbine-generator units of 75,000 horsepower capacity each and ultimate installation of 30 turbine-generator units aggregating 2,250,000 horsepower (1,590,000 kw); and appurtenant facilities.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure of the Commission (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before February 5, 1953. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

GULF POWER CO.

ORDER GRANTING AUTHORITY TO ISSUE AND SELL SHORT TERM UNSECURED NOTES

DECEMBER 10, 1952.

Gulf Power Company ("Gulf Power"), a public utility subsidiary of the Southern Company, a registered holding company, having filed a declaration pursuant to sections 6 (a) and 7 of the act and Rules U-20, U-23 and U-24, promulgated thereunder, with respect to the following proposed transactions:

Gulf Power proposes to issue and sell from time to time prior to June 1, 1953, up to $4,000,000 principal amount of short term bank loan notes to fifteen banks, whose participations are designated in the filing. The notes will mature not later than nine months from the dates of issue and will bear interest at the current rate for nine-month bank loans at the time of their issuance, which rate is 3 percent at the present time. In the event that the interest rate is in excess of 3¼ percent per annum at the time any of said notes is to be issued, Gulf will file an amendment to this filing stating the rate of interest and other details of the note or notes at least 5 days prior to the execution and delivery thereof.

Declarant states that the proceeds to be derived from the sale of these notes will be used to finance improvements, extensions and additions to its utility plant or to reimburse its treasury, in part, for expenditures incurred for such purposes. Gulf proposes to retire the notes out of the proceeds from the sale of additional securities of a type and in an amount not yet determined.

It is represented that no State Commission or any other Federal Commission has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

Declarant estimates that the expenses in connection with the proposed transactions will not exceed $500.

Due notice having been given of the filing of the declaration, and a hearing not having been requested of or ordered by the Commission; and the Commission finding that the applicable provisions of the act and the rules promulgated thereunder are satisfied and that no adverse findings are necessary, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers that said declaration be permitted to become effective forthwith:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, that said declaration be, and it hereby is, permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

By the Commission.

PORTSMOUTH STEEL CORP.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

DECEMBER 11, 1952.

Notice is hereby given that Portsmouth Steel Corporation (Portsmouth) has filed an application pursuant to section 6 (c) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 for exemption from the provisions of section 7 (a) of the act with respect to those acts or practices which, if done or performed by a registered investment company, would not violate or contravene any of the provisions of the Act, subject to the condition under section 6 (c) of the act that Portsmouth shall be subject to the provisions of sections 9 (except that subsections 9 (a) (2) and 9 (a) (3) shall apply only with respect to an injunction based upon acts committed after the entry of an order hereunder), 10 (f), 17 (a), (b) and (e) (to the extent only of transactions involving the cash or securities owned by Portsmouth or any securities issued by Portsmouth), 17 (f) through (i), 20 (a), 21, 25, 30 (d) (to the extent that reports shall be filed annually rather than semi-annually), 30 (f), 36, 37 and 47, and subject to the further condition that for the purpose of the exemption herein requested those acts and practices relating to the negotiation and/or consummation of a transaction which, if consummated, would remove Portsmouth from the definition of an investment company or would entitle it to an exemption from the Act, should not be deemed to violate or contravene sections 13 (a) (4), 23 (a) (2) or 23 (b) (if the transaction involves an issue of securities for property other than cash or securities within the meaning of section 23 (a) (2)).

The application states as a basis for the requested exemptions, as follows:

Portsmouth was incorporated under the laws of Ohio on May 23, 1946. It commenced business on July 1, 1946, by the purchase of the Portsmouth Works of the Wheeling Steel Corporation which it continued to operate until the sale of such facilities late in 1949 to Detroit Steel Corporation (Detroit). The sale to Detroit was finally completed on or about February 15, 1950, when the final adjustment was made in the purchase price on the basis of book values as reflected by a year end audit. Portsmouth received for such physical assets 289,289 shares of Detroit common stock, having a market value at December 31, 1949, of $6,653,647, and cash in the amount of $5,805,939.

The decision to sell Portsmouth's physical assets arose from a conclusion (supported by an independent engineering firm) that it would be highly desirable to procure additional steel finishing facilities. As part of the agreement of sale Detroit agreed to carry out the expansion program initiated by Portsmouth, has greatly expanded the Portsmouth Works and is presently engaged in a large additional program of expansion.

Portsmouth owns 24.4 percent of Detroit's common stock and three of the nine members of Detroit's board of directors were nominated by Portsmouth including William R. Daley, a director and vice president and treasurer of Portsmouth. No other stockholder of Detroit owns more than 11 percent of its stock. Portsmouth owns 10.4 percent of the outstanding common stock of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Company (Cleveland-Cliffs) and Cyrus S. Eaton, Chairman of the Board and President of Portsmouth, is one of the 14 members of the Board of Directors of Cleveland-Cliffs. Portsmouth purchased 2,500 shares of the Series B, 5 percent cumulative convertible preferred stock of Steep Rock Iron Mines, Ltd. (Steep Rock), a Canadian corporation, pursuant to a contract made in July 1949. Payments and deliveries were made for 1,250 shares in August 1949, 625 shares in March 1950, and 625 shares in March 1952. All of these companies are connected with the steel and iron business and Portsmouth's officers and directors spend probably a major portion of their time working on matters pertaining to them.

At the time of Portsmouth's organization its authorized common stock was 2,500,000 shares of which 1,327,500 shares were sold for cash at $10 a share to net Portsmouth approximately $12,150,000 or about $9.15 a share. At the end of 1949 the net worth of Portsmouth, as an operating steel company, had increased to $21,750,000. Based upon the market values of security investments, including the Detroit stock, Portsmouth's net worth was $23,031,168 at the end of 1949 and $25,801,499 at the end of 1951. The 1,246,010 common shares outstanding at the end of 1951 thus had a net worth of about $20.71 a share. Included in the net worth at the end of 1951 were Portsmouth's holdings, valued at market, of Detroit stock in the amount of $9,582,698, Cleveland-Cliffs in the amount of $5,627,672, and Steep Rock in the amount of $390,625 (1,875 shares). Dividends aggregating $4,244,918 were paid to the end of 1949 and an additional aggregate of $3,755,835 was paid to the end of 1951. Portsmouth has 6,900 stockholders and approximately 25 percent of its stock is held by officers, directors or interests with which they are associated.

It was the intention of the management of Portsmouth at time of organization to enter the steel business and it is now its intention to reenter the steel or some other related or unrelated business. It was never management's intention for Portsmouth to become an investment company, it has never held Portsmouth out as an investment company, and it has repeatedly disclaimed such intention. Pursuant to this policy, Portsmouth's management has from time to time considered and is continually alert and on the lookout for, other opportunities.

Aside from the Steep Rock acquisition pursuant to prior commitment as noted above, Portsmouth has, since the completion of the sale of its physical assets, done the following acts:

1. In January 1951, Portsmouth settled with the holders of approximately 12,540 shares of its common stock who had dissented to the sale of its physical assets to Detroit and had filed suit for recovery of the fair market value of their shares, pursuant to the laws of Ohio. This involved the purchase and retirement of these shares and was in settlement of a statutory right of the stockholders incident to and connected with the sale of Portsmouth's physical assets to Detroit.

2. Held annual meetings of its stockholders in April, 1950, 1951, and 1952 and in connection therewith mailed to its stockholders the necessary notices and proxy solicitations.

3. Voted its stock in Detroit and Cleveland-Cliffs at stockholders' meetings.

4. Received dividends from its stock in Detroit and Cleveland-Cliffs.

5. Declared and paid dividends to its own stockholders.

6. Considered and negotiated concerning several proposals for reentering the steel or some related or unrelated business. As indicated, none of such proposals has yet been consummated.

7. Rendered financial assistance to the employees of the Cincinnati Inquirer in the purchase of that newspaper from the trustee under the will of John R. McLean.

Portsmouth contends that it is not an investment company within the meaning of section 3 (a) (3) of the act although admittedly Portsmouth's assets, exclusive of cash items and government securities, are more than 40 percent investment securities. Portsmouth submitted its application without prejudice to its right later, either before the Commission or other competent tribunal, to assert that it has not by any of the above-mentioned acts violated the provisions of section 7 (a) of the act.

Portsmouth is not aware of any circumstances which might furnish a possible occasion for injunctions of the type referred to in section 9 (a) (2) and (3) of the act other than (a) the injunction obtained in SEC v. Otis & Co., Civil Action No. 5433 (N. D. Ohio, E. D., 1936); (b) any injunction heretofore or hereafter obtained in SEC v. Otis & Co., Civil Action No. 28371 (N. D. Ohio, E. D. 1951); and (c) any possible injunction which might grow out of the controversy with respect to the 1948 Kaiser-Frazer underwriting.

Section 6 (c) of the act provides that the Commission, by order upon application, may conditionally or unconditionally exempt any person, security or transaction from any provision of the act, if and to the extent that such exemption is necessary or appropriate in the public interest and consistent with the protection of investors and the purposes fairly intended by the policy and provisions of the act.

Section 6 (e) of the act provides that in connection with any order exempting an investment company from any provisions of section 7, the Commission may specify that certain provisions of the act pertaining to registered investment companies shall be applicable in respect of such company, and to other persons in their transactions and relations with such company, as though such company were a registered investment company, if the Commission deems it necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors.

For a more detailed statement of the matters of fact and law asserted, all persons are referred to said application on file in the offices of the Commission in Washington, D. C.

Notice is further given that an order granting the application in whole or in part and upon such conditions as the Commission may deem necessary or appropriate may be issued by the Commission on or at any time after December 31, 1952, unless prior thereto a hearing upon the application is ordered by the Commission as provided in Rule N-5 of the general rules and regulations promulgated under the act. Any interested person may submit to the Commission in writing, not later than December 29, 1952, at 5:30 p. m., e. s. t., his views or any additional facts bearing upon this application or the desirability of a hearing thereon, or request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held thereon. Any such communication or request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C., and should state briefly the nature of the interest of the person submitting such information or requesting a hearing, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law raised by the application which he desires to controvert.

By the Commission.

[No. 31163]

LOUISIANA INTRASTATE FREIGHT RATES AND CHARGES

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 1, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 4th day of December A. D. 1952.

It appearing, that in the proceedings listed in Appendix A hereto the Commission authorized carriers subject to the Interstate Commerce Act parties thereto to make certain increases in their freight rates and charges for interstate application throughout the United States, and that increases under such authorizations have been made;

It further appearing, that a petition, dated October 16, 1952, has been filed on behalf of certain common carriers by railroad operating to, from and between points in the State of Louisiana, averring that the Louisiana Public Service Commission, by various orders in its cases Nos. 4763, 5068, and 5700, has refused to authorize or permit, in whole or in part, petitioners to apply to their rates on the commodities and services described in Appendix A hereto, increases corresponding to those increases approved for interstate applications in the proceedings listed; and alleging that such refusal causes and results in undue and unreasonable advantage, preference, and prejudice as between persons and localities in intrastate commerce, on the one hand, and interstate commerce, on the other hand, and in undue, unreasonable and unjust discrimination against interstate commerce in violation of sections 3, 13, and 15 (a) of the Interstate Commerce Act;

And it further appearing, that there have been brought in issue by the said petition rates and charges made or imposed by authority of the State of Louisiana; and that the Louisiana Public Service Commission, on November 10, 1952, filed an answer to said petition, and that the investigation hereinafter instituted responsive to the requirements of section 13 of the act is without prejudice to subsequent appropriate consideration on their merits of the arguments made in said answer:

It is ordered, That in response to the said petition, an investigation be, and it is hereby, instituted, and that a hearing be held therein for the purpose of receiving evidence from the respondents hereinafter designated and any other persons interested to determine whether the said rates and charges of the common carriers by railroad, or any of them, operating in the State of Louisiana, for intrastate transportation of property, made or imposed by authority of the State of Louisiana, cause or will cause, by reason of the failure of such rates and charges to include increases corresponding to those permitted by this Commission for interstate traffic in the proceedings listed in Appendix A hereto, any undue or unreasonable advantage, preference, or prejudice, as between persons or localities in intrastate commerce, on the one hand, and interstate or foreign commerce, on the other hand, or any undue, unreasonable, or unjust discrimination against interstate or foreign commerce; and to determine what rates and charges, if any, or what maximum, or minimum, or maximum and minimum rates and charges shall be prescribed to remove the unlawful advantage, preference, prejudice, or discrimination, if any, that may be found to exist;

It is further ordered, That all common carriers by railroad operating within the State of Louisiana which are subject to the jurisdiction of this Commission be, and they are hereby, made respondents to this proceeding; that a copy of this order be served upon each of the said respondents; and that the State of Louisiana be notified of the proceeding by sending copies of this order and of said petition by registered mail to the Governor of the said State and to the Louisiana Public Service Commission at Baton Rouge, La.;

It is further ordered, That notice of this proceeding be given to the public by depositing a copy of this order in the office of the Secretary of the Commission, at Washington, D. C., for public inspection, and by filing a copy with the Director, Division of the Federal Register, Washington, D. C.;

And it is further ordered, That this proceeding be, and the same is hereby, assigned for hearing February 5, 1953, at 9:30 o'clock a. m., U. S. Standard Time, at the rooms of the Louisiana Public Service Commission, Baton Rouge, La., before Examiner George B. Vandiver.

By the Commission, Division 1.

[No. 31164]

MISSISSIPPI INTRASTATE FREIGHT RATES AND CHARGES

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 1, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 5th day of December A. D. 1952.

It appearing, that a petition, dated October 16, 1952, as amended by petition dated November 21, 1952, has been filed on behalf of the Alabama Great Southern Railroad Company and other common carriers by railroad operating to, from and between points in the State of Mississippi, in interstate and intrastate commerce, averring that in Ex Parte No. 175, Increased Freight Rates, 1951, 280 I. C. C. 179, 281 I. C. C. 557, and 284 I. C. C. 589, the Commission authorized carriers subject to the Interstate Commerce Act parties thereto to make certain increases in their freight rates and charges for interstate application throughout the United States; and that increases under such authorizations have been made;

It further appearing, that the petitioners allege that the Mississippi Public Service Commission, by various orders, has refused to authorize or permit them to apply to the transportation of the following commodities, moving intrastate by railroad in Mississippi, increases in carload line-haul freight rates and charges thereon corresponding to those approved for interstate application in the proceeding above cited:

Cottonseed and products thereof.
Soya beans and products thereof.
Cattle feed made 65 percent or more of cottonseed or soya bean products.
Fertilizer and fertilizer materials.
Lumber and articles listed as taking the lumber rates.
Pulpwood.
Sand and gravel.
Cement.
Brick and related articles in brick list.
Refined petroleum in tank cars.

It further appearing, that the petitioners allege that such refusal causes and results in undue and unreasonable advantage, preference, and prejudice as between persons and localities in intrastate commerce, on the one hand, and interstate commerce, on the other hand, and in undue, unreasonable and unjust discrimination against interstate commerce in violation of section 13 (4) of the Interstate Commerce Act;

And it further appearing, that there have been brought in issue by the said petition, as amended, rates and charges made or imposed by authority of the State of Mississippi:

It is ordered, That, in response to the the said petition, an investigation be, and it is hereby, instituted, and that a hearing be held therein for the purpose of receiving evidence from the respondents hereinafter designated and any other persons interested to determine whether the rates and charges of the common carriers by railroad, or any of them, operating in the State of Mississippi for intrastate transportation of property, made or imposed by authority of the State of Mississippi, cause or will cause, by reason of the failure of such rates and charges to include increases corresponding to those permitted by this Commission for interstate traffic in said Ex Parte No. 175, Increased Freight Rates, 1951, supra, any undue or unreasonable advantage, preference, or prejudice, as between persons or localities in intrastate commerce, on the one hand, and interstate or foreign commerce, on the other hand, or any undue, unreasonable, or unjust discrimination against interstate or foreign commerce; and to determine what rates and charges, if any, or what maximum, or minimum, or maximum and minimum rates and charges shall be prescribed to remove the unlawful advantage, preference, prejudice, or discrimination, if any, that may be found to exist;

It is further ordered, That all common carriers by railroad operating within the State of Mississippi which are subject to the jurisdiction of this Commission be, and they are hereby, made respondents to this proceeding; that a copy of this order be served upon each of the said respondents; and that the State of Mississippi be notified of the proceeding by sending copies of this order and of said petition by registered mail to the Governor of the said State and to the Mississippi Public Service Commission at Jackson, Mississippi;

It is further ordered, That notice of this proceeding be given to the public by depositing a copy of this order in the office of the Secretary of the Commission, at Washington, D. C., for public inspection, and by filing a copy with the Director, Division of the Federal Register, Washington, D. C.;

And it is further ordered, That this proceeding be, and it is hereby, assigned for hearing February 2, 1953, 9:30 o'clock a. m., U. S. Standard Time, at the rooms of the Mississippi Public Service Commission, Woolfolk State Office Building, Jackson, Mississippi, before Examiner George B. Vandiver.

By the Commission, Division 1.

SUBPART B—UNITED STATES STANDARDS[1]

U. S. STANDARDS FOR GRADES OF CANNED MUSHROOMS

A notice of proposed rule making was published on October 17, 1952, in the FEDERAL REGISTER (17 F. R. 9204) regarding proposed United States Standards for Grades of Canned Mushrooms. After considering all relevant matters presented, including the proposals set forth in the aforesaid notice, the following United States Standards for Grades of Canned Mushrooms are hereby promulgated under the authority contained in the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087; 7 U. S. C. 1621, et seq.), and the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1953 (Pub. Law 451, 82d Cong., approved July 5, 1952).

§ 52.452 Canned mushrooms. "Canned mushrooms" means canned mushrooms as defined in the definitions and standards of identity for canned vegetables (21 CFR, Cum. Supp. 52.990, as amended, 17 F. R. 8176) issued pursuant to the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

(a) Color of canned mushrooms. (1) White or cream.

(2) Brown.

(b) Styles of canned mushrooms. (1) "Whole" or "whole mushrooms" means canned mushrooms consisting of the caps with the veils closed and with stems attached.

(2) "Button" or "button mushrooms" means canned mushrooms consisting of the caps with veils closed and with stems removed immediately below the veil.

(3) "Sliced whole" or "sliced whole mushrooms" means canned mushrooms consisting of slices of whole mushrooms which have been sliced parallel to the longitudinal axis.

(4) "Sliced button" or "sliced buttons" means canned mushrooms consisting of slices of buttons which have been sliced at right angles to the diameter of the cap.

(5) "Stems and pieces" means cut or broken portions of caps and stems.

(6) "Unit" means an individual mushroom or portion of a mushroom in canned mushrooms.

(c) Grades of canned mushrooms. (1) "U. S. Grade A" or "U. S. Fancy" is the quality of canned mushrooms that possess similar varietal characteristics; that possess a normal flavor and odor; that possess a good color; that are practically free from defects; that possess a good character; that are uniform in size and shape; and that for those factors which are scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this section the total score is not less than 85 points: Provided, That the canned mushrooms may be fairly uniform in size and shape if the total score is not less than 85 points.

(2) "U. S. Grade C" or "U. S. Standard" is the quality of canned mushrooms that possess similar varietal characteristics; that possess a normal flavor and odor; that possess a fairly good color; that are fairly free from defects; that possess a fairly good character; that are fairly uniform in size and shape; and that score not less than 70 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this section.

(3) "Substandard" is the quality of canned mushrooms that fail to meet the requirements of U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard.

(d) Sizes of mushrooms in whole and button mushrooms. (1) No. 0 (Midget) mushrooms will pass through a round opening ½ inch in diameter.

(2) No. 1 (Tiny) mushrooms will pass through a round opening ⅝ inch in diameter but will not pass through a round opening ½ inch in diameter.

(3) No. 2 (Small) mushrooms will pass through a round opening ⅞ inch in diameter but will not pass through a round opening ⅞ inch in diameter.

(4) No. 3 (Medium) mushrooms will pass through a round opening 1⅛ inches in diameter but will not pass through a round opening ⅞ inch in diameter.

(5) No. 4 (Large) mushrooms will pass through a round opening 1⅜ inches in diameter but will not pass through a round opening 1⅛ inches in diameter.

(6) No. 5 (Extra Large) mushrooms are those too large to pass through a round opening 1⅜ inches in diameter.

(e) Fill of container for canned mushrooms. The standard for fill of container for canned mushrooms is not incorporated in the grades of the finished product, since fill of container, as such, is not a factor of quality for the purpose of these grades. The standard of fill of containers is not less than 56 percent of the water capacity of the container if such capacity is less than 11.0 ounces avoirdupois; not less than 59 percent of the water capacity of the container if such capacity is 11.0 ounces or more but less than 25 ounces avoirdupois; and not less than 62 percent of the water capacity of the container if such capacity is 25 ounces avoirdupois or more. Canned mushrooms which do not meet this requirement are "Below standard in fill."

(f) Minimum drained weight. The minimum drained weights in Table No. I of this paragraph are not incorporated in the grades of the finished product since drained weight, as such, is not a factor of quality for the purpose of these grades. The drained weight of canned mushrooms is determined by emptying the contents of the container upon a United States Standard No. 8 circular sieve of proper diameter so as to distribute the product evenly, inclining the sieve slightly to facilitate drainage, and allowing to drain for two minutes. The drained weight is the weight of the sieve and mushrooms less the weight of the dry sieve. A sieve 8 inches in diameter is used for No. 2½ size cans (401" x 411") and smaller and a sieve 12 inches in diameter is used for containers larger than the No. 2½ size can.

(g) Ascertaining the grade. (1) The grade of canned mushrooms is ascertained by considering in conjunction with the requirements of the respective grade the respective ratings for the factors of color, uniformity of size and symmetry, absence of defects, and tenderness.

(2) The relative importance of each factor which is scored is expressed numerically on the scale of 100. The maximum number of points that may be given each such factor is:

Factors:	Points
(i) Color	30
(ii) Uniformity of size and shape	20
(iii) Absence of defects	30
(iv) Character	20
Total score	100

(3) "Normal flavor and odor" means that the product is free from objectionable flavors and objectionable odors of any kind.

(h) Ascertaining the rating for the factors which are scored. The essential variations within each factor which is scored are so described that the value may be ascertained for each factor and expressed numerically. The numerical range within each factor which is scored is inclusive (for example, "17 to 20 points" means 17, 18, 19, or 20 points).

(1) Color. (i) Canned mushrooms that possess a good color may be given a score of 26 to 30 points. "Good color" means that the canned mushrooms possess a color that is practically uniform, bright, and typical of canned mushrooms produced from mushrooms of similar varietal characteristics and meet the following additional requirements for the respective color:

(a) "White" or "cream." The color of the surface of the cap of the individual mushroom or portion of mushroom of white or cream varieties is not lighter in color than Plate 10, F–2, and is not darker in color than Plate 11, I–5, as illustrated in Maerz and Paul's Dictionary of Color.[2]

(b) "Brown." The color of the surface of the cap of the individual mushroom or portion of mushroom of brown varieties is not lighter in color than Plate 11, J–6, and is not darker than Plate 13, K–7, as illustrated in Maerz and Paul's Dictionary of Color.[2]

(ii) Canned mushrooms that possess a fairly good color may be given a score of 22 to 25 points. Canned mushrooms that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly good color" means that the canned mushrooms possess a color that is typical of canned mushrooms produced from mushrooms of similar varietal characteristics and that the product may be dull but not to the extent that the appearance is seriously affected and meet the following additional requirements for the respective colors:

(a) "White" or "cream." The color of the surface of the cap of the individual mushroom or portion of mushroom of white or cream varieties may be lighter in color than Plate 10, F–2, but not excessively white, and may be slightly darker in color than Plate 11, I–5: Provided, That the gills of none of the units are darker than Plate 14, K–8, as illustrated in Maerz and Paul's Dictionary of Color.[2]

(b) "Brown." The color of the surface of the cap of the individual mushroom or portion of mushroom of brown varieties may be lighter in color than Plate 11, J–6, but not excessively light, and may be darker in color than Plate 13, K–7: Provided, That the gills of none of the units are darker than Plate 14,

[2] First edition.

K–8, as illustrated in Maerz and Paul's Dictionary of Color.[2]

(iii) Canned mushrooms that fail to meet the requirements of subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 21 points and shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(2) Uniformity of size and shape. (i) Canned mushrooms that are practically uniform in size and shape may be given a score of 17 to 20 points. "Practically uniform in size and shape" has the following meanings with respect to the various styles of canned mushrooms:

(a) Whole mushrooms. The stems are cut transversely and the diameter of the largest cap does not exceed the diameter of the smallest cap by more than 1/8 inch. The units shall be practically uniform in shape.

(b) Button mushrooms. The stems are cut transversely so that the distance from the top of the cap to the end of the stem does not exceed the diameter of the cap, and the diameter of the largest cap does not exceed the diameter of the smallest cap by more than 1/8 inch. The units shall be practically uniform in shape.

(c) Sliced whole mushrooms. The length of the longest center slice does not exceed the length of the shortest center slice by more than 3/8 inch and the presence of irregular shaped units does not materially affect the appearance of the product.

(d) Sliced buttons. The length of the longest center slice does not exceed the length of the shortest center slice by more than 3/8 inch and the presence of irregular shaped units does not materially affect the appearance of the product.

(e) Stems and pieces. Stems and pieces may be irregular in size and shape: Provided, That the presence of very small pieces does not materially affect the appearance of the product.

(ii) If the canned mushrooms are fairly uniform in size and shape a score of 13 to 16 points may be given. "Fairly uniform in size and shape" has the following meanings with respect to the various styles of canned mushrooms:

(a) Whole mushrooms. The stems are cut transversely and the diameter of the largest cap does not exceed the diameter of the smallest cap by more than 1/4 inch. The units shall be fairly uniform in shape.

(b) Button mushrooms. The stems are cut transversely so that not more than 10 percent, by count, of the mushrooms have stems of such length that the distance from the tip of the cap to the end of the stem exceeds the diameter of the cap, and the diameter of the largest cap does not exceed the diameter of the smallest cap by more than 1/4 inch. The units shall be fairly uniform in shape.

(c) Sliced whole mushrooms. The length of the longest center slice does not exceed the length of the shortest center slice by more than 5/8 inch and the presence of irregular shaped units does not seriously affect the appearance of the product.

(d) Sliced buttons. The length of the longest center slice does not exceed the length of the shortest center slice by more than 5/8 inch and the presence of irregular shaped units does not seriously affect the appearance of the product.

(e) Stems and pieces. Stems and pieces may be irregular in size and shape.

(iii) Canned mushrooms that fail to meet the requirements of subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 12 points and shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(3) Absence of defects. (i) The factor of absence of defects refers to the degree of freedom from units which are damaged or seriously damaged.

(a) "Damaged" means damaged by discoloration, pathological injury, insect injury, mechanical injury, or damaged by other means to such an extent that the appearance or eating quality of the unit is materially affected. (Knife marks resulting from the preparation of sliced whole or sliced button mushrooms are not considered mechanical injury.)

(b) "Seriously damaged" means damaged to such an extent that the appearance or eating quality of the unit is seriously affected.

(ii) Canned mushrooms that are practically free from defects may be given a score of 25 to 30 points. "Practically free from defects" means that there may be present not more than 5 percent, by weight, of damaged or seriously damaged units: Provided, That not more than 1 percent, by weight, of all the units, or 1 unit, whichever is greater, may be seriously damaged units.

(iii) If the canned mushrooms are fairly free from defects, a score of 22 to 24 points may be given. Canned mushrooms that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly free from defects" means that there may be present not more than 20 percent, by weight, of damaged or seriously damaged units: Provided, That not more than 2 percent, by weight, of all the units, or 2 units, whichever is greater, may be seriously damaged units.

(iv) Canned mushrooms that fail to meet the requirements of subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 21 points and shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(4) Character. (i) The factor of character refers to the tenderness and texture of the canned mushrooms and the development of the cap.

(a) "Closed veil" means that the membrane which extends from the inner edge of the cap to the stem practically covers the gills.

(ii) Canned mushrooms that possess a good character may be given a score of 17 to 20 points. "Good character" means that the units are intact, practically all are tender and free from fibrous or rubbery units, and that with respect to whole and button mushrooms at least 95 percent, by weight, of all the units possess closed veils.

(iii) If the canned mushrooms have a fairly good character a score of 13 to 16 points may be given. Canned mushrooms that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly good character" means that the units are reasonably intact, may be fairly tender and reasonably free from fibrous or rubbery units, and that with respect to whole and button mushrooms at least 90 percent, by weight, of all the units possess closed veils.

(iv) Canned mushrooms that fail to meet the requirements of subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 12 points and shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(i) Tolerance for certification of officially drawn samples. (1) When certifying samples that have been officially drawn and which represent a specific lot of canned mushrooms, the grade for such lot will be determined by averaging the total scores of all containers, if:

(i) Not more than one-sixth of the containers comprising the sample fails to meet all the requirements of the indicated grade by reason of a limiting rule, the average score of all containers in the sample for the factor, subject to such limiting rule, must be within the range for the grade indicated;

(ii) None of the containers comprising the sample falls more than 4 points below the minimum score for the grade indicated by the average of the total scores; and

(iii) All containers comprising the sample meet all applicable standards of quality promulgated under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and in effect at the time of the aforesaid certification.

Chapter IX—Production and Marketing Administration (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

PART 900—GENERAL REGULATIONS

SUBPART—MISCELLANEOUS REGULATIONS

DISCLOSURES OF INFORMATION

By virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and by Executive Order No. 10199, December 22, 1950 (15 F. R. 9217), the miscellaneous regulations, as amended (7 CFR 900.200 et seq.), issued under section 10 (c) of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, are hereby further amended as follows:

1. Delete the first paragraph of § 900.210 and substitute therefor the following:

§ 900.210 Disclosures of information. All information in the possession of any official which relates to the business or property of any person, and which was furnished by, or obtained from, such person pursuant to the provisions of any marketing agreement or marketing order, shall be kept confidential and shall not be disclosed, divulged, or made public, unless otherwise expressly provided in said marketing agreement or marketing order, or unless said person authorizes said official, in writing, to disclose such information, except that:

2. Delete § 900.210 (d) and substitute therefor the following:

(d) Such information may be disclosed upon lawful demand made by the President or by either House of Congress or any committee thereof, or, if the Secretary determines that such disclosure is not contrary to the public interest, such information may be disclosed in response to a subpena by any court of competent jurisdiction.

(Sec. 10, 48 Stat. 37, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 610)

Done at Washington, D. C., this 12th day of December 1952.

PART 933—ORANGES, GRAPEFRUIT, AND TANGERINES GROWN IN FLORIDA

APPROVAL OF EXPENSES AND FIXING OF RATE OF ASSESSMENT FOR 1952–53 FISCAL PERIOD

On November 15, 1952, notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (17 F. R. 10475) regarding the expenses and the fixing of the rate of assessment for the 1952–53 fiscal period under Marketing Agreement No. 84, as amended, and Order No. 33, as amended (7 CFR Part 933), regulating the handling of oranges, grapefruit, and tangerines grown in the State of Florida. This regulatory program is effective pursuant to the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended. After consideration of all relevant matters presented, including the proposals set forth in the aforesaid notice, which were submitted by the Growers Administrative Committee (established pursuant to the amended marketing agreement and order), it is hereby found and determined that:

§ 933.206 Expenses and rate of assessment for the 1952–1953 fiscal period. (a) (1) The expenses necessary to be incurred by the Growers Administrative Committee established pursuant to the provisions of the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, for the maintenance and functioning, during the fiscal period beginning August 1, 1952, and ending July 31, 1953, both dates inclusive, of the Growers Administrative Committee and the Shippers Advisory Committee, established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, will amount to $152,000, and the rate of assessment to be paid by each handler shall be four mills ($0.004) per standard packed box of fruit shipped by such handler during the said fiscal period; and such rate of assessment is hereby approved as each handler's pro rata share of the aforesaid expenses.

(2) Notwithstanding the approval of the aforesaid expenses, none of such funds may be used to pay any wage or salary that is inconsistent with the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order No. 10161, or any supplementary order, directive, or regulation pursuant thereto.

(b) As used in this section, the terms "standard packed box," "handler," "shipped," and "fruit" shall have the same meaning as is given to each such term in said amended marketing agreement and order.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c)

Done at Washington, D. C., this 12th day of December 1952, to be effective 30 days after the date of publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

[SEAL] CHARLES F. BRANNAN,
Secretary of Agriculture.

PART 994—PECANS GROWN IN GEORGIA, ALABAMA, FLORIDA, MISSISSIPPI, AND SOUTH CAROLINA

EXPENSES OF PECAN ADMINISTRATIVE COMMITTEE AND RATE OF ASSESSMENT FOR FISCAL PERIOD BEGINNING OCTOBER 1, 1952

Notice of proposed rule making with respect to expenses of the Pecan Administrative Committee and rate of assessment for the fiscal period beginning October 1, 1952 was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of November 11, 1952 (17 F. R. 10272), pursuant to provisions of Marketing Agreement No. 111 and Order No. 94, regulating the handling of pecans grown in Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, and South Carolina (7 CFR 1951 Supp., Part 994), effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.). In said notice opportunity was afforded interested persons to submit to the Department written data, views, or arguments for consideration prior to issuance of the final rule. No such documents were received during the time specified in the notice.

It is hereby found and determined that it is unnecessary and contrary to the public interest to delay the effective date of the order contained herein for thirty (30) days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER for the reasons that (1) it is necessary that the Pecan Administrative Committee be authorized to collect assessments from handlers to defray expenses incurred in administering the marketing agreement and order during the current fiscal period and the establishment of a rate of assessment is necessary to such collection; (2) the handling of assessable inshell pecans of the 1952 crop has begun; and (3) the order herein will require no special preparation by handlers or the Pecan Administrative Committee.

Notwithstanding the approval of the aforesaid expenses none of such funds may be used to pay any wage or salary that is inconsistent with the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order No. 10161, or any supplementary order, directive, or regulation pursuant thereto.

Therefore, after consideration of all relevant matters, it is hereby found and determined that the expenses of the Pecan Administrative Committee and rate of assessment shall be as follows:

§ 994.303 Expenses for the fiscal period beginning October 1, 1952, and rate of assessment—(a) Expenses. Expenses in the amount of $30,800 are reasonable and likely to be incurred by the Pecan Administrative Committee for its maintenance and functioning during the fiscal period beginning October 1, 1952; and

(b) Rate of assessment. The rate of assessment to be paid, in accordance with the applicable provisions of said marketing agreement and order, by each handler who first handles unshelled pecans shall be 22 cents per hundred pounds of assessable unshelled pecans handled by him as the first handler thereof during the fiscal period beginning October 1, 1952.

TITLE 9—ANIMALS AND ANIMAL PRODUCTS

Chapter I—Bureau of Animal Industry, Department of Agriculture

Subchapter C—Interstate Transportation of Animals and Poultry

[B. A. I. Order 383, Amdt. 3]

PART 76—HOG CHOLERA, SWINE PLAGUE, AND OTHER COMMUNICABLE SWINE DISEASES

CHANGES IN AREAS QUARANTINED BECAUSE OF VESICULAR EXANTHEMA

Pursuant to the authority conferred by sections 1 and 3 of the act of March 3, 1905, as amended (21 U. S. C. 123 and 125), sections 1 and 2 of the act of February 2, 1903, as amended (21 U. S. C. 111 and 120), and section 7 of the act of May 29, 1884, as amended (21 U. S. C. 117), § 76.26 of Title 9, Code of Federal Regulations, containing a notice of the existence in certain areas of the swine disease known as vesicular exanthema and establishing a quarantine because of such disease, is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 76.26 Notice and quarantine. (a) Notice is hereby given that the contagious, infectious and communicable disease of swine known as vesicular exanthema exists in the following areas:

The State of California, except Modoc and Siskiyou Counties;

Hartford County, in Connecticut;

St. Clair County, in Illinois;

Bristol and Middlesex Counties, in Massachusetts;

Burlington, Camden, Gloucester, Hudson, Morris, and Ocean Counties, in New Jersey;

Albany and New York Counties and Clarkstown Township, in Rockland County, in New York;

Middlebury Heights Township in Cuyahoga County in Ohio;

Council Grove, Mustang, Oklahoma and Greeley Townships, in Oklahoma County, in Oklahoma;

Bucks, Delaware, Lehigh and York Counties, in Pennsylvania;

The State of Rhode Island;

(b) The Secretary of Agriculture, having determined that swine in the States named in paragraph (a) of this section are affected with the contagious, infectious and communicable disease known as vesicular exanthema and that it is necessary to quarantine the areas specified in paragraph (a) of this section and the following additional areas in such States in order to prevent the spread of said disease from such States, hereby quarantines the areas specified in paragraph (a) of this section and in addition:

Bergen, Essex, and Union Counties, in New Jersey;

Montgomery County, in Pennsylvania.

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective upon issuance. This amendment includes within the areas in which vesicular exanthema has been found to exist, and in which a quarantine has been established.

Middlesex County in Massachusetts;

Middlebury Heights Township in Cuyahoga County, in Ohio;

Lehigh County, in Pennsylvania.

Hereafter, all of the restrictions of the quarantine and regulations in 9 CFR Part 76, Subpart B, as amended (17 F. R. 10538) apply with respect to shipments of swine and carcasses, parts and offal of swine from these areas.

This amendment excludes from the areas in which vesicular exanthema has been found to exist, and in which a quarantine has been established.

Columbia Township, in Monroe County; Peoria and Limestone Townships, in Peoria County, in Illinois;

City of Baltimore, in Maryland;

Franklin and St. Louis Counties, in Missouri;

That part of Parker County lying north of U. S. Highway 180 and east of State Highway No. 51, in Texas.

Hereafter, none of the restrictions of the quarantine and regulations in 9 CFR Part 76, Subpart B, as amended (17 F. R. 10533) apply with respect to shipments of swine and carcasses, parts and offal of swine from these areas.

The foregoing amendment in part relieves restrictions presently imposed and must be made effective immediately to be of maximum benefit to persons subject to such restrictions. In part the amendment imposes further restrictions necessary to prevent the spread of vesicular exanthema, a communicable disease of swine, and to this extent it must be made effective immediately to accomplish its purpose in the public interest. Accordingly, under section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003) it is found upon good cause that notice and other public procedure with respect to the foregoing amendment are impracticable and contrary to the public interest and good cause is found for making the amendment effective less than 30 days after publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 12th day of December 1952.

TITLE 17—COMMODITY AND SECURITIES EXCHANGES

Chapter II—Securities and Exchange Commission

PART 230—GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS, SECURITIES ACT OF 1933

EXEMPTIONS RELATING TO FRACTIONAL UNDIVIDED INTERESTS IN OIL OR GAS RIGHTS

Under § 230.314 (Rule 314) as heretofore in effect, no exemption was available under Regulation B for any oil or gas interests unless it appeared that the operating lessee would own a 40 percent working interest in the tract at the conclusion of the sale of the issue to be offered. The reason for requiring the retention of such an interest was to make the exemption unavailable in cases where the operating lessee might sell out his interest in the tract and then abandon the project, leaving investors to shift for themselves.

The result of the rule has been to require registration of some very small issues in which no substantial public interest has been involved, merely because the operating lessee at the conclusion of the offering would not own a 40 percent working interest in the tract. Accordingly, the Commission has amended the requirement to make it inapplicable to issues not in excess of $20,000, provided the smallest interest separately offered is not offered for less than $300. In the case of issues exceeding that amount, the amended rule provides that the operating lessee need only retain a working interest equal to the total interest which is not subject to expenses or a 20 percent working interest, whichever is greater.

Statutory basis. The amendment is adopted pursuant to the Securities Act of 1933, particularly sections 3 (b) and 19 (a) thereof, the Commission deeming such action necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors and necessary to carry out the provisions of the act.

Section 230.314 (Rule 314) as so amended reads as follows:

§ 230.314 Exceptions to availability of exemption. (a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, no exemption shall be available under this regulation unless it appears that the operating lessee or lessees will own, unencumbered in his name or their names, upon completion of the sale of the issue, a working interest in the tract or tracts involved equal to whichever of the following amounts is greater: (1) 20 percent of the total production from such tract or tracts of all oil, gas or other hydrocarbon substances, or (2) the total percentage of production from such tract or tracts which is not subject to any portion of the expenses of development, operation or maintenance.

(b) Paragraph (a) of this section shall not apply if (1) the aggregate amount at which the issue is offered to the public does not exceed $30,000 and (2) the smallest interest which is separately offered or sold to the public is not so offered or sold for less than $300.

(c) As used in this section, the term "operating lessee or lessees" shall include the lessee of record actually engaged in developing and operating the tract or tracts involved and all other owners of working interests who are regularly engaged in the business of exploring for or producing oil or gas and who have consented in writing to the development and operation of said tract or tracts by such lessee of record.

The Commission finds that the foregoing amendment will operate to the advantage of issuers offering oil or gas interest or rights, that it is consistent with the interest of investors, and that notice and procedure in accordance with section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act with respect to such amendment is not necessary.

(Sec. 19, 48 Stat. 85 as amended; 15 U. S. C. 77s)

The foregoing amendment being one relieving a restriction, shall become effective December 12, 1952.

By the Commission.

PART 240—GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS, SECURITIES EXCHANGE ACT OF 1934

SOLICITATION OF PROXIES

On January 31, 1952, the Commission announced that it had under consideration certain proposed amendments to its proxy rules under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and invited all interested persons to submit data, views and comments with respect to the proposed amendments. The Commission has considered all of the comments and suggestions received and has determined that the proposed amendments should be adopted, with certain modifications which have been incorporated in the amended Regulation X-14 (§§ 240.14a-1 to 240.14a-10), a copy of which is set forth below.

The Commission has determined not to adopt the proposed new Item 22 to Schedule 14A of Regulation X-14 which was announced on July 10, 1952. No action has yet been taken with respect to the proposed amendment to § 240.14a-3 (Rule X-14A-3) which was announced on October 10, 1952.

The general purpose of the amendments adopted is to clarify the rules in certain respects to accord with administrative interpretation, to revise the requirements in the light of changed conditions and to provide certain new requirements where the existing requirements have proved to be inadequate. The principal changes made are briefly described below.

The definition of the term "associate" has been amended so as to include, among other persons, any relative of a specified person, or of such person's spouse, who is a director or officer of the issuer or any of its parents or subsidiaries.

Under the amended rules, the form of proxy must include a specifically designated blank space for dating the proxy. The amended rules prohibit the solicitation of any undated or postdated proxy or any proxy which provides that it shall be deemed to be dated as of any date subsequent to the date on which it is signed by the security holder.

The previous rules permitted the management of a company to omit from its proxy material stockholder proposals which are submitted primarily for the purpose of enforcing a personal claim or redressing a personal grievance against the issuer or its management. The amended rules also permit the omission of stockholder proposals submitted primarily for the purpose of promoting general economic, political, racial, religious, social, or similar causes.

The requirements with respect to showing remuneration in the proxy statement have been revised generally. Under the revised requirements, salaries, fees and commissions may be combined with bonuses and shares in profits so as to show the aggregate remuneration for specified persons or groups. The requirements as to showing deferred remuneration have been made more explicit as to the information required. The Commission did not adopt the proposal which would have required the separate showing of expense allowances.

Where action is to be taken with respect to a bonus, profit sharing, pension, retirement or other remuneration plan or with respect to the granting or extension of options, information is required to be given which will show adequately what similar provisions have already been made for the benefit of directors, officers and employees.

The action herein described is taken pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, particularly sections 14 (a) and 23 (a) thereof, the Commission deeming such action necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors and necessary to carry out its functions under the act.

In view of the fact that some persons may wish to comply with Regulation X-14 as herein amended, rather than with that regulation as heretofore in effect, the foregoing action shall be effective December 11, 1952. However, any solicitation commenced prior to February 1, 1953, may at the option of the persons on whose behalf it is made be governed by Regulation X-14 as in effect immediately prior to December 11, 1952.

(Sec. 23, 48 Stat. 901 as amended; 15 U. S. C. 78w. Interprets or applies sec. 14, 48 Stat. 895 as amended; 15 U. S. C. 78n)

By the Commission.

DECEMBER 10, 1952.

SOLICITATION OF PROXIES

§ 240.14a-1 Definitions. Unless the context otherwise requires, all terms used in §§ 240.14a-1 to 240.14a-10 and in Schedule 14A have the same meanings as in the act or elsewhere in the general rules and regulations thereunder. In addition, the following definitions apply unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) Associate. The term "associate" used to indicate a relationship with any person, means (1) any corporation or organization (other than the issuer or a majority owned subsidiary of the issuer) of which such person is an officer or partner or is, directly or indirectly, the beneficial owner of 10 percent or more of any class of equity securities, (2) any trust or other estate in which such person has a substantial beneficial interest or as to which such person serves as trustee or in a similar fiduciary capacity, and (3) any relative or spouse of such person, or any relative of such spouse, who has the same home as such person or who is a director or officer of the issuer or any of its parents or subsidiaries.

(b) Issuer. The term "issuer" means the issuer of the securities in respect of which a proxy is solicited.

(c) Last fiscal year. The term "last fiscal year" of the issuer means the last fiscal year of the issuer ending prior to the date of the meeting for which proxies are to be solicited.

(d) Proxy. The term "proxy" includes every proxy, consent or authorization within the meaning of section 14 (a) of the act. The consent or authorization may take the form of failure to object or to dissent.

(e) Proxy statement. The term "proxy statement" means the statement required by § 240.14a-3 (a), whether or not contained in a single document.

(f) Solicitation. The term "solicitation" includes (1) any request for a proxy whether or not accompanied by or included in a form of proxy, (2) any request to execute or not to execute, or to revoke, a proxy, or (3) the furnishing of a form of proxy to security holders under circumstances reasonably calculated to result in the procurement of a proxy. The term does not apply, however, to the furnishing of a form of proxy to a security holder upon the unsolicited request of such security holder, the performance by the issuer of acts required by § 240.14a-7, or the performance by any person of ministerial acts on behalf of a person soliciting a proxy.

§ 240.14a-2 Solicitations to which §§ 240.14a-1 to 240.14a-10 apply. Sections 240.14a-1 to 240.14a-10 apply to every solicitation of a proxy with respect to securities listed and registered on a national securities exchange, except the following:

(a) Any solicitation made otherwise than on behalf of the management of the issuer where the total number of persons solicited is not more than ten.

(b) Any solicitation by a person in respect to securities carried in his name or in the name of his nominee (otherwise than as voting trustee) or held in his custody, if such person:

(1) Receives no commission or remuneration for such solicitation, directly or indirectly, other than reimbursement of reasonable expenses;

(2) Furnishes promptly to the person solicited a copy of all soliciting material with respect to the same subject matter or meeting received from all persons who shall furnish copies thereof for such purpose and who shall, if requested, defray the reasonable expenses to be incurred in forwarding such material; and

(3) In addition, does no more than impartially instruct the person solicited to forward a proxy to the person, if any, to whom the person solicited desires to give a proxy, or impartially request from the person solicited instructions as to the authority to be conferred by the proxy and state that a proxy will be given if no instructions are received by a certain date.

(c) Any solicitation by a person in respect of securities of which he is the beneficial owner.

(d) Any solicitation involved in the offer or sale of a certificate of deposit or other security registered under the Securities Act of 1933.

(e) Any solicitation with respect to a plan of reorganization under Chapter X of the Bankruptcy Act, as amended, if made after the entry of an order approving such plan pursuant to section 174 of said act and after, or concurrently with, the transmittal of information concerning such plan as required by section 175 of said act.

(f) Any solicitation which is subject to Rule U-62 under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

(g) Any solicitation through the medium of a newspaper advertisement which informs security holders of a source from which they may obtain copies of a proxy statement, form of proxy and any other soliciting material and does no more than (1) name the issuer, (2) state the reason for the advertisement, and (3) identify the proposal or proposals to be acted upon by security holders.

§ 240.14a–3 Information to be furnished security holders. (a) No solicitation subject to §§ 240.14a–1 to 240.14a–10 shall be made unless each person solicited is concurrently furnished or has previously been furnished with a written proxy statement containing the information specified in Schedule 14A.

(b) If the solicitation is made on behalf of the management of the issuer and relates to an annual meeting of security holders at which directors are to be elected, each proxy statement furnished pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section shall be accompanied or preceded by an annual report to such security holders containing such financial statements for the last fiscal year as will, in the opinion of the management, adequately reflect the financial position and operations of the issuer. Such annual report, including financial statements, may be in any form deemed suitable by the management. This paragraph shall not apply, however, to solicitations made on behalf of the management before the financial statements are available if solicitation is being made at the time in opposition to the management and if the management's proxy statement includes an undertaking in bold-face type to furnish such annual report to all persons being solicited, at least twenty days before the date of the meeting.

(c) Three copies of each annual report sent to security holders pursuant to this section shall be mailed to the Commission, solely for its information, not later than the date on which such report is first sent or given to security holders or the date on which preliminary copies of solicitation material are filed with the Commission pursuant to § 240.14a–6 (a), whichever date is later. The annual report is not deemed to be "soliciting material" or to be "filed" with the Commission or otherwise subject to this regulation or to the liabilities of section 18 of the act, except to the extent that the issuer specifically requests that it be treated as a part of the proxy soliciting material or incorporates it in the proxy statement by reference.

§ 240.14a–4 Requirements as to proxy. (a) The form of proxy (1) shall indicate in bold-face type whether or not the proxy is solicited on behalf of the management, (2) shall provide a specifically designated blank space for dating the proxy and (3) shall identify clearly and impartially each matter or group of related matters intended to be acted upon, whether proposed by the management or by security holders. No reference need be made, however, to proposals as to which discretionary authority is conferred pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section.

(b) Means shall be provided in the form of proxy whereby the person solicited is afforded an opportunity to specify by ballot a choice between approval or disapproval of each matter or group of related matters referred to therein as intended to be acted upon, other than elections to office. A proxy may confer discretionary authority with respect to matters as to which a choice is not so specified provided the form of proxy states in bold face type how it is intended to vote the shares represented by the proxy in each such case.

(c) A proxy may confer discretionary authority with respect to other matters which may come before the meeting, provided the persons on whose behalf the solicitation is made are not aware a reasonable time prior to the time the solicitation is made that any such other matters are to be presented for action at the meeting and provided further that a specific statement to that effect is made in the proxy statement or in the form of proxy. A proxy may also confer discretionary authority with respect to any proposal omitted from the proxy statement and form of proxy pursuant to paragraph (c) of § 240.14a–8.

(d) No proxy shall confer authority (1) to vote for the election of any person to any office for which a bona fide nominee is not named in the proxy statement, or (2) to vote at any annual meeting other than the next annual meeting (or any adjournment thereof) to be held after the date on which the proxy statement and form of proxy are first sent or given to security holders.

(e) The proxy statement or form of proxy shall provide, subject to reasonable specified conditions, that the shares represented by the proxy will be voted and that where the person solicited specifies by means of a ballot provided pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section a choice with respect to any matter to be acted upon, the shares will be voted in accordance with the specifications so made.

§ 240.14a–5 Presentation of information in proxy statement. (a) The information included in the proxy statement shall be clearly presented and the statements made shall be divided into groups according to subject matter and the various groups of statements shall be preceded by appropriate headings. The order of items and sub-items in the schedule need not be followed. Where practicable and appropriate, the information shall be presented in tabular form. All amounts shall be stated in figures. Information required by more than one applicable item need not be repeated. No statement need be made in response to any item or sub-item which is inapplicable.

(b) Any information required to be included in the proxy statement as to terms of securities or other subject matter which from a standpoint of practical necessity must be determined in the future may be stated in terms of present knowledge and intention. To the extent practicable, the authority to be conferred concerning each such matter shall be confined within limits reasonably related to the need for discretionary authority. Subject to the foregoing, information which is not known to the persons on whose behalf the solicitation is to be made and which it is not reasonably within the power of such persons to ascertain or procure may be omitted, if a brief statement of the circumstances rendering such information unavailable is made.

(c) There may be omitted from the proxy statement any information contained in any other proxy soliciting material which has been furnished to each person solicited in connection with the same meeting or subject matter if a clear reference is made to the particular document containing such information.

(d) All printed proxy statements shall be set in roman type at least as large as ten-point modern type except that to the extent necessary for convenient presentation financial statements and other statistical or tabular matter may be set in roman type at least as large as eight-point modern type. All type shall be leaded at least two points.

§ 240.14a–6 Material required to be filed. (a) Three preliminary copies of the proxy statement and form of proxy and any other soliciting material to be furnished to security holders concurrently therewith shall be filed with the Commission at least ten days prior to the date definitive copies of such material are first sent or given to security holders, or such shorter period prior to that date as the Commission may authorize upon a showing of good cause therefor.

(b) Three preliminary copies of any additional soliciting material, relating to the same meeting or subject matter, furnished to security holders subsequent to the proxy statement shall be filed with the Commission at least two days (exclusive of Saturdays, Sundays or holidays) prior to the date copies of such material are first sent or given to security holders, or such shorter period prior to such date as the Commission may authorize upon a showing of good cause therefor.

(c) Three definitive copies of the proxy statement, form of proxy and all other soliciting material, in the form in which such material is furnished to security holders, shall be filed with, or mailed for filing to, the Commission not later than the date such material is first sent or given to any security holders. Three copies of such material shall at the same time be filed with, or mailed for filing to, each national securities exchange upon which any security in respect of which the solicitation is made is listed and registered.

(d) If the solicitation is to be made in whole or in part by personal solicitation, three copies of all written instructions or other material which discusses or reviews, or comments upon the merits of, any matter to be acted upon and which is furnished to the individuals making the actual solicitation for their use directly or indirectly in connection with the solicitation shall be filed with the Commission by the person on whose behalf the solicitation is made at least five days prior to the date copies of such material are first sent or given to such individuals, or such shorter period prior to that date as the Commission may authorize upon a showing of good cause therefor.

(e) All copies of material filed pursuant to paragraph (a) or (b) of this section shall be clearly marked "Preliminary Copies" and shall be for the information of the Commission only, except that such material may be disclosed to any department or agency of the United States Government and the Commission may make such inquiries or investigation in regard to the material as may be necessary for an adequate review thereof by the Commission. All material filed pursuant to paragraph (a), (b) or (c) of this section shall be accompanied by a statement of the date upon which copies thereof are intended to be, or have been, released to security holders. All material filed pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section shall be accompanied by a statement of the date upon which copies thereof are intended to be released to the individuals who will make the actual solicitation.

(f) Copies of replies to inquiries from security holders requesting further information and copies of communications which do no more than request that forms of proxy theretofore solicited be signed and returned need not be filed pursuant to this section.

NOTE. Where preliminary copies of material are filed with the Commission pursuant to this rule, the printing of definitive copies for distribution to security holders should be deferred until the comments of the Commission's staff have been received and considered.

§ 240.14a–7 Mailing communications for security holders. If the management of the issuer has made or intends to make any solicitation subject to §§ 240.14a–1 to 240.14a–10, the issuer shall perform such of the following acts as may be duly requested in writing with respect to the same subject matter or meeting by any security holder who is entitled to vote on such matter or to vote at such meeting and who shall defray the reasonable expenses to be incurred by the issuer in the performance of the act or acts requested.

(a) The issuer shall mail or otherwise furnish to such security holder the following information as promptly as practicable after the receipt of such request:

(1) A statement of the approximate number of holders of record of any class of securities, any of the holders of which have been or are to be solicited on behalf of the management, or any group of such holders which the security holder shall designate.

(2) If the management of the issuer has made or intends to make, through bankers, brokers or other persons any solicitation of the beneficial owners of securities of any class, a statement of the approximate number of such beneficial owners, or any group of such owners which the security holder shall designate.

(3) An estimate of the cost of mailing a specified proxy statement, form of proxy or other communication to such holders, including insofar as known or reasonably available, the estimated handling and mailing costs of the bankers, brokers or other persons specified in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

(b) Copies of any proxy statement, form of proxy or other communication furnished by the security holder shall be mailed by the issuer to such of the holders of record specified in paragraph (a) (1) of this section as the security holder shall designate. The issuer shall also mail to each banker, broker or other person specified in paragraph (a) (2) of this section a sufficient number of copies of such proxy statement, form of proxy or other communication as will enable the banker, broker or other person to furnish a copy thereof to each beneficial owner solicited or to be solicited through him. Such material shall be mailed by the issuer with reasonable promptness after receipt of a tender of the material to be mailed, of envelopes or other containers therefor and of postage or payment for postage, except that such material need not be mailed prior to the first day on which the solicitation is made on behalf of the management. Neither the management nor the issuer shall be responsible for such proxy statement, form of proxy or other communication.

(c) In lieu of performing the acts specified in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, the issuer may at its option, furnish promptly to such security holder a reasonably current list of the names and addresses of such of the holders of record specified in paragraph (a) (1) of this section as the security holder shall designate, and a list of the names and addresses of such of the bankers, brokers or other persons specified in paragraph (a) (2) of this section as the security holder shall designate together with a statement of the approximate number of beneficial owners solicited or to be solicited through each such banker, broker or other person and a schedule of the handling and mailing costs of each such banker, broker or other person if such schedule has been supplied to the management of the issuer. The foregoing information shall be furnished promptly upon the request of the security holder or at daily or other reasonable intervals as it becomes available to the management of the issuer.

§ 240.14a–8 Proposals of security holders. (a) If any security holder entitled to vote at a meeting of security holders of the issuer shall submit to the management of the issuer a reasonable time before the solicitation is made a proposal which is a proper subject for action by the security holders and which is accompanied by notice of his intention to present the proposal for action at the meeting, the management shall set forth the proposal in its proxy statement and shall identify the proposal in its form or proxy and provide means by which security holders can make the specification provided for by § 240.14a–4 (b). A proposal so submitted with respect to an annual meeting more than 30 days in advance of a day corresponding to the date on which proxy soliciting material was released to security holders in connection with the last annual meeting of security holders shall prima facie be deemed to have been submitted a reasonable time before the solicitation. This section does not apply, however, to elections to office.

(b) If the management opposes the proposal, it shall also, at the request of the security holder, include in its proxy statement the name and address of the security holder and a statement of the security holder in not more than one hundred words, in support of the proposal. Such statement and request shall be furnished to the management at the same time that the proposal is furnished to it. Neither the management nor the issuer shall be responsible for such statement.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing, the management may omit a proposal and any statement in support thereof from its proxy statement and form of proxy under the following circumstances:

(1) If it clearly appears that the proposal is submitted by the security holder primarily for the purpose of enforcing a personal claim or redressing a personal grievance against the issuer or its management, or primarily for the purpose of promoting general economic, political, racial, religious, social or similar causes; or

(2) If the management has at the security holder's request included a proposal in its proxy statement and form of proxy relating to either of the last two annual meetings of security holders or any special meeting held subsequent to the earlier of such two annual meetings and such security holder has failed without good cause to present the proposal, in person or by proxy, for action at the meeting; or

(3) If substantially the same proposal was sumbitted to the security holders in the management's proxy statement and form of proxy, for action at the last annual meeting of security holders or at any special meeting held subsequent thereto and received less than three percent of the total number of votes cast in regard to the proposal.

(d) Whenever the management asserts that a proposal and any statement in support thereof may properly be omitted from its proxy statement and form of proxy, it shall file with the Commission, not later than the date preliminary copies of the proxy statement and form of proxy are filed pursuant to § 240.14a–6 (a), a copy of the proposal and any statement in support thereof as received from the security holder, together with a statement of the reasons why the management deems such omission to be proper in the particular case. The management shall at the same time, if it has not already done so, notify the security holder submitting the proposal of its intention to omit the proposal from its proxy statement and form of proxy and shall advise the security holder as to the reasons for such omission. Compliance with this paragraph shall not be construed as relieving the management of its obligation to comply fully with the foregoing provisions of this section.

§ 240.14a–9 False or misleading statements. No solicitation subject to §§ 240.14a–1 to 240.14a–10 shall be made by means of any proxy statement, form of proxy, notice of meeting, or other communication written or oral containing any statement which at the time and in the light of the circumstances under which it is made, is false or misleading with respect to any material fact, or which omits to state any material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein not false or misleading or necessary to correct any statement in any earlier communication with respect to the solicitation of a proxy for the same meeting or subject matter which has become false or misleading.

§ 240.14a–10 Prohibition of certain solicitations. No person making a solicitation which is subject to §§ 240.14a–1 to 240.14a–10 shall solicit:

(a) Any undated or postdated proxy; or

(b) Any proxy which provides that it shall be deemed to be dated as of any date subsequent to the date on which it is signed by the security holder.

SCHEDULE 14A—INFORMATION REQUIRED IN PROXY STATEMENT

NOTE: Where any item calls for information with respect to any matter to be acted upon and such matter involves other matters with respect to which information is called for by other items of this schedule, the information called for by all applicable items shall be given. For example, if action is to be taken with respect to any merger, consolidation or acquisition, specified in Item 14 which involves the election of directors, Item 6 and 7 shall also be answered.

Item 1. Revocability of proxy. State whether or not the person giving the proxy has the power to revoke it. If the right of revocation before the proxy is exercised is limited or is subject to compliance with any formal procedure, briefly describe such limitation or procedure.

Item 2. Dissenters' rights of appraisal. Outline briefly the rights of appraisal or similar rights of dissenters with respect to any matter to be acted upon and indicate any statutory procedure required to be followed by dissenting security holders in order to perfect such rights. Where such rights may be exercised only within a limited time after the date of the adoption of a proposal, the filing of a charter amendment or other similar act, state whether the person solicited will be notified of such date.

Item 3. Persons making the solicitation. (a) If the solicitation is made on behalf of the management of the issuer, so state. Give the name of any director of the issuer who has informed the management in writing that he intends to oppose any action intended to be taken by the management and indicate the action which he intends to oppose.

(b) If the solicitation is made otherwise than on behalf of the management of the issuer, so state and give the names of the persons on whose behalf it is made.

(c) State the names of the persons by whom the cost of the solicitation has been or will be borne, directly or indirectly.

(d) If the solicitation is made otherwise than by use of the mails, state the methods used. If the solicitation is made by specially engaged employees of the issuer or other paid solicitors, state (1) the material features of any contract or arrangement for such solicitation, (2) the cost or anticipated cost thereof, and (3) the approximate number of specially engaged employees of the issuer or employees of any other person (naming such other person) who will solicit proxies.

Item 4. Interest of certain persons in matters to be acted upon. Describe briefly any substantial interest, direct or indirect (by security holdings or otherwise), of each of the following persons in any matter to be acted upon, other than elections to office:

(a) If the solicitation is made on behalf of the management, each person who has been a director or officer of the issuer at any time since the beginning of the last fiscal year.

(b) If the solicitation is made otherwise than on behalf of the management, each person on whose behalf the solicitation is made.

(c) Each nominee for election as a director of the issuer.

(d) Each associate of the foregoing persons.

Instruction. This item does not apply to any interest arising from the ownership of securities of the issuer where the security holder receives no extra or special benefit not shared on a pro rata basis by all other holders of the same class.

Item 5. Voting securities and principal holders thereof. (a) State as to each class of voting securities of the issuer entitled to be voted at the meeting, the number of shares outstanding and the number of votes to which each class is entitled.

(b) Give the date as of which the record of security holders entitled to vote at the meeting will be determined. If the right to vote is not limited to security holders of record on that date, indicate the conditions under which other security holders may be entitled to vote.

(c) If action is to be taken with respect to the election of directors and if the persons solicited have cumulative voting rights, make a statement that they have such rights and state briefly the conditions precedent to the exercise thereof.

(d) If to the knowledge of the persons on whose behalf the solicitation is made, any person owns of record or beneficially more than 10 percent of the outstanding voting securities of the issuer, name such person, state the approximate amount of such securities owned of record but not owned beneficially and the approximate amount owned beneficially by such person and the percentage of outstanding voting securities represented by the amount of securities so owned in each such manner.

Item 6. Nominees for election as directors. (a) If action is to be taken with respect to the election of directors, name the persons nominated for election as directors and the term of office for which they are candidates.

(b) If any such nominee is proposed to be elected pursuant to any arrangement or understanding between the nominee and any other person or persons, except the directors and officers of the issuer acting solely in that capacity, name such other person or persons and describe briefly such arrangement or understanding.

(c) Furnish, in tabular form to the extent practicable, the following information with respect to each person nominated for election as a director:

(1) State the principal occupation or employment of such nominee and the name and principal business of any corporation or other organization in which such employment is carried on.

(2) If the nominee is or has previously been a director of the issuer, state the period or periods during which he has served as such.

(3) State, as of the most recent practicable date, the approximate amount of each class of securities of the issuer or any of its parents or subsidiaries, other than directors' qualifying shares, beneficially owned directly or indirectly by such nominee. If the nominee is not the beneficial owner of any such securities, make a statement to that effect.

(4) If more than 10 percent of any class of securities of the issuer or any of its parents or subsidiaries are beneficially owned by such nominee and his associates, state the approximate amount of each class of such securities beneficially owned by such associates naming each associate whose holdings are substantial.

(d) Describe briefly the business experience of such nominee during the last five years, unless such nominee is now a director and was elected to his present term of office by a vote of security holders at a meeting for which proxies were solicited under Regulation X–14.

Item 7. Remuneration and other transactions with management and others. Furnish the information called for by this item if action is to be taken with respect to (i) the election of directors, (ii) any bonus, profit sharing or other remuneration plan, contract or arrangement in which any director, nominee for election as a director, or officer of the issuer will participate, (iii) any pension or retirement plan in which any such person will participate or (iv) the granting or extension to any such person of any options, warrants or rights to purchase any securities, other than warrants or rights issued to security holders, as such, on a pro rata basis. However, if the solicitation is made on behalf of persons other than the management, the information required need be furnished only as to nominees for election as directors and as to their associates.

(a) Furnish the following information in substantially the tabular form indicated below as to all remuneration paid by the issuer and its subsidiaries during the issuer's last fiscal year to the following persons for services in all capacities:

(1) Each director, and each of the three highest paid officers, of the issuer whose aggregate remuneration exceeded $25,000, naming each such person.

(2) All directors and officers of the issuer as a group, without naming them.

(A) Name of individual or identity of group	(B) Capacities in which remuneration was received	(C) Aggregate remuneration

Instructions. 1. This item applies to any person who was a director or officer of the issuer at any time during the fiscal year. However, remuneration is not to be included for any portion of the year during which any such person was not a director or officer of the issuer.

2. The information is to be given on an accrual basis if practicable.

3. Do not include remuneration paid to a partnership in which any director or officer was a partner but refer to information with respect thereto disclosed in answer to paragraph (c).

(b) Furnish the following information in substantially the tabular form indicated below as to all deferred remuneration plans for the benefit of (i) each director or officer named in answer to paragraph (a) and (ii) as to all directors and officers of the issuer as a group:

(1) The total amount set aside or accrued for the issuer's last fiscal year by the issuer and its subsidiaries for the benefit of each such person and of such group.

(2) The total annual benefits proposed to be paid to each such person and to such group.

(3) The aggregate benefits proposed to be paid to each such person and to such group.

(A) Name of individual or identity of group	(B) Amount set aside or accrued	(C) Proposed annual benefits	(D) Proposed aggregate benefits

Instructions. 1. The term "plan" includes all plans, contracts, authorizations or arrangements, whether or not set forth in any formal document. The term "deferred remuneration plan" includes all pension, retirement or other plans under which deferred payments are made or proposed to be made, either before or after retirement or termination of services, to any person or persons.

2. Information need not be included as to payments made for, or benefits to be received from, group life or accident insurance, group hospitalization or similar payments or benefits provided the aggregate annual cost thereof does not exceed $1,000 for the particular person or $5,000 for the group.

3. Include in Column (B) any amounts contracted for during or with respect to the issuer's last fiscal year. Column (B) need not be answered, however, with respect to payments made on an actuarial basis pursuant to any group pension plan which provides for fixed benefits in the event of retirement at a specified age or after a specified number of years of service.

4. In the case of pension or retirement plans, the information called for by Column (C) may be given in a table showing the annual benefits payable upon retirement to persons in specified salary classifications. If any person named received benefits under any plan during the issuer's last fiscal year, the amount of such benefits shall be stated separately.

5. Column (D) need not be answered with respect to any pension plan of the type referred to in instruction 3. Where it is impracticable to determine the aggregate amount of deferred benefits to be paid pursuant to any other type of plan, there shall be stated the aggregate amount set aside, accrued or contracted for, unless it is impracticable to do so.

(c) Describe briefly, and where practicable state the approximate amount of, any material interest, direct or indirect, of any of the following persons in any significant transactions since the beginning of the issuer's last fiscal year, or in any proposed transactions, to which the issuer or any of its subsidiaries was or is to be a party:

(1) Any director or officer of the issuer;

(2) Any nominee for election as a director;

(3) Any security holder named in answer to item 5 (d); and

(4) Any associate of any of the foregoing persons.

Instructions. 1. The term "transaction" as used herein includes, without limiting the generality of the term, the receipt of any remuneration or other thing of value directly or indirectly from the issuer or any of its subsidiaries. However, information need not be given under this paragraph as to the direct remuneration of directors and officers of the issuer for services to the issuer or any of its subsidiaries.

2. The instruction to item 4 shall apply to this paragraph.

3. Except as provided in instruction 5 below, include the name of each person whose interest in any transaction is described and the nature of the relationship by reason of which such interest is required to be described.

4. As to any such transaction involving the purchase or sale of assets by or to the issuer or any subsidiary, otherwise than in the ordinary course of business, state the cost of the assets to the purchaser and the cost thereof to the seller if acquired by the seller within two years prior to the transaction.

5. As to any such transaction involving the granting of options, warrants or rights, give (i) the title and amount of securities called for; (ii) the prices, expiration dates and other material provisions; (iii) the consideration received for the granting thereof; and (iv) the market value of the securities called for on the granting date. State separately the amount of options received or to be received by each director of officer named in answer to paragraph (a), naming each such person, and the amount received or to be received by all directors and officers as a group, without naming them.

(d) State as to each of the following persons who was indebted to the issuer or its subsidiaries at any time since the beginning of the last fiscal year of the issuer, (i) the largest aggregate amount of indebtedness outstanding at any time during such period, (ii) the nature of the indebtedness and of the transaction in which it was incurred, (iii) the amount thereof outstanding as of the latest practicable date, and (iv) the rate of interest paid or charged thereon:

(1) Each person who has been a director or officer of the issuer at any time during such period;

(2) Each nominee for election as a director; and,

(3) Each associate of any such director, officer or nominee.

Instructions. 1. Include the name of each person whose indebtedness is described and the nature of the relationship by reason of which the information is required to be given.

2. This paragraph does not apply to any indebtedness arising from transactions in the ordinary course of business, or to any person whose aggregate indebtedness did not exceed $1,000 at any time during the period specified.

Item 8. Selection of auditors. If action is to be taken with respect to the selection of auditors, or if it is proposed that particular auditors shall be recommended for selection by any committee to select auditors for whom votes are to be cast, name the auditors and describe briefly any material relationship of such auditors or any of their associates with the issuer or any of its affiliates.

Item 9. Bonus, profit sharing and other remuneration plans. If action is to be taken with respect to any bonus, profit sharing or other remuneration plan, furnish the following information:

(a) Describe briefly the material features of the plan, identify each class of persons who will participate therein, indicate the approximate number of persons in each such class and state the basis of such participation.

(b) State separately the amounts which would have been distributable under the plan during the last fiscal year of the issuer (1) to directors and officers and (2) to employees if the plan had been in effect.

(c) State the name and position with the issuer of each person specified in item 7 a), who will participate in the plan and the amount which each such person would have received under the plan for the last fiscal year of the issuer if the plan had been in effect.

(d) Furnish such information, in addition to that required by this item and item 7, as may be necessary to describe adequately the provisions already made pursuant to all bonus, profit sharing or other remuneration or incentive plans for (i) each director or officer named in answer to item 7 (a) who will participate in the plan to be acted upon; (ii) all directors and officers of the issuer as a group; and (iii) all employees.

(e) If the plan to be acted upon can be amended otherwise than by a vote of stockholders, to increase the cost thereof to the issuer or to alter the allocation of the benefits as between the groups specified in (b), state the nature of the amendments which can be so made.

Instructions. 1. The term "plan" as used in this item means any plan as defined in instruction 1 to item 7 (b).

2. If the plan is set forth in a formal plan, contract or arrangement, three copies thereof shall be filed with the Commission at the time preliminary copies of the proxy statement and form of proxy are filed pursuant to paragraph (a) of § 240.14a–6 (Rule X–14a–6).

Item 10. Pension and retirement plans. If action is to be taken with respect to any pension or retirement plan, furnish the following information:

(a) Describe briefly the material features of the plan, identify each class of persons who will be entitled to participate therein, indicate the approximate number of persons in each such class and state the basis of such participation.

(b) State (1) the approximate total amount necessary to fund the plan with respect to past services, the period over which such amount is to be paid and the estimated annual payments necessary to pay the total amount over such period, (2) the estimated annual payment to be made with respect to current services and (3) the amount of such annual payments to be made for the benefit of (i) directors and officers and (ii) employees.

(c) State (1) the name and position with the issuer of each person specified in Item 7 (a) who will be entitled to participate in the plan, (2) the amount which would have been paid or set aside by the issuer and its subsidiaries for the benefit of such person for the last fiscal year of the issuer if the plan had been in effect, and (3) the amount of the annual benefits estimated to be payable to such person in the event of retirement at normal retirement date.

(d) Furnish such information, in addition to that required by this item and item 7, as may be necessary to describe adequately the provisions already made pursuant to all bonus, profit sharing or other remuneration or incentive plans for (i) each director or officer named in answer to item 7 (a) who will participate in the plan to be acted upon; (ii) all directors and officers of the issuer as a group; and (iii) all employees.

(e) If the plan to be acted upon can be amended otherwise than by a vote of stockholders to increase the cost thereof to the issuer or alter the allocation of the benefits as between the groups specified in (b) (3), state the nature of the amendments which can be so made.

Instructions. 1. The term "plan" as used in this item means any plan as defined in instruction 1 to item 7 (b).

2. The information called for by paragraph (b) (3) or (c) (2) need not be given as to payments made on an actuarial basis pursuant to any group pension plan which provides for fixed benefits in the event of retirement at a specified age or after a specified number of years of service.

3. If the plan is set forth in a formal plan, contract or other document, three copies thereof shall be filed with the preliminary copies of the proxy statement and form of proxy at the time copies thereof are filed with the Commission pursuant to paragraph (a) of § 240.14a-6 (Rule X-14A-6).

Item 11. Options, warrants, or rights. If action is to be taken with respect to the granting or extension of any options, warrants or rights to purchase securities of the issuer or any subsidiary, furnish the following information:

(a) State (i) the title and amount of securities called for or to be called for by such options, warrants or rights; (ii) the prices, expiration dates and other material conditions upon which the options, warrants or rights may be exercised; (iii) the consideration received or to be received by the issuer or subsidiary for the granting or extension of the options, warrants or rights; and (iv) the market value of the securities called for or to be called for by the options, warrants or rights, as of the latest practicable date.

(b) State separately the amount of options, warrants or rights received or to be received by the following persons, naming each such person: (i) each director or officer named in answer to item 7 (a); each nominee for election as a director of the issuer; (iii) each associate of such directors, officers or nominees; and (iv) each other person who received or is to receive 5 percent or more of such options, warrants or rights. State also the total amount of such options, warrants or rights received or to be received by all directors and officers of the issuer as a group, without naming them.

(c) Furnish such information, in addition to that required by this item and item 7, as may be necessary to describe adequately the provisions already made pursuant to all bonus, profit sharing or other remuneration or incentive plans for (i) each director or officer named in answer to item 7 (a) who will participate in the plan to be acted upon; (ii) all directors and officers of the issuer as a group; and (iii) all employees.

Instruction. Paragraphs (b) and (c) do not apply to warrants or rights to be issued to security holders as such on a pro rata basis.

Item 12. Authorization or issuance of securities otherwise than for exchange. If action is to be taken with respect to the authorization or issuance of any securities otherwise than for exchange for outstanding securities of the issuer, furnish the following information:

(a) State the title and amount of securities to be authorized or issued.

(b) Furnish a description of the securities such as would be required to be furnished in an application on the appropriate form for their registration on a national securities exchange. If the securities are additional shares of common stock of a class outstanding, the description may be omitted except for a statement of the pre-emptive rights, if any.

(c) Describe briefly the transaction in which the securities are to be issued, including a statement as to (1) the nature and approximate amount of consideration received or to be received by the issuer, and (2) the approximate amount devoted to each purpose so far as determinable, for which the net proceeds have been or are to be used.

(d) If the securities are to be issued otherwise than in a general public offering for cash, state the reasons for the proposed authorization or issuance, the general effect thereof upon the rights of existing security holders, and the vote needed for approval.

Item 13. Modification or exchange of securities. If action is to be taken with respect to the modification of any class of securities of the issuer, or the issuance or authorization for issuance of securities of the issuer in exchange for outstanding securities of the issuer, furnish the following information:

(a) If outstanding securities are to be modified, state the title and amount thereof. If securities are to be issued in exchange for outstanding securities, state the title and amount of securities to be so issued, the title and amount of outstanding securities to be exchanged therefor and the basis of the exchange.

(b) Describe any material differences between the outstanding securities and the modified or new securities in respect of any of the matters concerning which information would be required in the description of the securities in an application on the appropriate form for their registration on a national securities exchange.

(c) State the reasons for the proposed modification or exchange, the general effect thereof upon the rights of existing security holders, and the vote needed for approval.

(d) Furnish a brief statement as to arrears in dividends or as to defaults in principal or interest in respect to the outstanding securities which are to be modified or exchanged and such other information as may be appropriate in the particular case to disclose adequately the nature and effect of the proposed action.

(e) Outline briefly any other material features of the proposed modification or exchange. If the plan of proposed action is set forth in a written document, file copies thereof with the Commission in accordance with § 240.14a-6 (Rule X-14A-6).

Item 14. Mergers, consolidations, acquisitions and similar matters. Furnish the following information if action is to be taken with respect to any plan for (i) the merger or consolidation of the issuer into or with any other person or of any other person into or with the issuer, (ii) the acquisition by the issuer or any of its security holders of securities of another issuer, (iii) the acquisition by the issuer of any other going business or of the assets thereof, (iv) the sale or other transfer of all or any substantial part of the assets of the issuer, or (v) the liquidation or dissolution of the issuer:

(a) Outline briefly the material features of the plan. State the reasons therefor, the general effect thereof upon the rights of existing security holders, and the vote needed for its approval. If the plan is set forth in a written document, file three copies thereof with the Commission at the time preliminary copies of the proxy statement and form of proxy are filed pursuant to § 240.14a-6 (a) (Rule X-14A-6 (a)).

(b) Furnish the following information as to each person (other than totally-held subsidiaries of the issuer) which is to be merged into the issuer or into or with which the issuer is to be merged or consolidated or the business or assets of which are to be acquired or which is the issuer of securities to be acquired by the issuer in exchange for all or a substantial part of its assets or to be acquired by security holders of the issuer.

(1) Describe briefly the business of such person. Information is to be given regarding pertinent matters such as the nature of the products or services, methods of production, markets, methods of distribution and the sources and supply of raw materials.

(2) State the location and describe the general character of the plants and other important physical properties of such person. The description is to be given from an economic and business standpoint, as distinguished from a legal standpoint.

(3) Furnish a brief statement as to dividends in arrears or defaults in principal or interest in respect of any securities of the issuer or of such person, and as to the effect of the plan thereon and such other information as may be appropriate in the particular case to disclose adequately the nature and effect of the proposed action.

(c) As to each class of securities of the issuer, or of any person specified in paragraph (b), which is admitted to dealing on a national securities exchange or with respect to which a market otherwise exists, and which will be materially affected by the plan, state the high and low sale prices (or, in the absence of trading in a particular period, the range of the bid and asked prices) for each quarterly period within two years. This information may be omitted if the plan involves merely the liquidation or dissolution of the issuer.

Item 15. Financial statements. (a) If action is to be taken with respect to any matter specified in Item 12, 13, or 14 above furnish certified financial statements of the issuer and its subsidiaries such as would currently be required in an original application for the registration of securities of the issuer under the act. All schedules other than the schedules of supplementary profit and loss information may be omitted.

Instruction. Such statements shall be prepared and certified in accordance with Part 210 of this chapter (Regulation S-X).

(b) If action is to be taken with respect to any matter specified in Item 14 (b), furnish financial statements such as would currently be required in an original application by any person specified therein for registration of securities under the Act. Such statements need not be certified and all schedules other than the schedules of supplementary profit and loss information may be omitted. However, such statements may be omitted for (i) a totally-held subsidiary of the issuer which is included in the consolidated statement of the issuer and its subsidiaries, or (ii) a person which is to succeed to the issuer or to the issuer and one or more of its totally-held subsidiaries under such circumstances that Form 8-B would be appropriate for registration of securities of such person issued in exchange for listed securities of the issuer.

(c) Notwithstanding paragraphs (a) and (b) above, any or all of such financial statements which are not material for the exercise of prudent judgment in regard to the matter to be acted upon may be omitted if the reasons for such omission are stated. Such financial statements are deemed material to the exercise of prudent judgment in the usual case involving the authorization or issuance of any material amount of senior securities, but are not deemed material in cases involving the authorization or issuance of common stock, otherwise than in exchange.

(d) The proxy statement may incorporate by reference any financial statements contained in an annual report sent to security holders pursuant to § 240.14a-3 (Rule X-14A-3) with respect to the same meeting as that to which the proxy statement relates, provided such financial statements substantially meet the requirements of this item.

Item 16. Acquisition or disposition of property. If action is to be taken with respect to the acquisition or disposition of any property, furnish the following information:

(a) Describe briefly the general character and location of the property.

(b) State the nature and amount of consideration to be paid or received by the issuer or any subsidiary. To the extent practicable, outline briefly the facts bearing upon the question of the fairness of the consideration.

(c) State the name and address of the transferor or transferee, as the case may be, and the nature of any material relationship of such person to the issuer or any affiliate of the issuer.

(d) Outline briefly any other material features of the contract or transaction.

Item 17. Restatement of accounts. If action is to be taken with respect to the restatement of any asset, capital, or surplus account of the issuer, furnish the following information:

(a) State the nature of the restatement and the date as of which it is to be effective.

(b) Outline briefly the reasons for the restatement and for the selection of the particular effective date.

(c) State the name and amount of each account (including any reserve accounts) affected by the restatement and the effect of the restatement thereon.

(d) To the extent practicable, state whether and the extent, if any, to which, the restatement will, as of the date thereof, alter the amount available for distribution to the holders of equity securities.

Item 18. Action with respect to reports. If action is to be taken with respect to any report of the issuer or of its directors, officers or committees or any minutes of meeting of its stockholders, furnish the following information:

(a) State whether or not such action is to constitute approval or disapproval of any of the matters referred to in such reports or minutes.

(b) Identify each of such matters which it is intended will be approved or disapproved, and furnish the information required by the appropriate item or items of this schedule with respect to each such matter.

Item 19. Matters not required to be submitted. If action is to be taken with respect to any matter which is not required to be submitted to a vote of security holders, state the nature of such matter, the reasons for submitting it to a vote of security holders and what action is intended to be taken by the management in the event of a negative vote on the matter by the security holders.

Item 20. Amendment of charter, by-laws or other documents. If action is to be taken with respect to any amendment of the issuer's charter, by-laws or other documents as to which information is not required above, state briefly the reasons for and general effect of such amendment and the vote needed for its approval.

Item 21. Other proposed action. If action is to be taken with respect to any matter not specifically referred to above, describe briefly the substance of each such matter in substantially the same degree of detail as is required by Items 5 to 20, inclusive, above.

PART 249—FORMS, SECURITIES EXCHANGE ACT OF 1934

INSTRUCTIONS AS TO EXHIBITS IN FORM 10, FOR CORPORATIONS

The instructions as to exhibits in Form 10 (17 CFR 249.210) require that there be filed as exhibits to applications on that form copies of all options, warrants or rights described in answer to Item 21 of the form. Where such options are issued pursuant to a general plan which sets forth the principal terms and conditions upon which the options, warrants or rights may be issued, it is unnecessary to file copies of each individual option, warrant or right issued pursuant to the plan. Accordingly, instruction 9 of the Instructions as to Exhibits has been amended so as to require the filing in such cases of copies of the plan, together with specimen copies of the options, warrants or rights. Of course where they are not issued pursuant to such a plan and contain substantially different terms and conditions, it will still be necessary to file copies of each option, warrant or right.

Since the exhibit requirements of Forms 8-K and 10-K (17 CFR 249.308 and 249.310) are keyed to those of Form 10 (17 CFR 249.210), the amendment will operate to permit the filing in appropriate cases of copies of the plan as an exhibit to reports on those forms, in lieu of filing copies of each individual option, warrant or right.

Statutory basis. The amendment is adopted pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, particularly sections 12 and 23 (a) thereof, the Commission deeming such action necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors and necessary to carry out the provisions of the act.

The text of amended instruction 9 is as follows:

9. Copies of the plan setting forth the terms and conditions upon which the options, warrants or rights described in answer to item 21 were issued, together with specimen copies of such options, warrants or rights or, if they were not issued pursuant to such a plan, copies of each such option, warrant or right.

The Commission finds that the foregoing amendment will operate to the advantage of registrants under the act and that notice and procedure in accordance with section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act with respect to such an amendment is not necessary.

(Sec. 23, 48 Stat. 901, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 78w)

The foregoing amendment shall become effective December 12, 1952.

By the Commission.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter I—Munitions Board

Subchapter B—Miscellaneous Regulations and Policies

PART 121—STATEMENT OF POLICY FOR TREATMENT OF DEPRECIATION ON EMERGENCY FACILITIES COVERED BY CERTIFICATES OF NECESSITY FOR CONTRACT PRICING PURPOSES

This part sets forth a Department of Defense directive to the Departments of the Army, Navy and Air Force.

Sec.
121.1 Purpose.
121.2 Applicability.
121.3 Basic principles.
121.4 Procedures.

AUTHORITY: §§ 121.1 to 121.4 issued under 64 Stat. 798–822, as amended; 50 U. S. C. App., Sup., 2061–2166.

§ 121.1 Purpose. The purpose of this part is to implement Defense Mobilization Order No. 11, Amendment 1 (Title 32A, Chapter I), issued by the Acting Director of Defense Mobilization, effective July 21, 1952, with respect to the extent to which accelerated amortization may be allowed as a cost in negotiated contract pricing (17 F. R. 6657, July 19, 1952).

§ 121.2 Applicability. (a) The principles and procedures set forth in this part shall be applicable in the consideration of costs for purposes of pricing or repricing of all negotiated contracts of the Departments of the Army, Navy, and Air Force, the performance of which requires the use of emergency facilities. The term "negotiated contracts", as used in this part, means all contracts, other than those awarded pursuant to formal advertising, in which costs are a factor in contract pricing; it includes cost-reimbursement-type contracts, contracts containing price redetermination clauses, incentive-type contracts, and fixed-price contracts where estimated costs are used in negotiating firm prices. The term "negotiated contracts", as used in this part, also covers subcontracts of the same types as prime contracts to the extent that the policies of the respective military departments make their representatives responsible for the approval or disapproval of prices or costs of such subcontracts. With respect to subcontracts under negotiated prime contracts the procurement agency concerned shall have no greater responsibility than heretofore.

(b) These principles and procedures shall be applicable to all negotiated contracts placed after the effective date of this part and to all existing negotiated contracts (including letters of intent) at that date where firm prices have not been finally determined or redetermined and to all existing cost-reimbursement-type contracts not completed at that date except as to predetermined overhead rates or fixed amounts of overhead which have finally been agreed upon for particular periods.

§ 121.3 Basic principles. (a) As indicated by DMO-11, Amendment 1, "for the purpose of cost computations in negotiated contract pricing, true depreciation which includes extraordinary obsolescence reasonably assignable to the emergency period, is allowable. Any accelerated amortization of emergency facilities which is in excess of true depreciation, regardless of whether such excess is included in tax amortization certificates, is not allowable as an element of cost in negotiated contract pricing."

(b) The meaning of the term "true depreciation" shall conform to the generally accepted concept of depreciation accounting which may be defined as follows: A system of accounting which aims to distribute to the cost of operations, the cost of capital assets calculated to have expired for any accounting period due to such causes as wear and tear, action of the elements, and prospective inadequacy or obsolescence. Obsolescence of facilities may be brought about by reduced economic utility of facilities without loss of productive utility, such as by technological changes affecting the demand for the products of an industry, as well as by changes affecting the economic use of individual machines. Special requirements for relocation of facilities may also result in obsolescence.

(c) Obsolescence of emergency facilities due to prospective loss of economic utility after the emergency period is a special hazard in some industries. However, in some cases possible overcapacity in an industry is really represented in pre-existing facilities which are in fact obsolete; in such cases the new facilities may be expected to displace the old facilities after the emergency, and it may not be said necessarily that there is extraordinary obsolescence applicable to the new facilities during the emergency period. In cases where the introduction of emergency facilities may cause prospective obsolescence of existing facilities after the emergency period (when such existing facilities are not already obsolete, in fact), true depreciation for emergency facilities should not include allowances for prospective extraordinary obsolescence of the existing facilities; however, in such cases extraordinary obsolescence applicable to the existing facilities, when used in military production, should be considered separately to the extent appropriate in the circumstances.

(d) In the case of emergency facilities covered by Certificates of Necessity, for the purpose of depreciation computations in contract pricing, an arbitrary assignment of five years from date of completion of construction or acquisition of the respective facilities shall be made as representing the period of the emergency. The entire cost of such facilities first shall be fairly apportioned as between the emergency period and the post-emergency period; secondly, the portion of the cost of such facilities assigned to the emergency period shall be prorated over the fiscal periods thereof for purposes of determining overhead costs in any fiscal period to be allocated to the cost of performance of defense or other contracts.

(e) The allocation of the cost of facilities as between the emergency period and post-emergency period shall be made with consideration of the following:

(1) The estimated prospective post-emergency usefulness of the facilities in number of years of useful productive life. Consideration should be given to the post-emergency use (both civilian and military) which it is expected the facilities will have. In this connection, the character of the expected post-emergency use may be different than the emergency-period use.

(2) The additional costs of special-construction features of the facilities fairly assignable exclusively to defense requirements.

(3) Subject to the application of the principles outlined in this part, consideration shall be given to the portion of the cost of emergency facilities certified for amortization plus so-called normal depreciation for tax purposes during the emergency period on the uncertified portion of the cost of such facilities. (See particularly paragraphs (f) and (g) of this section.)

(4) The normal peacetime life of facilities having a normal peacetime utility. If Bulletin F of the Bureau of Internal Revenue is used in connection herewith, care must be exercised in its use, as its data may not be typical of any specific contractor or industry, especially in the emergency period.

It must be emphasized that this is a process of cost allocation which does not contemplate an appraisal of the resale value (other than residual salvage value) or replacement cost of emergency facilities at the end of the emergency period.

(f) Certificates of Necessity have been issued in some cases providing for the amortization of emergency facilities for tax purposes during the emergency period in amounts in excess of true depreciation. It is also possible that Certificates of Necessity may have been issued in isolated cases providing for the amortization of emergency facilities for tax purposes in amounts less than true depreciation. Such variances may be attributable to the granting of other incentives than true depreciation, or to the practice of following industry-wide patterns of certification without reference to true depreciation in specific cases. The excess of tax amortization over estimated true depreciation shall not be allowable as a cost for the purpose of pricing negotiated contracts, either directly or indirectly as a factor of "contingencies" or profit allowance.

(g) It is the intent of this part to give contractors a reasonable and properly allocable allowance to cover the estimated loss of economic usefulness of their emergency facilities in production under defense contracts. The procedures for determining such allowances must be such as will expedite determination; this requires avoidance of an impossible perfectionism. There is no intent to limit the cost allowance to depreciation that would be allowable for income tax purposes if there were no Certificates of Necessity, nor to necessarily require that the allowance be below tax amortization covered by certificates. Each case must be judged on its merits in the light of these principles. If the result obtained by the application of the principles outlined in this part indicates substantial justification of the total amount of amortization and depreciation allowable for tax purposes during the emergency period, as a reasonable measure of true depreciation, such amount shall be accepted, without adjustment, as true depreciation. In those isolated cases where substantial justification can be shown for a larger amount of true depreciation than the total amount of amortization and depreciation allowable for tax purposes during the emergency period, the larger amount shall be allowable as a cost for purposes of contract pricing.

(h) Contract pricing for the post-emergency period will be based upon allowing as a cost, depreciation on emergency facilities, computed by allocating the undepreciated cost of such facilities at the end of the emergency period (cost less true depreciation for that period) over the estimated remaining life of the facilities.

§ 121.4 Procedures. (a) With respect to emergency facilities which it is known will be used in the performance of negotiated contracts, as to which it is expected that Certificates of Necessity covering facilities of significant value will be issued on or after the effective date of this directive, the procurement agency concerned shall make a timely request to Defense Production Agency for an estimate of true depreciation of the facilities for the emergency period of five years, pursuant to paragraph 8 of DMO–11, as amended. It is required that the procurement agency concerned shall furnish DPA with such factual information as it has, or is readily available to it, which may be useful to DPA in making such estimates. This information shall be furnished at the same time as the procurement agency advises DPA or its agent of the need for the facilities for defense purposes. The type of information desired is the same as that desired by the procurement agency concerned under paragraph (f) of this section; however, the procurement agency is not required to make a preliminary estimate of true depreciation. Any procurement agency may make requests to DPA for an estimate of true depreciation subsequent to the issuance of a Certificate of Necessity when a timely request previous to issuance was impracticable because of such a circumstance as lack of timely information that the facilities in question were to be used in performance of negotiated defense contracts.

(b) While cost determination in negotiated contract pricing is a function of the procurement agency concerned, estimates of true depreciation of emergency facilities made by DPA in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section, will normally be used in such cost determination by the procurement agency concerned until such time in the future as changes in the relevant factors justify, in the opinion of the procurement agency concerned, a revision of the estimates.

(c) With respect to emergency facilities used in the performance of negotiated contracts for which Certificates of Necessity are or have been issued and for which DPA has not made an estimate of true depreciation, including all certificates heretofore issued, the procurement agency concerned shall be solely responsible for estimates of such depreciation for contract pricing purposes in the light of the principles set forth in this part. However, as provided in paragraph 9 of DMO–11, Amendment 1, in special or unusual cases where Certificates have been issued heretofore, DPA will, on request, furnish the procurement agency concerned with such information as it has or is readily available to it which would have been pertinent to such an estimate of true depreciation—such requests should be held to a minimum.

(d) In order to expedite administration of the determination of true depreciation for the emergency period for a specific contractor, it will be appropriate to make over-all determinations of true depreciation of emergency facilities covered by Certificates of Necessity on a plant-wide or product-wide basis of classification of such facilities by such groupings as may be appropriate in consideration of general similarity of the facilities from the standpoint of length of useful productive life.

(e) In the case of contracts to which this part is applicable which are in force at the effective date of this part, price redeterminations, cost-incentive adjustments, and cost reimbursements may continue to be made in accordance with the pricing formula established in the initial pricing negotiations, provided the contractors are agreeable, and provided there is no evidence that the contractor has been allowed more than true depreciation in pricing, either directly or indirectly. When costs of such contracts are redetermined in the light of the principles set forth herein, consideration shall be given to possible redetermination of the entire allowable costs and profit (or fees), as pricing factors, to the extent required to avoid excessive or duplicate allowances in costs or profits for such true depreciation. Allowances for contingencies and profits in initial price negotiations in some cases may have included indirect allowances for the excess of true depreciation or tax amortization over normal depreciation; in such cases no more should be allowed in total pricing for this factor than true depreciation.

(f) Contractors shall be required to set forth to the authorized representatives of the procurement agencies, all the pertinent facts having a bearing on estimates of true depreciation together with their evaluation thereof. Such authorized representatives of the procurement agencies will be expected to exercise reasonable judgment in their review and evaluation of the facts in arriving at estimates of true depreciation, in the light of the basic principles set forth in this part, recognizing the impossibility of having absolutely demonstrable proof of the conclusions reached.

(g) Where the emergency facilities of any contractor at one plant or at one general location are used in the performance of contracts for more than one of the military departments, one of these departments shall make determinations of true depreciation binding upon each other department. The responsible department shall be the one, if any, having plant cognizance procurement assignment; in the absence of such assignment the responsible department shall be the one, if any, having single-service audit responsibility; otherwise the responsible department shall be the one having the largest interest in effecting current procurement at the time of the determination. Similarly, each military department shall be responsible for delegating responsibility therein in a manner to avoid duplications in determinations of true depreciation within that department.

Implementation. This directive shall be published promptly in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Implementing regulations, directives, or instructions shall be issued within each military department, and copies shall be furnished to the Assistant Secretary of Defense (Comptroller) and the Chairman of the Munitions Board within forty-five (45) days from date hereof.

Effective date. This directive is effective on the day of issuance.

J. D. SMALL,
Chairman, Munitions Board.

DECEMBER 10, 1952.

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

1. Section 373.51 Supplement 1: Time schedules for submission of applications for licenses to export certain Positive List commodities is amended to read as follows:

TIME SCHEDULES FOR SUBMISSION OF APPLICATIONS FOR LICENSES TO EXPORT CERTAIN POSITIVE LIST COMMODITIES[1]

[Fourth quarter 1952, and first quarter 1953]

Dept. of Commerce Schedule B No.	Commodity	Submission dates
		Fourth quarter 1952	First quarter 1953
	Petroleum and products
503300 through 504100	Lubricating oils and greases (for shipments to Burma, Ceylon, Taiwan, Indochina, Hong Kong, India, Macao, Federation of Malaya, Republic of Indonesia, Pakistan, Republic of the Philippines, Singapore, and Thailand. (See § 373.8 of this subchapter.)	On or before Aug. 15, 1952.	On or before Nov. 15, 1952.
	Other nonmetallic minerals (precious included)
571500	Sulfur, crushed, ground, refined, sublimed and flowers.	Oct. 1–Oct. 31, 1952	Dec. 22, 1952–Jan. 15, 1953.
	Metals and manufactures[2]
	Controlled materials:[3]
	Commodities with processing code STEEL	May 15–May 30, 1952	Sept. 8–Oct. 6, 1952.
	Commodities with processing code NONF	May 16–May 30, 1952	Aug. 15–Aug. 30, 1952.
	Commodities with processing code TNPL:
	Secondary tinplate products	Oct. 6–Oct. 27, 1952	Jan. 2–Jan. 23, 1953.
	Specification production plate	June 16–July 18, 1952	Oct. 6–Oct. 27, 1952.
	Commodities other than controlled materials:
	Copper and manufactures:[4]
618957	Copper-base alloy pipe fittings (including brass and bronze).	Sept. 1–Sept. 15, 1952	Dec. 1–Dec. 15, 1952.
618959	Copper pipe fittings
619034	Brass and bronze welding electrodes and welding rods (including phosphor bronze).
619034	Phosphor copper brazing rods and wire
619959	Copper welding rods and wires
641300–644000	Copper and copper-base alloy scrap (except No. 1 copper scrap and brass mill scrap).	Sept. 1–Sept. 15, 1952.
644100	Copper-base alloy, ingot form
	Aluminum and manufactures:
636050	Aluminum scrap (new and old)
636301	Aluminum sheets, corrugated
	Nickel and manufactures:
619039	Nickel welding rods and wires	Sept. 1–Sept. 15, 1952	Dec. 1–Dec. 15, 1952.
619159	Nickel-chrome-boron powder
619950	Nickel catalysts and nickel slugs
654501 through 654519	Nickel ores, concentrates, scrap and primary forms.
619950	Other nickel manufactures, n. e. c.	Sept. 1–Sept. 15, 1952.
	Tin and manufactures:
619039	Tin welding rods and wires (include solder)	Sept. 1–Sept. 15, 1952	Dec. 1–Dec. 15, 1952.
619159	Tin metal powders
619950	Tin shot; tin slugs; and tin collapsible tubes
619950	Other tin manufactures, n. e. c.
654501	Tin alloy scrap (new and old) (including babbitt metal dross and scrap).	Sept. 1–Sept. 15, 1952.
654501	Tin ore
654507	Tin metal in ingots, pipes, bars, blocks, anodes, cathodes, slabs, and other crude forms.	Sept. 1–Sept. 15, 1952	Dec. 1–Dec. 15, 1952.
654511	Tin pipe, plates, sheets, tubes, and other primary forms.
654517	Babbitt metal (except scrap and dross)	Sept. 1–Sept. 15, 1952	Dec. 1–Dec. 15, 1952.
619159	Selenium powder	Nov. 3–Nov. 17, 1952	Jan. 2–Jan. 16, 1953.
664998	Selenium metal
664529	Cobalt dental alloys (formerly 664529 and 915360)	Oct. 1–Oct. 31, 1952	Jan. 12–Jan. 26, 1953.

See footnotes at end of table.

[1] This amendment was published in Current Export Bulletin No. 686, dated December 11, 1952, with the exception of time schedules announcement for selenium powder and metal and cobalt dental alloys.

TIME SCHEDULES FOR SUBMISSION OF APPLICATIONS FOR LICENSES TO EXPORT CERTAIN POSITIVE LIST COMMODITIES [1]—Continued

[Fourth quarter 1952, and first quarter 1953]

Dept. of Commerce Schedule B No.	Commodity	Submission dates
		Fourth quarter 1952	First quarter 1953
	Industrial chemicals

[1] Applications for licenses to export commodities for which no specified filing dates are announced may be submitted at any time. (See § 372.4 (a) of this subchapter.) Export applications for commodities requiring a validated license which moving in transit through the United States may be submitted at any time and are not subject to specified filing dates. (See § 372.4 of this subchapter.)

[2] The submission dates for these commodities are also applicable to prior Export applications (see §§ 371.2 (f) and 374.3 (d) of this subchapter), and to petroleum project licenses, as provided in § 399.5 (b) of this subchapter.

[3] Controlled materials are identified on the Positive List by the letter "C" in the column headed "Commodity List".

[4] See §§ 398.5 (b) (6) and 398.5 (b) (7) of this subchapter for exception to these dates under certain conditions.

This part of the amendment shall become effective as of December 11, 1952, with the exception of the announcement of time schedules for the First Quarter, 1953, for Selenium powder, Selenium metal and Cobalt dental alloys which shall become effective as of December 17, 1952.

2. Section 382.51 Table of compliance orders currently in effect denying export privileges, paragraph (b) Table of compliance orders, is amended in the following particulars:

The following entries are added:

Name and address	Effective date of order	Expiration date of order	Export privileges affected	FEDERAL REGISTER citation
Lee, Henry T. S., 37 Wall St., New York 5, N. Y.	11-12-52	5-12-53	Validated licenses, all commodities, any destination; also exports to Canada.	17 F. R. 10476, 11-15-52.

This part of the amendment shall become effective as of December 11, 1952.

3. Section 398.5 CMP: Export allocations and procedures, paragraph (b) Procedures governing applications to export controlled materials is amended by adding thereto a new subparagraph (7) to read as follows:

(7) Applications for exportation of finished carbon conversion steel. Exporters who make conversion arrangements for the production of finished carbon conversion steel (as defined in CMP Reg. No. 1, Dir. 19 (32 CFR Chapter VI)) representing production in excess of normal National Production Authority production directive tonnages, to be delivered in the fourth quarter of 1952 and the first quarter of 1953, may file applications for export licenses at any time regardless of filing schedules. The application must be accompanied by a letter in triplicate containing the following information.

(i) The name and address of the plant of the supplier of semifinished carbon conversion steel.

(ii) For each such plant, a description of the semifinished carbon conversion steel product (ingot, billet, bloom, slab, etc.).

(iii) For each such product, the tonnage by months of shipment.

(iv) For each such product, the name and address of each plant providing a finished facility in the conversion process.

(v) For each such plant (finishing facility), a description of the carbon steel product to be produced in the forms and shapes indicated in Schedule I of CMP Regulation No. 1.

(vi) For each such carbon steel product, tonnage by months of shipment.

Such applications when approved will not be charged to the regular OIT quarterly quotas.

NOTE: Section 2 of Dir. 19 to CMP Reg. No. 1 defines "finished carbon conversion steel" as follows:

"Finished carbon conversion steel" means carbon steel in the forms and shapes indicated in Schedule I of CMP Regulation No. 1, which has been obtained by a person in consequence of such person or some other person having furnished, directly or indirectly, to one or more steel producers or converters, semifinished carbon conversion steel (which is carbon steel in a less-finished form such as, but not limited to, ingots, blooms, billets, slabs, rods, skelp, and hot-rolled sheets in coils) for the express purpose of having such semifinished carbon conversion steel processed into another form indicated in Schedule I of CMP Reg. No. 1.

This part of the amendment shall become effective as of December 11, 1952.

4. Section 398.8 Supply assistance for foreign petroleum operations is amended in the following particulars:

a. Paragraph (i) Amendments. is amended by adding the following sentence at the end of the second unnumbered subparagraph: "(See paragraph (k) of this section regarding carbon conversion steel amendments.)"

b. In paragraph (j) Assignment and use of allotment symbols and DO ratings, footnote 1 to the table is amended to read as follows:

[1] Listed in § 398.53.

c. Paragraph (k) Revocation or denial, is redesignated paragraph (l) Revocation or denial, and a new paragraph (k) is added to read as follows:

(k) Use of allotment symbols to obtain additional carbon conversion steel—(1) Up to 500 tons. Direction 3 to National Production Authority Order M-46A, (32 CFR Chapter VI) issued September 5, 1952, permits foreign petroleum operators having approved construction schedules to use their allotment symbols granted for the fourth quarter of 1952 and the first quarter of 1953 to procure up to 500 tons of finished carbon conversion steel for delivery in each of these quarters for each foreign petroleum project. This amount is in addition to the quantities specifically approved by the Office of International Trade on their Forms PAD-26A and IT-824 for such quarters. These operators may place their orders and secure delivery of the additional quantity up to 500 tons without filing applications with either NPA or OIT. However, requests for amendments to existing Forms PAD-26A and IT-824 must be filed with OIT in accordance with paragraph (i) of this section to obtain permission for exportation of the additional quantities. These amendments may be filed at any time. In filing such amendment requests exporters must make the following certification on the face of the amendment form:

The steel covered by this amendment request was purchased under section 3 (a) of Direction 3 to NPA Order M-46A.

(2) Over 500 tons. (i) Operators desiring to obtain and to export finished carbon conversion steel in excess of 500 tons for any foreign petroleum project for a particular quarter (over and above the quantity specifically approved for such project during such quarter) shall file their amendment requests as specified in paragraph (i) of this section. These amendments may be filed at any time.

(ii) Each amendment request must be accompanied by a letter in triplicate setting forth the information specified in § 398.5 (b) (7).

(3) Oil country tubular goods (Schedule B Nos. 606210, 606230, 606240, and 606260). Direction 4 to NPA Order M-46A makes the provisions of Direction 3 inapplicable to the procurement of new oil country tubular goods made from semifinished conversion steel.

This part of the amendment shall become effective as of December 11, 1952.

TITLE 29—LABOR

Subtitle A—Office of the Secretary of Labor

PART 2—GENERAL REGULATIONS

FORM TO BE USED IN FILING REPORTS

In view of the fact that the Joint Committee on Labor-Management Relations no longer exists, the reference to that Committee in item 3 of § 2.4 (b) (1) is no longer necessary.

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority vested in me by Revised Statutes 161 (5 U. S. C. 22), item 3 of § 2.4 (b) (1) is hereby amended by changing the comma after "the House Committee on Education and Labor" to a period, and deleting the words "or the Joint Committee on Labor-Management Relations."

(R. S. 161; 5 U. S. C. 22)

This amendment shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 11th day of December 1952.

MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Secretary of Labor.

TITLE 31—MONEY AND FINANCE: TREASURY

Chapter I—Monetary Offices, Department of the Treasury

PART 54—GOLD REGULATIONS

THIRTY-FIVE-OUNCE EXEMPTION FOR PROCESSORS

The full text of § 54.21 of the Gold Regulations (31 CFR Part 54; 17 F. R. 7888) as hereby amended, is set forth below. This amendment incorporates into § 54.21 the following changes:

1. The privileges of operating pursuant to this section are made subject to an additional condition, namely, that the aggregate amount of gold acquired, held, transported, melted and treated, and imported, does not exceed, in any calendar month, 250 fine troy ounces of gold content.

2. A limited exception is made to the prohibition against the consignment of semi-processed gold, in order to permit the consignment of scrap gold to the holder of a Treasury Department gold license on Form TOL-13, for processing and return in the form of semi-processed gold.

3. There is added a prohibition against the furnishing of melted scrap gold to other persons operating pursuant to the provisions of § 54.21.

The amendments to § 54.21 are issued after due consideration of all relevant views and material submitted pursuant to a notice of proposed rule making published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on October 25, 1952 (17 F. R. 9670) setting forth the substance of the proposed rules and affording interested persons thirty days in which to submit their views in writing.

Accordingly, effective January 19, 1953, § 54.21 of the Gold Regulations (31 CFR Part 54) is amended to read as follows:

§ 54.21 Thirty-five-ounce exemption for processors. (a) Subject to the conditions in paragraph (b) of this section, any person regularly engaged in an industry, profession, or art, who requires gold for legitimate, customary, and ordinary use therein, may, without the necessity of obtaining a Treasury gold license:

(1) Import unmelted scrap gold or acquire gold in any form from any person authorized to hold and dispose of gold in such form and amount under the regulations in this part or a license issued pursuant hereto;

(2) Hold, transport, melt, and treat such gold;

(3) Furnish unmelted scrap gold to the United States, to persons operating pursuant to §§ 54.18 or 54.21, or to the holder of a license issued pursuant to paragraph (a) of § 54.25; and

(4) Furnish melted scrap gold to the United States or to the holder of a license pursuant to paragraph (a) of § 54.25 which authorizes the acquisition of such melted scrap gold.

(b) The privileges of paragraph (a) of this section are granted subject to the following conditions:

(1) That the aggregate amount of such gold acquired, held, transported, melted and treated, and imported, does not exceed, at any one time, 35 fine troy ounces of gold content (not including gold which may be acquired, held, etc., without a license under any other section of this part, except § 54.18);

(2) That the aggregate amount of such gold acquired, held, transported, melted and treated, and imported, does not exceed, in any calendar month, 250 fine troy ounces of gold content (not including gold which may be acquired, held, etc., without a license under any other section of this part, except § 54.18);

(3) That such gold is acquired and held only for processing into fabricated gold, as defined in § 54.4, by such person in the industry, profession, or art in which he is engaged; and

(4) That full and exact records are kept and furnished in compliance with § 54.26.

(c) Persons acquiring, holding, transporting, melting and treating, and importing gold under authority of this section are not authorized:

(1) To consign gold bullion, including semi-processed gold, to other persons for processing except that scrap gold may, for processing and return in semi-processed form, be consigned to the holder of a license issued pursuant to paragraph (a) of § 54.25, which authorizes the acquisition and melting and treating of such gold.

(2) To furnish melted scrap gold to persons operating pursuant to the provisions of this section or § 54.18;

(3) To dispose of gold held under authority of this section otherwise than in the form of fabricated gold or scrap gold.

(d) Persons holding licenses issued pursuant to paragraph (a) of § 54.25 or acquiring, holding, transporting, or importing, gold pursuant to § 54.18 may not acquire, hold, transport, melt or treat, or import, any gold under authority of this section.

INT. 6—CHARGES FOR SPECIAL SERVICES (SECTIONS 13 (b) (2), 13 (b) (10), 13 (c))

A retailer of beef has inquired whether he may charge for the special services he performs which have traditionally been reflected in a ten to fifteen cents a pound higher price of beef to his customers.

Section 13(b)(10), CPR 25, Revision 1, as amended, makes it clear that sellers of beef at retail are prohibited from making a charge for any service, including the extension of credit, performed in connection with the sale of beef, except as provided in section 13(c). Section 13(c), as amended, permits certain retailers to charge customers for customary services, the ceiling prices of which are determined under CPR 34. However, besides section 13(b)(2) of CPR 25, Revision 1, which prohibits adding any charge for delivery service, such a prohibition is also found in section 13 (c) itself, excluding from being added to the ceiling price the additions provided for in sections 41, 43, 44, 45 and 46 of CPR 24.

INT. 1—GRADING AND GRADEMARKING OF MEAT BY SLAUGHTERERS (SECTION 5)

An inquiry has been made as to those cases in which a slaughterer is permitted to forego Federal grading of meat sold by him.

Section 5 (c) of Distribution Regulation 2, Revision 1, permits any slaughterer to grade beef "Cutter" or "Canner" and grademark the same accordingly, irrespective of the availability of official graders. Section 5 (d) permits self-grading of beef by or for Class 3 slaughterers subject to the limitations of section 5 (g) as to grade, irrespective of the availability of official graders. Finally, section 5 (c) permits self-grading of beef, subject to the limitations as to grade of section 5 (g), by a slaughterer who has received a letter from the Department of Agriculture pursuant to section 5 (c) informing him that official graders are not available. Section 5 (e) permits self-grading, if an official grader is not available, of skinned veal and calf carcasses which have been graded and marked with skin on by official graders. Sections 5 (b) and 5 (c) make it clear that in all cases other than those described above, beef must be graded by an official grader.

INT. 2—GRADING AND GRADEMARKING BY UNOFFICIAL GRADER (SECTION 5)

OPS has been asked whether a complete exemption may be obtained from Federal grading and grademarking for "Canner" and "Cutter" beef.

Section 5 (c) of Distribution Regulation 2, Revision 1, provides that slaughterers may grade a carcass or wholesale cut of beef "Canner" and "Cutter" themselves and grademark such beef accordingly. This was not intended as an option between grading and grademarking, on the one hand, or not doing so at all, on the other hand. Under Section 5 (a), grading and grademarking is mandatory and where a person desires to sell grade "Canner" and "Cutter" and grademark accordingly, the appropriate grademark must be applied.

GENERAL CEILING PRICE REGULATION

INT. 61—INCREASE IN CEILING PRICE OF DISTRIBUTOR OF MIXED FEED CONSEQUENT ON INCREASE IN PRICE BY MANUFACTURER UNDER GOR 21 (SECTION 11 (c))

Where a manufacturer of mixed feeds obtains an increase in his ceiling prices under GOR 21, a distributor of such feeds may not increase his price for the feeds under SR 7 to GCPR since the increase by the manufacturer is not pursuant to that supplementary regulation. Neither may the distributor obtain an increase under SR 29 to GCPR since food products (except dry cereals for infants) processed from one or more of the agricultural commodities listed in section 11 (a) of GCPR are excluded from the operation of that supplementary regulation, and animal feeds are deemed to be such food products. However, since increases under section 11 (c) of GCPR are not limited to pass-through of price increases effected by a manufacturer under section 11 (b), the distributor is entitled to a section 11 (c) increase to the extent that the feed is a section 11 (a) commodity or a product processed therefrom.

[General Overriding Regulation 14, Amdt. 31]

GOR 14—EXCEPTED AND SUSPENDED SERVICES

ADDITIONAL EXCEPTED SERVICES

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161, and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2, this Amendment 31 to General Overriding Regulation 14 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

In continuance of the policy of the Office of Price Stabilization to concentrate its efforts within major areas affecting the cost of living, business costs, and the defense program, this amendment extends the coverage of General Overriding Regulation 14 to exempt various services which do not exert a significant effect upon the cost of living of the average American family or business costs and the continued control of which involves administrative difficulties which are disproportionate in relationship to the value of such control to the stabilization program.

Advertising agencies have already been decontrolled and the provisions of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, preclude control over radio and television broadcasting. Agencies that sell radio and television time, while in a separate category, perform functions that are incident to those performed by both the advertising and broadcasting industries. It is therefore not advisable to continue control over this group of service suppliers while contiguous service suppliers at both ends of its operation are not under control. For similar reasons this amendment exempts from control the fees and charges of nursing homes and managers and agents of professional entertainers.

Charges for services and commodities incidental thereto, made by non-profit summer camps, whose total charges do not exceed $30 per week per camper, have previously been exempted from price control. Experience and administrative convenience dictate that the entire children's camp industry be exempt from controls. It is not to be expected that this action will affect the average American family, because summer camps for children which charge more than $30 per week per camper are "luxury" services which do not exert a significant effect upon the average American family's cost of living.

The following additional luxury service items which have little effect upon the cost of living of the average American family, are also exempted: travel agents and travel bureaus; cleaning and upkeep of non-commercial residential pools.

Further, this amendment exempts from price control charges made for the rental of costumes, dress suits, uniforms, and ecclesiastical, academic and fraternal order vestments. Sales of costumes, dress suits, uniforms, and ecclesiastical, academic and fraternal order vestments have already been decontrolled. These garments are rented by only a few persons for special and limited uses, often they are made to order and specification, repeat orders are rare, and the demand for them is highly inelastic. It is clear that they do not have a significant effect upon the cost of living or business costs.

Changing economic conditions within the tallow and gluestock industries influenced the exemption of the fees charged by renderers for the removal of dead stock and animals. For example, tallow and gluestock prices have fallen greatly, and the cost of furnishing the removal service now exceeds the value of the carcass. This aggravates the administrative difficulties attendant upon establishing a realistic ceiling price for the removal services. The exemption of this service will have no effect upon the cost of living nor on business costs, and its effect upon the farmer will be negligible because of its infrequent use. The fluctuations in the value of the carcass impose administrative burdens that render control over the service inadvisable in view of the negligible effect upon the economy.

Services rendered by better business bureaus, mercantile agencies, collection agencies and personal credit reporting and investigatory agencies are being decontrolled because they have only a minor effect upon business costs, and many phases of their operations have already been removed from control. The intangible nature of the commercial forecasting and investigating activities of these service suppliers makes continued price control difficult, and impractical in view of the concentration of this agency's efforts within major areas affecting our economy. For similar reasons business consultants and traffic consultants are exempt from control.

The exemption for pharmacists, registered, is extended to include oral prescriptions that are promptly reduced to writing, and conforms with the Humphrey-Durham Bill, Public Law 215, 82d Congress, Chapter 578, 1st Session, H. R. 3298.

In the formulation of this amendment there was consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives to the extent practicable, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

General Overriding Regulation 14, as amended is further amended in the following respects:

1. Subparagraph (47) of paragraph (a) of section 3 is amended to read as follows:

(47) Pharmacists—registered, for filling prescriptions which require the services of a registered pharmacist, and which contain a physician's, dentist's, veterinarian's, or any other licensed practitioner's written (oral, if promptly reduced to writing) directions as to use, and is signed by him; provided, however, that where a registered pharmacist sells a product without transposing the written directions from the prescription to the label, that is the sale of a commodity and is not exempt under this regulation.

2. Subparagraph 69 of paragraph (a) of section 3 is amended as follows:

(69) Advertising agencies and those agencies that sell radio and television time.

3. Subparagraph (98) of paragraph (a) of section 3 is amended to read as follows:

(98) Charges, for services and commodities incidental thereto, made by summer camps for children.

4. The following new subparagraphs are added at the end of paragraph (a) of section 3:

(118) Travel agents and travel bureaus.

(119) Rental of costumes, dress suits, uniforms, and ecclesiastical, academic and fraternal order vestments.

(120) Business consultants, traffic consultants.

(121) Managers and agents of professional entertainers.

(122) Better business bureaus.

(123) Collection agencies.

(124) Mercantile credit agencies and personal credit reporting and investigatory agencies including but not limited to credit bureaus.

(125) Cleaning and upkeep of non-commercial residential swimming pools.

(126) Removal of dead stock and animals by renderers.

(127) Nursing Homes.

Effective date. This Amendment 31 to General Overriding Regulation 14 shall become effective December 17, 1952.

INT. 1—INCREASE IN CEILING PRICE OF DISTRIBUTOR OF MIXED FEED CONSEQUENT ON INCREASE IN PRICE BY MANUFACTURER UNDER GOR 21

Where a manufacturer of mixed feeds obtains an increase in his ceiling prices under GOR 21, a distributor of such feeds may not increase his price for the feeds under SR 7 to GCPR since the increase by the manufacturer is not pursuant to that supplementary regulation. Neither may the distributor obtain an increase under SR 29 to GCPR since food products (except dry cereals for infants) processed from one or more of the agricultural commodities listed in section 11 (a) of GCPR are excluded from the operation of that supplementary regulation, and animal feeds are deemed to be such food products. However, since increases under section 11 (c) of GCPR are not limited to pass-through of price increases effected by a manufacturer under section 11 (b), the distributor is entitled to a section 11 (c) increase to the extent that the feed is a section 11 (a) commodity or a product processed therefrom.

Chapter IV—Salary and Wage Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

Subchapter B—Wage Stabilization Board

[General Wage Regulation 13, Revised Amdt. 2]

GWR 13—FRINGE BENEFITS

ADDITIONAL GROUNDS FOR APPROVAL OF FRINGE BENEFITS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (64 Stat. 816, as amended by Pub. Law 96, and Pub. Law 429, 82d Cong.) Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), Executive Order 10377 (17 F. R. 6891), and Executive Order 10390 (17 F. R. 7995), and General Order No. 16, Economic Stabilization Administrator (17 F. R. 6925), General Wage Regulation 13, Revised, is hereby amended.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment to General Wage Regulation 13, Revised, authorizes approval of petitions for certain types of fringe benefits on other bases than the prevailing industry or area practice. Before this amendment General Wage Regulation 13, Revised, provided that a petition for paid vacations, paid holidays, premium pay relative to days and hours of work, or shift differentials could be approved only if the proposed fringe benefit did not exceed both as to amount and type, the prevailing industry or area practice. The Regulation will now permit, in addition, that such fringes may be approved if they do not exceed, both as to amount and type, the prevailing practice of other establishments, or for other groups of employees in the same establishment, with which the employees covered by the petition may be compared from the viewpoint of preserving normal patterns of determining conditions of employment, or the practice in another establishment with which a tandem relationship can be shown.

The experience of the Board with the "prevailing industry or area practice" test for these types of fringe benefits indicated that it was, in some instances, too limiting, in that new or modified fringe benefits based on other comparisons than the prevailing industry or area practice would not be unstabilizing.

Before this amendment, the regulation also provided that petitions for call-in pay would be judged according to prevailing industry or area practice, i. e., the standard established in paragraph (a) of section 2. This amendment changes the standards of approvability for call-in pay by placing this fringe in the category of fringe benefits covered by paragraph (b) of section 2.

In the formulation of this amendment, due consideration has been given to the standards and procedures set forth in Titles IV and VII of the act, as amended, and the Board, with Industry members dissenting, has recommended to the Economic Stabilization Administrator that he promulgate this amendment. The Administrator has considered such recommendation, and does hereby promulgate this amendment as Amendment 2 to General Wage Regulation 13, Revised.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Section 2 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 2. Petitions for approval of fringe benefits. Parties desiring to put into effect a new or modified fringe benefit shall submit a petition for approval thereof.

(a) A petition for approval of paid vacations, paid holidays, premium pay relative to days and hours of work, or shift differentials, will be approved if the proposed fringe benefit does not exceed as to both amount and type:

(1) The prevailing industry practice; or

(2) The prevailing area practice; or

(3) The prevailing practice of that group of establishments, comparison with which is best adapted to preserve normal patterns of determining conditions of employment; or

(4) The prevailing practice of a group of employees within the same establishment, comparison with which group is necessary to preserve normal patterns of determining conditions of employment; or

(5) The practice in any establishment with which a tandem relationship as defined in GWR 10 can be shown.

(b) A petition for other types of fringe benefits will be approved if the proposed fringe benefit conforms with the standards hereinabove set forth; Provided, however, That the foregoing standards may be inappropriate and do not apply to petitions for approval of such items where:

(1) The proposed benefits are clearly of minor cost and will not be unstabilizing, or

(2) The problem to which the fringe benefit relates is not generally encountered in the industry or area, or

(3) The petition involves reasonable increases in amount and type of reimbursement to individuals for usual and recurring expenses arising out of and directly connected with the job, where industry and area practice is not important.

Petitions in the latter three categories may be approved without a showing of area, industry, or comparison group practice.

Chapter XXI—Office of Rent Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

[Rent Regulation 1, Amdt. 29 to Schedule B]

RR 1—HOUSING

SCHEDULE B—SPECIFIC PROVISIONS RELATING TO INDIVIDUAL DEFENSE-RENTAL AREAS OR PORTIONS THEREOF

OHIO

Effective December 18, 1952, Rent Regulation 1 is amended as set forth below.

(Sec. 204, 61 Stat. 197, as amended; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 1894)

Issued this 15th day of December 1952.

JAMES McI. HENDERSON,
Director of Rent Stabilization.

Item 77 is added to Schedule B of Rent Regulation 1—Housing, reading as follows:

77. Provisions relating to Scioto County, Ohio, a portion of the Portsmouth-Chillicothe Defense-Rental Area (Item 236 (a) of Schedule A): With respect to housing accommodations in Scioto County, Ohio, sec. 141 of this regulation is changed to read as follows:

SEC. 141. Alternate adjustment for increases in costs and prices. (a) The housing accommodation had a maximum rent in effect on November 5, 1952, and the present maximum rent for the housing accommodation does not equal (1) 130 percent of the maximum rent in effect on June 30, 1947, or 130 percent of the maximum rent for comparable housing accommodations on June 30, 1947, if no maximum rent was in effect on that date; (2) plus or minus any increases or decreases in maximum rent ordered after June 30, 1947, under this regulation for major capital improvements or increases or decreases in living space, services, furniture, furnishings or equipment or substantial deterioration. The adjustment under this section 141 (a) shall be in an amount sufficient to cause the maximum rent to equal (1) 130 percent of the maximum rent in effect on June 30, 1947, for the housing accommodations or comparable housing accommodations, whichever is applicable; (2) plus or minus appropriate increases or decreases in rental value, if any, as specified herein: Provided, however, That the Director shall give appropriate consideration to orders issued under section 157 or 162 decreasing rents which were in effect on June 30, 1947. Adjustments under this section 141 (a) shall be effective automatically upon the filing of the petition if a maximum rent was in effect on June 30, 1947. In all other cases, they shall not be effective until the order is issued by the Director.

(b) The housing accommodations had a maximum rent in effect on June 30, 1947, and did not have a maximum rent in effect on November 5, 1952, and the present maximum rent does not equal (1) 130 percent of the maximum rent in effect on June 30, 1947, (2) plus any increase in rental value because of a major capital improvement or an increase in services, furniture, furnishings, or equipment which occurred after June 30, 1947, (3) minus any decrease in rental value because of any decrease in services, furniture, furnishings, or equipment required by the rent regulations on June 30, 1947, or because of a substantial deterioration. The adjustment under this section 141 (b) shall be in an amount sufficient to cause the maximum rent to equal (1) 130 percent of the maximum rent in effect on June 30, 1947, (2) plus or minus appropriate increases or decreases in rental value, if any, heretofore specified.

All provisions of this regulation insofar as they are applicable to Scioto County, Ohio, are amended to the extent necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this item of Schedule B.

SCHEDULE B—SPECIFIC PROVISIONS RELATING TO INDIVIDUAL DEFENSE-RENTAL AREAS OR PORTIONS THEREOF

PENNSYLVANIA

Effective December 22, 1952, Rent Regulation 1 is amended as set forth below.

(Sec. 204, 61 Stat. 197, as amended; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 1894)

Issued this 15th day of December 1952.

JAMES McI. HENDERSON,
Director of Rent Stabilization.

Item 78 is added to Schedule B of Rent Regulation 1—Housing, reading as follows:

78. Provisions relating to the Williamsport, Pennsylvania, Defense-Rental Area (Item 272 of Schedule A): With respect to housing accommodations in the Williamsport Defense-Rental Area, section 141 of this regulation is changed to read as follows:

SEC. 141. Alternate adjustment for increases in costs and prices. (a) The housing accommodation had a maximum rent in effect on September 28, 1952, and the present maximum rent for the housing accommodation does not equal (1) 130 percent of the maximum rent in effect on June 30, 1947, or 130 percent of the maximum rent for comparable housing accommodations on June 30, 1947, if no maximum rent was in effect on that date; (2) plus or minus any increases or decreases in maximum rent ordered after June 30, 1947, under this regulation for major capital improvements or increases or decreases in living space, services, furniture, furnishings or equipment or substantial deterioration. The adjustment under this section 141 (a) shall be in an amount sufficient to cause the maximum rent to equal (1) 130 percent of the maximum rent in effect on June 30, 1947, for the housing accommodations or comparable housing accommodations, whichever is applicable; (2) plus or minus appropriate increases or decreases in rental value, if any, as specified herein: Provided, however, That the Director shall give appropriate consideration to orders issued under section 157 or 162 decreasing rents which were in effect on June 30, 1947. Adjustments under this section 141 (a) shall be effective automatically upon the filing of the petition if a maximum rent was in effect on June 30, 1947. In all other cases, they shall not be effective until the order is issued by the Director.

(b) The housing accommodation had a maximum rent in effect on June 30, 1947, and did not have a maximum rent in effect on September 28, 1952, and the present maximum rent does not equal (1) 130 percent of the maximum rent in effect on June 30, 1947, (2) plus any increase in rental value because of a major capital improvement or an increase in services, furniture, furnishings, or equipment which occurred after June 30, 1947, (3) minus any decrease in rental value because of any decrease in services, furniture, furnishings, or equipment required by the rent regulations on June 30, 1947, or because of a substantial deterioration. The adjustment under this section 141 (b) shall be in an amount sufficient to cause the maximum rent to equal (1) 130 percent of the maximum rent in effect on June 30, 1947, (2) plus or minus appropriate increases or decreases in rental value, if any, heretofore specified.

All provisions of this regulation insofar as they are applicable to the Williamsport, Pennsylvania, Defense-Rental Area are amended to the extent necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this item of Schedule B.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Production and Marketing Administration

[7 CFR Part 51]

U. S. STANDARDS FOR ORANGES (CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA)

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Notice is hereby given that the United States Department of Agriculture is considering the issuance of revised United States Standards for Oranges (California and Arizona) under the authority contained in the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087; 7 U. S. C. 1621 et seq.) and the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1953 (Pub. Law 451; 82d Cong., approved July 5, 1952) to supersede United States Standards for Oranges (California and Arizona) (16 F. R. 4419) effective June 12, 1951.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views or arguments for consideration in connection with the proposed standards should file the same with M. W. Baker, Deputy Director, Fruit and Vegetable Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, South Building, Washington 25, D. C., not later than 5:30 p. m., e. s. t., on the thirtieth (30) day after the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The proposed standards are as follows:

§ 51.301 Standards for oranges (California and Arizona).—(a) Grades.—(1) U. S. Fancy. U. S. Fancy consists of oranges of similar varietal characteristics which are mature, well colored, firm, well formed, of smooth texture for the variety, and which are free from decay, broken skins which are not healed, hard or dry skins, exanthema, growth cracks, bruises (except those incident to proper handling and packing), dryness or mushy condition, and free from injury caused by split, rough, wide or protruding navels, creasing, scars, oil spots, scale, sunburn, dirt or other foreign material, disease, insects or mechanical or other means. (See tolerances in paragraph (c) of this section.)

(2) U. S. No. 1. U. S. No. 1 consists of oranges of similar varietal characteristics which are mature, firm, well formed, of fairly smooth texture for the variety, and which are free from decay, broken skins which are not healed, hard or dry skins, exanthema, growth cracks, bruises (except those incident to proper handling and packing), and free from damage caused by dryness or mushy condition, split, rough, excessively wide or protruding navels, creasing, scars, oil spots, scale, sunburn, dirt or other foreign material, disease, insects or mechanical or other means. Each fruit shall be well colored except Valencia oranges which shall be at least fairly well colored: Provided, That navel oranges in any lot which is destined for export and which is certified as meeting the Standards for Export need be only fairly well colored. (See tolerances in paragraph (c) of this section.)

(3) U. S. No. 2. U. S. No. 2 consists of oranges of similar varietal characteristics which are mature, fairly well colored, fairly firm, fairly well formed but not excessively rough, and which are free from decay, broken skins which are not healed, hard or dry skins, exanthema, growth cracks, and free from serious damage caused by bruises, dryness or mushy condition, split or protruding navels, creasing, scars, oil spots, scale, sunburn, dirt or other foreign material, disease, insects or mechanical or other means. (See tolerances in paragraph (c) of this section.)

(4) U. S. Combination grade. Any lot of oranges may be designated "U. S. Combination" when not less than 40 percent, by count, of the oranges in each container meet the requirements of U. S. No. 1 grade and the remainder U. S. No. 2 grade. (See tolerances in paragraph (c) of this section.)

(5) U. S. No. 3. U. S. No. 3 consists of oranges of similar varietal characteristics which are mature, which may be slightly spongy, misshapen, rough but not seriously lumpy, and which are free from decay, broken skins which are not healed, hard or dry skins, exanthema, and free from serious damage caused by growth cracks, bruises, dryness or mushy condition, and from very serious damage caused by split navels, creasing, scars, oil spots, scale, sunburn, dirt or other foreign material, disease, insects or mechanical or other means. (See tolerances in paragraph (c) of this section.)

(b) Unclassified. Unclassified consists of oranges which have not been classified in accordance with any of the foregoing grades. The term "unclassified" is not a grade within the meaning

June 30, 1947, under this regulation for major capital improvements or increases or modation does not equal (1) 130 percent of the maximum rent in effect on June 30, 1947, cothe Defense-Rental Area (Item [illegible] Schedule A): With respect to housing ac- 451; 82d Cong., approved July 5, 1952) oranges of similar varietal character- fied" is not a grade within the meaning of these standards but is provided as a designation to show that no definite grade has been applied to the lot.

(c) Tolerances. In order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling in each of the foregoing grades, the following tolerances are provided as specified:

(1) U. S. Fancy, U. S. No. 1, U. S. No. 2 and U. S. No. 3 grades. Not more than 10 percent, by count, of the fruits in any lot may be below the requirements of the specified grade, other than for color, but not more than one-twentieth of this amount, or one-half of 1 percent, shall be allowed for decay at shipping point: Provided, That an additional tolerance of 2½ percent, or a total of not more than 3 percent, shall be allowed for decay en route or at destination. In addition, not more than 10 percent, by count, of the fruits in any lot may not meet the requirements relating to color.

(2) U. S. Combination grade. Not more than 10 percent, by count, of the fruits in any lot may be below the requirements of this grade, other than for color, but not more than one-twentieth of this amount, or one-half of 1 percent, shall be allowed for decay at shipping point: Provided, That an additional tolerance of 2½ percent, or a total of not more than 3 percent, shall be allowed for decay en route or at destination. This 3 percent tolerance may be used to reduce the percentage of U. S. No. 1 grade required in the combination, provided the affected fruits meet the requirements of U. S. No. 1 grade in other respects. In addition, not more than 10 percent, by count, of the fruits in any lot may not meet the requirements of the U. S. No. 2 grade for color.

(i) No part of any tolerance, other than that for decay, shall be allowed to reduce for the lot as a whole the percentage of U. S. No. 1 in the combination, but individual containers may have not more than a total of 10 percent less than the percentage of U. S. No. 1 specified: Provided, That the entire lot averages within the percentage specified.

(d) Application of tolerances to individual packages. (1) The contents of individual packages in the lot, based on sample inspection, are subject to the following limitations: Provided, That the averages for the entire lot are within the tolerances specified for the grade.

(2) For packages which contain more than 10 pounds, and a tolerance of 10 percent or more is provided, individual packages in any lot shall have not more than one and one-half times the tolerance specified. For packages which contain more than 10 pounds and a tolerance of less than 10 percent is provided, individual packages in any lot shall have not more than double the tolerance specified, except that at least one decayed or very seriously damaged fruit may be permitted in any package.

(3) For packages which contain 10 pounds or less, individual packages in any lot are not restricted as to the percentage of defects: Provided, That not more than one orange which is seriously damaged by dryness or mushy condition or very seriously damaged by other means may be permitted in any package and, in addition, en route or at destination not more than 10 percent of the packages may have more than one decayed fruit.

(e) Standard pack. (1) Oranges shall be uniform in size and, when packed in boxes, shall be arranged according to the approved and recognized methods. Each wrapped fruit shall be fairly well enclosed by its individual wrapper.

(2) All packages shall be well filled, but the contents shall not show excessive or unnecessary bruising because of overfilled packages. The fruit shall be tightly packed.

(3) When oranges are packed in standard nailed boxes, each box shall show a minimum bulge of 1¼ inches.

(4) "Uniform in size" means that not more than 10 percent, by count, of the oranges in any container may be one standard size larger or smaller than the standard size orange for the count packed.

(5) Example of standard size orange: The standard size orange for a 200 count is that size orange which will pack tightly 200 oranges of uniform size when packed according to the approved and recognized method.

(6) In order to allow for variations incident to proper packing, when fruit is wrapped not more than 10 percent of the oranges in any container may fail to meet the requirements pertaining to wrapping, and, in addition, not more than 5 percent of the containers in any lot may fail to meet the requirements for standard pack.

(f) Standards for export. (1) Not more than a total of 10 percent, by count, of the oranges in any container may be soft, affected by decay, have broken skins which are not healed, growth cracks, or be damaged by creasing or skin breakdown, or seriously damaged by split or protruding navels, or by dryness or mushy condition, except that:

(i) Not more than one-half of 1 percent shall be allowed for oranges affected by decay;

(ii) Not more than 3 percent shall have broken skins which are not healed;

(iii) Not more than 3 percent shall have growth cracks;

(iv) Not more than 5 percent shall be soft;

(v) Not more than 5 percent shall be damaged by creasing;

(vi) Not more than 5 percent shall be seriously damaged by split or protruding navels;

(vii) Not more than 5 percent shall be seriously damaged by dryness or mushy condition; and,

(viii) Not more than 5 percent shall be damaged by skin breakdown.

(2) Any lot of oranges shall be considered as meeting the standards for export if the entire lot averages within the requirements specified: Provided, That no sample from the containers in any lot shall have more than double the percentage specified for any one defect, and that not more than a total of 10 percent, by count, of the oranges in any container has any of the defects enumerated in the standards for export.

(g) Definitions. (1) "Similar varietal characteristics" means that the fruits in any container are similar in color and type.

(2) "Well colored" means that the fruit is at least light orange in color, with not more than a trace of green at the stem end, and not more than 15 percent of the remainder of the surface of the fruit shows green color.

(3) "Firm" means that the fruit is not soft or noticeably wilted or flabby.

(4) "Well formed" means that the fruit shows the normal shape characteristic of the variety.

(5) "Smooth" means that the skin is of fairly fine grain, the "pebbling" is not pronounced, and any furrows radiating from the stem end are shallow.

(6) "Injury" means any defect which more than slightly affects the appearance, or the edible or shipping quality of the fruit. Any one of the following defects, or any combination of defects, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one defect, shall be considered as injury:

(i) Split, rough, wide or protruding navels, when a split is unhealed or is more than one-eighth inch in length; or when the navel protrudes beyond the general contour of the fruit; or when flush with the contour but with the opening so wide, considering the size of the fruit, or the navel growth so folded and ridged, that it detracts noticeably from the appearance of the fruit;

(ii) Slight creasing which is more than barely visible, or which extends over more than 20 percent of the fruit surface;

(iii) Scarring (including sprayburn and fumigation injury) which exceeds the following aggregate areas of different types of scars, or a combination of two or more types of scars, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one type:

(a) Scars which are very dark and which have an aggregate area exceeding that of a circle one-eighth inch in diameter;

(b) Scars which are dark or rough, or deep and which have an aggregate area exceeding that of a circle one-fourth inch in diameter;

(c) Scars which are fairly light in color, slightly rough, or with slight depth and which have an aggregate area exceeding that of a circle one-half inch in diameter; and,

(d) Scars which are light in color, fairly smooth, and with no depth and which have an aggregate area of more than 5 percent of the fruit surface;

(iv) Oil spots (oleocellosis or similar injuries) which are depressed or soft, or which have an aggregate area of more than 2½ percent of the fruit surface, or which are green and more than 4 in number;

(v) Scale, when medium or large and more than 5 are present; and,

(vi) Sunburn which appreciably changes the normal color or shape of the fruit, or which affects more than 10 percent of the fruit surface.

(7) "Fairly smooth" means that the skin does not feel noticeably rough or coarse. The size of the fruit should be considered in judging texture, as large fruit is not usually as smooth as smaller fruit. It is common for the fruit to show larger and coarser "pebbling" on the stem end portion than on the blossom end. The presence of furrows or grooves on the stem end portion of the fruit is a common condition in certain varieties, and the fruit shall not be considered as slightly rough unless the furrows or grooves are of sufficient depth, length, and number as to materially affect the appearance and smoothness of the orange.

(8) "Damage" means any defect which materially affects the appearance, or the edible or shipping quality of the fruit. Any one of the following defects, or any combination of defects, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one defect, shall be considered as damage:

(i) Dryness or mushy condition, when affecting all segments more than one-fourth inch at the stem end, or the equivalent of this amount, by volume, when occurring in other portions of the fruit;

(ii) Split, rough, excessively wide or protruding navels, when more than 3 splits, or when any split is unhealed or is more than one-fourth inch in length; or navels which flare, bulge, or protrude materially beyond the general contour of the fruit; or when the navel opening is so wide, considering the size of the fruit, or the navel growth is so folded and ridged, that it detracts materially from the appearance of the fruit;

(iii) Creasing which materially weakens the skin, or which extends over more than one-third of the fruit surface;

(iv) Scarring (including sprayburn and fumigation injury) which exceeds the following aggregate areas of different types of scars, or a combination of two or more types of scars, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one type:

(a) Scars which are very dark and with slight depth and which have an aggregate area exceeding that of a circle one-fourth inch in diameter.

(b) Scars which are very dark, with no depth, and which have an aggregate area exceeding that of a circle one-half inch in diameter;

(c) Scars which are dark and rough or deep and which have an aggregate area exceeding that of a circle one-half inch in diameter;

(d) Scars which are dark and slightly rough, or with slight depth, and which have an aggregate area exceeding that of a circle three-fourths inch in diameter;

(e) Scars which are fairly light in color, slightly rough, or with slight depth and which have an aggregate area of more than 5 percent of the fruit surface; and,

(f) Scars which are light in color, fairly smooth, with no depth and which have an aggregate area of more than 10 percent of the fruit surface;

(v) Oil spots (oleocellosis or similar injuries) which are depressed or soft, or which have an aggregate area of more than 5 percent of the fruit surface, or which are green and more than 7 in number;

(vi) Scale, when medium or large and more than 3 scales are present in each of 3 circular areas 1 inch in diameter, selected as the worst infested areas, or when more than 7 scales are present in one of these areas: Provided, That scale within a circle five-eighths inch in diameter centered at the stem button or button socket shall not be considered in determining whether an orange is damaged; and,

(vii) Sunburn which causes appreciable flattening of the fruit, drying or darkening of the skin, or affects more than 25 percent of the fruit surface.

(9) "Fairly well colored" means that the yellow or orange color predominates on the fruit.

(10) "Fairly firm" means that the fruit may be slightly soft but is not decidedly flabby.

(11) "Fairly well formed" means that the fruit is not of the shape characteristic of the variety but is not decidedly flattened, pointed, extremely elongated, or otherwise badly deformed.

(12) "Excessively rough" means that the skin is decidedly rough, badly folded, badly ridged, or decidedly lumpy. Heavily "pebbled" skin shall not be considered as excessively rough.

(13) "Serious damage" means any defect which seriously affects the appearance, or the edible or shipping quality of the fruit. Any one of the following defects, or any combination of defects, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one defect, shall be considered as serious damage:

(i) Dryness or mushy condition, when affecting all segments more than one-half inch at the stem end, or the equivalent of this amount by volume, when occurring in other portions of the fruit;

(ii) Split or protruding navels, when any split is unhealed or is more than one-half inch in length, or when two or more splits aggregate more than 1 inch in length; or navels which protrude seriously beyond the general contour of the fruit; or when the navel opening is so wide, considering the size of the fruit, or the navel growth is so badly folded and ridged, that it detracts seriously from the appearance of the fruit;

(iii) Creasing which seriously weakens the skin, or which is distributed over practically the entire fruit surface;

(iv) Scarring (including sprayburn and fumigation injury) which exceeds the following aggregate areas of different types of scars, or a combination of two or more types of scars, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one type:

(a) Scars which are very dark or very rough, or very deep, and which have an aggregate area of more than 5 percent of the fruit surface;

(b) Scars which are dark or rough, or deep and which have an aggregate area of more than 10 percent of the fruit surface;

(c) Scars which are fairly light in color, slightly rough or of slight depth and which have an aggregate area of more than 15 percent of the fruit surface; and,

(d) Scars which are light in color, fairly smooth and with no depth and which have an aggregate area of more than 25 percent of the fruit surface;

(v) Oil spots (oleocellosis or similar injuries) which are depressed or soft, or which have an aggregate area of more than 10 percent of the fruit surface;

(vi) Scale, when medium or large and more than 9 scales are present in each of 3 circular areas 1 inch in diameter, selected as the worst infested areas, or if more than 19 scales are present in one of these areas;

(vii) Sunburn which causes decided flattening of the fruit, drying or dark discoloration of the skin, or which affects more than one-third of the fruit surface; and,

(viii) Growth cracks which are leaking, gummy, or not well healed.

(14) "Slightly spongy" means that the fruit is puffy or slightly wilted but not flabby.

(15) "Misshapen" means that the fruit is decidedly flattened, pointed, extremely elongated or otherwise deformed.

(16) "Very serious damage" means any defect which very seriously affects the appearance, or the edible or shipping quality of the fruit. Any one of the following defects, or any combination of defects, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one defect, shall be considered as very serious damage:

(i) Split navels which are leaking, gummy, or not well healed;

(ii) Creasing which is so deep or extensive that the skin is very seriously weakened;

(iii) Scarring (including sprayburn and fumigation injury) which exceeds the following aggregate areas of different types of scars, or a combination of both types of scars, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for one type:

(a) Scars which are very dark, or very rough, or very deep and which have an aggregate area of more than 10 percent of the fruit surface; and,

(b) Scars which are dark, or rough, or deep and which have an aggregate area of more than 25 percent of the fruit surface;

(iv) Oil spots which are badly sunken, or soft;

(v) Scale which are so numerous or large that the appearance of the fruit is very seriously affected; and,

(vi) Sunburn which seriously affects more than one-third of the fruit surface, or causes dark discoloration aggregating more than 5 percent of the fruit surface.

U. S. STANDARDS FOR GRADES OF FROZEN SUCCOTASH [1]

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Notice is hereby given that the United States Department of Agriculture is considering the issuance, as herein proposed, of United States Standards for Grades of Frozen Succotash, pursuant to the authority contained in the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087; 7 U. S. C. 1621 et seq.) and the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1953 (Pub. Law 451, 82d Cong., approved July 5, 1952). These standards, if made effective, will be the first issue by the Department of grade standards for this product.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments for consideration in connection with the proposed standards should file the same, in duplicate, with the Chief, Processed Products Standardization and Inspection Division, Fruit and Vegetable Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than 30 days after publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The proposed standards are as follows:

§ 52.659 Frozen succotash. (a) Frozen succotash means the frozen product prepared from fresh, clean, sound, succulent kernels of sweet corn and the immature seed of varieties of lima beans which have been properly prepared, and is then frozen in accordance with good commercial practice and maintained at temperatures necessary for the preservation of the product.

(b) Kind, type, and style of ingredients. (1) Corn, sweet; whole kernel:

(i) White.

(ii) Golden (yellow).

(2) Lima beans:

(i) Thin-seeded.

(ii) Thick-seeded.

(iii) Thick-seeded baby potato.

(c) Proportions of ingredients. It is recommended that frozen succotash consist of a mixture of not more than 75 percent nor less than 50 percent, by weight, of whole kernel corn, and not more than 50 percent nor less than 25 percent, by weight, of lima beans.

(d) Grades of frozen succotash. (1) "U. S. Grade A" or "U. S. Fancy" is the quality of frozen succotash in which the vegetables possess similar varietal characteristics; possess a good flavor and odor; are tender; possess a good color; are practically free from defects; and score not less than 85 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this section.

(2) "U. S. Grade B" or "U. S. Extra Standard" is the quality of frozen succotash in which the vegetables possess similar varietal characteristics; possess a fairly good flavor and odor; are reasonably tender; possess a reasonably good color; are reasonably free from defects; and score not less than 70 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this section.

(3) "Substandard" is the quality of frozen succotash that fails to meet the requirements of U. S. Grade B or U. S. Extra Standard.

(e) Ascertaining the grade. (1) The grade of frozen succotash is ascertained by considering, in conjunction with the requirements of the respective grade, the respective ratings for the factors of color, absence of defects, and tenderness.

(2) The relative importance of each factor which is scored is expressed numerically on the scale of 100. The maximum number of points that may be given each such factor is:

Factors:	Points
(i) Color	30
(ii) Absence of defects	30
(iii) Tenderness	40
Total score	100

(3) The scores for the factors of color and absence of defects are determined immediately after thawing to the extent that the product is substantially free from ice crystals and can be handled as individual units, and a representative sample of the product is cooked to determine tenderness and flavor and odor.

(4) "Good flavor and odor" means that the product after cooking has a good, characteristic, normal flavor and odor and is free from objectionable flavors and objectionable odors of any kind.

(5) "Fairly good flavor and odor" means that the product after cooking may be lacking in good flavor and odor but is free from objectionable flavors and objectionable odors of any kind.

(f) Ascertaining the rating for the factors which are scored. The essential variations within each factor which is scored are so described that the value may be ascertained for each factor and expressed numerically. The numerical range within each factor which is scored is inclusive (for example, "26 to 30 points" means 26, 27, 28, 29, or 30 points).

(1) Color. (i) The factor of color refers to the overall appearance of the product and to the general brightness of the vegetables.

(ii) Frozen succotash which possesses a good color may be given a score of 26 to 30 points. "Good color" means that the vegetables are bright and possess a color typical of reasonably young and reasonably tender vegetables that have been properly prepared and properly processed. In addition, the lima beans shall meet color requirements for U. S. Grade A or U. S. Fancy lima beans as outlined in the U. S. Standards for Grades of Frozen Lima Beans, as amended (17 F. R. 6931).

(iii) If the frozen succotash possesses a reasonably good color, a score of 21 to 25 points may be given. Frozen succotash that falls into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Extra Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Reasonably good color" means that the vegetables are reasonably bright and possess a color typical of fairly young and fairly tender vegetables that have been properly prepared and properly processed. In addition, the lima beans shall meet color requirements for U. S. Grade B or U. S. Extra Standard lima beans as outlined in the U. S. Standards for Grades of Frozen Lima Beans, as amended (17 F. R. 6931).

(iv) If the frozen succotash fails to meet the requirements of subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph, a score of 0 to 20 points may be given. Frozen succotash that falls into this classification shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(2) Absence of defects. (i) The factor of absence of defects refers to the degree of freedom from extraneous vegetable matter, damaged units, seriously damaged units, and from any other defect which detracts from the appearance or edibility of the product.

(a) "Extraneous vegetable matter" means pieces of pods, leaves, stems, pieces of cob, husk, and other similar vegetable matter, other than silk, that is normally removed in proper preparation of the vegetables for processing.

(b) "Damaged" means damaged by discoloration, pathological injury, insect injury, or damaged by other means to the extent that the appearance or eating quality is materially affected.

(c) "Seriously damaged" means damaged by discoloration, pathological injury, insect injury, or damaged by other means to the extent that the appearance or eating quality is seriously affected and includes but is not limited to "shriveled" lima beans that are materially wrinkled and are not of normal plumpness and "sprouted" lima beans that show an external shoot protruding beyond the cotyledon or skin.

(d) "Other defects" means any defect not specifically mentioned that affects the appearance or eating quality of the product and includes, but is not limited to, the following:

(1) Lima beans. Mashed beans, broken beans, loose cotyledons, loose skins and any portion thereof, and

(2) Corn. Crushed kernels, ragged kernels, loose skins, and dark and objectionable silk more than ½ inch in length.

(ii) Frozen succotash that is practically free from defects may be given a score of 25 to 30 points. "Practically free from defects" means that for each 14 ounces of frozen succotash there may be present not more than one piece of extraneous vegetable matter, such as pieces of pods and tough or woody stems having an area of not more than $\frac{3}{8}$ square inch ($\frac{1}{2}$ inch x $\frac{3}{4}$ inch) on one surface of the piece, or the equivalent of smaller pieces; not more than $\frac{3}{4}$ cubic centimeter of pieces of cob; not more than $\frac{1}{4}$ square inch ($\frac{1}{2}$ inch x 1 inch) of husk or other leafy material; and that the presence of damaged units, seriously damaged units, and other defects, individually or collectively, does not materially affect the appearance or eating quality of the product.

(iii) If the frozen succotash is reasonably free from defects, a score of 21 to 24 points may be given. Frozen succotash that falls into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Extra Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Reasonably free from defects" means that for each 14 ounces of frozen succotash there may be present not more than one piece of extraneous vegetable matter, such as pieces of pods and tough or woody stems having an area of not more than $\frac{3}{8}$ square inch ($\frac{1}{2}$ inch x $\frac{3}{4}$ inch) on one surface of the piece, or the equivalent of smaller pieces; not more than $\frac{3}{4}$ cubic centimeter of pieces of cob; not more than $\frac{1}{4}$ square inch ($\frac{1}{2}$ inch x 1½ inch) of husk or other leafy material; and that the presence of damaged units, seriously damaged units, and other defects, individually or collectively, do not seriously affect the appearance or eating quality of the product.

(iv) Frozen succotash that fails to meet the requirements of subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 20 points. Frozen succotash that falls into this classification shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(3) Tenderness. (i) The factor of tenderness is determined after cooking and refers to the tenderness of the lima beans and the tenderness and maturity of corn in frozen succotash.

(ii) Frozen succotash in which the vegetables are tender may be given a score of 34 to 40 points. "Tender" means that the kernels of corn are in at least the cream stage of maturity and are the equivalent of corn that would score not less than 43 points for the factor of "tenderness and maturity" as outlined in the United States Standards for Grades of Frozen Whole Kernel Corn, and the lima beans have a tender texture.

(iii) If the vegetables in the frozen succotash are reasonably tender, a score of 28 to 33 points may be given. Frozen succotash that falls into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Extra Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Reasonably tender" means that the kernels of corn are at least fairly tender and are the equivalent of corn that would score not less than 38 points for the factor of "tenderness and maturity" as outlined in the United States Standards for Grades of Frozen Whole Kernel Corn, and the lima beans have a reasonably tender texture.

(iv) Frozen succotash in which the vegetables fail to meet the requirements of subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 27 points. Frozen succotash that falls into this classification shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(f) Method for determining proportion of ingredients. (1) The proportion of ingredients is determined on the thawed succotash in the following manner:

(i) Separate each of the vegetables from all of the containers in the sample.

(ii) Composite each of the vegetables thus separated and weigh.

(iii) Add the weights of the composited vegetables to obtain the total weight of vegetables in the sample.

(iv) Divide the total weight of vegetables by the weight of each of the composited vegetables in the sample and multiply by 100. The result shall be considered to be the percent of the total weight of vegetables in the sample or the proportion of the vegetable ingredient.

(g) Tolerances for certification of officially drawn samples. (1) When certifying samples that have been officially drawn and which represent a specific lot of frozen succotash, the grade for such lot will be determined by averaging the total scores of the containers comprising the sample, if:

(i) Not more than one-sixth of such containers fails to meet all the requirements of the grade indicated by the average of such total scores and, with respect to such containers which fail to meet the requirements of the indicated grade by reason of a limiting rule, the average score of all containers in the sample for the factor, subject to such limiting rule, is within the range for the grade indicated;

(ii) None of the containers comprising the sample falls more than 4 points below the minimum score for the grade indicated by the average of the total scores; and

(iii) All containers comprising the sample meet all applicable standards of quality promulgated under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and in effect at the time of the aforesaid certification.

(h) Score sheet for frozen succotash.

LEMONS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

EXPENSES AND FIXING OF RATE OF ASSESSMENT FOR 1952-53 FISCAL YEAR

Consideration is being given to the following proposals submitted by the Lemon Administrative Committee, established pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 53, as amended (7 CFR Part 953), regulating the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, as the agency to administer the terms and provisions thereof: (1) That the Secretary of Agriculture find that expenses not to exceed $125,250.00 will be necessarily incurred during the fiscal year ending October 31, 1953, for the maintenance and functioning of the committee established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, and (2) that the Secretary of Agriculture fix, as the pro rata share of such expenses which each handler who first handles lemons shall pay in accordance with the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order during the aforesaid fiscal year, the rate of assessment at $0.015 per packed box of lemons, or an equivalent quantity of lemons, handled by him as the first handler thereof during said fiscal year.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments in connection with the aforesaid proposals should file the same with the Director, Fruit and Vegetable Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Room 2077, South Building, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the close of business on the 10th day after the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. All documents should be filed in quadruplicate.

Terms used herein shall have the same meaning as when used in said amended marketing agreement and order.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c)

Issued this 12th day of December 1952.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[17 CFR Part 240]

ANNUAL REPORTS TO OTHER FEDERAL AGENCIES

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Notice is hereby given that the Securities and Exchange Commission has under consideration a proposed new rule with respect to the filing with the Commission and with securities exchanges of copies of annual reports to other Federal agencies.

The proposed rule would provide that where copies of such reports are required or permitted to be filed as exhibits to applications or reports filed with the Commission, only one copy of such exhibit need be filed, instead of three, or in some cases four, as heretofore required. Similarly, only one copy of such exhibits would need to be filed with any securities exchange.

The text of the proposed rule is as follows:

§ 240.12b–33. Annual reports to other Federal agencies. Notwithstanding any rule or other requirement to the contrary, whenever copies of an annual report by a registrant to any other Federal agency is required or permitted to be filed as an exhibit to an application or report filed by such registrant with the Commission or with a securities exchange, only one copy of such annual report need be filed with the Commission and one copy thereof with each such exchange, provided appropriate reference to such copy is made in each copy of the application or report filed with the Commission or with such exchange.

All interested persons are invited to submit data, views and comments on the above-mentioned proposal in writing to the Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C., on or before December 31, 1952.

By the Commission.

MONTANA

ORDER PROVIDING FOR OPENING OF PUBLIC LANDS

In exchanges made under the provisions of section 8 of the act of June 28, 1934 (48 Stat. 1269), as amended June 26, 1936 (49 Stat. 1976), 43 U. S. C. sec. 315 (g), the following described lands have been reconveyed to the United States:

MONTANA PRINCIPAL MERIDIAN

T. 4 S., R. 58 E., M. P. M.
Section 27: NE¼.

The area described aggregates 160 acres.

The land is primarily suitable for grazing purposes. The land is level to rolling and the vegetative cover consists chiefly of wheat and gramma grasses.

No applications for this land may be allowed under the homestead, small tract, desert-land, or any other nonmineral public-land laws, unless the lands have already been classified as valuable or suitable for such type of application, or shall be so classified upon consideration of an application.

This order shall not otherwise become effective to change the status of such lands until 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this order. At that time the said lands shall, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, become subject to application, petition, location, and selection as follows:

(a) Ninety-one day period for preference-right filings. For a period of 91 days, commencing at the hour and on the day specified above, the public lands affected by this order shall be subject only to (1) application under the homestead or the desert-land laws or the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, 52 Stat. 609 (43 U. S. C. 682a), as amended, by qualified veterans of World War II and other qualified persons entitled to preference under the act of September 27, 1944, 58 Stat. 747 (43 U. S. C. 279–284), as amended, subject to the requirements of applicable law, and (2) application under any applicable public-land law, based on prior existing valid settlement rights and preference rights conferred by existing laws or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation. Applications under subdivision (1) of this paragraph shall be subject to applications and claims of the classes described in subdivision (2) of this paragraph. All applications filed under this paragraph either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this order shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at that time. All applications filed under this paragraph after 10:00 a. m. on the said 35th day shall be considered in the order of filing.

(b) Date for non-preference-right filings. Commencing at 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this order, any lands remaining unappropriated shall become subject to such application, petition, location, selection, or other appropriation by the public generally as may be authorized by the public-land laws. All such applications filed either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this order, shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at the hour specified on such 126th day. All applications filed thereafter shall be considered in the order of filing.

A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides), of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their applications by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

Applications for these lands, which shall be filed in the Billings Land Office in Billings, Montana, shall be acted upon in accordance with the regulations contained in § 295.8 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations and Part 296 of that title, to the extent that such regulations are applicable. Applications under the homestead laws shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 166 to 170, inclusive, of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, and applications under the desert-land laws and the said Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 232 and 257, respectively, of that title.

Inquiries concerning these lands shall be addressed to Montana Land Office, 1245 North Twenty-ninth Street, Billings, Mont.

ALBIN D. MOLOHON,
Regional Administrator.

CALIFORNIA

CLASSIFICATION ORDER

DECEMBER 12, 1952.

1. Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Director, Bureau of Land Management, by Order No. 427 dated August 16, 1950, I hereby classify under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609), as amended July 14, 1945 (59 Stat. 467, 43 U. S. C. 682a), as hereinafter indicated, the following described lands in the Los Angeles land district, embracing approximately 640 acres,

CALIFORNIA SMALL TRACT CLASSIFICATION NO. 352

For lease and sale for homesites only:

T. 9 N., R. 2 W., S. B. M.,
Sec. 14, All.

The lands are located approximately one mile southwest of the city limits of Barstow, San Bernardino County, California. The topography is rolling with a general northerly slope. Adjacent lands are under development for homesites, but utilities are not yet available to this area.

2. As to applications regularly filed prior to 11:20 a. m., December 10, 1952, and are for the type of site for which the lands are classified, this order shall become effective upon the date it is signed.

3. This order shall not otherwise become effective to change the status of such lands until 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this order. At that time the said lands shall, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, become subject to applications under the Small Tract Act as follows:

(a) Ninety-one day period for preference-right filings. For a period of 91 days, commencing at the hour and on the day specified above, the public lands affected by this order shall be subject only to application under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, 52 Stat. 609 (43 U. S. C. 682a), as amended, by qualified veterans of World War II, subject to the requirements of applicable law. All applications filed under this paragraph either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this order shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at that time. All applications filed under this paragraph after 10:00 a. m. on the said 35th day shall be considered in the order of filing.

(b) Date for non-preference-right filings. Commencing at 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this order, any lands remaining unappropriated shall become subject to disposal under the Small Tract Act only. All such applications filed either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this order, shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at the hour specified on such 126th day. All applications filed thereafter shall be considered in the order of filing.

4. A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides), of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their application by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

5. All of the lands will be leased in tracts of approximately 2½ acres, each being approximately 330 by 330 feet in dimensions.

6. Preference right leases referred to in paragraph 2 will be issued only if they conform to or are amended to conform to the area and dimensions specified in paragraph 5.

7. Leases will be for a period of three years at an annual rental of $5.00 payable for the entire lease period in advance of the issuance of the lease. Leases will contain an option to purchase clause at the appraised value of $125.00 per tract. Application to purchase may be filed during the term of the lease but not more than 30 days prior to the expiration of one year from the date of the lease issuance.

8. Tracts will be subject to all existing rights-of-way and to rights-of-way not exceeding 33 feet in width along or near the edges thereof for road purposes and public utilities. Such rights-of-way may be utilized by the Federal Government, or the State, County or municipality in which the tract is situated, or by any agency thereof. The rights-of-way may, in the discretion of the authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management, be definitely located prior to the issuance of the patent. If not so located, they may be subject to location after patent is issued.

9. All inquiries relating to these lands should be addressed to the Manager, Land Office, Los Angeles, California.

J. H. FAVORITE,
Acting Regional Administrator.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket Nos. G-1786, G-1965]

OHIO FUEL GAS CO.

ORDER POSTPONING HEARING, CONSOLIDATING PROCEEDINGS FOR HEARING, AND FIXING DATE OF HEARING

On August 10, 1951, in the proceeding Docket No. G-1786, the Ohio Fuel Gas Company (Ohio Fuel) filed with the Commission a proposed tariff designated "FPC Gas Tariff, First Revised Volume No. 1, of the Ohio Fuel Gas Company," increasing the then effective rates and charges to Ohio Fuel's interstate wholesale customers. On September 6, 1951, pending a hearing and the Commission's decision upon the question of the lawfulness of the proposed rates, the Commission issued an order suspending such proposed tariff until February 10, 1952, and until such further time thereafter as the same might be made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

By order issued February 8, 1952, in Docket No. G-1786, upon the application of Ohio Fuel, the Commission permitted the substitution of a proposed First Revised Sheet No. 6 to said FPC Gas Tariff, First Revised Volume No. 1, superseding Original Sheet No. 6 contained in said FPC Gas Tariff, First Revised Volume No. 1, and suspended such revised sheet until February 10, 1952, and until such further time thereafter as the same might be made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

By order issued February 26, 1952, in Docket No. G-1786, the increased rate tariff became effective, under bond, subject to the refund of any portion of the increased rates and charges found by the Commission not to be justified.

On May 1, 1952, in the proceeding Docket No. G-1965, Ohio Fuel filed with the Commission First Revised Sheet No. 7 to its FPC Gas Tariff, First Revised Volume No. 1, increasing the then effective rates and charges to its interstate wholesale customers.

By order issued October 6, 1952, the Commission set the proceeding Docket No. G-1786 for hearing commencing on November 17, 1952; and thereafter, by order issued October 28, 1952, postponed the commencement of the hearing to January 5, 1953.

On November 24, 1952, Ohio Fuel filed a motion seeking a postponement of the hearing in Docket No. G-1786.

By order issued December 3, 1952, the increased rate tariff in Docket No. G-1965 became effective, under bond, subject to the refund of any portion of the increased rates and charges found by the Commission not to be justified.

Having due regard for the requirement of section 4 (e) of the Natural Gas Act that matters involving proposed rate increases be given preference and disposed of as speedily as possible, it appears to the Commission that Docket No. G-1965 should be set for hearing and consolidated for hearing with Docket No. G-1786, and that the hearing in the latter proceeding should be postponed to a date when the consolidated proceeding may be heard.

The Commission finds:

(1) Good cause exists for consolidating the proceedings Docket Nos. G-1786 and G-1965 for the purpose of hearing, and for postponing the hearing in Docket No. G-1786 as hereinafter provided.

(2) It is necessary and appropriate to carry out the provisions of the Natural Gas Act, and it is in the public interest that the procedure hereinafter prescribed shall be followed at the hearing in the consolidated proceedings.

The Commission orders:

(A) The proceedings Docket Nos. G-1786 and G-1965 be and the same hereby are consolidated for the purpose of hearing.

(B) The hearing in Docket No. G-1786, now set to commence on January 5, 1953, be and the same hereby is postponed to February 24, 1953; and a public hearing be held in the consolidated proceedings commencing on said date, at 10:00 a. m., e. s. t., in the Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the lawfulness of the rates, charges and classifications contained in the aforesaid FPC Gas Tariff, First Revised Volume No. 1 and First Revised Sheet No. 6 to said FPC Gas Tariff, First Revised Volume No. 1, and First Revised Sheet No. 7 to said FPC Gas Tariff, First Revised Volume No. 1, filed by the Ohio Fuel Gas Company.

(C) The order of procedure at the public hearing in the consolidated proceedings shall be:

(i) Pursuant to the provisions of section 4 (e) of the Natural Gas Act, Ohio Fuel shall go forward in Docket Nos. G-1786 and G-1965 with the burden of proof imposed upon it, presenting its justification with respect to the issues referred to in paragraph (B) hereof;

(ii) After Ohio Fuel has so presented its justification, other parties and participants, including Commission staff counsel, may conduct as much of their cross-examination with respect to Ohio Fuel's justification as they are then prepared to undertake. Thereupon, if request therefor is made, the Presiding Examiner shall recess the hearing to a date to be fixed by further order of the Commission, in order to permit such preparation for the remainder of such cross-examination as the facts and circumstances may warrant.

(D) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)) of the said rules of practice and procedure.

Date of issuance: December 12, 1952.

By the Commission.

HOUSING AND HOME FINANCE AGENCY

Office of the Administrator

REGIONAL REPRESENTATIVE AND REGIONAL ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICER, REGION VII

DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY TO TAKE CERTAIN ACTIONS IN CONNECTION WITH CERTAIN PREFABRICATED HOUSING LOANS

1. The Regional Representative and the Regional Administrative Officer, Region VII, Office of the Administrator, Housing and Home Finance Agency, San Francisco, California, and each of them together with their respective duly appointed successors in office, is hereby authorized to take the following actions on my behalf in connection with any loan assigned to said Regional Representative for disbursing, servicing, and collection and which has been authorized by me for the purpose of providing financial assistance for the production or distribution of prefabricated houses or housing components, for related purposes, or for modernized site construction, namely:

a. To authorize disbursement of funds pursuant to any such loan;

b. To release to Borrower insurance funds representing payments on insured losses, and to endorse without representation, recourse or warranty checks received in payment thereof;

c. To consent to or approve of any matter concerning which Borrower's Loan Agreement, or any other agreement of Borrower, requires the prior written consent of the Administrator with respect to (1) increases in compensation, salaries, commissions, bonuses and gratuities; (2) employment of personnel at salaries in excess of those specified; (3) withdrawal of funds, net profits or net earnings; (4) declaration or payment of dividends or distribution or issuance of capital stock or changes in capitalization; or (5) purchase or acquisition of fixed assets or capital improvements in excess of amount stipulated;

d. To make bookkeeping corrections of accounts with Borrower in connection with erroneous overpayments or underpayments and to make such remittances or demand such additional payments as may be necessary to effect the corrections, provided that such corrections do not involve any compromise or settlement;

e. To approve ultimate investors or permanent mortgagees making permanent conventional mortgage loans (not insured by Federal Housing Administration) and to accept and release collateral on the basis of satisfactory commitments from ultimate investors or permanent mortgagees so approved or approved by Federal Housing Administration;

f. To determine the qualifications of Borrower's Engineer and other parties whose certifications are to be submitted in connection with loan disbursements, and approve or reject certifications on the basis thereof;

g. To take whatever other action or give whatever other approval or consent may be authorized herein, expressly or by implication, in accordance with and as limited by instructions and all amendments thereto, heretofore or hereafter issued by the undersigned or any of his duly authorized agents or officers in connection with any such loan (hereinafter referred to as "Instructions" and designated in loan documents as "Disbursement and Servicing Terms and Conditions" or as "Disbursement Procedures" or with some other similar title), in order to effect or complete any such authorized action, approval or consent excluding, however, any acceleration of the loan, unauthorized release or substitution of collateral, extension of time for payment of principal or interest, forgiveness or waiver of any default or breach of covenant, or institution of or participation in any judicial proceedings, reorganization plans or assignments for the benefit of creditors;

h. To take all actions delegated in the Power of Attorney, a copy of which is annexed hereto as Appendix A, to the extent authorized herein and in accordance with and as limited by Instructions: Provided, That any party relying upon said Power of Attorney shall not be obligated to look to or determine the Regional Representative's or Regional Administrative Officer's compliance with this Delegation of Authority or the Instructions: Provided, That the foregoing delegations of authority shall be subject to:

i. A determination by the Regional Representative or Regional Administrative Officer that such consent, approval, or action will not materially affect adversely the interest of this Agency or increase the amount of the Loan Authorization, with respect to the exercise of the powers delegated in paragraphs b, c, d, e, g and h above;

ii. The condition that no such consent, approval or action shall require or have the effect of amending or modifying the Loan Authorization, any amendments thereto, the provisions of any note or collateral, or the Instructions, but shall come within the terms, conditions and limitations thereof.

2. The powers herein delegated to the aforesaid officers and their respective successors in office may not be delegated or redelegated by them, or any of them.

RAYMOND M. FOLEY,
Housing and Home Finance Administrator.

APPENDIX A

POWER OF ATTORNEY

Know all men by these presents, that Raymond M. Foley, Housing and Home Finance Administrator, does hereby nominate, constitute and appoint M. Justin Herman, Regional Representative, and Kirke M. Decker, Regional Administrative Officer, both Region VII, Office of the Administrator, Housing and Home Finance Agency, San Francisco, California, and each of them and their respective duly appointed successors in office, his true and lawful attorney for him and in his name, place and stead, in connection with any loan for the production or distribution of prefabricated houses or housing components, for related purposes, or for modernized site construction, as authorized by Title V of the Defense Housing and Community Facilities and Services Act of 1951 (Pub. Law 139, 82d Cong.; 65 Stat. 293, 311; 12 U. S. C., 1946 ed. Sup. V 1701g-1701g-4).

1. To assign, reassign, reconvey, endorse, and transfer without representation, recourse, or warranty, and surrender, satisfy, discharge, release, subordinate and cancel, or accomplish any of them in whole or in part: notes; checks; drafts; bonds; real estate mortgages and deeds of trust; contracts for the sale of prefabricated houses, housing components, sections or panels; chattel mortgages; beneficial interest under trust instruments; leases; accounts receivable; inventory liens; warehouse receipts; policies of insurance or rights thereunder; policies guaranteeing or insuring real estate titles, mortgages and deeds of trust, or any of them, or rights thereunder; and indemnity or surety bonds or rights thereunder; all or any of which may be assigned or endorsed to or held by Housing and Home Finance Administrator, or by the aforesaid Regional Representative in behalf of said Administrator.

2. To assent to or request any such abovementioned assignment, reassignment, reconveyance, transfer, surrender, satisfaction, discharge, release, subordination, and cancellation, or any of them in whole or in part.

3. In connection with deeds of trust or other trust instruments or agreements under which the Administrator is a beneficiary or assignee of beneficiary, or where the Administrator, or Regional Representative, is a holder of any note, notes, bonds, instrument or instruments issued pursuant thereto or secured thereby: (a) To accept or join with others in the acceptance of resignations of trustee or trustees; (b) to remove or join with others in the removal of any trustee or trustees; (c) to select and designate persons or corporations as original substitute or successor trustee or trustees; and (d) to appoint, consent to or approve of the appointment, or join with others in the appointment, consent to or approval of appointment of substitute or successor trustee or trustees.

Further giving and granting unto his said attorneys, and each of them, full power and authority to do and to perform all and every act and thing requisite, necessary and proper to be done for the purpose of effecting the granted powers, including, but without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the execution and delivery of release deeds, satisfaction pieces, requests for full reconveyance, assignments, discharges, subordinations and such other documents as may be appropriate or necessary to effectuate the foregoing, hereby ratifying and confirming all that said attorneys, or either of them, shall lawfully do or cause to be done under this power.

All documents and instruments executed pursuant to this Power of Attorney shall be signed in the following form:

HOUSING AND HOME FINANCE ADMINISTRATOR,
By _____
Housing and Home Finance Agency, His Attorney-in-Fact.

with insertion therein of official title of attorney in the space provided under the signature.

The Power of Attorney shall continue in force until revoked by a revocation recorded in Santa Clara County, California, and in any other county where this Power may be recorded, provided always that any revocation shall not prejudice or affect anything lawfully done or cause to be done by either said attorney prior to the recording of any such revocation hereof.

The powers herein granted may not be delegated or redelegated.

In witness whereof, Raymond M. Foley, Housing and Home Finance Administrator, has caused this Power of Attorney to be executed on his behalf, and the seal of said Administrator to be affixed hereto, this 12th day of December 1952.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

WINIFRED ROSE GALBRAITH

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER REVOKING REGISTRATION

DECEMBER 11, 1952.

In the matter of Winifred Rose Galbraith, the Barclay, 18th and Rittenhouse Square, Philadelphia 3, Pa.

This is a proceeding pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("the act") to determine whether Winifred Rose Galbraith ("registrant"), who is registered as a broker and dealer, willfully violated section 17 (a) of the act and Rule X-17A-5 thereunder and, if so, whether it is in the public interest to revoke her registration.[1]

The proceeding was instituted by the issuance of a notice and order for hearing, a copy of which was sent by registered mail to the address furnished us by the registrant in her registration application. The registered notice was returned to us by the Post Office Department with a notation indicating that the registrant could not be found at the address given.[2] Registrant did not appear in person nor was she represented by counsel on the date set for hearing.

On November 28, 1942, we promulgated Rule-X17A-5 under section 17 (a) of the act, which provides, among other things, that every registered broker or dealer must file with this Commission a report of financial condition during each calendar year commencing with the year 1943. Promulgation of the rule was announced by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, by release to the press, and by distribution to persons on our mailing list.

The registrant's registration, which became effective September 8, 1948, has not been withdrawn, cancelled, revoked or suspended, and as of the institution of the proceeding was in full force and effect. Our records show that the registrant failed to file the required reports for 1951 and a number of years preceding.

Upon review of the record in this proceeding, we have concluded that the registrant violated section 17 (a) of the act and Rule X-17A-5 thereunder as a result of failure to file such reports. We conclude also that such violation was willful within the meaning of section 15 (b).[3]

[1] Section 15 (b) provides in part:

The Commission shall, after appropriate notice and opportunity for hearing, by order * * * revoke the registration of any broker or dealer if it finds that such * * * revocation is in the public interest and that (1) such broker or dealer * * * (D) has willfully violated any provision * * * of this title, or of any rule or regulation thereunder.

[2] Our order and notice instituting the proceeding provided that the same be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER not later than 15 days prior to October 15, 1952, the date set for hearing of the matter. Pursuant to this provision the order and notice was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of September 19, 1952, 17 F. R. 8444-5.

[3] See Sidney Ascher, Securities Exchange Act Release No. 4474 (July 27, 1950).

On the basis of the foregoing, we are of the opinion that it is necessary in the public interest to revoke the registration as a broker and dealer of Winifred Rose Galbraith.

Accordingly, It is ordered, That the registration as a broker and dealer of Winifred Rose Galbraith be, and it hereby is revoked.

By the Commission.

MISSION OIL CO. ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING OF APPLICATION FOR EXTENSION OF TIME FOR DISPOSITION OF SUBSIDIARY COMMON STOCKS

DECEMBER 12, 1952.

In the matter of The Mission Oil Company, Southwestern Development Company and subsidiaries and Sinclair Oil Corporation, File Nos. 54-196, 59-97; Albert R. Jones, et al., File No. 70-2681.

Notice is hereby given that Sinclair Oil Corporation ("Sinclair"), a registered holding company which is exempt from the provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("Act") other than sections 9 (a) (2) and 11 (b), (c) and (e) thereof, has filed with this Commission, pursuant to the act, an application requesting an extension of time within which to effect certain dispositions provided for in the plan approved by the Commission under section 11 (e) of the act on December 21, 1951.

All interested persons are referred to the application on file in the office of this Commission for a statement of the request for extension of time and the reasons given for such requests, which are summarized as follows:

The plan provided, inter alia, for the divestment by Sinclair, within one year from December 21, 1951, "or such longer time as the Commission may by further order grant", of the reclassified common stock of Southwestern Development Company ("Southwestern"), a registered holding company, and of Colorado Interstate Gas Company ("Colorado"), a non-utility subsidiary of Southwestern, and the common stock of Westpan Hydrocarbon Company ("Westpan"), a new non-utility subsidiary of Southwestern, received by Sinclair through the distributions by Southwestern and The Mission Oil Company ("Mission") under the plan.

In support of the application Sinclair states that it has disposed of the common stock of Colorado, but that it has been unable in the exercise of due diligence to effect the disposition of the common stock of Southwestern and Westpan. In this connection it is stated:

The Southwestern system has recently concluded a long-term contract for a large percentage of its future gas requirements. Further, extensions of franchises have been granted by nearly all towns being served. These developments place Southwestern in a position to effect permanent financing of its outstanding short-term debt, which applicant considers desirable prior to disposition of its holdings of Southwestern.

Several parties have expressed an interest in acquiring the common stock of Southwestern, two of whom have completed examination of financial data and the properties. Other parties are in the process of such examinations which will not be completed for several months.

A merger of certain of Southwestern's properties is under consideration awaiting the outcome of proceedings before the Federal Power Commission and this Commission in which West Texas Gas Company, one of the major utility subsidiaries, is seeking approval of a proposed sale to El Paso Natural Gas Company, a non-affiliate, of certain gas transmission facilities.

Applicant believes it to be in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers to have as many offers for the purchase of Southwestern stock as possible, and to consummate the permanent financing, and the contemplated mergers if practicable, before the common stock of Southwestern becomes widely held by the public.

Westpan is a new company which was created in the course of the plan proceedings and did not begin operations until January, 1952. Some recent inquiries have been received from prospective purchasers of the stock of the company, but little is known by the public about the company's operations and property, which makes the stock difficult to evaluate.

Changes in the management have been necessary to meet the requirements of the act, and further changes may be advisable in order to obtain officers who will devote their entire time to the company's operations and development.

New facilities and operating techniques have resulted in larger recoveries of natural gasoline and also in the recovery of excess butane from the natural gas being processed, with the consequent increase in revenues to Wespan, the full effect of which will not be reflected until 1953.

The company has acquired interests in oil and gas properties which are now in the process of being developed. One well has been completed opening a new oil pool, and a second well therein is expected to be completed in December 1952. A well has also been commenced on another block of acreage, and drilling operations on a third block of acreage are expected to be commenced during 1953. The contemplated developments are dependent upon availability of oil casing and tubing and it is doubtful if sufficient of such materials will be available for the development of these properties before the latter part of 1953. At best it will take several months to evaluate the earning capacity of these properties.

For the foregoing reasons the applicant has been hesitant about requesting bids for the stock of Westpan.

Applicant also states that it will exercise every effort, consistent with the public interest and the interest of investers and consumers, to comply with any extension order; and requests an extension of time, not to exceed one year from December 21, 1952, within which to effect the disposition of the stocks of Southwestern and Westpan.

Notice is hereby further given that any interested person may, not later than December 23, 1952, at 5:30 p. m., e. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such application, stating the reasons for such request, the nature of his interest and the issues of fact or law raised by said application which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified should the Commission order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time thereafter said application, as filed or as amended, may be granted or the Commission may take such other action as is deemed appropriate.

By the Commission.

DELAWARE POWER & LIGHT CO. AND EASTERN SHORE PUBLIC SERVICE CO. OF MARYLAND

SUPPLEMENTAL ORDER GRANTING EXTENSION OF TIME WITHIN WHICH TO CONSUMMATE SECURITY TRANSACTIONS BETWEEN PARENT AND SUBSIDIARY

DECEMBER 12, 1952.

Delaware Power & Light Company ("Delaware"), a registered holding company, and its subsidiary, the Eastern Shore Public Service Company of Maryland ("Eastern Shore"), having filed a joint application-declaration pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, particularly sections 6 (b), 9 (a), 12 (d) and 12 (f) thereof and Rules U-43 and U-44 promulgated thereunder, with respect to the issue and sale by Eastern Shore from time to time, but not later than December 31, 1951, of up to $3,000,000 principal amount of its 4 percent promissory notes due October 1, 1973, and 30,000 shares of its common stock of the par value of $100 per share, and the acquisition thereof by Delaware; the Commission having granted and permitted the said joint application-declaration to become effective by Order dated June 29, 1950; and the Commission by order dated December 6, 1951, having granted an extension of time to December 31, 1952, within which to consummate the transactions; and

Applicants-declarants having filed an amendment to said joint application-declaration in which it is stated that Eastern Shore has issued and sold to Delaware only $2,000,000 principal amount of its 4 percent promissory notes, and 20,000 shares of its common stock heretofore authorized to be issued and sold prior to December 31, 1952, and that it appears that it will be unnecessary for Eastern Shore to issue and sell the remaining $1,000,000 principal amount of its said 4 percent promissory notes, and the remaining 10,000 shares of its common stock prior to December 31, 1952, but that it probably will be necessary for Eastern Shore to issue and sell said securities between January 1 and December 31, 1953; and the amendment further stating that an extension of time within which said securities may be issued and sold to December 31, 1953, has been authorized by order of the Public Service Commission of Maryland, dated November 17, 1952; and

The Commission having examined said amendment and having considered the record herein and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that the time within which said securities may be issued and sold be extended to December 31, 1953, and that the said joint application-declaration, as further amended, be granted and permitted to become effective:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of said act, that the said joint application-declaration, as further amended, be, and hereby is, granted and permitted to become effective forthwith subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

By the Commission.

AXE-HOUGHTON FUND B, INC., AND ATOMIC INDUSTRIES FUND, INC.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

DECEMBER 16, 1952.

Notice is hereby given that Axe-Houghton Fund B, Inc. (Axe-Houghton), and Atomic Industries Fund, Inc. (Atomic), have filed an application pursuant to section 17 (b) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 for an order of the Commission exempting from the provisions of section 17 (a) of the act certain proposed transactions. The application sets forth the following proposal:

Axe-Houghton will offer to purchase all of the assets of Atomic and to pay as consideration therefor a relatively small amount of cash plus newly issued shares of the capital stock of Axe-Houghton. After the sale of the assets of Atomic the cash and Axe-Houghton's stock is to be distributed to the stockholders of Atomic in proportion to their respective interests.

The application states that:

The foregoing transaction and offer is to be made by Axe-Houghton subject to the approval of the stockholders of Atomic and a special meeting of the latter's stockholders is to be called to present the matter for their approval.

The portfolio securities held by Atomic are all securities which Axe-Houghton is authorized to purchase under its current investment policy, and if Atomic should make any portfolio changes before the proposed transaction is accomplished, it proposes to purchase only securities which Axe-Houghton is authorized to purchase.

The number of shares of Axe-Houghton to be issued as consideration for the assets of Atomic will be determined by deducting the amount of cash to be paid from the market value of the assets of Atomic to be received and dividing the balance by the net asset value per share of the shares of Axe-Houghton. The exact amount of cash to be paid will be determined as close to the event as possible in the light of facts then existing and will approximate the cash needed to pay any liabilities of Atomic plus the maximum established amount of income taxes which would be payable by Atomic shareholders upon distribution of net income or capital gains dividends to them. Such amount is estimated at this time at $6,000. The market value of the assets of Atomic and the net asset value per share of the shares of Axe-Houghton will be determined as of the date of the purchase in the manner regularly employed for the determination of the market value of the assets of Axe-Houghton and the net asset value of its shares, in accordance with the currently effective prospectus for the shares of Axe-Houghton. No selling or other commission will be charged or paid in connection with such transactions.

In December 1951 the name of the company was changed from the former name to Atomic Industries Fund, Inc. One of the objects in connection with the aforesaid change of name was to make a public offering of Atomic's stock, but for various reasons Atomic has been unable to make a public offering.

The directors believe that the size of Atomic is too small to continue to operate it as a separate fund and that expenses could be saved for the benefit of the stockholders by combining its portfolio with a larger fund. The type of securities now held in the portfolio of Atomic is generally similar to the type of securities held in the portfolio of Axe-Houghton.

Emerson W. Axe is the president and a director of Axe-Houghton and Atomic, and of E. W. Axe & Co., Inc., and is also a director of Axe Securities Corporation. Ruth H. Axe is president and a director of Axe Securities Corporation, and is also a vice president and a director of Axe-Houghton, Atomic, and E. W. Axe & Co., Inc. Morris M. Townsend is a vice president of Axe-Houghton, Atomic, E. W. Axe & Co., Inc., and Axe Securities Corporation, and is a director of Atomic. Henry Logan and J. Keith Torbert are directors of Atomic and Axe-Houghton.

Applicants allege, among other things, that the proposed transactions will be beneficial both to Atomic and Axe-Houghton shareholders; that the proposed transaction would result in the elimination of a small investment company which is relatively expensive to manage, by combining its portfolio with a large open-end investment company on the basis of their relative net asset values, and distributing to the shareholders of the smaller company the shares of the larger company on a fair basis. It is also alleged that the transaction is in the public interest and consistent with the general purposes of the Investment Company Act of 1940.

All interested persons are referred to said application which is on file in the offices of the Commission for a detailed statement of the proposed transactions and the matters of fact and law asserted.

Notice is further given that an order granting the application in whole or in part and upon such conditions as the Commission may deem necessary or appropriate may be issued by the Commission on or at any time after December 30, 1952, unless prior thereto a hearing upon the application is ordered by this Commission, as provided in Rule N-5 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act. Any interested person may submit to the Commission in writing, not later than December 29, 1952 at 5:30 p. m., his views or any additional facts bearing upon the application or the desirability of a hearing thereon, or a request to the Commission that a hearing be held thereon. Any such communication or request should state briefly the nature of the interest of the person submitting such information or requesting a hearing, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law raised by the application which he desires to controvert. Any such communication or request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington, D. C.

By the Commission.

FEDERAL REGISTER

VOLUME 17 NUMBER 247

Washington, Friday, December 19, 1952

TITLE 3—THE PRESIDENT

EXECUTIVE ORDER 10420

AMENDING THE SELECTIVE SERVICE REGULATIONS AND EXECUTIVE ORDER No. 10363 OF JUNE 17, 1952 [1]

By virtue of the authority vested in me by Title I of the Universal Military Training and Service Act (62 Stat. 604), as amended, it is ordered as follows:

1. I hereby prescribe the following amendments of the Selective Service Regulations prescribed by Executive Orders No. 9988 [2] of August 20, 1948, No. 10001 [3] of September 17, 1948, No. 10008 [4] of October 18, 1948, No. 10167 [5] of October 11, 1950, No. 10202 [6] of January 12, 1951, No. 10258 [7] of June 26, 1951, No. 10292 [8] of September 25, 1951, and No. 10328 [9] of February 20, 1952, and constituting portions of Chapter XVI of Title 32 of the Code of Federal Regulations:

a. Paragraph (f) of § 1622.12 of Part 1622, Classification Rules and Principles, is amended to read as follows:

(f) Every registrant who, on or after June 24, 1948, has entered upon active duty in the armed forces, other than active duty for training only, and (1) who has been separated therefrom by honorable discharge or discharge under honorable conditions or by an equivalent type of release from service, except when such discharge or release was because of minority or erroneous enlistment or when the branch of the armed forces concerned certifies that such discharge or release was accomplished upon the application of the registrant and was based upon inadequate evidence of his status, or (2) who has been separated therefrom by honorable discharge or discharge under honorable conditions or by an equivalent type of release from service and transferred to a reserve component of the armed forces, or (3) who has been transferred to a reserve component of the armed forces. Each such registrant who has been transferrd to a reserve component of the armed forces shall be identified with the abbreviation "Res." in the manner provided in § 1622.65, and every other such registrant shall be identified with the abbreviation "Disc." in the manner provided in § 1622.64, and upon attaining an age beyond the maximum age of liability for military service under the provisions of the selective service law, all such registrants shall be reclassified in Class V–A.

b. Paragraph (a) of § 1622.14 of Part 1622 is amended to read as follows:

(a) In Class I–O shall be placed every registrant who would have been classified in Class I–A but for the fact that he has been found, by reason of religious training and belief, to be conscientiously opposed to participation in war in any form and to be conscientiously opposed to participation in both combatant and noncombatant training and service in the armed forces.

c. Paragraph (b) of § 1622.16 of Part 1622 is amended to read as follows:

(b) In Class I–W shall be placed any registrant who subsequent to being ordered by the local board to perform civilian work contributing to the maintenance of the national health, safety, or interest has been released from such work by the local board after satisfactorily performing the work for a period of twenty-four consecutive months or has been sooner released from such work by the Director of Selective Service under the provisions of § 1660.21 of this chapter. Each such registrant shall be identified on all records by following his classification with the abbreviation "Rel." and, upon attaining an age beyond the maximum age of liability for military service under the provisions of the selective service law, all such registrants shall be reclassified in Class V–A.

d. Section 1623.12 of Part 1623, Classification Procedure, is revoked.

e. Paragraph (b) of § 1624.2 of Part 1624, Appearance Before Local Board, is amended to read as follows:

Chapter IV:
Subchapter B (WSB):
Res. 1 11599
Res. 2 11599

(b) At any such appearance, the registrant may discuss his classification, may point out the class or classes in which he thinks he should have been placed, and may direct attention to any information in his file which he believes the local board has overlooked or to which he believes it has not given sufficient weight. The registrant may present such further information as he believes will assist the local board in determining his proper classification. Such information shall be in writing, or, if oral, shall be summarized in writing by the registrant and, in either event, shall be placed in the registrant's file. The information furnished should be as concise as possible under the circumstances. The member or members of the local board before whom the registrant appears may impose such limitations upon the time which the registrant may have for his appearance as they deem necessary.

f. Section 1626.11 of Part 1626, Appeal to Appeal Board, is amended by redesignating paragraph (c) as paragraph (d) and by adding a new paragraph (c) to read as follows:

(c) Whenever an appeal to the appeal board involves a registrant whose current place of residence is located outside the appeal board area in which the local board having jurisdiction over the registrant is located and is located in the area of another appeal board and the written request referred to in paragraph (b) of this section has not been filed with the local board, the registrant, the Director of Selective Service, or the State Director of Selective Service may, at the time he files the notice of appeal, file with the local board a written request that the appeal be submitted to the appeal board having jurisdiction over the area in which is located the current place of residence of the registrant.

g. Section 1626.13 of Part 1626 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1626.13 Local board to prepare appeal record and forward file. (a) Immediately upon an appeal being taken to the appeal board by a person entitled to appeal, the local board shall prepare the Individual Appeal Record (SSS Form No. 120) in duplicate, attaching the original to the inside of the registrant's Cover Sheet (SSS Form No. 101) and placing the duplicate copy in the local board files. If either of the written requests referred to in paragraphs (b) and (c) of § 1626.11 has been filed, the local board shall enter on the Individual Appeal Record (SSS Form No. 120) a notation that such request has been filed together with the principal place of employment of the registrant or his current place of residence, whichever is applicable, and the address thereof. The local board shall carefully check the registrant's file to make certain that all steps required by the regulations in this chapter have been taken and that the record is complete. If any information considered by the local board does not appear in the written information in the file, other than information presented orally by the registrant or in his behalf at a personal appearance under the provisions of § 1624.2 of this chapter, the local board shall prepare and place in the file a written summary of such information.

(b) The file of a registrant who appeals or on whose behalf an appeal is taken shall be forwarded by the local board to the appeal board, or appropriate panel thereof, for the area in which the local board having jurisdiction over the registrant is located, unless either of the written requests referred to in paragraphs (b) and (c) of § 1626.11 has been filed with the local board. If the written request referred to in paragraph (b) of § 1626.11 has been filed, the file of the registrant shall be forwarded by the local board through the State Director of Selective Service to the appeal board having jurisdiction over the area in which is located the principal place of employment of the registrant, but if such principal place of employment is not located in the area of any appeal board the file of the registrant shall be forwarded to the appeal board, or appropriate panel thereof, for the area in which the local board having jurisdiction over the registrant is located. If the written request referred to in paragraph (c) of § 1626.11 has been filed and the written request referred to in paragraph (b) of that section has not been filed, the file of the registrant shall be forwarded by the local board through the State Director of Selective Service to the appeal board having jurisdiction over the area in which is located the current place of residence of the registrant, but if such current place of residence is not located in the area of any appeal board the file of the registrant shall be forwarded to the appeal board, or appropriate panel thereof, for the area in which the local board having jurisdiction over the registrant is located. The State Director of Selective Service may direct the channels through which the files of registrants shall be forwarded to the appeal boards in his State. When the appeal board to which a file is to be forwarded is located in another State he shall forward the file through the State Director of Selective Service for that State.

h. Section 1626.14 of Part 1626 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1626.14 Time when record to be forwarded on appeal. The registrant's file shall be forwarded to the appeal board, or appropriate panel thereof, immediately after the period provided in paragraph (c) of § 1626.2 for taking an appeal has elapsed and the local board has complied with the provisions of § 1626.13, but in no event shall the file be forwarded later than five days after the period for taking an appeal has elapsed. The local board shall enter in the Classification Record (SSS Form No. 102) the date it transmits the registrant's file to the appeal board or appropriate panel thereof.

i. Paragraph (b) of § 1628.3 of Part 1628, Physical Examination, is amended to read as follows:

(b) The medical advisor to the local board shall (1) give each registrant who presents himself for medical interview such examination as he deems necessary or (2) review each affidavit of a reputable physician or official statement of a representative of a Federal or State agency referred to him by the local board. From such examination or review, the medical advisor to the local board shall determine whether the registrant has one or more of the defects or conditions listed in Part 1629 of this chapter and shall record his findings in item 19 of section II of the Record of Induction (DD Form No. 47).

j. Subparagraph (1) of paragraph (a) of § 1632.5 of Part 1632, Delivery and Induction, is amended to read as follows:

(1) Prepare in quintuplicate a Delivery List (SSS Form No. 261) completing thereon the entries in columns (1) and (2) for each such registrant.

k. 1. Paragraph (c) of § 1650.11 of Part 1650, Registration, Classification, Physical Examination, Selection, and Induction of Persons in Medical, Dental, and Allied Specialist Categories, is amended to read as follows:

(c) Every special registrant shall be placed in Class I–A under the provisions of § 1622.10 of this chapter except that when grounds are established to place such registrant in one or more of the classes listed in the following table, the special registrant shall be classified in the lowest class for which he is determined to be eligible, with Class I–A–O considered the highest class and Class I–C considered the lowest class according to the following table:

Class:		Class:
	I–A–O		IV–B
	I–O		IV–C
	I–D		IV–D
	II–A		IV–F
	II–S		V–A
	III–A		I–W
	IV–A		I–C

2. Section 1650.11 of Part 1650 is further amended by redesignating paragraph (j) as paragraph (k), paragraph (k) as paragraph (l), paragraph (l) as paragraph (o), paragraph (m) as paragraph (p), and paragraph (n) as paragraph (q) and by adding three new paragraphs (j), (m), and (n) to read as follows:

(j) A special registrant shall be placed in Class II–S only if (1) he has been accepted for admission by a professional school of medicine, dentistry, or veterinary medicine to the class next commencing for a full-time course of instruction leading to a degree in a specialist category other than that in which he has previously received a degree and, if such class has commenced, has entered such school, or (2) he is a student in any such professional school and the school in which he is in attendance has certified that he is satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction leading to a degree in a specialist category other than that in which he has previously received a degree.

• • • • •

(m) A special registrant shall be placed in Class IV–B under the provisions of § 1622.41 of this chapter.

(n) A special registrant shall be placed in Class IV–C only if he is an alien and has departed from the United States. Such alien shall be placed in Class IV–C even though he is a delinquent but this classification shall in no way relieve him from liability for prosecution for violation of the selective service law. If any registrant so classified under this paragraph returns to the United States, his classification shall be reopened and he shall be classified anew.

3. Paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 1650.30 of Part 1650 are amended to read as follows:

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the provisions of Part 1628 of this chapter shall be applicable with respect to the physical examination of special registrants except that special registrants shall not be given the medical interview as provided in that part.

(b) Whenever a special registrant who is in Class I–A, Class I–A–O, or Class I–O claims that he has one or more of the disqualifying obvious defects or manifest conditions listed in Part 1629 of this chapter, or whenever the local board is of the opinion that such a special registrant has one or more of such defects or conditions, the local board shall prepare an original and three copies of the Record of Induction (DD Form No. 47), by completing all of section I except item 2, and item 18 of section II thereof, and send the original together with all documents in the registrant's file relating to his physical or mental condition to the medical advisor to the local board. The medical advisor after reviewing the written evidence which he receives shall state in item 19 of section II of the Record of Induction (DD Form No. 47) whether or not he believes that the registrant actually has any disqualifying defect or condition. If the medical advisor states that he believes that the registrant has any such defect or condition, the local board shall send the original of the Record of Induction (DD Form No. 47) together with all written evidence relating to the registrant's condition to the State Director of Selective Service who shall obtain a determination from the commanding general of the appropriate army as to whether the registrant shall be forwarded for armed forces physical examination. If the medical advisor states that he does not believe that the registrant has any such defect or condition, the registrant shall be forwarded for armed forces physical examination.

m. Paragraph (d) of § 1660.21 of Part 1660, Civilian Work in Lieu of Induction, is amended to read as follows:

(d) The Director of Selective Service is authorized to release, or to provide for the release of, any registrant from civilian work in lieu of induction at any time before the registrant has performed such work for a period of twenty-four consecutive months whenever the Director of Selective Service deems such release to be advisable.

n. Paragraph (c) of § 1660.31 of Part 1660 is amended to read as follows:

(c) When the local board receives the cover sheet of the registrant from the Director of Selective Service or the State Director of Selective Service together with the letter stating that the registrant has satisfactorily completed his period of civilian work or a written notification that the registrant has been sooner released from such work by the Director of Selective Service under the provisions of § 1660.21, the local board shall mail the registrant a certificate evidencing his satisfactory completion of and release from civilian work and shall retain him in Class I–W and identify him on all records by following his classification with the abbreviation "Rel." until such time as he attains an age beyond the maximum age of liability for military service.

2. Paragraph 3 of Executive Order No. 10363 of June 17, 1952, prescribing amendments of the Selective Service Regulations is hereby amended, effective as of June 17, 1952, by substituting for the designation "paragraph (b) of § 1622.30" appearing therein the designation "paragraph (c) of § 1622.30".

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter II—Civil Aeronautics Administration, Department of Commerce

[Amdt. 45]

PART 608—DANGER AREAS

ALTERATION

The danger area alteration appearing hereinafter has been coordinated with the civil operators involved, the Army, the Navy, and the Air Force, through the Air Coordinating Committee, Airspace Subcommittee, and is adopted to become effective when indicated in order to promote safety of the flying public. Since a military function of the United States is involved, compliance with the notice, procedures, and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act is not required. Part 608 is amended as follows:

In § 608.55, the Port Angeles, Washington, area (D–407), published on May 20, 1952 in 17 F. R. 4558, and amended on July 4, 1952 in 17 F. R. 6024, is further amended by changing the "Description by Geographical Coordinates" column to read: "That portion of the following described area lying within the territorial limits of the United States: A sector of a circle of 12.5 statute mile radius centered on lat. 48°23'12" N., long. 123°28'37" W., and limited by the radii drawn from the center through the Race Rocks Lighthouse at lat. 48°17'53" N., long. 123°31'48" W., and drawn from the center through the Trial Island Lighthouse at lat. 48°23'42" N., long. 123°18'12" W."

(Sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interprets or applies sec. 601, 52 Stat. 1007, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 551)

This amendment shall become effective on December 23, 1952.

TITLE 8—ALIENS AND NATIONALITY

Chapter I—Immigration and Naturalization Service, Department of Justice

IMMIGRATION AND NATIONALITY REGULATIONS

Reference is made to the notice of proposed rule making which was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of November 6, 1952 (17 F. R. 9989), and in which there were stated in full the details of the proposed issuance of rules implementing the Immigration and Nationality Act (66 Stat. 163). As a result of the representations which were received concerning the proposed rules, numerous amendments to those rules have been made. The amendatory rules, as set out below, are hereby adopted. The general basis and purpose of the adopted rules is the implementation of the Immigration and Nationality Act. The rules stated below shall become effective on December 24, 1952. Compliance with the delayed effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 238; 5 U. S. C. 1003) is impracticable and contrary to the public interest in this instance, since such compliance would unduly delay and impede the administration and enforcement of the Immigration and Nationality Act which becomes effective on December 24, 1952.

NOTE: The record-keeping and reporting requirements of these regulations have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

JAMES P. MCGRANERY,
Attorney General.

DECEMBER 17, 1952.

Recommended:

ARGYLE R. MACKEY,
Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization.

1.1 Definitions.
1.2 Prior regulations.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

AUTHORITY: §§ 1.1 and 1.2 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 101, 332, 66 Stat. 166, 252.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 1.1 Definitions—(a) Terms used in this chapter. (1) The terms defined in section 101 of the Immigration and Nationality Act have the same meanings ascribed to them in that section and as supplemented, explained, and further defined in this chapter.

(2) The term "Act" means the "Immigration and Nationality Act" (66 Stat. 163).

(3) The term "attorney" means a person licensed to practice law in the Federal, State, territorial, or insular courts.

(4) Unless the context otherwise requires, the term "case" means any proceeding arising under the immigration laws, Executive orders and Presidential proclamations, except that for the purposes of Part 292 of this chapter, a proceeding under Part 332 of this chapter shall not be regarded as a case.

(5) The term "Central Office" means the headquarters office of the Service at Washington, D. C.

(6) The term "day," when computing the period of time provided in this chapter for the taking of any action, means any day other than a Sunday or a legal holiday.

(7) The term "district" or "immigration district" when used in a geographical sense means that portion of the territory of the United States comprising each of the various major subdivisions of the Service defined and delineated in the section of Notices pertaining to the organizational structure of the Service.

(8) The term "district director" means the officer duly appointed to the titular position as the Service officer in charge of a district, whose appointment has not terminated, and includes the officer or employee of the Service who has been designated to act as district director in the absence of the district director.

(9) The term "immigration officer" means—

(i) Any officer or employee of the Service who, on December 24, 1952, was serving under appointment theretofore made to the position of immigrant inspector, patrol inspector, investigator, naturalization examiner, or any other officer of the Service of a higher grade, whose appointment has not terminated, or who hereafter is appointed to such position; and

(ii) Any person designated by the Commissioner to perform the duties and exercise the powers of an immigration officer as set forth in the Immigration and Nationality Act.

(10) The term "officer in charge" means the Service officer in charge of the Service office having administrative jurisdiction over a case. It does not include a district director.

(11) The term "practice" means the act of an attorney or representative in appearing in any case, either in person or through the filing of a brief or other document, paper, application or petition on behalf of a client before an officer of the Service or the Board.

(12) The term "representative" means a person representing a religious, charitable, social service or similar organization established in the United States and recognized as such by the Board, or a person described in § 292.1 (b) (2) and (3) of this chapter.

(b) Terms used in Subchapter B of this chapter. (1) The terms—

"arriving at ports of the United States" as used in sections 232, 234, and 235 of the Immigration and Nationality Act; and

"arrival at a port of the United States" as used in section 233 of the Immigration and Nationality Act; and

"arrival in a port of the United States" as used in section 253 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, mean any coming to any port of the United States from a foreign port or place, from an outlying possession of the United States, or from Hawaii, Alaska, Guam, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands of the United States, except:

(i) That any person (including a crewman) coming to a port in the United States from a foreign port or place, from an outlying possession of the United States, or from Hawaii, Alaska, Guam, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands of the United States, by vessel or aircraft, whose examination under sections 234 and 235 of the Immigration and Nationality Act is not completed at the first port of call in the United States of such vessel or aircraft shall be considered as coming from a foreign port or place, an outlying possession of the United States, or from Hawaii, Alaska, Guam, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands of the United States at each subsequent port of call in the United States of such vessel or aircraft until such examination is completed;

(ii) That any person (including a crewman) passing through the Canal Zone on board a vessel which does not enter and clear at any port in the Canal Zone for a purpose other than to transit the Zone, to refuel, or to land passengers for medical treatment, shall not be regarded as coming from a foreign port or place solely by renson of such passage through the Canal Zone.

(2) The terms—

"arriving in the United States" as used in section 256 of the Immigration and Nationality Act; and

"bringing an alien to, or providing a means for an alien to come to, the United States" as used in section 271 of the Immigration and Nationality Act; and

"bring to the United States" as used in section 272 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, mean any coming from a foreign port or place, from an outlying possession of the United States, or from Hawaii, Alaska, Guam, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands of the United States to or into the United States or the territorial waters or overlying airspace thereof, except:

(i) That any person (including a crewman) coming to the United States from a foreign port or place, from an outlying possession of the United States, or from Hawaii, Alaska, Guam, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands of the United States, by vessel or aircraft, whose examination under sections 234 and 235 of the Immigration and Nationality Act is not completed at the first port of call in the United States of such vessel or aircraft shall be considered as coming from a foreign port or place, an outlying possession of the United States, or from Hawaii, Alaska, Guam, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands of the United States at each subsequent port of call in the United States of such vessel or aircraft until such examination is completed;

(ii) That any person (including a crewman) passing through the Canal Zone on board a vessel which does not enter and clear at any port in the Canal Zone for a purpose other than to transit the Zone, to refuel, or to land passengers for medical treatment, shall not be regarded as coming from a foreign port or place solely by reason of such passage through the Canal Zone.

(3) The terms—

"arrival of any person by water or by air at any port within the United States from any place outside the United States" as used in section 231 of the Immigration and Nationality Act; and

"bring to the United States from any place outside thereof" as used in section 273 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, mean any coming from a foreign port or place or from an outlying possession of the United States to any port of the United States, except:

(i) That any person (including a crewman) coming from a foreign port or place or from an outlying possession of the United States to a port in the United States, by vessel or aircraft, whose examination under sections 234 and 235 of the Immigration and Nationality Act is not completed at the first port of call in the United States of such vessel or aircraft shall be considered as coming from a foreign port or place or from an outlying possession of the United States at each subsequent port of call in the United States of such vessel or aircraft until such examination is completed;

(ii) That any person (including a crewman) passing through the Canal Zone on board a vessel which does not enter and clear at any port in the Canal Zone for a purpose other than to transit the Zone, to refuel, or to land passengers for medical treatment, shall not be regarded as coming from a foreign port or place solely by reason of such passage through the Canal Zone;

(iii) Solely for the purposes of section 231 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, if it is established to the satisfaction of the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the place of arrival that the coming of any vessel or aircraft to a port of the United States was wholly involuntary, not intended, or not reasonably to be expected, no person on board such vessel or aircraft shall be regarded as arriving from any place outside the United States.

(4) The terms—

"arrival of any vessel or aircraft in the United States from any place outside the United States" as used in section 251 of the Immigration and Nationality Act; and

"arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof" as used in section 254 of the Immigration and Nationality Act; and

"arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof" as used in section 273 (d) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, mean any coming from a foreign port or place or from an outlying possession of the United States to or into the United States or the territorial waters or overlying airspace thereof, except:

(i) That if the examination under sections 234 and 235 of the Immigration and Nationality Act of any person (including a crewman) on board such vessel or aircraft is not completed at the first port of call in the United States of such vessel or aircraft, the vessel or aircraft shall be regarded as coming from a foreign port or place, or an outlying possession of the United States, at each subsequent port of call in the United States of such vessel or aircraft until such examination is completed;

(ii) That a vessel not otherwise within this definition shall not be regarded as falling within the terms thereof solely by reason of passage through the Canal Zone: Provided, That if in connection with such passage any vessel enters and clears at any port in the Zone for a purpose other than to transit the Zone, to refuel, or to land passengers for medical treatment, it shall be regarded as arriving in the United States from a place outside thereof;

(iii) Solely for the purposes of section 251 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, with respect to any coming which is established to the satisfaction of the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the place of arrival to have been wholly involuntary, not reasonably to be expected, or not intended;

(iv) Solely for the purposes of section 251 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, with respect to aircraft coming directly to the continental United States or Alaska on a trip which originated in Canada or the French Islands of St. Pierre or Miquelon.

(5) The term "beneficiary" means an alien in whose behalf a petition is filed under section 204, 205 or 214 (c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

(6) The term "Board" means the Board of Immigration Appeals.

(7) The term "continental United States" means the 48 States and the District of Columbia.

(8) Except as otherwise provided in §§ 214a.1 and 214g.1 of this chapter, the term "immediate family" means a close alien relative by blood or by marriage who is regularly residing in the household of the person in whose family membership is alleged.

(9) The term "passport"—

(i) When used with reference to the documentation of immigrant aliens, means a document defined in section 101 (a) (30) of the Immigration and Nationality Act which is unconditionally valid for the bearer's entry into a foreign country at least 60 days beyond the expiration date of his immigrant visa.

(ii) When used with reference to the documentation of a nonimmigrant alien, means a document defined in section 101 (a) (30) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, which document is valid for a minimum period of 6 months from the date of the expiration of the initial period of the bearer's admission or contemplated initial period of stay authorizing the bearer to return to the country from which he came or to proceed to and enter some other country during such period, except that in the case of a nonimmigrant who is applying for admission as a member of any of the classes described in section 102 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the period of such validity shall not be required to extend beyond the date of the application of such nonimmigrant for admission to the United States if he is admitted in that status.

(10) The term "permit to enter" includes an Immigrant Visa, Nonimmigrant Visa, Border Crossing Identification Card and a Reentry Permit, but does not include a Passport.

(11) The term "special inquiry officer" means any immigration officer who has been designated and appointed a special inquiry officer in accordance with the provisions of § 9.1 (b) of this chapter and who has a certificate of designation and appointment issued under that section.

(12) The term "western hemisphere" means North, Central, and South America and the islands immediately adjacent thereto including the places named in section 101 (b) (5) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

(c) Terms used in section 101 (a) (30) of the Immigration and Nationality Act. (1) The term "competent authority" means an official duly authorized by the national governments of his own or some other country to issue passports or to authenticate other documents which are cognizable as passports.

(d) Terms used in Chapter 7 of Title II of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Parts 262 to 266 inclusive of this chapter. (1) The term "alien" includes, but is not limited to, any person who, because of doubt as to the applicability of the registration requirement, applies for registration or is registered as a matter of precaution, and any person who is registered upon the application of another person acting in his behalf under the provisions of Chapter 7 of Title II of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

(2) The term "registration" or "register" or "registered" includes fingerprinting in the case of aliens 14 years of age or over.

(3) The term "alien registration receipt card" means any card, certificate or document issued to an alien pursuant to the registration requirements of chapter 7 of Title II of the Immigration and Nationality Act or Title III of the Alien Registration Act, 1940.

§ 1.2 Prior regulations. Regulations under Chapter I of this title, which were in effect on the effective date of the promulgation of these regulations, shall continue to be effective insofar as may be applicable and necessary under the provisions of section 405 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and, as to the control of the departure of persons, under the act of May 22, 1918, as amended and extended by section 1 (a) (30) of Public Law 450, 82d Congress.

AUTHORITY: §§ 2.1 to 2.6 issued under sec. 501, 65 Stat. 290, sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173; 5 U. S. C., Sup., 140. Interpret or apply secs. 281, 332, 343, 344, 405, 66 Stat. 230, 252, 263, 264, 280.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 2.1 Authority of officers to release information and to certify records. The Commissioner, the General Counsel of the Service, District Directors, or such other officers of the Service as may be designated by the Commissioner, upon application, may furnish to any person entitled thereto, copies of immigration and naturalization records, or information therefrom, and may certify that any official file, document, or record in the custody or control of the Service is a true file, document, or record, or that a copy of such file, document or record is a true copy.

§ 2.2 Certification of nonexistence of record. The chief of the Records Administration Branch of the Central Office may certify the nonexistence in the records of the Service of an official file, document, or record pertaining to a specified person or subject.

§ 2.3 Remittance of fees—(a) When submitted. Fees required to be submitted with, or on account of, any of the various applications or petitions prescribed in this chapter shall be attached to and submitted with such application or petition and shall be in the amount prescribed by the Immigration and Nationality Act or other applicable statute or regulation. All remittances shall be accepted subject to collection, and no receipt issued by an officer of the Service for any such remittance shall be binding if the instrument of remittance is found uncollectible. Such fees shall not be accepted in the form of postage stamps.

(b) Payee. Remittances shall be made payable to the "Treasurer of the United States", except that in the case of applicants residing in the Virgin Islands of the United States, the remittances shall be made payable to the "Commissioner of Finance of the Virgin Islands," and except that in the case of applicants residing in Guam, the remittances shall be made payable to the "Treasurer, Guam". The address of the payee shall not be included in that part of the form of remittance intended solely for the designation of the payee. Whenever it shall be necessary to indicate on a form of remittance the place at which the remittance is collectible or payable, there shall be used the name of the city or town and the State in which is located the Service office to which the application is to be sent.

§ 2.4 Copies of Service records and information; fees. (a) Except as otherwise provided by law or regulations, there shall be paid in advance for furnishing any person or agency (other than an officer or agency of the United States or of any State or any subdivision thereof for official use in connection with the official duties of such officers or agencies) copies, certified or uncertified, of any part of, or information from, the records of the Service, a fee of 25 cents per folio of one hundred words or fraction thereof, with a minimum fee of 50 cents for any such service. Application for the desired service shall be made on Form N-585 and submitted to the Service in accordance with the instructions contained therein. The applicant shall be advised if any fee in addition to the minimum is required for the requested service.

(b) Whenever the information requested in an application is contained in several files relating to one person, group, or thing, the furnishing of such information to one party shall be regarded as one service, and the information may be furnished in one letter or statement at the said rate per folio; but whenever the information requested in cases of this character is to be furnished to two or more persons, the furnishing of each letter or statement shall be regarded as a separate and distinct service, and an additional fee, or fees, shall be charged for each such additional service.

(c) Whenever the information requested in an application is contained in one or more files relating, respectively, to two or more persons, groups, or things the furnishing of such information from the file or files relating, respectively, to each such person, group, or thing, shall, in each instance, be regarded as a separate and distinct service, and separate letters or statements, each embodying collectively the information requested as to each person, group, or thing, shall be prepared, and an additional fee or fees shall be charged for each such additional service.

(d) Whenever additional uncertified copies of documents or written information from the record are applied for in order to meet the needs of applicants, the fees for such additional copies or advices or statements shall be at the rate of 25 cents per folio of one hundred words or fraction thereof, with a minimum of 50 cents for each such additional copy.

(e) Whenever it is desired that a copy of a document or written information from the records be officially certified under seal, a fee of $1.00 shall be charged for each such certification, in addition to the fees hereinabove provided.

§ 2.5 Fees for service, documents, papers, and records, not specified in the Immigration and Nationality Act. In addition to the fees enumerated in sections 281 and 344 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the following fees and charges are fixed and established:

PART 3—IMMIGRATION BONDS

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
3.1 Immigration bonds.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 3.1 Immigration bonds—(a) Acceptable sureties. In cases other than those in which cash or postal money orders are deposited pursuant to this chapter, the following shall be the only acceptable sureties on a bond furnished in connection with the administration of the Immigration and Nationality Act:

(1) A company holding a certificate from the Secretary of the Treasury under Title 6, Sections 6-13, United States Code, as an acceptable surety on Federal bonds;

(2) A surety who deposits United States bonds or notes of the class described in section 15 of Title 6, United States Code, and Treasury Department regulations issued pursuant thereto, which bonds or notes are not redeemable within one year from the date on which they are offered for deposit; or

(3) Sureties shall be two in number, each of whom shall justify separately in real property not exempted from levy and sale upon execution, which real property is actually valued, over and above all encumbrances, at double the amount of the bond, and each of whom shall, in addition to making such justification, satisfactorily establish to the immigration officer authorized to approve the bond that his net worth, over and above all obligations and liabilities of any kind, secured or unsecured, is equal to double the amount of the bond.

(b) Approval; extension agreements; consent of surety; collateral security. Regardless of the section of law or regulations under which a bond is required, district directors and officers in charge are authorized, either directly or through officers or employees designated by them to approve bonds which are prepared on a form approved by the Commissioner, provided no substantial change is made in the conditions printed on such form. Such officers are also authorized to approve formal agreements by which a surety consents to an extension of his liability on any such bond and to approve any power of attorney executed on Form I-312 or Form I-313 which purports to authorize the delivery after its release of collateral deposited to secure the performance of any such bond to some person or concern other than the depositor thereof. Unless otherwise specifically provided in this chapter or by the Commissioner in any case or class of cases, bonds prepared on forms approved by the Commissioner, all agreements of extension of liability relating thereto, and all powers of attorney for delivery of collateral security deposited in connection therewith shall be retained at the office of the Service where approved. Bonds prepared on any form other than one approved by the Commissioner, or bonds prepared on any such forms in which the conditions have been materially altered, agreements of extension of liability relating thereto, and any powers of attorney to receive back collateral deposited in connection therewith, shall be submitted to the Commissioner for approval. Regardless of the form on which the bond is prepared, any power of attorney not executed on Form I-312 or Form I-313, purporting to authorize the delivery after its release of any deposit of collateral security to some person or concern other than the depositor thereof, shall be forwarded, together with the bond and all appurtenant documents, to the Commissioner for approval. In the same manner, all requests for delivery of collateral security to a person other than the depositor or his approved attorney in fact shall be forwarded to the Commissioner for approval. Instruments and other papers forwarded to the Commissioner under the provisions of this paragraph shall be handled by the General Counsel.

(c) Violation of conditions; cancellation. (1) Whenever it shall appear that a condition of a bond executed in connection with the administration of the immigration laws may have been violated, the bond, all appurtenant documents, and a full report of the circumstances, shall be forwarded to the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the office where the bond is retained for decision as to whether the conditions of the bond have been met so that it may be cancelled, or whether any condition of the bond has been violated so that liability thereunder should be enforced, or whether the circumstances are such that the bond should be continued in effect. If the obligors are adversely affected by the decision of the district director, they shall be notified by the district director in writing on Form I-323 of his decision and of their right to appeal to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, in accordance with Part 7 of this chapter, by filing a Notice of Appeal, Form I-290B, at the office of the district director within 10 days from the receipt of notification of such decision. No appeal shall lie from the decision of the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division.

(2) If all the conditions of a bond executed in connection with the administration of the immigration laws have been complied with and the obligation has thereby been discharged by its own terms, the district director shall so notify the obligors on Form I-391. Similar notice shall be given if all the conditions of the bond have been complied with and—

(i) The alien has departed from the United States;

(ii) The alien has died;

(iii) The alien has been naturalized as a citizen of the United States;

(iv) A new bond has been furnished to replace the existing bond; or

(v) In the case of a delivery bond, the warrant of arrest or deportation has been cancelled, or the alien's application for suspension of deportation has been approved, or the alien has been imprisoned, or inducted into the armed forces of the United States.

AUTHORITY: §§ 4.1 to 4.3 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 101, 212, 66 Stat. 166, 182.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 4.1 Chinese person; definition. For the purposes of this part an alien who is of as much as one-half Chinese blood and is not of as much as one-half blood of a race or races which were ineligible for naturalization under section 303 of the Nationality Act of 1940, as amended, shall be regarded as a Chinese person.

§ 4.2 Presumption of lawful admission. An alien of any of the following-described classes shall be presumed to have been lawfully admitted for permanent residence within the meaning of the Immigration and Nationality Act (even though no record of his admission can be found, except as otherwise provided in this part) unless the alien abandoned his status as a lawful permanent resident, or lost such status by operation of law, at any time subsequent to such admission:

(a) Aliens who entered prior to June 30, 1906. An alien who establishes that he entered the United States prior to June 30, 1906.

(b) Aliens who entered across land borders of the United States. An alien who establishes that, while a citizen of Canada or Newfoundland, he entered the United States across the Canadian border prior to October 1, 1906, and an alien who establishes that while a citizen of Mexico he entered the United States across the Mexican border prior to July 1, 1908.

(c) Aliens preexamined in Canada prior to July 1, 1924. An alien in whose case no record exists of his actual admission to the United States but who establishes that he gained admission to the United States prior to July 1, 1924 pursuant to preexamination at a United States immigration station in Canada and that a record of such preexamination exists.

(d) Aliens who entered the Virgin Islands. An alien who establishes that he entered the Virgin Islands of the United States prior to July 1, 1938, even though a record of his admission as a non-immigrant under the Immigration Act of 1924, prior to July 1, 1938, exists.

(e) Aliens within the Asiatic barred zone. An alien who establishes that he is of a race indigenous to, and a native of a country within, the Asiatic zone defined in section 3 of the act of February 5, 1917, as amended, that he was a member of a class of aliens exempted from exclusion by the provisions of the said section, and that he entered the United States prior to July 1, 1924, provided that a record of such entry exists.

(f) Chinese persons. (1) A Chinese person in whose case there exists a record of his admission to the United States prior to July 1, 1924, under the provisions of the laws, orders, rules or regulations applicable to Chinese and who establishes that at the time of his admission he was a member of one or more of the following-described classes:

Merchants.
Teachers.
Students.

Wives of United States citizens.

Returning laborers.

Persons admitted as United States citizens under section 1993 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, as amended, but who were admitted in error for the reason that their fathers had not resided in the United States prior to their birth.

(2) A Chinese person in whose case there exists a record of his admission to the United States as a member of one of the following classes, and who establishes that he was, at the time of his admission, a member thereof:

Aliens readmitted between July 1, 1924, and December 16, 1943, inclusive, as returning Chinese laborers who acquired lawful permanent residence prior to July 1, 1924.

Persons admitted between July 1, 1924 and June 6, 1927, inclusive, as United States citizens under section 1993 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, but who were admitted in error for the reason that their fathers had not resided in the United States prior to their birth.

Aliens admitted at any time after June 30, 1924, under subsections (b) or (d) of section 4 of the Immigration Act of 1924.

Alien wives admitted between June 13, 1930, and December 16, 1943, inclusive, and after August 9, 1946, under subsection (a) of section 4 of the Immigration Act of 1924.

Aliens admitted on or after December 17, 1943, under subsection (f) of section 4 of the Immigration Act of 1924.

Aliens admitted on or after December 17, 1943, under section 317 (c) of the Nationality Act of 1940, as amended.

Aliens admitted on or after December 17, 1943, as preference or non-perference quota immigrants pursuant to section 2 of the act of that date.

Aliens admitted between July 1, 1924, and December 23, 1952, both dates inclusive, as the wives or minor sons or daughters of treaty merchants, admitted before July 1, 1924.

(g) Citizens of the Philippine Islands—(1) Who entered United States before May 1, 1934. An alien who establishes that he entered the United States prior to May 1, 1934, and that he was on the date of such entry a citizen of the Philippine Islands: Provided, That, for the purpose of petitioning for naturalization under Title III of the Immigration and Nationality Act, such alien shall not be regarded as having been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence unless he was a citizen of the Commonwealth of the Philippines on July 2, 1946.

(2) Who entered Hawaii between May 1, 1934 and July 3, 1946. An alien who establishes that he entered Hawaii between May 1, 1934 and July 3, 1946, inclusive, under the provisions of the last sentence of section 8 (a) (1) of the act of March 24, 1934, as amended, that he was on the date of such entry a citizen of the Philippine Islands, and that a record of such entry exists.

(3) Travel restrictions. Notwithstanding the provision of this paragraph, an alien of the class described in subparagraph (2), and an alien of the class described in subparagraph (1) who entered the United States at Hawaii prior to May 1, 1934, shall be subject to the travel restriction imposed by the proviso to section 212 (d) (7) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

(h) Aliens temporarily admitted to the United States. Aliens in any of the following-described classes, who on their admission expressed an intention to remain in the United States temporarily or to pass in transit through the United States, of whose admission a record exists, but who remained in the United States:

(1) Aliens admitted prior to June 3, 1921, except aliens admitted temporarily under the 9th proviso to section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1917, aliens admitted as accredited officials of foreign governments, their suites, families, or guests, and seamen admitted in pursuit of their calling.

(2) Aliens admitted under the act of May 19, 1921, as amended, who were admissible for permanent residence under that act notwithstanding the quota limitations thereof.

(3) An accompanying wife or unmarried son or daughter under 21 years of age of an alien admitted under the act of May 19, 1921, as amended, who was admissible for permanent residence under that act notwithstanding the quota limitations thereof.

(4) Aliens admitted under the act of May 19, 1921, as amended, who were charged under that act to the proper quota at time of their admission or subsequently and who remained so charged.

§ 4.3 Applicability of travel restrictions imposed by section 212 (d) (7) of the Immigration and Nationality Act. Nothing in this part shall be construed as exempting any person or class of persons enumerated herein from the application of section 212 (d) (7) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 5.1 Certificates, documents, and records subject to cancellation. The cancellation of certificates, documents, or records referred to in section 342 of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall apply to a certificate of naturalization, certificate of repatriation, certificate of citizenship, certificate of derivative citizenship, certificate of lawful entry or certificate of registry issued prior to December 24, 1952, special certificate of naturalization for recognition by a foreign state, copies of such certificates, documents, or records, exception from the classification of alien enemy, and certifications of the records of the Service made or issued under section 341 (e) or 342 (b) (8) of the Nationality Act of 1940, or section 343 (e) or 344 (b) (6) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 5.11 Report and notice. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, whenever it shall appear that any certificate, document, or record referred to in § 5.1 was illegally or fraudulently obtained from, or was created through illegality or by fraud practiced upon, the issuing officer, a complete report shall be submitted to the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the subject's last known place of residence in the United States. If the district director is satisfied that a prima facie showing has been made that such certificate, document, or record was obtained or granted through illegality or fraud, he shall cause to be served a written notice on the person to whom the certificate or document was issued or in whose behalf the record was furnished at such person's last known address. The notice shall inform such person of intention to cancel the certificate, document, or record, and the grounds upon which it is intended to base such cancellation. The notice shall also inform the person to whom it is addressed that he may submit, within 60 days from the date of service of the notice, an answer in writing under oath, setting forth reasons why such certificate, document, or record should not be cancelled. The notice shall also advise the person to whom it is addressed that he may, within such period and upon his request have an opportunity to appear in person, in support or in lieu of his written answer, before such immigration officer as may be designated for that purpose. The person to whom the notice is addressed shall further be advised therein that he may have the assistance of counsel, without expense to the government of the United States, in the preparation of his answer or in connection with such personal appearance, and shall have opportunity to examine, at the appropriate office of the Service, the evidence upon which it is proposed to base such cancellation.

§ 5.12 Failure to answer; admission of allegations. If the person served with notice under § 5.11 fails to file a written answer within the time allowed therefor, or if the answer admits the allegations in the notice irrespective of whether a personal appearance is requested, the district director shall cancel the certificate, document, or record. No appeal shall lie from such cancellation.

§ 5.13 Answer filed; personal appearance; notice. Upon receipt of an answer asserting a defense to the allegations in a notice served pursuant to § 5.11, the district director shall designate an officer of the Service to consider and, if a request for a personal appearance was made, to interview the party affected. If a personal appearance was requested, such officer shall notify the subject of the time, date and place, to appear for interview and of the subject's right to be represented by counsel or representative at no expense to the Government. At the conclusion of the interview, the subject or his attorney or representative shall be given a reasonable time not to exceed 10 days for the submission of briefs. The officer shall, after consideration of the case if no personal appearance was requested, or after completion of the interview and the consideration of any brief submitted, prepare a report summarizing the evidence and containing his findings and recommendation. The report shall be forwarded to the district director, with the record in the case. If the district director finds that the certificate, document, or record was not obtained through illegality or fraud, he shall order the matter terminated, and the subject shall be so notified. If the district director finds that the certificate, document, or record was obtained or created through illegality or fraud, he shall order that it be cancelled ab initio. Notice of such action and the reasons therefor shall be given to the subject or his attorney or representative, at the last-known address thereof, and the subject shall be informed in such notice that he may within 10 days from the date of receipt of notification appeal to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, in accordance with the provisions of Part 7 of this chapter.

§ 5.14 Action by Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, and by district director. The decision of the Assistant Commissioner in any case appealed to him under § 5.11 shall be transmitted to the district director, who shall advise the subject of the decision and take such action as is required by the decision. Upon the cancellation of any document under this part, the subject shall be requested by the district director, in writing, to surrender the document to the district director. No appeal shall lie from the decision of the Assistant Commissioner.

PART 6—BOARD OF IMMIGRATION APPEALS: APPEALS; REOPENING AND RECONSIDERATION

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.

6.1 Board of Immigration Appeals.
6.2 Reopening or reconsideration.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

6.11 Notice of appeal.
6.12 Withdrawal of appeal.
6.13 Forwarding of record on appeal.
6.14 Stay of execution of decision.
6.15 Notice of certification.
6.16 Fees.
6.21 Motion to reopen or motion to reconsider.

AUTHORITY: §§ 6.1 to 6.21 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 6.1 Board of Immigration Appeals—(a) Organization. There shall be in the office of the Attorney General a Board of Immigration Appeals. It shall be under the supervision and direction of the Attorney General and shall be responsible solely to him. The Board shall consist of a chairman and four other members and shall have attached to it an executive assistant-chief examiner who shall have authority to act as an alternate member. It shall also have attached to it such number of attorneys and other employees as the Attorney General upon recommendation of the Board, shall from time to time direct. In the absence of the chairman, a member designated by him shall act as chairman.

(b) Appellate jurisdiction. Appeals shall lie to the Board of Immigration Appeals from the following:

(1) Decisions of special inquiry officers in exclusion cases, as provided in §§ 236.15 and 236.16 of this chapter;

(2) Decisions of special inquiry officers in deportation cases, as provided in § 242.61 of this chapter;

(3) Decisions of district directors on applications for the advance exercise of the discretionary authority contained in section 212 (c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as provided in § 212.72 of this chapter;

(4) Decisions of district directors involving administrative fines and penalties, including mitigation thereof, as provided in § 280.13 of this chapter;

(5) Decisions of district directors on petitions filed in accordance with section 205 of the Immigration and Nationality Act or decisions revoking the approval of such petitions in accordance with section 206 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as provided in §§ 205.12 and 206.21 respectively, of this chapter;

(6) Decisions of the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, on applications for the advance exercise of the discretionary authority contained in section 212 (d) (3) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as provided in § 212.81 of this chapter.

(c) Jurisdiction by certification. The Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, or the Board may in any case arising under subparagraphs (1) through (6) of paragraph (b) of this section require certification of such case to the Board.

(d) Powers of the Board—(1) Generally. Subject to any specific limitation prescribed by this chapter, in considering and determining cases before it as provided in this part the Board shall exercise such discretion and authority conferred upon the Attorney General bylaw as is appropriate and necessary for the disposition of the case, except that the Board shall have no authority to consider or determine the manner, at whose expense, or to which country an alien shall be deported.

(2) Finality of decision. The decision of the Board shall be final except in those cases reviewed by the Attorney General in accordance with paragraph (h) of this section. The Board may return a case to the Service for such further action as may be appropriate to the case, without entering a final decision on its merits.

(3) Admission to practice. The Board shall have authority, with the approval of the Attorney General, to promulgate rules of practice governing the proceedings before it, and to determine the admission, conduct, and disbarment, of attorneys, representatives, and other persons authorized to practice before the Board or the Service.

(e) Oral argument. Oral argument shall be heard by the Board upon request, in any case over which the Board acquires jurisdiction by appeal or certification as provided in this part. If an appeal has been taken, request for oral argument if desired shall be included in the Notice of Appeal. The Board shall have authority to fix any date or change any date upon which oral argument is to be heard. The Service may be represented in argument before the Board by any officer designated by the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division. The Board shall convene for the purpose of hearing oral argument at its offices in Washington, D. C., at 2:00 p. m. or such other time as it may designate on every day except Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays.

(f) Service of Board decisions. The decision of the Board shall be in writing and copies shall be transmitted by the Board to the Service and a copy served upon the alien or party affected as provided in §§ 292.11 and 292.12 of this chapter.

(g) Board's decisions as precedents. Except as they may be modified or overruled by the Board or the Attorney General, decisions of the Board shall be binding on all officers and employees of the Service in the administration of the Immigration and Nationality Act, and selected decisions designated by the Board shall serve as precedents in all proceedings involving the same issue or issues.

(h) Referral of cases to the Attorney General. (1) The Board shall refer to the Attorney General for review of its decision all cases which:

(i) The Attorney General directs the Board to refer to him.

(ii) The chairman or a majority of the Board believes should be referred to the Attorney General for review.

(iii) The Assistant Commisioner, Inspections and Examinations Division requests be referred to the Attorney General for review.

(2) In any case in which the Attorney General shall review the decision of the Board, his decision shall be stated in writing and shall be transmitted to the Board for transmittal and service as provided in paragraph (f) of this section.

§ 6.2 Reopening or reconsideration. Reconsideration or reopening of any case in which a decision has been made by the Board, whether requested by the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, or by the party affected by the decision, shall be only upon written motion to the Board. A motion to reopen or a motion to reconsider shall not be made by or in behalf of a person who is the subject of deportation proceedings subsequent to his departure from the United States. Any departure of such person from the United States occurring after the making of a motion to reopen or a motion to reconsider shall constitute a withdrawal of such motion. For the purpose of this section, any final decision made by the Commissioner prior to the effective date of the Immigration and Nationality Act and of this chapter with respect to any case within the classes of cases enumerated in paragraphs (1), (2), (3), (4), and (5) of § 6.1 (b) shall be regarded as a decision by the Board.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 6.11 Notice of appeal—(a) Written decision. Whenever an alien or other party affected by a written decision is entitled under this chapter to appeal to the Board, he shall be given written notice that he may appeal from such decision; that such appeal may be taken by filing with the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the case two copies of Notice of Appeal, Form I–290A; and that such appeal must be taken within the number of days provided for in the particular section of this chapter relating to such appeal. The Forms I–290A shall be enclosed with the notice. The party taking the appeal may file with the Notice of Appeal a brief in support of his appeal. The party affected may waive the submission of such brief. The district director, the officer in charge, or the Board, in their discretion, for good cause shown, may extend the time within which the brief may be submitted. One copy of the Notice of Appeal shall be retained in the office where the proceedings are pending and one copy placed in the file relating to the case. The certification of a case as provided in this part shall not relieve the party affected from compliance with the provisions of this section in the event such party is entitled, and desires, to appeal from an initial decision, nor shall it serve to extend the time specified in the applicable parts of this chapter for the taking of an appeal. The departure from the United States of a person who is the subject of deportation proceedings, prior to the taking of an appeal from a decision in his case, shall constitute a waiver by such person of the right to appeal.

(b) Oral decision. Whenever an alien or other party affected by an oral decision is entitled under this chapter to appeal to the Board, such appeal shall be taken as provided in the particular section of this chapter relating to such appeal.

§ 6.12 Withdrawal of appeal. In any case in which an appeal has been taken, the party taking the appeal may file a written withdrawal of such appeal with the officer with whom the notice of appeal was filed. If the record in the case has not been forwarded to the Board on appeal in accordance with § 6.13 the decision made in the case shall be final to the same extent as though no appeal had been taken. If the record has been forwarded on appeal, the withdrawal of the appeal shall be forwarded to the Board and, if no decision in the case has been made on the appeal, the record shall be returned to the officer in charge and the initial decision shall be final to the same extent as though no appeal had been taken. If a decision on the appeal was made by the Board in the case, further action shall be taken in accordance therewith. Departure from the United States of a person who is the subject of deportation proceedings subsequent to the taking of an appeal but prior to a decision thereon shall constitute a withdrawal of the appeal and the initial decision in the case shall be final to the same extent as though no appeal had been taken.

§ 6.13 Forwarding of record on appeal. If an appeal is taken from a decision, either written or oral, as provided in this chapter, the entire record of the proceeding shall be forwarded to the Board by the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the case:

(a) Upon receipt of the Notice of Appeal and brief in support thereof if the decision appealed from was in writing; or

(b) Upon receipt of the brief in support of an appeal taken orally if the decision appealed from was oral; or

(c) Upon expiration of the time allowed for the submission of the brief; or

(d) Upon receipt of a written waiver of the right to submit a brief.

§ 6.14 Stay of execution of decision. The decision in any proceeding under this chapter from which an appeal to the Board may be taken shall not be executed during the time allowed for the filing of an appeal unless a waiver of the right to appeal is filed, nor shall such decision be executed while an appeal is pending or while a case is before the Board by way of certification.

§ 6.15 Notice of certification. Whenever in accordance with the provisions of § 6.1 (c) a case is required to be certified to the Board, the alien or other party affected shall be given notice of certification. A case shall not be certified until an initial decision has been made and no appeal has been taken. If it is known at the time of making the initial decision that the case will be certified, the notice of certification shall be included in such decision and no further notice of certification shall be required. If it is not known until after the initial decision was made that the case will be certified, the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the case shall cause a Notice of Certification (Form I–290C) to be served upon the party affected. In either case the notice shall inform the party affected that the case is required to be certified to the Board and of the right to make representation before the Board, including oral argument and submission of brief, if desired. The brief shall be submitted to such district director or officer in charge for transmittal to the Board within 10 days from receipt of the notice of certification, unless for good cause shown the district director, officer in charge or the Board extends the time within which the brief may be submitted. The party affected may waive the submission of such brief. The case shall be certified and forwarded to the Board by the district director or officer in charge upon receipt of the brief, or the expiration of the time within which the brief may be submitted, or upon receipt of a written waiver of the right to submit a brief.

§ 6.16 Fees. A notice of appeal or a motion filed under this part by any person other than an officer of the Service shall be accompanied by the fee specified in Part 2 of this chapter which fee shall be remitted in accordance with the provisions of Part 2. The Board may, in its discretion, authorize the prosecution of any such appeal or motion, without prepayment of fees by an alien or other party affected who makes affidavit that he is unable to pay such fees. Such affidavit shall state the nature of the motion or appeal, and the affiant's belief that he is entitled to redress. An appeal may not be taken in forma pauperis, nor may a motion be filed in forma pauperis if the officer of the Service from whose decision the appeal is taken or with respect to whose decision the motion is addressed certifies in writing that the appeal or motion is not taken or made in good faith.

§ 6.21 Motion to reopen or motion to reconsider—(a) Form. Motions to reopen and motions to reconsider shall be submitted in triplicate. A request for oral argument if desired shall be incorporated in the motion. The Board in its discretion may grant or deny oral argument. Motions to reopen shall state the new facts to be proved at the reopened hearing and shall be supported by affidavits or other evidentiary material. Motions to reconsider shall state the reasons for reconsideration and shall be supported by such precedent decisions as are pertinent. The filing of a motion to reopen or a motion to reconsider shall not serve to stay the execution of any decision made in the case. Execution of such decision shall proceed unless a stay of execution is specifically granted by the Board, the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the case.

(b) Distribution of motion papers when alien is moving party. In any case in which a motion to reopen or a motion to reconsider is made by the alien or other party affected, the three copies of the motion papers shall be submitted to the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the place where the proceedings were conducted, who shall retain one copy, forward one copy to the officer of the Service who made the initial decision in the case, and submit the third copy with the case to the Board.

(c) Distribution of motion papers when Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, is the moving party. (1) Whenever a motion to reopen or a motion to reconsider is made by the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, two copies of the motion shall be forwarded to the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the place where the proceedings were conducted. The district director shall cause one copy to be served on the alien or other party affected. Such alien or party shall have a period of 10 days from the date of the service upon him of the motion within which to submit in triplicate to the district director or officer in charge a brief in opposition to the motion. The submission of such brief may be waived. The district director, officer in charge, or the Board, in their discretion, for good cause shown may extend the time within which such brief may be submitted. Such district director or officer in charge shall transmit to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, proof of service of the motion and two copies of any brief submitted in opposition to such motion and the record of the proceeding:

(i) Upon receipt of the brief in opposition to the motion; or

(ii) Upon expiration of the time allowed for the submission of such brief; or

(iii) Upon receipt of a written waiver of the right to submit such brief.

(2) Upon receipt of the foregoing, the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, shall transmit to, and file with, the Board the motion, proof of service of the motion, brief, and the record in the case.

(d) Ruling on motion. Rulings upon motions to reopen or motions to reconsider shall be by written order. If the order directs a reopening, the record shall be returned to the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the place where the reopened proceedings are to be conducted. If the motion to reconsider is granted, the decision upon such reconsideration shall affirm, modify, or reverse the original decision made in the case.

PART 7—ASSISTANT COMMISSIONER, INSPECTIONS AND EXAMINATIONS DIVISION: APPEALS

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

AUTHORITY: §§ 7.1 to 7.16 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply sec. 332, 66 Stat. 252.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 7.1 Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division—(a) Appellate jurisdiction. Appeal shall lie to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, from the following:

(1) Decisions of district directors determining that a condition of a bond has been violated, as provided in § 3.1 (c) of this chapter;

(2) Decisions of district directors on petitions filed in accordance with section 204 or 214 (c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act or from decisions revoking the approval of such petitions in accordance with section 206 of that Act, as provided in §§ 204.11, 214h.41 and 206.21 of this chapter;

(3) Decisions of district directors on applications for consent to reapply for admission to the United States under section 212 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as provided in § 212.61 of this chapter;

(4) Decisions of district directors on applications for permission for aliens to enter the United States notwithstanding section 212 (a) (14) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as provided in § 212a.12 of this chapter;

(5) Decisions of district directors on applications for the approval of schools or from decisions of district directors revoking the approval of schools, in accordance with section 101 (a) (15) (F) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as provided in §§ 214f.51 and 214f.71 of this chapter;

(6) Decisions of district directors on applications for reentry permits under section 223 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as provided in § 223.11 of this chapter;

(7) Decisions of district directors on applications for adjustment of status under section 245 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as provided in § 245.17 of this chapter;

(8) Decisions of district directors rescinding adjustment of status under section 246 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as provided in § 246.13 of this chapter;

(9) Decisions of district directors adjusting status under section 247 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as provided in § 247.13 of this chapter;

(10) Decisions of district directors on applications to change status under section 248 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as provided in § 248.16 of this chapter;

(11) Decisions of district directors on applications for the creation of a record of admission under section 249 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as provided in § 249.16 of this chapter;

(12) Decisions of district directors on applications filed under §§ 316a.21 and 317.21 of this chapter for residence or physical presence benefits for naturalization purposes;

(13) Decisions of district directors on applications for exception from the classification of alien enemy as provided in § 331.13 of this chapter;

(14) Decisions of district directors on applications for certificates of citizenship under section 341 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as provided in § 341.16 of this chapter;

(15) Decisions of district directors revoking certificates, documents or records under section 342 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as provided in § 5.13 of this chapter;

(16) Decisions of district directors on applications for certificates of naturalization or repatriation under § 343.13 of this chapter;

(17) Decisions of district directors on applications for replacement of certificates of naturalization or citizenship under § 343a.14 of this chapter;

(18) Decisions of district directors on applications for special certificates of naturalization under section 343 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as provided in § 343b.13 of this chapter;

(19) Decisions of the district director, Honolulu, on applications for Certificate of Citizenship, Hawaiian Islands, under § 341a.14 of this chapter.

(b) Jurisdiction by certification. The Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, may direct that any case or class of cases be certified to him. If the case is one of a class enumerated in § 6.1 (b) of this chapter, the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division may certify the case to the Board in accordance with § 6.1 (c) of this chapter. In any other case, he may enter such decision as he deems appropriate, and further action shall be taken in accordance with such decision.

(c) Powers of the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division. In considering and determining cases appealed or certified to him and in which he has jurisdiction to enter a decision, the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, shall exercise such discretion and authority conferred upon the Attorney General by the Immigration and Nationality Act as is appropriate and necessary for the disposition of the case.

(d) Decision of Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division. The decision of the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, shall be in writing. The alien or other party affected by the decision shall be informed of the decision made in the case.

§ 7.2 Reopening or reconsideration. Motions to reopen and motions to reconsider made in any proceeding over which the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, obtains jurisdiction shall be governed by the provisions of Part 8 of this chapter.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 7.11 Notice of appeal. Whenever an alien or other party affected by a written decision is entitled under this chapter to appeal to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, he shall be given written notice that he may appeal from such decision; that such appeal may be taken by filing with the district director or with the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the case, three copies of Notice of Appeal, Form I–290B; and that such appeal must be taken within the number of days provided for in the particular section of this chapter relating to such appeal. The forms I–290B shall be enclosed with the written notice to the alien. The party taking the appeal may file with the Notice of Appeal a brief in support of his appeal. The party affected may waive the submission of such brief. The district director, officer in charge or the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, in his discretion, if good cause shown, may extend the time within which the brief may be submitted. One copy of the Notice of Appeal shall be retained in the office where the proceedings are pending and two copies shall be placed in the file relating to the case. The certification of a case as provided in this part shall not relieve the party affected from compliance with the provisions of this section in the event such party is entitled, and desires, to appeal from an initial decision, nor shall it serve to extend the time specified in the applicable parts of this chapter for the taking of an appeal.

§ 7.12 Withdrawal of appeal. In any case in which an appeal has been taken, the party taking the appeal may file a written withdrawal of such appeal with the officer with whom the Notice of Appeal was filed. If the record in the case has not been forwarded to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, on appeal in accordance with § 7.13, the decision made in the case shall be final to the same extent as though no appeal had been taken. If the record in the case has been forwarded on appeal, the withdrawal of the appeal shall be forwarded to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, and if no decision in the case has been made on the appeal, the record shall be returned to the office in which the proceedings are pending and the decision in the case shall be final to the same extent as though no appeal had been taken. If a decision on the appeal was made in the case, further action shall be taken in accordance therewith.

§ 7.13 Forwarding of record on appeal. If an appeal is taken from a decision, either written or oral, as provided in this chapter, the entire record of the proceedings shall be forwarded by the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the case to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division:

(a) Upon receipt of the Notice of Appeal and brief in support thereof if the decision appealed from was in writing; or

(b) Upon receipt of the brief in support of an appeal taken orally if the decision appealed from was oral; or

(c) Upon expiration of the time allowed for the submission of the brief; or

(d) Upon receipt of a written waiver of the right to submit a brief.

§ 7.14 Stay of execution of decision. The decision of any proceeding under this chapter from which an appeal to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, may be taken shall not be executed during the time allowed for the filing of an appeal unless a waiver of the right to appeal is filed, nor shall such decision be executed while an appeal is pending or while a case is before the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, by way of certification.

§ 7.15 Notice of certification. When the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, in accordance with the provisions of § 7.1 (b) directs that a case (other than one falling within the classes enumerated in § 6.1 (b) of this chapter) be certified to him for review, the alien or other party affected shall be given notice of such certification. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, a case shall not be certified until an initial decision has been made and no appeal has been taken. If it is known at the time of making the initial decision that the case will be certified, the notice of certification shall be included in such decision and no further notice of certification shall be required. If it is not known until after the initial decision was made that the case will be certified, the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the case shall cause a notice of certification (Form I–290D) to be served upon the party affected. In either case the notice shall inform the party affected that the case is required to be certified to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, and of the right to submit a brief, if desired, for consideration by the Assistant Commissioner. The brief shall be submitted to such district director or officer in charge for transmittal to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, within ten days from receipt of the notice of certification, unless, for good cause shown, the district director, officer in charge, or the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, extends the time within which the brief may be submitted. The party affected may waive the submission of such brief. The record of the case shall be certified and forwarded to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, by the district director or the officer in charge upon receipt of the brief, or the expiration of the time within which the brief may be submitted, or upon receipt of a written waiver of the right to submit a brief.

§ 7.16 Fees. A notice of appeal filed under this part shall be accompanied by a fee of $10 as prescribed by, and remitted in accordance with, the provisions of Part 2 of this chapter. The Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, in his discretion, may authorize the prosecution of any such appeal without prepayment of fees by an alien or other party affected who makes affidavit that he is unable to pay such fees. Such affidavit shall state the nature of the appeal and the affiant's belief that he is entitled to redress. An appeal may not be taken in forma pauperis if the officer from whose decision the appeal is taken certifies in writing that the appeal is not taken in good faith.

PART 8—REOPENING AND RECONSIDERATION

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
8.1 Reopening and reconsideration.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

8.11 Motion to reopen or reconsider.

AUTHORITY: §§ 8.1 and 8.11 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 8.1 Reopening and reconsideration. Except as provided in § 6.2 of this chapter, a hearing or examination in any proceeding provided for in this chapter may be reopened or the decision made therein reconsidered for proper cause at the instance of, or upon motion made by the party affected and granted by:

(a) The Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, if the decision in the case was made by him, or if the case is before him for review; or

(b) The district director, if the decision in the case was made by such officer, unless the record in the case previously was forwarded to the Board or to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division; or

(c) The special inquiry officer, if the decision in the case was made by him, unless the record in the case previously was forwarded to the Board or to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division.

A motion to reopen or a motion to reconsider shall not be made by or in behalf of a person who is the subject of deportation proceedings subsequent to his departure from the United States. Any departure of such person from the United States occurring after the making by him of a motion to reopen or a motion to reconsider shall constitute a withdrawal of such motion.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 8.11 Motion to reopen or reconsider—(a) Filing. A motion to reopen or a motion to reconsider shall be filed in triplicate with the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the place where the proceedings were conducted, for transmittal to the officer having jurisdiction to act on the motion as provided in § 8.1. Motions to reopen shall state the new facts to be proved at the reopened hearing and shall be supported by affidavits or other evidentiary material. Motions to reconsider shall state the reasons for reconsideration and shall be supported by such precedent decisions as are pertinent. Motions not complying fully with this section shall not be accepted and shall be returned to the moving party with a brief statement of the reason for its return. The filing of a motion to reopen or a motion to reconsider under this part shall not serve to stay the execution of any decision made in the case. Execution of such decision shall proceed unless a stay is specifically granted by the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the case.

(b) Ruling on motion. Rulings upon motions to reopen or motions to reconsider shall be by written decision. If the decision directs a reopening, the record shall be returned to the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the place where the reopened proceedings are to be conducted. If the motion to reconsider is granted, the original decision shall be reconsidered at the time of, and by the officer, granting such motion. The decision upon such reconsideration shall affirm, modify, or reverse the original decision made in the case.

(c) Notice of reopened hearing or examination. In any case in which a hearing or examination is reopened as provided in Part 6 or this part, a notice of hearing or examination shall be served on the party affected in the same manner and form as the notice required for the original hearing or examination.

(d) Reopened hearing or examination. The reopened hearing or examination shall be conducted and further action taken in the proceedings as provided in this chapter for the conduct of the original hearing or examination.

(e) Appeal. The decision upon a motion to reopen or a motion to reconsider shall be final subject to the limitations imposed by paragraph (c) of § 242.61 of this chapter.

(f) Fees. A motion filed under this part shall be accompanied by a fee of $5 as prescribed by, and remitted in accordance with, the provisions of Part 2 of this chapter. The district director having administrative jurisdiction over the office in which the motion is filed may, in his discretion, authorize the prosecution of any such motion, without prepayment of fees by an alien or other party affected who makes affidavit that he is unable to pay such fees. Such affidavit shall state the nature of the motion and the affiant's belief that he is entitled to redress. A motion may not be filed in forma pauperis if the officer of the Service with respect to whose decision the motion is addressed certifies that the motion is not made in good faith.

PART 9—AUTHORITY OF COMMISSIONER AND ASSISTANT COMMISSIONERS

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
9.1 Authority of Commissioner.
9.2 Authority of Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division.
9.3 Authority of Assistant Commissioner, Investigations Division.
9.4 Authority of Assistant Commissioner, Border Patrol, Detention and Deportation Division.
9.5 Reservation of authority.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

335 (i) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Part 334 of this chapter.

(z) Consent to the withdrawal of petitions for naturalization or dismissal for want of prosecution under section 335 (e) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Part 334 of this chapter.

(aa) Designation of employees of the Service to conduct preliminary examinations upon petitions for naturalization under section 335 (b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Part 335 of this chapter.

(bb) Assignment of examining officers at preliminary examinations upon petitions for naturalization under Part 335 of this chapter.

(cc) Waivers of personal investigation of petitioners for naturalization under section 335 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Part 335c of this chapter.

(dd) Applications for corrections of certificates of naturalization under Part 338 of this chapter.

(ee) Applications for certificates of citizenship under section 341 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Parts 341 and 341a of this chapter.

(ff) Applications for certificates of naturalization and repatriation under section 343 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Part 343 of this chapter.

(gg) Applications for naturalization and citizenship papers replaced under section 343 (b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Part 343a of this chapter.

(hh) Applications for special certificates of naturalization under section 343 (c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Part 343b of this chapter.

(ii) Admission of immigrants pursuant to the provisions of sections 211 (c) and (d) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

§ 9.3 Authority of Assistant Commissioner, Investigations Division. The powers, privileges, and duties conferred or imposed upon officers or employees of the Service under this chapter with respect to the following-described matters are hereby conferred upon the Assistant Commissioner, Investigations Division:

(a) Issuance of warrants of arrest, and cancellation of warrants of arrest prior to commencement of hearings thereunder as provided in section 242 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Part 242 of this chapter.

(b) Voluntary departure of aliens prior to issuance of warrant of arrest, or after issuance of warrant of arrest and prior to hearing, as provided in sections 242 (b) and 244 (e) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Parts 242 and 244 of this chapter.

§ 9.4 Authority of Assistant Commissioner, Border Patrol, Detention and Deportation Division. The powers, privileges, and duties conferred or imposed upon officers or employees of the Service under this chapter with respect to the following-described matters are hereby conferred or imposed upon the Assistant Commissioner, Border Patrol, Detention and Deportation Division:

(a) Detention and designation of the place of detention of aliens as provided by sections 232 and 233 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Parts 232 and 233 of this chapter.

(b) Determinations as to whether an attendant is required for the care and attention of aliens as provided in section 235 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Part 235 of this chapter.

(c) Determinations as to whether an admitted alien may remain at an immigration station as provided in section 235 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Part 235 of this chapter.

(d) Stay of deportation of excluded aliens as provided in section 237 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Part 237 of this chapter.

(e) Continuation of detention of aliens or release of aliens from custody as provided in section 242 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Part 242 of this chapter.

(f) Detention, conditions of release, and revocation of bond or parole, of aliens as provided in section 242 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Part 242 of this chapter.

(g) Voluntary departure of aliens prior to issuance of warrant of arrest, or after issuance of warrant of arrest and prior to hearing, as provided in sections 242 (b) and 244 (e) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Parts 242 and 244 of this chapter.

(h) Designation of the countries to which and at whose expense aliens shall be deported and determination as to whether an attendant is required as provided in section 243 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Part 243 of this chapter.

(i) Stay of execution of warrants and orders of deportation as provided in section 243 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Part 243 of this chapter.

(j) Removal from the United States of aliens who have fallen into distress as provided in section 250 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Part 250 of this chapter.

(l) Determinations as to whether escorts shall accompany aliens in transit through the United States as provided in section 214 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Part 214c of this chapter.

§ 9.5 Reservation of authority. The powers, privileges, and duties conferred upon the Assistant Commissioner, Border Patrol, Detention and Deportation Division, the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, and the Assistant Commissioner, Investigations Division, by this part shall be in addition to, and not in substitution for, the powers, privileges, and duties conferred or imposed upon any other officer or employee by any other provision of this chapter.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

PART 10—APPLICATIONS AND PETITIONS

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
10.1 Applications and petitions under Subchapter B of this chapter.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 10.1 Applications and petitions under Subchapter B of this chapter—(a) General requirements. An application or petition provided for in Subchapter B shall be completed, and submitted to the Service with any required fee, photographs, and supporting evidence, in accordance with the instructions contained in the form prescribed for such application or petition.

(b) Improper or incomplete execution. Applications or petitions provided for by any section of Subchapter B shall not be accepted and shall be returned to the applicant together with any attached documents if improperly or incompletely executed or if required documents are not attached.

(c) Separate application or petition. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, a separate application or petition shall be filed for each applicant or beneficiary, and shall be accompanied by a separate fee.

(d) Applicant under 14 years of age. A person or guardian may file an application or a petition on behalf of a son, daughter, or ward under 14 years of age.

(e) Oaths. Any oath required in the execution of an application or a petition may be administered in the United States by an immigration officer or by any other person authorized generally to administer oaths.

(f) Modification of application or petition. Any allegations made in addition to, or in substitution for, any of those contained in the original application or petition shall be made under oath and filed in the same manner as the original application or petition or noted on the original application or petition and acknowledged under oath thereon.

(g) Photographs. Every person required to furnish photographs of himself shall submit two identical photographs which shall be 2 x 2 inches in size, unmounted, printed on a thin paper, have a light background, clearly show a full front view of the features (with head bare, unless the person is wearing a headdress as required by a religious order of which he is a member), with the distance from the top of the head to point of chin approximately 1¼ inches, and which shall have been taken within 30 days of the date they are furnished. Except in the case of a person incapable of signing his name, the person shall sign each copy of the photograph with his full true name in such manner as not to obscure the features. The photographs shall be signed when submitted with an application or petition if the instructions accompanying the application or petition so require. If the instructions do not so require, the photographs shall be submitted without being signed and shall be signed during the consideration of the application or petition.

Snapshot, group or full-length portraits shall not be accepted.

(h) Date of receipt. Applications or petitions which are delivered in person or by mail to offices of the Service authorized to receive them, shall be stamped to show the time and date of their actual receipt. Unless returned as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, they shall be regarded as accepted as of the date of receipt.

(i) Translations of supporting documentary evidence. All documents in a foreign language which are submitted as supporting evidence shall be accompanied by certified English translations thereof.

(Sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173)

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

Subchapter B—Immigration Regulations

NOTE: Explanation of numbering system utilized in this subchapter. Each part of this subchapter has been given the same number as the section of the Immigration and Nationality Act to which it relates. For example, Part 242 concerns only section 242 of the Immigration and Nationality Act. Each part of this subchapter is divided into two subparts: Subpart A—Substantive Provisions and Subpart B—Procedural and Other Nonsubstantive Provisions. Each section of Subpart A bears a number consisting of the part number followed by a decimal point and by a single digit beginning with "1" and continuing to "9", using as many as required. For example, § 242.1 is the first substantive section of Part 242 and § 242.9 is the ninth substantive section of Part 242, assuming there existed nine substantive sections in Part 242. When a substantive section is required to be implemented by one or more procedural sections, the relating procedural section or sections bear the same number as the substantive section to which it relates plus one additional digit to the right of the decimal point beginning with "1" for the first procedural section and continuing to "9", if that many are required. For example, § 242.11 is the first procedural section implementing the first substantive section of Part 242 and § 242.87 is the seventh procedural section implementing the eighth substantive section of Part 242. If a substantive section does not require procedural sections, no procedural section numbers will appear for that particular substantive section.

PART 204—PETITION FOR IMMIGRANT STATUS AS A MINISTER OR AS A PERSON WHOSE SERVICES ARE NEEDED URGENTLY

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
204.1 Definition.
204.2 Petition.
204.3 Petitions; date of filing.
204.4 Petitions; additional requirements.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

204.11 Disposition of petition.
204.12 Period of validity of approval of petitions for visas under section 203 (a) (1) (A) of the Immigration and Nationality Act; extension.

AUTHORITY: §§ 204.1 to 204.12 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 101, 203, 204, 66 Stat. 166, 178, 179.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 204.1 Definition. As used in section 101 (a) (27) (F) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and this part, the term "minister of a religious denomination" means a person duly authorized by a recognized religious sect or denomination to conduct religious worship, and to perform other duties usually performed by a regularly ordained pastor or clergymen. Lay preachers not authorized to perform the duties usually performed by a regularly ordained pastor or clergymen, and cantors, or nuns, do not come within this definition.

§ 204.2 Petition. The petition required by section 204 (b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be filed in duplicate by the person, institution, firm, organization, or governmental agency for whom the work, labor or services are to be performed (a) on Form I–129A for nonquota classification under section 101 (a) (27) (F) (i) of the Immigration and Nationality Act as a minister of a religious denomination and (b) on Form I–129 for quota classification under section 203 (a) (1) (A) of the Immigration and Nationality Act as an alien whose services are needed urgently in the United States.

§ 204.3 Petitions; date of filing. A petition which has been accepted as provided in § 10.1 (h) of this chapter shall be deemed to have been filed within the meaning of sections 203 and 204 of the Immigration and Nationality Act on the date and time of its receipt as shown thereon in accordance with § 10.1 (h) of this chapter.

§ 204.4 Petitions; additional requirements—(a) For petitioners filing Form I–129. A petitioner filing a petition on Form I–129 shall comply with the following additional requirements:

(1) The petitioner shall attach to the petition a clearance order bearing a statement from the United States Employment Service that qualified persons are not available within the United States to perform the work, labor, or services which are to be performed by the beneficiary. In connection with a petition for a beneficiary who is to perform work, labor, or services in Guam, a clearance order issued by the Employment Service of the Territory of Guam shall be accepted in lieu of that issued by the United States Employment Service.

(2) The petitioner shall attach to the petition, as a part thereof, a statement setting forth a full, complete, and detailed analysis establishing in what manner the services of the beneficiary will be substantially beneficial prospectively to the national economy, cultural interests or welfare of the United States.

(3) The petitioner shall attach to the petition, as a part thereof, a full, complete, and detailed description of the high education, technical training, specialized experience, or exceptional ability of the beneficiary on the basis of which the beneficiary's services are alleged to be urgently required in the United States. Allegations of high education or technical training shall be supported by original, certified, or photographic copies of diplomas, school certificates, or equivalent documents or affidavits attesting to such education or technical training executed by the person in charge of the records of the educational or other institution, firm, or establishment wherein such education or training was acquired, improved, or perfected. Allegations of specialized experience or exceptional ability shall be supported by affidavits attesting to and describing the degree and extent of special experience or ability, executed by the appropriate officer of the firms, organizations, establishments, or other institutions wherein the beneficiary acquired, improved, or perfected such experience or ability.

(b) Additional statements in support of petitions filed on Form I–129. A petitioner filing a petition on Form I–129 may submit in support thereof a written statement or statements from an organization, society, or institution active in the field of the work, labor, or services in which the beneficiary is to be employed or engaged, showing the need for the work, labor, or services, and the qualifications of the beneficiary. The petitioner also may submit a statement of the efforts made by him or on his behalf to secure persons in the United States to perform the work, labor, or services to be performed by the beneficiary.

(c) For petitioners filing Form I–129A. A petitioner filing a petition on Form I–129A shall attach to the petition, as a part thereof, a statement, preferably on official stationery, regarding ordination of the beneficiary or other authorization to act as minister, showing the name of each religious denomination or sect with which the beneficiary has been affiliated, the periods of service, and the addresses, for whom, when and where the service as a minister was performed by the beneficiary during the two years immediately preceding the date of the petition. The statement shall be signed by the appropriate official having knowledge of the prospective immigrant's religious service during such two year period, and shall state the source of the official's knowledge of such service.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 204.11 Disposition of petition—(a) Action by district director or officer in charge. The district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the office receiving a petition properly executed and adequately supported by documentary evidence shall cause such investigation to be conducted as he deems necessary to the proper disposition of the petition. If it appears to the district director or the officer in charge receiving the petition that the beneficiary would be inadmissible to the United States even if the petition were approved, the petitioner shall be advised of this possibility and given an opportunity to withdraw his petition should he so desire. If the petition is withdrawn, no further action thereon shall be taken and the fee shall be retained as though final action had been taken on the petition. If the petitioner does not withdraw the petition, further action thereon shall be taken in accordance with the provisions of this part. If the investigation is made by an office of the Service other than a district office, the petition and all accompanying papers shall, upon completion of such investigation, be forwarded to the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the office that made the investigation with a report and transcript of the investigation and the recommendation of the officer in charge.

(b) Action by district director. The determination as to whether a petition filed under this part shall be approved shall be limited to a consideration as to whether the eligibility of the beneficiary to the classification requested has been established. If the district director, receiving a petition either directly from the petitioner or from the officer in charge, is satisfied after consultation with appropriate agencies of the government, if any, that the beneficiary is eligible for the classification requested, he shall approve the petition and note his decision thereon accordingly. If the district director is not satisfied that the petition should be approved, he shall disapprove the petition and note his decision thereon accordingly. The petitioner shall be notified of the decision and, if the petition is disapproved, of the reasons therefor, and of his right to appeal to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, within ten days from the receipt of such notification.

§ 204.12 Period of validity of approval of petitions for visas under section 203 (a) (1) (A) of the Immigration and Nationality Act; extension. The approval of a petition for the issuance of a visa to an alien under section 203 (a) (1) (A) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be valid for the period designated in such approval, not to exceed one year from the date on which the petition was approved, and for such additional period for which it may be extended by a district director.

Part 205—Petition for Immigrant Status as Relative of United States Citizen or Lawful Resident Alien

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
205.1 Petition; form.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

205.11 Petition.
205.12 Disposition of petition.

AUTHORITY: §§ 205.1 to 205.12 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply sec. 205, 66 Stat. 180.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 205.1 Petition; form. A petition by a United States citizen under section 205 (b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be filed on Form I–133. A petition by an alien under section 205 (b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be filed on Form I–133A.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 205.11 Petition—(a) Where filed. If the petitioner is in the United States at the time of the filing of a petition under this part, the petition shall be filed with the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the petitioner's place of residence in the United States. If the petitioner is not in the United States, the petition shall be executed before a consular officer in accordance with the provisions of this part and the applicable consular regulations, and the petitioner shall transmit the completed petition directly to the Commissioner. If such petitioner has a place of residence in the United States, the Commissioner shall transmit the completed petition and all accompanying documents to the district director having administrative jurisdiction over such place of residence. If such petitioner does not have a place of residence in the United States, the Commissioner shall transmit the completed petition with all accompanying documents to the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the place in the United States wherein the beneficiary intends to reside, as shown in the petition.

(b) Documents in support of petition. The petition shall be supported by documentary evidence establishing the qualifications and eligibility of the beneficiary for the classification requested and shall include the information required by the Form I–133, if the petitioner is a citizen of the United States, or the information required by the Form I–133A, if the petitioner is a lawful resident alien.

§ 205.12 Disposition of petition—(a) Action by district director or officer in charge. The district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the office receiving a petition properly executed and adequately supported by documentary evidence shall cause such investigation to be conducted as he deems necessary to the proper disposition of the petition. If it appears to the district director or the officer in charge receiving the petition that the beneficiary would be inadmissible to the United States even if the petition were approved, the petitioner shall be advised of this possibility and given an opportunity to withdraw his petition should he so desire. If the petition is withdrawn, no further action thereon shall be taken and the fee shall be retained and processed as though final action had been taken on the petition. If the petitioner does not withdraw the petition, further action thereon shall be taken in accordance with the provisions of this part. If the investigation is made by an office of the Service other than a district office, the petition and all accompanying papers shall upon completion of such investigation be forwarded to the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the office that made the investigation with a report and transcript of the investigation and the recommendation of the officer in charge.

(b) Action by district director. The determination as to whether a petition filed under this part shall be approved shall be limited to a consideration as to whether the eligiblity of the beneficiary to the classification requested has been established. If the district director receiving a petition either directly from the petitioner or from the Commissioner or an officer in charge, is satisfied that the beneficiary is eligible for the classification requested, he shall approve the petition and note his decision thereon accordingly. If the district director is not satisfied that the petition should be approved, he shall disapprove the petition and note his decision thereon accordingly. The petitioner shall be notified of the decision and if the petition is disapproved, of the reasons therefor, and of his right to appeal to the Board of Immigration Appeals, within 10 days from the receipt of notification.

Part 206—Revocation of Approval of Petitions

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
206.1 Automatic revocation.
206.2 Revocation on notice.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

206.11 Notice of revocation.
206.21 Revocation on notice; procedure.
206.22 Notice of revocation.

AUTHORITY: §§ 206.1 to 206.22 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 204, 205, 214, 66 Stat. 179, 180, 189.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 206.1 Automatic revocation. The approval of a petition made under section 204, 205 or 214 (c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and in accordance with Part 204, 205, or 214h of this chapter is revoked as of the date of approval in any of the following circumstances:

(a) As to a petition approved ur section 204 or 214 (c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act:

(1) The beneficiary is an alien seeking classification as a nonquota immigrant under section 101 (a) (27) (F) (i) of the Immigration and Nationality Act or as a nonimmigrant under section 101 (a) (15) (H) of that act and is not issued a visa under the classification approved within one year of the date on which the petition was approved.

(2) The petitioner dies, goes out of business, or files a written withdrawal of the petition before the beneficiary arrives in the United States to apply for admission under the classification approved.

(b) As to a petition approved under section 205 of the Immigration and Nationality Act:

(1) The beneficiary does not within one year after the date of the approval of the petition file a formal application for an immigrant visa or arrange with the consular officer to have his name placed on a registration or waiting list for such visa.

(2) The petitioner loses his United States citizenship or his status as an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence, whichever was applicable to the approval of the petition, or dies, before the beneficiary arrives in the United States to apply for admission under the classification aproved.

(3) As to a spouse beneficiary, the marriage of the petitioner to the beneficiary terminates by death, divorce or annulment before the beneficiary arrives in the United States to apply for admission under the classification approved.

(4) As to a child beneficiary:

(i) The beneficiary is married before he arrives in the United States to apply for admission under the classification approved.

(ii) The beneficiary reaches the 21st anniversary of his birth before he arrives in the United States to apply for admission under the classification approved.

§ 206.2 Revocation on notice. The approval of a petition made under section 204, 205, or 214 (c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and in accordance with Part 204, 205, or 214h of this chapter may be revoked on any ground other than those specified in § 206.1 by any officer authorized to approve such petition when the propriety of such revocation is brought to the attention of the Service, including request for revocation or reconsideration made by consular officers.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 206.11 Notice of revocation. In any case in which it shall appear to a district director that the approval of a petition has been automatically revoked under and by virtue of § 206.1, such district director shall cause a notice of such revocation to be sent promptly to the Visa Office of the Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs, Department of State, and a copy of such notice to be mailed to the petitioner's last known address.

§ 206.21 Revocation on notice; procedure. Revocation of approval of a petition under § 206.2 shall be made only upon notice to the petitioner who shall be given an opportunity to offer evidence in support of the petition and in opposition to the grounds alleged for revocation of the approval. If upon reconsideration, the approval previously granted is revoked, the petitioner shall be informed of the decision with the reasons therefor and shall have ten days from the receipt of notification of the decision within which to appeal to the Board as provided in Part 6 of this chapter if the petition initially was approved for classification under section 205 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, or to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, as provided in Part 7 of this chapter if the petition initially was approved for classification under section 204 or 214 (c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

§ 206.22 Notice of revocation. In any case in which approval of a petition is revoked under §§ 206.2 and 206.21, the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the office in which the proceeding is pending shall cause notice of such revocation to be sent promptly to the Visa Office of the Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs, Department of State.

Part 211—Documentary Requirements: Immigrants; Waivers

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
211.1 Documentary requirements for immigrants.
211.2 Immigrants not required to present visas or passports.
211.3 Immigrants not required to present visas.
211.4 Immigrants not required to present passports.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

211.11 Resident Alien's Border Crossing Identification Card.

AUTHORITY: §§ 211.1 to 211.11 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 211, 212, 222, 235, 66 Stat. 181, 183, 193, 198.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 211.1 Documentary requirements for immigrants. Except as otherwise provided in the Immigration and Nationality Act and this chapter, an immigrant (including an alien crewman) applying for admission to the United States must present a valid unexpired immigrant visa and a valid unexpired passport.

§ 211.2 Immigrants not required to present visas or passports. Immigrants of the following-described classes applying for admission to the United States need not present visas or passports:

(a) An alien immigrant child who is born subsequent to the issuance of an immigrant visa to an accompanying parent and who arrives in the United States to apply for admission during the period of validity of such visa.

(b) An alien immigrant child born during the temporary visit abroad of a mother who is a lawful permanent resident alien, or a national, of the United States: Provided, (1) That the child is accompanying a parent who is admissible into the United States and who is entering the United States for permanent residence upon the first return of the parent to the United States after the child's birth, and (2) that application for admission to the United States is made within a period of two years from the child's birth.

(c) Aliens (including alien crewmen) of the following-described classes who have been lawfully admitted for permanent residence, who are otherwise admissible, and who are returning after a temporary absence:

(1) An alien who is returning to the United States after a temporary absence of not more than six months in Canada or Mexico only, and who presents a valid unexpired resident alien's border crossing identification card.

(2) An alien who is returning from a temporary visit abroad and who presents a valid unexpired reentry permit.

(3) An alien who goes in transit through foreign contiguous territory from one part of the continental United States or Alaska to another part of the continental United States or Alaska by means of a transportation line which runs through the territory or waters of both the United States and Canada or Mexico.

(4) An alien who is proceeding from one port of the United States to another, without stopover, although touching a foreign port.

(5) An alien who reenters from a journey beginning in a port of the United States in the Western Hemisphere without transshipment from the original vessel or aircraft, provided that such vessel or aircraft has not proceeded outside of the Western Hemisphere.

(6) An alien who is returning to the United States from a visit not exceeding 30 days to Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Haiti, or the Dominican Republic, made under actual emergency conditions which prevented him from obtaining a reentry permit, or, with respect to such visit to Canada or Mexico only, a resident alien's border crossing identification card, prior to his departure from the United States.

(7) An alien resident of the Virgin Islands returning after a temporary visit to the British Virgin Islands or the French island of St. Bartholomew.

(8) An alien who resides in a remote section of Alaska returning after a temporary visit to Canada.

(9) An alien who has been shipwrecked or castaway and who has been rescued by, or transferred at sea to, a vessel or aircraft bound to a port in the United States.

(10) An alien who is returning within 48 hours from a visit to Mexico and who presents satisfactory evidence showing his previous lawful entry into the United States for permanent residence.

(11) Any alien in whose particular case a waiver of the passport and visa requirements is granted by (i) the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, either during or after the alien's application for admission to the United States, or (ii) the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the port at which the alien applied for admission at the time of the alien's application for admission and prior to the submission of the case to a special inquiry officer, or (iii) the special inquiry officer in determining a case referred to him for further inquiry as provided in section 235 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, upon a determination by the respective officers enumerated above that presentation of a passport and visa is impracticable because of emergent circumstances over which the alien has no control, and that undue hardship will result to the alien if such presentation is required: Provided, That during the time any case is pending before the Board a waiver under this subparagraph may be granted only by the Board.

§ 211.3 Immigrants not required to present visas. Aliens of the following-described classes (including alien crewmen) who are otherwise admissible, who have been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence, and who are applying for admission to the United States after a temporary absence, are not required to present visas:

(a) An alien crewman whose name appears on the visaed crew list of the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived in the United States or who presents an Alien Registration Receipt and Border Crossing Card (Form I–151) duly issued to him, if the alien is returning on the same vessel or aircraft on which he departed and without transshipment, or, if the alien is returning on an aircraft of the same transportation line within 30 days of his discharge in a foreign port.

(b) An alien who departed from the United States as a member of the crew of a vessel or aircraft which has been sold and delivered abroad, if the laws of the United States or the contract of employment provide for the return of the crew to the United States, whether returning as a passenger or as a crewman.

(c) An alien who departed from the United States as a member of the crew of a vessel or aircraft and who is returning to the United States as a passenger in accordance with the terms of the articles of the vessel or the aircraft on which he formerly served and who presents a Form I–151 duly issued to him.

(d) An alien crewman who departed from the United States as a member of the crew of a vessel or aircraft and who is a consular passenger, or is repatriated after, and in accordance with the terms of, his discharge in a foreign port before a consular officer, but who, for any reason, cannot be considered as serving as a crewman on the vessel or aircraft on which he arrives at a port in the United States.

(e) Any alien in whose particular case a waiver of the visa requirement is granted by (1) the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, either during or after the alien's application for admission to the United States, or (2) the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the port at which the alien applied for admission, at the time of the alien's application for admission and prior to the submission of the case to a special inquiry officer, or (3) the special inquiry officer in determining the case referred to him for further inquiry as provided in section 235 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, upon a determination by the respective officers enumerated above that presentation of a visa is impracticable because of emergent circumstances over which the alien has no control and that undue hardship would result to such alien if such presentation is required: Provided, That during the time any case is pending before the Board a waiver under this subparagraph may be granted only by the Board.

§ 211.4 Immigrants not required to present passports. Aliens of the following-described classes (including alien crewmen) who apply for admission to the United States as immigrants, and who are otherwise admissible, are not required to present passports:

(a) An alien who has been lawfully admitted for permanent residence and who is returning after a temporary absence and who presents a valid unexpired nonquota immigrant visa issued pursuant to the provisions of section 101 (a) (27) (B) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

(b) Any alien in whose particular case a waiver of the passport requirement is granted by (1) the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, either during or after the alien's application for admission to the United States, or (2) the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the port at which the alien applied for admission, at the time of the alien's application for admission and prior to the submission of the case to a special inquiry officer, or (3) the special inquiry officer in determining the case referred to him for further inquiry as provided in section 235 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, upon a determination by the respective officers enumerated above that presentation of a passport is impracticable because of emergent circumstances over which the alien has no control and that undue hardship would result to such alien if such presentation is required; Provided, That during the time any case is pending before the Board a waiver under this subparagraph may be granted only by the Board.

SUBPART E—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 211.11 Resident Alien's Border Crossing Identification Card—(a) Form. For the purposes of sections 211 (b) and 212 (a) (20) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and this part, Form I–151 (Alien Registration Receipt Card) or any outstanding valid Form I–187 (Resident Alien's Border Crossing Identification Card) shall be accepted as a Resident Alien Border Crossing Identification Card when in possession of and presented by the rightful holder thereof during the period of its validity.

(b) Use. The presentation of such card shall not relieve the holder from establishing his admissibility to the United States under the applicable provisions of the immigration laws and regulations. A Resident Alien's Border Crossing Identification Card may be used by an alien who has been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence for the purpose of (1) facilitating determination of his status as a returning legal resident when applying for admission at any land or water port of entry or international airport in the continental United States or Alaska after an absence from the United States of not more than 6 months, during which absence he visited no foreign country other than Canada, Mexico or both, and (2) satisfying the documentary requirements of sections 211 (b) and 212 (a) (20) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and this part.

(c) Form I–151; who may apply. Any alien lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence who is not in possession of a Form I–151 may apply for such form in accordance with the provisions of § 264.5 of this chapter.

(d) Form I–187. Outstanding Forms I–187 in the possession of aliens who do not have a Form I–151 may upon application in person by the proper holder be revalidated at any Service office in the continental United States or Alaska, either before or after their expiration for an additional period or periods not exceeding 6 months each. No such revalidation shall extend beyond June 30, 1954, at which date all outstanding Forms I–187 shall be retired. An expired or unexpired Form I–187 may also be revalidated if the rightful holder applies for admission to the United States at a port of entry or for preexamination at a United States immigration station in Canada, is found admissible, and satisfactorily establishes that he has not abandoned his residence in the United States and that he has not been absent from the United States for more than 60 days. Each additional period of validity shall commence on the date of revalidation. No Form I–187 issued before November 14, 1941, shall be revalidated notwithstanding any revalidation thereof which may have been granted previously, and any such form which comes to the attention of an officer of the Service shall be obtained from the holder and returned to the original issuing office for destruction. Any Form I–187, whether valid or expired, which was issued on or after November 14, 1941, and which is found in the possession of an alien who is making improper use thereof shall be obtained from the holder and returned to the original issuing office for destruction. Every alien having both a Form I–187 and a Form I–151 shall surrender the Form I–187 to an immigration officer, who shall forward it to the office of issuance for destruction.

212.61 Application for consent to reapply.
212.71 Application for permission to reenter the United States.
212.72 Disposition of application.
212.81 Application for temporary admission of nonimmigrants.
212.91 Return of paroled alien.

AUTHORITY: §§ 212.1 to 212.91 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 101, 212, 214, 236, 238, 66 Stat. 167, 182, 189, 200, 203.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 212.1 Documentary requirements for nonimmigrants. Except as otherwise provided in the Immigration and Nationality Act and this chapter, an alien (including an alien crewman) who applies for admission to the United States as a nonimmigrant shall present a valid unexpired nonimmigrant visa issued to him under the nonimmigrant classification in which he seeks admission, and an unexpired passport valid for at least the period set forth in section 212 (a) (26) of the Immigration and Nationality Act: Provided, That a valid nonresident alien's border crossing identification card shall be acceptable in lieu of a nonimmigrant visa when presented in accordance with provisions of § 212.11.

§ 212.2 Period of validity of passports for certain nonimmigrants. An alien not within the purview of § 212.3 who applies for admission to the United States as a nonimmigrant under clause (i) or (ii) of section 101 (a) (15) (A) of the Immigration and Nationality Act or under clause (i), (ii), (iii), or (iv) of section 101 (a) (15) (G) of that act and who presents a valid unexpired nonimmigrant visa issued to him under the nonimmigrant classification in which he seeks admission shall present a passport which is valid and unexpired on the date of the bearer's application for admission to the United States.

§ 212.3 Nonimmigrants not required to present passports, visas, or border crossing identification cards. The provisions of section 212 (a) (26) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and of this chapter relating to the requirement of passports, visas, and border crossing identification cards for nonimmigrants, have been waived by the Secretary of State and the Attorney General acting jointly in pursuance of the authority contained in section 212 (d) (4) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, in the cases of aliens (including alien crewmen) who are otherwise qualified for admission as nonimmigrants under the applicable provisions of the immigration laws and who fall within any of the following categories:

(a) A Canadian citizen who has his residence in Canada and is making application for admission to the United States from Canada, or from, and after a visit solely to, some place in foreign contiguous territory or adjacent islands.

(b) A British subject who has his residence in Canada and is making application for admission to the United States from Canada, or from, and after a visit solely to, some place in foreign contiguous territory or adjacent islands.

(c) A Mexican national who:

(1) Is a military or civilian official or employee of the Mexican national government, or of a Mexican state or municipal government, and the members of his family, making an application for admission to the continental United States from Mexico on personal or official business or for pleasure;

(2) Is passing in immediate and continuous transit through the continental United States from one place in Mexico to another by means of a transportation line which crosses the border between the United States and Mexico; or

(3) Is a member of a fire-fighting group entering the United States in connection with fire-fighting activities.

(d) International Boundary and Water Commission officers, employees, and other personnel, entering the United States in the performance of their official duties, and Mexican nationals employed directly or indirectly on the construction, operation, or maintenance of works in the United States undertaken in accordance with the treaty concluded on February 3, 1944, between the United States and Mexico, and entering the United States temporarily in connection with such employment.

(e) A French national who has his residence in French territory in the West Indies, who is in possession of a roundtrip transportation ticket, and who is making application for admission into Puerto Rico or the Virgin Islands of the United States for business or pleasure.

(f) A Netherlands subject who has his residence in Netherlands territory in the West Indies and who is making an application for admission to Puerto Rico or the Virgin Islands of the United States for not more than twenty-four (24) hours.

(g) An alien who is being transported by railroad in immediate and continuous transit through the United States directly from one part of Canada to another, or directly from one part of Mexico to another, without stopover, in accordance with the terms of a contract, including a bonding agreement, entered into by the transportation line and the Attorney General under the provisions of section 238 (d) of the Immigration and Nationality Act: Provided, That, at all times such alien is in transit through the United States he shall be in the custody of an officer of the United States or such other custody as may be approved by the Attorney General.

(h) An alien whose case is not within the provisions of paragraph (g) of this section, who is being transported in immediate and continuous transit through the United States without stopover from one foreign place to another in accordance with the terms of a contract including a bonding agreement entered into by a transportation line and the Attorney General under the provisions of section 238 (d) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, to insure such immediate and continuous transit through, and departure from, the United States en route to a specifically designated foreign country: Provided, That such alien is in possession of a travel document which is valid for his entry into a foreign country for a period of not less than 60 days after the date of immediate and continuous transit through the United States, and Provided further, That at all times such alien is not aboard an aircraft which is in flight through the United States he shall be in the custody of an officer of the United States.

§ 212.4 Additional classes of nonimmigrants not required to present passports, visas or border crossing identification cards. As provided in the Immigration and Nationality Act, the provisions of section 212 (a) (26) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and of this chapter relating to the requirement of passports, visas and border crossing identification cards for nonimmigrants do not apply in the cases of aliens who fall within any of the following categories:

(a) An alien member of the armed forces of the United States who:

(1) Is in the uniform of, or who bears documents identifying him as a member of, such armed forces;

(2) Has not been lawfully admitted for permanent residence; and

(3) Is making application for admission to the United States under official orders or permit of such armed forces.

(b) An American Indian born in Canada, having at least fifty percentum of blood of the American Indian race, and passing the border of the United States.

§ 212.5 Nonimmigrants required to present passports but not visas or border crossing identification cards. The provisions of section 212 (a) (26) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and of this chapter relating to the requirement of visas and border crossing identification cards for nonimmigrants have been waived by the Secretary of State and the Attorney General, acting jointly, for aliens who are otherwise qualified for admission as nonimmigrants under the applicable immigration laws and who fall within any of the following categories:

(a) A Canadian citizen having his residence in Canada who is returning thereto from any country or place other than foreign contiguous territory or adjacent islands, and is making an application for admission to the United States.

(b) A British subject having his residence in British Territory in the West Indies, who is making an application for admission to Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands of the United States.

(c) A Netherlands subject who has his residence in Netherlands territory in the West Indies and who is making an application for admission to Puerto Rico or the Virgin Islands of the United States for more than twenty-four (24) hours.

(d) Nationals of foreign contiguous territory or adjacent islands who are entering the United States as seasonal or temporary workers under specific legislation enacted by Congress and in accordance with international arrangements concluded upon the basis of such legislation.

§ 212.6 Aliens previously deported or removed, or who departed at Government expense; consent to reapply for admission. Except as provided in § 236.13 (b) of this chapter, an alien who is inadmissible to the United States under paragraph (16) or (17) of section 212 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and who desires to apply for admission to the United States shall file an application for consent to reapply for admission to the United States with the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the office in which were held the proceedings which resulted in the alien's deportation, removal, or departure at Government expense.

§ 212.7 Advance request by certain

§ 212.7 Advance request by certain resident aliens for permission to reenter the United States. An alien who has been lawfully admitted for permanent residence and who is or believes himself to be inadmissible to the United States under any paragraph of section 212 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act other than paragraph (27), (28) or (29), may, prior to or after his temporary departure from the United States and prior to his application for readmission to the United States, apply for permission to reenter under the authority contained in section 212 (c of the Immigration and Nationality Act notwithstanding any such ground of inadmissibility.

§ 212.8 Advance request by certain nonimmigrant aliens for permission to enter the United States temporarily. An alien who desires to enter the United States temporarily as a nonimmigrant and who is or believes himself to be inadmissible under any paragraph of section 212 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act other than paragraph (27) and (29), may, prior to his application for admission at a port of the United States, apply for permission to enter the United States temporarily under the authority contained in section 212 (d) (3) of the Immigration and Nationality Act notwithstanding any such ground of inadmissibility.

§ 212.9 Parole of aliens into the United States. Subject to the provisions of section 212 (d) (5) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the port of entry may, in his discretion, parole into the United States at such port, under such terms and conditions, including the exaction of a bond on Form I–324, as such officer shall deem appropriate. The district director or officer in charge shall determine when, in his opinion, the purpose of the parole shall have been served so that such paroled alien shall return or be returned to the custody from which he was paroled in accordance with section 212 (d) (5) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 212.11 Nonresident alien's border crossing identification card—(a) Form. For the purposes of section 212 (a) (26) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and this part, Form I–186 (Nonresident Alien's Border Crossing Identification Card) shall be accepted as a nonresident alien's border crossing card when it is in the possession of and presented by the rightful holder thereof during the period of its validity.

(b) Use. The rightful holder of a valid nonresident alien's border crossing identification card may present such card in lieu of a nonimmigrant visa, if such visa is required, when arriving direct from Canada or Mexico and applying for admission to the United States at any land or water port of entry or an international airport in the continental United States or Alaska. The presentation of such card shall not otherwise relieve the holder from establishing his admissibility to the United States under the applicable provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

(c) Form I–186; who may apply. A nonresident alien's border crossing identification card may be issued to any alien who, upon application therefor, (1) submits satisfactory evidence that he is a Canadian citizen or a British subject residing in Canada, or a native-born citizen of Mexico residing therein, (2) presents a valid unexpired passport required of nonimmigrants, unless a passport is not required to be presented under the provisions of this part, (3) desires temporary admission into the continental United States for a period or periods of not more than 72 hours each, and (4) is admissible to the United States: Provided, however, That no such card shall be issued unless the applicant is known or shown to be a person who has complied fully with all provisions applicable to him of laws, regulations, Executive orders, or other governmental requirements regulating the entry of aliens to the United States: And provided further, That such card may be issued to an applicant who desires temporary admission into the United States for more than 72 hours if such applicant desires such card to facilitate admission and is (1) a citizen of and has his residence in, Canada, and is entitled under § 212.3 (a) to enter the United States for less than six months without presenting a visa, border crossing identification card, or passport, or (2) a British subject having his residence in Canada, and entitled under § 212.3 (b) to enter the United States for less than 30 days without presenting a visa, border crossing identification card, or passport.

(d) Application. Application for a nonresident alien's border crossing identification card shall be made on Form I–190 at any office of the Service located at any land or water port of entry or international airport in the continental United States or Alaska or at any office of the Service located in Canada. The applicant shall appear in person, shall execute his application under oath before an immigration officer, and shall be fingerprinted. The applicant shall furnish a photograph prepared in accordance with the provisions of Part 10 of this chapter. If, because of unusual circumstances, it would be a hardship for the applicant to obtain a photograph, the officer considering the application may, in his discretion, waive the furnishing of such photograph.

(e) Disposition of application. If the applicant is found to have the qualifications specified in paragraph (c) of this section, the identification card shall be issued to him by the examining immigration officer. Entries on the card shall be made by typewriter, if practicable, or in ink. The applicant shall sign his full name on the card in ink, unless unable to sign his name. The applicant's photograph shall be fastened on the card unless the furnishing of the photograph is waived, in which case the print of his right index finger shall be placed on the card in lieu of his photograph. The card shall be valid for an initial period of two years, unless in the discretion of the issuing officer a shorter period of validity is desired because of special circumstances. The period of validity shall be noted on the card and on the application. The issuing officer may, in his discretion or upon direction of his superior officer, issue the card subject to such conditions as appear to be proper under the circumstances and such conditions shall be noted on the card and on the application. The identification card shall be delivered to the applicant on his personal appearance at the office where the application is filed, except that when justified by unusual circumstances, the card may be delivered to him by mail prior to his application for admission to the United States. If the examining immigration officer, in his discretion, determines that a nonresident alien border crossing card should not be issued, he shall deny the application. No appeal shall lie from a denial of the application but such denial shall be without prejudice to the alien's applying for admission to the United States under applicable provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

(f) Extension. The rightful holder of a nonresident alien's border crossing identification card issued for a fixed period who meets the eligibility requirements of paragraph (c) of this section may, during the period of the validity of such card, apply for an extension of such period, or, if the period of validity has expired, may apply for a revalidation of such card. In no event shall such card be extended or revalidated beyond a date six years from the date of its original issuance.

(g) Surrender. Any nonresident alien's border crossing identification card issued prior to November 14, 1941, which comes to the attention of an officer of the Service shall be surrendered by the holder and returned to the original issuing office. Any nonresident alien's border crossing identification card issued by the Service which is presented by a person who does not have the qualifications set forth in paragraph (c) of this section, or any nonresident alien's border crossing identification card which is presented by a person who is making improper use of the card, or who is not the rightful holder thereof, shall be surrendered by the holder and returned to the original issuing office, with a report of the reasons therefor: Provided, however, That no card shall be required to be surrendered if found in the possession of an alien applying for admission to the United States unless and until the holder has been excluded by a special inquiry officer. If a nonresident's border crossing identification card issued by the Service has been lost, mutilated, or destroyed, the person to whom such card was issued may make an application for a new card in accordance with the provisions of this section, and in such case shall attach the mutilated card to his application for return to the office of issuance.

§ 212.61 Application for consent to reapply—(a) Form. An application for consent to reapply for admission to the United States shall be submitted on Form I–212. In stating the reasons for his desire to enter the United States, the applicant shall include a statement of facts establishing whether:

(1) Unusual hardship would result to persons lawfully in the United States if the application should be denied.

(2) There is need for the services of the applicant in the United States.

(3) The applicant is a bona fide crewman who has no means of earning his livelihood other than by pursuing such calling which necessitates his coming to the United States.

(4) It is necessary for the applicant to enter the United States frequently across the international land border to purchase the necessities of life, or in connection with the business in which he is engaged, or for some other urgent reason.

(b) Disposition. The district director receiving an application for consent to reapply for admission may, in his discretion, grant or deny such application. He shall note his decision on the application and, if the application is denied, the reason for its denial. The applicant shall be given written notice of the decision. The decision shall be final except that an appeal therefrom may be taken by the applicant to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, within 10 days from receipt of notification of decision, in accordance with the provisions of Part 7 of this chapter.

§ 212.71 Application for permission to reenter the United States—(a) Form and execution. An application for the advance exercise of discretion under the provisions of section 212 (c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be submitted on Form I–191, and shall be executed under oath by the applicant. If the applicant is mentally incompetent, the application shall be executed by his parent or guardian. If the applicant is not in the United States, the application shall be executed before a consular officer in accordance with applicable consular regulations.

(b) Where filed. The application shall be filed with the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the applicant's place of residence in the United States.

§ 212.72 Disposition of application—(a) Action by officer with whom application is filed. The officer with whom the application referred to in § 212.17 is filed shall cause such investigation to be conducted as he deems necessary for the proper disposition of the application. If such investigation is made by an office of the Service other than a district office, the application and all pertinent papers shall upon completion of the investigation be forwarded to the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the office in which the application was filed, with the recommendation of the officer in charge.

(b) Action by the district director. The district director may, in his discretion, grant or deny the application. The applicant shall be given written notice of the decision, and if the application is denied of the reasons therefor and of his right to appeal to the Board in accordance with the provisions of Part 6 of this chapter within 10 days from the receipt of notification of such decision.

(c) Conditions on which application is granted. If the application is granted, it shall be under such terms and conditions, including exaction of bond, as may be deemed appropriate by the district director or the Board, whichever grants the application.

§ 212.81 Application for temporary admission of nonimmigrants—(a) Form and execution. An application for the advance exercise of discretion under the provisions of section 212 (d) (3) shall, except as hereinafter provided, be submitted on Form I–192, and shall be executed under oath before a consular officer in accordance with applicable consular regulations. When Form I–192 is not readily available and the case is one of unforseen emergency, the application shall be in writing and shall contain all the information required by such form. Whenever it is impracticable for an applicant to execute the application, it may be executed by his parent, guardian, attorney or representative, and in such cases, the application need not be under oath and need not be executed before a consular officer.

(b) Filing of application. If an applicant for the benefits of section 212 (d) (3) of the Immigration and Nationality Act is not in possession of a nonimmigrant visa and is not exempt from the presentation of such visa, the application shall be filed with the consular officer before whom the alien is required to apply for his nonimmigrant visa. In all other cases, the application shall be filed with the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division.

(c) Disposition of application. If the Secretary of State or the consular officer recommends that an alien be admitted temporarily to the United States despite his inadmissibility, the application shall be forwarded with such recommendation to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, who, in his discretion, may grant or deny the application. The Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, may also, in his discretion, grant or deny any application which is authorized by this part to be filed directly with him. The applicant and the Secretary of State shall be given written notice of the decision. If the application is denied, the applicant shall also be informed of the reasons therefor and of the right of the alien to appeal to the Board in accordance with the provisions of Part 6 of this chapter, within ten days from the receipt of notification of such decision. If the application is granted initially or on appeal, it shall be under such terms and conditions, including exaction of bond on Form I–331, I–332 or I–337 as the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, or the Board, when granting the application, deems appropriate.

§ 212.91 Return of paroled alien. If the district director or officer in charge who has paroled an alien into the United States in accordance with § 212.9 determines that the purpose of the parole has been served, the paroled alien shall be taken into custody by an immigration officer under the order of such district director or officer in charge and returned forthwith to the custody from which such alien was paroled.

PART 212a—ADMISSION OF CERTAIN ALIENS TO PERFORM SKILLED OR UNSKILLED LABOR

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
212a.1 Aliens seeking to enter the United States for the purpose of performing skilled or unskilled labor; application for permission to enter United States.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

212a.11 Application.
212a.12 Disposition of application.

AUTHORITY: §§ 212a.1 to 212a.12 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 101, 203, 212, 66 Stat. 166, 178, 183.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 212a.1 Aliens seeking to enter the United States for the purpose of performing skilled or unskilled labor; application for permission to enter United States. An alien of any of the classes described in section 101 (a) (27) (C), (D), or (E), of the Immigration and Nationality Act, and any alien described in the non-preference category of section 203 (a) (4) of that Act, who is ineligible to receive an immigrant visa and is subject to exclusion from the United States under section 212 (a) (14) of that Act may apply, or the person, institution, firm, organization or governmental agency for whom the alien will perform skilled or unskilled labor may apply in his behalf, for permission for such alien to enter the United States under the authority contained in section 212 (a) (14) of the Immigration and Nationality Act notwithstanding such ground of inadmissibility.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 212a.11 Application—(a) Form. An application for permission to enter the United States pursuant to this part and section 212 (a) (14) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be submitted in duplicate on Form I–129C. The application, properly executed, shall be filed at the office of the Service nearest the applicant's residence or principal operating office in the United States if he is a person other than the prospective immigrant. If the person filing this application is the prospective immigrant, he shall transmit the completed application directly to the Commissioner who shall transmit the application to the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the place in the United States wherein the applicant intends to reside as shown in the application.

(b) Documents in support of application. Applicants shall comply with the following requirements:

(1) If a trade organization, guild, professional society, educational or research institution, is active in the field of the work, labor or services in which the prospective immigrant is to be employed or engaged, the applicant shall request from such organization, by registered mail return receipt requested, a written statement indicating whether such organization can supply persons capable of performing the work, labor or services which are to be performed by the prospective immigrant. The request to such organization for such statement shall set forth a description of the position sought to be filled and the terms, conditions, and place of employment. A copy of the request and reply shall be attached to the application. In the event no reply is received to such request, a copy of the letter sent to such organization and the receipt returned by the Post Office Department showing that the letter was delivered, shall be attached to the application.

(2) The applicant shall attach to the application affidavits of persons having special knowledge or information in the field of work, labor or services which the prospective immigrant is to perform, indicating the approximate length of time required for a person to become skilled or proficient in the performance of such work, labor, or services.

(3) If the applicant is not the prospective immigrant, he shall attach to the application as a part thereof, a statement of efforts made by him or in his behalf to secure persons in the United States to perform the work, labor or services to be performed by the prospective immigrant, including clippings of any advertisements placed in newspapers, trade journals, professional and similar publications in the field of such work, labor or services and copies of all correspondence, reports, replies, and responses received or obtained as a result of such advertisement. If no such reply, response, or report was received, the applicant shall so indicate.

(4) The applicant shall attach to the application as a part thereof, a statement setting forth a full, complete, and detailed analysis establishing in what manner the services of the prospective immigrant will be substantially beneficial prospectively to the national economy, cultural interest or welfare of the United States.

(5) The applicant shall attach to the application as a part thereof, a full, complete, and detailed description of the services to be performed by the prospective immigrant in the United States.

(6) The applicant shall attach to the application as a part thereof a full, complete, and detailed description of the high education, technical training, specialized experience, or exceptional ability of the prospective immigrant on the basis of which the prospective immigrant's services are alleged to be urgently required in the United States. Statements with respect to high education or technical training of the prospective immigrant shall be supported by original, certified, or photographic copies of diplomas, school certificates, or equivalent documents or affidavits attesting to such education or technical training executed by the person in charge of the records of the educational or other institution, firm, or establishment wherein such education or training was acquired, improved, or perfected. Statements with respect to specialized experience or exceptional ability of the prospective immigrant shall be supported by affidavits attesting to and describing the degree and extent of the immigrant's special experience or ability, executed by the appropriate officer of the firms, organizations, establishments, or other institutions wherein such special experience or ability was acquired, improved, or perfected.

§ 212a.12 Disposition of application—(a) Investigation. The district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the office receiving an application shall, if the application is properly executed and adequately supported by documentary evidence, cause such investigation to be conducted as he deems necessary to the proper disposition of the application. If the investigation is made in an office of the Service other than a district office, the application and all accompanying papers shall, upon completion of such investigation, be forwarded to the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the office that made the investigation with a report and transcript of the investigation and the recommendation of the officer in charge.

(b) Action by district director. If the district director receiving an application either directly from the person filing the application or from the officer in charge is satisfied that the application should be approved he shall approve the application and note his decision thereon. If the district director is not satisfied that the application should be approved he shall disapprove the application and note his decision thereon. The applicant shall be informed of the decision and, if the application is disapproved, of the reasons therefor, and of his right to appeal to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division within 10 days from receipt of notification of decision.

PART 213—ADMISSION OF ALIENS ON GIVING BOND OR CASH DEPOSIT

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
213.1 Authority to admit under bond or cash deposit.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

213.11 Form of public charge bond.

AUTHORITY: §§ 213.1 and 213.11 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 213, 235, 66 Stat. 188, 198.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 213.1 Authority to admit under bond or cash deposit. An alien who applies for admission to the United States for permanent residence whose case is referred to the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the place where the examination for admission is being conducted, as provided in § 235.12 of this chapter, may be admitted to the United States in the discretion of such officer upon the furnishing of a bond on Form I–354 in the sum of not less than $1,000, or, in lieu of such bond, upon depositing cash in the sum of not less than $1,000 for the same purposes and subject to the same conditions as those set forth in Form I–354. If such officer does not so admit the alien, the special inquiry officer to whom the case is referred, as provided in § 235.12 of this chapter may, in his discretion, admit the alien upon the furnishing of bond or the depositing of cash as aforesaid.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 213.11 Form of public charge bond. All bonds, and all agreements covering cash deposits, given as a condition of admission of an alien under section 213 of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be executed on Form I–354. If cash is deposited, the depositor shall give his power of attorney and agreement on Form I–304, authorizing the officers designated thereon to collect, assign, or transfer such deposit, in whole or in part, in case any of the conditions of the bond are violated; and the officer accepting such deposit shall give his receipt therefor on Form I–305.

PART 214—ADMISSION OF NONIMMIGRANTS: GENERAL

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
214.1 Time for which nonimmigrants may be admitted.
214.2 Conditions of nonimmigrant status.
214.3 Bonds.
214.4 Extension of period of temporary admission.
214.5 Change of status as affecting period of admission.
214.6 Limitation.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

214.31 Bonds; referral of case by examining officer.
214.41 Extension of period of admission.

AUTHORITY: §§ 214.1 to 214.41 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 3, 4, 43 Stat. 154, as amended, 155 as amended, secs. 501–508, 65 Stat. 119–121, secs. 101, 102, 212, 214, 235, 66 Stat. 166, 173, 182, 189, 198; 8 U. S. C. 203, 204, 7 U. S. C., Sup., 1461–1468.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 214.1 Time for which nonimmigrants may be admitted. The maximum period for which a nonimmigrant may be admitted initially to the United States shall be whatever period the admitting officer deems appropriate to accomplish the intended purpose of the alien's temporary stay in the United States, except that

(a) In no event shall such period exceed any limit fixed by any of the other provisions of this chapter relating to particular nonimmigrant classes; and

(b) Except as provided in section 102 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, such period shall be subject to the provisions of section 212 (a) (26) of the Immigration and Nationality Act in the case of a nonimmigrant required to present a passport; and

(c) A nonimmigrant admitted to the United States upon a waiver of the passport requirement, shall not be admitted beyond a date six months prior to the end of the period during which he will be eligible for readmission to the country whence he came or for admission to some other country.

§ 214.2 Conditions of nonimmigrant status. An alien found admissible as a nonimmigrant under the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be admitted to the United States, and an alien after admission to the United States as a nonimmigrant or after acquisition of a nonimmigrant status under the Immigration and Nationality Act or any prior act shall be permitted to remain in the United States only upon the following conditions:

(a) That while in the United States he will maintain the particular nonimmigrant status under which he was admitted or such other status as he may acquire in accordance with the provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act or which he may have acquired in accordance with the provisions of any prior law.

(b) That he will depart from the United States within the period of his admission or any authorized extension thereof.

(c) That while in the United States he will not engage in any employment or activity inconsistent with and not essential to the status under which he is in the United States unless such employment or activity has first been authorized by the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the alien's place of temporary residence in the United States.

(d) That he will not remain in the United States beyond a date six months, or in the case of a nonimmigrant admitted prior to the effective date of the Immigration and Nationality Act, two months, prior to the end of the period during which he will be eligible for readmission to the country whence he came or for admission to some other country, as evidenced by a valid passport or other travel document.

(e) That he will fulfill such other conditions as the admitting immigration officer, in his discretion, may impose or may have imposed to insure that he will depart from the United States at the expiration of the time for which he was admitted, and that he will maintain the status under which he was admitted or which he may have lawfully acquired subsequent to his admission.

§ 214.3 Bonds. Except as may be otherwise specifically provided by the Immigration and Nationality Act and by any provisions of this chapter relating to particular classes of nonimmigrants, in the discretion of the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the port of entry or the special inquiry officer, or, pursuant to an order entered on appeal from the decision of a special inquiry officer, an alien applying for admission to the United States as a nonimmigrant may be required to post a bond in the sum of not less than $500 as a condition precedent to his admission to the United States to insure that he will depart from the United States at the expiration of the time for which he is admitted and that he will maintain the status under which he is admitted or which he may subsequently acquire under the Immigration and Nationality Act: Provided, That no such bond shall be required as a condition to the admission of any alien within the classes described in section 102 of the Immigration and Nationality Act. Bond shall be furnished on such form as is prescribed for the particular nonimmigrant classification under which the alien seeks to enter the United States.

§ 214.4 Extension of period of temporary admission. An alien other than one admitted in transit under section 101 (a) (15) (C) of the Immigration and Nationality Act or section 3 (3) of the Immigration Act of 1924, who is maintaining the nonimmigrant status under which he is permitted to remain in the United States and whose period of admission has not expired, may apply for and may be granted an extension or extensions of the period of his temporary admission, subject to the following limitations and conditions:

(a) All extensions shall be subject to the time limitations specified in § 214.1.

(b) The alien shall establish that he has fulfilled, and agrees that he will continue to fulfill, all the conditions set forth in § 214.2 and such other conditions as may be imposed as conditions precedent to the granting of the extension, including, in the case of an alien admitted as a nonimmigrant or as a nonquota immigrant student prior to December 24, 1952, the condition that he shall present with his application for the extension a passport or other travel document valid for his readmission to the country whence he came or to some other country for six months after expiration of the period for which the extension is requested.

(c) If the initial admission was for 29 days or less, an extension may be granted only in emergent or other extraordinary cases.

(d) In any case in which the grant of the extension would authorize the alien to remain in the United States for a period not exceeding one year after arrival, the officer deciding the application may in his discretion, require as a condition precedent to the granting of the extension that the alien furnish bond or to continue to furnish bond or to furnish bond in different sum, on the form and for the purposes stated in § 214.3.

(e) No extension which will authorize the alien to remain in the United States for a period exceeding one year after arrival shall be granted unless there has been furnished, or is furnished, a bond on the form, for the purposes, and in the sum provided in § 214.3: Provided, That a district director may authorize the granting of such extension without bond or with bond in less sum.

(f) Such other conditions and limitations as are prescribed by provisions of this chapter relating to particular classes of nonimmigrants.

(g) A nonimmigrant alien crewman shall not be granted any extension which would permit him to remain in the United States for more than 29 days from the date of his initial temporary landing.

§ 214.5 Change of status as affecting period of admission. An alien admitted to the United States under the Immigration and Nationality Act or any prior act as a nonimmigrant, whose status is subsequently changed in accordance with the provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act, shall be permitted to remain in the United States for such period of time as shall have been fixed in the decision changing his status or any authorized extension thereof, in no event to exceed the time he continues to maintain the status so acquired.

§ 214.6 Limitation. The provisions of this part shall not be applicable to a nonimmigrant agricultural worker applying for admission, or admitted, to the United States in accordance with the provisions of Title V of the Agricultural Act of 1949, as amended. The case of such alien shall be governed by the provisions of Part 475 of this chapter.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 214.31 Bonds; referral of case by examining officer. If the examining immigration officer is satisfied that an alien would be admissible to the United States as a nonimmigrant provided a bond was furnished in accordance with the provisions of § 214.3, he shall refer the case to the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the port of entry. If the district director or officer in charge is satisfied that the alien would be admissible provided such bond were furnished, he may admit the alien upon the furnishing of such bond. If the district director or the officer in charge is not so satisfied or if the bond is not furnished when required, the case of the alien shall be disposed of as provided in section 235 of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

§ 214.41 Extension of period of admission—(a) Form of application; place and time of filing; accompanying documents; fee. Application by an alien for an extension of the period of temporary admission shall be made on Form I–539. The application shall be submitted as soon as the alien is aware that he will not be able to complete the purpose of his temporary stay within the period for which he has been authorized to remain in the United States, but not less than 15 nor more than 30 days prior to the end of such period, unless the district director or officer in charge authorizes the filing of an application at an earlier date. The application shall be accompanied by the applicant's passport, any Form 257a or Form I–94C issued to him at the time of his admission to the United States or at the time of any prior extension, any fee required by Part 2 of this chapter, and such other documents as may be required by provisions of this chapter relating to particular nonimmigrant classifications.

(b) Disposition of application. The district director or the officer in charge receiving an application for an extension of temporary admission shall cause such investigation to be made as he deems necessary to the proper disposition of the application. He may, in his discretion and subject to the provisions of § 214.4, grant or deny such application or may grant such application upon such terms and conditions, including the furnishing of bond, as he may deem appropriate. No appeal shall lie from his decision. If the application is granted, the officer granting the application shall note on the application form and the Form 257a or Form I–94C submitted by the applicant or prepared for him as provided in § 221.3 (c) of this chapter the date to which the alien is permitted to remain in the United States and any additional conditions which may have been imposed as conditions precedent to the granting of the application. If the application is denied, the officer denying it shall note on the application form and such Form 257a or Form I–94C the fact of such denial. Notwithstanding any of the provisions of this paragraph, the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, may require any classes of cases or individual cases to be submitted to him for initial decision. No appeal shall lie from the decision of the Assistant Commissioner.

(c) Notice of decision. The Form 257a or Form I–94C shall after decision be sent to the applicant together with any passport submitted by him and shall constitute notice to the applicant of the decision in the case. If the application is denied, the applicant shall also be informed that his departure from the United States is required within the period determined by the officer making the decision.

PART 214a—ADMISSION OF NONIMMIGRANTS: FOREIGN GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
214a.1 Acceptance of classification.
214a.2 Limitation as to time for which alien may be admitted.
214a.3 Bond.
214a.4 Failure to maintain status.
214a.5 Additional documents required in support of application for an extension of temporary stay.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

AUTHORITY: §§ 214a.1 to 214a.5 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply sec. 3, 43 Stat. 154, as amended, secs. 101, 214, 235, 66 Stat. 166, 189, 198; 8 U. S. C. 203.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 214a.1 Acceptance of classification. Whenever an alien who applies for admission to the United States as a nonimmigrant of one of the classes described in section 101 (a) (15) (A) of the Immigration and Nationality Act presents to the examining immigration officer at a port of entry in the United States a valid unexpired nonimmigrant visa duly issued to him by a consular officer under such classification, the immigration officer shall accept the consular officer's classification of the alien and admit the alien, if he is otherwise admissible to the United States, unless specifically directed to the contrary by the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, after consultation with the Department of State, in which event, the examining immigration officer shall take further action as provided in section 235 of the Immigration and Nationality Act. For the purposes of this part, the term "immediate family" as used in section 101 (a) (15) (A) of the Immigration and Nationality Act means aliens who are closely related to the principal alien by blood, marriage, or adoption, and who reside regularly in the household of the principal alien.

§ 214a.2 Limitation as to time for which alien may be admitted. The period of an alien's admission to the United States as a nonimmigrant of the class described in section 101 (a) (15) (A) (i) or (ii) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall not exceed such time as the Secretary of State continues to recognize him as a member of such class. An alien of the class described in clause (iii) of section 101 (a) (15) (A) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall not be admitted initially to the United States for more than one year.

§ 214a.3 Bond. Nonimmigrants of the class described in section 101 (a) (15) (A) (iii) of the Immigration and Nationality Act who are required to furnish bond under § 214.3 or § 214.4 of this chapter shall do so on Form I–325.

§ 214a.4 Failure to maintain status. At such time as any official or employee described in clause (i) or clause (ii) of section 101 (a) (15) (A) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, or any official of a foreign government as described in section 3 (1) of the Immigration Act of 1924, as amended, is ineligible under the Immigration and Nationality Act and this chapter to remain in the United States in the status of such official or employee, any alien member of the immediate family of such official or employee, any attendant, servant, or personal employee of any such official or employee, and any member of the immediate family of such attendant, servant, or personal employee who has nonimmigrant status pursuant to section 101 (a) (15) (A) of the Immigration and Nationality Act or section 3 (1) of the Immigration Act of 1924, as amended, shall be regarded as having failed to maintain such status. This section shall not be construed as setting forth the sole ground on which the persons herein described may be regarded as having failed to maintain such status.

§ 214a.5 Additional documents required in support of application for an extension of temporary stay. An alien having the status of a nonimmigrant of the class described in section 101 (a) (15) (A) (iii) of the Immigration and Nationality Act or having the status of an attendant, servant, or personal employee of any official of a foreign government pursuant to the provisions of section 3 (1) of the Immigration Act of 1924, as amended, who applies for an extension of his temporary stay in such status shall attach to his application a written statement from the employing foreign government official describing the current and intended employment of the alien.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

PART 214b—ADMISSION OF NONIMMIGRANTS: TEMPORARY VISITOR FOR BUSINESS OR PLEASURE

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
214b.1 Limitation as to time for which temporary visitors may be admitted.
214b.2 Bonds.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

AUTHORITY: §§ 214b.1 and 214b.2 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 101, 214, 66 Stat. 166, 189.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 214b.1 Limitation as to time for which temporary visitors may be admitted. An alien admitted to the United States as a nonimmigrant of the class described in section 101 (a) (15) (B) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be admitted initially for a period not to exceed six months unless such alien intends to sojourn in the United States in more than one immigration district, in which event the period of initial admission shall not exceed three months.

§ 214b.2 Bonds. Nonimmigrants of the class described in section 101 (a) (15) (B) of the Immigration and Nationality Act who are required to furnish bond shall do so on Form I–337 or Form I–317, as the admitting officer shall determine.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

PART 214c—ADMISSION OF NONIMMIGRANTS: TRANSIT ALIENS

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
214c.1 Special prerequisites for admission.
214c.2 Limitation as to time for which transit aliens may be admitted.
214c.3 Bonds.
214c.4 Special conditions of admission.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

AUTHORITY: §§ 214c.1 to 214c.4 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 101, 214, 66 Stat. 166, 189.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 214c.1 Special prerequisites for admission. An alien applying for admission to the United States as a nonimmigrant in immediate and continuous transit through the United States under section 101 (a) (15) (C) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall not be eligible for admission to the United States in such nonimmigrant classification unless:

(a) He has arranged for transportation to the country of his destination and is also in possession of sufficient funds to enable him to carry out the purpose of his transit journey through the United States or has such funds available to him in the United States, and

(b) He is in possession of a valid visa or other form of valid authority assuring his entry into the country of his destination if he is destined to a country other than the one from which he came.

§ 214c.2 Limitation as to time for which transit aliens may be admitted. An alien admitted to the United States as a nonimmigrant of the classes described in section 101 (a) (15) (C) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be admitted for a period of time fixed by the admitting officer, not to exceed 29 days.

§ 214c.3 Bonds. Nonimmigrants of the classes described in section 101 (a) (15) (C) of the Immigration and Nationality Act who are required to furnish bond under § 214.3 or § 214.4 of this chapter shall do so on Form I–336 unless they are within the terms of a bond furnished in accordance with the provisions of § 238.3 of this chapter: Provided, That the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the port of entry, may in his discretion, in lieu of bond on Form I–336, require that the alien be accompanied while in transit by such number of immigration officers, guards, or attendants as will insure the alien's passage through and out of the United States without unnecessary delay, and that the expenses of such accompanying persons, including the cost of their transportation from the port of arrival to the port of departure and return, be borne by or on behalf of the alien or by the transportation line which brought the alien to the United States, which expenses shall include the cost of transportation of the accompanying persons from the port of arrival to the port of departure and return.

§ 214c.4 Special conditions of admission. An alien of the class described in section 101 (a) (15) (C) of the Immigration and Nationality Act whose nonimmigrant visa by its own terms is limited to transit to and from the United Nations Headquarters District, if otherwise admissible under the immigration laws, shall be admitted on the following additional conditions:

(a) That such alien shall proceed directly to New York City and shall remain continuously in that city during his sojourn in the United States, departing therefrom only if required in connection with his departure from the United States.

(b) That such alien shall be in possession of a valid visa or other form of valid authority assuring his entry into the country whence he came or to some other foreign country following his sojourn in the United Nations Headquarters District.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 214e.1 Definitions. As used in this part, the term:

(a) "Trader" means (1) an alien admitted to the United States under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (E) of the Immigration and Nationality Act; or (2) an alien admitted to the United States under the provisions of section 3 (6) of the Immigration Act of 1924; or (3) an alien who after admission lawfully acquires a status under clause (1) or (2) of this paragraph; or (4) an alien who is readmitted to the United States on the basis of a re-entry permit lawfully issued under the provisions of paragraphs (a) (2) and (b) of section 223 of the Immigration and Nationality Act; or (5) an alien who was readmitted to the United States on the basis of a re-entry permit lawfully issued under the provisions of section 10 (g) of the Immigration Act of 1924, as amended.

(b) "Dependent" means a trader's alien spouse or alien child admitted under clause (1), (2), (3), (4), or (5) of paragraph (a) of this section.

§ 214e.2 Limitations on time for which admitted. An alien admitted to the United States as a nonimmigrant of the class described in section 101 (a) (15) (E) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be admitted for a period of time fixed by the admitting officer.

§ 214e.3 Bond. Traders and dependents who are required to furnish bond under § 214.3 or § 214.4 of this chapter shall do so on Form I–338.

§ 214e.4 Failure to maintain status. A trader or dependent shall be deemed to have failed to maintain status upon the occurrence of any one of the following events, which are not exclusive as to what shall constitute failure to maintain status:

(a) In the case of a trader:

(1) The termination of the treaty on which the status of trader has been based; or

(2) A change by a trader from the activities specified in clause (i) of section 101 (a) (15) (E) of the Immigration and Nationality Act to the activities specified in clause (ii) of said section or vice versa unless, prior to making such change, he obtains consent to do so from the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the district in which the trader resides.

(b) In the case of a dependent:

(1) When the trader is no longer eligible to remain in the United States as a trader; or

(2) When the trader dies; or

(3) In the case of the dependent spouse, when the marriage to the trader terminates; or

(4) In the case of the dependent child, when such child marries or reaches the 21st anniversary of his birth;

unless at the time of the happening of any such event after the effective date of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the dependent in his own right would be entitled to the status of a nonimmigrant of the class described in section 101 (a) (15) (E) of the Immigration and Nationality Act were he applying for admission to the United States in such status in possession of appropriate documents; or unless at the time of the happening of any such event prior to December 24, 1952, the dependent in his own right at that time would have been entitled to the status of a nonimmigrant of the class described in section 3 (6) of the Immigration Act of 1924 were he applying for admission to United States in such status in possession of appropriate documents. Any such dependent who is entitled to a nonimmigrant status in his own right may be permitted to remain in the United States subject to the provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act and this part. If a dependent spouse establishes such eligibility, the child of such spouse may also be permitted to remain in the United States subject to the applicable provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act and this part. The fact that a dependent child establishes such eligibility shall not authorize the parent of such child to remain in the United States.

(c) Failure to submit a maintenance of status report in accordance with § 214e.6.

§ 214e.5 Additional documents required in support of application for an extension of temporary admission. A trader or dependent who applies for an extension of temporary admission shall attach to his application a maintenance of status report on Form I–126, properly executed and the supporting documents required by such form.

§ 214e.6 Trader and dependents admitted under Immigration Act of 1924. A trader or dependent admitted to the United States under the Immigration Act of 1924 without limitation of time shall make a report annually on the anniversary date of his original admission to the United States to the district direcschool, institution or place of study is tion or place of study in writing of his tor or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the place where the alien resides in the United States indicating whether he:

(a) Continues to be eligible for readmission to the country whence he came or for admission to some other country; and

(b) Has fulfilled and will continue to fulfill all the conditions prescribed by § 214.2 of this chapter.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 214e.61 Maintenance of status report—(a) Form. The maintenance of status report required by § 214e.6 shall be submitted on Form I–126, fully executed, and shall be accompanied by the alien's passport and by any Form 257a or I–94C issued to him at the time of his admission to the United States. All available data specified in Form I–126 shall be furnished by the alien.

(b) Disposition of report. After examination of the report and accompanying documents and after making such investigation as may be necessary, the district director or the officer in charge receiving the report shall determine whether the alien is complying with the conditions set forth in § 214.2 of this chapter. The decision of such officer shall be final and no appeal shall lie therefrom. If the alien is found to be complying with such conditions, the district director or the officer in charge shall note on the Form I–126 and on Form 257a or Form I–94C submitted by the alien or prepared for him as provided in § 221.3 (c) of this chapter the words "Status maintained" and the date of such determination. If the alien is found not to be complying with such conditions, such officer shall note on such forms the words "Status not maintained" and the date of such determination.

(c) Notice of decision. The Form 257a or Form I–94C shall be sent to the alien together with any passport submitted by him and shall constitute notice of the decision in the case. If the alien is found not to have maintained status, he shall also be informed that his departure from the United States within the time set forth in such notice is required.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

- 214f.51 Disposition of petition.
- 214f.71 Withdrawal of approval; procedure.

AUTHORITY: §§ 214f.1 to 214f.71 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply sec. 4, 43 Stat. 155, as amended, secs. 101, 214, 66 Stat. 166, 189; 8 U. S. C. 204.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 214f.1 Special prerequisites for admission. An alien, otherwise admissible to the United States as a nonimmigrant of the class described in section 101 (a) (15) (F) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, shall not be eligible for admission to the United States in such nonimmigrant classification unless he agrees that while in the United States he will not enroll in any institution or place of study other than the one he is authorized to attend without prior consent of the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the place in which is located the institution or place of study the alien is authorized to attend, and unless he establishes that:

(a) He has been accepted by and has definitely arranged to enter an established institution of learning or other recognized place of study in the United States as described in section 101 (a) (15) (F) of the Immigration and Nationality Act;

(b) He seeks to enter the United States temporarily and solely for the purpose of pursuing a full course of study in the institution or recognized place of study designated by him and approved pursuant to law;

(c) He will carry a course of studies consisting of a minimum of 12 semester hours or the equivalent thereof if he is an undergraduate student, or consisting of a full program of study of the scope and nature required by such institution or place of study if he is a graduate student or a student at an American institute of research recognized by the Attorney General;

(d) He has sufficient scholastic preparation and knowledge of the English language to enable him to undertake his intended course, as indicated by a written statement from the institution or place of study to which he is to be admitted; and

(e) He is or will be financially able, subject to the provisions of this part, to pursue such course of study.

§ 214f.2 Limitation on time for which admitted. An alien may be admitted initially to the United States as a nonimmigrant of the class described in section 101 (a) (15) (F) of the Immigration and Nationality Act for a period not to exceed one year.

§ 214f.3 Bond. A nonimmigrant of the class described in section 101 (a) (15) (F) of the Immigration and Nationality Act who is required to furnish a bond under § 214.3 or § 214.4 of this chapter shall do so on Form I–374.

§ 214f.4 Employment. (a) An alien admitted as a nonimmigrant of the class described in section 101 (a) (15) (F) of the Immigration and Nationality Act or as a nonquota immigrant of the class described in section 4 (e) of the Immigration Act of 1924 shall not be permitted to work during a school term either for wages or for board or lodging unless he does not have sufficient means to cover his necessary expenses. If such alien wishes to accept employment, he shall, before accepting such employment, apply on Form I–24 to the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the place in which is located the approved institution or place of study attended by the applicant for permission to accept such employment. If such district director is satisfied that the alien is meeting all the conditions and requirements of his status, that he does not have sufficient means to cover his expenses, and that the desired employment will not interfere with his carrying successfully a course of study of the required scope, he may grant permission to the alien to accept such employment.

(b) Whenever employment for practical training is required or recommended by the institution or place of study attended by the applicant, the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the place in which the institution is located may permit employment of the alien for a six-month period subject to extension for not over two additional six-month periods, but any such extension shall be granted only upon certification by the school and the training agency that the practical training cannot be completed in a shorter period of time.

§ 214f.5 Petition for approval. Any institution of learning or other recognized place of study desiring the approval required by section 101 (a) (15) (F) of the Immigration and Nationality Act may file with the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the place in which the institution or place of study is located a petition for such approval on Form I–17 executed by the principal officer of such institution or place of study authorized to execute contracts. The district director, after consultation with the Office of Education of the United States, may approve the petition if he is satisfied that the petitioning institution or place of study:

(a) Is a bona fide institution of learning or recognized place of study; and

(b) Possesses the necessary facilities and is otherwise qualified for the instruction of students in recognized courses; and

(c) If it is engaged in the field of secondary education, that it qualifies graduates for acceptance to accredited schools of higher education; or

(d) If it is engaged in the field of higher education, that it

(1) Confers upon its graduates recognized bachelor, master, doctor, professional, or divinity degrees; or

(2) Does not confer such degrees but its credits are recognized by and transferable to an institution or place of study which does confer such degrees; or

(3) Is an American institute of research recognized by the Attorney General.

§ 214f.6 Approval of certain elementary and high schools. Any school, institution of learning or place of study located within a district adjacent to the land borders of the United States, which is recognized or accredited for academic study by the United States Office of Education or by the appropriate urban, county or State educational agency, and which agrees to report in writing to the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the place where such school, institution or place of study is located the enrollment and termination of attendance of each nonimmigrant student, shall be regarded as having been approved in accordance with section 101 (a) (15) (F) of the Immigration and Nationality Act up to and including the senior year of high school or its equivalent, for the attendance of nonimmigrant students who have their residence in foreign contiguous territory and who return daily or weekly to such residence.

§ 214f.7 Withdrawal of approval. Approval granted under section 101 (a) (15) (F) of the Immigration and Nationality Act or section 4 (e) of the Immigration Act of 1924 to an institution of learning or place of study which fails, neglects, or refuses to comply with all the terms of its agreement or with the provisions of § 214f.5 or § 214f.6, whichever is applicable, and section 101 (a) (15) (F) of the Immigration and Nationality Act may be revoked by the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the place in which such institution or place of study is located.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 214f.51 Disposition of petition. A district director receiving a petition may, after consultation with the Office of Education of the United States, approve the petition if he is satisfied that the petition should be approved. If the district director is not so satisfied, he shall deny the petition. The petitioner shall be notified in writing of the decision and, if the petition has been denied, of the reasons therefor and that the petitioner has 10 days from receipt of notification of decision in which it may appeal to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, in accordance with the provisions of Part 7 of this chapter.

§ 214f.71 Withdrawal of approval; procedure. Whenever a district director having administrative jurisdiction over the place in which an approved institution of learning or place of study is located has reason to believe that such institution or place of study has failed, neglected, or refused to comply with all the terms of its agreement and with the provisions of § 214f.5 or § 214f.6, whichever is applicable, and section 101 (a) (15) (F) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, he shall cause a notice to be sent to such institution or place of study that it is proposed within 30 days of the delivery of the notice to enter a decision withdrawing the approval previously granted for reasons set forth in the notice. Within such 30-day period the institution or place of study may submit to the district director written representations, under oath and supported by documentary evidence, setting forth reasons why the approval should not be withdrawn. The period within which such representations may be submitted may be extended in the discretion of the district director upon timely request for such extension. After consideration of the facts presented, the district director shall notify the institution or place of study in writing of his decision and, if said decision is to withdraw the approval previously granted, the reasons therefor and that the institution or place of study has 10 days from receipt of notification of decision in which it may appeal to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, in accordance with the provisions of Part 7 of this chapter. If a decision withdrawing approval is made, the officer making such decision shall simultaneously make such provision as he deems appropriate with regard to the case of any alien attending such institution or place of study under section 101 (a) (15) (F) of the Immigration and Nationality Act or section 4 (e) of the Immigration Act of 1924.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
- 214g.1 Acceptance of classification.
- 214g.2 Limitation as to time for which alien may be admitted.
- 214g.3 Bond.
- 214g.4 Failure to maintain status.
- 214g.5 Additional documents required in support of application for an extension of temporary stay.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

AUTHORITY: §§ 214g.1 to 214g.5 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply sec. 3, 43 Stat. 154, as amended, secs. 101, 214, 235, 66 Stat. 168, 189, 198; 8 U. S. C. 203.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 214g.1 Acceptance of classification. Whenever an alien who applies for admission to the United States as a nonimmigrant of one of the classes described in section 101 (a) (15) (G) of the Immigration and Nationality Act presents to the examining immigration officer at a port of entry to the United States a valid unexpired nonimmigrant visa duly issued to him by a consular officer under such classification, the immigration officer shall accept the consular officer's classification of the alien and admit the alien, if he is otherwise admissible to the United States, unless specifically directed to the contrary by the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, after consultation with the Department of State, in which event the examining officer shall take further action as provided in section 235 of the Immigration and Nationality Act. For the purposes of this part, the term "immediate family" as used in section 101 (a) (15) (G) of the Immigration and Nationality Act means aliens who are closely related to the principal alien by blood, marriage, or adoption and who reside regularly in the household of the principal alien.

§ 214g.2 Limitation as to time for which alien may be admitted. The period of alien's admission to the United States as a nonimmigrant of the class described in section 101 (a) (15) (G) (i), (ii), (iii), or (iv) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall not exceed such time as the Secretary of State continues to recognize him as a member of such class. An alien of the class described in clause (v) of section 101 (a) (15) (G) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall not be admitted initially to the United States for more than one year.

§ 214g.3 Bond. Nonimmigrants of the class described in section 101 (a) (15) (G) (v) of the Immigration and Nationality Act who are required to furnish bonds under § 214.3 or § 214.4 shall do so on Form I–325.

§ 214g.4 Failure to maintain status. At such time as any representative, officer, or employee described in clauses (i) to (iv) inclusive of section 101 (a) (15) (G) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, or any representative, officer, or employee of an international organization as described in section 3 (7) of the Immigration Act of 1924, as amended, is ineligible under the Immigration and Nationality Act and this chapter to remain in the United States in the status of such representative, officer or employee, any alien member of the immediate family of such representative, officer, or employee, any attendant, servant or personal employee of any such representative, officer or employee, and any member of the immediate family of such attendant, servant, or personal employee who has nonimmigrant status pursuant to section 101 (a) (15) (G) of the Immigration and Nationality Act or section 3 (7) of the Immigration Act of 1924, as amended, shall be regarded as having failed to maintain such status. This section shall not be construed as setting forth the sole ground on which the persons herein described may be regarded as having failed to maintain such status.

§ 214g.5 Additional documents required in support of application for an extension of temporary stay. An alien having the status of a nonimmigrant of the class described in section 101 (a) (15) (G) (v) of the Immigration and Nationality Act or having the status of an attendant, servant, or personal employee of any representative, officer, or employee of an international organization pursuant to the provisions of section 3 (7) of the Immigration Act of 1924, as amended, who applies for an extension of his temporary stay in such status shall attach to his application a written statement from the representative, officer, or employee of the international organization describing the current and intended employment of the alien.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 214h.1 Limitation as to time for which alien may be admitted. An alien of the classes described in section 101 (a) (15) (H) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be admitted to the United States for such period, not to exceed one year, as may be authorized by the district director or the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, in granting a petition to import such alien.

§ 214h.2 Bond. Nonimmigrants of the classes described in section 101 (a) (15) (H) of the Immigration and Nationality Act who are required to furnish bonds under § 214.3 or § 214.4 shall do so on Form I–337, or I–320, whichever in the opinion of the district director or the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, is appropriate, and shall be in an amount specified by such officer.

§ 214h.3 Special prerequisites for admission. An alien of any of the classes described in section 101 (a) (15) (H) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall not be admitted to the United States unless he establishes to the satisfaction of the admitting officer that he is destined in good faith to a petitioner whose petition for such alien's importation has been filed and approved in accordance with the provisions of section 214 (c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and this part, and that he is entering the United States in good faith to perform the services, labor, or training specified in the petition.

§ 214h.4 Petition. The petition required by section 214 (c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be filed under oath in duplicate on Form I–129B.

§ 214h.5 Additional documents required in support of an application for an extension of temporary admission. The temporary stay of an alien in the United States as a nonimmigrant of any of the classes described in section 101 (a) (15) (H) of the Immigration and Nationality Act may be extended on application filed by the employer or trainer of such alien.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 214h.41 Petition to import—(a) Form and procedure. A petition to import an alien as a nonimmigrant of the classes described in section 101 (a) (15) (H) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be submitted by the employer or trainer with such documentary or other evidentiary matter establishing the alien's eligibility for the classification as a nonimmigrant of the classes described in section 101 (a) (15) (H) and, if the alien is to enter under clause (ii) of said section, there shall be attached to, and made a part of, the petition a clearance order bearing a statement from the United States Employment Service, that (i) qualified workers of the kind proposed to be imported are not available within the United States, and (ii) the Employment Service policies have been observed: Provided, That a clearance card issued by the Employment Service of the Territory of Guam shall, in the case of a petition to import laborers for employment in Guam, be accepted in lieu of that issued by the United States Employment Service.

(b) Petition to import more than one alien. An employer who desires to import more than one alien may file a single petition on Form I–129B and include thereon all of the prospective nonimmigrants provided the prospective nonimmigrants included in any petition are proceeding from the same place of origin and are destined to the United States for the purpose of performing the same type of services.

(c) Disposition. The provisions of § 204.11 of this chapter shall govern the disposition of petitions filed under the provisions of this part.

§ 214h.51 Application for extension of temporary admission; form and procedure. Application for extension of temporary stay of an alien having a nonimmigrant classification described in section 101 (a) (15) (H) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be made in writing by the alien's employer or trainer under oath and shall include a statement describing the current and intended employment or training of the alien and, when originally required by § 214h.41, clearance from the United States Employment Service establishing that the facts which justified the importation of the alien under the Immigration and Nationality Act continue to exist. An employer or trainer who desires an extension of temporary stay for more than one alien may file a single application and include therein all of the nonimmigrants. If more than one nonimmigrant is included on a single application, it shall be regarded as a separate application for each such nonimmigrant for the purposes of Part 2 of this chapter, and a fee in an amount equal to $10 for each such nonimmigrant shall be submitted with the application.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

AUTHORITY: §§ 214i.1 to 214i.5 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 101, 214, 66 Stat. 168, 189.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 214i.1 Limitation as to time for which alien may be admitted. An alien admitted to the United States as a nonimmigrant of the class described in section 101 (a) (15) (I) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be admitted initially for a period fixed by the admitting officer not to exceed one year.

§ 214i.2 Bonds. Nonimmigrants of the class described in section 101 (a) (15) (I) who are required to furnish bond under § 214.3 or § 214.4 of this chapter shall do so on Form I–337.

§ 214i.3 Special conditions of admission. A nonimmigrant of the class described in section 101 (a) (15) (I) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be admitted to the United States on condition that (a) he will not change the information medium or his employer by which he is accredited unless and until he obtains consent to do so from the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the district in which the alien resides in the United States, and (b) he will depart from the United States at such time as the Secretary of State determines that the reciprocity required by section 101 (a) (15) (I) of the Immigration and Nationality Act has ceased to exist. For the purposes of section 101 (a) (15) (I) and this part, reciprocity shall be deemed to exist when the alien is accredited by a foreign information medium having its home office in a foreign country, the government of which grants similar privileges to representatives of such information medium with home offices in the United States, except that when the information medium is owned, operated, subsidized, or controlled by a foreign government, directly or indirectly, the reciprocity required shall be accorded by such foreign government.

§ 214i.4 Failure to maintain status. At such time as an alien of the class described in section 101 (a) (15) (I) of the Immigration and Nationality Act is ineligible under the Act and this chapter to remain in the United States in such status, the members of such alien's family having nonimmigrant status as such under section 101 (a) (15) (I) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be regarded as having failed to maintain such status. This section shall not be construed as setting forth the sole ground on which the persons herein described may be regarded as having failed to maintain status.

§ 214i.5 Additional documents required in support of application for an extension of temporary admission. An alien admitted to the United States as a nonimmigrant of the class described in section 101 (a) (15) (I) of the Immigration and Nationality Act who applies for an extension of his temporary admission shall attach to his application a statement in writing from his employer establishing that the alien is a representative of a foreign information medium in the United States and setting forth the alien's current and intended activities and the reasons for the extension.

AUTHORITY: §§ 214j.1 to 214j.6 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply sec. 3, 43 Stat. 154, sec. 201, 62 Stat. 7, secs. 101, 214, 248, 402, 66 Stat. 167, 189, 218, 275; 8 U. S. C. 203, 22 U. S. C. 1446, 18 U. S. C. 1546.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 214j.1 Definition. As used in this part the term "exchange alien" means (a) an alien admitted to the United States prior to December 24, 1952, pursuant to section 201 of the United States Information and Educational Exchange Act of 1948 as a nonimmigrant under section 3 (2) of the Immigration Act of 1924 or, (b) an alien admitted or seeking admission to the United States pursuant to section 201 of the United States Information and Educational Exchange Act of 1948, as amended, as a nonimmigrant under section 101 (a) (15) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

§ 214j.2 Limitation as to time for which alien may be admitted. An alien applying for admission to the United States as a nonimmigrant under section 201 of the United States Information and Educational Exchange Act of 1948, as amended, whose visa by its own terms indicates that it was issued under that Act, and who is otherwise admissible to the United States, may be admitted for the period specified in a written agreement, commitment, guarantee, or similar paper made or executed by such alien's approved sponsor or intended employer and presented by such alien at the port where he applies for admission to the United States, not to exceed one year.

§ 214j.3 Bonds. Exchange aliens shall not be required to furnish bond under § 214.3 or § 214.4 of this chapter.

§ 214j.4 Special condition of admission. A nonimmigrant of the class described in this part shall be admitted on the condition that he agrees not to apply for (a) a change of the nonimmigrant status under which he is admitted to any other class or classes of nonimmigrant pursuant to section 248 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, or (b) adjustment of status to that of a permanent resident pursuant to section 245 of said Act.

§ 214j.5 Employment. An exchange alien may accept remunerative employment in the United States only if it is consistent with the purpose of the United States Information and Educational Exchange Act of 1948, as amended.

§ 214j.6 Extension of temporary admission; additional documents required in support of application. An exchange alien who applies for an extension of his temporary admission shall, in addition to the documents required by § 214.41, submit with his application a statement in writing from his approved sponsor or employer specifying the period of extension desired, the terms of the alien's present and intended work or employment in behalf of his sponsor or employer, and the reasons for the extension.

AUTHORITY: §§ 221.1 to 221.6 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 214, 221, 231, 238, 252, 289, 66 Stat. 189, 191, 195, 203, 220, 234.

CROSS REFERENCE: For disposition of entry documents of alien crewmen see Parts 251 and 252 of this chapter.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 221.1 Forms 256a and I–132; presentation of. An alien applying for admission to the United States for permanent residence who is in possession of a Form 256a or Form I–132 shall present such form to the examining immigration officer.

§ 221.2 Nonimmigrant visa Forms 257a—(a) Action at time of entry. An alien applying for admission to the United States who is in possession of a set of Forms 257 shall surrender such forms to the examining immigration officer. If the alien is admitted, the Form 257a shall be noted to show the data as to the admission and returned to the alien by the admitting officer.

(b) Action at time of departure. Except as specifically provided in this paragraph, an alien admitted upon presentation of a set of Forms 257, shall, at the time of his departure from the United States, surrender the Form 257a in his possession to the representative of the transportation company as provided in §§ 231.31 (a) and 231.42 (a) of this chapter; or, if those sections do not apply and the alien is departing to Canada, to the Canadian Immigration Officer for delivery to the appropriate United States Immigration Officer; or in any other case to the United States Immigration Officer at the port of departure. The Form 257a need not be surrendered:

(1) Until the departure from the United States of the last of the persons named thereon, if more than one person is included on the same Form 257a and all persons named thereon do not depart from the United States at the same time or at the same port;

(2) By any alien (including a citizen or resident of Mexico) who, during his temporary visit in the United States proceeds to Mexico for a visit of not more than 30 days, after which visit he intends to reenter the United States for the remainder of the period of his original temporary admission;

(3) By an alien departing as a cruise passenger as defined in § 231.1 (c) of this chapter;

(4) In any other case in which the Commissioner has instructed immigration officers to waive or defer the surrender of such form.

(c) Return of Form 257a to alien. If the Form 257a surrendered by an alien at the time of his departure from the United States bears a passport visa valid for more than one entry to the United States and with enough of the period of validity remaining to enable the alien to use the visa for an additional entry or reentries to the United States, he may request the Commissioner in writing to return the Form 257a to him. If the Commissioner deems it appropriate and proper, he may grant the request and return the Form 257a to such alien.

§ 221.3 Form I–94—(a) Action at time of entry; preparation and presentation. An alien applying for admission to the United States who is in possession of a set of Forms I–94 shall surrender such forms to the examining immigration officer. A person applying for admission to the United States who is in possession of a Form I–94F shall surrender such form to the examining immigration officer. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, immigration officers at all ports of entry shall, without regard to whether the applying alien is admitted or held for further inquiry before a special inquiry officer, prepare a set of Forms I–94 for each alien applying for admission to the United States as a nonimmigrant who does not present a full set of Forms 257 or a full set of Forms I–94. If the alien is admitted, the Form I–94C shall be noted to show the data as to the admission and shall be returned to the alien by the admitting officer.

(b) When not prepared by immigration officer. Immigration officers shall not prepare a set of Forms I–94 for the following-described classes of aliens:

(1) A Canadian citizen or a British subject who has his residence in Canada, is admitted to the United States from contiguous territory or adjacent islands under a waiver of the nonimmigrant visa requirement unless:

(i) He is admitted for more than six months; or

(ii) Bond is required; or

(iii) Verification of departure is desired; or

(iv) The facts of the particular case are such that a record on Form I–94 is deemed advisable.

(2) An alien applying for admission who presents a nonimmigrant alien's border crossing identification card, whether he is admitted or held for further inquiry before a special inquiry officer.

(3) An alien applies for admission at a seaport of entry, is held for further inquiry before a special inquiry officer, and is not admitted.

(4) An alien for whom a Form I–94F was prepared in connection with preexamination and he is admitted upon presentation of that form.

(5) Members of the armed forces of the United States or of any country allied with the United States, traveling under orders, who are admitted to the United States under the auspices of, and under advance arrangements made with, the Department of Defense, provided a nominal roll or list of such aliens is furnished to, or obtained by, the examining immigration officer.

(6) An alien (including a citizen or resident of Mexico) who during his temporary visit in the United States, proceeds to Mexico for a visit of not more than 30 days, returns to the United States from Mexico within such period, and presents the Form 257a or the Form I–94C which he was permitted to retain at the time of his visit to Mexico.

(7) Aliens who are residents, but are not citizens of, Canada or Mexico are permitted to retain Form I–94C on departing from the United States, and continue to use that form for re-entry to the United States for the period of the validity of the nonimmigrant visa or such shorter period fixed in their case.

(8) An alien American Indian born in Canada who is within the scope of section 289 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, and who is admitted temporarily unless it appears that a record of his admission will be required at a later date.

(9) An alien who returns to the United States as a cruise passenger as defined in § 231.1 (c) of this chapter.

(c) Issuance of Form I–94 upon application for extension of temporary admission or with report of maintenance of status. A set of Forms I–94 shall be prepared for each alien who applies for an extension of the period of temporary admission or who submits a report of maintenance of status under § 214e.6 of this chapter, and who does not submit a Form 257a or I–94C with his application or report because he claims to have lost such form issued to him previously or because such form had not been issued to him. Such forms shall be prepared in the office of the Service receiving the application or report without regard to the action taken on the application or report. The Form I–94C appropriately noted shall be delivered to the alien as his notice of the decision on such application or report.

(d) Action at time of departure. Except as otherwise specifically provided in this paragraph, at the time of departure from the United States of an alien who is in possession of a Form I–94C, the alien shall surrender such form (i) to the representative of the transportation company as provided in §§ 231.31 (a) and 231.42 (a) of this chapter, or (ii) if those sections do not apply and the alien is departing to Canada to the Canadian Immigration Officer for delivery to the appropriate United States immigration officer; or (iii) in any other case to the United States immigration officer at the port of departure. If a departing alien is in possession of a Form 257a and a Form I–94C both forms shall be surrendered. The Form I–94C need not be surrendered:

(1) Until the departure from the United States of the last of the persons named thereon, if more than one person is included on the same Form I–94C and all persons named thereon do not depart from the United States at the same time or at the same port;

(2) By any alien (including a citizen or resident of Mexico) who, during his temporary visit to the United States proceeds to Mexico for a visit of not more than 30 days, after which visit he intends to reenter the United States for the remainder of the period of his original temporary admission;

(3) By an alien departing as a cruise passenger as defined in § 231.1 (c) of this chapter;

(4) In any other case in which the Commissioner has instructed immigration officers to waive or defer the surrender of such form.

(e) Visa application number. If an alien for whom a set of Forms I–94 is prepared as provided in this section presents a nonimmigrant visa, the visa application number (including any letters which are a part thereof) shall be noted on all copies of the Form I–94 in the box entitled "Travel Documents Presented".

§ 221.4 Form I–419; disposition. For each alien applying for the privilege of direct transit through the United States under section 238 (d) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the master, commanding officer, or authorized agent of the vessel or aircraft on which the alien arrives shall surrender to the examining immigration officer at the port of arrival in the United States the set of Forms I–419 prepared for the alien by the transportation line. If the alien is found qualified to pass through the United States in transit, the examining immigration officer shall note on the Forms I–419 the date and place of the alien's arrival in the United States, and deliver the Forms I–419a and I–419b to the representative of the transportation line which brought the alien to the United States. Such forms shall be retained by the person in charge of the conveyance on which the alien is to be conveyed to the port of departure and shall be surrendered to the immigration officer at such port. The immigration officer shall note thereon the facts concerning the departure of the alien and shall return the Form I–419b to the person presenting it or to the transportation line he represents.

§ 221.5 Immigrants; surrender of documents upon departure. Whenever an alien who is in possession of Form I–151 or any other form of alien registration receipt card, or who is in possession of an immigrant identification card, resident alien's border crossing identification card (Form I–187), certificate of registry, or certificate of lawful entry, departs permanently from the United States, he shall surrender such cards and certificates to an immigration officer at the time of his departure.

§ 221.6 Form I–95; surrender by alien departing other than as a crewman. At the time of the departure from the United States of an alien who is in possession of a Form I–95A, the alien, if departing from the United States other than as a member of the crew, shall surrender such form to the representative of the transportation company as provided in §§ 231.31 (a) and 231.42 (a) of this chapter, or, if those sections do not apply and the alien is departing to Canada, to the Canadian immigration officer for delivery to the appropriate United States immigration officer at the port of departure. If such a departing alien is in possession of a Form 257a and the Form I–95A both forms shall be surrendered unless the Form 257a bears a valid nonimmigrant visa issued to him as a crewman pursuant to section 101 (a) (15) (D) of the Immigration and Nationality Act with enough of the period of validity remaining to enable the alien to use the visa for an additional voyage or voyages to the United States as a crewman.

223.11 Application.
223.12 Reentry permit.
223.13 Disposition of reentry permit.

AUTHORITY: §§ 223.1 to 223.13 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply sec. 223, 66 Stat. 194.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 223.1 Issuance and extension of reentry permits. Subject to the provisions of this part, district directors shall issue reentry permits under section 223 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, and shall grant extensions of the period of validity of such permits.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 223.11 Application—(a) Contents; form; submission. An application for a reentry permit under the provisions of section 223 of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be executed under oath and be submitted on Form I–131, in duplicate, with two photographs of the applicant. An application for a reentry permit shall not be accepted from an applicant who is not within the United States. An application for a reentry permit shall be submitted to the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the applicant's place of residence in the United States. In emergent cases, the application may be submitted to the office of the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the place where the applicant may be at the time of his application, and may be acted upon by such district director even though he may not have administrative jurisdiction over the applicant's place of residence. The application shall include, but shall not be limited to, the following information with respect to the applicant: (1) Name currently used; (2) address in the United States; (3) place and date of birth; (4) alien registration number; (5) occupation and description of business activities in the United States; (6) date, place and manner of lawful admission to the United States for permanent residence, or admission to the United States as a treaty merchant; (7) name used at time of arrival; (8) father's name and mother's maiden name; (9) name and address of person to whom he was destined at time of admission to the United States; (10) by whom accompanied at time of such admission; (11) country of which applicant is a citizen, subject, or national; (12) date, place, and manner of last arrival in the United States; (13) name used at the time of last arrival; (14) marital status on the date of filing application, and if married the name and address of spouse; (15) present personal description; (16) name of employer; (17) port and date of proposed departure, name of vessel or other means of transportation on which he is departing, length of proposed absence, and reasons for going abroad; and (18) temporary address abroad.

(b) When filed. An application for a reentry permit shall be filed at least 30 days before the proposed date of the applicant's departure.

(c) Action on application. If the district director is satisfied (1) that the applicant meets the eligibility requirements contained in section 223 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, (2) that the application is made in good faith, and (3) that the alien's proposed departure from the United States would not be contrary to the interests of the United States, he shall grant the application and issue the permit, which shall be valid for the time thereon specified, not to exceed one year. If the district director is not satisfied that the application should be granted he shall deny it. The applicant shall be notified in writing of the decision with the reasons therefor, unless the disclosure of the reasons would, in the opinion of the district director, be prejudicial to the public interest, safety or security, in which event the reasons shall not be stated. At that time, the applicant shall be advised that he has 10 days from the date of receipt of notification of the decision in which he may appeal to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division. If on such appeal the application is granted, the Assistant Commissioner shall notify the district director and the permit shall be issued by that officer. Notice to an applicant to call for the delivery of the permit shall constitute notice to him of the favorable decision made in the case, either initially or on appeal. If the application is denied and no appeal is taken, or is denied on appeal, the fee shall be returned to the applicant.

§ 223.12 Reentry permit—(a) Form. Reentry permits shall be issued on Form I–132, shall indicate whether they are issued under paragraph (a) (1) or (a) (2) of section 223 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, and the period of validity. In any case in which a reentry permit is valid for readmission only to Hawaii, such limitation shall be noted conspicuously on the face of the Form I–132.

(b) Period of validity; extensions. A reentry permit shall be valid for such period as the district director granting the application shall authorize, not to exceed one year from the date of issuance. An application for extension of a reentry permit shall be addressed to and filed with the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the applicant's place of residence in the United States. Such application shall be in writing and shall state (1) the applicant's name and address in the United States; (2) when, where, and the manner in which he departed from the United States; (3) port of landing and date of his arrival abroad; (4) countries visited by him in the order visited; (5) his reasons for requesting an extension and the period for which the extension is desired; and (6) his address to which the permit is to be returned. The application shall be executed under oath and shall be accompanied by the reentry permit sought to be extended. If executed in the United States the application may be sworn to or before any officer generally authorized to administer oaths, or before an immigration officer, without fee. If executed abroad it shall be executed before a consular officer. If the district director is satisfied that the period of validity should be extended, he may grant an extension for such period as to him shall appear appropriate, in no event, however, to exceed one year from the original expiration date. The extended period shall be noted on the permit, which shall be delivered to the applicant in person or by mail, or, if the applicant is outside the United States, the permit shall be forwarded to a consular officer abroad for delivery to the applicant. If the district director concludes that the requested extension should not be granted, he shall forward the application for the extension and all related papers to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division for decision. If the extension is granted by the Assistant Commissioner, the application and related papers shall be returned to the office of origin. The district director shall thereupon appropriately note the permit and forward it to the applicant in the manner provided herein. If the extension is denied, the fee shall be refunded, and the permit shall be returned to the applicant in the manner provided herein if the remaining period of its validity permits its use for return to the United States. Any number of extensions may be granted provided the period of validity does not extend beyond one year from the original expiration date of the permit.

(c) Delivery. The reentry permit shall be forwarded to the office of the Service designated by the applicant in the application, and the applicant shall obtain it from that office in person prior to his departure from the United States, except as provided in paragraph (d) of this section. The officer effecting delivery of the permit shall require the person calling for it to identify himself as the applicant, and, in the event minor discrepancies have been noted by the issuing officer, the officer effecting delivery shall obtain satisfactory explanation from the applicant as to such discrepancies. The applicant shall sign his name on the permit in the presence of the delivering officer. The officer making delivery shall place his signature in such manner that it shall cover part of the photograph and part of the permit. If for any reason it is concluded that the permit should not be delivered, it shall be returned to the district office of origin with a report of the reasons for nondelivery. In the event it is then determined on the basis of such report or upon reconsideration of the application that the permit should not be issued, the application shall be denied in the same manner as though it had not been granted previously and the applicant shall have the same right to appeal.

(d) Emergent cases. If the applicant satisfactorily establishes that a bona fide emergency exists requiring his departure from the United States before a permit can be issued and delivered, the permit, if issued, may be forwarded to a consular officer abroad for delivery to the applicant in the manner prescribed in paragraph (c). The applicant shall be informed that the acceptance of his application does not assure the issuance of the permit.

(e) Registrants under Selective Service Act. No reentry permit or extension thereof shall be issued or granted to any alien who is legally subject to registration for service in the armed forces in the United States unless the applicant shall present a permit from his local Selective Service Board to depart from the United States. A reentry permit issued to such an alien may be made valid for a period which will coincide with the period of absence authorized by the local board, except that in no instance shall the period exceed one year. For reasons which may appear appropriate to the issuing district director, the period of validity of the reentry permit may be for a shorter period than the period of absence authorized by the local board.

§ 223.13 Disposition of reentry permit—(a) Upon application for admission. The holder of a reentry permit applying for readmission into the United States shall present the permit to the examining immigration officer at the port of arrival, who, if he finds that the alien is the rightful holder of the permit, that the permit has not expired, and that the alien is otherwise admissible, shall note thereon the disposition of the alien's application for readmission. If the alien is admitted and the period of validity of the permit has not expired, the permit shall be returned to the alien. If the alien is not admitted, the reentry permit shall be retained in the custody of the Service pending final disposition of the alien's application for admission. If the alien is ultimately excluded the permit shall be returned to the issuing office for appropriate disposition.

(b) Upon expiration. Upon the expiration of the period of validity of a re-entry permit, the permit shall be surrendered by the holder to the issuing office. If any such expired permit has not been surrendered to the Service, no subsequent reentry permit shall be issued to the same alien unless he shall first surrender the expired permit, or satisfactorily account for his failure so to do.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 231.1 Definitions. As used in this part:

(a) The term "through passenger" means a passenger, whether an alien or a national of the United States, (1) who has engaged through passage from one foreign country to another or to the same foreign country on a vessel which calls en route at one or more ports of entry of the United States, (2) who may desire to visit ashore at one or more of such ports of call while the vessel is in port, (3) who will leave such port on the same vessel, (4) who presents whatever document or documents are required for such admission, and (5) who is admissible to the United States.

(b) The term "shore leave" means the permission that is granted by the examining immigration officer to an alien through passenger to go ashore only for the time the vessel on which such passenger arrives remains in port, conditioned upon such passenger departing from such port on the same vessel at the time of its departure.

(c) The term "cruise passenger" means a passenger, whether an alien or a national of the United States, who has engaged passage on a vessel which does not proceed outside the Western Hemisphere and whose journey originates and terminates at the same United States port on the same vessel and without stopover at any foreign port beyond the time the vessel is in such port.

§ 231.2 Arrival manifests and lists for vessels—(a) Forms. Forms I–415 and I–416 shall be used to manifest passengers arriving by vessel at a port of the United States. Except as hereinafter provided for members of a family, the Form I–415 shall be used to manifest alien passengers and Form I–416 shall be used to manifest passengers who are citizens or nationals of the United States. The headings of Forms I–415 and I–416 shall show the manifest or list number, number or other designation of class, port and date of embarkation, name of vessel, and port and date of arrival. Each form shall show the title or position of the person preparing it and the name and address of the local agent of the vessel.

(1) Form I–415—Manifest of Inbound Passengers (Aliens). The heading for column 1 shall be "Family Name—Given name"; column 2, "Travel Document No.; Nationality"; column 3, "Number and Description of Pieces of Baggage"; column 4, "This column for use of Master, Surgeon, and U. S. Officers".

(2) Form I–416—List of Inbound Passengers (U. S. Citizens and Nationals). The heading for column 1 shall be "Family Name—Given name"; column 2, "U. S. Passport No.—Place of Birth"; column 3, "Number and Description of Pieces of Baggage"; column 4, "This column for use of Master, Surgeon and U. S. Officers".

(b) Waiver. An arrival passenger manifest or list shall not be required for a vessel on a trip solely between Canada and the continental United States or Alaska.

(c) Report of passengers on board vessels traveling between ports of the United States. The master or agent of a vessel which arrives at a port in the continental United States or at a port in any other place under the jurisdiction of the United States without touching at a foreign port, on a voyage originating in Hawaii, Alaska, Guam, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands of the United States, shall submit in writing to the United States immigration officer at the port of arrival, the name, nationality, and residence of each passenger on board such vessel.

§ 231.3 Departure manifests and lists for vessels—(a) Forms. Except as provided in this part for through passengers, Forms I–434 and I–435 shall be used to manifest passengers departing on vessels from ports of the United States. Form I–434 shall be used to manifest alien passengers and I–435 shall be used to manifest passengers who are citizens or nationals of the United States. The headings of Forms I–434 and I–435 shall show the manifest or list number, port and date of sailing from the United States, name of steamship, and foreign port of destination.

(1) Form I–434—Manifest of Outward-Bound Passengers (Aliens). The heading for column 1 shall be "Family Name—Given Name"; column 2, "Travel Document No."; no heading for column 3 is prescribed.

On the back of the form there shall be the following affidavit:

I, ---------- (Name) ---------- (Title)
of the S. S. ---------- bound for ---------- do solemnly swear that, according to the best of my knowledge and belief, all passengers who departed on the said vessel, numbering ---------, are listed in the foregoing lists Nos. ------ to ------ and manifests Nos. ------ to ------, that concerning each the information recorded is correct, full, and complete in every respect; and that for each alien passenger listed there is, when required by regulations, attached to the said manifests and made a part thereof either a Foreign Service Form 257a or a Form I–94, I–424, or I–100a.

---------- (Name)
---------- (Title)

Sworn to before me this ------ day of ----------, 19----, at ----------.

(2) Form I–435—List of Outward-Bound Passengers (U. S. Citizens and Nationals). The heading for column 1 shall be "Family Name—Given Name"; column 2, "U. S. Passport No."; column 3, "Place of Birth; Date and Place of Naturalization"; column 4, "Length of Time Passenger Intends to Remain Abroad and Country of Destination".

On the back of Form I–435 there shall be the following affidavit:

I, ---------- (Name) ---------- (Title)
of the S.S. ---------- bound for ----------
do solemnly swear that, according to the best of my knowledge and belief, all passengers who departed on the said vessel, numbering ---------, are listed in the foregoing lists Nos. ------ to ------ and that concerning each the information recorded is correct, full, and complete in every respect.

(3) Form I–424; report of departure of alien. The Form I–424 shall contain the following information regarding the passenger: name, occupation, last address in the United States, date and place of birth, nationality, whether male or female, whether married, single, widowed or divorced, destination abroad, purpose and length of intended stay abroad, date and place of last entry into United States, whether such entry was as a permanent resident or for temporary stay, date and port of departure from United States and name of departing vessel or aircraft, the sheet and line number of the outgoing manifest on which his name appears, and any "V" or "T" number that may be shown in his passport or, if in possession of a reentry permit, the file number appearing in the upper right-hand corner thereof.

(b) Waiver. A departure passenger manifest or list shall not be required for a vessel on a trip solely between Canada and the continental United States or Alaska.

§ 231.4 Arrival manifests for aircraft—(a) Forms. Form I–466 shall be used to manifest passengers arriving by aircraft except that whenever the number of such passengers does not exceed the number that can be listed in the space provided for the manifesting of passengers on Customs Form 7507, such passengers may be manifested on such form in lieu of Form I–466 but in accordance with all other provisions of § 231.41.

(1) Form I–466—Air passengers manifest. The heading shall show the name of the owner or operator, aircraft registration marks and nationality, flight number, date, port of embarkation, and port of disembarkation. Each such form shall show the title or position of the person preparing it. The heading for column 1 shall be, "Surname—Given name—Middle initial"; column 2, "For use of owner; operator only"; and column 3, "For official use only".

(b) Waiver. Arrival passenger manifests shall not be required for an aircraft arriving directly in the continental United States or Alaska on a trip which originated in Canada or the French islands of St. Pierre or Miquelon.

(c) Report of passengers on board aircraft traveling between airports of the United States. The commanding officer or agent of an aircraft which arrives at an airport in the continental United States or at an airport in any other place under the jurisdiction of the United States without touching at a foreign port, on a flight originating in Hawaii, Alaska, Guam, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands of the United States, shall submit in writing to the United States immigration officer at the airport of arrival, the surname, given name, and middle initial of each passenger on board such aircraft.

§ 231.5 Departure manifests for aircraft—(a) Forms. Form I–466 shall be used to mainfest passengers departing by aircraft.

(1) Form I–466—Air passenger manifests. The air passenger manifest shall be on the same form and shall contain the same information as prescribed in § 231.41.

(b) Waiver. Departure air passenger manifest shall not be required for an aircraft departing directly from the continental United States or Alaska for Canada or the French Islands of St. Pierre or Miquelon.

§ 231.6 Ports of entry for aliens arriving by vessel or by land transportation. Subject to the limitations prescribed in this section, the following places are hereby designated as ports of entry for aliens arriving by any means of travel other than aircraft. Such ports are listed according to location by districts. The designations of such ports are divided into three classes—Class A, Class B, and Class C. Class A means that the port is a designated port of entry for all aliens. Class B means that the port is a designated port of entry only for aliens who at the time of applying for admission are lawfully in possession of valid and unexpired resident aliens' border crossing identification cards or valid nonresident aliens' border crossing cards, or are admissible without documents under the waiver of documents contained in this chapter. Class C means that the port is a designated port of entry only for aliens who are arriving in the United States as crewmen as that term is defined in section 101 (a) (10) of the Immigration and Nationality Act with respect to vessels.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 231.21 Arrival manifests and lists for vessels; general directions for preparation—(a) Alien manifests. Separate Form or Forms I–415 shall be prepared prior to the vessel's arrival at a port in the United States. The surname of the passengers shall be entered on such forms so far as practicable in alphabetical order:

(1) For alien immigrant passengers who embarked at the same port abroad and who are destined to disembark at the same port in the United States;

(2) For alien nonimmigrant passengers who embarked at the same port abroad and who are destined to disembark at the same port in the United States;

(3) For alien through passengers without regard to their port of embarkation abroad or the foreign country to which they are destined. Manifests for through passengers shall be submitted in duplicate. The headings of Forms I–415 covering through passengers shall be properly filled in so as to indicate the facts of arrival of the vessel, with the added notation "and proceed foreign via ----------" (inserting the names of the other ports of call to be made in the United States on the voyage with the final port of call shown last). Such notation shall be entered under the words "Arriving at port of ----------," appearing directly above columns 3 and 4 of the Form I–415.

In manifesting passengers under (1), (2), and (3), if the number of passengers does not exceed the number that can be manifested on one Form I–415, such passengers shall be grouped according to class of travel and manifested on one Form I–415 according to class, with the designation of the class noted in the body of the form at the head of each class group. If the number of such passengers exceeds the maximum number that can be listed on one Form I–415, the passengers shall be grouped according to class of travel and a separate Form I–415 shall be used to manifest the passengers in each class, and the designation of the class shall be shown in the heading of each form used.

(b) Citizen or national manifests. The foregoing procedure for the manifest grouping of alien passengers shall apply, so far as it is applicable, to the manifest grouping of passengers who are citizens or nationals of the United States, and in respect of through passengers who are citizens or nationals of the United States, the same notation prescribed in paragraph (a) (3) of this section shall be added directly above columns 3 and 4 of the Form I–416.

(c) Numbering of manifests. Manifest Forms I–415 and I–416 shall be numbered consecutively in the space provided therefor in the upper right-hand corner of the form commencing with number

"1" for each voyage, all the Forms I–416, if any, shall be numbered before assigning number to any Forms I–415.

(d) Family members. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section as to class groupings and use of separate manifests, all passengers who are members of one family, who embark at the same port abroad, and who are destined to disembark at the same port in the United States, shall be manifested on the same manifest sheet. If they are traveling in different classes, they shall be listed under the class of the head of the family; if some are aliens and others United States citizens or nationals, they shall all be listed on the alien manifest Form I–415 and the notation "USC" or "USN" shall be entered after the names of the citizen or national members.

(e) Stowaways. Any stowaway shall be manifested on the last numbered form, and the notation "stowaway" shall be entered in the last column of the form opposite the name of each stowaway.

(f) Listing documents. There shall be entered in column (2) of Form I–415 the serial number and letter of any Foreign Service Form 256 or 257, or Immigration Form I–100a which the passenger is required to present for admission to the United States. The notation "WOV–419" shall be made in column (2) if the alien is to pass through the United States under the provisions of section 238 (d) of the Immigration and Nationality Act. In the case of each alien passenger who does not have a Form 256, 257, I–100a, I–132, or I–419, the persons responsible for the delivery of the manifest shall prepare as a part thereof a set of immigration Forms I–94 and deliver them to such passenger for surrender by him to the United States immigration officer at the port which the passenger is to be examined for admission to the United States. The serial number of such Form I–94 shall be entered in column (2) of Form I–415 opposite the name of each passenger for whom such set of forms is prepared. Whenever a set of Forms I–94 is prepared for a passenger who has a nonimmigrant visa, the visa application number and letter shall be entered on all copies of the Form I–94 in the box entitled "Travel documents presented". In the case of each alien passenger who is in possession of a permit to reenter the United States (Form I–132) the persons responsible for the delivery of the manifest shall prepare as a part thereof a Form I–132C and deliver it to such passenger. The notation "I–132C" shall be entered in column (2) of Form I–415 opposite the name of each passenger for whom such form is prepared.

§ 231.22 Arrival manifests and lists for vessels; delivery. (a) Immediately upon the arrival at the first port in the United States of a vessel with respect to which a passenger manifest is required, one legible copy of manifest Forms I–415 and I–416 prepared in accordance with § 231.21 (a) (1) and (2) and two legible copies of manifest Forms I–415 and I–416 prepared in accordance with § 231.21 (a) (3), fully executed as provided in this part and assembled in numerical order, covering all of the passengers on board without regard to the port to which ultimately destined, shall be delivered to the immigration officer boarding the vessel at such port of first arrival. To facilitate inspection, an advance copy of manifest Forms I–415 and I–416 may be delivered to the officer in charge of the first port of arrival prior to the arrival of the vessel, but the furnishing of such advance copy shall not relieve the responsible parties from furnishing a complete manifest to the immigration officer at the first port of call which shall indicate any changes or corrections which differ from the advance copy. If an arriving vessel is to touch at more than one United States port, the inspection of all passengers shall, if practicable, be completed at the first port of arrival. If the inspection of all passengers at the first port of arrival is impracticable, the inspection of passengers destined to subsequent ports of arrival shall be deferred in the discretion of the examining immigration officer. In such event, the manifest of those passengers not inspected at the first port of arrival shall be returned to the master for presentation at the subsequent ports of arrival. The procedure followed at the first port of arrival, as prescribed by this paragraph, shall also be followed at any subsequent ports of arrival. Whenever any passenger desires to land at any port in the United States other than the one to which he is manifested, his name shall be stricken by the ship's officer from the manifest upon which it was originally recorded and transferred to the manifest intended for the port where the passenger wishes to land. Such change on the manifest shall be made only with the prior knowledge of the immigration officer and shall be attested by his signature and title placed opposite each entry. On the manifest to which the name is transferred, the immigration officer shall note: "Transferred from manifest of passengers for ---------- dated ----------, ---------- Immigration Officer."

(b) With respect to through passengers, both copies of the manifests shall be delivered to the immigration officer boarding the vessel at the first port of call in the United States. The passengers listed thereon shall be inspected as to their eligibility for shore leave as provided in this part.

(c) Both copies of such manifests shall indicate which through passengers are eligible for shore leave and which are not eligible. The original copy of such manifests shall be returned by the immigration officer to the master of the vessel who shall present them at each subsequent port of call to the immigration officer boarding the vessel who shall return them to the master after examination of such manifests. Prior to the departure of the vessel from its last port of call in the United States, the original copies of such manifests shall be delivered to an immigration officer with Forms 257a, I–94C, relating to such departing passengers. Such delivery shall be in lieu of the delivery of departure manifests relating to such passengers required by § 231.3, provided all of the procedural requirements for departure manifests prescribed by § 231.31 have been observed. Departure manifests at the intermediate ports of call shall not be required for through passengers.

§ 231.23 Landing card. To facilitate examination of passengers and for convenience in identifying them on arrival, there may be given to each passenger listed on Form I–415 or I–416 a ticket or "landing card" disclosing his name and the number of the manifest and line number thereof on which his name appears.

§ 231.31 Departure manifest and lists for vessels—(a) General directions for preparation. (1) Separate Form or Forms I–434 or I–435 shall be used:

(i) For each port in the United States covering persons embarking at such port.

(ii) For passengers destined to each port of foreign debarkation, unless (a) all of the alien passengers boarding at the same port of embarkation in the United States can be recorded on one Form I–434, in which event they shall be grouped according to the port of debarkation, the name of which shall be noted in the body of the Form I–434 at the head of each group, or (b) all citizen and national passengers boarding at the same port of embarkation in the United States can be recorded on one Form I–435, in which event they shall be grouped according to the port of debarkation, the name of which shall be noted in the body of the Form I–435 at the head of each group.

(2) Forms I–434 and I–435 shall be numbered consecutively in the indicated space in the upper right-hand corner of the heading, commencing with No. 1 for each voyage, all the Forms I–435, if any, to be numbered before assigning numbers to any Forms I–434. In column 2 of Form I–434 opposite the name of each passenger there shall be entered the serial number and letter of any Foreign Service Form 257a, immigration Form I–94C, immigration Form I–95A, or immigration Form I–100a in his possession which was last used by such passenger to enter the United States, as evidenced by the Service notation thereon. Unless it is not required to be surrendered by the departing alien, such form shall be surrendered by the passenger to the representative of the transportation company who shall note thereon by printing in ink, rubber stamp, or typewriter, the name of the port of embarkation, the date of departure therefrom, and the name of the vessel. The representative shall attach such form to, and make it a part of, the Form I–434 relating to the passenger whose form it is. If an alien has been permitted to pass through the United States under the provisions of section 238 (d) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the notation "WOV–419" shall be entered in column 2 of Form I–434 opposite the name of the alien. Whenever a departing alien passenger does not surrender Form 257a, I–94C, I–95A, I–100a, or I–419a, the persons responsible for the delivery of the departure manifest shall cause to be executed as a part thereof an immigration Form I–424 for each such alien passenger; shall place the notation "I–424" in column 2 opposite the name of each such passenger; and shall attach the Form I–424 to, and make it a part of, the department manifest.

(3) The term "Deportee" shall be noted in column 2 of Form I–434 opposite the name of each passenger who has been arrested within the United States and is being deported or who has been excluded from the United States and is being deported pursuant to such exclusion. Any Form 257a, I–94C, I–95A, or I–100a surrendered by or in behalf of such deportee, or in the absence of any such form, the Form I–424 prepared for such deportee, shall be conspicuously marked "Deportee".

(b) Delivery. Except as otherwise provided in this paragraph, Forms I–434 and I–435 and attached documents fully executed in accordance with this part and assembled in numerical order, shall be delivered to the immigration official at each port of embarkation in the United States prior to the departure of the vessel therefrom with respect to all passengers boarding the vessel at that port who are destined to a place outside the United States. If more than one Form I–434 or Form I–435 is used at a port of embarkation, the affidavit on the last numbered form only need be executed. Vessels making voyages to and from the United States at regular or periodic intervals according to a published schedule of which there is sufficient notice to all concerned may deliver the Form or Forms I–434 and I–435, together with the documents required to be attached, to the district director or officer in charge of the office having administrative jurisdiction over the respective ports of embarkation subsequent to the departure of the vessel therefrom but within such time as to be received by each such officer within 30 days following the departure of the vessel from its last port of embarkation in the United States on that voyage. Notwithstanding the foregoing exception, clearance shall not be granted to any vessel unless the Forms I–434 and I–435, and attached documents, are delivered prior to departure if the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the post of departure knows or has reason to believe that the vessel will not return to a port in the United States within 30 days of its departure from its last port of embarkation in the United States or that the Form or Forms I–434 and I–435 and attached documents will not be delivered so as to be received within the 30 day period herein provided.

(c) Debarkation of passenger prior to departure for a foreign port. In any case in which a passenger originally destined to a place outside the United States leaves the vessel either at the initial port of embarkation or at any other port of call in the United States and prior to the departure of the vessel from the United States, the persons responsible for the delivery of the departure manifest shall upon acquiring knowledge thereof notify the Service of such debarkation. If such knowledge is acquired prior to the departure of the vessel from the United States but subsequent to the delivery of the manifest covering such passenger, the notification shall be given by delivering to the immigration officials at the port where the vessel is then located prior to its departure, a supplemental Form I–434 if the debarking passenger is an alien, or a supplemental Form I–435, if the passenger is a citizen or national of the United States. The supplemental form shall contain the complete heading as on the original but only the information as to the passenger who debarked with a notation in the last column as to the date and port of such disembarkation. If knowledge of such disembarkation is acquired subsequent to the departure of the vessel from the United States and subsequent to the delivery of the manifest covering such passenger, the notification shall be given by wireless or radio to the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the port where such passenger initially embarked and, in addition, the supplemental form previously referred to herein shall be prepared and mailed promptly to such officer. If the departure manifest covering such passenger is not delivered prior to the departure of the vessel from the United States as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, the notification shall be made by striking out the name and information relating to such debarking passenger on the manifest on which it appears and by noting in the last column thereof the date and port of disembarkation in the United States. Any document surrendered by such passenger which is still in the possession of the transportation company shall be forwarded with the manifest.

(d) Waiver in certain cases—(1) Through passengers. As provided in § 231.22, the original copy of the arrival manifests covering through passengers shall be accepted in lieu of departure manifests required to be prepared by this section.

(2) Cruise passengers. The district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the office in which is located the United States port of origin and termination of the voyage of cruise passengers may, on written request of the transportation company made in advance of the departure of the vessel waive the filing of Forms I–534 and I–435 and the other documents for cruise passengers on condition (i) that Forms I–415 and I–416 are delivered to the examining immigrant officer immediately upon the return of the vessel to the port in the United States from which the cruise started and prior to the debarkation of any passenger; and (ii) that a Form I–424 be executed and attached to the Form I–415 for each alien passenger who failed to return with the vessel to such port, indicating on such form the place where such alien left the vessel; and (iii) that a Form I–435 be executed and delivered, listing such citizen or national passengers who failed to return with the vessel to such port, indicating on such form the place where such passenger left the vessel.

§ 231.41 Arrival manifests for aircraft—(a) General directions for preparation. (1) Except as otherwise provided in this part, Form I–466 shall be used for manifesting passengers arriving in the United States by aircraft. If all of the passengers manifested on a single Form I–466 are destined to disembark at the same port in the United States, the name of such port of debarkation shall be shown in the heading of the form in the space provided, otherwise, the passengers shall be grouped according to their respective ports of debarkation in the United States, the name of the port of debarkation noted in the body of the form at the head of each group, and the heading for port of debarkation marked "Various". Members of a family embarking at the same port abroad and destined to disembark at the same port in the United States shall be listed consecutively within the group to which they belong. Any stowaway aboard shall be manifested on the last form prepared, and the notation "stowaway" shall be entered in the second column opposite the name of each stowaway.

(2) In the case of each alien passenger who does not have a Foreign Service Form 256 or 257 or an immigration Form I–100a, I–132, or I–419 the persons responsible for the delivery of the manifest shall prepare as a part thereof a set of immigration Forms I–94 and deliver them to such passenger for surrender by him to the United States immigration officer at the port where the passenger is to be examined for admission to the United States. Whenever a set of Forms I–94 is prepared for a passenger who has a nonimmigrant visa, the visa application number and letter shall be entered on all copies of the Form I–94 in the box entitled "Travel documents presented".

(3) In the case of each alien passenger who is in possession of a permit to reenter the United States (Form I–132) the persons responsible for the delivery of the manifest shall prepare as a part thereof a Form I–132C and deliver it to such passenger for surrender by him to the United States immigration officer at the port where the passenger is to be examined for admission to the United States.

(b) Delivery. (1) Immediately upon the arrival at the first port in the United States of an aircraft for which a passenger manifest is required to be delivered, three legible copies of such manifest fully executed as provided in this part covering all of the passengers on board, without regard to the port to which such passengers are ultimately destined, shall be delivered to the immigration officer who is to inspect the passengers at that port.

(2) If an arriving aircraft is to touch at more than one United States port, the inspection of all passengers shall, if practicable, be completed at the first port of arrival. If the inspection of all passengers at the first port of arrival is impracticable, the inspection of passengers destined to subsequent ports of arrival shall be deferred in the discretion of the examining immigration officer. In such event the manifest of those passengers not inspected at the first port of arrival shall be returned to the commander of the aircraft for presentation at the subsequent ports of arrival. The procedure followed at the first port of arrival, as prescribed by this paragraph, shall also be followed at any subsequent ports of arrival.

§ 231.42 Departure manifests for aircraft—(a) General directions for preparation. (1) The name of the foreign port of debarkation shall be entered in the heading of the Form I–466 in the space provided therefor if all of the passengers who are manifested on a single Form I–466 are destined to disembark at the same foreign port, otherwise, the passengers shall be grouped according to their respective foreign ports of debarkation, the name of the port of debarkation noted in the body of the form at the head of each group, and the heading on the form for port of debarkation marked, "Various." Members of a family destined to the same port of debarkation shall be listed consecutively within the group to which they belong.

(2) Each alien passenger shall surrender to the representative of the transportation company any Foreign Service Form 257a, immigration Form I–94C, immigration Form I–95A, or immigration Form I–100a in his possession which was last used by such passenger to enter the United States as evidenced by the Service notation thereon, unless such form is not required to be surrendered. The representative of the transportation company shall note on each such surrendered form by printing in ink, rubber stamp or typewriter, the name of the port of embarkation in the United States, the date of departure therefrom, and the registration marks of the aircraft. The representative shall attach such form to, and make it a part of, the Form I–466 relating to such passenger. Whenever a departing alien passenger does not surrender Form 257a, I–94C, I–95A, I–100a, or I–419a, the persons responsible for the delivery of the departure manifest shall cause to be executed as a part thereof an immigration Form I–424 for each such alien passenger and shall attach the Form I–424 to the departure manifest.

(3) In the case of each alien passenger who has been arrested in the United States and is being deported from the United States or has been excluded from the United States and is being deported pursuant to such exclusion, any Form 257a, I–94C, I–95A, or I–100a surrendered by or in behalf of such deportee, or in the absence of any such form, the Form I–424 prepared for such deportee, shall be marked conspicuously "Deportee".

(b) Delivery. Except as otherwise specifically provided in this paragraph, Forms I–466 together with the documents required to be attached thereto, fully executed in accordance with the provisions of this part, shall be delivered prior to departure to the immigration officials at the port in the United States from which the aircraft will proceed to a place outside the United States. Manifest Form I–466 for aircraft making flights to and from the United States at regular or periodic intervals according to a published schedule of which there is sufficient notice to all concerned may be delivered together with the documents required to be attached thereto subsequent to the departure of the aircraft, but within such time as to be received by the immigration officer in charge of the port from which the aircraft proceeded to a foreign port within 4 days following the departure of such aircraft. Notwithstanding the foregoing exception, clearance shall not be granted any aircraft unless the Forms I–466 and attached documents are delivered prior to departure, if the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the port of departure knows or has reason to believe that the aircraft will not return to a port in the United States within 30 days of its departure or that the forms and documents attached will not be delivered so as to be received by him within the 4-day period herein provided.

(c) Debarkation of passenger prior to departure for a foreign port. In any case in which a passenger originally destined to a place outside the United States leaves the aircraft prior to its departure for a foreign port, the persons responsible for the delivery of the manifest shall upon acquiring knowledge thereof notify the Service of such debarkation. If such knowledge is acquired prior to the departure of the aircraft from the United States but subsequent to the delivery of the manifest, the notification shall be given by delivering, prior to the departure of the aircraft, a supplemental Form I–466 to the immigration official at the port from which the aircraft is to proceed to a foreign port. The supplemental form shall contain the complete heading as on the original but only the information as to the passenger who left the aircraft with a notation in column 2 as to the debarkation of the passenger prior to departure. If knowledge of such debarkation is acquired subsequent to the departure of the aircraft and subsequent to the delivery of the manifest, the notification shall be given by wireless or radio to the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the port from which the aircraft departed to a foreign port and the supplemental form previously referred to shall be prepared and mailed promptly to such officer via air mail. If the departure manifest is not delivered prior to the departure of the aircraft from the United States as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, the notification shall be made by striking out the name and information relating to such debarking passenger on the Form I–466 and by noting in the second column of that form the facts of such debarkation. Any document surrendered by such passenger which is in the possession of the transportation company shall be forwarded with the manifest.

PART 232—DETENTION OF ALIENS FOR OBSERVATION AND EXAMINATION

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
232.1 Definitions.
232.2 Authority to detain and designate place of detention of aliens for observation and examination.
232.3 Responsibility for safekeeping of aliens ordered removed from vessel or airport of arrival for observation and examination.
232.4 Place of detention.
232.5 Liability for detention expenses.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

232.11 Removal and detention of aliens.
232.51 Collection of detention expenses.
232.52 Reimbursement of transportation line for detention expenses in certain cases.

AUTHORITY: §§ 232.1 to 232.52 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply sec. 3, 63 Stat. 166, sec. 232, 66 Stat. 196, as amended; 8 U. S. C., Sup., 836.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 232.1 Definitions. For the purposes of this part the term "transportation line" means a vessel, aircraft, transportation line, transportation company, steamship company, or the master, commanding officer, authorized agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of a vessel or aircraft, and the term "alien" means any alien as defined by the Immigration and Nationality Act and any person applying for admission to the United States as a citizen or national of the United States.

§ 232.2 Authority to detain and designate place of detention of aliens for observation and examination. The authority to detain aliens and to designate the place of detention, if detention is required other than on board a vessel or at the airport of arrival, under the provisions of section 232 of the Immigration and Nationality Act may be exercised by the examining immigration officer, or by the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the port at which such aliens arrived.

§ 232.3 Responsibility for safekeeping of aliens ordered removed from vessel or airport of arrival for observation and examination. The responsibility for the safekeeping during the removal and subsequent detention of an alien (including an alien crewman), who has been ordered removed from a vessel or airport of arrival and detained pursuant to section 232 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and this part shall be upon the transportation line bringing the alien to the United States, except that such transportation line shall be relieved of that responsibility during such time as the alien is detained on premises owned or controlled by the United States.

§ 232.4 Place of detention. Any alien who is ordered removed or detained pursuant to section 232 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and this part shall, unless treatment in a hospital is necessary, be kept in custody in a facility operated by the Service if such a facility exists at the port of arrival or if at a nearby port there is such a facility which can be utilized. If no such facility is available such alien may, with the approval of the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the port of arrival, be detained at a place to be arranged for by the transportation line bringing him to the United States.

§ 232.5 Liability for detention expenses. In any case in which an alien (including alien crewman) is removed from a vessel or airport of arrival and detained for observation and examination under section 232 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and this part, the transportation line bringing such alien to the United States shall be responsible initially for the payment of detention expenses if the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the port of arrival has reason to believe from the facts presented that such detention expenses may properly be assessed against the transportation line. In any such case the transportation line, at the option of the district director or officer in charge, shall be required to obligate itself in a manner satisfactory to such officer for the payment of the expenses referred to herein, and may be required to make payment in advance, or deposit security, with respect to each alien so detained.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 232.11 Removal and detention of aliens. Whenever the district director, officer in charge or examining immigration officer, in his discretion, determines that an alien should be removed from a vessel or airport of arrival for detention elsewhere for the purpose of observation and examination, such officer shall serve or cause to be served on the transportation line bringing such alien to the United States a notice, on Form I–259, directing such removal. The notice shall specify the date and time the alien is to be removed, the place at which he is to be detained, and the reasons for the removal.

§ 232.51 Collection of detention expenses. In all cases in which the Government has initially paid the detention expenses and expenses incident thereto of an alien detained pursuant to section 232 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, bills pertaining to the detention expenses shall be presented monthly or oftener, at the option of the district director or officer in charge, to the responsible transportation line as soon as liability therefor is established to the satisfaction of the district director or officer in charge. Such expenses shall include, but shall not be limited to, expenses of maintenance, medical treatment in hospital or elsewhere, and burial in the event of death. At ports where the Service maintains hospitals, the hospital expenses shall be such as are fixed by the Service and at other hospitals they shall be such as are fixed by the authorities thereof.

§ 232.52 Reimbursement of transportation line for detention expenses in certain cases. A transportation line which has paid the detention expenses referred to in § 232.5 shall, upon presentation of itemized receipts, be reimbursed from the applicable appropriation of the Service if it is finally determined that the transportation line should not be assessed for the payment of such expenses. The reimbursement shall cover only reasonable amounts actually expended for such expenses, but the reimbursement for the cost of maintenance shall not, except in unusual circumstances and unless the expense was incurred with the prior approval of the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the port, exceed the maximum per diem allowance prescribed in section 836 of Title 5 of the United States Code in lieu of subsistence. No reimbursement shall be made for detention expenses incurred after the alien has been offered for deportation to the transportation line which brought him to the United States.

PART 233—TEMPORARY REMOVAL FOR EXAMINATION UPON ARRIVAL

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
233.1 Definitions.
233.2 Assumption of responsibility.
233.3 Expenses of removal; payment.
233.4 Burial expenses.
233.5 Liability for detention expenses.
233.6 Termination of Government liability for detention expenses.
233.7 Place of detention.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

233.31 Collection of removal expenses.
233.51 Collection of detention expenses.
233.52 Reimbursement of transportation line for detention expenses in certain cases.

AUTHORITY: §§ 233.1 to 233.52 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 1, 2, 46 Stat. 1467, as amended, 54 Stat. 858, sec. 3, 63 Stat. 166, as amended, secs. 233, 237, 66 Stat. 197, 201; 8 U. S. C. 109a–109c, 5 U. S. C., Sup., 836.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 233.1 Definitions. For the purposes of this part the term "transportation line" means a vessel, aircraft, transportation line, transportation company, steamship company, or the master, commanding officer, authorized agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of a vessel or aircraft, and the term "alien" means any alien as defined by the Immigration and Nationality Act and any person applying for admission to the United States as a citizen or national of the United States.

§ 233.2 Assumption of responsibility. Whenever a transportation line, in accordance with the provisions of section 233 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and this part, desires to assume responsibility for the safekeeping of an alien during his removal to a designated place for examination and inspection, it shall submit a request therefor to the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the port of arrival. If the request is approved by the district director or officer in charge, the transportation line shall execute an agreement on Form I–259A, and the district director or officer in charge shall cause a notice to detain and remove, on Form I–259, to be served upon the transportation line. Such notice shall specify the date and time the alien is to be removed, the place to which such removal shall be made, and the reason therefor. If such agreement is executed, the removal of the alien shall not be made by an immigration officer.

§ 233.3 Expenses of removal; payment. Whenever an alien (including an alien crewman) is removed for examination and inspection by an immigration officer under section 233 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and this part, the expenses of removal to be borne by the transportation line shall include payment for the salary of such officer for the time consumed in the removal, including travel time of the officer from and to the office at which he is stationed. The hourly rate of pay for such officer shall be based upon his gross annual salary. For the purposes of this section any fraction of an hour consumed in the removal of the alien shall be considered as a full hour. Any portion of such services which is performed after 5 p. m. or before 8 a. m., or on Sundays or holidays, shall be compensated for at the rate specified in the act of March 2, 1931, as amended by the act of August 22, 1940 (8 U. S. C. 109a–109c). The expenses to be borne by the transportation line shall also include, but shall not be limited to the costs of transportation of the officer and alien, meals, cost of matrons, nurses, attendants, guards, ambulances, and similar costs for any accompanying alien whose protection or guardianship is required if the alien being removed for inspection and examination is helpless by reason of sickness or mental or physical disability or infancy.

§ 233.4 Burial expenses. For the purposes of section 233 of the Immigration and Nationality Act the burial expenses referred to therein shall include the payment of an amount not exceeding $10.00 in any case for the services of a minister of any religious denomination.

§ 233.5 Liability for detention expenses. In any case in which an alien (including alien crewmen) is removed from a vessel or aircraft and detained for examination and inspection under section 233 or 237 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and this part, the transportation line bringing such alien to the United States shall be responsible initially for the payment of detention expenses if the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the port of arrival has reason to believe from the facts presented that such detention expenses may properly be assessed against the transportation line. In any such case the transportation line, at the option of the district director or officer in charge, shall be required to obligate itself in a manner satisfactory to such officer for the payment of the expenses referred to herein, and may be required to make payment in advance or deposit security, with respect to each alien so detained.

§ 233.6 Termination of Government liability for detention expenses. Any detention expenses and expenses incident thereto which are required to be borne by the Government under section 233 or 237 of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall continue to be borne by the Government until the alien is offered for deportation to the transportation line which brought him to the United States. Thereafter all detention expenses and expenses incident thereto shall be borne by such transportation line.

§ 233.7 Place of detention. Any alien who arrives in the United States by vessel or aircraft and who is ordered removed temporarily therefrom pending final decision as to his admissibility shall be detained at such appropriate place as shall be designated for that purpose by the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the port of arrival.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 233.31 Collection of removal expenses. Bills pertaining to removal expenses of an alien removed pursuant to section 233 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and this part shall be presented monthly or oftener, at the option of the district director or officer in charge, to the responsible transportation line.

§ 233.51 Collection of detention expenses. In all cases in which the Government has initially paid the detention expenses and expenses incident thereto and the deportation expenses of a detained alien, pursuant to section 233 or 237 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, bills pertaining to the detention and deportation expenses shall be presented monthly or oftener, at the option of the district director or officer in charge, to the responsible transportation line as soon as liability therefor is established to the satisfaction of the district director or officer in charge. Such expenses shall include, but shall not be limited to, expenses of maintenance, medical treatment in hospital or elsewhere, burial in the event of death and transfer to the vessel or aircraft in the event of deportation. At ports where the Service maintains hospitals, the hospital expenses shall be such as are fixed by the Service, and at other hospitals they shall be such as are fixed by the authorities thereof.

§ 233.52 Reimbursement of transportation line for detention expenses in certain cases. A transportation line which has paid the detention expenses referred to in § 233.5 shall, upon presentation of itemized receipts be reimbursed from the applicable appropriation of the Service if it is finally determined that the transportation line should not be assessed for the payment of such expenses. The reimbursement shall cover only reasonable amounts actually expended for such expenses, but the reimbursement for the cost of maintenance shall not, except in unusual circumstances and unless the expense was incurred with the prior approval of the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the port, exceed the maximum per diem allowance prescribed in section 836 of Title 5 of the United States Code in lieu of subsistence. No reimbursement shall be made for detention expenses incurred after the alien has been offered for deportation to the transportation line which brought him to the United States.

PART 235—INSPECTION OF ALIENS APPLYING FOR ADMISSION

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
- 235.1 General qualifications and requirements for the admission of aliens.
- 235.2 Examination postponed.
- 235.3 Detention of aliens.
- 235.4 Admitted alien assisted.
- 235.5 Preexamination in certain parts of the United States; who may apply.
- 235.6 Pre-inspection in certain parts of the United States.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

- 235.11 Notice of referral to Special Inquiry Officer.
- 235.12 Referral of certain cases to district director or officer in charge.
- 235.13 Reading test.
- 235.14 Notation in passports.
- 235.15 Temporary exclusion.
- 235.51 Preexamination procedure.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 235.1 General qualifications and requirements for the admission of aliens. The following general qualifications and requirements shall be met by an alien seeking to enter the United States regardless of whether he seeks to enter for permanent, indefinite, or temporary stay, and regardless of the purpose for which he seeks to enter:

(a) The alien shall apply in person at a place designated as a port of entry for aliens.

(b) The alien shall apply for admission at a time when the immigration office at the port is open for the inspection of applicants for admission.

(c) The alien shall make his application in person to an immigration officer.

(d) The alien shall present whatever documents are required.

(e) The alien shall establish to the satisfaction of the immigration officer that he is not subject to exclusion under the immigration laws, Executive orders, or Presidential proclamations and that he is entitled under all of the applicable provisions of the immigration laws and this chapter to enter the United States.

§ 235.2 Examination postponed—(a) Alien and members of family. Whenever an alien upon arrival, or pending the determination of his right to admission to the United States, is found or believed to be suffering from a disability which in the opinion of the examining immigration officer or special inquiry officer renders it impracticable to proceed with the examination under the Immigration and Nationality Act, the facts shall be reported to the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the port of arrival who shall determine whether the examination should proceed or be postponed. If the examination is postponed and the testimony of such alien is required to determine the admissibility of members of his family, the determination of such cases may be postponed in the discretion of such district director or officer in charge until the examination of such alien becomes practicable. If such alien's testimony is not so required, and if the alien's admission is in no manner necessary to the financial support of the remaining family members and he appears to be eligible for admission provided he recovers from the disability or no disability is found to exist, the family members may be examined forthwith and, if found eligible for admission to the United States, admitted:

(1) upon the deposit of a sum of money (or transportation ticket and money) sufficient to defray the expenses of conveying the alien whose case is postponed to his final destination; and

(2) upon the deposit of a further sum of money (or transportation ticket and money) sufficient to cover the cost of the service and transportation of a proper attendant from the port of arrival to the point of destination or deportation and return, if it appears to the officer in charge that such attendant is or may be necessary for the proper care and attention of the alien.

(b) Accompanying alien. If it appears to the examining immigration officer that an alien not found to be admissible is likely to be certified by the examining medical officer as helpless from sickness or mental or physical disability or infancy, pursuant to section 237 (c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the examination of any accompanying alien, whose protection or guardianship will be required by the alien not found admissible, shall be postponed pending decision of the case of the alien likely to be excluded.

§ 235.3 Detention of aliens. All aliens (including alien crewmen) arriving at a port in the United States by vessel or aircraft shall be detained aboard the vessel or at the airport of arrival by the master, commanding officer, purser, person in charge, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel or aircraft until admitted or otherwise permitted to land by an officer of the Service. Notice or order to so detain shall not be required.

§ 235.4 Admitted alien assisted. Notwithstanding admission, and for reasons satisfactory to the district director or officer in charge, when facilities are available, any alien may remain a few days at an immigration station upon payment of the actual cost of such maintenance. If in such a case the delay in leaving the immigration station is due to accident or other unavoidable circumstances and the alien is without sufficient means to defray the expenses incident thereto, the district director or the officer in charge, may in his discretion, authorize such expense, but in such event he shall report the case promptly to the Central Office with full reasons for his action and request that the authorization be ratified.

§ 235.5 Preexamination in certain parts of the United States; who may apply. When an office of the Service is located in Hawaii, Alaska, Guam, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands of the United States, or any outlying possession of the United States, a person (whether an alien or one claiming United States nationality) who is residing, and is entitled under the immigration laws to reside permanently, in any of the places enumerated herein, and who intends to apply for temporary or permanent admission to any other part of the United States or outlying possession of the United States, may appear before the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over such office for examination as to his admissibility to the United States.

§ 235.6 Pre-inspection in certain parts of the United States. In the case of any aircraft proceeding from Hawaii, Alaska, Guam, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands of the United States destined directly and without touching at a foreign port or place to any other of such places or to the continental United States, the examination required by the Immigration and Nationality Act of the passengers and crew may be made prior to the departure of the aircraft, and in such event, final determination of admissibility shall be made immediately prior to such departure. The examination shall be conducted in accordance with sections 235, 236, and 237 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and this part and Parts 236 and 237 of this chapter, except that if it appears to the examining immigration officer that any person in the United States being examined under this section is prima facie deportable from the United States, further action with respect to his examination shall be deferred and an application for a warrant of arrest shall be made and further proceedings conducted as provided in section 242 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Part 242 of this chapter. When the inspection procedure described above is applied to any aircraft, persons examined and found admissible shall be placed aboard the aircraft, or kept at the airport separate and apart from the general public until they are permitted to board the aircraft. No other person shall be permitted to depart on such aircraft until and unless he is found to be admissible as provided in this section.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 235.11 Notice of referral to Special Inquiry Officer. If, in accordance with the provisions of section 235 (b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the examining immigration officer detains an alien for further inquiry before a special inquiry officer, he shall immediately sign and deliver to the alien a Notice To Alien Detained For Hearing By Special Inquiry Officer (Form I–122). If the alien is unable to read or understand the notice, it shall be read and explained to him by an employee of the Service, through an interpreter, if necessary, prior to such further inquiry.

§ 235.12 Referral of certain cases to district director or officer in charge. The immigration officer conducting the preliminary examination of an alien who is applying for admission to the United States for permanent residence and who is liable to be excluded because he is likely to become a public charge or because of a physical disability other than tuberculosis, leprosy, or a dangerous contagious disease, shall refer the question of the alien's admission to the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the place where the examination is being conducted. The district director or officer in charge may, in his discretion, admit the alien on primary inspection, if the alien is otherwise admissible, in accordance with Part 213 of this chapter. If the district director or officer in charge does not so admit the alien, the question of his admission shall be referred to a special inquiry officer, and the special inquiry officer may, in his discretion, admit the alien, if he is otherwise admissible, in accordance with the provisions of Part 213 of this chapter.

§ 235.13 Reading test. Aliens who are subject to the provisions of section 212 (a) (25) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall demonstrate their ability to read and understand matter printed in plainly legible type and in a language or dialect designated by the alien at the time of examination. In applying the reading test immigration officers shall use the printed and numbered test slips supplied by the Service for that purpose, and a record shall be made upon the manifest or hearing record of the special inquiry officer showing both the class and serial number of the slip used in each case and the language or dialect designated by the applicant and actually used in the examination. No two aliens listed upon the same manifest sheet shall be examined at seaports by the use of the same slip. If the examining immigration officer is unable to speak and understand the language or dialect in which the alien is examined, the services of an interpreter shall be used for interpreting into spoken English the printed matter read by the alien. Whenever because of lack of the qualified interpreters necessary for the observance of the general method prescribed herein, or for any other reason, it is impracticable to adopt said general method, immigration officers may employ such other means as will clearly demonstrate the alien's ability, or lack of ability, to read and understand what he has read.

§ 235.14 Notation in passports. Whenever an alien admitted temporarily to the United States is issued a Form 257a or Form I–94C, the admitting officer shall, by means of a stamp, record on the passport presented by the alien the word "Admitted" and the date and place of admission. There shall be inscribed in the passport as a part of such notation the visa application number (including any letters that are part thereof) appearing on the form 257a, if such number does not appear in the passport visa, or the serial number (including any letters that are part thereof) of the Form I–94C. Whenever an alien is admitted permanently to the United States, the admitting immigration officer shall, by means of a stamp, record on any passport presented by the alien the word "Admitted," the date and place of admission, and the section of law under which the alien is admitted.

§ 235.15 Temporary exclusion—(a) Report. Any immigration officer who temporarily excludes an alien under the provisions of section 235 (c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall report such action promptly to the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the port at which such alien arrived. If the subject of the report is an alien who seeks to enter the United States other than under section 101 (a) (15) (D) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the report shall be forwarded by the district director to the Commissioner and further action shall be taken thereon as provided in paragraph (c) of this section.

(b) Action in cases of alien crewmen. If the subject of the report is an alien crewman who seeks to land as a nonimmigrant pursuant to section 101 (a) (15) (D) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the district director shall determine whether the crewman is inadmissible to the United States under paragraph (27), (28), or (29) of section 212 (a) of that Act. If the district director is satisfied that the crewman is excludable under any of such paragraphs on the basis of information of a confidential nature, the disclosure of which the district director, in the exercise of his discretion, concludes would be prejudicial to the public interest, safety, or security, he shall direct the examining immigration officer not to grant such crewman a conditional permit to land, and the reasons for taking such action shall not be disclosed to the crewman. Otherwise, the case shall be returned by the district director to an examining immigration officer to determine whether a conditional permit to land should be granted such crewman pursuant to section 252 of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

(c) Action by Commissioner. If the Commissioner is satisfied that the alien is inadmissible to the United States under paragraph (27), (28), or (29) of section 212 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and if the Commissioner, in the exercise of his discretion, concludes that such inadmissibility is based on information of a confidential nature the disclosure of which would be prejudicial to the public interest, safety, or security, he may (1) deny any hearing or further hearing by a special inquiry officer and order such alien excluded and deported; or (2) enter such other order in the case as he deems appropriate. In any other case the Commissioner shall direct that the alien be given a hearing or further hearing before a special inquiry officer.

(d) Finality of decision. The decision of the district director or the Commissioner provided for in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section respectively shall be final and no appeal may be taken therefrom. The decision of the Commissioner shall be in writing, signed by him and, unless it contains confidential matter, a copy shall be served on the alien. If the decision contains confidential matter, a separate order showing only the ultimate disposition of the case shall be signed by the Commissioner and served on the alien.

(e) Hearing by special inquiry officer. In any case in which the Commissioner directs that an alien temporarily excluded be given a hearing or further hearing before a special inquiry officer, such hearing and all further proceedings in the case shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of section 236 and other applicable sections of the Immigration and Nationality Act to the same extent as though the alien had been referred to a special inquiry officer by the examining immigration officer; except, that if confidential information, not previously considered in the case, is adduced supporting the exclusion of the alien under paragraph (27), (28), or (29) of section 212 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the disclosure of which, in the discretion of the special inquiry officer, may be prejudicial to the public interest, safety, or security, the special inquiry officer may again temporarily exclude the alien under the authority of section 235 (c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and further action shall be taken as provided in this section.

§ 235.51 Preexamination procedure—(a) Action by district director or officer in charge—(1) Applicant eligible for permanent residence. The district director or officer in charge shall cause such investigation of the applicant to be conducted as he deems necessary. If such officer is satisfied (i) that the person is eligible to apply under § 235.5; (ii) that any claim to United States nationality has been established; and (iii) that the person is clearly and beyond a doubt admissible for permanent residence without a visa and passport to the place to which destined, he shall cause to be prepared and issued to such person a Form I–94F and shall note on the reverse side thereof the place and date of the preexamination and the words "Issued under 8 CFR 235.5" followed by the signature of the issuing officer in the space provided. The names and ages of children under 14 may be included in the Form I–94F prepared for an accompanying parent or guardian.

(2) Applicant eligible for temporary admission only. The district director or officer in charge shall cause such investigation of the applicant to be conducted as he deems necessary. If the applicant is within the purview of the proviso to section 212 (d) (7) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and is eligible under said Act for temporary admission only, without a visa and passport, the district director or officer in charge shall cause to be prepared and issued to the applicant a complete set of Forms I–94 if he is satisfied that the applicant is clearly and beyond a doubt admissible to the place to which destined. The Forms I–94 shall be noted as provided above for the Form I–94F. The names and ages of children under 14 may be included in the Forms I–94 prepared for an accompanying parent or guardian.

(b) Action at port of arrival. If the person to whom a Form I–94 has been issued in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section applies for admission within 30 days of the notation of the preexamining officer and there has been no subsequent change in the person's immigration status, he may be admitted upon identification. Upon admission, the form or forms presented shall be surrendered as provided in § 221.3 of this chapter. If, notwithstanding the determination made on preexamination, the examining immigration officer at the port of entry is not satisfied of the person's admissibility, further action shall be taken as provided in sections 235, 236, and 237 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, this part, and Parts 236 and 237 of this chapter, unless it appears to such examining immigration officer that such person would be prima-facie deportable under the Immigration and Nationality Act from that part of the United States or possession of the United States from which he came, in which event an application for a warrant of arrest shall be made, and further proceedings conducted, as provided in Part 242 of this chapter. In such case further action on the application for admission shall be deferred pending disposition of the proceedings under Part 242 of this chapter.

(c) Aliens not eligible. If the district director or officer in charge is not satisfied that the alien is eligible for temporary or permanent admission under this section he shall not issue a Form I–94. No appeal shall lie from the decision of the district director or officer in charge refusing issuance of a Form I–94 under this part but such refusal shall be without prejudice to a subsequent application for admission at the place of intended destination.

PART 236—EXCLUSION OF ALIENS

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
236.1 Authority of special inquiry officers.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

236.11 Conduct of hearing.
236.12 Decision of special inquiry officer.
236.13 Advice to alien found excludable.
236.14 Finality of decision.
236.15 Appeal by alien.
236.16 Appeal by district director or officer in charge.
236.17 Fingerprinting of excluded aliens; photographs.

AUTHORITY: §§ 236.1 to 236.17 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 212, 221, 235, 236, 263, 66 Stat. 183, 191, 198, 200, 224.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 236.1 Authority of special inquiry officers. Subject to any specific limitation prescribed by this chapter and by the Immigration and Nationality Act, special inquiry officers shall, in determining cases referred to them for further inquiry as provided in section 235 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, exercise such discretion and authority conferred upon the Attorney General by said Act as is appropriate and necessary for the disposition of such cases.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 236.11 Conduct of hearing—(a) General provisions; duties of special inquiry officers. At the commencement of the hearing the special inquiry officer shall enter of record as an exhibit in the case a copy of the Form I–122 previously delivered to the alien by the examining immigration officer as provided in Part 235 of this chapter. The special inquiry officer shall rule upon objections, introduce material and relevant evidence in behalf of the Government and the alien, and otherwise regulate the course of the hearing, and exercise such other powers and authority as are conferred upon him by the Immigration and Nationality Act and this chapter. If the alien has a relative or a friend present at the hearing who is a witness in the case, the testimony of the relative or friend shall be completed before he is permitted to remain at the hearing, unless, in the discretion of the special inquiry officer, his presence before testifying will not be prejudicial to a proper determination of the case. During the course of the hearing the alien's attorney or representative shall be permitted to examine the alien and he, or the alien, shall be permitted to examine any witnesses offered in the alien's behalf, to cross-examine any witnesses called by the Government, to offer evidence material and relevant to any matter in issue, and to make objections which shall be stated succinctly and entered on the record. Argument in support of objections and any irrelevant material or unduly repetitious matter shall be excluded from the record. If the alien is not represented by an attorney or representative, the special inquiry officer shall advise the alien of his rights, as described in this section, and shall assist the alien in the presentation of his case to the end that all of the material and relevant facts may be adduced.

(b) Development of facts relating to penalties incurred by transportation company. In all cases in which there is reason to believe that any administrative fine prescribed may have been incurred, the special inquiry officer shall develop in the course of the hearing all facts and circumstances material to a determination of liability to such fine.

(c) Medical examiner as witness. Whenever the certificate of an examining surgeon does not adequately describe the nature, character, and extent of the physical defect, disease, or disability which may affect the ability of the alien to earn a living and the alien has not affirmatively established that he will not have to earn a living, the special inquiry officer shall call the examining surgeon as a witness and interrogate him fully as to the particular nature, character, and extent of the defect, disease, or disability. Such testimony shall be made a part of the record.

(d) Record in illiteracy cases. In all cases in which the reading test is applied and aliens are rejected as unable to read and understand, the record shall, in addition to the number of the reading card used, clearly set forth (1) that the alien designated the particular language used in the test, (2) the complete English text appearing on the card, (3) a definite finding by the special inquiry officer as to the degree to which the alien failed to read and understand, and (4) if the alien claims to be within any class exempted from the test, a definite finding by the special inquiry officer as to the validity of such claim.

§ 236.12 Decision of special inquiry officer. Whenever an alien is excluded by a special inquiry officer he shall be advised of the decision of such officer and the reasons therefor and, if the alien is entitled to appeal to the Board, he shall be so advised. If at the conclusion of the hearing the special inquiry officer admits the alien, he shall so state for the record and, if no appeal is taken from such decision, the special inquiry officer shall take further action as provided in Part 221 of this chapter with respect to notation and disposition of documents.

§ 236.13 Advice to alien found excludable—(a) Return voyage. An excluded alien shall be informed of the provisions of section 237 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act relating to the transportation expenses of his deportation from the United States, and to the class of travel in connection therewith. If the alien is entitled to refund of passage money he shall be so informed.

(b) Permission to reapply. The special inquiry officer excluding an alien shall advise him of the provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act and of this chapter relating to the necessity of obtaining permission to reapply for admission to the United States should he desire to reapply within one year from his deportation under the excluding decision. The fact that such advice has been given to the alien of that notification shall be noted in the record together with the alien's foreign address. In cases in which the alien is excluded for causes which can readily be removed or overcome, he may be advised by the special inquiry officer that the application for permission to reapply for admission may then and there be made. If the alien does not appeal from the excluding decision and desires to make such application, the special inquiry officer may, in his discretion grant him permission to reapply for admission. Written notification of such permission shall be furnished to the alien for his use in subsequent proceedings. If the application for permission to reapply is denied by the special inquiry officer no appeal shall lie from such denial, but it shall be without prejudice to any further application made by the applicant pursuant to § 212.6 of this chapter. If an appeal is taken from a decision of the special inquiry officer as provided in section 236 (b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the decision on appeal, if adverse to the alien, may grant him permission to reapply for admission within one year.

(c) Alien certified for mental condition; right of medical appeal. An alien certified under paragraphs (1), (2), (3), (4), or (5) of section 212 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be advised of his right to appeal to a board of medical officers of the United States Public Health Service, and of his right to produce before such board one expert medical witness at the alien's own cost and expense. In the event the alien desires to appeal to such medical board, the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the office in which the proceedings are pending shall, in conformity with regulations prescribed by the United States Public Health Service, make such arrangements with the office of the Surgeon General as may be necessary for the convening of such medical board.

(d) Notice of possible appeal by officer in charge. In any case falling within the purview of § 236.16 in which the decision of the special inquiry officer is to admit the alien, the special inquiry officer shall advise the alien at the conclusion of the hearing that the decision is not final and is subject to possible appeal by the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the office in which the hearing was conducted, and that such appeal may be taken within a period of 5 days after a transcript of the record is made available to such district director or officer in charge.

(e) Contents of record. The exact language employed in conveying information to an alien in accordance with this section, and the alien's replies or acknowledging statements, shall be made a part of the record in the case.

§ 236.14 Finality of decision. The decision of the special inquiry officer shall be final except when:

(a) The case has been certified to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, as provided in § 7.1 (b) of this chapter, or certified to the Board as provided in § 6.1 (c) of this chapter; or

(b) The alien takes an appeal as provided in § 236.15; or

(c) The district director or officer in charge takes an appeal as provided in § 236.16.

§ 236.15 Appeal by alien. If an alien desires to take an appeal from a decision of a special inquiry officer he shall be required to state for the record immediately following the decision of the special inquiry officer (a) whether or not he takes an appeal from the decision and, (b) whether or not he desires to file a brief in support of his appeal. If the alien desires to appeal, he shall thereupon be required to submit a completed Form I–290A. If the alien desires to file a brief, he shall be allowed 5 days from the date of the decision within which to submit his brief to the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the office in which the proceeding was conducted. Upon good cause shown, such district director or officer in charge, or the special inquiry officer who presided at the hearing, or the Board may, in their discretion, extend the time within which the brief may be submitted. In any case in which the alien has stated that he desires to submit a brief, he may, within the period allowed for the submission of such brief, file with the district director or officer in charge a written waiver thereof.

§ 236.16 Appeal by district director or officer in charge. The district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the office in which the hearing was conducted may require any case or classes of cases to be referred to him for review in which the decision of the special inquiry officer is to admit the alien. The district director or officer in charge shall, within 5 days after receipt of the transcript of the record in any such case, determine whether or not he desires to appeal to the Board. If an appeal is taken by the district director or officer in charge, written notice thereof shall be delivered to the alien and the alien shall be advised that he may make such representations to the Board as he may desire, including the filing of a brief. If the alien desires to file a brief, he shall be allowed 5 days from receipt of notification of appeal within which to file a brief with the district director or officer in charge for transmittal to the Board with the record in the case. The filing of such brief may be waived by the alien. For good cause shown, such district director, officer in charge, or the special inquiry officer who presided at the hearing, or the Board, may in their discretion, extend the time within which the brief may be submitted.

§ 236.17 Fingerprinting of excluded aliens; photographs. Every alien 14 years of age or older who is excluded from admission to the United States by a special inquiry officer shall be fingerprinted, unless during the preceding year he has been fingerprinted at an American consular office. Any alien so excluded, regardless of his age, shall be photographed if a photograph is required by the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the office in which the proceeding was conducted.

PART 237—DEPORTATION OF EXCLUDED ALIENS

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
237.1 Stay of deportation of excluded alien.
237.2 Cost of maintenance not assessed.
237.3 Imposition of penalty.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

237.11 Request for stay of deportation; detention expenses.
237.12 Notice to transportation line of alien's exclusion.
237.13 Notice to district director of proposed departure.
237.14 Aliens rejected at ports outside the United States.
237.15 Excluded aliens requiring special care and attention.
237.21 Submission of proof by transportation line.

AUTHORITY: §§ 237.1 to 237.21 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 233, 237, 238, 243, 280, 66 Stat. 197, 201, 202, 214, 230.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 237.1 Stay of deportation of excluded alien. The immediate deportation of an excluded alien as provided in section 237 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act may be stayed in the discretion of district directors, upon a determination that immediate deportation is not practicable or proper, or that the alien's testimony is necessary in behalf of the United States as provided in section 237 (d) of that Act.

§ 237.2 Cost of maintenance not assessed. Whenever the owner or owners of a vessel or aircraft, in order to exempt the transportation line from liability for the cost of the alien's maintenance, seek to establish that the ground of exclusion could not have been ascertained by the exercise of due diligence prior to the alien's embarkation as provided in section 237 (a) (2) (B) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, such claim shall be established to the satisfaction of the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the port of arrival. No appeal shall lie from a decision adverse to such claim.

§ 237.3 Imposition of penalty. Penalties for violation of sections 233 and 237 of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be imposed in accordance with the provisions of Part 280 of this chapter. A bond or undertaking submitted to obtain clearance as provided in section 237 (b) of that Act shall be on Form I–310.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 237.11 Request for stay of deportation; detention expenses. A stay of deportation may be authorized by the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the place where the alien is located on his own instance, or upon a written request of the alien filed with the district director setting forth under oath the reasons for requesting such stay. The district director may, in his discretion, grant or deny the alien's request. No appeal shall lie from a denial of a request for a stay. In case the alien is detained, whether at the expense of the Government or the transportation line, the request of the alien for a stay shall not be granted unless sufficient cash is deposited to defray the cost of his continued detention and expenses incident thereto for the period of time deportation is requested to be stayed, or, in lieu of cash, a bond acceptable to the district director is given guaranteeing the payment of all such expenses. In any case in which a stay is granted under section 237 (d) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and the alien is detained by the Service, the district director may, in his discretion, authorize the alien's release under bond on Form I–324 as provided in section 237 (d) of that Act and under such terms and conditions as the district director may, in his discretion, prescribe.

§ 237.12 Notice to transportation line of alien's exclusion. Whenever it is determined that an alien shall be excluded and deported the alien shall, immediately or as promptly as the circumstances permit, be offered for deportation to the master, commanding officer, purser, person in charge, agent, owner or consignee of the vessel or aircraft by which the alien is to be deported, as determined by the district director, with a notice specifying the cause of exclusion and the class of travel in which such alien arrived and in which the alien is to be deported.

§ 237.13 Notice to district director of proposed departure. At least 24 hours' notice of the time of sailing of every vessel which has brought aliens to the United States shall be given to the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the port at which such vessel arrived: Provided, That such district director or officer in charge may, in his discretion, accept notice that is given less than 24 hours in advance of sailing whenever it appears to such officer that it was impossible or impracticable for the transportation line to furnish such information earlier.

§ 237.14 Aliens rejected at ports outside the United States. Any alien destined to the United States, who has been brought to a port in foreign contiguous territory or adjacent islands by a transportation line signatory to a contract made pursuant to section 238 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, and who is there excluded from admission to the United States, shall be returned to the country whence he came by the transportation line bringing him unless, upon examination by officials of such territory or island, such alien is admitted to such territory or island.

§ 237.15 Excluded aliens requiring special care and attention. The provisions of § 243.11 of this chapter shall apply to the deportation of aliens under this part.

§ 237.21 Submission of proof by transportation line. A transportation line claiming exemption from liability for the cost of the alien's maintenance in accordance with the provisions of § 237.2 shall be afforded a reasonable period of time, as determined by the district director, within which to submit to the district director affidavits and briefs in support of its claim.

PART 238—ENTRY THROUGH OR FROM FOREIGN CONTIGUOUS TERRITORY AND ADJACENT ISLANDS

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
238.1 Inspection outside the United States.
238.2 Contracts with transportation lines.
238.3 Contracts and bonding agreement for certain transit aliens.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

238.11 Preexamination outside the United States.

AUTHORITY: §§ 238.1 to 238.11 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 221, 235, 236, 237, 238, 66 Stat. 192, 198, 200, 201, 202.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 238.1 Inspection outside the United States. All inspections and medical examinations which may be conducted in foreign contiguous territory or adjacent islands under the provisions of section 238 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, shall be in all respects similar to those conducted at ports of entry in the United States, and officials of the United States making the inspections and examinations required under the immigration laws of the United States shall be provided with all necessary facilities.

§ 238.2 Contracts with transportation lines. The contracts with transportation lines including bonding agreements, referred to in section 238 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, shall be made by the Commissioner in behalf of the government, and shall be in such form as the Commissioner shall prescribe.

§ 238.3 Contracts and bonding agreement for certain transit aliens. Transportation lines desiring to bring to the United States aliens in direct and continuous transit through the United States en route to foreign destinations in accordance with the provisions of section 238 (d) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall apply to the Commissioner for the privilege of entering into a contract, including a bonding agreement. Such contract, if agreed to by the Commissioner shall be on Form I–426 or I–426A in duplicate, whichever the Commissioner deems appropriate, and shall require the transportation line to furnish a bond on Form I–318 or I–318A, as designated by the Commissioner, containing such terms and conditions as the Commissioner shall require and guaranteeing that any aliens permitted to pass through the United States pursuant to the agreement will proceed and depart in accordance with the terms and conditions of the agreement.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 238.11 Preexamination outside the United States—(a) Who may apply. Subject to the limitations hereinafter provided, whenever officers of the Service are stationed in foreign contiguous territory or adjacent islands, persons (whether citizens or nationals of the United States or aliens) who intend to apply for admission to the United States may appear before such officer to be preexamined as to their admissibility to the United States. Persons required by the Immigration and Nationality Act and this chapter to be in possession of a permit to enter or a passport shall not be preexamined unless such permit to enter or passport is presented.

(b) Preparation of Form I–94. A full set of Forms I–94 shall be prepared by an immigration officer for an alien presenting himself for preexamination if such set of forms would be required to be prepared under the provisions of § 221.3 of this chapter were the alien applying at a port of entry for admission to the United States. If a full set of Forms I–94 would not be so required and if the applicant is an alien not in possession of a permit to enter, or if the applicant is a citizen or a national of the United States, the immigration officer shall prepare a Form I–94F for the applicant. The names and ages of children under 14 years of age may be included in the Form I–94 prepared for an accompanying parent or guardian.

(c) Procedure when applicant is found to be admissible. If the examining officer determines that the applicant being preexamined is admissible to the United States he shall note that determination on the Form I–94E, I–94F, I–132, 256a or 257d prepared for or presented by the applicant, and return the form (attached to any other pertinent immigration documents) to the applicant for presentation and surrender at the actual port of entry in the United States. If the applicant applies for admission to the United States at a port of entry in the United States within 30 days from the finding of admissibility by the notation of the preexamining officer and there has been no subsequent change in the applicant's immigration status, the applicant may be admitted upon identification, provided he presents valid, unexpired documents as required by the Immigration and Nationality Act and this chapter in the case of a person applying for admission without having been preexamined. The port of entry into the United States shall be the "record" port of entry for all purposes. If notwithstanding the determination on preexamination, the examining immigration officer at the port of entry is not satisfied that the applicant is admissible, further action shall be taken as provided in sections 235, 236, and 237 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Parts 235, 236, and 237 of this chapter to the same extent as though the alien had not been preexamined.

(d) Procedure when applicant is not found to be admissible. If the examining immigration officer is not satisfied that the applicant being preexamined is admissible to the United States, further action shall be taken as provided in sections 235, 236, and 237 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Parts 235, 236, and 237 of this chapter to the same extent as though the applicant were applying for admission at a port of entry, except that if the applicant is found to be admissible by a special inquiry officer or on appeal, the provisions of paragraph (c) of this section shall govern the further disposition of the case.

PART 239—SPECIAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO AIRCRAFT; DESIGNATION OF PORTS OF ENTRY FOR ALIENS ARRIVING BY CIVIL AIRCRAFT

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
239.1 Definitions.
239.2 Landing requirements.
239.3 Aircraft; how considered.
239.4 International airports for entry of aliens.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

AUTHORITY: §§ 239.1 to 239.4 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 231, 239, 66 Stat. 195, 203.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 239.1 Definitions. As used in this part, the term "scheduled airline" means any individual, partnership, corporation, or association engaged in air transportation upon regular schedules to, over, or away from the United States, or from one place to another in the United States, and holding a Foreign Air Carrier Permit or a Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity issued pursuant to the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938.

§ 239.2 Landing requirements—(a) Place of landing. Aircraft carrying passengers or crew required to be inspected Act shall land at the international airports enumerated in § 231.7 of this chapter unless permission to land elsewhere shall first be obtained from the Commissioner of Customs in the case of aircraft operated by scheduled airlines, and in all other cases from the Collector of Customs or other Customs officer having jurisdiction over the airport of entry nearest the intended place of landing. Whenever such permission is granted, the owner, operator, or person in charge of the aircraft shall pay any additional expenses incurred in inspecting passengers or crew on board such aircraft, except that when permission is granted to a scheduled airline to land an aircraft operating on a schedule no inspection charge shall be made for overtime service performed by immigration officers if the aircraft arrives substantially in accordance with schedules on file with the Service.

(b) Advance notice of arrival. Aircraft carrying passengers or crew required to be inspected under the Immigration and Nationality Act, except aircraft of a scheduled airline arriving in accordance with the regular schedule filed with the Service at the place of landing, shall not land unless notice of the intended flight has been furnished to the immigration officers at or nearest the intended place of landing. Such notice shall specify the type of aircraft, the registration marks thereon, the name of the aircraft commander, the place of last departure, the airport of entry, or other place at which landing has been authorized, number of alien passengers, number of citizen passengers, and the estimated time of arrival. The notice shall be sent in sufficient time to enable the officers designated to inspect the aircraft to reach the airport of entry or such other place of landing prior to the arrival of the aircraft.

(c) Permission to discharge or depart. Aircraft carrying passengers or crew required to be inspected under the Immigration and Nationality Act shall not discharge or permit to depart any passenger or crewman without permission from an immigration officer.

(d) Emergency or forced landing. Should any aircraft carrying passengers or crew required to be inspected under the Immigration and Nationality Act make a forced landing in the United States, the commanding officer or person in command shall not allow any passenger or crewman thereon to depart from the landing place without permission of an immigration officer, unless such departure is necessary for purposes of safety or the preservation of life or property. As soon as practicable, the commanding officer or person in command, or the owner of the aircraft, shall communicate with the nearest immigration officer and make a full report of the circumstances of the flight and of the emergency or forced landing.

§ 239.3 Aircraft; how considered. Except as otherwise specifically provided in the Immigration and Nationality Act and this chapter, aircraft arriving in or departing from the continental United States or Alaska directly from or to foreign contiguous territory or the French islands of St. Pierre or Miquelon shall be regarded for the purposes of the Immigration and Nationality Act and this chapter as other transportation lines or companies arriving or departing over the land borders of the United States.

§ 239.4 International airports for entry of aliens. International airports for the entry of aliens shall be those airports designated as such by the Commissioner. An application for designation of an airport as an international airport for the entry of aliens shall be made to the Commissioner and shall state whether the airport (a) has been approved by the Secretary of Commerce as a properly equipped airport, (b) has been designated by the Secretary of the Treasury as a port of entry for aircraft arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof and for the merchandise carried thereon, and (c) has been designated by the Federal Security Administrator as a place for quarantine inspection. An airport shall not be so designated by the Commissioner without such prior approval and designation, and unless it appears to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that conditions render such designation necessary or advisable, and unless adequate facilities have been or will be provided at such airport without cost to the Federal Government for the proper inspection and disposition of aliens, including office space and such temporary detention quarters as may be found necessary. The designation of an airport as an international airport for the entry of aliens may be withdrawn whenever, in the judgment of the Commissioner, there appears just cause for such action.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 242.1 Warrant of arrest—(a) Issuance. Subject to the limitations provided in this part, district directors, district enforcement officers, district officers and the assistant district officers who are in charge of investigations, and officers in charge of suboffices may issue warrants of arrest.

(b) Cancellation; termination of proceedings. In any case in which a warrant of arrest has been issued by any of the officers described in paragraph (a) of this section, the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the case may (1) cancel the warrant of arrest if it has not been served, or (2) prior to the actual commencement of the hearing under a served warrant of arrest, terminate proceedings thereunder, if in either case, he is satisfied clearly and beyond a doubt on the evidence then before him that the alleged alien is actually a national of the United States, or is not deportable under the immigration laws, or is deceased, or has departed from the United States subsequent to the issuance of the warrant of arrest.

§ 242.2 Detention or release of aliens from custody. District directors, district enforcement officers, or officers in charge may exercise the authority contained in section 242 of the Immigration and Nationality Act to continue in, detain in, or release aliens from, custody.

§ 242.3 Release—(a) Prior to final order. Except as provided in § 242.72, pending final determination of deportability, an alien taken into or continued in custody under a warrant of arrest in a deportation proceeding may be detained, released under bond on Form I–353, or released on conditional parole, in the discretion of the district director, the district enforcement officer, or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the place where the alien is detained. Such bond or parole may be revoked at any time in the discretion of any of such officers.

(b) After final order of deportation; within six months' period—(1) Alien detained. Except as provided in § 242.72, at any time during the period of six months immediately following the date of the making of the final order of deportation as determined under section 242 (c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the alien, if then in custody of the Service, may be released under bond on Form I–353, or on conditional parole, in the discretion of the district director, district enforcement officer, or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the place where the alien is detained. Such bond or parole may be revoked at any time in the discretion of any of such officers.

(2) Alien previously released under bond. During the period of 6 months following the date of the making of a final order of deportation as determined under section 242 (c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, in the discretion of the district director, district enforcement officer, or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the office which authorized the alien's release, an alien previously released under bond pending final determination of deportability pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section may be (i) continued at liberty under such bond, (ii) continued at liberty under such bond but with such other or additional conditions as then are deemed appropriate, (iii) continued at liberty under conditional parole in lieu of bond, in which event the outstanding bond shall be revoked and canceled, or (iv) taken into physical custody and detained, in which event, unless a breach has occurred, the outstanding bond shall be revoked and canceled.

(3) Alien previously released on conditional parole. During the period of six months following the date of the making of a final order of deportation as determined under section 242 (c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, in the discretion of the district director, district enforcement officer, or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the office which authorized the alien's release, an alien previously released on conditional parole pending final determination of deportability pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section may be (i) continued at liberty under such parole, (ii) continued at liberty under such parole but with such other or additional terms as then are deemed appropriate, (iii) continued at liberty under bond in lieu of conditional parole, in which event the outstanding conditional parole order shall be revoked and canceled, or (iv) taken into physical custody and detained, in which event the outstanding conditional parole order shall be revoked and canceled.

(c) Release; supervision after six month's period has expired; warning of penal provisions. An alien against whom an order of deportation has been outstanding for more than six months shall, pending deportation, be placed under supervision by the district director, district enforcement officer, or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the office in which the detention or release of such alien was authorized. An alien placed under supervision pursuant to this paragraph shall be advised of the penal provisions of section 242 (d) of the Immigration and Nationality Act. Aliens placed under such supervision shall, among other things, be required to:

(1) Appear from time to time at specified times or intervals before an officer of the Service for identification;

(2) Submit, if necessary, to medical and psychiatric examination at government expense;

(3) Give information under oath as to his nationality, circumstances, habits, associations and activities, and other information whether or not related to the foregoing as may be deemed fit and proper; and

(4) Conform to such reasonable written restrictions on his conduct or activities as may be prescribed.

§ 242.4 Voluntary departure prior to commencement of hearing; authority. Subject to the limitations contained in § 242.41, the authority contained in section 242 (b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act to permit aliens to depart voluntarily from the United States may be exercised by district directors and officers in charge.

§ 242.5 Hearing. The person against whom a warrant of arrest has been issued and upon whom it has been served shall be referred to as the respondent. The proceedings before a special inquiry officer under section 242 (b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be termed a hearing.

§ 242.6 Authority of special inquiry officers. In determining cases submitted for hearing, special inquiry officers shall exercise the authority contained in section 242 (b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act to order deportation, and the authority contained in section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act to suspend deportation and to authorize voluntary departure, subject to the limitations contained in this part and in Parts 6 and 7 of this chapter.

§ 242.7 Reinstatement of prior order of deportation; authority. Subject to the limitations hereinafter provided, the authority contained in section 242 (f) of the Immigration and Nationality Act to find that an alien has unlawfully reentered the United States after having previously departed or been deported pursuant to an order of deportation shall be exercised by special inquiry officers.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 242.11 Investigations—(a) Persons believed to be subject to deportation. The case of every person believed to be subject to arrest and deportation shall be investigated by such officer as may be designated for that purpose.

(b) Purpose of investigation. The purpose of the investigation shall be to discover whether or not a prima facie case for deportation exists: that is, whether there is credible evidence reasonably establishing that the person investigated is an alien and that he is subject to deportation.

(c) Recorded statements. Whenever, in the course of an investigation, information is obtained which indicates that the person investigated is subject to arrest and deportation, and it is desired to use such information as evidence in support of an application for a warrant of arrest, such information shall be reduced to writing either in narrative or question-and-answer form and signed by the person furnishing the information. Whenever such recorded statement is to be obtained from any person, the investigating officer shall (1) identify himself to such person, (2) warn the person that any statement made by him may be used as evidence against him in any subsequent proceeding, and (3) place the person under oath or affirmation.

(d) Refusal to make, or refusal or inability to sign a statement. Whenever, in the course of an investigation, admissions or statements are obtained from the person under investigation or statements are made by any other person which indicate that the person investigated may be subject to arrest and deportation, but there is a refusal to make a statement under oath or affirmation, or a refusal or inability to sign the statement by name or by mark, the investigating officer shall make a report setting forth the facts admitted or stated. Such report, with any unsigned or unsworn statement which has been reduced to writing, may be used in support of an application for a warrant of arrest if the investigating officer certifies that no other evidence to establish the facts stated in the report can readily be obtained.

§ 242.12 Applications for warrants of arrest. If, after preliminary investigation, the investigating officer determines that a prima facie case for deportation of an alien exists, he shall apply for a warrant of arrest to an officer having authority to issue warrants of arrest.

§ 242.13 Issuance of warrants of arrest. Any officer mentioned in § 242.1 (a) who receives an application for a warrant of arrest may issue such warrant in any case in which he determines that a prima facie case for deportation has been established.

§ 242.14 Execution of warrants of arrest—(a) Service. Except as provided in § 242.34, an alien against whom a warrant of arrest has been issued shall be taken into custody under the authority of the warrant of arrest, or if previously taken into custody without a warrant of arrest under the authority contained in section 287 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, shall be continued in custody under the warrant of arrest subsequently issued unless his release is authorized. In either case a copy of the warrant of arrest shall be served upon the alien, and he shall then be fully advised of the cause of his arrest. If the alien is confined in a penal or mental institution but is competent to understand the nature of the proceedings, a copy of the warrant of arrest shall be served upon him and upon the person in charge of the institution. The alien shall then be fully advised of the charges against him but he shall not be taken into physical custody of the Service until released from confinement. If such alien is not competent to understand the nature of the proceedings, a copy of the warrant of arrest shall be served only upon the person in charge of the institution in which the alien is confined, and such service shall be deemed service upon the alien. In cases of mental incompetency, whether or not confined in an institution, and in cases of children under 16 years of age, an additional copy of the warrant of arrest shall be served upon such alien's guardian, near relative, or friend, whenever possible.

(b) Notice of right to counsel and release from custody. Upon service of the warrant of arrest, the alien shall be advised of his right to representation by counsel, at no expense to the Government, at the hearing to be held under the warrant of arrest. When taken into physical custody of the Service he shall be informed whether he is to be continued in custody or, if release from custody has been authorized, of the amount and conditions of bond or terms of conditional parole under which he may be released. Similar advice shall be given to the guardian, near relative, or friend in cases involving mentally incompetent aliens, whether or not confined in institutions, and in cases of aliens under 16 years of age.

(c) Fingerprints; photographs. Every alien 14 years of age or older who is arrested under a warrant of arrest in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, or without a warrant of arrest under the authority of section 287 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, shall be fingerprinted. Any alien so arrested, regardless of his age, shall be photographed if a photograph is required by the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the case.

§ 242.21 Report to district director of continued detention. In any case in which a district enforcement officer or officer in charge has exercised the authority to continue or detain an alien in custody the facts and a report of the action taken shall be promptly transmitted to the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the office in which the proceedings were instituted. Further action shall be taken in the case, with respect to the alien's detention or release, as the district director shall direct.

§ 242.31 Release prior to entry of order of deportation; conditions. The conditions of any bond or terms of parole authorized by § 242.3 (a) shall include but shall not be limited to:

(a) A condition that the alien be produced, or will produce himself

(1) When required to do so for the purpose of defending himself against the charge or charges under which he was taken into custody and any other charges which subsequently may be lodged against him,

(2) For deportation, if an order of deportation is made,

(3) When the alien's detention is ordered as provided in § 242.3,

(4) For the purpose of furnishing additional information necessary to the final disposition of the case; and

(b) Such other conditions or terms as are otherwise directed, or which the officer granting the release deems appropriate in the case. If a bond is required and accepted, it shall be executed on Form I–353 and shall be in an amount not less than $500.

§ 242.32 Release after order of deportation; conditions. The conditions of any bond or terms of parole authorized by § 242.3 (b) shall include but shall not be limited to:

(a) A condition that the alien be produced, or will produce himself

(1) When required to do so for deportation,

(2) For the purpose of furnishing additional information necessary to the final disposition of his case,

(3) When the alien's detention is ordered as provided in § 242.3; and

(b) Such other conditions or terms as are otherwise directed, or which the officer granting the release deems appropriate in the case. If a bond is required and accepted, it shall be executed on Form I–353 and shall be in an amount not less than $500.

§ 242.33 Warning of penal provision. An alien against whom a final order of deportation is outstanding by reason of his being a member of any of the classes described in paragraph (4), (5), (6), (7), (11), (12), (14), (15), (16), (17), or (18) of section 241 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be advised of the penal provisions of section 242 (e) of the said Act.

§ 242.34 Institution cases. In the absence of special instructions, an alien confined in an institution shall not be accepted into physical custody by the Service until an order of deportation has been made and the Service is ready to deport the alien.

§ 242.35 Cost of maintenance pending deportation. The cost of maintaining aliens in custody after arrest and pending deportation may be borne by the Government, except that when an alien is an inmate of a public or private institution at the time of the commencement of deportation proceedings, no expense shall be incurred by the Government until he is taken into physical custody by the Service.

§ 242.41 Voluntary departure prior to commencement of hearing; procedure. Any alien, other than an alien prima facie deportable under section 242 (f) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, who believes himself to be eligible for voluntary departure under section 242 (b) of the said act may apply therefor at an office of the Service at any time prior to the commencement of the hearing under a warrant of arrest in his case. The district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the office receiving an application for voluntary departure may cause such investigation to be conducted as he deems necessary to determine whether the relief requested should be granted. If such officer is satisfied that:

(a) The alien is subject to deportation upon any ground other than those set forth in paragraph (4), (5), (6), (7), (11), (12), (14), (15), (16), (17), or (18) of section 241 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act,

(b) The alien is willing and able to depart promptly from the United States,

(c) The alien apparently will be admitted to the country of his destination, and

(d) The application should be granted, he shall grant the application and shall inform the alien of the time within which and under what conditions the jurisdiction over the place where the associations and activities, and other any statement made by him may be departure shall be effected. If such officer is not so satisfied that the application should be granted, he shall deny the application and shall take further action as is provided by the Immigration and Nationality Act and this chapter for the ultimate disposition of the case. No appeal shall lie from such denial, but the denial shall be without prejudice to the alien's right to apply for relief from deportation under any provision of the said Act.

§ 242.42 Revocation of grant of voluntary departure. If, subsequent to the granting of an application for voluntary departure under § 242.41 it is ascertained prior to the alien's actual departure from the United States that the alien should not be permitted to depart voluntarily under that section, the grant of voluntary departure may be revoked by any district director or officer in charge without notice. Thereupon, further proceedings shall be taken under this chapter and the Immigration and Nationality Act as are warranted by the facts in the case.

§ 242.51 Hearing; time for. The respondent shall have a reasonable period of time after the service of the warrant of arrest within which to arrange for the presentation of his case, including, if desired, representation by counsel. The district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the office in which the proceedings are pending shall assign the case to a special inquiry officer for hearing.

§ 242.52 Notice of hearing. The respondent shall be given notice, reasonable under all the circumstances, of the nature of the charges against him and of the time and place at which the proceedings will be held. Notice of hearings shall be prepared on Form I–226. A copy of such notice shall be served upon the respondent, and, in any case in which the respondent has been released on bond, upon the surety on the bond. The notice of hearing shall inform the respondent of the nature of the charges, the time and place at which the hearing will be held, and the respondent's privilege of being represented, at no expense to the Government by such counsel, authorized to practice in such proceedings, as he shall choose. Notice of hearing may be waived by the respondent and such waiver shall be made a part of the record of the case.

§ 242.53 Conduct of hearing—(a) Special inquiry officer; general powers. The special inquiry officer assigned to conduct the hearing under this part shall have authority to:

(1) Administer oaths and affirmations;

(2) Issue, during the course of a hearing, any subpenas authorized by law;

(3) Conduct the hearing, present and receive evidence, and rule upon all objections to the introduction of evidence or motions made during the course of the hearing;

(4) Take or cause depositions to be taken;

(5) Make decisions in accordance with § 242.61 or § 242.76; and

(6) Take any further action consistent with applicable provisions of law and regulation.

(b) Special inquiry officers; general duties. The special inquiry officer shall conduct a fair and impartial hearing. No decision of deportability shall be valid unless based upon reasonable, substantial and probative evidence. He shall exclude from the record any evidence that is irrelevant, immaterial, or unduly repetitious. In his discretion, he may exclude from the record any argument in support of objections, but in such event, the respondent may submit a brief in support of such objections. If the testimony is transcribed, the special inquiry officer shall certify that to the best of his knowledge and belief the transcript is a true and correct report of everything that was stated during the course of the hearing, including oaths administered and rulings on objections, but excluding statements made off the record.

(c) Special inquiry officers; specific duties. At the commencement of the hearing under this part, the special inquiry officer shall (1) place the respondent under oath or affirmation, (2) advise the respondent of his right to representation, at no expense to the Government, by counsel authorized to practice in such proceedings, as he shall choose, and require him to state then and there for the record whether he desires such representation, (3) enter of record a copy of the warrant of arrest and explain to the respondent in simple, understandable language the nature of the charges contained therein, (4) advise the respondent that he will have a reasonable opportunity to examine the evidence against him, to present evidence in his own behalf, and to cross-examine witnesses presented by the Government, and (5) present the evidence, including the interrogation, examination, and cross-examination of the respondent and witnesses to the extent necessary, as to (i) alienage, (ii) date, place and manner of entry of the respondent into the United States, (iii) grounds for deportation, (iv) factors bearing upon the respondent's eligibility for discretionary relief if application therefor has been made, and (v) such other matter as may be pertinent to the issues in the case. Except in the case of an alien prima facie deportable under section 242 (f) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the special inquiry officer, in such cases and at such time during the hearing as he deems appropriate, may advise the respondent concerning application for the privilege of suspension of deportation or voluntary departure under the provisions of section 244 of the said Act, and shall further advise the respondent of his right to specify the country to which his deportation is to be directed in the event such deportation is required by law and request the respondent to specify such country for the record.

(d) Special inquiry officers; additional charges. If it appears during the hearing that the respondent may be deportable on grounds other than or in addition to those stated in the warrant of arrest, the special inquiry officer, except as provided in § 242.75, may lodge additional charges against the respondent and shall develop evidence upon such charges in like manner as on the charges specified in the warrant of arrest. When additional charges are lodged, the special inquiry officer shall explain these charges to the respondent in simple understandable language and shall advise him, if he is not represented by an attorney or other qualified representative, that he may be so represented if he desires, and require him to state then and there for the record whether he desires such representation. The special inquiry officer shall also inform the respondent that he may have a reasonable period of time within which to meet the additional charges, if he desires, and require him to state then and there whether he desires such additional time.

(e) Withdrawal and substitution of special inquiry officer. The special inquiry officer assigned to conduct the hearing may at any time withdraw if he deems himself disqualified. If a special inquiry officer becomes unavailable to complete his duties within a reasonable time, another special inquiry officer shall be assigned to complete the case. In such event, the new special inquiry officer shall familiarize himself with the record in the case and shall state for the record that he has done so.

(f) Assignment of examining officer in addition to special inquiry officer; duties of examining officer. Prior to the commencement of a hearing, or during the course of a hearing upon the request of the special inquiry officer presiding at such hearing, the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the place where the proceedings are pending, in his discretion, may assign an immigration officer to act at the hearing as the examining officer. The examining officer shall in such case conduct any required interrogation of the respondent and of the witnesses in behalf of the Government, examine or cross-examine the respondent's witnesses and present evidence bearing upon the question whether the respondent is subject to deportation. Except as provided in §§ 242.74 and 242.75, he shall lodge such additional charges as he may find to be applicable and, if the respondent has applied for relief from deportation, inquire thoroughly into the respondent's eligibility for the relief requested, and develop such other information as may be pertinent to the proper disposition of the case. The assignment of an examining officer shall not impair the authority conferred by the Immigration and Nationality Act or this chapter upon the special inquiry officer presiding at such hearing.

(g) Representation by counsel. If the respondent is represented at the hearing by an attorney or other qualified representative, the attorney or representative shall be permitted to be present during the entire hearing, to introduce evidence in behalf of the respondent and to cross-examine witnesses. The attorney or representative shall be permitted to state his objections succinctly, and they shall be entered on the record. If representation is waived, the respondent shall be permitted to introduce evidence in his own behalf, to cross-examine witnesses, and to make objections which shall be entered on the record.

(h) Interpreters. If the services of an interpreter are found necessary in the conduct of a hearing, the special inquiry officer, if qualified, may act as interpreter with the consent of the respondent, or he may request the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction of the office in which the proceedings are pending to furnish an interpreter, who shall be sworn to interpret and translate accurately, unless the interpreter is an employee of the Service, in which event, no such oath shall be required.

(i) Postponement and adjournment of hearings. Prior to the commencement of a hearing, the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction of the office wherein the case is pending, may grant a reasonable postponement for good cause shown, at his own instance upon notice to the respondent, or upon request of the respondent. After the commencement of the hearing, the special inquiry officer presiding at the hearing may grant a reasonable adjournment for good cause shown, at his own instance upon notice to the respondent or upon request of the respondent. A continuance of the hearing for the purpose of allowing the alien to obtain representation, shall not be granted more than once, unless sufficient cause for the granting of more time is shown. The file or the record of hearing shall reflect the action taken with respect to any postponement or adjournment of hearing. Exceptions to a ruling on a request for a postponement or an adjournment of hearing may be taken by the respondent and, if taken, shall be noted on the record.

(j) Consolidation. Whenever two or more cases pending in the same district involve common questions of law or fact, the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction of the office wherein the cases are pending, may order a joint hearing of any or all matters and issues common to the cases, he may order all such hearings consolidated, and may make such further orders as may tend to avoid unnecessary cost and delay.

§ 242.54 Contents of record; evidence—(a) Record. The testimony, the exhibits, the decision of the special inquiry officer, and all written motions and other papers and requests filed in the proceeding, shall constitute the record in the case.

(b) Use of prior statements. The special inquiry officer may enter of record any statement, oral or written, which is material and relevant to any issue in the case, previously made by the respondent or any other person during any investigation, examination, or hearing. If objection thereto is made by the alien or his counsel or representative, the reasons for the objection, as well as the ruling thereon by the special inquiry officer, shall be made a part of the record.

(c) Stipulation. Whenever any facts or other matters at issue in the case have been stipulated in writing prior to the hearing, upon agreement between an officer of the Service and the respondent and his attorney or representative, and the stipulation has been signed by such persons, the special inquiry officer may enter the stipulation as an exhibit of record. Nothing in this paragraph shall preclude an oral or written confession or admission of any fact during a hearing under this part.

(d) Application for discretionary relief. Except in the case of an alien who is prima facie deportable under section 242 (f) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, at any time during the hearing the respondent may apply for suspension of deportation on Form I–256A or for voluntary departure, under section 244 of the said Act. The burden of establishing that he meets the statutory requirements for discretionary relief shall be upon the respondent. He may submit any evidence in support of his application which he believes should be considered by the special inquiry officer.

§ 242.61 Decision of special inquiry officer—(a) Preparation of written decision. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section and § 242.76, the special inquiry officer shall, as soon as practicable after the conclusion of the hearing, prepare a written decision signed by him which shall set forth a summary of the evidence adduced and his findings of fact and conclusions of law as to deportability, unless such findings and conclusions are waived by the respondent orally during the hearing or by written waiver filed with the special inquiry officer after the conclusion of the hearing. If the respondent has applied for discretionary relief in accordance with the provisions of § 242.54 (d), the decision shall also contain a discussion of the evidence relating to the alien's eligibility for such relief and the reasons for granting or denying such application. The decision shall be concluded with the order of the special inquiry officer as provided in paragraph (c) of this section.

(b) Oral decision. In any case in which he deems such action appropriate, the special inquiry officer may, after conclusion of the hearing, state for the record in the presence of the respondent or his counsel or representative his decision, which shall include the summary, findings, conclusions, discussion, and order referred to in paragraph (a) of this section. The respondent shall thereupon state for the record whether he desires to be served with a written decision as provided in paragraph (d) of this section. If he then and there waives service of a written decision, the respondent shall thereupon state for the record whether he appeals from the decision of the special inquiry officer to the Board. If such appeal is taken, the respondent shall, at the same time, submit a Notice of Appeal (Form I–290A) completed in accordance with paragraph (f) of this section and shall be required to state whether he desires to submit to the district director or officer in charge, having administrative jurisdiction over the office in which the hearing was held, a brief in support of such appeal for consideration by the Board. If he desires to submit a brief, the respondent shall be allowed ten days from the date of the oral decision within which to submit his brief to such district director or officer in charge. For good cause shown, such district director or officer in charge or the special inquiry officer presiding at the hearing, or the Board, in their discretion, may extend the time within which the brief may be submitted. In any case in which the respondent states for the record that he desires to submit a brief, he may, within the period allowed for the submission of such brief, file with the district director or the officer in charge a written waiver thereof.

(c) Order of special inquiry officer. The order of the special inquiry officer shall be (1) that the alien be deported, or (2) that the proceedings be terminated, or (3) that the alien's deportation be suspended, or (4) that the alien be granted voluntary departure at his own expense in lieu of deportation within such period of time or authorized extension thereof and under such conditions as the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction of the office in which the case is pending shall direct, with the further order that, if he fails to depart, he be deported, or (5) that such other action be taken in the proceedings as may be required for the appropriate disposition of the case. The special inquiry officer shall not have authority to designate at whose expense or to which country the alien shall be deported.

(d) Notice of decision. In any case in which the respondent has not waived service of a written decision, the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction of the office in which the proceeding is pending shall cause a signed copy of the decision of the special inquiry officer to be served on the respondent, with the notice referred to in § 6.11 of this chapter.

(e) Finality of order. The order of the special inquiry officer shall be final except when:

(1) The case has been certified as provided in § 7.1 (b) or § 6.1 (c); or

(2) An appeal is taken to the Board of Immigration Appeals.

(f) Appeals. (1) The filing of a Notice of Appeal (Form I–290A) in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section shall constitute the taking of an appeal referred to in Part 6 of this chapter and this part.

(2) No appeal shall lie from an order of a special inquiry officer denying an application for voluntary departure as a matter of discretion, where:

(i) The special inquiry officer has found the alien statutorily eligible for voluntary departure, and

(ii) The alien has been in the United States for a period of less than five years at the time of the service of the warrant of arrest in deportation proceedings.

In all other cases (except those covered by paragraph (e) (1) of this section) an appeal shall lie from an order of the special inquiry officer under this part to the Board of Immigration Appeals. The reasons for the appeal shall be stated briefly in the Notice of Appeal

(Form I–290A). Where deportability is the respondent is deportable under sec-custody under the authority of such immigration officer making delivery.

that it will be responsible for all deten-without the disclosure thereof to the (Form I–290A). Where deportability is contested, the alien or his representative shall be required to indicate in the Notice of Appeal (Form I–290A), the particular findings of fact or conclusions of law with which he disagrees; and failure to do so may constitute a ground for dismissal of the appeal by the Board.

(3) An appeal shall be taken within ten days after receipt of the written decision of the special inquiry officer, or, if a written decision is waived, at the time of such waiver. All appeals shall be filed on Form I–290A.

§ 242.71 Apprehension of alien. An alien within the purview of section 242 (f) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be taken into custody in accordance with §§ 242.1, and 242.11 to 242.14, inclusive. The warrant of arrest shall charge the alien with deportability only under section 242 (f) of the said Act. The prior order of deportation, properly identified, shall constitute prima facie cause for deportation under section 242 (f) of the said Act.

§ 242.72 Release from custody. The provisions of § 242.3 (a) and (b) shall not be applicable to the case of any alien apprehended under § 242.71 unless specific authority to release thereunder has been granted by the Commissioner or the Assistant Commissioner, Detention, Deportation, and Border Patrol Division.

§ 242.73 Conduct of hearing; decision; finality of order. Except as hereafter provided in §§ 242.74 to 242.76 inclusive, all of the provisions of §§ 242.5, 242.51 to 242.54, 242.6 and 242.61 shall apply to the case of an alien apprehended in accordance with § 242.71.

§ 242.74 Relief from deportation. An alien who is prima facie deportable under the provisions of section 242 (f) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall not be permitted to apply for voluntary departure in lieu of deportation or for suspension of deportation and shall not be granted such relief.

§ 242.75 Scope of hearing. The hearing referred to in § 242.73 shall be limited solely to a consideration and determination of the following issues:

(a) Identity of respondent, i. e., whether respondent is in fact a person who was previously deported or departed pursuant to an order of deportation.

(b) Whether the respondent was previously deported as a member of any of the classes described in paragraph (4), (5), (6), (7), (11), (12), (14), (15), (16), (17), or (18) of section 241 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

(c) Whether the respondent unlawfully reentered the United States. If during the course of such hearing it is ascertained that the respondent is not deportable under section 242 (f) of the said Act, the special inquiry officer shall if appropriate, lodge additional charges against the respondent, and further proceedings shall continue as provided in this part.

§ 242.76 Scope of decision. If, on the basis of the evidence presented, the special inquiry officer has determined that the respondent is deportable under section 242 (f) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, he shall state for the record at the conclusion of the hearing and in the presence of the respondent his decision in the case, which shall consist of (a) a summary of the evidence adduced; (b), unless waived by the respondent, his findings of fact and conclusions of law as to the issues described in § 242.75; and (c) an order that the respondent be deported under the previous order of deportation in accordance with section 242 (f) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

§ 242.77 Appeal. The order of the special inquiry officer that the respondent be deported under the previous order of deportation in accordance with section 242 (f) of the Immigration and Nationality Act may be appealed by the respondent to the Board in accordance with the provisions of § 242.61 (f).

PART 243—DEPORTATION OF ALIENS IN THE UNITED STATES

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
243.1 Issuance of warrants of deportation; country to which alien shall be deported; cost of detention; care and attention of alien.
243.2 Finality of decision.
243.3 Execution of warrants of deportation.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

243.11 Special care and attention for aliens.
243.12 Deportation of lepers.
243.13 Alien addict discharged from United States Public Health Service Hospital.
243.14 Notice to transportation line.
243.15 Deportation to foreign contiguous territory.

AUTHORITY: §§ 243.1 to 243.15 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 242, 243, 66 Stat. 208, 212.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 243.1 Issuance of warrants of deportation; country to which alien shall be deported; cost of detention; care and attention of alien—(a) Issuance. In any case in which an order of deportation becomes final a warrant of deportation shall be issued. District directors shall issue warrants of deportation.

(b) Determination of place and cost of deportation, and necessity for attendants. District directors shall exercise the authority contained in section 243 of the Immigration and Nationality Act to designate the country to which, and at whose expense an alien in the United States shall be deported, and to determine when an alien's mental or physical condition requires the employment of a person to accompany the alien.

§ 243.2 Finality of decision. No appeal shall lie from the decision of the district director in the exercise of the authority described in § 243.1.

§ 243.3 Execution of warrants of deportation—(a) Taking alien into custody. Upon the issuance of a warrant of deportation or as soon thereafter as the circumstances of the case require, the alien, if not in the physical custody of the Service, shall be taken into such custody under the authority of such warrant of deportation and deported.

(b) Stay of deportation. Except as otherwise provided herein, the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the place where the alien is located may, in the exercise of his discretion, and for good cause shown, stay the execution of a warrant and order of deportation for such time and under such conditions as he may deem appropriate. He may grant such stay upon his own instance or upon request of the alien. A request for a stay by the alien shall be in writing, shall be filed with the district director, and shall be supported by an affidavit setting forth the reasons for the request and by such other evidentiary matter as may support the request. In any case in which the request for a stay of deportation is predicated upon a claim by the alien that he would be subject to physical persecution if deported to the country designated by the district director, the office receiving the request shall transmit it to the Commissioner for decision. Notice of disposition of the alien's request shall be served upon him but neither the making of the request nor the failure to receive a notice of decision thereon shall relieve or excuse the alien from presenting himself for deportation at the time and place designated for his deportation. No appeal shall lie from a denial of a request for a stay of deportation, but such denial shall not preclude the Board from granting a stay in connection with a motion to reopen or a motion to reconsider as provided in § 6.21 (a) of this chapter.

(c) Voluntary departure under order of deportation. Subject to the limitations and provisions of sections 242 (g) and 243 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the place where the alien is located may, in his discretion, permit an alien who has been ordered deported to depart voluntarily from the United States under the order of deportation.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 243.11 Special care and attention for aliens—(a) Duty of transportation line. Whenever it is determined by the district director than an alien about to be deported requires special care and attention, the transportation line responsible for the expense of the alien's deportation shall provide for such care and attention as may be required by the alien's condition not only during the voyage from the United States to the foreign country to which the alien is to be deported but also during the foreign inland journey as hereinafter provided. Such alien shall be delivered to the master, commanding officer, or the officer in charge of the vessel or aircraft on which the alien is to be deported, who shall be given Form I–287 and duplicate carbon sheets A, B, and C thereof. Sheet A and the receipt attached thereto shall be filled out except as to signature by an immigration officer. The receipt attached to sheet A shall be signed by the officer of the vessel or aircraft to whom the alien has been delivered and returned forthwith to the immigration officer making delivery. Sheets B and C shall be retained by the receiving officer and in due course filled out by the agents or persons therein designated and by them returned by mail as herein provided.

(b) Procedure at foreign port of disembarkation. The transportation line shall at its own expense forward the alien from the foreign port of disembarkation to his destination in charge of a proper attendant except only in cases where the foreign public officials decline to allow such attendant to proceed and themselves take charge of the alien, which fact shall be recorded by the transportation line by executing the form provided in the lower half of sheet C of Form I–287. If the foreign public officials do not take charge of the alien at the port of disembarkation, but at an interior frontier, both forms on sheet C shall be filled out, the former in relation to the inland journey as far as such frontier.

(c) Failure of transportation line to provide special care. Whenever a transportation line responsible for the expenses of the alien's deportation fails, refuses, or neglects to provide personal care and attention for such alien requiring such care and attention, or whenever such line fails, refuses, neglects to return sheets B and C of Form I–287, properly executed within 90 days after the departure of such alien, or otherwise fails, refuses, or neglects to comply with the provisions of this section, the district director shall thereafter and without notice employ suitable persons, at the expense of the transportation line, to accompany aliens requiring personal care and attentoin who are deported on any vessel or aircraft of such line.

§ 243.12 Deportation of lepers. Cases of aliens afflicted with leprosy shall be handled in accordance with the governing regulations and instructions issued by the Surgeon General, United States Public Health Service, Federal Security Agency.

§ 243.13 Alien addict discharged from United States Public Health Service Hospital. Any alien who has been sentenced to imprisonment and has been ordered deported and who has been transferred as an alien addict to a hospital of the United States Public Health Service provided for in the Public Health Service Act, as amended (58 Stat. 696; 42 U. S. C. 201 et seq.), shall be taken into custody upon his discharge from such narcotic farm and deported without requiring his return to the penal institution from which he came to such narcotic farm.

§ 243.14 Notice to transportation line. If an alien's deportation is to be effected by vessel or aircraft, notice of the proposed deportation shall be given to the transportation line concerned, together with a brief description of the alien and any other appropriate data, including the cause of deportation, the alien's physical and mental condition, and the place to which the alien is to be taken by such line. Any request from such line to defer the delivery of the alien for deportation shall be accompanied by a written agreement from the line that it will be responsible for all detention expenses resulting from such deferment.

§ 243.15 Deportation to foreign contiguous territory. Aliens ordered deported to foreign contiguous territory shall be returned across the border at the nearest port unless humanitarian or other reasons make it advisable to effect deportation through some other port. Deportation to a seaport in such foreign territory shall be authorized whenever that appears advisable or more economical than deportation across a land boundary.

PART 244—SUSPENSION OF DEPORTATION AND VOLUNTARY DEPARTURE

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
244.1 Voluntary departure after issuance of warrant of arrest.
244.2 Suspension of deportation.
244.3 Use of confidential information.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

244.11 Voluntary departure after issuance of warrant of arrest and prior to commencement of hearing.
244.12 Application for voluntary departure subsequent to commencement of hearing; disposition.
244.13 Revocation of grant of voluntary departure.
244.14 Verification of departure; cancellation of delivery bond.

AUTHORITY: §§ 244.1 to 244.14 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 241, 242, 244, 66 Stat. 204, 208, 214.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 244.1 Voluntary departure after issuance of warrant of arrest—(a) Prior to commencement of hearing. Prior to the commencement of the hearing provided for in Part 242 of this chapter and subject to the provisions of this part, district directors and officers in charge may authorize voluntary departure in lieu of deportation in the case of an alien under deportation proceedings.

(b) Subsequent to commencement of hearing. Subject to the provisions of Part 242 of this chapter, a special inquiry officer may, subsequent to the commencement of the hearing provided for in that part, grant voluntary departure in lieu of deportation in the case of any alien who is the subject of deportation proceedings before such officer.

§ 244.2 Suspension of deportation. An application for suspension of deportation shall be submitted in accordance with, and subject to, the provisions of § 242.54 (d) of this chapter and shall be determined and disposed of in accordance with the provisions of this part and § 242.61 of this chapter.

§ 244.3 Use of confidential information. In the case of an alien qualified for voluntary departure or suspension of deportation under section 242 or 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act the determination as to whether the application for voluntary departure or suspension of deportation shall be granted or denied (whether such determination is made initially or on appeal) may be predicated upon confidential information without the disclosure thereof to the applicant, if in the opinion of the officer or the Board making the determination the disclosure of such information would be prejudicial to the public interest, safety, or security.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 244.11 Voluntary departure after issuance of warrant of arrest and prior to commencement of hearing—(a) Application. The alien, if he believes that he is eligible for voluntary departure under section 244 (e) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, may, at any time subsequent to the issuance of a warrant of arrest and prior to the commencement of the hearing, apply therefor by filing an application with the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the office in which the deportation proceedings against such alien are pending.

(b) Disposition of application. The district director or officer in charge may cause such investigation to be conducted as he deems necessary to determine whether the relief requested should be granted. If such officer is satisfied that:

(1) The alien is subject to deportation upon any ground other than those set forth in paragraph (4), (5), (6), (7), (11), (12), (14), (15), (16), (17), or (18) of section 241 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act,

(2) The alien is willing and able to depart promptly from the United States,

(3) The alien will apparently be admitted to the country of his destination,

(4) The alien is and has been a person of good moral character for at least 5 years immediately preceding his application for voluntary departure, and

(5) That the application should be granted, he shall grant the application and shall inform the alien of the time within which and under what conditions the departure shall be effected. If such officer is not so satisfied, or if it appears that applicant is or may be subject to deportation upon any ground set forth in paragraph (4), (5), (6), (7), (11), (12), (14), (15), (16), (17), or (18) of section 241 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the district director or officer in charge shall refer the application for voluntary departure with the case of the alien to a special inquiry officer for hearing and determination in accordance with § 242.61 and § 244.12 of this chapter.

§ 244.12 Application for voluntary departure subsequent to commencement of hearing; disposition. If the special inquiry officer is satisfied that:

(a) The alien is willing and able to depart promptly from the United States,

(b) The alien apparently will be admitted to the country of his destination,

(c) The alien, if deportable upon any ground set forth in paragraph (4), (5), (6), (7), (11), (12), (14), (15), (16), (17) or (18) of section 241 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, is within the classes of persons who are eligible for suspension of deportation under paragraphs (4) or (5) of section

244 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act,

(d) The alien is and has been a person of good moral character for at least 5 years immediately preceding his application for voluntary departure, and

(e) That the relief requested should be granted, he shall enter an order as provided in § 242.61 (c).

§ 244.13 Revocation of grant of voluntary departure. If, subsequent to the granting of voluntary departure under this part by a district director or officer in charge and prior to the alien's actual departure from the United States it is ascertained that the alien should not be permitted to depart voluntarily, the grant of voluntary departure may be revoked by any district director or officer in charge without notice, and such further proceedings shall be taken under this chapter and the Immigration and Nationality Act as are warranted by the facts.

§ 244.14 Verification of departure; cancellation of delivery bond. An alien's voluntary departure from the United States in accordance with the provisions of this part, shall, if verified to the satisfaction of the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the office in which the application for voluntary departure was made, serve to terminate further proceedings in the case and to cancel any outstanding delivery bond.

PART 245—ADJUSTMENT OF STATUS OF NONIMMIGRANT TO THAT OF A PERSON ADMITTED FOR PERMANENT RESIDENCE

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.

245.1 Authority to adjust status.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

245.11 Who may apply.
245.12 Application.
245.13 Attorneys.
245.14 Procedure upon acceptance of application.
245.15 Evidence; burden of proof.
245.16 Examination and investigation.
245.17 Disposition of case.

AUTHORITY: §§ 245.1 to 245.17 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply sec. 4, 43 Stat. 155, as amended, secs. 101, 234, 245, 247, 66 Stat. 167, 168, 198, 217, 218; 8 U. S. C. 204.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 245.1 Authority to adjust status. Subject to the provisions of this part, district directors may, pursuant to section 245 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, adjust the status of a nonimmigrant to that of a person admitted for permanent residence.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 245.11 Who may apply. Any alien (including one admitted as a student under section 4 (c) of the Immigration Act of 1924) who entered the United States in good faith as a nonimmigrant, and who believes that he meets the eligibility requirements set forth in section 245 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, may apply for an adjustment of status: Provided, That no alien who (a) has a nonimmigrant status under paragraph (15) (A), (15) (E), or (15) (G) of section 101 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, or (b) has an occupational status which would, if he were seeking admission to the United States, entitle him to a nonimmigrant status under any of such paragraphs of section 101 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, shall be eligible to apply for adjustment of status without first executing and submitting with his application the written waiver required by section 247 (b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Part 247 of this chapter.

§ 245.12 Application. Application for adjustment of status under this part shall be made on Form I–507, in duplicate. The application shall be completed in accordance with the instructions appearing thereon and shall be accompanied by (a) two photographs as described in Part 10 of this chapter, (b) the Form 257a, Form I-94C or other document issued to the applicant at the time of his entry as, or adjustment of status to, a nonimmigrant or as a student under section 4 (c) of the Immigration Act of 1924, and (c) documentary evidence establishing that the applicant meets the eligibility requirements set forth in section 245 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and § 245.11. Such documents shall include but shall not be limited to (1) any available official document showing the alien's police record, (2) any available official document showing the alien's prison record and military record in the United States or abroad, (3) record of the alien's birth, (4) a statement from the United States Department of State showing that a visa would be available to the alien on the date of his application for adjustment under this part, (5) if the alien is claiming nonquota status or preference quota status by reason of relationship to a United States citizen or alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence, official certifications establishing such relationship, including records of marriage, birth, and citizenship of the person with whom such relationship is claimed, (6) if claiming preference quota status under section 203 (a) (1) (A) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, a signed statement from the person, institution, firm, organization, or governmental agency for whom the alien is to perform the work, labor, or services, containing the information and accompanied by the documents required by Form I–129 and paragraph (a) of § 204.4 of this chapter, (7) a statement of the alien's net worth together with any employment records, bank records, copies of income tax returns or other evidence satisfactorily establishing that the alien is not likely to become a public charge, (8) statements from any institutions in which the alien may have been treated for a mental disease or disorder at any time, showing the nature and duration of such disorder and the result of the treatment, (9) documentary evidence, such as school records, employment records, business records, and the like, showing that the alien has continued to maintain his nonimmigrant status. The applicant may submit photographic or typewritten copies of such documents, if such copies are by law permitted to be made, but in such case the original documents, if available, must be presented at the examination provided for in § 245.16.

§ 245.13 Attorneys. Attorneys or other persons authorized to practice before the Service who represent applicants shall be permitted to be present during the examination of the alien and the witnesses, to submit briefs and to review the record, either before it is forwarded to the district director, or thereafter, and prior to final decision.

§ 245.14 Procedure upon acceptance of application. Upon acceptance of an application, the applicant shall be requested to submit to an examination by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, whose report setting forth the findings of the mental and physical condition of the applicant shall be incorporated into the record. If an examination before such officer is impracticable and compliance therewith would cause the applicant undue hardship, a certificate from a civil surgeon having not less than four years' professional experience, and preferably one designated by the United States Public Health Service or Veterans' Administration, may, in the discretion of the district director, be accepted. Any applicant certified as insane or mentally defective may appeal to the Board of Medical Officers of the United States Public Health Service as provided in section 234 of the Immigration and Nationality Act. The applicant shall be given timely notice of the date and place of the examination provided for in § 245.16, and the case shall be assigned to an immigration officer for the purpose of conducting such examination.

§ 245.15 Evidence; burden of proof. All evidence adduced during an examination under this part may be used at any other proceeding, and the alien shall be duly informed of this fact. The burden of proof shall be upon the applicant. In presenting his proof he shall be entitled to the benefit of any disclosable records concerning him which are in the custody of the Service.

§ 245.16 Examination and investigation—(a) Examination of applicant and witnesses. The immigration officer shall orally review the application with the applicant, or, in the case of a child under 14 years of age, with his parent or guardian. Any necessary changes in the application shall be consecutively numbered on the application form by such officer and acknowledged in writing by the applicant, or, in the case of a child, by his parent or guardian. The applicant shall at that time produce the available original documents, copies of which were submitted, or which he desires to be considered, in support of his application. Such copies or excerpts therefrom as are found to be pertinent shall be verified by the immigration officer from the originals, shall be appropriately marked and numbered for identification and made a part of the application. When no longer required the original documents shall be returned to the applicant. The immigration officer shall then administer the oath or affirmation contained in Form I–507 and obtain the applicant's signature in the appropriate place on that Form. In cases in which the examining officer deems it necessary he shall conduct a further examination of the applicant or his parent or guardian by interrogation, under oath or affirmation. If the application, supporting documentary evidence, records of the Service, and the testimony adduced, established the applicant's eligibility for adjustment of status, no other witnesses shall be required, otherwise, such number of credible witnesses preferably citizens of the United States, as may be deemed necessary, shall be questioned under oath or affirmation by the officer concerning the applicant's eligibility for adjustment of status. If such witnesses cannot appear because of remoteness, physical disability, or any other cause which the officer deems satisfactory, their affidavits may be accepted in lieu of their personal appearance. The oral testimony given by the applicant, the parent or guardian, or the witnesses, shall not be reduced to writing in verbatim form or stenographically or mechanically recorded, but a résumé thereof shall be prepared and certified as true and correct by the immigration officer and made a part of the record. A verbatim record may be made of such testimony in any case in which the examining officer deems it advisable. If such verbatim record is made stenographically or mechanically recorded, it shall not be transcribed unless the district director denies the application.

(b) Investigations. Necessary investigations in other districts may, when feasible, be conducted by correspondence. If deemed necessary by the immigration officer, further investigations may be conducted by interview or by correspondence. The replies to such correspondence, and the reports of the investigation may be made a part of the record by the immigration officer.

§ 245.17 Disposition of case—(a) Record, recommendation, and review. The immigration officer shall, upon completion of the examination, prepare a report of his findings as to each of the essential facts prescribed by section 245 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and § 245.11 together with his recommendation. If the officer is satisfied that the application should be granted, he shall so recommend. If the immigration officer is not satisfied that the application should be granted he shall recommend denial of the application. In any case he shall make a brief summary of the evidence and shall include in his report a statement as to the grounds and reasons for the recommendation. The application, record, supporting documents, photographs, and the report of the immigration officer shall then be transmitted to the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the office in which the examination was conducted. The district director shall approve or disapprove the recommendation of the immigration officer. If the district director disapproves the recommendation, he shall state in writing his reasons for such disapproval.

(b) Application denied. If the district director denies the application, the applicant shall be notified in writing of such decision and of the reasons therefor and, at the same time, shall be advised of his right to appeal to the Assistant Commisisoner, Inspections and Examinations Division, by filing a notice of appeal on Form I–290B. The notice of appeal shall be filed at the office of such district director within 10 days from the receipt of notification of such decision as provided in Part 7 of this chapter. The applicant may waive his right to appeal within the 10-day period. If an appeal is taken, the record shall be forwarded to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division for review and decision in accordance with Part 7 of this chapter. If appeal is waived or no appeal is taken within the time permitted, the decision of the district director shall thereupon become final.

(c) Decision by Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division. On appeal, the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division may grant or deny the application for adjustment. The case shall then be returned to the office of origin. If the application has been denied, the district director shall so inform the applicant in writing. No appeal shall lie from the decision of the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division.

(d) Application granted; delivery of alien registration receipt card. In any case in which the application for adjustment of status is granted, an alien registration receipt card, Form I–151, showing that the applicant has acquired the status of an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence, shall be issued to the applicant. If the alien is in possession of any other documents evidencing compliance with the Alien Registration Act, 1940, or Chapter 7 of Title II of the Immigration and Nationality Act, he shall be required to surrender it.

(e) Application denied; further action. If no appeal is taken from the decision of the district director denying the application, or if the Assistant Commissioner on appeal denies the application, the district director shall take such action as is necessary under existing law and regulations to effect the alien's departure from the United States.

PART 246—RESCISSION OF ADJUSTMENT OF STATUS

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.

246.1 Rescission of adjustment of status.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

246.11 Investigation and report.
246.12 Notice.
246.13 Disposition of case.
246.14 Decision by Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division.
246.15 Surrender of Form I–151.

AUTHORITY: §§ 246.1 to 246.15 issued under section 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply sec. 19, 39 Stat. 889, as amended, secs. 244, 246, 66 Stat. 214, 217; 8 U. S. C. 155.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 246.1 Rescission of adjustment of status. Subject to the limitations provided in this part, the authority contained in section 246 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act may be exercised by district directors.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 246.11 Investigation and report. If, at any time within five years after the status of a person has been adjusted under any provision of law to that of an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence, evidence becomes available that such person was not eligible for such adjustment, a complete report shall be submitted to the district director having administrative jurisdiction over such person's last known place of residence in the United States.

§ 246.12 Notice. If on the basis of the evidence presented the district director receiving the report is satisfied that a prima-facie showing has been made that the person was not in fact eligible for the adjustment of status made in his case, he shall cause a notice to be served on such person informing him that it is intended to rescind the adjustment of status, and of the grounds upon which it is intended to base such rescission. The notice shall also inform the person to whom it is addressed that he may submit, within 30 days from the date of service of the notice, an answer in writing under oath, setting forth reasons why such rescission should not be made. The notice shall also advise the person to whom it is addressed that he may, within such period and upon his request have an opportunity to appear in person, in support or in lieu of his written answer, before such immigration officer as may be designated for that purpose. The person to whom the notice is addressed shall further be advised therein that he may have the assistance of counsel, without expense to the government of the United States, in the preparation of his answer or in connection with such personal appearance, and shall have opportunity to examine, at the appropriate office of the Service, the evidence upon which it is proposed to base such rescission.

§ 246.13 Disposition of case—(a) Allegations admitted or no answer filed. If the answer admits the allegations in the notice, or if no answer is filed within the 30-day period, and the status of permanent resident was acquired through suspension of deportation under section 19 (c) of the Immigration Act of February 5, 1917 or under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the district director shall forward the file and all of the papers to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, for further action in accordance with section 246 of the Immigration and Nationality Act. If the answer admits the allegations in the notice, or if no answer is filed within the 30-day period, and the status of permanent resident was acquired through adjustment of status other than through suspension of deportation, the district director shall rescind the adjustment of status previously granted and no appeal shall lie from such decision.

(b) Answer filed; personal appearance not requested. Upon receipt of an answer asserting defense to the allegations in the notice, without request for an interview the case shall be assigned to an immigration officer for consideration. The immigration officer shall prepare a report of his findings and make a recommendation as to whether the adjustment of status should be rescinded. The record in the case, including the report and recommendation of the immigration officer, shall be forwarded to the district director who caused the notice to be served. The district director shall note on the report of the immigration officer whether he approves or disapproves the recommendation of the immigration officer. If the decision of the district director is that the matter be terminated, the party affected shall be informed of such decision. If the decision of the district director is that the adjustment of status should be rescinded, the following action shall be taken:

(1) If the status of permanent resident was acquired through suspension of deportation under section 19 (c) of the Immigration Act of 1917 or under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the district director shall forward the party's file and all of the papers in the matter to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, for further action in accordance with section 246 of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

(2) If the status of permanent resident was acquired through adjustment of status other than through suspension of deportation, the district director shall enter a decision rescinding the adjustment of status previously granted. The party affected shall be informed in writing of the decision of the district director and of the reasons for such decision. From the decision of the district director an appeal may be taken to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, within 10 days from the receipt of notification of the decision, as provided in Part 7 of this chapter. The party affected may waive an appeal. If no appeal is taken, or if the appeal is waived, the decision of the district director shall be final.

(c) Answer filed; personal appearance requested or directed. If the party requests a personal appearance, or if at any time the district director or the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, so directs, the party shall be given an opportunity to be interviewed by an immigration officer. The party may be represented at the interview by counsel of his own choice at no expense to the government. All evidence pertinent to the case, including the testimony of any witnesses, shall be incorporated into the record of the interview. At the conclusion of the interview the immigration officer shall prepare a report setting forth a summary of the evidence and findings of fact and conclusions of law based on such evidence. The report shall conclude with a recommendation which shall be either (i) that the adjustment of status be rescinded, or (ii) that the matter be terminated. The complete record, including the report and recommendation of the immigration officer shall be forwarded to the district director. The district director shall note on the report of the immigration officer whether he approves or disapproves the recommendation of the immigration officer. If the decision of the district director is that the matter be terminated, the party affected shall be informed of such decision. If the decision of the district director is that the adjustment of status should be rescinded, the following action shall be taken:

(1) If the status of permanent resident was acquired through suspension of deportation under section 19 (c) of the Immigration Act of 1917 or under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the district director shall forward the party's file and all of the papers in the matter to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, for further action in accordance with section 246 of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

(2) If the status of permanent resident was acquired through adjustment of status other than through suspension of deportation, the district director shall enter a decision rescinding the adjustment of status previously granted. The party affected shall be informed in writing of the decision of the district director and of the reasons for such decision. From the decision of the district director an appeal may be taken to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, within 10 days from the receipt of notification of the decision, as provided in Part 7 of this chapter. The party affected may waive an appeal. If no appeal is taken, or if the appeal is waived, the decision of the district director shall be final.

§ 246.14 Decision by Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division. If the decision of the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, is that the adjustment of status be rescinded and such status was acquired through suspension of deportation, he shall cause further action to be taken as provided in section 246 of the Immigration and Nationality Act to present the case to the Congress. In any other case, the file and all of the papers in the matter shall be returned to the district director who shall inform the party affected of the decision. No appeal shall lie from the decision of the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division.

§ 246.15 Surrender of Form I–151. An alien whose status as a permanent resident has been rescinded or withdrawn in accordance with section 246 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and this part, shall, upon demand, promptly surrender to the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the office in which the action under this part was taken the Form I–151 issued to him at the time of the grant of permanent resident status.

PART 247—ADJUSTMENT OF STATUS OF CERTAIN RESIDENT ALIENS

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
247.1 Adjustment of status of resident aliens to nonimmigrant status; authority

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

247.11 Investigation and report.
247.12 Notice.
247.13 Disposition of case.
247.14 Decision by Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division.

AUTHORITY: §§ 247.1 to 247.14 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 101, 247, 66 Stat. 167, 218.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 247.1 Adjustment of status of resident aliens to nonimmigrant status; authority. Subject to the limitations provided in this part, the authority contained in section 247 of the Immigration and Nationality Act to adjust the status of certain resident aliens to nonimmigrant status may be exercised by district directors.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 247.11 Investigation and report. If at any time evidence becomes available that an alien who was lawfully admitted for permanent residence has an occupational status which, if he were seeking admission to the United States, would entitle him to a nonimmigrant status under paragraph 15 (A), 15 (E), or 15 (G), of section 101 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, a complete report shall be submitted to the district director having administrative jurisdiction over such alien's place of residence.

§ 247.12 Notice. If on the basis of the evidence presented, the district director receiving the report is satisfied that a prima-facie showing has been made that the alien has an occupational status described in § 247.11 he shall cause a notice to be served on such alien informing him that it is proposed to adjust his status, unless (a) the alien requests that he be permitted to retain his status as a resident alien and executes and files with such district director a Form I–508 in duplicate (Waiver of all Rights, Privileges, Exemptions and Immunities) within 10 days from receipt of the notice; or (b) the alien, within such 10 day period, files with the district director a written answer under oath setting forth reasons why his status should not be adjusted. The notice shall also advise the person to whom it is addressed that he may, within such period and upon his request have an opportunity to appear in person, in support or in lieu of his written answer, before such immigration officer as may be designated for that purpose. The person to whom the notice is addressed shall further be advised therein that he may have the assistance of counsel, without expense to the government of the United States, in the preparation of his answer or in connection with such personal appearance, and shall have opportunity to examine, at the appropriate office of the Service, the evidence upon which it is proposed to base such adjustment.

§ 247.13 Disposition of case.—(a) Allegations admitted or no answer filed. If Form I–508 is not filed by the alien within the time prescribed, and (1) the answer admits the allegations in the notice, or (2) no answer is filed, the district director shall place a notation on the notice describing the alien's adjusted nonimmigrant status and shall cause a set of Forms I–94 to be prepared evidencing the nonimmigrant classification to which the alien has been adjusted. The Form I–94C shall be delivered to the alien and shall constitute notice to him of such adjustment. The alien's nonimmigrant status shall be for such time, under such conditions, and subject to such regulations as are applicable to the particular nonimmigrant status granted and shall be subject to such other terms and conditions, including the exaction of bond, as the district director may deem appropriate.

(b) Answer filed; personal appearance not requested. Upon receipt of an answer asserting a defense to the allegations made in the notice, without request for a personal appearance, the matter shall be assigned to an immigration officer for consideration. The immigration officer shall prepare a report of his findings and make a recommendation as to whether the status should be adjusted. The record and the report and recommendation of the immigration officer shall be forwarded to the district director who caused the notice to be served. The district director shall note on the report of the immigration officer whether he approves or disapproves the recommendation of the immigration officer. If the decision of the district director is that the matter be terminated, the party affected shall be informed of such decision. If the district director determines that the status of the alien should be adjusted to that of a nonimmigrant, his decision shall provide that unless the alien, within 10 days of receipt of notification of such decision, requests permission to retain his status as an immigrant and files with the district director Form I–508 in duplicate, the alien's immigrant status be adjusted to that of a nonimmigrant. The alien shall be informed of such decision, the reasons therefor, and that he has 10 days from the receipt of notification of such decision within which he may appeal to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, in accordance with Part 7 of this chapter. The party affected may waive an appeal. If the appeal is waived or if no appeal is taken within the time allowed, the decision of the district director shall be final. If the alien does not request that he be permitted to retain status and file the Form I–508 within the period provided therefor, the district director shall, without further notice to the alien, cause a set of Forms I–94 to be prepared evidencing the nonimmigrant classification to which the alien has been adjusted. The Form I–94C shall be delivered to the alien. The alien's nonimmigrant status shall be for such time, under such conditions, and subject to such regulations as are applicable to the particular nonimmigrant status created and shall be subject to such other terms and conditions, including the exaction of bond, as the district director may deem appropriate.

(c) Answer filed; personal appearance requested or directed. If the party affected has filed an answer asserting a defense to the allegations in the notice and containing a request for a personal appearance, or if at any time the district director or the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, so directs, the party shall be given an opportunity to be interviewed by an immigration officer for the purpose of presenting evidence as to whether his status shall be adjusted to that of an immigrant. The party may be represented at the interview by counsel of his own choice at no expense to the Government. All evidence pertinent to the matter, including the testimony of any witnesses, shall be incorporated into the record. At the conclusion of the interview the immigration officer shall prepare a report setting forth a summary of the evidence and findings of fact and conclusion of law based on such evidence. The report shall conclude with a recommendation which shall be either (1) that the status be adjusted, or (2) that the matter be terminated. The complete record, including the report and recommendation of the immigration officer, shall be forwarded to the district director. The district director shall note on the report of the immigration officer whether he approves or disapproves the recommendation of the immigration officer. If the decision of the district director is that the matter be terminated, the party affected shall be informed of such decision. If the district director determines that the status of the alien should be adjusted to that of a nonimmigrant, his decision shall provide that unless the alien, within 10 days of receipt of notification of such decision, requests permission to retain his status as an immigrant and files with the district director Form I–508 in duplicate, the alien's immigrant status be adjusted to that of a nonimmigrant. The alien shall be informed of such decision, the reasons therefor, and that he has 10 days from the receipt of notification of such decision within which he may appeal to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, in accordance with Part 7 of this chapter. The party affected may waive an appeal. If the appeal is waived or if no appeal is taken within the time allowed, the decision of the district director shall be final. If the alien does not request that he be permitted to retain status and file the Form I–508 within the period provided therefor, the district director shall, without further notice to the alien, cause a set of Forms I–94 to be prepared evidencing the nonimmigrant classification to which the alien has been adjusted. The Form I–94C shall be delivered to the alien. The alien's nonimmigrant status shall be for such time, under such conditions, and subject to such regulations as are applicable to the particular nonimmigrant status created and shall be subject to such other terms and conditions, including the exaction of bond, as the district director may deem appropriate.

§ 247.14 Decision by Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division. The Assistant Commissioner's decision shall be transmitted to the district director who shall advise the party affected of the decision. No appeal shall lie from the decision of the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division. If the Assistant Commissioner determines that the status of the alien should be adjusted to that of a nonimmigrant, his decision shall provide that unless the alien, within 10 days of receipt of notification of such decision, requests permission to retain his status as an immigrant and files with the district director Form I–508 in duplicate, the alien's immigrant status be adjusted to that of a nonimmigrant. If the alien does not request that he be permitted to retain status and file the Form I–508 within the period provided therefor, the district director, without further notice to the alien, shall cause a set of Forms I–94 to be prepared evidencing the nonimmigrant classification to which the alien has been adjusted. The Form I–94C shall be delivered to the alien. The alien's nonimmigrant status shall be for such time, under such conditions, and subject to such regulations as are applicable to the particular nonimmigrant status created and shall be subject to such other terms and conditions, including the exaction of bond, as the district director may deem appropriate.

PART 248—CHANGE OF NONIMMIGRANT CLASSIFICATION

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
248.1 Change of nonimmigrant classification.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

248.11 Application.
248.12 Attorneys.
248.13 Procedure upon acceptance of application.
248.14 Evidence; burden of proof.
248.15 Examination and investigation.
248.16 Disposition of case.

AUTHORITY: §§ 248.1 to 248.16 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 101, 233, 247, 248, 66 Stat. 167, 168, 203, 218.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 248.1 Change of nonimmigrant classification.—(a) Authority. Subject to the limitations provided in this part, the authority contained in section 248 of the Immigration and Nationality Act to authorize a change in nonimmigrant classification may be exercised by district directors.

(b) Eligibility for change of nonimmigrant classification. Except as otherwise provided in this section, any alien lawfully admitted to the United States as a nonimmigrant (including an alien who acquired such status pursuant to section 247 of the Immigration and Nationality Act) who is continuing to maintain his nonimmigrant status, may apply to have his nonimmigrant classification changed to any other nonimmigrant classification for which he may be qualified. This section shall not apply to an alien classified as a nonimmigrant under section 101 (a) (15) (D) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, or to an alien classified as a nonimmigrant under section 101 (a) (15) (C) who is within the purview of section 238 (d) of that act. Any eligible alien classified as a nonimmigrant under section 101 (a) (15) (C) may apply only for a change to a classification under paragraph (15) (A) or (15) (G) of section 101 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 248.11 Application—(a) General requirements. Application for change of nonimmigrant classification shall be made on Form I–506 (Application for Change of Nonimmigrant Status). There shall be submitted with the application the Form 257, I–94 or other document issued to the applicant at the time of his admission as, or adjustment of status to, a nonimmigrant, and documentary evidence establishing that the applicant is maintaining his nonimmigrant classification and is eligible for the reclassification requested. If the applicant desires, he may submit photographic or typewritten copies of documents, if such copies are permitted to be made by law, but in such event the original documents must be presented at the examination provided for in § 248.15.

(b) Change of nonimmigrant classification to that under section 101 (a) (15) (H) of the Immigration and Nationality Act; additional requirements. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this part, an application for a change of an alien's nonimmigrant classification to that described in section 101 (a) (15) (H) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be accompanied by an application executed under oath in duplicate on Form I–129B made by the alien's prospective employer or trainer. There shall be attached thereto the supporting evidence required by the Form I–129B.

§ 248.12 Attorneys. Attorneys or other persons authorized to practice before the Service, who represent applicants, shall be permitted to be present during the examination of the alien and witnesses, to submit briefs and to review the record, either before it is forwarded to the district director, or thereafter, and prior to final decision.

§ 248.13 Procedure upon acceptance of application. Upon acceptance of an application, the applicant shall be given timely notice of the date and place of the examination provided for in § 248.15, and the case shall be assigned to an immigration officer for the purpose of conducting such examination.

§ 248.14 Evidence; burden of proof. All evidence adduced at an examination under this part may be used in any other proceeding, and the alien shall be duly informed of this fact. The burden of proof shall be upon the applicant. In presenting his proof he shall be entitled to the benefit of any disclosable records concerning him which are in the custody of the Service.

§ 248.15 Examination and investigation—(a) Examination of applicant and witnesses. The immigration officer shall orally review the application with the applicant, or, in the case of a child under 14 years of age, with the parent or guardian. Any necessary changes shall be consecutively numbered by such officer and acknowledged in writing by the applicant, or, in the case of a child, by the parent or guardian, on the application form. The applicant shall at that time produce the available original documents, copies of which were submitted, or which he desires to be considered, in support of his application. Such copies or excerpts therefrom as are found to be pertinent shall be verified by the immigration officer from the originals, shall be appropriately marked and numbered for identification, and made a part of the application. When no longer required, the original documents shall be returned to the applicant. The immigration officer shall then administer the oath or affirmation contained in Form I–506 and obtain the applicant's signature in the appropriate place on that form. In cases in which the examining officer deems it necessary he shall conduct a further examination of the applicant, or the parent or guardian, by interrogation under oath or affirmation. If the application, supporting documentary evidence, records of the Service, and the testimony adduced, establish the applicant's eligibility for a change of his nonimmigrant classification, no other witnesses shall be required. Otherwise, such number of credible witnesses preferably citizens of the United States, as may be deemed necessary, shall be questioned under oath or affirmation by the officer concerning the facts of the applicant's eligibility for reclassification. If such witnesses cannot appear because of remoteness, physical disability, or any other cause deems satisfactory, their affidavits may be accepted in lieu of their personal appearance. The oral testimony given by the applicant, the parent or guardian, or the witnesses, shall not be reduced to writing in verbatim form or stenographically or mechanically recorded, but a résumé thereof shall be prepared and certified as true and correct by the immigration officer and made a part of the record. A verbatim record may be made of such testimony in any case in which the examining officer deems it advisable. If such verbatim record is made stenographically or mechanically recorded, it shall not be transcribed unless the district director denies the application.

(b) Investigations. Necessary investigations in other districts may, when feasible, be conducted by correspondence. If deemed necessary by the immigration officer, further investigations may be conducted by interview or by correspondence. The replies to such correspondence, and the reports of the investigation, may be made a part of the record by the immigration officer.

§ 248.16 Disposition of case—(a) Record, recommendation and review. Upon completion of the examination the immigration officer shall prepare a report of his findings as to each of the essential facts prescribed by section 248 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and § 245.1 of this chapter, together with his recommendation. If the officer is satisfied that the application should be granted he shall so recommend. If the immigration officer is not satisfied that the application should be granted he shall recommend denial of the application. In any case he shall make a brief summary of the evidence and shall include a statement as to the grounds and reasons for the recommendation. The application, record, supporting documents, and the report of the immigration officer shall then be transmitted to the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the office in which the examination was conducted. The district director shall approve or disapprove the recommendation of the immigration officer. If he disapproves the recommendation, the district director shall state his reasons in writing. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, may direct the district director to transmit to the Assistant Commissioner any case or class of cases arising under this part for initial decision. If the Assistant Commissioner's decision is that the application shall be denied, the district director shall inform the applicant in writing of such decision and of the reasons therefor. No appeal shall lie from the decision of the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division.

(b) Application denied by district director. If the district director denies the application, the applicant shall be notified in writing of such decision and of the reasons therefor, and, at the same time shall be advised of his right to appeal to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, by filing a notice of appeal Form I–290B. The notice of appeal shall be filed at the office of such district director within 10 days from the receipt of notification of such decision, in accordance with Part 7 of this chapter. The applicant may waive an appeal. If an appeal is taken, the record shall be forwarded to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, for review and decision in accordance with Part 7 of this chapter. If appeal is waived or no appeal is taken within the time permitted, the decision of the district director shall become final.

(c) Decision on appeal by Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division. On appeal, the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division may grant or deny the application for reclassification. The case shall then be returned to the office of origin. If the application has been denied, the district director shall so inform the applicant in writing. No appeal shall lie from the decision of the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division.

(d) Application granted. In any case in which the application for change of nonimmigrant classification is granted, the alien's nonimmigrant status under such reclassification shall be subject to the terms and conditions applicable generally to such classification, and to such other additional terms and conditions, including the exaction of bond, which the district director deems appropriate to the case. The district director shall cause a new set of Forms I–94 to be prepared and the Form I–94C shall be delivered to the applicant.

PART 249—CREATION OF RECORD OF LAWFUL ADMISSION FOR PERMANENT RESIDENCE

Sec.
249.1 Creation of record of lawful admission for permanent residence.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

249.11 Application.
249.12 Attorneys.
249.13 Procedure upon acceptance of application.
249.14 Evidence; burden of proof.
249.15 Examination and investigation.
249.16 Disposition of case.

AUTHORITY: §§ 249.1 to 249.16 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply sec. 249, 66 Stat. 219.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 249.1 Creation of record of lawful admission for permanent residence—(a) Authority. Subject to the provisions of this part, the authority contained in section 249 of the Immigration and Nationality Act to create a record of lawful admission for permanent residence may be exercised by district directors.

(b) Eligibility to make application; scope of part. Any alien who believes that he meets the eligibility requirements enumerated in section 249 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act may apply for the creation of a record of lawful admission for permanent residence. No such record shall be created in behalf of any alien who entered the United States prior to July 1, 1924 and as to whom a record of admission for permanent residence as an alien prior to that date does not exist, except in accordance with the provisions of section 249 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, this part, or other statutory authority.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 249.11 Application. An application under this part shall be made on Form N–105 (Application to Create Record of Admission for Permanent Residence). The application shall be accompanied by 2 photographs as described in Part 10 of this chapter. There shall also be submitted with the application such documentary evidence, or pertinent excerpts therefrom (if the documents are lengthy or bulky), as the applicant may have showing his continuous residence in the United States since prior to July 1, 1924, and his good moral character. If the applicant desires, he may submit photographic or typewritten copies of such documents, if such copies are permitted to be made by law, but in such case the original documents must be presented at the examination as provided for in § 249.15.

§ 249.12 Attorneys. Attorneys or other persons authorized to practice before the Service, who represent applicants, shall be permitted to be present during the examination of the alien and the witnesses, to submit briefs and to review the record, either before it is forwarded to the district director or thereafter, and prior to final decision.

§ 249.13 Procedure upon acceptance of application. Upon acceptance of an application the applicant shall be given timely notice of the date and place of the examination provided for in § 249.15, and the case shall be assigned to an immigration officer for the purpose of conducting such examination.

§ 249.14 Evidence; burden of proof. All evidence adduced during an examination under this part may be used at any other proceeding and the alien shall be duly informed of this fact. The burden of proof shall be upon the applicant. In presenting his proof he shall be entitled to the benefit of any disclosable records concerning him which are in the custody of the Service. The applicant shall submit the affidavits of such number of credible witnesses, preferably citizens of the United States, concerning the moral character, continuity of residence of the applicant, and any other matter bearing on the applicant's eligibility for the benefits of section 249 of the Immigration and Nationality Act. Where practicable such affidavits shall be made on Form N–120 (Affidavit of Witness in Proceeding to Create Record of Admission for Permanent Residence). Documentary evidence such as bank books, leases, deeds, licenses, receipts, letters, and birth, marriage, church, school, employment and police records, or similar evidence shall, so far as possible, be used in establishing the essential facts to which documentary evidence is relevant. Where by reason of conditions known or shown to exist it is reasonable to believe that such evidence is not obtainable, other relevant evidence may be considered.

§ 249.15 Examination and investigation—(a) Examination of applicant and witnesses. The immigration officer shall orally review the application with the applicant. Any necessary changes shall be consecutively numbered by such officer and acknowledged in writing by the applicant. The applicant shall at that time produce the original available documents, copies of which were submitted, or which he desires to be considered in support of his application. Such copies or excerpts therefrom as are found to be pertinent shall be certified by the immigration officer from the originals, shall be appropriately marked and numbered for identification, and made a part of the application. When no longer required the original documents shall be returned to the applicant. The immigration officer shall then administer the oath or affirmation contained in Form N–105 and obtain the applicant's signature in the appropriate place on that form. In cases in which the examining officer deems it necessary he shall conduct a further examination of the applicant under oath or affirmation. Witnesses shall be examined orally under oath or affirmation in accordance with the interrogatories of Form N–120. Should additional statements be deemed necessary, the witnesses shall be interrogated under oath or affirmation. Witnesses located within a reasonable distance of the place of examination shall be required to appear in person to execute Form N–120, and for oral examination. If witnesses cannot appear because of remoteness, physical disability, or any other cause the officer deems satisfactory, the affidavits may be accepted in lieu of their personal appearance. The oral testimony given by the applicant and the witnesses shall not be reduced to writing in verbatim form or stenographically or mechanically recorded, but a résumé thereof shall be prepared and certified as true and correct by the immigration officer and made a part of the record. A verbatim record may be made of such testimony in any case in which the examining officer deems it advisable. If such verbatim record is made stenographically or mechanically recorded, it shall not be transcribed unless the district director denies the application.

(b) Investigations. Necessary investigations in other districts may, when feasible, be conducted by correspondence. If deemed necessary by the immigration officer, further investigations may be conducted by interview or by correspondence. The replies to such correspondence, and the reports of the investigation may be made a part of the record by the immigration officer.

§ 249.16 Disposition of case—(a) Record, recommendation and review. Upon completion of the examination the immigration officer shall prepare a report of his findings as to each of the essential facts prescribed by section 249 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and § 249.11, together with his recommendation. If the officer is satisfied that the application should be granted he shall so recommend. If the immigration officer is not satisfied that the application should be granted he shall recommend denial of the application. In any case he shall make a brief summary of the evidence and shall include a statement as to the grounds and reasons for the recommendation. The application, record, supporting documents, photographs and the report of the immigration officer shall then be transmitted to the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the office in which the examination was conducted. The district director shall approve or disapprove the recommendation of the immigration officer and shall note Form N–130 in accordance with his decision. If he disapproves the recommendation, the district director shall state his reasons in writing.

(b) Application denied. If the district director denies the application, the applicant shall be notified in writing of such decision and of the reasons therefor and at the same time, shall be advised of his right to appeal to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and dation. The application, record, supporting documents, and the report of the immigration officer shall then be transmitted to the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the office in which the examination was conducted. The district director shall approve or disapprove the recommendation of the immigration officer. If he disapproves the recommendation, the district director shall state his reasons in writing. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, may direct the district director to transmit to the Assistant Commissioner any case or class of cases arising under this part for initial decision. If the Assistant Commissioner's decision is that the application shall be denied, the district director shall inform the applicant in writing of such decision and of the reasons therefor. No appeal shall lie from the decision of the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division.

(b) Application denied by district director. If the district director denies the application, the applicant shall be notified in writing of such decision and of the reasons therefor, and, at the same time shall be advised of his right to appeal to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, by filing a notice of appeal Form I–290B. The notice of appeal shall be filed at the office of such district director within 10 days from the receipt of notification of such decision, in accordance with Part 7 of this chapter. The applicant may waive an appeal. If an appeal is taken, the record shall be forwarded to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, for review and decision in accordance with Part 7 of this chapter. If appeal is waived or no appeal is taken within the time permitted, the decision of the district director shall become final.

(c) Decision on appeal by Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division. On appeal, the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division may grant or deny the application for reclassification. The case shall then be returned to the office of origin. If the application has been denied, the district director shall so inform the applicant in writing. No appeal shall lie from the decision of the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division.

(d) Application granted. In any case in which the application for change of nonimmigrant classification is granted, the alien's nonimmigrant status under such reclassification shall be subject to the terms and conditions applicable generally to such classification, and to such other additional terms and conditions, including the exaction of bond, which the district director deems appropriate to the case. The district director shall cause a new set of Forms I–94 to be prepared and the Form I–94C shall be delivered to the applicant.

Examinations Division, by filing a notice of appeal Form I–290B (Appeal to Central Office). The notice of appeal shall be filed at the office of such district director within 10 days from the receipt of notification of such decision in accordance with Part 7 of this chapter. The applicant may waive an appeal. If an appeal is taken the record shall be forwarded to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, for review and decision in accordance with Part 7 of this chapter. If appeal is waived or no appeal is taken within the time permitted, the decision of the district director shall become final.

(c) Decision by Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division. On appeal, the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, may grant or deny the application. The case shall then be returned to the office of origin. If the application has been denied, the district director shall so inform the applicant in writing. No appeal shall lie from the decision of the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division.

(d) Application granted; delivery of alien registration receipt card. In any case in which the application is granted, an alien registration receipt card Form I–151, showing that the applicant has acquired the status of an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence, shall be issued to the applicant. If the alien is in possession of any other documents evidencing compliance with the Alien Registration Act, 1940, or Chapter 7 of Title II of the Immigration and Nationality Act, he shall be required to surrender it.

PART 250—REMOVAL OF ALIENS WHO HAVE FALLEN INTO DISTRESS

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.

250.1 Removal of aliens who have fallen into distress; authority.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

250.11 Why may apply.
250.12 Application.
250.13 Procedure upon acceptance of application.
250.14 Evidence; burden of proof.
250.15 Examination and investigation.
250.16 Disposition of case.
250.17 Action subsequent to granting of application.

AUTHORITY: §§ 250.1 to 250.17 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply sec. 250, 66 Stat. 219.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 250.1 Removal of aliens who have fallen into distress; authority. Subject to the limitations provided in this part, the authority contained in section 250 of the Immigration and Nationality Act to remove from the United States any alien who falls into distress or who needs public aid from causes arising subsequent to entry may be exercised by district directors.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 250.11 Who may apply. Any alien who meets the eligibility requirements contained in section 250 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and who desires to be removed from the United States may apply for the benefits of that section of the Act.

§ 250.12 Application. Application for removal shall be made in duplicate on Form I–243 (Application for Removal). The application of a child under 14 years of age may be included in the application of a parent. The application in the case of a child under the age of 14 years shall be signed by his parent or guardian. If the applicant has received aid from a public or charitable institution or association, the application shall be accompanied by a certificate by an accredited representative of such association or institution indicating the nature and extent of the aid furnished to the alien. In the case of an alien who has not received public aid, the application shall show the causes and conditions by reason of which the alien claims to need public aid. The application shall be accompanied also by any document which was issued to the alien at the time of his admission to the United States.

§ 250.13 Procedure upon acceptance of application. Upon acceptance of an application, the applicant shall be given timely notice of the date and place of the examination provided for in § 250.15, and the case shall be assigned to an immigration officer for the purpose of conducting such an examination.

§ 250.14 Evidence; burden of proof. All evidence adduced at an examination under this part may be used in any other proceeding, and the alien shall be duly informed of this fact. The burden of proof shall be upon the applicant. In presenting his proof he shall be entitled to the benefit of any disclosable records concerning him which are in the custody of the Service.

§ 250.15 Examination and investigation—(a) Examination of applicant and witnesses. The immigration officer shall orally review the application with the applicant, or, in the case of a child under 14 years of age, with the parent or guardian. Any necessary changes shall be consecutively numbered by such officer and acknowledged in writing by the applicant or, in the case of a child, by the parent or guardian, on the application form. The applicant shall at that time produce the original documents, copies of which were submitted or which he desires to be considered, in support of his application. Such copies or excerpts therefrom as are found to be pertinent shall be verified by the immigration officer from the originals, shall be appropriately marked and numbered for identification, and made a part of the application. When no longer required, the original documents shall be returned to the applicant. The immigration officer shall then administer the oath or affirmation contained in Form I–243 and obtain the applicant's signature in the appropriate place on that form. During the examination the applicant shall be informed that if he is removed from the United States he will be ineligible to apply for or receive a visa or other documentation for readmission, or to apply for admission to the United States except with the prior approval of the Attorney General. The application form shall be noted to show that such advice was given to the applicant by the examining officer and the applicant's response thereto. If the applicant has a mental or serious physical disability, a medical certificate shall be obtained showing whether the applicant is in condition to be removed from the United States without danger to life or health and whether alien will require special care and attention in case of removal. If accessible, near relatives of the applicant shall be interviewed to determine whether they are financially able and willing or legally obligated to support or assist the applicant. In cases in which the examining officer deems it necessary he shall conduct a further examination of the applicant, or the parent or guardian, by interrogation under oath or affirmation. If the application, supporting documentary evidence, records of the Service, and the testimony adduced, establish the applicant's eligibility for removal, no other witnesses shall be required. Otherwise, such number of credible witnesses preferably citizens of the United States, as may be deemed necessary, shall be questioned under oath or affirmation by the officer concerning the facts of the applicant's eligibility for removal. If such witnesses cannot appear because of remoteness, physical disability, or any other cause which the officer deems satisfactory, their affidavits may be accepted in lieu of their personal appearance. The oral testimony given by the applicant, the parent or guardian, or the witnesses, shall not be reduced to writing in verbatim form or stenographically or mechanically recorded, but a résumé thereof shall be prepared and certified as true and correct by the immigration officer and made a part of the record. A verbatim record may be made of such testimony in any case in which the examining officer deems it advisable. If such verbatim record is made stenographically or mechanically recorded, it shall not be transcribed unless the district director denies the application.

(b) Investigations. Necessary investigations in other districts may, when feasible, be conducted by correspondence. If deemed necessary by the immigration officer, further investigations may be conducted by interview or by correspondence. The replies to such correspondence, and the reports of the investigation may be made a part of the record by the immigration officer.

§ 250.16 Disposition of case. Upon completion of the examination the immigration officer shall prepare a report of his findings as to the essential facts prescribed by section 250 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and § 250.11, together with his recommendation. If the officer is satisfied that the application should be granted he shall so recommend. If the immigration officer is not satisfied that the application should be granted he shall recommend denial of the application. In any case he shall make a brief summary of the evidence and shall include a statement as to the grounds and reasons for the recommendation. The application, record, supporting documents, and the report of the immigration officer shall then be transmitted to the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the office in which the examination was conducted. The district director shall approve or disapprove the recommendation of the immigration officer. The applicant shall be notified in writing of the decision of the district director and, if the decision is that the application be denied, of the reasons therefor. No appeal shall lie from the decision of the district director.

§ 250.17 Action subsequent to granting of application. If the district director grants the application he shall issue authorization on Form I–202 for the alien's removal. Upon issuance of the authorization for removal, or as soon thereafter as practicable, the alien may be removed from the United States at government expense.

251.31 Arrival crew lists for vessels other than Great Lakes vessels.
251.32 Arrival crew lists for Great Lakes vessels.
251.33 Arrival crew lists for aircraft.
251.34 Arrival crew list for certain aircraft not required.
251.35 Illegal landing of alien crewman; notice.
251.36 Listing of change in crew of vessel or aircraft.

AUTHORITY: §§ 251.1 to 251.36 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 212, 231, 251, 252, 280, 66 Stat. 195, 219, 220, 230.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 251.1 Definitions. As used in chapter 6 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and this part, the term—

(a) "Great Lakes vessel" means a vessel, including a designated international ferry, of United States, Canadian, or British registry, enrollment, or license engaged solely in traffic between the United States and Canada and travelling solely over one or more of the following waterways: Great Lakes, waterways connecting the Great Lakes, St. Lawrence River, St. Croix River, Passamaquoddy Bay, Lake Memphremagog, Lake Champlain, Rainy Lake, Rainy River, Lake of the Woods, Bay of Fundy (from, but not including, Yarmouth, N. S.).

(b) "International ferry" means a Great Lakes vessel which has been designated as such by the district director of the St. Albans, Buffalo, Detroit or Chicago districts of the Service.

(c) "Master" means the captain or other person in charge of a vessel.

(d) "Full time immigration officer" means a regular employee of the Service duly appointed or designated as an immigration officer.

(e) "Immigration officer (excepted)" means a person other than a full time immigration officer who has been designated to perform the duties of an immigration officer in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

§ 251.2 Imposition of penalty. The provisions of Part 280 of this chapter shall govern the imposition of penalties provided for in section 251 (d) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

§ 251.3 Listing of crewmen who are nationals of the United States. In every case in which a crew list is required to be delivered upon arrival, crewmen of vessels or aircraft who are nationals of the United States shall be listed on the same form and the same information noted thereon as in the cases of alien crewmen.

§ 251.4 Report of crewman on board certain vessels or aircraft. The master, commanding officer or agent of a vessel or aircraft which arrives at a port in the continental United States or at a port in any other place under the jurisdiction of the United States without touching at a foreign port, on a voyage originating in Hawaii, Alaska, Guam, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands of the United States, shall submit in writing to the United States immigration officer at the port of arrival the surname, given name, middle initial and nationality of each crewman on board such vessel or aircraft, and in addition, in the case of vessels, the residence of each such crewman.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 251.31 Arrival crew lists for vessels other than Great Lakes vessels. The lists required by section 251 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and § 251.3 for vessels other than Great Lakes vessels shall be submitted on Form I–480 and shall be delivered to the United States immigration officer boarding the vessel at the first port of arrival in the United States, who, in the event the vessel has to call at any other port in the United States, shall give the master of the vessel a receipt therefor. Except as otherwise provided in this section for a vessel making voyages to and from the same port in the United States at regular or periodic intervals and returning resident alien crewman, the persons responsible for the delivery of the alien crew list and as a part thereof shall prepare a set of Forms I–95 for each arrival in the United States of an alien crewman on board a vessel and shall deliver them to such crewman for presentation by him, with any Foreign Service Forms 256, 257 or Immigration Forms I–132 or I–151 in his possession, to the United States immigration officer at the first port of arrival in the United States. If the crewman for whom a set of Forms I–95 is prepared has an immigrant or nonimmigrant visa the visa number shall be noted on all copies of the Form I–95 in the box entitled "Visa or Alien Registration number". If he is a returning resident alien crewman his alien registration receipt number shall be noted on all copies of Form I–95 in the box entitled "Visa or Alien Registration number". In the case of a vessel making voyages to and from the same port in the United States at regular or periodic intervals, Forms I–95 shall be prepared for each alien crewman upon his first arrival in the United States on board such vessel after December 23, 1952. Within one year of such arrival, another set of Forms I–95 shall not be prepared for the same crewman provided he is serving aboard the same vessel, is arriving at the same port in the United States, and is in possession of the Form I–95A issued to him at the time of his first landing. In the case of a returning resident alien crewman, a set of Forms I–95 shall be prepared upon his first arrival in the United States after December 23, 1952. Within one year of such arrival, another set of Forms I–95 shall not be prepared for the same crewman provided he is in possession of the Form I–95A issued to him at the time of such first arrival.

§ 251.32 Arrival crew lists for Great Lakes vessels—(a) International ferries. On the first arrival of an international ferry in the United States after the opening of the navigation season, or, if operating year-round, on the first arrival after January 1, each year, the list required by section 251 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and § 251.3 shall be submitted on Form I–481 and shall be delivered to the immigration officer boarding the vessel at the first port of arrival in the United States. Thereafter during the same calendar year a crew list shall not be required unless there is a change in the crew of the vessel, either by increase, decrease or substitution. If any such change occurs, there shall be submitted on its first arrival after the change occurs a supplemental crew list on Form I–481 containing only information relative to crewmen who have left the crew or who were engaged since the crew list was furnished. The provisions of this section are in addition to and not in substitution for the requirements of § 251.36. Except as otherwise specifically provided in this part all other provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act and of this chapter applicable to vessels and crewmen generally shall apply to Great Lakes vessels and crewmen serving thereon.

(b) Great Lakes vessels other than international ferries. On every arrival in the United States of a Great Lakes vessel other than an international ferry, a crew list on Form I–481 shall be delivered to the immigration officer boarding the vessel at its first port of arrival in the United States.

(c) Preparation of Forms I–95. On the first arrival of a Great Lakes vessel in the United States after December 23, 1952, the persons responsible for the delivery of the alien crew list, and as a part thereof, shall prepare a set of immigration Forms I–95 for each alien crewman on board the vessel and shall deliver them to such crewman for presentation by him, with any Foreign Service Forms 256 or 257 or immigration Forms I–132 or I–151 in his possession, to the United States immigration officer a the first port of arrival in the United States. If the crewman for whom a set of Forms I–95 is prepared has an immigrant or nonimmigrant visa, the visa number shall be noted on all copies of the Forms I–95 in the box entitled "Visa or Alien Registration number". If he is a returning resident alien crewman, his alien registration receipt number shall be noted on all copies of the Forms I–95 in the box entitled "Visa or Alien Registration number". Within one year of such arrival, another set of Forms I–95 shall not be prepared for the same crewman so long as he continues to be a crewman of a Great Lakes vessel and is in possession of the Form I–95A issued to him at the time of his first landing.

(d) Notification of arrivals. The master of Great Lakes vessels shall immediately notify the officer in charge of the office having administrative jurisdiction over the port of arrival in the United States of every arrival of his vessel at such port except where such arrival is pursuant to a published schedule.

(e) Designation of international ferries. The district director of each of the districts of the Service having jurisdiction over ports of entry located on the bodies of water listed in § 251.1 (a) may in his discretion designate a Great Lakes vessel as an international ferry in his district. The district director may revoke the designation of international ferry with respect to vessels so designated by him. The district director shall notify the company or master by letter of such designation and of any revocation thereof. Request for designation as an international ferry shall be made by letter addressed to the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the port or ports at which the vessel is to arrive in the United States. Designation as an international ferry may be granted for such time and under such conditions as the district director deems appropriate.

§ 251.33 Arrival crew lists for aircraft. The lists required by section 251 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and § 251.3 shall be submitted on Customs Form 7507 in the space provided for the listing of the crew, shall contain the information indicated on the form and shall be delivered to the immigration officer inspecting the aircraft at the international airport or other place of first landing in the United States. Except as otherwise provided in this section for aircraft making voyages to and from the United States at regular or periodic intervals and returning resident alien crewman, the persons responsible for the delivery of the alien crew list and as a part thereof shall prepare a set of Forms I–95 for each arrival in the United States of an alien crewman on board the aircraft and shall deliver them to such crewman for presentation by him, with any Foreign Service Forms 256, 257 or immigration Forms I–132 or I–151 in his possession, to the United States immigration officer at the first airport of arrival in the United States. If the crewman for whom a set of Forms I–95 is prepared has an immigrant or nonimmigrant visa the visa number shall be noted on all copies of the Form I–95 in the box entitled "Visa or Alien Registration number". If he is a returning resident alien crewman his alien registration receipt number shall be noted on all copies of Form I–95 in the box entitled "Visa or Alien Registration number". In the case of an aircraft making flights to and from the United States at regular or periodic intervals, Forms I–95 shall be prepared for each alien crewman upon his first arrival in the United States on board such aircraft after December 23, 1952. Within one year of such arrival, another set of Forms I–95 shall not be prepared for the same crewman provided he is serving as a crewman aboard the same aricraft or an aircraft of the same transportation line and is in possession of the Form I–95A issued to him at the time of his first landing. In the case of a returning resident alien crewman, a set of Forms I–95 shall be prepared upon his first arrival in the United States after December 23, 1952. Within one year of such arrival, another set of Forms I–95 shall not be prepared for the same crewman provided he is in possession of the Form I–95A issued to him at the time of such first arrival.

§ 251.34 Arrival crew list for certain aircraft not required. Aircraft coming directly to the continental United States or Alaska on a trip which originated in Canada or the French islands of St. Pierre or Miquelon shall not be regarded as arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States for the purposes of section 251 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and § 251.3, and the provisions of those sections and of § 251.33 shall not apply to such aircraft. Nothing in this section shall be regarded as exempting any crewman from any of the applicable documentary requirements of the Immigration and Nationality Act or of this chapter. Upon the first arrival in the United States after December 23, 1952, of an aircraft within the scope of this section, the commanding officer or agent of such aircraft shall prepare a set of Forms I–95 for each alien crewman serving on board such aircraft. Within one year of such arrival, another set of Forms I–95 shall not be prepared for the same alien crewman provided he is in possession of the Form I–95A issued to him at the time of such first landing and he continues to be employed as an alien crewman by the same transportation line.

§ 251.35 Illegal landing of alien crewman; notice. The notice required by section 251 (b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act to be furnished regarding any alien crewman who may have landed illegally in the United States from a vessel or aircraft shall be in writing, shall contain the information required by that section of the Immigration and Nationality Act, and shall be delivered promptly by mail or in person to the officer in charge of the port where the illegal landing occurred. The notice shall also contain the alien's name, number of any document issued to him, nationality, description, and any photograph or other available documents which might aid in locating and apprehending such crewman.

§ 251.36 Listing of change in crew of vessel or aircraft. The list required by section 251 (c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be submitted on Form I–489. Except with respect to international ferries, if no change in crew occurs that fact shall be noted on Form I–489. For the purposes of section 251 (c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and this section, aircraft shall not be regarded as departing from a port in the United States if such aircraft departs from the continental United States or Alaska and is destined directly to Canada or the French islands of St. Pierre or Miquelon. The persons responsible for the delivery of Form I–489 shall attach to and make a part of the Form I–489 all Forms 257a and I–95A surrendered to the master or commanding officer by departing members of the crew, as provided in § 252.11 of this chapter, after recording thereon the name or identification marks of the vessel or aircraft, respectively, and the date and port of its departure from the United States.

252.21 Procedure for arrest and deportation of certain crewmen landed under section 252 (a) (1) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.
252.41 Change in period of landing; procedure by immigration officer.

AUTHORITY: §§ 252.1 to 252.41 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 101, 221, 241, 242, 251, 252, 66 Stat. 166, 191, 204, 208, 219, 220.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 252.1 Conditional permit to land—(a) Conditions. An immigration officer in his discretion may grant an alien crewman a conditional permit to land temporarily in the United States whenever such officer determines in accordance with section 252 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and this part that the crewman is eligible for such a permit. Such a permit shall be granted subject to the following conditions:

(1) The crewman agrees that while in the United States he will not pursue any employment or engage in any activity inconsistent with his temporary landing as a crewman or not related to the purpose for which he was permitted to land; and

(2) The crewman agrees to leave the United States within the period for which he was permitted to land; and

(3) If admitted under section 252 (a) (1) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the crewman agrees to leave the United States and each port of the United States at which permitted to land on board the vessel or aircraft which brought him to the United States.

(b) Period of time allowed. The period of time for which an immigration officer may permit the temporary landing of a crewman who is qualified therefor under the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section is the applicable period provided in section 252 (a) (1) or in section 252 (a) (2) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

(c) Landing under section 252 of the Immigration and Nationality Act. The immigration officer authorizing an alien crewman's landing under section 252 of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall note the crewman's set of immigration Forms I–95 to show the date and port of landing, the name or identification marks of the vessel or aircraft on which the crewman arrived and whether landing was authorized under clause (a) (1) or clause (a) (2) of section 252 of that Act. The Form I–95A shall be placed in the crewman's passport and shall constitute his conditional permit to land. Any Foreign Service Form 257a presented by the alien crewman and which bears a valid nonimmigrant visa issued to the alien as a crewman pursuant to section 101 (a) (15) (D) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be appropriately noted and returned to the crewman for presentation on subsequent arrivals in the United States.

§ 252.2 Arrest and deportation of certain crewmen landed under section 252 (a) (1) of the Immigration and Nationality Act—(a) Violation of landing privilege. An alien permitted to land conditionally as a crewman under section 252 (a) (1) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall, within the period for which he was permitted to land, be taken into custody by an immigration officer without a warrant of arrest and made the subject of further proceedings under the provisions of section 252 (b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and § 252.21 if:

(1) It is determined that such alien crewman is not a bona fide crewman; or

(2) Such alien crewman does not intend to depart on the vessel or aircraft which brought him to the United States.

(b) When not considered a bona fide crewman. For the purposes of this section, an alien crewman shall be considered not to be a bona fide crewman if:

(1) He violates or fails to fulfill any of the conditions of his admission imposed at the time of his landing; or

(2) He evidences in any way an intention to violate or fail to fulfill any of the conditions of his admission imposed at the time of his landing; or

(3) He engages in any activity inconsistent with the status of a crewman; or

(4) He was not entitled under the Immigration and Nationality Act to land as a crewman at the time of such landing.

(c) When deemed not to intend to depart. For the purposes of this section an alien crewman shall be deemed not to intend to depart on the vessel or aircraft which brought him to the United States if:

(1) He evidences orally, by writing, or by conduct an intention not to depart on the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived; or

(2) He is found at such a distance from the port of landing that it is not possible for him to return to the vessel or aircraft prior to its departure from such port; or

(3) By reason of his own conduct it is or will be impossible for him to depart on the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived.

(d) Other grounds for deportation. Nothing in this section shall be construed as setting forth the sole grounds on which it may be determined that an alien crewman or that an alien crewman does not intend to depart on a vessel or aircraft which brought him to the United States or to depart on a vessel or aircraft within the period for which he was permitted to land temporarily, or as setting forth the sole grounds of deportation.

§ 252.3 Arrest and deportation of crewmen not within the purview of § 252.2—(a) Violation of status; determination of deportability. The question of the deportability of an alien crewman not within the purview of § 252.2 who is believed to be subject to deportation shall be determined in accordance with the procedure set forth in section 242 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Part 242 of this chapter. Such an alien crewman shall, within the meaning of section 241 (a) (9) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, be deemed to have failed to maintain his nonimmigrant status under sections 101 (a) (15) (D) and 252 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and under this part if:

(1) It is determined that he is not a bona fide crewman; or

(2) He does not intend to depart on a vessel or aircraft within the period for which he was permitted to land.

(b) When not considered bona fide. For the purposes of this section, an alien crewman shall be considered not to be a bona fide crewman under any of the circumstances listed and described in § 252.2 (b).

(c) When deemed not to intend to depart. For the purposes of this section, an alien crewman shall be deemed not to intend to depart on a vessel or aircraft within the period for which he was permitted to land temporarily if:

(1) He evidences orally, by writing, or by conduct an intention not to depart on a vessel or aircraft within the period of time for which he was permitted to land temporarily; or

(2) By reason of his own conduct it is or will be impossible for him to depart on a vessel or aircraft within the period for which he was permitted to land; or

(3) He remains in the United States after the expiration of the time for which he was permitted to land.

(d) Other grounds for deportation. Nothing in this section shall be construed as setting forth the sole grounds on which it may be determined that an alien crewman is not a bona fide alien crewman, or that an alien crewman does not intend to depart on the vessel or aircraft which brought him to the United States or to depart on a vessel or aircraft within the period for which he was permitted to land temporarily, or as setting forth the sole grounds of deportation.

§ 252.4 Request for change of period of landing. An alien crewman permitted to land for the period set forth in section 252 (a) (1) of the Immigration and Nationality Act who is maintaining his status but who desires to depart as a member of the crew of a vessel or aircraft other than the one on which he arrived, may, within the period for which permitted to land, apply in person to an immigration officer to have his landing changed to that authorized under section 252 (a) (2) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

§ 252.5 Crewmen seeking admission other than in pursuit of calling. An alien crewman applying for admission to the United States in a status other than that described in section 101 (a) (15) (D) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be required to comply with all of the provisions of the immigration laws to the same extent as though he were a passenger. Nothing in this section shall be deemed to exempt the transportation line on whose vessel or aircraft such alien crewman arrived in the United States from any of the responsibilities or liabilities imposed upon it by the immigration laws with respect to alien crewmen.

§ 252.6 Special provisions applicable to crewman of Great Lakes vessels—(a) Definitions. The definitions of the terms contained in § 251.1 of this chapter shall apply to this section.

(b) Crew inspection: first trip of vessel of year or season—(1) By whom conducted. A full time immigration officer shall conduct the immigration examination of the crew of every Great Lakes vessel on the occasion of its first arrival each year or season in the United States. In addition to the notation required by § 252.1 (c), the immigration officer authorizing the landing of a crewman of a Great Lakes vessel shall note the words "Great Lakes" on all copies of the Form I–95.

(2) Extent of immigration examination. A crewman aboard a Great Lakes vessel shall be examined in accordance with the provisions of the immigration laws applicable to crewmen generally upon the vessel's first arrival of year or season.

(3) Medical examination. At the time of the immigration examination of the crew of a Great Lakes vessel arriving for the first time during a year or season, the medical examination required by the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be given each member of the crew. The examining immigration officer shall not permit the crewman to land until and unless he has been medically examined and passed. The medical officer shall place on all copies of the Form I–95 an appropriate dated notation stating that the alien has been medically examined and passed, if that is the case.

(c) Crew inspection; subsequent arrival of vessel during year or season—(1) By whom conducted. Whenever an international ferry operating year-round makes its second or later arrival after January 1 each year, or whenever any other Great Lakes vessel operating seasonally makes its second or later arrival after the season's opening, the examination of the crew shall be conducted by a full-time immigration officer if one can conveniently be assigned; otherwise the examination of the crew shall be conducted by an immigration officer (excepted). An immigration officer (excepted) shall have authority to permit a crewman of a Great Lakes vessel to land for the period set forth in section 252 of the Immigration and Nationality Act only if such crewman presents the Form I–95A previously issued to him at the time of his first arrival during the year or season provided he has no reason to believe that such crewman is inadmissible to the United States. A crewman making his first arrival of the year or season in the United States aboard a Great Lakes vessel which is making its second or later arrival shall not be permitted to land until he is examined by a full time immigration officer. The provisions of paragraph (b) shall be applicable to such a crewman.

(2) Extent of subsequent immigration examination. A crewman of a Great Lakes vessel shall be examined as provided in the Immigration and Nationality Act and this section each time he arrives from Canada, except that in the case of international ferries the crew examination after the initial trip of the year or season shall consist only of whatever inquiry is necessary to determine that there has been no unreported change in the crew and that all members of the crew have been properly documented for landing. A crewman of a Great Lakes vessel shall meet whatever documentary requirements apply to his case each time he applies for permission to land in the United States.

(3) Medical examination. A crewman of a Great Lakes vessel who has been given a medical examination during the navigation season, or during the calendar year if employed on an international ferry operating year-round, and whose Form I–95A bears the medical notation stating that the alien has been medically examined and passed, shall not be subject to medical reexamination during the same year or season unless the examining immigration officer believes that such reexamination might disclose grounds for exclusion or the denial of landing privilege. If any medical reexamination results in certification which renders the alien inadmissible, the medical officer shall invalidate any favorable medical endorsement previously noted on the Form I–95A.

(4) Revocation of Form I–95A. If a crewman of a Great Lakes vessel in possession of a Form I–95A previously issued to him is subsequently found to be inadmissible to the United States, an immigration officer shall take up such Form I–95A.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 252.11 Disposition of entry documents of aliens departing as crewmen. Except in those cases in which Forms 257a, I–94C, I–95A, or I–100a are not required to be surrendered by aliens departing from the United States as provided in §§ 221.2 (b), and 221.3 (d) of this chapter and this section, an alien departing from the United States as a crewman aboard a vessel or aircraft shall surrender to the master or commanding officer any Form 257a, I–94C, I–95A, or I–100a issued to him at the time of his arrival in the United States. For each alien crewman who departs with the vessel or aircraft, who is required, but fails, to surrender any of the forms enumerated in this paragraph, the master or commanding officer shall prepare a Form I–424. The master or commanding officer shall attach the Forms 257a, I–94C, I–95A, I–100a or I–424 to the Form I–489 or, if a Form I–489 is not required to be submitted, shall surrender such forms to the United States immigration officer at the port of departure from the United States. Form 257a need not be surrendered if it bears a valid nonimmigrant visa issued pursuant to section 101 (a) (15) (D) of the Immigration and Nationality Act with enough of the period of validity remaining to enable the alien to use the visa for an additional voyage or voyages to the United States as a crewman. Form I–95A need not be surrendered until one year from the date in which it was issued in any of the following cases and shall, provided the crewman is found otherwise admissible under the immigration laws and such form is noted by the examining immigration officer on each subsequent arrival, constitute the crewman's conditional permit to land upon subsequent arrivals during such year:

(1) A crewman of a vessel making voyages to and from the same port in the United States at regular or periodic intervals provided he departs as a crewman within the period for which he was permitted to land aboard the same vessel and on the same voyage on which he arrived.

(2) A resident alien crewman.

(3) A crewman of an aircraft making flights to and from the United States at regular or periodic intervals, for such time as he continues to be employed as a crewman by the same transportation line, provided he departs as a crewman, within the period for which he was permitted to land, on the aircraft on which he arrived or on another aircraft of the same transportation line.

(4) A crewman who departs as a member of the crew of a Great Lakes vessel.

(5) A crewman of an aircraft described in § 251.34 of this chapter, for such time as he continues to be employed as a crewman by the same transportation line, provided he departs as a crewman within the period for which he was permitted to land, on the aircraft on which he arrived or another aircraft of the same transportation line.

§ 252.21 Procedure for arrest and deportation of certain crewmen landed under section 252 (a) (1) of the Immigration and Nationality Act. If, after investigation, an immigration officer determines that under § 252.2 (a) an alien crewman should be arrested and deported, he shall, if the alien is not confined in a penal or mental institution, and without obtaining a warrant of arrest, take such alien into custody and shall then and there fully advise him of the cause of his apprehension. If the alien is confined in a penal or mental institution he shall not be taken into physical custody until released from confinement, whether on parole or otherwise, but in such case the institution shall be advised of the interest of the Service in the case so that the Service may be informed prior to any release of the alien. Immediately upon taking the alien into custody the immigration officer shall satisfy himself as to (a) the identity, (b) alienage, and (c) deportability of the alien as a member of any of the classes enumerated in § 252.2 (a). If the immigration officer determines that the person apprehended is an alien crewman within one of the classes enumerated in § 252.2 (a), he shall revoke the crewman's conditional permit to land by writing thereon the word "Revoked" and the date of revocation, and, if the conditional permit to land is a Form 257a or Form I–95A, such form shall be taken up by such officer. If prosecution under section 252 (c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act is not contemplated, the alien crewman shall be returned immediately to the vessel or aircraft on which he came to the United States and deported thereon. If prosecution is contemplated, or, if the crewman is confined in a penal or mental institution, the crewman shall not be so returned for deportation until after trial, imprisonment (if sentenced thereto), or until release from the penal or mental institution, respectively. If it is not practicable to deport a crewman on the vessel or aircraft on which he came to the United States, he shall be deported on another vessel or aircraft of the same transportation line. If that is not practicable, the crewman shall be deported in any other manner at the expense of the transportation line which brought him to the United States. A notice to detain and deport on Form I–259 shall be served on the master or commanding officer of the vessel or aircraft on which the alien crewman is to be deported. The procedure prescribed by section 242 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Part 242 of this chapter shall not apply to an alien crewman who is within the purview of § 252.2. No appeal by an alien crewman shall lie from the revocation of his conditional permit to land and his deportation under this part.

§ 252.41 Change in period of landing; procedure by immigration officer. If the immigration officer to whom an alien crewman applies for change of his landing is satisfied that the alien will depart as a member of the crew of a vessel or aircraft other than the one on which he arrived, he may, in his discretion, grant the alien crewman's request and permit him to remain in the United States for such period as the immigration officer shall determine, not to exceed twenty-nine days from the date of the crewman's arrival in the United States. The immigration officer shall endorse the Form I–95A issued to the crewman as his conditional permit to land at the time of arrival to show the date to which the crewman has been granted permission to land, sign his name thereto, and return the form to the crewman as his conditional permit to land.

PART 252a—SEAMEN OR AIRMEN: SPECIAL CLASSES

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
252a.1 Seamen or airmen returned by American consuls.
252a.2 Shipwrecked or castaway seamen or airmen.
252a.3 Aliens returned pursuant to terms of contract of voyage.
252a.4 Disabled crewmen; condition for passing in transit.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

252a.11 Seamen or airmen returned by American consuls.
252a.21 Shipwrecked or castaway seamen or airmen.
252a.31 Aliens returned pursuant to terms of contract of voyage.

AUTHORITY: §§ 252a.1 to 252a.31 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 101, 212, 251, 252, 255, 66 Stat. 166, 182, 219, 220, 222.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 252a.1 Seamen or airmen returned by American consuls. Whenever a vessel or aircraft arrives in the United States from any place outside the United States having on board an alien seaman or airman returned by a United States consular official in accordance with the navigation laws and American consular regulations, the master, commanding officer, purser, or other responsible officer of the vessel or aircraft, or such alien, shall present to the examining immigration officer documentary or other satisfactory evidence indicating that such alien is being returned under such laws and regulations. Such alien shall be subject to the provisions of § 252a.11.

§ 252a.2 Shipwrecked or castaway seamen or airmen. A shipwrecked or castaway alien seaman or airman who is rescued by or transferred at sea to a vessel or aircraft destined directly for the United States, and who is brought to the United States on such vessel or aircraft shall be subject to the provisions of § 252a.21.

§ 252a.3 Aliens returned pursuant to terms of contract of voyage. An alien seaman or airman who was a member of the crew of an American vessel or aircraft which has been sold or delivered abroad, who returns to the United States in accordance with the terms of the contract of employment of the outbound voyage or under the laws of the United States, shall be subject to the provisions of § 252a.31.

§ 252a.4 Disabled crewmen; condition for passing in transit. A disabled alien crewman, who does not intend to relinquish his calling, but whom the master or commanding officer of the vessel or aircraft is obliged, under the laws of the country under which the vessel or aircraft is registered, licensed, documented, or enrolled, to return to the country where he embarked, may, under such terms and conditions as the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the port of arrival deems necessary (including the depositing by the master or commanding officer of a satisfactory bond or other undertaking guaranteeing the departure of such crewman, if deemed appropriate by such district director or officer in charge) be paroled into the United States solely to pass through the United States in transit to the country where such alien crewman embarked by the most expeditious and direct route. Whenever such an alien is afflicted with any of the disabilities or diseases specified in section 255 of the Immigration and Nationality Act or in such physical or mental condition as to make him a person likely to become a public charge, such alien may not be paroled into the United States until the master or commanding officer has made arrangements for the alien's proper care while in transit and has furnished a sum of money sufficient to defray the expenses of such care.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 252a.11 Seamen or airmen returned by American consuls—(a) Admission. The case of an alien returned to the United States by a United States consular official who arrives as a member of a crew, shall be disposed of in the same manner as that of any other arriving alien crewman, except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section. An alien so returned whose occupational status as a seaman or airman is found by the examining immigration officer to be bona fide, and who seeks to enter the United States solely in pursuit of his calling as a seaman or airman but who arrives other than a member of a crew, may be admitted, if found to be otherwise admissible, as a nonimmigrant visitor for business for a period not to exceed 29 days and under the conditions enumerated in § 252.1 (a) (1) and (2) of this chapter. An alien so returned who applies for admission other than in pursuit of his calling as a seaman or airman shall comply with all of the provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act applicable to passengers generally.

(b) Procedure when seaman or airman is afflicted. Whenever any such returned alien, regardless of the manner of his arrival, is found to be afflicted with any of the disabilities or diseases specified in section 255 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the master, commanding officer, or other responsible officer, shall deliver the alien to authorities of the United States Public Health Service for medical treatment in a United States Public Health Service hospital at the expense of the appropriation for the maintenance of such hospitals. The immigration examination of any such hospitalized alien shall be deferred until his discharge from the hospital at which time his admissibility to the United States shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Carriers' exemption from liability; immigration appropriation not available for hospital treatment. Vessels and aircraft transporting an alien returned to the United States by a United States consular official shall be exempt from the payment of hospital and maintenance expenses and liability for the penalties prescribed by the immigration laws with respect to such returned alien, if the transportation line furnishes satisfactory proof that the alien was accepted on board and transported at the request of a United States consular official. Under no circumstances shall hospital bills incurred on account of such a returned alien be paid from the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. Maintenance expenses incurred pending final determination of the status of such alien may be paid from said appropriation.

§ 252a.21 Shipwrecked or castaway seamen or airmen—(a) Admission. An alien whose occupational status as a seaman or airman is found by the examining immigration officer to be bona fide, who is brought to the United States under the circumstances described in § 252a.2, and who arrives as a member of the crew, shall be examined in the same manner as any other arriving crewman. An alien so brought to the United States whose occupational status as a seaman or airman is found by the examining immigration officer to be bona fide, who seeks to enter the United States solely in pursuit of his calling as a seaman or airman, but who arrives other than as a member of the crew, may be admitted, if found to be otherwise admissible, as a nonimmigrant visitor for business for a period not to exceed 29 days and under the conditions enumerated in § 252.1 (a) (1) and (2) of this chapter. An alien so brought who applies for admission other than in pursuit of his calling as a seaman or airman, shall be required to comply with all of the provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act applicable to passengers generally.

(b) Payment of expenses. If expenses are incurred in connection with the detention and deportation of a seaman or airman described in § 252a.2, such expenses shall be collected from the appropriate foreign consul or from the owners, agents, or consignees, of the wrecked vessel or aircraft, if practicable, otherwise such expenses shall be paid from the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws.

(c) Procedure when seaman or airman is afflicted. Whenever an alien seaman or airman brought to the United States under the circumstances described in § 252a.2, regardless of the manner of his arrival, is found to be afflicted with any of the disabilities or diseases specified in section 255 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, and is found to be entitled to treatment in a United States Public Health Service hospital at the expense of the appropriation for the maintenance of such hospitals, the master, commanding officer, or other responsible officer shall deliver the alien to authorities of the United States Public Health Service for medical treatment in a United States Public Health Service hospital at the expense of the appropriation for the maintenance of such hospitals. Any such afflicted alien who is found not to be entitled to treatment at such expense may be given hospital treatment if the payment of the expenses thereof are guaranteed to the satisfaction of the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the port of arrival. The immigration examination of any such hospitalized alien shall be deferred until his discharge from the hospital at which time his admissibility to the United States shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section.

§ 252a.31 Aliens returned pursuant to terms of contract of voyage—(a) Admission. An alien seaman or airman, who returns to the United States as a member of the crew of a vessel or aircraft under the circumstances described in § 252a.3, shall be treated in the same manner as any other arriving alien crewman. Such an alien seaman or airman who returns other than as a member of the crew of a vessel or aircraft whose occupational status as a seaman or airman is found to be bona fide by the examining immigration officer, and who seeks to enter the United States solely in pursuit of his calling as a seaman or airman, may be admitted, if found to be otherwise admissible, as a nonimmigrant visitor for business for a period not to exceed 29 days and under the conditions enumerated in § 252.1 (a) (1) and (2) of this chapter. Any such alien who applies for admission other than in pursuit of his calling as a seaman or airman shall comply with all of the provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act applicable to passengers generally.

(b) Procedure when seaman or airman is afflicted. Whenever an alien seaman or airman returns to the United States under the circumstances described in § 252a.3, regardless of the manner of his arrival, and is found to be afflicted with any of the disabilities or diseases specified in section 255 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and such alien seaman or airman is found to be entitled to treatment in a United States Public Health Service hospital at the expense of the appropriation for the maintenance of such hospitals, the master, commanding officer, or other responsible officer shall deliver such alien to authorities of the United States Public Health Service for medical treatment in a United States Public Health Service hospital at the expense of the appropriation for the maintenance of such hospitals. Any such afflicted alien who is found not to be entitled to treatment at such expense may be given hospital treatment if the payment of the expenses thereof are guaranteed to the satisfaction of the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the port of arrival. The immigration examination of any such hospitalized alien shall be deferred until his discharge from the hospital at which time his admissibility to the United States shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section.

PART 253—HOSPITAL TREATMENT OF AFFLICTED CREWMEN

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
253.1 Afflicted crewmen.
253.2 Crewmen suspected of being afflicted.
253.3 Clearance withheld; procedure.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

253.11 Notice to remove.
253.12 Afflicted crewmen; procedure.
253.21 Crewmen suspected of being afflicted; procedure.

AUTHORITY: §§ 253.1 to 253.21 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 252, 253, 254, 255, 66 Stat. 220, 221, 222.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 253.1 Afflicted crewmen. An alien crewman afflicted with any of the disabilities or diseases enumerated in section 255 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and in whose case a cure reasonably can be expected within 30 days, shall be ordered by the examining immigration officer immediately removed for hospital treatment to a designated hospital at the expense of the persons enumerated in section 253 of the Immigration and Nationality Act: Provided, That in the event appropriate facilities for treatment are not available, removal from the vessel or, in the case of an aircraft, from the specified place of detention, shall not be ordered (except in emergent cases so certified by a Public Health Surgeon) and the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction of the port of arrival shall notify the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction of the first port of call possessing such facilities (if the vessel or aircraft is proceeding to other ports of call in the United States) of the presence on said vessel or aircraft of said alien. The latter officer shall proceed in the manner hereinbefore provided upon the arrival of the vessel or aircraft at such port of call to have the alien removed for observation. If the vessel or aircraft having such alien suspected of being afflicted on board arrives at a port at which there are no proper facilities for observation, if no arrangements elsewhere therefor are practicable and the vessel or aircraft is not proceeding to another port in the United States possessing such facilities or is proceeding directly to a foreign port, an order to deport shall be served as provided in Part 254 of this chapter.

§ 253.2 Crewmen suspected of being afflicted. An alien crewman suspected of being afflicted with any of the disabilities or diseases mentioned in section 255 of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be ordered by the examining immigration officer immediately removed for observation to an immigration station or other appropriate place at the expense of the persons enumerated in section 253 of the Immigration and Nationality Act: Provided, That in the event appropriate facilities for observation are not available, removal from the vessel or, in the case of an aircraft, from the specified place of detention, shall not be ordered (except in emergent cases so certified by a Public Health Surgeon) and the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction of the port of arrival shall notify the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction of first port of call possessing such facilities (if the vessel or aircraft is proceeding to other ports of call in the United States) of the presence on said vessel or aircraft of said alien. The latter officer shall proceed in the manner hereinbefore provided upon the arrival of the vessel or aircraft at such port of call to have the alien removed for observation. If the vessel or aircraft having such alien suspected of being afflicted on board arrives at a port at which there are no proper facilities for observation, if no arrangements elsewhere therefor are practicable and the vessel or aircraft is not proceeding to another port in the United States possessing such facilities or is proceeding directly to a foreign port, an order to deport shall be served as provided in Part 254 of this chapter.

§ 253.3 Clearance withheld; procedure. The guaranty of payment of expenses provided for in section 253 of the Immigration and Nationality Act may be accepted by the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction of the port, if submitted by guarantors satisfactory to him, and shall be submitted on Form I-510. In the event the persons named in section 253 of the Immigration and Nationality Act fail to pay such expenses or fail to furnish such guaranty, such officer shall immediately request the collector of customs to withhold clearance of the vessel or aircraft. Such request, if made informally, shall be confirmed promptly in writing.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 253.11 Notice to remove. In any case in which an immigration officer in his discretion determines that an alien crewman shall be removed from the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived for hospital treatment or observation as provided in section 253 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and this part, such officer shall serve or cause to be served on any of the persons enumerated in section 253 of the Immigration and Nationality Act a notice to remove on Form I-259. Such notice shall specify the date when, and the place to which, the alien crewman shall be removed, and the reason for such removal.

§ 253.12 Afflicted crewmen; procedure. Prior to the expiration of 30 days from date of hospitalization (or at any time thereafter if the crewman's hospitalization is continued at the request of any of the persons enumerated in section 253 of the Immigration and Nationality Act), the appropriate surgeon of the Public Health Service shall submit to the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the place where the hospital is located a certification indicating whether or not the alien is cured, or if not cured, whether or not his mental and physical condition is such that he may resume his calling without danger to himself and others. If the alien is cured or if he may resume his calling as aforesaid, the district director or the officer in charge shall cause the alien to be discharged from the hospital, following which his admissibility shall be determined and his case disposed of in the same manner as that of arriving alien crewmen generally, as provided in section 252 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Part 252 of this chapter. If the certification indicates that the alien is not cured and that his mental and physical condition is such that he cannot resume his calling without danger to himself or others, the district director or officer in charge shall cause the alien to be discharged from the hospital, if the alien's condition permits, and shall return the alien crewman to the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived: Provided, That said vessel or aircraft is promptly going to a foreign port and a certificate is issued by the Public Health Surgeon that the alien can be placed on board and removed from the United States thereon without danger to his life. If for any reason it is impossible or impracticable to return the crewman to a foreign port on board such vessel or aircraft, then he shall be returned on board another vessel or aircraft of the same transportation line destined for a foreign port and which carries a ship's surgeon, or if that is impracticable, then such alien shall be returned as a passenger on any passenger vessel or aircraft carrying a ship's surgeon: Provided, That in every case in which such a crewman is returned, the transportation line on which he came shall furnish a guaranty satisfactory to such district director or officer in charge that the crewman will receive proper medical treatment and be segregated from members of the crew and passengers, and that every precaution will be employed to prevent the spread of contagion during the voyage and, if removal is effected by the vessel or aircraft which brought the alien, or by one of the same line, that the alien will not be returned to the United States by the vessel or aircraft on which he departs or on another one of the same line, unless and until he is cured: Provided further, That, if the vessel or aircraft on which an afflicted crewman arrived is not going to a foreign port at the time of the crewman's discharge from the hospital, said afflicted crewman may be permitted, upon written request of any of the persons named in section 253 of the Immigration and Nationality Act or other acceptable guarantor, and the promise of such persons to assume all expenses involved, to remain in the hospital until such vessel or aircraft departs for a foreign port.

§ 253.21 Crewman suspected of being afflicted; procedure. The case of an alien crewman removed for observation as provided in §§ 253.2 and 253.11 who, after such observation, is found to be afflicted with any of the disabilities or diseases enumerated in section 255 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, shall be disposed of in accordance with the provisions of §§ 253.1 and 253.12. The admissibility of an alien crewman removed for observation as provided in §§ 253.2 and 253.11 who, after such observation, is found not to be afflicted with any of the disabilities or diseases enumerated in section 255 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, shall be determined and his case disposed of in the same manner as that of arriving alien crewman generally, as provided in section 252 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Part 252 of this chapter.

PART 254—CONTROL OF ALIEN CREWMEN

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
254.1 Deportation of alien crewman.
254.2 Order to detain and deport alien crewman.
254.3 Detained crewman; when removal permitted.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

254.21 Order to detain and deport alien crewman; form.

AUTHORITY. §§ 254.1 to 254.21 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 101, 212, 253, 66 Stat. 166, 182, 221.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 254.1 Deportation of alien crewman. Subject to the limitations hereinafter provided in this part, the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the place where the case is pending shall exercise the authority contained in section 254 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act to select the port from which and the vessel or aircraft on which an alien crewman's deportation is to be effected.

§ 254.2 Order to detain and deport alien crewman. In any case in which an alien crewman permitted to land under section 212 (d) (5), 252, or 253 of the Immigration and Nationality Act is subsequently placed aboard a vessel or aircraft for detention and deportation in accordance with the provisions of that Act and this chapter, the immigration officer delivering the alien crewman to the vessel or aircraft shall order the owner, agent, consignee, charterer, master, or commanding officer of the vessel or aircraft to detain and deport such crewman in the manner provided by law.

§ 254.3 Detained crewman; when removal permitted—(a) Vessels. An alien crewman, employed on a vessel, who is required to be detained or who is ordered deported, shall not be removed to an immigration station or other place for safekeeping at the request of the transportation line except in case of emergency as determined by the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the place in the United States where the vessel is then located, and in such case, only when the owner, agent, consignee, charterer, master, or commanding officer, of the vessel involved shall give guarantee satisfactory to such district director or officer in charge that all costs of such removal, including maintenance charges, and damage done by such crewman to the place to which he is removed, including damage to equipment, shall be paid by such owner, agent, consignee, charterer, master, or commanding officer.

(b) Aircraft. An alien crewman, employed on an aircraft, who is required to be detained or who is ordered deported shall be detained at the expense of the airline at a place specified by the district director or the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the place in the United States where the aircraft is then located.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 254.21 Order to detain and deport alien crewman; form. The order to detain and deport provided for by § 254.2 shall be on Form I-259. The order shall be addressed to any or all of the following persons named in section 254 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act: owner, agent, consignee, charterer, master, or commanding officer of the vessel or aircraft on which the crewman arrived. The order shall be served by mail or by personal service upon each of the persons to whom it is addressed or upon such other person as may be authorized to receive it. Every person upon whom the order is served shall be charged with the duty of detaining and deporting the alien or aliens named thereon. The names of more than one alien crewman may be included on the same order. An order shall not be issued in the case of an alien crewman who has been permitted by the Service to leave the vessel or aircraft until such alien crewman is returned to such vessel or aircraft or is offered for deportation by the Service to the person or persons to whom the order is addressed.

PART 256—PAY OFF OR DISCHARGE OF ALIEN CREWMEN

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
256.1 Consent to pay off or discharge alien crewmen.

SUBPART A—SUSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 263.1 Foreign government officials, representatives to international organizations and similar classes—(a) Registration not required. Any alien in the United States on the effective date of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall not be required to register under section 262 of the Immigration and Nationality Act if (1) on that date he was exempt from the requirements of the Alien Registration Act, 1940 under the regulations promulgated under that act (12 F. R. 5130), and (2) he were now outside the United States applying for a visa in the status and classification he presently is maintaining in the United States, he would be exempt from the registration requirements of section 262 of the Immigration and Nationality Act under the regulations promulgated by the Department of State in accordance with the authority contained in section 221 (b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

(b) Registration required. Any person exempt from the registration requirements of section 262 of the Immigration and Nationality Act who remains in the United States for 30 days or longer after having ceased to be within the classification which entitled him to the exemption, shall apply for registration in accordance with the provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act before the expiration of 30 days following the date when he ceased to be entitled to such classification.

§ 263.2 Canadian citizen visitors. The duty imposed on aliens in the United States by section 262 of the Immigration and Nationality Act to apply for registration shall not be applicable to Canadian citizens admitted to the United States under the provisions of § 212.3 (b) of this chapter who depart from the United States within 6 months of admission. If his stay in the United States is to exceed 6 months, an application for registration in accordance with the provisions of section 262 of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be made prior to the expiration of the 6 months period.

§ 263.3 Aliens under deportation proceedings or confined in institutions within the United States—(a) Under deportation proceedings. No alien pending the conclusion of deportation proceedings need be registered under section 262 of the Immigration and Nationality Act otherwise than by means of the fingerprints taken and the record made in such deportation proceeding and need not be issued an alien registration receipt card, so long as he continues in custody or is deported or departs from the United States immediately upon release from such custody.

(b) Aliens confined in penal or other institutions or who are incapacitated. The district director in his discretion shall make such special arrangements as he deems necessary for the registration of aliens confined in institutions within his district.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

PART 264—REGISTRATION OF ALIENS IN THE UNITED STATES: FORMS AND PROCEDURE

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
264.1 Alien registration receipt card.
264.2 Registration officers.
264.3 Place of registration.
264.4 Registration records confidential.
264.5 Replacement of alien registration receipt cards; aliens lawfully admitted for permanent residence.
264.6 Reregistration; aliens other than those lawfully admitted for permanent residence whose alien registration receipt cards have been lost, mutilated or destroyed.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

264.11 Form of registration.
264.12 Manner of registration.
264.51 Replacement of alien registration receipt cards; procedure.

AUTHORITY: §§ 264.1 to 264.51 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply sec. 30, 54 Stat. 673, secs. 221, 261–265, 66 Stat. 191, 223–225.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 264.1 Alien registration receipt card—(a) Receipt cards or other evidence of alien registration issued prior to the effective date of the Immigration and Nationality Act. Every receipt card, certificate, or other document or paper which was issued to any registered alien prior to the effective date of the Immigration and Nationality Act and which, under any regulation in effect immediately prior to the effective date of the Immigration and Nationality Act was or constituted evidence of alien registration under any of the provisions of Title III of the Alien Registration Act, 1940, is hereby declared to be issued and is hereby issued as an alien registration receipt card pursuant to section 264 (d) of the Immigration and Nationality Act with the same force and effect as though issued on or after the effective date of the Immigration and Nationality Act. Such evidence of alien registration includes:

Form AR 103: "Alien Registration Receipt Card."
Form AR–3: "Alien Registration Receipt Card."
Form I–151: "Alien Registration Receipt Card."
Form AR–103 S: "Alien Registration Receipt Card" (Seamen Form).
Form I–151 (Rev. 1–3–50): (Certifying to Alien Registration.)
Foreign Service Form 257a: Showing Alien Registration.
Form I–200: (Noted to show alien registration.)
Form I–94C: (Noted to show alien registration.)
Form I–100a: Alien Laborer's Permit and Identification Card.

(b) Aliens registered prior to effective date of the Immigration and Nationality Act who have not received evidence of registration. Except as otherwise provided in this part, any alien in the United States who was registered under Title III of the Alien Registration Act, 1940, who for any reason has not been issued an alien registration receipt card or in whose case such card remains undelivered, shall be furnished with an alien registration receipt card on the appropriate form prescribed in this part as soon as practicable. If the identity of any such alien or the mailing address is unknown, such action shall be initiated upon the receipt of that information from any source.

(c) Forms constituting alien registration receipt cards under the Immigration and Nationality Act. In addition to any form specifically stated elsewhere in this chapter to be an alien registration receipt card issued pursuant to section 264 (d) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the forms listed in this paragraph shall, under the conditions specified, also constitute alien registration receipt cards.

(1) Form I–151. When an alien with an unexpired immigrant visa is lawfully admitted to the United States as an immigrant for permanent residence he shall be issued Form I–151 as an alien registration receipt card and as evidence of such immigration status. Any alien who in any manner becomes a lawful permanent resident of the United States and who is registered in the United States also shall be furnished such Form I–151. An alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence who re-registers in the United States within 30 days after attaining his 14th birthday shall be entitled to and shall be issued a new Form I–151 bearing his photograph if the Form I–151 originally issued to him was without such photograph.

(2) Form 257a. In the case of an alien who, in connection with his visa application, has been registered under section 261 of the Immigration and Nationality Act or section 30 of the Alien Registration Act, 1940, any Form 257a returned to him and endorsed by the admitting officer, pursuant to § 221.2 of this chapter, to show the data as to admission shall constitute an alien registration receipt card.

(3) Form I–94C. Except as otherwise provided in this part, an alien registered on Forms I–94, I–94–AR and (when applicable) AR–4 as provided in § 264.11 shall be given Form I–94C endorsed to show such registration and that form shall then be the alien's registration receipt card.

(d) Prohibition against issuance of more than one alien registration receipt card; requirement of surrender of receipt card. An alien registration receipt card shall not be issued to any person who previously has obtained one unless he surrenders such previously issued card which is in his possession. No person shall use an alien registration receipt card relating to any other person except in behalf of his minor child or ward. If an alien is naturalized, dies, permanently departs, or is deported from the United States, or an alien registration receipt card is found by a person other than the one to whom it was issued, the person in possession of the card shall surrender it to an immigration officer or it shall be lifted by an immigration officer, and such officer shall forward the card to the office of the Service maintaining the file of the alien to whom the card was issued. If doubt arises as to the location of the alien's file, the alien registration receipt card shall be forwarded to the Central Office for appropriate disposition.

(e) Carrying and possession of proof of alien registration. The provisions of section 264 (e) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be applicable to every receipt card, certificate, or other document or paper referred to in § 264.1 as constituting evidence of alien registration.

(f) Limited effect of issuance of alien registration receipt card. The issuance of an alien registration receipt card or its equivalent shall not relieve the alien, or his parent or guardian, from full compliance with any and all laws and regulations of the United States now existing or hereafter made concerning aliens; nor shall it be construed to confer upon the alien or his parent or guardian immunity from any liability, penalty or punishment incurred by the alien or his parent or guardian for violation of any law of the United States occurring either before or after the issuance of such card.

§ 264.2 Registration officers. Immigration officers and any officer or employee of the United States selected by the Commissioner are designated registration officers and authorized to register aliens under Chapter 7 of Title II of the Immigration and Nationality Act. Any registration officer may prepare any registration form required to be executed by an alien upon the basis of information furnished by such alien.

§ 264.3 Place of registration. Any alien in the United States who is required to apply for registration under the provisions of section 262 of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall do so at any office in which any person designated in § 264.2 as a registration officer is serving as such, except as otherwise indicated in § 263.3 of this chapter, and except that the district director may make such special arrangements as he deems necessary for the registration of aliens in his district who are aged, infirm, or incapacitated.

§ 264.4 Registration records confidential. All registration and fingerprint records made under the provisions of Title III of the Alien Registration Act, 1940, or under Chapter 7 of Title II of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be confidential. Information from such records shall be made available only to such persons or agencies as may be designated by the Commissioner. Persons or agencies designated to receive such information prior to the effective date of the Act whose designation was outstanding and unrevoked upon that date are hereby designated to continue to receive such information under the authority contained in section 264 (b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

§ 264.5 Replacement of alien registration receipt cards; aliens lawfully admitted for permanent residence. Any alien lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence whose alien registration receipt card has been lost, mutilated, or destroyed, shall immediately apply for a new alien registration receipt card, and upon approval of his application shall be issued a new alien registration receipt card. Any alien lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence whose name has been changed after registration by order of court or marriage, or who is in possession of an alien registration receipt card that does not constitute prima facie evidence of his lawful admission for permanent residence (such as Forms AR–3 and AR–103) may apply for a new alien registration receipt card. In either case, the application shall be made and disposed of as provided in § 264.51.

§ 264.6 Reregistration; aliens other than those lawfully admitted for permanent residence whose alien registration receipt cards have been lost, mutilated or destroyed. Any alien other than one within the provisions of § 264.5 whose alien registration receipt card has been lost, mutilated, or destroyed immediately shall apply to the nearest office of the Service for a new alien registration receipt card. If it is determined that the alien will remain in the United States more than 29 days after the loss, destruction, or mutilation of the card came to his attention, the alien shall be re-registered as if he were being initially registered under the provisions of this part and a new alien registration receipt card shall be issued to him as provided in § 264.1 (c) (3).

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 264.11 Form of registration. Any alien required to be registered in the United States shall except as otherwise provided in this chapter be registered on Forms I–94 and I–94–AR except that an alien who is a lawful permanent resident shall be registered on Form AR–2 and in an appropriate case on Form AR–2a (supplemental information to be made a part of Form AR–2). Except as provided in § 263.3 (a) of this chapter, in either instance, the alien shall be fingerprinted on Form AR–4 and when the alien is registered on Form AR–2, the registration officer shall take an imprint of the alien's right index finger in the space provided therefor on Form AR–2.

§ 264.12 Manner of registration—(a) Duties of registration officers. The registration officer shall complete the registration forms prescribed by this part in the English language from information furnished by the alien and all fingerprints shall be taken by such officer. When an alien is registered on Forms I–94 and I–94–AR, the registration officer shall endorse the Form I–94C to show that the alien has registered under the Immigration and Nationality Act.

(b) Information required for registration. The information which the alien or his parent or legal guardian must furnish under oath shall be such as is required by the forms prescribed in this part or as may be required hereafter under the authority of the Immigration and Nationality Act. Name or names shall be given in the English alphabet and the date of birth shall be stated by giving the month, day and year in that sequence.

(c) Persons who believe themselves not subject to registration. If any person indicates to the registration officer that he does not believe himself subject to registration under the Immigration and Nationality Act but is registering for his own protection, the registration officer shall make the following notation on the margin of the registration form at the conclusion of the registration: "Applicant doubts need for registration."

(d) Registration in behalf of insane or incompetent aliens. Any alien who is insane or otherwise incompetent or of unsound mind may be registered by his legal guardian, trustee, or committee or by such other person as may be charged by law with his care and custody. Any person registering in behalf of an alien herein described, shall answer to the best of his knowledge and ability the questions required to be put to the registering alien and shall swear or affirm to the best of his knowledge and belief that such alien is incompetent. Such alien, if 14 years of age or older, shall be fingerprinted if possible.

(e) Signing of registration forms. Except as otherwise provided in this part the registration forms provided for herein must be signed and sworn to before a registration officer by the alien in person or by his parent or legal guardian. The alien being registered or his parent or guardian or the person furnishing the information in behalf of an incompetent alien, if unable to write, shall make his mark in the signature space on the registration forms and his mark shall be witnessed by a witness other than the registration officer. The witness shall sign his name and address on the registration forms near the mark made and the words "witnessed by" shall precede the witness' signature.

§ 264.51 Replacement of alien registration receipt cards; procedure—(a) Form of application. Application for a new alien registration receipt card shall be made on Form I–90 under oath or affirmation. If the alien is under 14 years of age, the application shall be made by his parent or legal guardian. If a parent or legal guardian is not available the matter should be reported to the district director of the district in which the alien resides who shall take such steps as he deems necessary with regard to the issuance of a new card.

(b) Disposition of application. An application for a new alien registration receipt card shall be submitted to the officer in charge of the office of the Service having administrative jurisdiction over the applicant's place of residence. The application shall be accompanied by two photographs of the alien as described in Part 10 of this chapter and by a fee of $5.00 and, if the application is for the issuance of a new receipt card in a changed name, by appropriate documentary evidence of such change including any court order effecting such change. If the applicant is in possession of an immigration identification card, a mutilated receipt card, a Form AR–3 or AR–103 receipt card, or any other alien registration receipt card, such card must be surrendered before a new receipt card may be issued to him. The officer in charge receiving an application shall cause such investigation and inquiry to be conducted as he deems necessary to determine whether the application should be granted. Such officer in charge shall submit the application and the accompanying documents to the district director together with a report in writing and his recommendation as to whether the application should be granted or denied. If after consideration of the application and the record the district director is satisfied that the applicant was lawfully admitted for permanent residence and that the original receipt card has been lost, mutilated, or destroyed he shall issue a new receipt card on Form I–151. If after such consideration he is satisfied that the applicant was so admitted and that (1) the applicant's name has been changed after registration by order of court or by marriage, or that (2) the applicant's original receipt card is not prima facie evidence of his lawful admission for permanent residence (such as Form AR–3 or AR–103), the district director may issue a new receipt card on Form I–151. The new card shall bear the alien's registration number, the alien's photograph and notation that it is a replacement of a prior receipt card. The new receipt card Form I–151 shall be mailed directly to the alien or if the alien is less than 14 years of age, to his parent or legal guardian. If the district director is not satisfied that the application should be granted, he shall deny the application and take whatever action he deems appropriate to the case. Upon the denial of any application, the fee accompanying the application shall be refunded to the applicant. No appeal may be taken from the decision of the district director.

AUTHORITY: §§ 280.1 to 280.51 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 231, 233, 237, 239, 243, 251, 253, 254, 255, 266, 272, 273, 280, 66 Stat. 195, 197, 201, 203, 212, 219, 221, 222, 223, 226, 227, 230.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 280.1 Notice of intention to fine; administrative proceedings not exclusive. Whenever a district director or officer in charge has reason to believe that any person has violated any of the provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act and has thereby become liable to the imposition of an administrative fine under the Immigration and Nationality Act, he shall cause a Notice of Intention to Fine, Form I–79, to be served as provided in this part. Nothing in this subchapter shall affect, restrict, or prevent the institution of a civil suit, in the discretion of the Attorney General, under the authority contained in section 280 of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

§ 280.2 Special provisions relating to aircraft. In any case in which the imposition of a fine is predicated upon an alleged violation of a regulation promulgated under authority of section 239 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the procedure prescribed in this part shall be followed, and the aircraft involved shall not be granted clearance pending determination of the question of liability to the payment of any fine, or while the fine remains unpaid; but clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. If the alleged violation was by the owner or person in command of the aircraft, the penalty provided for shall be a lien against the aircraft, which, except as provided in § 280.21, shall be seized by the district director or officer in charge, or by an immigration officer designated by the district director or officer in charge, and placed in the custody of the customs officer who is in charge of the port of entry or customs station nearest the place of seizure. If the owner or owners of the airport at which such aircraft is located are the owners of the seized aircraft, the aircraft shall be removed to another suitable place for storage if practicable. Bonds deposited to obtain the release of seized aircraft, as provided in section 239 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, shall be filed on Form I–315 and shall be subject to the approval of and acceptance by the collector of customs.

§ 280.3 Departure of vessel or aircraft prior to denial of clearance. If any vessel or aircraft which is subject to the imposition of a fine shall have departed from the United States prior to the denial of clearance by the collector of customs and such vessel or aircraft is subsequently found in the United States, a Notice of Intention to Fine, Form I–79, shall be served as provided in this part, if such form has not been previously served for the same violation. Clearance of such vessel or aircraft shall be withheld by the collector of customs, and the procedure prescribed in this part shall be followed to the same extent and in the same manner as though the vessel or aircraft had not departed from the United States. Aircraft subject to the provisions of § 280.2, which shall have departed from the United States prior to the time seizure could be effected, shall be subject to all of the provisions of this part, if susequently found in the United States, to the same extent as though it had not departed from the United States.

§ 280.4 Data concerning cost of transportation. Within 5 days after request therefor, transportation companies shall furnish to the district director or officer in charge the original transportation contract of all rejected aliens whose cases are within the purview of any of the provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act relating to refund of passage monies, and shall indicate the exact amounts paid for transportation from the initial point of departure (which point shall be stated) to the foreign port of embarkation, from the latter to the port of arrival in the United States and from the port of arrival to the inland point of destination, respectively, and also the amount paid for headtax, if any.

§ 280.5 Mitigation or remission of fines. In any case in which mitigation or remission of a fine is authorized by the Immigration and Nationality Act, the party served with Notice of Intention to Fine may apply in writing to the district director for such mitigation or remission.

§ 280.6 Bond to obtain clearance; form. A bond to obtain clearance of a vessel or aircraft under sections 231, 233, 237, 243, 251, 253, 254, 255, 256, 272 or 273 of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be filed on Form I–310.

§ 280.7 Approval of bonds or acceptance of cash deposit to obtain clearance. The collector of customs is authorized to approve the bond, or accept the sum of money which is being offered for deposit under any provision of the Immigration and Nationality Act or by this chapter for the purpose of obtaining clearance of a vessel or aircraft.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 280.11 Notice of intention to fine; procedure.—Notice of Intention to Fine, Form I–79, shall be prepared in triplicate, with one additional copy for each additional person on whom the service of such Notice is contemplated. The Notice shall be addressed to any or all of the available persons subject to fine. A copy of the Notice shall be served on each such person by (a) delivering it to him in person, or (b) leaving it at his office, or (c) mailing it to him at his office whenever the district director or officer in charge ascertains that the other two methods of service are inconvenient or impossible. If the Notice is served personally, the person upon whom it is served shall be requested to acknowledge such service by signing his name to the duplicate and triplicate copies. The officer effecting such service shall attest to the service by signing his name thereon and shall indicate thereon the date and place of service. If the person so served refuses to acknowledge service, or if service is made by leaving it at an office or mailing it, the person making such service shall indicate the method and date on the duplicate and triplicate copies of Form I–79, and shall sign his name upon such copies. The duplicate copy shall be retained by the district director or officer in charge and the triplicate copy shall be delivered directly to the collector of customs for the district in which the vessel or aircraft is located, and the collector shall withhold clearance until deposit is made or bond furnished as provided in the Immigration and Nationality Act. If the vessel or aircraft is located in a customs district which is outside the jurisdiction of the office of the Service having jurisdiction over the matter, the triplicate copy shall be forwarded to the office of the Service nearest such customs district for delivery to the collector of customs.

§ 280.12 Answer and request or order for interview. Within 30 days following the service of the Notice of Intention to Fine (which period the district director or officer in charge may extend for an additional period of 30 days upon good cause being shown), any person upon whom a notice under this part has been served may file with the district director or officer in charge a written defense, in duplicate, under oath setting forth the reasons why a fine should not be imposed, or if imposed, why it should be mitigated or remitted if permitted by the Immigration and Nationality Act, and stating whether a personal appearance is desired. Documentary evidence shall be submitted in support of such defense and a brief may be submitted in support of any argument made. If a personal interview is requested, the evidence in opposition to the imposition of the fine and in support of the request for mitigation or remission may be presented at such interview. An interview shall be conducted if requested by the party as provided hereinabove or, if directed at any time by the Board, the Commissioner, or the district director.

§ 280.13 Disposition of case—(a) Allegations admitted or no answer filed. If a request for personal appearance is not filed and (a) the answer admits the allegations in the Notice, or (b) no answer is filed, the district director shall enter such order in the case as he deems appropriate and no appeal from his decision may be taken.

(b) Answer filed; personal appearance not requested. Upon receipt of an answer asserting a defense to the allegations in the Notice without request for a personal appearance, the case shall be assigned to an immigration officer for consideration. The immigration officer shall prepare a report of his findings and make a recommendation as to whether a fine has been incurred and if so, what mitigation or remission, if any, should be granted if an application therefor has been made. The record in the case and the report and recommendation of the immigration officer shall be forwarded to the district director. The district director shall endorse the report indicating whether he approves or disapproves the recommendation of the immigration officer. The party affected shall be informed in writing of the decision of the district director and, if his decision is that a fine shall be imposed or that the requested mitigation or remission shall not be granted, of the reasons for such decision. From the decision of the district director an appeal may be taken to the Board within 10 days of the receipt of notification of the decision, as provided in Part 6 of this chapter. If no appeal is taken the decision shall be final and the fine imposed shall be collected.

(c) Interview requested or directed. If the party affected requests a personal appearance, or if at any time the district director, the Commissioner, or the Board so directs, the party shall be given an opportunity to be interviewed by an immigration officer for the purpose of presenting evidence concerning the alleged violation and, where the particular section of law provides for mitigation or remission of the penalty, evidence of any mitigating circumstances. The party may be represented by counsel at the interview. All evidence pertinent to the case, including the testimony of any witnesses, shall be incorporated into the record. At the conclusion of the interview the immigration officer shall prepare a report setting forth a summary of the evidence adduced as to imposition of fine, mitigation or remission, and findings of fact and conclusions of law based on such evidence. The decision shall conclude with a recommendation which shall be either (1) that a fine in a specified amount be imposed, or (2) that the proceedings be terminated. If the recommendation is that a fine be imposed there shall be a further recommendation with respect to any application for remission or mitigation which shall be either (1) that the application be denied, or (2) that it be granted. If the recommendation is that the application be granted, the immigration officer shall also recommend the amount of the fine to be remitted or mitigated, and the amount of the remaining fine to be collected. The complete record, including the recommendation of the immigration officer shall be forwarded to the district director. The district director shall note his decision on the report of the immigration officer which shall be (1) that a fine in a specified amount be imposed, or (2) that the proceedings be dismissed, and, if an application for remission or mitigation has been made (1) that the application be denied or (2) that it be granted. If the decision is that the application be granted, the district director shall also include in his decision a statement as to the amount of the fine to be remitted or mitigated, and the amount of the remaining fine to be collected. The party affected shall be informed in writing of the decision of the district director and, if his decision is adverse to the party affected, of the reasons for such decision. From the decision of the district director an appeal may be taken to the Board within 10 days of receipt of notification of the decision as provided in Part 6 of this chapter. If an appeal is not taken, the decision shall be final and the fine imposed shall be collected.

§ 280.14 Record. The record made under § 280.13 shall include the request for the interview or a reference to the order directing the interview; the medical certificate, if any; a copy of any record of hearing before a Board of Special Inquiry, Hearing Examiner, Hearing Officer, or Special Inquiry Officer which is relevant to the fine proceedings; the duplicate copy of the Notice of Intention to Fine; the evidence upon which such Notice was based; the duplicate of any notices to detain, deport, deliver, or remove aliens; notice to pay expenses; evidence as to whether any deposit was made or bond furnished in accordance with the Immigration and Nationality Act; reports of investigations conducted; documentary evidence and testimony adduced at the interview; the original of any affidavit or brief filed in opposition to the imposition of fine; the application for mitigation or remission; and any other relevant matter.

§ 280.15 Notice of final decision to collector of customs. At such time as the decision under this part is final, the collector of customs who was furnished with a copy of the Notice of Intention to Fine shall be informed by the district director of the final decision made in the case. Such information need not be furnished in any case in which the district director has been previously furnished with a notice of collection of the amount of the penalty by the collector of customs.

§ 280.21 Seizure of aircraft. Seizure of an aircraft under the authority of section 239 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, and § 280.2 will not be made if such aircraft is damaged to an extent that its value is less than the amount of the fine which may be imposed. Immediately upon the seizure of an aircraft, or prior thereto, if circumstances permit, a full report of the facts in the case shall be submitted by the district director to the United States Attorney for the district in which the seizure was made. The report shall include the cost incurred in seizing and guarding the aircraft and an estimate of the further additional cost likely to be incurred.

§ 280.51 Application for mitigation or remission—(a) When application may be made. An application for mitigation or remission shall be filed (a) within 30 days after the service of the Notice of Intention to Fine and, if an answer is filed as provided in § 280.12, with such answer, for consideration in the event a fine is found to have been incurred, or (b) within 30 days after receipt of the final decision with respect to the fine.

(b) Form and contents of application. An application for mitigation or remission shall be filed in duplicate under oath and shall include information, supported by documentary evidence, as to the basis of the claim to mitigation or remission, and as to the action, if any, which may have been taken by the applicant, or as to the circumstances present in the case which, in the opinion of the applicant, justified the granting of his application.

(c) Disposition of application. The application, if filed with the answer, shall be disposed of as provided in § 280.13. In any other case, the application shall be considered and decided by the district director from whose decision an appeal may be taken to the Board within 10 days from receipt of notification of such decision, as provided in Part 6 of this chapter.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

AUTHORITY: §§ 287.1 to 287.4 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 235, 236, 242, 287, 66 Stat. 198, 200, 208, 233.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 287.1 Definitions—(a) Reasonable distance from the United States. The phrase "within a reasonable distance from any external boundary of the United States" as used in section 287 of the Immigration and Nationality Act means within a distance of not exceeding 100 air miles from any external boundary of the United States or any shorter distance which may be fixed by the district director, or, so far as the power to board and search aircraft is concerned, any distance fixed pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Reasonable distance; fixing by district directors. In fixing reasonable distances of less than 100 air miles pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, district directors shall take into consideration topography, confluence of arteries of transportation leading from external boundaries, density of population, possible inconvenience to the traveling public, types of conveyances used, and reliable information as to movements of persons effecting illegal entry into the United States: Provided, That whenever in the opinion of a district director a distance in his district of more than 100 air miles from any external boundary of the United States would because of unusual circumstances be reasonable, such district director shall forward a complete report with respect to the matter to the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, who may, if he determines that such action is justified, declare such distance to be reasonable.

(c) Powers of immigration officers. The term "officer or employee of the Service" as used in section 287 of the Immigration and Nationality Act means an immigration officer.

(d) Patrolling the border. The phrase "patrolling the border to prevent the illegal entry of aliens into the United States" as used in section 287 of the Immigration and Nationality Act means conducting the customary activities reasonable and necessary to prevent the illegal entry of aliens into the United States.

§ 287.2 Criminal violations; investigation and action. Whenever a district director or an officer in charge has reason to believe that there has been a violation punishable under any criminal provision of the laws administered or enforced by the Service, he shall cause an investigation to be made immediately of all the pertinent facts and circumstances and shall take or cause to be taken such further action as the results of such investigation warrant.

§ 287.3 Disposition of cases of aliens arrested without warrant. An alien arrested without a warrant of arrest under the authority contained in section 287 (a) (2) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be examined as therein provided by an officer other than the arresting officer, unless no other qualified officer is readily available and the taking of the alien before another officer would entail unnecessary delay, in which event the arresting officer, if the conduct of such examination is a part of the duties assigned to him, may examine the alien. If such examining officer is satisfied that there is prima facie evidence establishing that the arrested alien was entering or attempting to enter the United States in violation of the immigration laws, he shall refer the case to a special inquiry officer for further inquiry in accordance with Parts 235 and 236 of this chapter or take whatever other action may be appropriate or required under the laws or other regulations applicable to the particular case. If the examining officer is satisfied that there is prima facie evidence establishing that the arrested alien is in the United States in violation of the immigration laws, further action in the case shall be taken as provided in Part 242 of this chapter.

§ 287.4 Subpena—(a) Who may issue. Except as provided in § 335.11 of this chapter, subpenas requiring the attendance of witnesses or the production of documentary evidence, or both, may be issued upon his own volition by a district director, officer in charge, or special inquiry officer in any proceeding pending before him, or upon application of an officer of the Service, or upon written application of the alien or other party affected. If an alien or other party affected by a proceeding before the Service requests that a witness be subpenaed to testify or to produce books, papers or documents in such proceeding before the Service, he shall be required as a condition precedent to the issuance of the subpena to state in writing what he expects to prove by such witness or the books, papers, or documents and to show affirmatively that the proposed evidence is relevant and material and that he has made diligent efforts without success to produce the same. Upon determining that a witness whose evidence is desired either by the Service officer or the alien or other party affected will not appear and testify or produce documentary evidence unless commanded to do so and that the testimony and evidence of such witness is essential, the district director, officer in charge, or a special inquiry officer in any proceeding pending before him, shall issue a subpena. If the witness is at a distance of more than 100 miles from the place of hearing, the subpena shall provide for the witness' appearance at the field office nearest to him to respond to oral or written interrogatories, unless the Service indicates that there is no objection to bringing the witness the distance required to enable him to testify in person at the hearing.

(b) Form. Every subpena issued under the provisions of this section shall state the title of the proceeding and shall command the person to whom it is directed to attend and give testimony at a time and place therein specified. A subpena may also command the person to whom it is directed to produce the books, papers or documents designated therein. A subpena may also direct the making of a deposition before an officer of the Service. Subpenas shall be issued on Form I-138.

(c) Service. A subpena issued under this section may be served by any person over 18 years of age not a party to the case designated to make such service by the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the office in which the subpena is issued. Service of the subpena shall be made by delivering a copy thereof to the person named therein and by tendering to him the fee for one day's attendance and the mileage allowed by law by the United States District Court for the district in which the testimony is to be taken. When the subpena is issued on behalf of the Service, fee and mileage need not be tendered at the time of service. A record of such service shall be made and attached to the original copy of the subpena.

(d) Invoking aid of court. If a witness neglects or refuses to appear and testify as directed by the subpena served upon him in accordance with the provisions of this section, the district director issuing the subpena shall request the United States Attorney for the proper district to report such neglect or refusal to the appropriate United States District Court and to request such court to issue an order requiring the witness to appear and testify and to produce the books, papers or documents designated in the subpena. If the subpena was issued by an officer in charge or a special inquiry officer, the officer issuing the subpena shall request the district director having administrative jurisdiction over such officer to take the action referred to in the previous sentence in the event the witness neglects or refuses to appear and testify as directed by the subpena served upon him.

292.61 Procedure for suspension or disbarment; effect.

AUTHORITY: §§ 292.1 to 292.61 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply sec. 292, 66 Stat. 235.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 292.1 Admission to practice required. (a) No person shall be permitted to practice before the Service or the Board until he has been admitted to practice by the Board in accordance with § 292.3.

(b) Notwithstanding paragraph (a) of this section:

(1) A district director, an officer in charge, the Commissioner, any other officer of the Central Office authorized by the Commissioner to do so, or the Board may permit an attorney or representative to file an appearance in behalf of a party in any case prior to the approval of his application for admission if such attorney or representative files the application concurrently with filing his appearance in the case. If the application is subsequently denied, such attorney or representative shall not thereafter be permitted to practice, in that or any other case, unless and until his admission to practice has been authorized by the Board and subject to such conditions as the Board shall direct.

(2) In any case in which, under the Immigration and Nationality Act, a party is entitled to be represented by counsel, he may be represented by any reputable individual of good moral character, whether or not admitted to practice in accordance with § 292.3, if such individual is appearing without monetary or other material remuneration and files a written declaration to that effect, and if such representation is permitted by the Special Inquiry Officer having the case under consideration, the district director or the officer in charge

Officer, or Special Inquiry Officer which is relevant to the fine proceedings; the used, and reliable information as to movements of persons effecting illegal an order requiring the witness to appear district director or the officer in charge

having administrative jurisdiction over the office in which the case is pending, the Commissioner, or the Board.

(3) Any alien may be represented by an accredited official, in the United States, of the government to which the alien owes allegiance, if such official appears solely in his official capacity, and with the consent of the alien.

(4) An attorney, other than one described in § 1.1 (a) (3) of this chapter, residing outside the United States and licensed to practice law and in good standing in a court or courts of the country in which he resides and who is engaged in such practice may be permitted by any district director or officer in charge, the Commissioner, or any officer of the Central Office designated by him, or the Board, to file his appearance and be heard in any individual case. The district director shall have authority to withhold granting permission to such attorney to appear before an officer under his jurisdiction, and may refer the application for permission to appear to the Board for its decision.

(5) No person who is a party to a case shall be denied the privilege of presenting oral argument in his own behalf before the Board if it has his case under consideration.

(6) Any person desiring to be heard as amicus curiae shall apply therefor to the Board; and the Board may grant such application if it deems it to be in the public interest.

(c) No person previously in the employ of the Department of Justice may be permitted to practice in a case in which he participated during the period of such employment.

§ 292.2 Qualifications for admission to practice. (a) Admission to practice shall be limited to persons who are citizens of the United States, who are of good moral character, and who are attorneys in good standing in the court or courts in which they are licensed to practice, or who are representatives of organizations of the character described in § 1.1 (a) (12) of this chapter.

(b) No person within any category set forth in § 292.6 may be admitted to practice.

§ 292.3 Applications for admission to practice; decision. (a) Applications for admission to practice may be filed with a district director, the Commissioner, or the Chairman of the Board, at the option of the applicant. Such application shall be made in triplicate upon Form G–27. An application by an attorney shall be supported by a current certificate from a judge or clerk of the court in which the applicant is licensed to practice, or by a written statement of the district director or officer in charge of the local office of the Service certifying that upon inquiry he has ascertained and has personal knowledge that the applicant is so licensed. An application by the representative of an organization shall be supported by a statement of the appropriate officer or officers thereof, certifying that the applicant is its accredited representative and authorized to appear in its behalf in any case.

(b) The original application shall be transmitted to the Board by the district director or the Commissioner, if filed with them, and shall be permanently retained in the files of the Board. The duplicate shall be retained in the files of the Commissioner, and the triplicate in the files of the district director having jurisdiction over the applicant's place of residence.

(c) As soon as practicable after receipt of the application the Board shall give consideration thereto. If the application is approved, written notation to that effect shall be made on the application and a certificate of admission to practice shall be issued to the licensee. If the conclusion is that the application shall be denied, the Board shall prepare a proposed order of denial, in which shall be stated the reasons for denying the application. The Board shall serve the proposed order on the applicant, either personally or by registered mail and obtain a return receipt therefor. The applicant shall be allowed a reasonable time, not less than ten days, in which to file exceptions to the proposed order and to submit a brief if desired. After receipt of the exceptions, or if none are received within three days after expiration of the period specified for filing of exceptions, the Board shall make such order as it may then determine appropriate, including authorizing a hearing for presentation of evidence or oral argument. If no exceptions are filed, the order of the Board shall be final, subject to review by the Attorney General under any of the circumstances described in § 6.1 (h) of this chapter. If exceptions have been filed and the order of the Board is that the application shall be denied, the Board shall refer the record to the Attorney General for review of its order. The order of the Attorney General shall be the final determination of the application.

(d) Admission of a representative shall terminate upon discontinuance of his authority to represent the organization named in his application.

§ 292.4 Roster of attorneys. The Board shall maintain an alphabetical roster of attorneys and of representatives of organizations. A copy of the roster shall be supplied to the Commissioner, and he shall be advised from time to time of changes therein.

§ 292.5 Appearances; availability of records. (a) An appearance shall be filed in writing on Form G–28 by attorneys or representatives appearing in each individual case. When an appropriate appearance has been filed in a case, substitution of attorneys or representatives may be permitted upon the written withdrawal of the attorneys or representatives of record or upon notice by the party to the case of his designation of new attorneys or representatives. If any attorney or representative of record authorizes another attorney or representative to act for him as an associate in a case, the latter will be heard if satisfactory evidence of his authorization is presented and if he has been admitted to practice under this part.

(b) During the time a case is pending, the attorney or representative of record, or his associate, shall be permitted to review the record and, upon request, be lent a copy of the testimony adduced. The attorney or representative shall give his receipt for such copy and pledge that no copy thereof will be made, that he will retain it in his possession and under his control, and that it will be surrendered upon final disposition of the case, or upon demand by the Service or the Board.

§ 292.6 Suspension and disbarment. With the approval of the Attorney General, the Board may suspend or bar from further practice an attorney or representative, if it shall find that suspension or disbarment is in the public interest. The suspension or disbarment of an attorney or representative who is within one or more of the following categories shall be deemed to be in the public interest, for the purpose of this part, but the enumeration of such categories herein shall not be construed as establishing the exclusive grounds for suspension or disbarment in the public interest:

(a) Who charges or receives, either directly or indirectly, any fee or compensation for services which may be deemed to be grossly excessive in relation to the services performed by him in the case;

(b) Who, with intent to defraud or deceive, bribes, attempts to bribe, coerces, or attempts to coerce, by any means whatsoever, any person, including a party to a case, or an officer or employee of the Service or Board, to commit an act or to refrain from performing an act in connection with any case;

(c) Who wilfully misleads, misinforms, or deceives an officer or employee of the Department of Justice concerning any material and relevant fact in connection with a case;

(d) Who wilfully deceives, misleads, or threatens any party to a case concerning any matter relating to the case;

(e) Who solicits practice in any unethical or unprofessional manner, including, but not limited to, the use of runners, or advertising his availability to handle immigration, naturalization, or nationality matters;

(f) Who represents, as an associate, an attorney who, known to him, solicits practice in any unethical or unprofessional manner, including, but not limited to, the use of runners, or advertising his availability to handle immigration, naturalization, or nationality matters;

(g) Who has been temporarily suspended, and such suspension is still in effect, or permanently disbarred from practice in any court, Federal, State (including the District of Columbia), territorial, or insular;

(h) Who is temporarily suspended, and such suspension is still in effect, or permanently disbarred from practice in a representative capacity before any executive department, board, commission, or other governmental unit, Federal, State (including the District of Columbia), territorial, or insular;

(i) Who, by use of his name, personal appearance, or any device, aids and abets an attorney to practice during the period of his suspension or disbarment, such suspension or disbarment being known to him;

(j) Who wilfully made false and material statements in his application for admission to practice or in his appearance in any case;

(k) Who engages in contumelious or otherwise unprofessional conduct with respect to a case in which such attorney acts in a representative capacity, which in the opinion of the Board, would constitute cause for suspension or disbarment were the case pending before a court, or which, in such a judicial proceeding, would constitute a contempt of court;

(l) Who, having been furnished with a copy or copies of any portion of the record in any case, wilfully fails to surrender such copy or copies upon final disposition of the case or upon demand, or wilfully and without authorization makes and retains a copy or copies of the material furnished;

(m) Who has been convicted of a felony, or, having been convicted of any crime is sentenced to imprisonment for a term of more than one year;

(n) Who no longer possesses the qualifications required by § 292.2 for admission to practice;

(o) Who is the representative of an organization which is no longer recognized by the Board as being of the character described in § 1.1 (a) (12) of this chapter.

§ 292.7 Admission to practice prior to December 24, 1952. Any person who immediately prior to the effective date of the regulations in this chapter and of the Immigration and Nationality Act was authorized to practice before the Service and the Board may continue to practice before the Service and the Board without making a new application for admission in accordance with the provisions of this part. Any such person shall be subject to the provisions of this part regulating the practice of attorneys and representatives.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 292.11 Service upon and action by attorney, representative, or alien. Except where specific provision is otherwise made in this chapter, whenever a person is required by any of the provisions of this chapter (a) to give or be given notice; (b) to serve or be served with any paper other than a warrant of arrest or a subpoena; (c) to make a motion; (d) to file or submit an application or other document; or (e) to perform or waive the performance of any act, such notice, service, motion, filing, submission, performance, or waiver shall be given by or to, served by or upon, made by, requested of (1) the attorney or representative who has filed an appearance in the case as provided in § 292.5, or (2) the person himself, if there is no attorney or representative in the case.

§ 292.12 Service of decision and other papers. Except where specific provision is otherwise made in this chapter, whenever a decision, notice or other paper is required to be given or served, it shall be done by personal service or registered mail upon the person designated in § 292.11.

§ 292.61 Procedure for suspension or disbarment; effect. (a) The Commissioner may cause to be investigated any complaint or circumstance which establishes a prima facie case for the suspension or disbarment of any enrolled attorney or representative. If such investigation establishes to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that suspension or disbarment proceedings should be instituted, he shall cause written charges to be preferred. A copy of such charges shall be served upon the respondent, either personally or by registered mail, with notice to show cause within a specified time, not less than 30 days, why he should not be suspended or disbarred from further practice. Such notice shall also advise the respondent that after answer has been made and the matter is at issue, if he so requests he will be given opportunity for a hearing before a representative of the Commissioner. If hearing is requested, the Commissioner will specify the time and place therefor and specially designate the officer who shall preside and the officer who shall present the evidence in support of the charges. The nonreceipt of answer within three days after expiration of the period prescribed to show cause shall be held a waiver of defense to the charges. If no hearing is requested in the answer, the Commissioner may conduct any further required investigation to complete the record, and without the necessity of any additional notice to the respondent, forward the completed record to the Board with his recommendation.

(b) The respondent, either with or without counsel, and the Commissioner, or any officer designated by him for the purpose, shall have the privilege of appearing before the Board for oral argument at a time specified by the Board.

(c) The Board shall consider the record as presented by the Commissioner as soon as practicable after its receipt and render its decision thereon. The order of the Board shall constitute the final disposition of the proceeding: Provided, however, That if the order would suspend or disbar the respondent, or if any one of the circumstances described in § 6.1 (h) of this chapter be present, the Board shall refer the record to the Attorney General for review of its decision and in such case the order of the Attorney General shall be the final determination of the proceeding.

(d) In case the final order against the respondent is for suspension or disbarment, the attorney or representative shall not thereafter be permitted to practice unless and until authorized so to do by the Board; and if disbarred, he shall surrender the certificate of his admission to the Board for cancellation.

Subchapter C—Nationality Regulations

NOTE: Explanation of numbering system utilized in this subchapter. Each part of this subchapter has been given the same number as the section of the Immigration and Nationality Act to which it relates. For example, Part 330 concerns only section 330 of the Immigration and Nationality Act. Each part of this subchapter is divided into two subparts: Subpart A—Substantive Provisions, and Subpart B—Procedural and Other Nonsubstantive Provisions. Each section of Subpart A bears a number consisting of the part number followed by a decimal point and by a single digit beginning with "1" and continuing to "9", using as many as required. For example, § 330.1 is the first substantive section of Part 330 and § 330.9 is the ninth substantive section of Part 330, assuming there existed nine substantive sections in Part 330. When a substantive section is required to be implemented by one or more procedural sections, the relating procedural section or sections bear the same number as the substantive section to which it relates plus one additional digit to the right of the decimal point beginning with "1" for the first procedural section and continuing to "9", if that many are required. For example, § 330.11 is the first procedural section implementing the first substantive section of Part 330 and § 330.87 is the seventh procedural section implementing the eighth substantive section of Part 330. If a substantive section does not require procedural sections, no procedural section numbers will appear for that particular substantive section.

(a) Persons who acquire United States citizenship through the naturalization of a parent or parents under section 320 or 321 of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

(b) Danish citizens who make application to renounce their citizenship under section 306 (a) (1) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

(c) Former United States citizens who make application to regain citizenship under section 324 (c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act or under Public Law 114, Eighty-second Congress, first session, as amended by section 402 (j) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

(Sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interprets or applies secs. 316, 320, 321, 324, 332, 335, 402, 66 Stat. 242, 245, 247, 252, 255, 278)

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

PART 316a—RESIDENCE, PHYSICAL PRESENCE AND ABSENCE

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
316a.1 Absence for which benefits of section 307 (b) or 308 of the Nationality Act of 1940 have been granted; effect on continuous residence requirement.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

316a.21 Application for benefits with respect to absences; appeal.

AUTHORITY: §§ 316a.1 and 316a.21 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 307, 308, 54 Stat. 1142, 1143, secs. 316, 317, 332, 405, 66 Stat. 242, 243, 252, 280.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 316a.1 Absence for which benefits of section 307 (b) or 308 of the Nationality Act of 1940 have been granted; effect on continuous residence requirement. No absence from the United States which commenced prior to the effective date of the Immigration and Nationality Act, whether or not it continued beyond that date, in connection with which an application for exemption from the usual residence requirements under the naturalization laws was made under section 307 (b) or 308 of the Nationality Act of 1940 and acted upon favorably by the Attorney General, shall be regarded as having broken the continuity of residence required by section 316 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, provided that satisfactory proof that the absence was for a purpose described in section 307 (b) or 308 of the Nationality Act of 1940, is presented to the court, and provided that the provisions of section 316 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act are otherwise complied with.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 316a.21 Application for benefits with respect to absences; appeal. (a) An application for the residence benefits of section 316 (b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act to cover an absence from the United States for a continuous period of one year or more shall be submitted to the Service on Form N–470 in accordance with the instructions contained therein. The application shall be filed before the applicant has been absent from the United States for a continuous period of one year or more, and prior to the period of employment abroad for which the benefits are requested. There shall be submitted with the application a fee of $10.

(b) An application for the residence and physical presence benefits of section 317 of the Immigration and Nationality Act to cover any absences from the United States, whether before or after December 24, 1952, shall be submitted to the Service on Form N–470 in accordance with the instructions contained therein, either before or after the absence from the United States, or the performance of the functions or the services described in that section. There shall be submitted with the application a fee of $10.00. The application shall be filed at any time after the applicant has been physically present and residing in the United States for an uninterrupted period of at least one year.

(c) If the district director is satisfied that favorable action should be taken, he shall grant the application. If he is not satisfied that the application should be granted, he shall deny it. The applicant shall be notified in writing of the denial, with the reasons therefor, and at the same time shall be advised that he has ten days from the date of receipt of notification in which he may appeal to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, in accordance with the provisions of Part 7 of this chapter. The Assistant Commissioner's decision shall be transmitted to the district director, who shall advise the applicant in writing of the decision.

PART 317—TEMPORARY ABSENCE OF PERSONS PERFORMING RELIGIOUS DUTIES

§ 317.1 Absence for which benefits of section 308 of the Nationality Act of 1940 have been granted. See § 316a.1 of this chapter.

PART 319—SPECIAL CLASSES OF PERSONS WHO MAY BE NATURALIZED: SPOUSES OF UNITED STATES CITIZENS

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
319.1 Person living in marital union with United States citizen spouse.
319.2 Person whose United States citizen spouse is employed abroad.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

319.11 Procedural requirements.

AUTHORITY: §§ 319.1 to 319.11 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 319, 332, 66 Stat. 244, 252.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 319.1 Person living in marital union with United States citizen spouse. A person of the class described in section 319 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall establish his good moral character, attachment to the principles of the Constitution of the United States, and favorable disposition to the good order and happiness of the United States for the period of three years immediately preceding the date of filing the petition and from that date to the time of admission to citizenship.

§ 319.2 Person whose United States citizen spouse is employed abroad. A person of the class described in section 319 (b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall establish an intention in good faith, upon naturalization, to reside abroad with the United States citizen spouse and to take up residence in the United States immediately upon the termination of the employment abroad of such spouse. It shall be established that at the time of filing of the petition for naturalization such person was in the United States pursuant to a lawful admission for permanent residence, and that he is a person of good moral character, attached to the principles of the Constitution of the United States, and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the United States. In any case in which the United States citizen spouse is employed by an American institution of research, the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, shall determine whether the employer shall be recognized as an American institution of research.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 319.11 Procedural requirements. A person described in §§ 319.1 and 319.2 shall submit to the Service an application to file a petition for naturalization on Form N–400 in accordance with the instructions contained therein. The petition for naturalization of such person shall be filed on Form N–406, in duplicate.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 322.11 Procedural requirements. An application to file a petition for naturalization in behalf of a child under section 322 or 323 of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be submitted to the Service on Form N–402, in accordance with the instructions contained therein, by the United States citizen parent or parents or adoptive parent or parents. Such application shall be submitted in time to permit the naturalization of the child prior to its eighteenth birthday anniversary. The petition for naturalization shall be filed on Form N–407 in duplicate, in a naturalization court within whose jurisdiction the petitioning parent or parents and the child reside. There shall be included in the petition the affidavits of two credible witnesses, citizens of the United States, stating (a) the length of time the witnesses have known the petitioning parent or parents and the child, (b) that to the best of the witnesses' knowledge and belief the child is, and during the applicable period has been, a person of good moral character, attached to the principles of the Constitution, and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the United States, (c) that the child is qualified in all respects to become a citizen of the United States, (d) that the child is permanently residing with the petitioning parent or parents in the United States and the period of such residence and (e) in the case of an adopted child, the period of time they have known the child to be in the legal custody of the petitioning parent or parents and to be physically present in the United States. At the hearing on the petition the qualifications described in sections 322 and 323 of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be proven by the oral testimony of witnesses in the manner provided in Part 335b of this chapter. A child under this part is not required to establish any particular period of residence in a State.

(Sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interprets or applies secs. 322, 323, 332, 335, 66 Stat. 246, 252, 255)

PART 323—SPECIAL CLASSES OF PERSONS WHO MAY BE NATURALIZED: CHILDREN ADOPTED BY UNITED STATES CITIZENS

§ 323.11 Procedural requirements. See Part 322 of this chapter.

PART 324—SPECIAL CLASSES OF PERSONS WHO MAY BE NATURALIZED: WOMEN WHO HAVE LOST UNITED STATES CITIZENSHIP BY MARRIAGE

Sec.
324.11 Former citizen at birth or by naturalization; procedural requirements.
324.12 A woman, citizen of the United States at birth, who lost or is believed to have lost citizenship by marriage and whose marriage has terminated; procedural requirements.
324.13 Women restored to United States citizenship by the act of June 25, 1936, as amended by the act of July 2, 1940.

AUTHORITY: §§ 324.11 to 324.13 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 324, 332, 337, 405, 66 Stat. 246, 252, 258, 280.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 324.11 Former citizen at birth or by naturalization; procedural requirements. A former citizen of the United States of the class described in section 324 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall submit to the Service an application to file a petition for naturalization, on Form N–400 and Supplemental Form N–400A, in accordance with instructions contained therein. The petition for naturalization of such person shall be filed on Form N–405, in duplicate, in any naturalization court, regardless of the petitioner's residence, and need not aver that it is the intention of the petitioner to reside permanently in the United States. The petition shall be verified by at least two United States citizen witnesses as provided in § 334.21 of this chapter. At the hearing on the petition the qualifications described in sections 324 (a) and (b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be proven in the manner provided in Part 335b of this chapter. The petition may be heard immediately, provided a certificate of examination on Form N–440, in duplicate, is attached thereto, as provided in § 332.12 of this chapter. If the final hearing on the petition is held within sixty days preceding the holding of a general election within the territorial jurisdiction of the naturalization court, the petitioner shall not be permitted to take the oath prescribed in Part 337 of this chapter prior to the tenth day next following such general election. There shall be inserted after averment 10 of Form N–405 at the time of the filing thereof an averment of the petitioner's loss of citizenship, as follows:

I was formerly a citizen of the United States by ---------- (Indicate whether by birth or naturalization) on ---------- and lost my citizen-(Month day year)

ship by marriage on ---------- to _____ a citizen of (Name of husband) subject of _____. I have (Name of foreign country) not acquired any other nationality by an affirmative act other than by marriage.
(Month day year)

§ 324.12 A woman, citizen of the United States at birth, who lost or is believed to have lost citizenship by marriage and whose marriage has terminated; procedural requirements. A woman, formerly a citizen of the United States at birth, who applies in the United States to regain her citizenship under section 324 (c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, shall submit to the Service a preliminary application to take the oath of allegiance, on Form N-401, in accordance with the instructions contained therein. The oath may be taken before the judge or clerk of any naturalization court, regardless of the applicant's place of residence. The applicant shall establish that it is her intention, in good faith, to assume and discharge the obligations of the oath of allegiance and that her attitude toward the Constitution and laws of the United States renders her capable of fulfilling the obligations of such oath. The applicant shall not be naturalized if, within the period of ten years immediately preceding the filing of the application to take the oath of allegiance or after such filing and before taking such oath she is, or has been found to be within any of the classes of persons described in section 313 of the Immigration and Nationality Act. The eligibility of the applicant to take the oath shall be investigated by a member of the Service who shall make an appropriate recommendation to the naturalization court. The application to the court shall be made on Form N-408, in triplicate. The original shall be retained as a part of the court record and numbered consecutively in a separate series, and the duplicate forwarded to the appropriate district director with duplicates of other naturalization papers. After the applicant has taken the oath of allegiance, the clerk of court shall furnish the applicant, upon demand, the triplicate copy of Form N-408, properly certified, for which a fee not exceeding $5.00 may be charged. No charge shall be made by the clerk of court for the filing of Form N-408. In case the applicant does not demand the triplicate Form N-408, it shall be transmitted to the appropriate district director with the duplicate of said form. The oath of allegiance may be taken before any diplomatic or consular officer of the United States abroad, in accordance with such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of State.

§ 324.13 Women restored to United States citizenship by the act of June 25, 1936, as amended by the act of July 2, 1940. A woman who was restored to citizenship by the act of June 25, 1936, as amended by the act of July 2, 1940, but who failed to take the oath of allegiance prescribed by the naturalization laws prior to December 24, 1952, may take the oath of allegiance prescribed by Part 337 before any naturalization court on or after December 24, 1952. Such woman shall comply with the procedural requirements of § 324.12 except that a fee not exceeding $1.00 may be charged if the woman demands the triplicate copy of Form N-408, properly certified.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
325.1 Residence and physical presence in the United States.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 325.1 Residence and physical presence in the United States. A national of the United States who is not a citizen thereof and who is otherwise qualified for naturalization may, if he becomes a resident of any State, be naturalized upon compliance with the applicable provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act. In the case of such a person, residence and physical presence within the United States or residence and physical presence within any of the outlying possessions of the United States for the period during which continuous residence and physical presence are required to be established under Chapter 2 of Title III of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be regarded as residence and physical presence within the United States pursuant to lawful admission for permanent residence, within the meaning of section 316 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act. Such person shall, unless otherwise exempted therefrom, established six months' residence within the State in which the petition for naturalization is filed, as required by section 316 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

(Sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interprets or applies secs. 316, 325, 332, 66 Stat. 242, 248, 252)

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

PART 327—SPECIAL CLASSES OF PERSONS WHO MAY BE NATURALIZED: PERSONS WHO LOST UNITED STATES CITIZENSHIP THROUGH SERVICE IN ARMED FORCES OF FOREIGN COUNTRY DURING WORLD WAR II

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
327.1 Period of service in armed forces.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

327.11 Procedural requirements.

AUTHORITY: §§ 327.1 and 327.11 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 327, 332, 338, 344 (h), 66 Stat. 248, 252, 259, 265.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 327.1 Period of service in armed forces. A former citizen of the United States of the class described in section 327 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, who during World War II served in the armed forces of any country at war with a country with which the United States was at war after December 7, 1941, and before September 2, 1945, may be naturalized under this part if such service was on or after September 1, 1939, and before September 2, 1945, even though the United States was not at war during the period of his service, provided that such country was not at war with the United States during any period of his service. Such person is not subject to the provisions of section 318 of the Immigration and Nationality Act barring from naturalization a person against whom there is outstanding a final finding of deportability pursuant to a warrant of arrest.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 327.11 Procedural requirements. A former citizen of the United States of the class described in section 327 of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall submit to the Service an application to file a petition for naturalization on Form N-400 and Supplemental Form N-400A, in accordance with the instructions contained therein. The petition for naturalization of such person shall be filed on Form N-405, in duplicate, with supplemental Form N-405A in triplicate, in any naturalization court. The original of Form N-405A shall be retained as part of the court record. After the oath of allegiance has been taken by the petitioner, the duplicate and triplicate copies of Form N-405A, bearing a copy of the oath duly attested and certified by the clerk, shall be forwarded by the clerk of court to the appropriate district director. The district director shall file the duplicate copy with the Service record and transmit the triplicate copy to the Department of State. The petitioner shall pay to the clerk of the court of the naturalization court at the time of filing the petition a fee of $10, unless exempted therefrom under section 344 (h) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

PART 328—SPECIAL CLASSES OF PERSONS WHO MAY BE NATURALIZED: PERSONS WITH THREE YEARS SERVICE IN ARMED FORCES OF THE UNITED STATES

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
328.1 Where service is continuous.
328.2 Whenever service is not continuous: petition filed while still in service or within six months after termination of service.
328.3 Whenever service terminates more than six months before petition is filed.
328.4 Proof of qualifications.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

328.11 Procedural requirements.

AUTHORITY: §§ 328.1 to 328.11 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 318, 328, 332, 334 and 335, 66 Stat. 244, 249, 252, 254, 255.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 328.1 Whenever service is continuous—(a) Petition filed while still in service. A person of the class described in section 328 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, whose service in the armed forces of the United States aggregating three years has been continuous may, if his petition for naturalization is filed while still in the service, be naturalized, subject to the provisions of this part, upon compliance with the provisions of Chapter 2 of Title III of the Immigration and Nationality Act, except that no particular period of residence or physical presence in the United States or any State or within the jurisdiction of the naturalization court shall be required, and except that such person shall not be subject to the provisions of section 318 of the Immigration and Nationality Act barring from naturalization a person against whom there is outstanding a final finding of deportability pursuant to a warrant of arrest. Such person shall establish that he is in the United States pursuant to a lawful admission for permanent residence occurring prior to the filing of the petition for naturalization, whether or not it occurred before or after the service in the armed forces.

(b) Petition filed within six months after termination of service. A person of the class described in paragraph (a) of this section, who has been separated from the service described therein prior to filing his petition for naturalization but who files his petition within six months after the termination of such service may be naturalized under the conditions and with the exemptions set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, except that he shall establish his residence in the United States, good moral character, attachment to the principles of the Constitution, and favorable disposition to the good order and happiness of the United States, for the period from the date of his separation from such service to the date of the filing of his petition for naturalization and from the latter date to the date of his admission to citizenship, by affidavits and testimony of at least two United States citizen witnesses, in the manner provided in § 334.21 and Part 335b of this chapter.

§ 328.2 Whenever service is not continuous: petition filed while still in service or within six months after termination of service. A person of the class described in § 328.1 whose service aggregating three years was not continuous and who files a petition for naturalization while still in such service or within six months after the termination of such service may be naturalized under the conditions and with the exemptions set forth in paragraph (a) of § 328.1, except that he shall establish his residence in the United States and State, good moral character, attachment to the principles of the Constitution of the United States, and favorable disposition to the good order and happiness of the United States, during the period or periods within five years immediately preceding the date of filing the petition and to the date of admission to citizenship, when not serving in the armed forces, by the affidavits and testimony of at least two United States citizen witnesses, for each such period, in the manner provided in § 334.21 and Part 335b of this chapter.

§ 328.3 Whenever service terminates more than six months before petition is filed. A person of the class described in §§ 328.1 or 328.2, whose service aggregating three years terminated more than six months preceding the date of filing his petition for naturalization shall comply with the applicable provisions of Chapter 2 of Title III of the Immigration and Nationality Act except that service during the five years immediately preceding the date of filing the petition shall be considered as residence and physical presence within the United States.

§ 328.4 Proof of qualifications. A petitioner under this part shall establish his residence and physical presence in the United States and in the State in which his petition is filed, his good moral character, attachment to the principles of the Constitution, and favorable disposition to the good order and happiness of the United States during the periods of service referred to in §§ 328.1, 328.2, and 328.3 by the production of duly authenticated copies of the records of the executive departments having custody of the records of such service, which copies shall show the period or periods of such service, and that it was performed honorably or under honorable conditions. The petitioner shall also produce a certified statement from the appropriate executive department showing that he has never been discharged from the armed forces of the United States under other than honorable conditions. Such copies shall be accepted in lieu of the affidavits and testimony or depositions of witnesses for the period or periods of such service.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 328.11 Procedural requirements. A person of the class described in §§ 328.1, 328.2, or 328.3 shall submit to the Service an application to file a petition for naturalization on Form N-400, in accordance with the instructions contained therein. The duly authenticated copies of the records and the certified statements of the executive departments described in § 328.4 shall be requested by the applicant on Form N-426, in triplicate, and submitted to the Service with Form N-400. A person of the class described in §§ 328.1 or 328.2 may file his petition for naturalization in any naturalization court, regardless of his place of residence; a person described in § 328.3 shall file his petition in a court having jurisdiction over his place of residence. The petition for naturalization shall be filed on Form N-405 in duplicate. There shall be inserted after averment 10 of Form N-405, at the time of the filing thereof, a description of the petitioner's service, as follows:

I entered the _____ (Branch of service)
on _____ under Serial No. _____
(Month, day, year)
and am now serving honorably (was honorably discharged on _____).
(Month, day, year)

The petitioner may be naturalized immediately, if he is still in the armed services, and a certificate of such examination on Form N-440, in duplicate, is attached to his petition, in accordance with § 332.12 of this chapter. The petition shall be verified by at least two United States citizen witnesses, as provided in § 334.21 of this chapter.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 330.1 Service on vessels after lawful admission for permanent residence; when deemed residence and physical presence in the United States. Service at any time after lawful admission for permanent residence, whether before or after the effective date of the Immigration and Nationality Act, on board vessels of the classes described in section 330 (a) (1) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, shall under the conditions specified in that section be deemed residence and physical presence within the United States within the meaning of section 316 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

§ 330.2 Service on vessels prior to September 23, 1950; when deemed residence and physical presence in the United States and State—(a) Service aggregating five years. Service at any time prior to September 23, 1950, for periods aggregating five years, whether or not there has been a lawful admission for permanent residence, shall be deemed residence and physical presence within the United States and residence within the State during the five-year period next preceding the filing of the petition for naturalization, within the meaning of section 316 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, if (1) such service was performed honorably or with good conduct, on board any vessel of the United States Government, other than in the United States Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard, or on board vessels of more than twenty-tons' burden, whether or not documented under the laws of the United States, and whether public or private, which are not foreign vessels and the home port of which is in the United States, and (2) a petition for naturalization is filed on or before December 24, 1953.

(b) Service aggregating less than five years. Service at any time prior to September 23, 1950, aggregating less than five years, shall be deemed residence and physical presence within the United States, equivalent to that of the period of service, during the earliest portion of the five-year period next preceding the filing of the petition for naturalization within the meaning of section 316 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, if (1) such service was performed honorably or with good conduct, on board vessels of the classes described in paragraph (a) of this section, (2) the person was so serving on September 23, 1950, and is residing in the United States pursuant to a lawful admission for permanent residence occurring at any time prior to filing the petition for naturalization, and (3) the petition for naturalization is filed on or before September 23, 1955.

§ 330.3 Proof of qualifications—(a) Residence and physical presence in the United States. Except as otherwise provided in this part, a person having the service described in this part shall prove that he has complied with all the applicable provisions of Chapter 2, Title III of the Immigration and Nationality Act, except that proof of residence and physical presence within the United States for the periods of such service shall be made by duly authenticated copies of the records of the executive departments or agencies having custody of the records covering the person's service on vessels of the United States Government, or by certificates from the masters of the vessels if service was on other than vessels of the United States Government, which records or certificates shall describe the vessels and the periods of service, and shall attest that during those periods the person served honorably or with good conduct.

(b) Character, attachment, and disposition; State residence. (1) The records or certificates described in paragraph (a) of this section shall be accepted also as proof of good moral character, attachment to the principles of the Constitution, and favorable disposition to the good order and happiness of the United States for that portion of the service performed within the period of five years immediately preceding the date of the petition, and, in the cases of persons of the classes described in § 330.2 (a), as proof of residence within the State in which the petition is filed.

(2) A person claiming the benefits of § 330.2 (b) shall establish his good moral character, attachment to the principles of the Constitution and favorable disposition toward the good order and happiness of the United States during the five-year period next preceding the date of filing the petition, and from that date to the date of admission to citizenship, when not serving on such vessels, by the testimony or depositions of witnesses, in the manner described in Part 335b of this chapter. Such person shall establish also six months' State residence, as required by section 316 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 330.11 Procedural requirements. A person claiming the benefits of § 330.1 or § 330.2 shall submit to the Service an application to file a petition for naturalization, together with Supplemental Form N–400–B, in accordance with the instructions contained therein. The petition for naturalization shall be filed on Form N–405 in duplicate in a naturalization court having jurisdiction over the petitioner's place of residence. There shall be attached to, and made a part of the original and duplicate of, the petition for naturalization at the time of filing an affidavit of the petitioner sworn to before the clerk of court or an officer of the Service, on Form N–421, in duplicate, fully describing the vessel or vessels on which the petitioner has served and the periods of service. The petition shall be verified by at least two United States citizen witnesses, as provided in § 334.21 of this chapter.

PART 331—SPECIAL CLASSES OF PERSONS WHO MAY BE NATURALIZED: ALIEN ENEMIES

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
331.1 Alien enemy defined.
331.2 Termination of status of alien enemy.
331.3 Revocation of exception from classification of alien enemy.
331.4 Naturalization under special provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

331.11 Petition for naturalization pending; notice of and objection to final hearing on petition.
331.12 Waiver of 90-day notice.
331.13 Exception from classification of alien enemy.

AUTHORITY: §§ 331.1 to 331.13 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 306, 324, 329, 331, 332, 342, 402, 66 Stat. 237, 247, 250, 252, 263, 278.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 331.1 Alien enemy defined. An alien who is a native, citizen, subject, or denizen of any country, state, or sovereignty with which the United States is at war shall be considered an alien enemy for the purposes of the naturalization laws. A native of such an enemy country, state, or sovereignty, who subsequent to birth has become stateless or who has become a citizen, subject or denizen of a nation with which the United States is not at war shall nevertheless be considered an alien enemy.

§ 331.2 Termination of status of alien enemy. An alien enemy as defined in § 331.1 shall cease to be an alien enemy within the meaning of this part upon the official determination in the manner prescribed by section 331 (d) of the Immigration and Nationality Act that hostilities between the United States and the enemy country, state, or sovereignty have ended.

§ 331.3 Revocation of exception from classification of alien enemy. If subsequent to the filing of a petition for naturalization, and prior to admission to citizenship, evidence becomes available to the Service that exception from the classification of alien enemy was illegally or fraudulently obtained from or was granted through illegality or by fraud practiced upon the district director or the Commissioner, or a Deputy Commissioner, or Assistant Commissioner, action to cancel the exception granted may be taken in accordance with the provisions of Part 5 of this chapter, in which case a motion shall be made to the court to defer final hearing until such proceedings have been concluded. If the exception is cancelled by the district director or the Commissioner, or a Deputy Commissioner, it shall be considered a nullity from the date of the granting thereof, and the petitioner shall be subject to all the provisions of this part to the same extent as though the exception had never been granted. Written notice of the cancellation shall be furnished by the district director to the clerk of the naturalization court for inclusion in the naturalization record.

§ 331.4 Naturalization under special provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act. An alien enemy, as defined in § 331.1, who is applying for naturalization under the provisions of section 306 (a) (1), 324 (c), 329, or 402 (j) of the Immigration and Nationality Act may be naturalized, if otherwise qualified, notwithstanding the provisions of this part.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 331.11 Petition for naturalization pending; notice of and objection to final hearing on petition. Subject to the conditions stated in this section, an alien enemy, as defined in § 331.1, whose petition for naturalization was pending at the beginning of the state of war, may, if otherwise eligible, be naturalized after his loyalty has been fully established upon investigation by the appropriate district director. The petition for naturalization shall not be called for a hearing or heard, except after ninety-days' notice by the clerk of court to the appropriate district director or officer in charge. Such notice shall be given on Form N–435, in duplicate, and the ninety-day period shall commence on the date of its receipt. The district director or officer in charge shall mail a receipted copy of Form N–435 to the clerk of court within two business days after receipt. The district director or officer in charge may, at any time prior to final hearing, object to such hearing. Such objection shall be made on Form N–434, in duplicate, and filed with the clerk of court. The filing of such objection shall cause the petition to be continued until such time as the objection is withdrawn. The clerk of court shall mail a receipted copy of Form N–434 to the district director or officer in charge within two business days after receipt.

§ 331.12 Waiver of 90-day notice. A petitioner for naturalization embraced within this part may request the district director or officer in charge, in writing, to waive the ninety-day notice referred to in § 331.11. Such waiver may be granted at any time after the petition has been filed and either before or after the clerk's notice has been given and the ninety-day period has commenced. The district director or officer in charge shall cause a full and complete investigation to be conducted and if such investigation satisfactorily establishes the petitioner's loyalty to the United States the district director or officer in charge may, in his discretion, grant the waiver. If the waiver is granted, notice thereof shall be given to the clerk of court by the district director or officer in charge on Form N–424, in duplicate, a copy of which shall be retained in the Service file.

§ 331.13 Exception from classification of alien enemy. An alien enemy, as defined in § 331.1, who did not have a petition for naturalization pending at the beginning of the state of war, shall not be eligible to file a petition for naturalization, unless and until the district director has excepted such alien from the classification of alien enemy. Application for such exception shall be made on Form N–436 and submitted to the Service with the application to file a petition for naturalization. The district director shall thereupon cause a full and complete investigation to be made of the loyalty of such applicant. If, after such investigation, the district director is satisfied as to the applicant's loyalty to the United States, he may, in his discretion, except the applicant from the classification of alien enemy by the execution of Form N–438, in duplicate, the original of which shall be filed with the clerk of the naturalization court at the time of or prior to the filing of the petition for naturalization, and the copy retained in the Service file. The exception so granted on Form N–438 shall not be effective for the purpose of filing a petition for naturalization unless and until such form is filed with the clerk of court. Form N–438 need not be filed with and made a part of the petition but shall be filed with the naturalization record by the clerk of court. If the district director is not satisfied as to the applicant's loyalty, he shall deny the application. The applicant shall be notified in writing of the denial of his application with the reasons therefor and, at the same time, shall be advised that he has ten days from the date of the notification in which he may appeal to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, in accordance with the provisions of Part 7. If the Assistant Commissioner approves the application, the district director shall except the applicant from the classification of alien enemy, in the manner provided in this section. An applicant who has been excepted from the classification of alien enemy under this section shall be entitled to a hearing upon his petition for naturalization without regard to the provisions of § 331.11.

PART 332—PRELIMINARY INTERROGATION OF APPLICANTS FOR NATURALIZATION AND WITNESSES

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
332.11 Interrogation preliminary to filing petition for naturalization.
332.12 Certificate by examiner whenever petitioner is entitled to immediate hearing.
332.13 Use of record of preliminary interrogation.
332.14 Notice of proposed recommendation of denial; findings, conclusion, and recommendation.

AUTHORITY: §§ 332.11 to 332.14 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 332, 335, 66 Stat. 252, 255.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 332.11 Interrogation preliminary to filing petition for naturalization—(a) Scope of interrogation. Whenever practicable, each applicant for naturalization and his witnesses shall appear in person before an officer of the Service authorized to administer oaths, prior to the filing of a petition for naturalization, and give testimony under oath concerning the applicant's mental and moral qualifications for citizenship, attachment to the principles of the Constitution, and disposition to the good order and happiness of the United States, the qualifications of the witnesses, and the other qualifications to become a naturalized citizen as required by law. The interrogation shall be uniform throughout the United States.

(b) Conduct of interrogation. The Service officer, prior to the beginning of the interrogation, shall make known to the applicant and the witnesses the official capacity in which he is conducting the interrogation. The applicant and each witness shall be questioned under oath separately and apart from one another and apart from the public. The applicant shall be interrogated as to each assertion made by him in his application to file a petition and in any supplemental form. Whenever necessary, the written answers in the forms shall be corrected by the officer to conform to the oral statements made under oath. The examining officer, in his discretion, may have a stenographic transcript made, or prepare affidavits covering testimony of the applicant or witnesses. The questions to the applicant and the witnesses shall be repeated in different form and elaborated if necessary, until the officer conducting the interrogation is satisfied that the person being interrogated fully understands them. At the conclusion of the interrogation all corrections made on the application form and supplements thereto shall be consecutively numbered and recorded in the space provided therefor in the applicant's affidavit contained in the form. The affidavit shall then be subscribed and sworn to by the applicant and signed by the examining officer. The witnesses shall be questioned to develop their own credibility and competency as well as the extent of their personal knowledge of the applicant's qualifications to become a naturalized citizen. If the applicant is exempted from the requirement of reading and writing, and speaking English, the interrogation, including the examination of the applicant's knowledge and understanding of the Constitution, history, and form of Government of the United States, may be conducted through an interpreter.

§ 332.12 Certificate by examiner whenever petitioner is entitled to immediate hearing. The officer or employee conducting the preliminary interrogation shall execute a certificate of examination on Form N–440 in duplicate, for attachment to the original and duplicate petitions for naturalization, in any case in which the petitioner, under the provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act applicable to his case, is entitled to an immediate hearing following examination by a representative of the Service.

§ 332.13 Use of record of preliminary interrogation. The record of the preliminary interrogation, including the executed and corrected application form and supplements thereto, affidavits, transcripts of testimony, documents and other evidence, and the reports of any investigations conducted, shall, in those cases in which a preliminary examination is to be held under Part 335 of this chapter, be submitted to the examiner designated to conduct such examination, for his use in examining the petitioner and witnesses. In those cases in which no preliminary examination is held the recommendation to the naturalization court shall be based upon the record of the preliminary interrogation and such other evidence as may be available.

§ 332.14 Notice of proposed recommendation of denial; findings, conclusion, and recommendation. In those cases in which the recommendation to the court is for denial of the petition, and no preliminary examination under Part 335 of this chapter is held, an officer of the Service shall, as soon as practicable after the preliminary interrogation and investigations have been concluded, prepare a memorandum in behalf of the Service in the manner described in § 335.12, and subject to review by the Commissioner, for presentation to the court at the final hearing. The petitioner shall be given written notice on Form N-429 advising him of the recommendation which will be made to the court and the specific reasons therefor. The notice and a copy of the memorandum shall be sent the petitioner by registered mail, return receipt requested, after review of the recommendation by the Commissioner, if made, and at least thirty days prior to final hearing. The hearing before the court may be held less than thirty days after such notification, if the petitioner agrees thereto.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 332a.11 Initial application for official forms. Whenever the initial application for forms, records, books, and supplies is made by a State court of record, it shall be accompanied by a certificate of the Attorney General of the State, certifying that the said court is a court of record, having a seal, a clerk, and jurisdiction in actions at law or in equity, or at law and in equity, in which the amount in controversy is unlimited.

§ 332a.12 Subsequent application for official forms. Included with the initial supply of official forms, records, and books furnished to the various courts by the Service shall be Form N-3 entitled "Requisition for Forms and Binders," and thereafter such forms shall be used by clerks of courts in making requisition for forms, records, books, and supplies for use in naturalization proceedings in their respective courts.

§ 332a.13 Alteration of forms of petitions or applications for naturalization. The official forms for petitions or applications for naturalization to the court shall be altered by the clerk of court as follows:

(a) Deletion of inapplicable acts or sections of acts. Whenever the petition form is designed for use under more than one act or more than one section of an act, by striking from the title of the form the reference to the inapplicable act or section.

(b) Exemption from residence in United States and State. Whenever residence in the United States and State residence for any specified period is not required, by striking out allegations 10 and 16 on Form N-406, allegations 12 and 13 on Form N-407, allegation 16 on Form N-405, and the statements in the affidavits of witnesses as to the period of United States and State residence on Forms N-405 and N-406.

(c) Exemption from physical presence in the United States. Whenever physical presence in the United States for any specified period is not required, by striking out allegation 14 on Form N-407, and allegation 16 on Form N-405.

(d) Exemption from lawful admission for permanent residence. Whenever lawful admission for permanent residence is not required, by striking out allegation 9 on Forms N-405 and N-418.

(e) Exemption from intention to reside permanently in the United States. Whenever intention to reside permanently in the United States is not required by striking out allegation 12 on Form N-405.

(f) Supplemental affidavits filed with petition for naturalization. Whenever a supplemental affidavit is filed with the petition by adding to allegation 18, on Form N-405 "and supplemental affidavit on Form No. _____."

(g) Oath of allegiance. Whenever a petitioner or applicant for naturalization is exempt from taking the oath of allegiance prescribed in Part 337 in its entirety, by striking from the oath of allegiance the inapplicable clauses.

PART 332b—INSTRUCTION AND TRAINING IN CITIZENSHIP RESPONSIBILITIES: TEXTBOOKS, SCHOOLS, ORGANIZATIONS

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.

332b.1 Public school instruction and training in citizenship responsibilities of applicants for naturalization.
332b.2 Sending names of candidates for naturalization to the public schools.
332b.3 Federal citizenship textbooks.
332b.4 Public school certificates as evidence of petitioner's educational progress.
332b.5 Cooperation with official National and State organizations.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

AUTHORITY: §§ 332b.1 to 332b.5 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 332, 346, 66 Stat. 253, 266.

SUBPART A—SUESTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 332b.1 Public school instruction and training in citizenship responsibilities of applicants for naturalization. The Central Office and the field offices of the Service shall cooperate with appropriate authorities or organizations in the establishment and maintenance of classes within or under the supervision of the public schools for the preparation of naturalization applicants for their citizenship duties and responsibilities. Field officers shall visit such classes when practicable. Should applicants for naturalization who desire such preparation live in remote localities where the establishment of a class is impracticable, field officers shall communicate with the appropriate representative of the public schools for the purpose of making other suitable arrangements, if possible, for their instruction.

§ 332b.2 Sending names of candidates for naturalization to the public schools. Arrangements shall be made with the public schools by which the names and addresses of applicants for naturalization will be made available to such schools for the purpose of interesting applicants in attending public school classes in preparation for citizenship duties and responsibilities.

§ 332b.3 Federal citizenship textbooks. Citizenship textbooks, for the free use of applicants for naturalization receiving instruction in or under the supervision of the public schools in preparation for citizenship, shall be prepared and distributed by the Service to the appropriate representatives of the public schools upon their signed requisitions therefor.

§ 332b.4 Public school certificates as evidence of petitioner's educational progress. Public school certificates attesting the attendance and progress records of petitioners for naturalization in citizenship classes shall be given weight by naturalization officers in determining the petitioner's knowledge and understanding of the fundamentals of the history, and of the principles and form of government of the United States, and his ability to read, write, and speak English, provided that approval of the courses of instruction, teaching, and examinations of the public schools issuing such certificates is given by the district director and the naturalization courts.

§ 332b.5 Cooperation with official National and State organizations. The Central Office and the field offices shall take steps to obtain the aid of and to cooperate with official National and State organizations in the Service's program of promoting instruction and training of applicants for naturalization for their citizenship duties and responsibilities. Similar action shall be taken in relation to duly accredited unofficial educational, social service, welfare, and other organizations having as one of their objects the preparation of applicants for naturalization for their citizenship duties and responsibilities.

PART 333—PHOTOGRAPHS

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.

333.1 Description of required photographs.
333.2 Attachment of photographs to documents.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

AUTHORITY: §§ 333.1 and 333.2 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 332, 333, 334, 66 Stat. 252, 253, 254.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 333.1 Description of required photographs. Every applicant required to furnish photographs of himself under this subchapter shall submit three identical photographs which shall be 2 by 2 inches in size, unmounted, printed on a thin paper, have a light background, clearly show a full front view of the features of the applicant with head bare (unless the applicant is wearing a headdress as required by a religious order of which he is a member), with the distance from the top of the head to point of chin approximately 1¼ inches, and which shall have been taken within 30 days of the date they are furnished. The applicant, except in the case of a child or other person physically incapable of signing his name, shall sign each copy of the photograph with his full true name, in such manner as not to obscure the features. The signature shall be by mark if the applicant is unable to sign his name. If the applicant is a prospective petitioner for naturalization, the photographs shall be signed by him in the English language, unless the applicant is of the class exempted from signing a petition for naturalization in the English language, as provided by § 334.13 of this chapter, in which case the photographs may be signed in any language. In the case of a child unable to sign its name, the photographs shall be signed by the parent, parents, or guardian as may be appropriate, and the signature shall read "(insert name of parent, parents, or guardian) in behalf of (insert name of child)." The photographs shall be signed when submitted with an application if the instructions accompanying the application so require. If the instructions do not so require the photographs shall be submitted without being signed and shall be signed at such later time during the processing of the application as may be appropriate.

§ 333.2 Attachment of photographs to documents. There shall be securely and permanently attached to each original and duplicate certificate of naturalization and to each duplicate and triplicate declaration of intention issued by any clerk of court, and to each copy of a declaration of intention, certificate of naturalization or certificate of citizenship issued by the Service, a signed photograph of the applicant. In each case in which a seal is affixed, the imprint of a part of the seal shall be affixed so as to extend over the lower portion of the photograph in such manner as not to obscure the features of the applicant.

PART 334—PETITION FOR NATURALIZATION

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
334.1 Right to file petition or application for naturalization.
334.2 Oath or affirmation of petitioner and witnesses.
334.3 Petitions for naturalization; numbering, indexing, binding.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

334.11 Petition for naturalization and preliminary application.
334.12 Notification to appear for preliminary interrogation and to file petition for naturalization.
334.13 Filing of petition for naturalization.
334.14 Investigation and report if applicant is sick or disabled.
334.15 Void petitions for naturalization.
334.16 Amendment of petition or application for naturalization.
334.17 Transfer of petition for naturalization.
334.18 Withdrawal of petition and failure to prosecute.
334.21 Verification of petition for naturalization: administration of oath.

AUTHORITY: §§ 334.1 to 334.21 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 332, 334, 335, 66 Stat. 252, 254, 256, 257, 259, 265.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 334.1 Right to file petition or application for naturalization. No person shall be denied the right to apply for naturalization in accordance with the procedure prescribed in this subchapter to any court authorized to exercise naturalization jurisdiction.

§ 334.2 Oath or affirmation of petitioner and witnesses. The petition for naturalization shall be executed under the following oath (or affirmation): "You do swear (affirm) that you know the contents of this petition for naturalization subscribed by you, and that the same are true to the best of your knowledge and belief."

The following oath (or affirmation) shall be administered to each of the witnesses who verify the petition: "You do swear (affirm) that the statements of fact you have made in the affidavits to this petition for naturalization subscribed by you are true to the best of your knowledge and belief."

§ 334.3 Petitions for naturalization; numbering, indexing, binding. Petitions for naturalization shall be numbered consecutively in the order in which they are filed, shall be filed chronologically in separate volumes, indexed, and made a part of the records of the naturalization court. Each such volume shall, upon completion, be permanently bound by an employee of the Service. Whenever a petitioner's name has been changed by order of court the original and the changed name shall be entered by the clerk of court in the index of petitions for naturalization.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 334.11 Petition for naturalization and preliminary application. Except as otherwise provided in this subchapter, a person who has attained the age of eighteen years and who desires to apply for naturalization, shall make and file, in accordance with the provisions of this part, a sworn petition for naturalization, in duplicate. Such person shall, before filing the petition for naturalization, execute and submit to the Service preliminary application to file a petition for naturalization, Form N–400, in accordance with the instructions contained therein.

§ 334.12 Notification to appear for preliminary interrogation and to file petition for naturalization. Following the submission of the preliminary application, the applicant shall be notified when and where to appear with his witnesses for preliminary interrogation, as described in Part 332 of this chapter, and to file the petition for naturalization.

§ 334.13 Filing of petition for naturalization. The petition for naturalization and the duplicate copy thereof shall be filed by the petitioner, in person, with the clerk of the court or his authorized deputy and only in the office of the clerk, except that an applicant for naturalization who satisfactorily establishes that he is prevented by sickness or other disability from appearing in the office of the clerk, may file the petition for naturalization at such other place as may be designated by the clerk of court or his authorized deputy. Except as otherwise provided in this subchapter, the petition shall be on Form N–405 and shall contain an averment that it is the intention of the petitioner to reside permanently in the United States. The petition shall be signed by the petitioner in the English language, if physically able to write, unless the petitioner on December 24, 1952 was over fifty years of age and had been living in the United States for at least twenty years, in which case the petitioner may sign his name in any language. When the petition has been so filed, the clerk shall furnish to the petitioner an acknowledgment of the filing of the petition on Form N–414. The petitioner shall pay the clerk of the naturalization court, at the time the petition is filed, a fee of $10, unless the petitioner is exempt therefrom by section 344 (h) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

§ 334.14 Investigation and report if applicant is sick or disabled. Whenever it appears that an applicant for naturalization may be unable, because of sickness or other disability, to present himself in the office of the clerk of a naturalization court to file a petition for naturalization, the district director or officer in charge shall cause an investigation to be conducted to determine the circumstances, and shall report the condition of the applicant to the clerk of court for the purpose of aiding the court to determine whether the clerk of court shall designate another place to file a petition for naturalization. The report shall show whether the sickness or disability is of a nature which so incapacitates the applicant as to prevent him from appearing personally in the office of the clerk of court.

§ 334.15 Void petitions for naturalization. If a petition for naturalization filed with the clerk of court is materially defective on its face, it shall nevertheless remain a part of the records of the court and the duplicate thereof disposed of, and the fee accounted for, in accordance with the provisions of Part 340 of this chapter. The Service shall inform the petitioner of the defect and the desirability of having the petition marked "Void" in order that the fee may be refunded or credited to the filing of another petition. If the petitioner desires to have the defective petition submitted to the court for a judicial ruling in lieu of having it marked "Void", no refund of the fee shall be made. A request by the petitioner that his petition be marked "Void" shall be made on Form N–403, in duplicate, and submitted to the district director. If the request is approved by the district director the original shall be furnished the clerk of court for attachment to the petition and the clerk of court shall mark the petition "Void". The duplicate shall be retained in the field office file.

§ 334.16 Amendment of petition or application for naturalization—(a) During pendency of petition or application. An application to amend a petition or application for naturalization, while such application or petition is pending, shall be made by the petitioner or applicant on Form N–410, with copies thereof equal to the number of copies of the petition or application for naturalization, and presented to the court at the hearing on the petition or application for naturalization. When the court orders the petition or application amended, the original order shall be filed with the original petition or application and the copies attached to the respective copies of the petition or application.

(b) After final action on petition or application. Whenever an application is made to the court to amend a petition or application for naturalization after final action thereon has been taken by the court, a copy of the application shall be served upon the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the territory in which the court is located, in the manner and within the time provided by the rules of court in which application is made. A representative of the Service may appear at the hearing upon such application and be heard in favor of or in opposition thereto. When the court orders the petition amended, the clerk of court shall transmit a copy of the order to the district director or officer in charge for inclusion in the Service file.

§ 334.17 Transfer of petition for naturalization—(a) Application for transfer. A petitioner for naturalization who removes from the jurisdiction of the court in which his petition for naturalization is pending, may make application to the court on Form N–455, in quadruplicate, for transfer of the petition to a naturalization court having jurisdiction over his place of residence, or, if the petition was not required to be filed in a naturalization court having jurisdiction over his place of residence, to any other naturalization court exercising naturalization jurisdiction. The application shall be submitted, in accordance with the instructions contained therein, to the district director or officer in charge exercising administrative jurisdiction over the place where the court in which the petition is filed is located.

(b) Action by district director or officer in charge. If the district director or officer in charge consents to the transfer, he shall so indicate on each copy of Form N–455, which shall be filed with the clerk of court in which the petition is pending. If the district director or officer in charge does not consent to the transfer he shall so indicate on each copy of Form N–455 which shall be filed with the clerk of court, with a memorandum of the district director or officer in charge setting forth the reasons for the denial. The applicant shall be notified by the district director or officer in charge of the filing of Form N–455 with the clerk of court, and whether consent has been given by the district director or officer in charge.

(c) Action by court in which petition is filed. The court in which the petition is filed shall enter an order on Form N–455, in quadruplicate, approving or disapproving the application. If the application is approved, the original Form N–455 shall be filed with the naturalization record in the office of the clerk of court, the duplicate and triplicate copies, duly attested and certified, transmitted to the court to which the petition is to be transferred, and the quadruplicate copy transmitted to the district director or officer in charge. If the application is disapproved, the original Form N–455 shall be filed with the naturalization record in the office of the clerk of court and the remaining copies transmitted to the district director or officer in charge, who shall notify the applicant of the disapproval.

(d) Action by court to which petition is transferred. The court to which the petition is to be transferred shall enter an order on the duplicate and triplicate copies of Form N–455, approving or disapproving the transfer. The duplicate copy shall be filed with the clerk of the court to which the petition is to be transferred, and the triplicate copy, duly attested and certified, transmitted to the clerk of the court in which the petition is filed. If the application is disapproved, the clerk of court receiving the triplicate copy shall notify the district director or officer in charge, who shall notify the applicant of the disapproval.

(e) Transfer of petition and record. If the court to which the petition is to be transferred approves the transfer, the clerk of court in which the petition is filed shall file the triplicate copy of Form N–455 with the naturalization record and forward a certified copy of the petition, and the originals of all documents filed relating thereto, to the court to which the petition is being transferred, and notify the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the place in which the petition is filed, of the action taken. Upon receipt of the certified copy and record, the clerk of court to which the petition is transferred shall index it, number it consecutively in the order in which it is received, prefixed by the letters TR, and in a series separate from petitions originally filed in the court. The petition shall be made a part of the record of the naturalization court. No fee shall be charged by the clerk of the court to which the petition is transferred for the filing of the transferred petition or the issuance of a certificate of naturalization.

§ 334.18 Withdrawal of petition and failure to prosecute. (a) A petitioner who desires to withdraw his petition for naturalization after the filing thereof shall make request for withdrawal on Form N–404, in duplicate. The original shall be filed with the clerk of court and the duplicate with the office of the Service exercising administrative jurisdiction over the district in which the court is located. At the final hearing upon the petition, the officer in attendance shall inform the court whether the district director or officer in charge consents to the withdrawal of the petition. In cases in which such officer does not consent to the withdrawal, the court shall determine the petition on its merits.

(b) At the final hearing upon a petition for naturalization which the petitioner has failed to prosecute, the officer in attendance shall inform the court whether the district director or officer in charge consents to dismissal of the petition for lack of prosecution. In cases in which such officer does not move that the petition be dismissed for lack of prosecution, the court shall determine the petition on its merits.

§ 334.21 Verification of petition for naturalization; administration of oath. Every petition for naturalization shall, before it is filed, be verified by the petitioner, and by the affidavits of two credible witnesses, citizens of the United States, who shall appear in person either before a designated examiner or before the clerk of the court or his authorized deputy. Any such officer shall administer the required oaths to the petitioner and the witnesses. The witnesses shall sign the affidavits. The witnesses shall have and aver knowledge of the petitioner as to each place of his residence in the State where he is residing during the period of at least six months immediately prior to the filing of the petition unless the petitioner is exempted from the usual State residence requirement. If the petitioner has resided at two or more places in the State during the required six-month period and for this reason two witnesses cannot be procured to verify the petition as to all such residence, additional witnesses may be used and their affidavits shall be executed, in duplicate, on Form N–451, one copy of which shall be attached to the original petition and the other to the duplicate petition at the time of filing the petition. The witnesses shall state in their affidavits that they personally know that the petitioner is and has been a resident at such place for such period, the length of the petitioner's physical presence in the United States during such period, and that the petitioner is and has been during all such period of residence a person of good moral character, attached to the principles of the Constitution of the United States, well disposed to the good order and happiness of the United States, and in all respects qualified to become a citizen of the United States. If the petitioner is exempted from the usual State residence requirement, the witnesses shall state in their affidavits the period of time that they have personally known the petitioner to have been resident and physically present in the United States, and that such petitioner is, and, for the period required by the naturalization provisions applicable to the case, has been, a person of good moral character, attached to the principles of the Constitution of the United States, well disposed to the good order and happiness of the United States, and in all respects qualified to become a citizen of the United States.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 334a.11 Preliminary form for declaration of intention. Each prospective declarant shall, before making and filing a declaration of intention, submit to the Service an application therefor on Form N–300 in accordance with the instructions contained therein. The application may be submitted at any time after the applicant has been lawfully admitted for permanent residence and has attained the age of eighteen years.

§ 334a.12 Notification to applicant. Following approval of the application by the Service, the applicant shall be notified when and where to appear to make and file the declaration of intention.

§ 334a.13 Filing of declaration of intention. A clerk of court or his authorized deputy shall not accept a declaration of intention for filing, unless and until there shall have been received from the Service the applicant's approved Form N–300 authorizing the issuance of the declaration and showing that the applicant is residing in the United States pursuant to a lawful admission for permanent residence.

§ 334a.14 Execution and fee. The declaration of intention shall be executed by the alien under oath on Form N–315, in triplicate, before the clerk of any court exercising naturalization jurisdiction or his authorized deputy, regardless of the place of residence of the applicant, and only in the office of said clerk. The applicant may sign the declaration and the photographs affixed thereto in any language, or by mark if unable to write. The declarant shall pay the clerk of court, at the time the declaration of intention is filed, the statutory fee of $5.

§ 334a.15 Disposition. The original declaration of intention shall be retained and filed of record by the clerk of court, and the triplicate delivered forthwith to the alien. The duplicate, with Form N–300, shall be forwarded to the appropriate district director or officer in charge on the first day of the month following the month in which the declaration is filed, in accordance with § 339.2 of this chapter for inclusion in the declarant's file.

§ 334a.16 Declaration of intention; numbering, indexing, binding. Declarations of intention shall be numbered consecutively in the order in which they are filed in a series separate from petitions. They shall be filed chronologically in separate volumes, indexed, and made a part of the records of the naturalization court. Each declaration volume shall upon completion be permanently bound by an employee of the Service in accordance with § 339.4 of this chapter.

PART 335—PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION ON PETITIONS FOR NATURALIZATION

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
335.11 Preliminary examination pursuant to section 335 (b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.
335.12 Recommendations of the designated examiner and the Commissioner; notice.
335.13 Notice of recommendation of designated examiner.

AUTHORITY: §§ 335.11 to 335.13 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 332, 335, 66 Stat. 252, 255.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 335.11 Preliminary examination pursuant to section 335 (b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act—(a) When held. Preliminary examinations shall be open to the public, and shall, where practicable, be held immediately after the petition for naturalization is filed with the clerk of the court unless, in the opinion of the district director or officer in charge, the interests of good administration would be better served by holding such examinations prior to the filing of the petition in the office of the clerk of court, but in no event shall such examinations be held before the petition has been properly executed by the petitioner and his verifying witnesses.

(b) Conduct of examination. Preliminary examinations shall be held before an employee of the Service, designated by the district director to conduct such proceedings and to make findings and recommendations thereon to the naturalization court, who shall be known as the "designated examiner." The petitioner and his witnesses and the witnesses produced on behalf of the Government shall be present. The designated examiner shall, prior to the commencement of the examination, make known to the petitioner his official capacity and that of any other officer of the Service who may participate in the proceeding. The designated examiner shall have before him the entire record of the preliminary interrogation, including the petitioner's application to file a petition for naturalization (Form N–400) and any other evidence or data that may be revelant or material to the inquiry. All testimony taken at the examination shall be under oath or affirmation administered by the designated examiner. The designated examiner may interrogate the petitioner and witnesses produced in behalf of the petitioner or the Government, and present evidence touching upon the petitioner's admissibility to citizenship. He shall regulate the course of the examination, rule upon applications for the issuance of subpenas and issue such subpenas in proper cases, grant or deny continuances, and rule on all objections to the introduction of evidence, which rulings shall be entered on the record. Evidence held by the designated examiner to be inadmissible shall nevertheless be received into the record subject to the ruling of the court. The petitioner and the Government shall have the right to present such oral or documentary evidence and to conduct such cross-examination as may be required for a full and true disclosure of the facts. If the petitioner is not represented by an attorney or representative, the designated examiner shall assist the petitioner in the introduction of all evidence available in his behalf. All documentary or written evidence shall be properly identified and introduced into the record as exhibits by number, unless read into the record.

(c) Assignment of examining officer at preliminary examination. The district director or officer in charge may in his discretion assign an employee of the Service to act as examining officer at the preliminary examination. Such employee shall examine and cross-examine witnesses produced in behalf of the Government or the petitioner and present evidence pertinent to the petitioner's admissibility to citizenship. The designated examiner may take such part in the interrogation of the petitioner and witnesses and the introduction of evidence as he may deem necessary.

(d) Stenographic reporting of proceedings; mechanical recording equipment. A stenographer shall be in attendance whenever, in the opinion of the designated examiner, such attendance is desirable, and in every case to which an examining officer is assigned. The stenographer shall record verbatim the entire proceedings, including the oaths administered and rulings on objections, but shall not record arguments in support of objections, or statements made off the record with the consent of the petitioner. The stenographer shall certify that the transcribed minutes constitute a complete and accurate record of the examination. Whenever, in the opinion of the designated examiner the use of mechanical recording equipment in lieu of a stenographer is deemed desirable, the proceedings may be recorded by such equipment.

(e) Issuance of subpenas; attendance and mileage fees. Subpenas requiring the attendance of witnesses or the production of documentary evidence, or both, may be issued by the designated examiner, upon his own volition or upon written application of the petitioner or his attorney or representative, the examining officer, or the Service. Such written application shall specify, as nearly as may be, the relevance, materiality, and scope of the testimony or documentary evidence sought and show affirmatively that the testimony or documentary evidence cannot otherwise be produced. Subpenas shall be issued on Form I-138 and due record shall be made of their service. The subpena may be served by any person over 18 years of age, not a party to the case, designated to make such service by the district director or officer in charge. Mileage and fees for witnesses subpenaed under this section shall be paid by the party at whose instance the subpena is issued at rates allowed and under conditions prescribed by the naturalization court in which the petition is pending. Before issuing a subpena the designated examiner may require a deposit of an amount adequate to cover the fees and mileage involved. If the witness subpenaed neglects or refuses to testify or produce documentary evidence as directed by the subpena, the district director or the officer in charge shall request the United States Attorney for the proper district to report such neglect or refusal to any court exercising naturalization jurisdiction and to file a motion in such court for an order directing the witness to appear and testify and to produce the documentary evidence described in the subpena.

(f) Briefs. At the conclusion of the preliminary examination the petitioner or his attorney or representative, and the examining officer if one was assigned, may submit briefs in support of arguments made or issues raised at the examination.

(g) Representation by attorney or representative; absence of representative; advice to petitioner. The petitioner may be represented by an attorney or a representative who has, where required, been admitted to practice before the Service in accordance with Part 292 of this chapter. If at any stage of the preliminary examination it appears to the designated examiner that he may recommend denial of the petition, or granting thereof with the facts to be presented to the court, he shall advise the petitioner of his right to be represented by an attorney or representative. A continuance of the examination shall be granted upon the petitioner's motion for the purpose of obtaining an attorney of representative. The petitioner's attorney or a representative shall be permitted to be present at all times during the preliminary examination or at any subsequent examinations and the petitioner shall not in any such examination or subsequent examinations be interrogated in the absence of his attorney or representative, unless the petitioner waives such appearance. The attorney or a representative shall be permitted to offer evidence to meet any evidence presented or adduced by the Government or the designated examiner. A petitioner who is not represented by an attorney or a representative shall be entitled to all the benefits and the privileges provided for in this section.

(h) Designation of Service employees to conduct preliminary examinations. All employees of the Service who have been designated to conduct preliminary examinations upon petitions for naturalization to any naturalization court and to make findings and recommendations thereon to such courts under the provisions of section 333 of the Nationality Act of 1940, as amended, and whose designations are still in force on December 24, 1952, are hereby designated under the provisions of section 335 of the Immigration and Nationality Act to conduct preliminary examinations upon petitions for naturalization to any naturalization court and to make findings and recommendations thereon to such courts. Designations under this paragraph and under paragraph (b) of this section shall remain in force until revoked.

§ 335.12 Recommendations of the designated examiner and the Commissioner; notice. The designated examiner shall, as soon as practicable after conclusion of the preliminary examination, prepare an appropriate recommendation thereon for the court. If the designated examiner is of the opinion (a) that the petition should be denied, or (b) that the petition should be granted but the facts should be presented to the court, he shall prepare a memorandum containing a summary of the evidence adduced at the examination, findings of fact and conclusions of law, and his recommendation as to the final disposition of the petition by the court, and shall before final hearing, in those cases designated by the Commissioner, submit the memorandum to him for his views and recommendation. No evidence dehors the record or evidence that would not be admissible in judicial proceedings under recognized rules of evidence shall be considered in the preparation of the memorandum. The Commissioner shall return the designated examiner's memorandum, the record, and any memorandum prepared by the Commissioner containing his own views and recommendation for presentation to the court.

§ 335.13 Notice of recommendation of designated examiner—(a) Recommendation that petition be denied. When the designated examiner proposes to recommend denial of the petition, the petitioner or his attorney or representative shall be notified thereof, on Form N–425, and furnished a copy of the designated examiner's memorandum. The notice shall be sent by registered mail, with return receipt requested, after any review made by the Commissioner and at least thirty days prior to final hearing. The petitioner shall inform the Service in writing within thirty days from the date of the notice whether he desires a hearing before the court.

(b) Recommendation that petition be granted. When the designated examiner proposes to recommend granting of the petition and to present the facts and issues to the court, the petitioner or his attorney or representative shall be notified of the recommendation and furnished a copy of the designated examiners' memorandum prior to the date of the hearing, and after any review made by the Commissioner.

(c) Disagreement between recommendations of designated examiner and Commissioner. In those cases reviewed by the Commissioner in which his views and recommendation do not agree with those of the designated examiner, the notice required by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section shall also advise the petitioner of the recommendation of the Commissioner and that both recommendations will be presented to the court. There shall also be enclosed with such notice a copy of the Commissioner's memorandum.

PART 335a—TRANSFER, WITHDRAWAL OR FAILURE TO PROSECUTE PETITION FOR NATURALIZATION

§ 335a.11 Transfer of petition; procedure. See § 334.17 of this chapter.

§ 335a.12 Withdrawal of or failure to prosecute petition; procedure. See § 334.18 of this chapter.

PART 335b—PROOF OF QUALIFICATIONS FOR NATURALIZATION: WITNESSES: DEPOSITIONS

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
335b.1 Proof of residence and other qualifications.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
335b.11 Substitution of witnesses; procedure.
335b.12 Depositions; procedure.

AUTHORITY: §§ 335b.1 to 335b.11 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply sec. 307, 54 Stat. 1142, secs. 287, 316, 332, 335, 336, 405, 66 Stat. 233, 242, 252, 255, 257, 258.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 335b.1 Proof of residence and other qualifications.—(a) Whenever State residence is required. At the preliminary examination upon the petition for naturalization before a designated examiner, or if no preliminary examination is held, at the final hearing before the court, residence in the State in which the petitioner resides at the time of filing the petition, for at least six months immediately preceding the date of filing the petition and the other qualifications required by section 316 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act during such residence, shall be proved only by the oral testimony of two credible witnesses, citizens of the United States. Residence and other qualifications required by section 316 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act for the period prior to such six-month period shall be proved either by depositions taken in accordance with § 335b.12 or by the oral testimony of at least two credible witnesses, citizens of the United States. If oral testimony is taken from witnesses who did not verify the petition, affidavits on Form N–451 shall be executed by such other witnesses, in duplicate, before the clerk of the court or the designated examiner, one copy of which shall be attached to the original petition and the other to the duplicate petition.

(b) Whenever State residence is not required. In any case in which State residence is not required to be established, the petitioner shall, at the preliminary examination before the designated examiner, or if no preliminary examination is held, at the final hearing before the court, prove his residence within the United States and the other qualifications required by section 316 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, for such period as they have known the petitioner, by the oral testimony of two credible witnesses, citizens of the United States. That portion of the time during which the petitioner is required to establish residence within the United States and the other qualifications required by section 316 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, which is not covered by the oral testimony of such witnesses, shall be proved either by depositions taken in accordance with § 335b.12, or by the oral testimony of at least two credible witnesses, citizens of the United States. If oral testimony is taken from witnesses who did not verify the petition, affidavits on Form N-451 shall be executed by them and filed in the manner described in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Whenever petitioner is absent from the United States. A petitioner who has been granted the benefits of section 316 (b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act or section 307 (b) of the Nationality Act of 1940 to cover his absence from the United States for the purposes specified in that section shall not be required to establish his qualifications under section 316 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act for the period of his absences by the testimony of witnesses, as required by this part. The qualifications during such period may be established by any evidence satisfactory to the naturalization court.

(d) Witnesses excused from final hearing. If the testimony of the witnesses is heard at a preliminary examination under Part 335 of this chapter the witnesses may be excused by the designated examiner from appearance before the court at the final hearing, unless the petitioner otherwise demands or the court otherwise requires.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 335b.11 Substitution of witnesses; procedure. If the witnesses who verified the petition have not been excused from appearance at the final hearing and the petitioner is unable to produce such witnesses, other witnesses may be presented in their stead, upon notice given by the petitioner on Form N-450 to the district director or officer in charge, within a reasonable time in advance of the date set for final hearing. If any of the verifying witnesses appear to be incompetent and the petitioner has acted in good faith in producing such witnesses, other witnesses may be substituted upon notice on Form N-450 given in the manner described in this section. In no case shall a final hearing be held until after the substitute witnesses have been examined by the representative of the Service and an affidavit on Form N-451 has been executed in duplicate by the witnesses before such representative or the clerk of the court in the manner described in § 335b.1 (a).

§ 335b.12 Depositions; procedure—(a) In the United States. Depositions may be used to prove compliance with the requirements for naturalization during any period except the minimum period of State residence. A request to take depositions shall be made by the petitioner on Form N-460. Such depositions shall be taken only upon written interrogatories on Form N-462. Except as otherwise provided in this section they shall be made in the United States before an employee of the Service authorized to administer oaths and take depositions under Part 332d of this chapter, unless there is a likelihood of unusual delay or hardship, in which case the district director or officer in charge may authorize such depositions to be taken before a postmaster, without charge, or before a notary public or other person authorized to administer oaths for general purposes, and the authorization to take such depositions shall be filed in the naturalization court with the depositions. In cases in which the depositions are taken other than before an employee of the Service or a postmaster, the alien shall be informed of the name and title of the officer designated to take the depositions and the petitioner shall arrange with him independently of the Service to defray all costs and expenses incident thereto. When depositions are taken by the Service, the time and place shall be fixed so as to be as convenient as possible to all concerned, consistent with good administration. The petitioner or his attorney or representative may be present when the depositions are taken. Depositions taken under this section shall be sent to the officer in charge having administrative supervision over the territory in which the petition is pending and by him forwarded to the clerk of the naturalization court prior to the final hearing, for filing with the petition.

(b) Outside the United States. Petitioners for naturalization who, under sections of the Immigration and Nationality Act applicable to their cases, are exempt from the usual requirement of residence and physical presence in the United States, but who are required to establish good moral character, attachment to the principles of the Constitution, and favorable disposition to the good order and happiness of the United States for the period applicable to their cases, and who were absent from or were not residents of the United States during such period, may establish their qualifications during the periods of absence by depositions taken outside the United States in the manner described in paragraph (a) of this section. Such depositions shall be taken before any employee of the United States designated for that purpose by the Commissioner. The petitioner shall be informed that he will be required to defray all costs and expenses of the person taking the depositions, as may be authorized by law and that the petitioner shall arrange with the deponents for the payment of such costs and expenses independently of the Service.

336.15 Final hearing; sickness or disability of petitioner; investigation.
336.16 Final hearing; waiver of 30 day period.
336.17 Substitution of witnesses; procedure.

AUTHORITY: §§ 336.11 to 336.17 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 332, 335, 336, 337, 66 Stat. 252, 255, 257, 258.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 336.11 Notice to Service; personal representation of Government at naturalization proceedings. At least thirty days prior to the holding of any naturalization proceedings referred to in section 336 (d) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the clerk of the naturalization court shall give written notice to the appropriate district director or officer in charge of the time, date, and place of such proceedings. Such notice may be waived by the district director or officer in charge. Final naturalization hearings or other naturalization proceedings shall, whenever practicable, be attended personally by naturalization examiners or other members of the Service, who shall present to the court the views and recommendations of the designated examiner and the Commissioner, as appropriate. In those cases in which the recommendation of the Commissioner does not agree with that of the designated examiner, a member of the Service other than the person who conducted the preliminary examination shall, whenever practicable, represent the Service before the court. Such representative may cross-examine the petitioner and his witnesses and may call other witnesses and produce evidence concerning any matter affecting the petitioner's eligibility for naturalization. In cases in which it appears to be necessary, the representative in attendance at the proceedings, shall have a stenographic report made of the testimony given in the proceedings.

§ 336.12 Written report in lieu of personal representation. In any case in which a preliminary interrogation or preliminary examination has been conducted pursuant to Part 332 or Part 335 of this chapter, and it is impracticable thereafter for a representative of the Service to be present at the final naturalization hearing, written notice of that fact shall be given by the Service to the court. The petitions set down for hearing shall be listed on the appropriate form prescribed by § 336.13. The grounds for objection, if any, shall be supported by the memoranda required by §§ 335.12 and 332.14 of this chapter. If continuance of the petition is desired, the basis therefor shall be set forth. The forms and memoranda shall be transmitted to the clerk of court, who shall submit the appropriate lists and orders to the court, in accordance with the procedure described in § 336.13.

§ 336.13 Preparation of lists and orders of court for presentation at final hearing. (a) At or prior to the final naturalization hearing the representative attending the hearing shall submit to the court lists and orders of court, in duplicate, on Forms N-480, N-480A, N-481, N-485, N-490, or N-492, as appropriate, for petitions recommended to be granted; on Form N-483 for petitions recommended to be continued; and on Forms N-484, N-484A, N-486, N-491, or N-493, as appropriate, for petitions recommended to be denied. The Commissioner's list on Form N-492 or Form N-493, as appropriate, shall be signed by the district director. After the final hearing, and after any required amendments therein have been made, the presiding judge shall sign the orders of court.

(b) In any case in which a petitioner is not permitted to take the oath of allegiance until a fixed date following a general election, the order of court granting the petition shall be amended by striking therefrom the words "and each having taken the oath of allegiance required by the naturalization laws and regulations" and inserting immediately following the word "America" the words "as of the date of and upon the taking of the oath of allegiance required by the naturalization laws and regulations at a date subsequent to ---- 19----." Following the taking of the oath of allegiance after a general election, pursuant to such amended order, the clerk of court shall prepare a list, in duplicate, on Form N-489, certifying that such oath was taken.

(c) When the court waives the taking of the oath of allegiance in the case of a child, the order of court granting the petition shall be amended by striking therefrom the words "each having taken" and inserting immediately following the word "regulations", a comma and the words "having been waived."

(d) The originals of all court orders and lists specified herein shall be filed permanently in the court, and the duplicates forwarded by the clerk of court to the appropriate field office of the Service for retention by such office. The same disposition shall be made of any list presented to, but not approved by, the court.

§ 336.14 Presentation of designated examiner's and Commissioner's recommendation at final hearing. At the final hearing or prior thereto, in addition to the lists prepared under § 336.13, there shall be presented to the court and made a part of the record in the case, the memoranda of the designated examiner and the Commissioner, prepared pursuant to provisions of Part 332 or Part 335 of this chapter.

§ 336.15 Final hearing: sickness or disability of petitioner; investigation. Whenever it appears that a petitioner for naturalization may be unable, because of sickness or other disability, to appear in open court for final hearing upon his petition for naturalization, the district director or officer in charge shall cause an investigation to be conducted to determine the circumstances and shall report the condition of the petitioner to the clerk of court for the purpose of aiding the court to determine whether another place for the final hearing shall be designated. The report shall show whether the sickness or other disability is of a nature which so incapacitates the person as to prevent him from appearing in open court.

§ 336.16 Final hearing; waiver of 30-day period. A petitioner for naturalization may request the district director or officer in charge, in writing, to waive the thirty-day period following the filing of the petition referred to in section 336 (c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act. Such request may be made at any time after an application to file a petition for naturalization has been filed with the service. The district director or officer in charge shall cause a full and complete investigation to be conducted and if such investigation satisfactorily establishes that such waiver will be in the public interest and will promote the security of the United States, he may, in his discretion, grant the waiver. Notice of granting of the waiver shall be given to the clerk of court in writing.

§ 336.17 Substitution of witnesses; procedure. See § 335b.11 of this chapter.

PART 337—OATH OF ALLEGIANCE

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
337.1 Oath of allegiance.
337.2 Persons naturalized by judicial action; effective date.
337.3 Renunciation of title or order of nobility.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
337.11 Oath of renunciation and allegiance; sickness or disability of petitioner.

AUTHORITY: §§ 337.1 to 337.11 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or applies secs. 322, 323, 332, 337, 66 Stat. 246, 252, 258.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 337.1 Oath of allegiance—(a) Form of oath. Except as otherwise provided in the Immigration and Nationality Act, a petitioner or applicant for naturalization shall, before being admitted to citizenship, take in open court the following oath of allegiance:

I hereby declare, on oath, that I absolutely and entirely renounce and abjure all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign prince, potentate, state, or sovereignty, of whom or which I have heretofore been a subject or citizen; that I will support and defend the Constitution and laws of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I will bear arms on behalf of the United States when required by the law; or that I will perform noncombatant service in the armed forces of the United States when required by the law; or that I will perform work of national importance under civilian direction when required by the law; and that I take this obligation freely without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion; so help me God. In acknowledgement whereof I have hereunto affixed by signature.

(b) Alteration of form of oath. In those cases in which a petitioner or applicant for naturalization is exempt from taking the oath prescribed in paragraph (a) of this section in its entirety, the inapplicable clauses shall be deleted and the oath shall be taken in such altered form.

(c) Obligations of oath. A petitioner or applicant for naturalization shall, before being naturalized, establish that it is his intention, in good faith, to assume and discharge the obligations of the oath of allegiance, and that his attitude toward the Constitution and laws of the United States renders him capable of fulfilling the obligations of such oath.

§ 337.2 Persons naturalized by judicial action; effective date. Any person who was or shall hereafter be admitted to citizenship by the written order of a naturalization court, shall be deemed to be a citizen of the United States as of the date of taking the prescribed oath of allegiance. Whenever a waiver of such oath is granted by the court in the case of a child naturalized under section 322 or 323 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the child shall become a citizen of the United States as of the date of such waiver.

§ 337.3 Renunciation of title or order of nobility. A petitioner for naturalization who has borne any hereditary title or has been of any of the orders of nobility in any foreign state, shall, in addition to taking the oath of allegiance prescribed by § 337.1, make under oath in open court an express renunciation of such title or order of nobility, in the following form:

I further renounce the title of_____ (give title or _____ which I have heretofore held; or titles)

I further renounce the order of nobility _____ to which I (Give the order of nobility) have heretofore belonged.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 337.11 Oath of renunciation and allegiance; sickness or disability of petitioner. Whenever it appears that a petitioner for naturalization may be unable because of sickness or other disability to take the oath of allegiance in open court, the district director or officer in charge shall cause an investigation to be conducted to determine the circumstances, and shall report the condition of the petitioner to the naturalization court for the purpose of aiding the court to determine whether the oath may be taken at another place. The report shall show whether the sickness or other disability is of a nature which so incapacitates the person as to prevent him from appearing in open court.

PART 338—CERTIFICATE OF NATURALIZATION

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
338.11 Execution and issuance.
338.12 Endorsement in case name is changed.
338.13 Spoiled certificates.
338.14 Delivery of certificates; surrender of alien registration receipt card.
338.15 Signing of certificate.
338.16 Correction of certificates.

AUTHORITY: §§ 338.11 to 338.16 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 322, 323, 332, 333, 336, 338, 339, 66 Stat. 246, 252, 253, 258, 259.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 338.11 Execution and issuance. When a petitioner for naturalization has duly taken and subscribed to the oath of allegiance and a final order admitting petitioner to citizenship has been duly signed by the court, a certificate of naturalization shall be issued by the clerk of the court on Form N–550, in duplicate. The certificates and the stub of the original thereof shall be signed by the petitioner. The certificate shall show under "former nationality" the name of the country of which the petitioner was last a citizen, as shown in the petition, even though petitioner may have been stateless at the time of admission to citizenship. The clerk or a deputy clerk shall sign the certificate in his own handwriting and enter on the stub thereof all the essential facts set forth in the certificate. Both copies of the certificate, including the stubs, shall be prepared in one operation on a typewriter with the use of carbon paper. Photographs shall be affixed to the original and duplicate certificates in the manner provided by Part 333 of this chapter. The stub of the original shall be removed and retained by the clerk of court and filed in an upright card file, or in a three by five inch card drawer by trimming the stub to that size. The original certificate shall be delivered to the petitioner. The duplicate copies of the certificates shall not be separated from their stubs and shall be forwarded to the appropriate office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service with all other duplicate papers in accordance with Part 339 of this chapter.

§ 338.12 Endorsement in case name is changed. Whenever the name of a petitioner has been changed by order of court as a part of a naturalization, the clerk of court shall make, date, and sign the following endorsement on the reverse side of the original and duplicate of the certificate of naturalization: "Name changed by decree of court from _____, as a part of the naturalization," inserting in full the original name of the petitioner. A similar notation shall be made on the stubs of the original and duplicate certificate. The certificate of naturalization shall be issued and the stub of the original thereof signed by the petitioner in the name as changed.

§ 338.13 Spoiled certification. Whenever a certificate of naturalization is damaged, mutilated, defaced or otherwise spoiled before delivery by the clerk, the original and duplicate, with stubs intact, shall be marked "Spoiled" and transmitted to the appropriate immigration and naturalization office, in the manner described in § 339.2 of this chapter, with the monthly report of the clerk on Form N–4.

§ 338.14 Delivery of certificates; surrender of alien registration receipt card. No certificate of naturalization shall be delivered by the clerk of court unless and until the naturalized person has surrendered his Alien Registration Receipt Card, unless the district director or officer in charge authorizes delivery without the card. The number of the card shall be endorsed by the clerk on the stubs of the original and duplicate certificate. The clerk shall forward the receipt card to the appropriate immigration and naturalization office with the duplicate certificate in accordance with § 339.2 of this chapter.

§ 338.15 Signing of certificate. If a child, who has been admitted to citizenship under section 322 or section 323 of the Immigration and Nationality Act is unable to sign his name, the certificate of naturalization shall be signed by the petitioning parent or parents, whether natural or adoptive, as may be appropriate, and the signature shall read "(insert name of petitioning parent or parents) in behalf of (insert name of naturalized child)." A naturalized person whose petition was signed by him in a foreign language may sign his certificate of naturalization in the same manner.

§ 338.16 Correction of certificates. Whenever a certificate of naturalization has been delivered which does not conform to the facts shown on the petition for naturalization, or a clerical error was made in preparing the certificate, an application on Form N–458 may be made by the naturalized person to the district director exercising jurisdiction over the place in which the court is located to authorize the correction of the certificate. If the district director finds that a correction is justified and can be made without mutilating the certificate, he shall authorize the clerk of the issuing court on Form N–459, in duplicate, to make the necessary correction and to place a dated endorsement on the reverse of the certificate, over his signature and the seal of the court, explaining the correction. The authorization shall be filed with naturalization record, the corrected certificate returned to the naturalized person and the duplicate Form N–459 shall be endorsed to show the date and nature of the correction and endorsement made, and returned to the district director. No fee shall be charged the naturalized person for the correction. The district director shall forward such duplicate to the Central Office. When a correction would or does result in mutilation of the certificate, the district director may authorize the clerk of court on Form N–459, in duplicate, with the consent of the naturalized person, to issue without fee a new certificate from his supply, upon surrender of the incorrect certificate and submission of photographs. The surrendered certificate shall be marked "Spoiled" and transmitted to the district director with the duplicate copy of the new certificate and the duplicate Form N–459 appropriately endorsed, with the monthly report of the clerk on Form N–4. The original of the new certificate shall be delivered to the naturalized person. Objection shall be made by the Service to any application to the court for the alteration of a certificate of naturalization which would cause it to vary from the record on which the naturalization was granted.

PART 339—FUNCTIONS AND DUTIES OF CLERKS OF NATURALIZATION COURTS

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
339.1 Administration of oath to declarations of intention and petitions for naturalization.
339.2 Monthly reports.
339.3 Relinquishment of naturalization jurisdiction.
339.4 Binding of naturalization records.
339.5 Numbering and indexing and filing of petitions for naturalization and declarations of intention.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

AUTHORITY: §§ 339.1 to 339.5 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 332, 339, 344, 66 Stat. 252, 259, 265.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 339.1 Administration of oath to declarations of intention and petitions for naturalization. It shall be the duty of every clerk of a naturalization court to administer the required oath to each applicant for a declaration of intention. The clerk shall receive and file petitions and administer the required oaths to each petitioner and the witnesses to each petition, unless such petitioner and witnesses have executed the petition before a designated examiner.

§ 339.2 Monthly reports. Clerks of court shall on the first day of each month submit to the district director, or officer in charge, having administrative jurisdiction over the place in which the court is located, a report on Form N–4, in duplicate, listing all declarations of intention and petitions for naturalization filed and all certificates of naturalization issued or spoiled during the preceding month, in accordance with the instructions contained in Form N–4. When at any time during the month the aggregate number of petitions and declarations filed reaches 100 the clerk shall on request of the district director or officer in charge forthwith forward such reports in accordance with the provisions of this section. The report shall be accompanied by all duplicate copies of declarations of intention and applications therefor on Forms N–300; by all duplicates of petitions for naturalization not theretofore delivered to a representative of the Service, and all duplicates of certificates of naturalization with stubs intact and surrendered alien registration receipt cards attached thereto. The clerk of court shall show opposite the number of each petition in which the petitioner is exempt from payment of a naturalization fee under section 344 (h) of the Immigration and Nationality Act the letter "M". Opposite the name of each such case and at the bottom of the petition, the notation "No fee" shall be inserted. Void petitions shall be listed separately on Form N–4 and on Form N–7 and so indicated on such forms.

§ 339.3 Relinquishment of naturalization jurisdiction. Whenever a court relinquishes naturalization jurisdiction, the clerk of court shall, within ten days following the date of relinquishment, furnish the district director or officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the place in which the court is located, a certified copy of the order of court relinquishing jurisdiction. A representative of the Service shall thereafter examine the naturalization records in the office of the clerk of court and shall bind and lock them. The clerk of court shall return all unused forms and blank certificates of naturalization to the district director or officer in charge with his monthly report on Form N–4.

§ 339.4 Binding of naturalization records. Whenever a volume of petitions for naturalization, applications to take the oath of allegiance, declarations of intention, orders of court, or other documents affecting or relating to the naturalization of persons is completed, it shall be bound and locked in the office of the clerk of court by a representative of the Service. It shall be the duty of the clerk of court to notify the district director or officer in charge as soon as a volume is ready for binding and locking and to request such officer to arrange to have the volume bound and locked.

§ 339.5 Numbering and indexing and filing of petitions for naturalization and declarations of intention. See §§ 334.3 and 334a.16 of this chapter.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 340.11 Investigation and report. Whenever it appears that any grant of naturalization may have been procured by concealment of a material fact or by wilful misrepresentation, the facts shall be reported to the district director having jurisdiction over the naturalized person's last known place of residence. If the district director is satisfied that a prima facie showing has been made that grounds for revocation exist, he shall cause an investigation to be made and report the facts in writing to the Commissioner with a recommendation as to whether revocation proceedings should be instituted. If it appears that naturalization was procured in violation of section 1425 of Title 18 of the United States Code, the facts in regard thereto may be presented by the district director to the appropriate United States Attorney for possible criminal prosecution.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 341.1 Persons eligible. A person who claims to have derived United States citizenship through the naturalization of a parent or parents or through the naturalization or citizenship of a husband, or who claims to be a citizen at birth outside the United States under the provisions of any of the statutes or acts specified in section 341 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, may apply for a certificate of citizenship.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 341.11 Application and fee. Application for a certificate of citizenship under this part shall be submitted to the Service on Form N–600, in accordance with the instructions contained therein. The application shall be signed by the applicant, or in the case of a child under the age of eighteen years by his parent or guardian, but shall not be subscribed or sworn to or affirmed until the applicant appears before an officer of the Service for examination. The application shall be accompanied by the statutory fee of $5.

§ 341.12 Supporting documents and copies. The originals of such documentary evidence, or pertinent excerpts therefrom if the documents are lengthy or bulky, as the applicant may have or be able to obtain relating to the date and place of his birth, the date and place of the marriage of his parents, the date and place of marriage of the applicant if the applicant be a woman, the identity of any person involved, or any other documents tending to establish the claimed citizenship, shall be submitted with the application. The applicant shall not be required to furnish a translation of any such documents written in a foreign language. If the applicant desires any such documents returned to him after final action has been taken in his case, the application shall be accompanied also by photostatic, photographic, or typewritten copies of such documents, except that no copy may be made of any original or copy of a declaration of intention or certificate of naturalization or citizenship or any part thereof. If the applicant has made reasonable effort to obtain official copies of public or church records of such documentary evidence without success on cannot obtain such copies without undue hardship, other evidence may be submitted.

§ 341.13 Notice and examination of applicant and witnesses. The applicant shall be notified when and where to appear in person before an officer of the Service for examination upon the application and shall be requested to produce witnesses in support of his application. The examining officer shall orally review the application with the applicant, or in the case of a child under the age of eighteen years, with its parent or parents, or guardian, before administering the oath to the applicant. Any necessary changes in the application shall be consecutively numbered and acknowledged in writing by the applicant or the parent or guardian. The applicant and the person or persons through whom applicant claims to have derived or acquired citizenship shall then be carefully questioned under oath concerning the identity and relationship of the applicant to the person or persons through whom citizenship is claimed to ascertain whether the applicant or such person or persons ever lost such citizenship, the applicant's immigration status, if pertinent, and any other matter touching upon the applicant's eligibility for a certificate of citizenship. If the person or persons through whom the applicant claims citizenship are deceased or otherwise not available, the testimony customarily required of such person or persons shall be furnished by qualified witnesses. If the sworn application form, supporting documentary evidence, records of the Service, the testimony of the person or persons through whom citizenship is claimed, and the testimony of the applicant, or the parent or guardian if the applicant is a child under the age of eighteen years, establish applicant's claim to citizenship, no other witnesses shall be required. Otherwise, such number of credible witnesses, preferably citizens of the United States, as may be deemed necessary, shall be questioned under oath by the examiner concerning the facts of the applicant's citizenship. The testimony heard shall not be reduced to writing in verbatim form except in cases in which neither primary nor secondary documentary evidence is available to establish an essential fact concerning applicant's citizenship, and except in cases in which it appears that criminal proceedings might be instituted as a result of false testimony.

§ 341.14 Burden of proof; benefit of Service records. The burden of proof to establish his citizenship and eligibility for the certificate shall at all times be upon the applicant. In presenting his proof, the applicant shall be entitled to the benefit of any pertinent records pertinent to the issue concerning him which are in the custody of the Service and which are not regarded by the Commissioner as confidential. Copies thereof, or information from such records, may be made available to the officer of the Service passing upon the application, without payment of fee by the applicant.

§ 341.15 Report and recommendation. Upon completion of the examination, the examining officer shall prepare a report of his findings on Form N-635 as to each of the essential facts to be established in the proceedings, together with his recommendation and any comment he deems necessary. If any issue of law or fact is raised by the evidence, or if denial of the application is recommended, the examining officer shall summarize the evidence, the issues involved, and the reasons for denial, in a separate report to accompany Form N-635. If a recommendation to grant the application is based principally on documentary evidence, that fact shall be stated; if not, a brief statement of the facts and circumstances in evidence considered sufficient to justify the action recommended shall be made. The recommendation of the examining officer and the record shall then be forwarded to the district director for decision.

§ 341.16 Final disposition—(a) Issuance of certificate. If the district director grants the application he shall issue the certificate on Form N-560, in duplicate. If the applicant has assumed, or is known by, a name other than his true name, but has not changed his name in accordance with the law of the jurisdiction where he assumed it the certificate of citizenship, shall be issued in the applicant's true name followed by the words "also known as" followed by the assumed name, but in such case the applicant shall be required to sign only his true name on the certificate and on the photographs submitted with his application. The certificate shall be signed by the applicant unless he is a child unable to sign his name, in which case the certificate shall be signed by the parent or guardian, and the signature shall read "(Insert name of parent or guardian) in behalf of (insert name of child)." The applicant shall, unless he is too young to understand the meaning thereof, take and subscribe to, before a member of the Service, the oath of renunciation and allegiance prescribed by Part 337 of this chapter. Thereafter personal delivery of the original of the certificate shall be made to the applicant, or to his parent or guardian, who shall sign a receipt therefor.

(b) Applications denied. If the district director denies the application, the applicant shall be notified in writing as promptly as possible of such denial with the reasons therefor and, at the same time, shall be advised that he has ten days from the date of receipt of notification in which he may appeal to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, in accordance with the provisions of Part 7 of this chapter.

(c) Review by Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division. Upon review of a record received under this section, the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, shall enter an order granting or denying the application, which order shall be final. The Assistant Commissioner's decision shall be sent to the district office of origin with the return of the file relating to the applicant. If the application is granted by the Assistant Commissioner, the district director shall issue the certificate in the manner described in paragraph (a) of this section. The district director shall advise the applicant in writing of the Assistant Commissioner's decision.

§ 341.17 Attorneys. Attorneys and other persons qualified to practice before the Service who represent applicants for certificates of citizenship under section 341 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, shall be permitted, upon completion of the application and examination of the applicant and his witnesses, to submit briefs and to review the record, either before it is forwarded to the district director or thereafter and prior to final decision. When final decision is made in a case, the attorney or other person representing the applicant shall be notified.

AUTHORITY: §§ 341a.1 to 341a.21 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply Title V, 65 Stat. 290, secs. 332, 333, 343, 66 Stat. 252, 253, 264; 8 U. S. C. 140.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 341a.1 Persons eligible. A citizen of the United States who is a bona fide resident of Hawaii, who intends to depart temporarily from that territory, and who desires to establish his United States citizenship for the purpose of facilitating his readmission to the United States, may apply for a "Certificate of Citizenship—Hawaiian Islands." The burden of proof to establish his eligibility for the certificate shall be upon the applicant.

§ 341a.2 Certificate of Citizenship—Hawaiian Islands; effect of. Certificates of Citizenship—Hawaiian Islands, issued pursuant to this part may be presented to an immigration officer at any port of entry, as evidence to prove United States citizenship. The certificate shall not be required to be surrendered to the immigration officer, but may be retained by the proper holder thereof.

§ 341a.3 Certificate of Citizenship—Hawaiian Islands; improper use. Whenever it is ascertained that a Certificate of Citizenship—Hawaiian Islands is in the possession of a person to whom it was not issued, the certificate shall be taken up and forwarded with a report of the circumstances to the district director at Honolulu by the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the place where the certificate was presented. No appeal shall lie from any action taken under this section.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 341a.11 Application; fee. Application for the issuance of a "Certificate of Citizenship—Hawaiian Islands" shall be submitted to the office of the Service at Honolulu, T. H., on Form N-108, in accordance with the instructions contained therein. The application shall not be signed or sworn to until the applicant appears before an officer of the Service for examination in accordance with the requirements of § 341a.12. The application shall be accompanied by a fee of $5.00, by three photographs of the applicant as prescribed in Part 333 of this chapter, and by documentary evidence or pertinent excerpts therefrom, as described in § 341.12 of this chapter, tending to establish the applicant's citizenship. Pertinent documents in the custody of the Service shall be made available to the applicant under the conditions described in § 341.14 of this chapter.

§ 341a.12 Notice; examination. The applicant shall be required to appear in person before an officer of the Service for examination upon the application. The examining officer shall orally review the application with the applicant, before administering the oath to the applicant. Any necessary changes shall be consecutively numbered and acknowledged in writing by the applicant. The applicant shall then be questioned under oath concerning his citizenship and eligibility for the certificate. If the application, supporting documentary evidence, records of the Service and the testimony of the applicant establish the applicant's eligibility for the certificate, no witnesses shall be required. Otherwise, such number of credible witnesses, preferably citizens of the United States, as may be deemed necessary, shall be questioned under oath concerning the applicant's eligibility for the certificate. If such witnesses are, for good cause shown, unable to appear in person, their affidavits may be accepted in the discretion of the examining officer in lieu of their oral testimony. The testimony of the applicant and witnesses shall not be reduced to writing in verbatim form except when documentary evidence is not available to establish an essential fact concerning the applicant's citizenship, and except in cases in which it appears that criminal proceedings might be instituted as a result of false testimony.

§ 341a.13 Report and recommendation. Upon completion of the examination, the examining officer shall prepare a report of his findings on Form N-110 as to each of the essential facts to be established, together with his recommendation and any comment he deems necessary. If any issue of law or fact is raised by the evidence, or if denial of the application is recommended, the examining officer shall summarize the evidence and prepare a report thereon to accompany Form N-110. If a recommendation to grant the application is based principally on evidence other than documentary evidence, a brief statement of the facts and circumstances in evidence considered sufficient to justify such recommendation shall be made. If such recommendation is based principally on documentary evidence that fact shall be stated. The record, supporting documents, and the Form N-110 shall then be forwarded to the district director, Honolulu, T. H., for decision.

§ 341a.14 Disposition of application—(a) Issuance of certificates; delivery. If the district director is satisfied that the applicant is entitled to receive a certificate of citizenship, he shall so indicate on the Form N-110 and issue the certificate on Form N-109, in duplicate. The original certificate shall be delivered personally to the applicant, and the duplicate filed in the office of the district director at Honolulu, T. H.

(b) Application denied. If the district director is not satisfied that the application shall be granted, he shall so indicate on the Form N-110 and deny the application. The applicant shall be notified in writing as promptly as possible of such denial with the reasons therefor and, at the same time shall be advised that he has ten days from the date of receipt of notification in which he may appeal to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, in accordance with the provisions of Part 7 of this chapter.

(c) Review by Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division. Upon review of a record received under this section, the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, shall enter an order granting or denying the application, which order shall be final. The Assistant Commissioner's decision and the record shall be sent to the district director at Honolulu, T. H., who shall advise the applicant of the decision. If the application is granted by the Assistant Commissioner, the certificate shall be issued by the district director in the manner described in paragraph (a) of this section.

§ 341a.21 Certificate lost, mutilated or destroyed. A United States citizen whose Certificate of Citizenship—Hawaiian Islands, has been lost, mutilated or destroyed may apply for a new certificate in lieu thereof. The application shall be made on Form N-565 and submitted to the district director, Honolulu, T. H., in accordance with the instructions contained therein, accompanied by a fee of $5.00. The applicant shall be interrogated, and action upon his application taken in accordance with the provisions of §§ 343a.13 and 343a.14 of this chapter.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 343.11 Application. A person who lost citizenship of the United States incidental to service in one of the Allied armies during World War I or II, or by voting in a political election in a country not at war with the United States during World War II, and who was naturalized under the provisions of section 323 of the Nationality Act of 1940, as amended, or a person who, before January 13, 1941, resumed United States citizenship under the twelfth subdivision of section 4 of the act of June 29, 1906, may obtain a certificate evidencing such citizenship by making application therefor on Form N-580, and submitting it to the Service in accordance with the instructions contained therein. The application shall be accompanied by two photographs of the applicant, and the statutory fee of $5.

§ 343.12 Issuance of certificate. The field office shall forward the properly executed application with any supporting documents to the district director having jurisdiction over the applicant's place of residence, for decision. The applicant shall be interrogated by an officer of the Service with respect to his eligibility for the certificate, at any time prior to delivery of the certificate. The examining officer shall prepare a report as to the applicant's eligibility to receive the certificate. Every applicant for a certificate of naturalization or repatriation under this part shall be required to satisfy the district director that he has not, since the naturalization or repatriation, become expatriated. If it shall appear to the satisfaction of the district director that the applicant is a citizen, and that he has been naturalized or repatriated as claimed, a certificate of naturalization on Form N-582, in duplicate, or a certificate of repatriation on Form N-581, in duplicate, as appropriate, shall be issued by the district director and forwarded to the field office for delivery of the original to the applicant in person, in the United States only, upon his signed receipt therefor.

§ 343.13 Denial of application. If the district director is not satisfied that an application under this part should be granted, he shall deny the application. The applicant shall be notified in writing of such denial with the reasons therefor and, at the same time, shall be advised that he has ten days from the date of receipt of notification in which he may appeal to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, in accordance with the provisions of Part 7 of this chapter. The Assistant Commissioner's decision shall be transmitted to the district director, who shall advise the applicant in writing of the decision and take such action as is required by the decision. If the application is granted by the Assistant Commissioner, the district director shall issue the appropriate document.

(b) New certificate in changed name. A naturalized citizen whose name has been changed after naturalization by order of court or by marriage, may apply on Form N–565 for a new certificate of naturalization, or of citizenship, in the changed name.

§ 343a.12 Submission of application; fees and documents. An application under § 343a.11 shall be submitted to the Service in accordance with the instructions contained therein. Applications under § 343a.11 (a) and (b) shall be accompanied by the statutory fee of $5 (unless the applicant is exempted from the payment of a fee by section 344 (b) (7) of the Immigration and Nationality Act), except that an application for a certified copy of proceedings under the act of June 25, 1936, as amended, shall be accompanied by the statutory fee of $1.50. The applications shall be accompanied by all mutilated naturalization, citizenship or repatriation papers. An application for a new certificate in a changed name shall be accompanied by documentary evidence of such change and the original certificate.

§ 343a.13 Interrogation of applicant. The field office shall forward the applications and all supporting documents to the district director having jurisdiction over the applicant's place of residence, for decision. The applicant shall be interrogated by an officer of the Service with respect to his eligibility to receive a new paper at any time prior to delivery of such paper. Every applicant under this part shall satisfy the district director that he has not become expatriated subsequent to the date he claims to have acquired United States citizenship.

§ 343a.14 Action upon application— (a) New certificates issued. If an application for a new certificate of naturalization, citizenship, or repatriation is approved, the new certificate shall be issued by the district director, in duplicate, and transmitted to the appropriate field office for personal delivery to the applicant, who shall sign a receipt therefor. The new certificate shall be numbered to correspond to the number of the paper which it replaces. Certificates issued to evidence naturalization which occurred prior to September 27, 1906, shall be consecutively numbered, the number in each instance being preceded by the letters "OL". New certificates issued under this part shall be on the following forms: Form N–570 to replace a certificate of naturalization or repatriation, and Form N–561 to replace a certificate of citizenship issued by the Service. When a new certificate of naturalization is issued in a changed name, the district director shall notify the clerk of the naturalization court, on Form N–240, of the action taken.

(b) New declarations issued. If an application for a new declaration of intention is approved, the new declaration of intention shall be issued by the district director on Form N–321 or Form N–325, in duplicate, as appropriate, the original delivered to the applicant upon his signed receipt therefor, and the duplicate retained in the declarant's Service file.

(c) New certified copy of repatriation proceedings issued. If an application for a new certified copy of the proceedings under the act of June 25, 1936, as amended, or under section 317 (b) of the Nationality Act of 1940, or under section 324 (c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act is approved, there shall be issued by the district director a certified, positive photocopy of the record of the proceedings filed in the Central Office, whether such record be a duplicate of the court proceedings or a copy of the proceedings conducted at an embassy, legation, or consulate. If subsequent to the naturalization or repatriation the applicant's name has been changed by marriage, and if appropriate documentary evidence of such change is submitted with the application, the certification of the positive photocopy shall show both the name in which the proceedings were had and the changed name. The new certified copy shall be transmitted to the appropriate field office for personal delivery to the applicant, who shall sign a receipt therefor.

(d) Denial of application. If the district director is not satisfied that an application under this part should be granted, he shall deny the application. The applicant shall be notified in writing of such denial with the reasons therefor and, at the same time, shall be advised that he has ten days from the date of receipt of notification of the decision in which he may appeal to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, in accordance with the provisions of Part 7 of this chapter. The Assistant Commissioner's decision shall be transmitted to the district director, who shall advise the applicant in writing of the decision and take such action as is required by the decision. If the application is granted by the Assistant Commissioner, the district director shall issue the appropriate document.

AUTHORITY: §§ 343b.11 to 343b.13 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 332, 343, 344, 66 Stat. 252, 264.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 343b.11 Application and fee. A naturalized citizen who desires to obtain recognition as a citizen of the United States by a foreign state shall submit to the Service an application on Form N–577, in accordance with the instructions contained therein and with the statutory fee of $5.

§ 343b.12 Investigation; certificate; disposition. The field office shall forward a properly executed application to the district director for decision. If it shall appear to the satisfaction of the district director that the application should be granted, a special certificate of naturalization on Form N–578 shall be issued by the district director in duplicate, the original of which shall be forwarded to the Secretary of State for transmission to the proper authority of the foreign state. The duplicate shall be retained in the Service file of the naturalized person. The district director shall advise the applicant, on Form N–568, of the action taken. If the applicant is within the United States, an officer of the Service shall interrogate the applicant at any time before the certificate is forwarded to the Secretary of State and shall prepare a report as to the applicant's eligibility for the certificate. If the applicant is outside the United States, the certificate shall be transmitted to the Secretary of State, who shall designate an employee of the Department of State in the foreign country in which the applicant is residing to interrogate the applicant before delivery of the certificate to the proper authority in the foreign state. Every applicant under this part shall satisfy the district director that he has not, since naturalization, lost his United States citizenship.

§ 343b.13 Denial of application. If the district director is not satisfied that the application should be granted, he shall deny the application. The applicant shall be notified in writing of such denial with the reasons therefor, and, at the same time, shall be advised that he has ten days from the date of receipt of notification of the decision in which he may appeal to the Assistant Commissioner, Inspections and Examinations Division, in accordance with the provisions of Part 7 of this chapter. The Assistant Commissioner's decision shall be transmitted to the district director, who shall advise the applicant in writing of the decision and take such action as is required by the decision. If the application is granted by the Assistant Commissioner, the district director shall issue the special certificate, as provided in § 343b.12.

§ 343c.11 Application for certification of naturalization record of court or certificate of naturalization or citizenship. Applications for certification of a naturalization record of any court, or of any part thereof, or of any certificate of naturalization, repatriation, or citizenship, under section 343 (e) of the Immigration and Nationality Act for use in complying with any statute, Federal or State, or in any judicial proceeding, shall be made on Form N–585 in accordance with the instructions contained therein and submitted to the Service with a fee as provided in Part 2 of this chapter. If the certification is desired for use in complying with a statute, the date and citation of the statute concerned shall be stated in the application. If it is desired for use in a judicial proceeding, the application shall set forth the title and character of the proceedings and the court in which it is pending. The application shall state the name, title and address of the public official to whom, or the court to which, the certification should be sent.

(Sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interprets or applies secs. 332, 333, 343, 344, 66 Stat. 252, 254, 264)

PART 344—FEES COLLECTED BY CLERKS OF COURT

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

Sec.
344.1 Division of the year for accounting for naturalization fees.
344.2 Fees in United States courts; remittance.
344.3 Fees in other than United States courts; United States District Courts in Alaska; remittance.
344.4 Fees in the District Courts at the Virgin Islands and Guam; remittance.
344.5 Time for report of and accounting for fees collected.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS [RESERVED]

AUTHORITY: §§ 344.1 to 344.5 issued under sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173. Interpret or apply secs. 332, 344, 66 Stat. 252, 264, 265.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 344.1 Division of the year for accounting for naturalization fees. For the purpose of accounting for and reporting naturalization fees quarterly by clerks of courts, the fiscal year shall end on June 30 of any given calendar year and shall be divided as follows: the first quarter shall end September 30; the second quarter ends December 31; the third quarter ends March 31; and the fourth quarter ends June 30.

§ 344.2 Fees in United States courts; remittance. All fees collected for declarations of intention and petitions for naturalization by clerks of United States district courts (except in Alaska, and the District Courts of Guam and the Virgin Islands of the United States) shall be forwarded quarterly to the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the place in which the court is located, by a remittance payable to the order of the "Treasurer of the United States."

§ 344.3 Fees in other than United States courts; United States District Courts in Alaska; remittance. One-half of all fees collected for declarations of intention and petitions for naturalization by clerks of courts other than United States courts, and one-half of all such fees collected by the clerks of the United States district courts in Alaska, up to $6,000 in any one fiscal year shall be similarly remitted to the district director in the manner provided in § 344.2. Where the collections during the first quarter of any fiscal year equal or exceed $1,500, the clerk shall remit all in excess of $750; and whenever such collections for the first and second quarters equal or exceed $3,000, the clerk shall remit all in excess of $1,500; and whenever the collections for the first three quarters of the fiscal year equal or exceed $4,500, the clerk shall remit all in excess of $2,250; and whenever the total collections for any fiscal year equal or exceed $6,000, the clerk shall remit all fees or moneys so collected in excess of $3,000.

§ 344.4 Fees in the District Courts at the Virgin Islands and Guam; remittance. All fees collected for declarations of intention and petitions for naturalization by the clerk of the District Court of the Virgin Islands of the United States shall be paid into the Treasury of Virgin Islands. All such fees collected by the clerk of the District Court of Guam shall be paid into the Treasury of Guam. However, such clerks shall report the fees collected to the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the place in which the court is located, in accordance with § 344.5.

§ 344.5 Time for report of and accounting for fees collected. The accounting for naturalization fees collected and the payment of fees turned over to the district director as provided in §§ 344.2, 344.3 and 344.4 shall be made on Form N–7 within thirty days from the close of each quarter of each and every fiscal year.

Law 78, 82nd Cong.), for the sole purpose of engaging in agricultural employment as defined herein, and who is legally admitted to the United States for temporary employment in agriculture in accordance with the terms of the Migrant Labor Agreement of 1951, as amended, entered into between the Governments of the United States and Mexico.

(b) The term "agricultural employment" means:

(1) Cultivation and tillage of the soil, planting, production, cultivation, growing, and harvesting of any agricultural or horticultural commodities and any practices (including any forestry or lumbering operations) performed by a farmer or on a farm as an incident to or in conjunction with such farming operations, including preparations for market, delivery to storage, or to market, or to a carrier for transportation to market; or

(2) The maintenance of a farm and its tools and equipment, or salvaging of timber or clearing land of brush and other debris left by a hurricane, if the major part of such service is performed on a farm; or

(3) The maintenance of ditches, canals, reservoirs, or waterways, not owned or operated for profit and used exclusively for supplying or storing water for farming purposes, and cotton ginning; or

(4) Handling, drying, packing, packaging, processing, freezing, grading or storing, in its unmanufactured state any agricultural or horticultural commodity for the operator of a farm; but only if such operator produced more than one-half of the commodity with respect to which the service is performed; or

(5) All of the activities described in subparagraph (4) of this paragraph for a group of operators of farms but only if such operators produced the commodities with respect to which such activities are performed: Provided, That the provisions of this subparagraph and subparagraph (4) of this paragraph shall not be applicable with respect to services performed in connection with commercial canning or commercial freezing, or in connection with any agricultural or horticultural commodities, after their delivery to a terminal market for distribution or consumption.

(c) The term "employer" means:

(1) The operator of agricultural property who is engaged in agricultural employment, as defined in this section;

(2) An association or other group of employees but only if those of its members for whom Mexican workers are being obtained are bound, in the event of its default, to carry out the obligations undertaken by it pursuant to the provisions of the Migrant Labor Agreement of 1951, as amended, unless the Secretary of Labor of the United States determines that such individual liability is not necessary to assure performance of such obligations; or

(3) A processor, shipper or marketer of agricultural products when the Mexican workers whom he obtains are employed by him in agriculture or crops purchased by him.

§ 475.2 Period for which admitted. An agricultural worker may be admitted to the United States as a nonimmigrant pursuant to section 101 (a) (15) (H) of the Immigration and Nationality Act: Provided:

(a) That the initial period of admission shall not extend beyond December 31, 1953, nor shall any extension be granted which would permit such worker to remain in the United States beyond December 31, 1953;

(b) That no maintenance-of-status or departure bond shall be required; and

(c) That the period of temporary admission shall be subject to immediate revocation, without notice, by the district director of the district having jurisdiction over the place of the alien's employment upon—

(1) Failure of the agricultural worker to maintain his status as such by accepting any employment or engaging in any activities not specifically authorized at the time of his recruitment and temporary admission;

(2) Withdrawal of the employer's certification because of violation of Title V of the Agricultural Act of 1949, as amended, or the Migrant Labor Agreement of 1951, as amended, or individual work contract made thereunder, as specified in § 475.4 (b); or

(3) Determination and notification by the Secretary of Labor that sufficient domestic workers who are able, willing, and qualified are available at the time and place needed to perform the work for which such workers are employed, or that the employment of such workers is adversely affecting the wages and working conditions of domestic agricultural workers similarly employed, or that reasonable efforts have not been made to attract domestic workers for such employment at wages and standard hours of work comparable to those offered to foreign workers; or

(4) Termination of the Migrant Labor Agreement of 1951, as amended, prior to December 31, 1953.

§ 475.3 Conditions of admission. Any alien who applies for admission into the United States under the provisions of Title V of the Agricultural Act of 1949, as amended, and the provisions of this part, must:

(a) Establish that he is an agricultural worker as defined in § 475.1 (a);

(b) Establish that he is in all respects admissible under the provisions of the immigration laws;

(c) Have been regularly recruited by the Secretary of Labor as an agricultural worker; and

(d) Establish to the satisfaction of the examining immigration officer that, if admitted, he will comply with all of the conditions of such admission.

§ 475.4 Compliance by employer. (a) No agricultural workers shall be made available to, nor shall any such workers made available be permitted to remain in the employ of, any employer who has in his employ any Mexican alien when such employer knows or has reasonable grounds to believe or suspect or by reasonable inquiry could have ascertained that such Mexican alien is not lawfully within the United States. Whenever it shall appear that a Mexican alien not lawfully in the United States is so employed, an investigation shall be made and a report submitted to the district director having jurisdiction over the place of the alien's employment.

(b) Upon notification from the Secretary of Labor that an employer fails or refuses to comply with the provision of Title V of the Agricultural Act of 1949, as amended, or the Migrant Labor Agreement of 1951, as amended, or individual work contract made thereunder, the temporary admission of all agricultural workers employed by such employer may be revoked in the same manner as provided in § 475.2 (c).

(c) If a Mexican agricultural worker leaves his employment without proper authorization, the employer shall report such departure immediately or within five days thereof to the district director having jurisdiction over the reception center at which the worker was recruited. Such notification shall contain (1) the individual worker's name, as shown in the employer's copy of the contract; (2) the worker's Form I–100a number; (3) the location of the reception center at which the worker was originally contracted, and (4) the date the worker left the employer.

§ 475.5 Extension of stay; conditions. After an alien has been admitted to the United States as an agricultural worker under the provisions of this part or of prior regulations pertaining to Title V of the Agricultural Act of 1949, as amended, he may be granted an extension or extensions of the period of his temporary admission by the district director or the officer in charge having jurisdiction over the place of the alien's employment, subject to the same limitations as are placed on original admission by § 475.2.

§ 475.6 Readmission after temporary visits to Mexico. (a) An agricultural worker who has been admitted to the United States under the provisions of this part or of prior regulations pertaining to Title V of the Agricultural Act of 1949, as amended, may be readmitted after temporary visits to Mexico on presentation of Form I–100a, Alien Laborer's Permit and Identification Card, if he is still maintaining the status of an agricultural worker in the United States.

(b) An agricultural worker who is granted a furlough shall be furnished by the employer with a letter stating the time for which the furlough is granted and that all contractual obligations will be reassumed upon the alien's return to his employment after the furlough. The letter shall be appropriately endorsed to show approval of the furlough by a representative of the United States Employment Service and the appropriate Mexican Consul if the furlough:

(1) Is for more than 15 days, or

(2) Is to take place during the last 15 days of a six-week contract, or

(3) Is to take place during the last 30 days of a contract of more than six weeks.

§ 475.7 Previous removal, deportation; permission to reapply. An alien who established that he is in all respects entitled to admission as an agricultural worker under the provisions of this part, except that he has been previously removed at Government expense pursuant to section 242 (b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, or excluded or arrested and deported, on not more than one occasion solely because of illegal entry or absence of required documents, is hereby granted permission to reapply for admission to the United States as an agricultural worker.

§ 475.8 Arrest and deportation of agricultural workers. (a) An alien admitted to the United States as an agricultural worker shall be deemed to have failed to maintain his nonimmigrant status within the meaning of section 241 (a) (9) of the Immigration and Nationality Act if:

(1) He remains in the United States after the expiration of the time for which he was temporarily admitted or after the expiration of any authorized extension of such period; or

(2) He violates or fails to fulfill any of the other conditions of his admission to or extended stay in the United States; or

(3) He evidences orally or in writing or by conduct an intention to violate or to fail to fulfill any of the conditions of his temporary admission to or extended stay in the United States; or

(4) He remains in the United States after the period of his temporary admission or extended stay is revoked pursuant to § 475.2 (c).

(b) Any alien to whom paragraph (a) of this section is applicable shall be subject to being taken into custody and made the subject of further proceedings under the applicable provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act and the regulations in this chapter.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NONSUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 475.21 Recruitment centers; preliminary inspection. To the extent possible under the circumstances, all immigration inspections and medical examinations of the agricultural workers at recruitment centers in Mexico shall be similar to those regularly conducted at ports of entry on the border. If the immigration officer at the recruitment center in Mexico determines that the alien is admissible as an agricultural worker he shall so note and initial the conditional permit which is issued to the alien by the Secretary of Labor when the alien is recruited. Such endorsement shall not be construed as a guarantee that the alien will be admitted to the United States nor shall the alien be entitled to accept employment in the United States unless and until he has been issued Form I–100a as prescribed in § 475.22. Aliens who have been issued conditional permits, which have been noted by immigration officers, will be conveyed directly from the recruitment center to a reception center at or near a port of entry under the supervision of representatives of the Secretary of Labor for completion of immigration inspection and registration pursuant to Chapter 7 of Title II of the Immigration and Nationality Act. The conveyance of an agricultural worker to a reception center shall not constitute an admission to the United States. Such alien shall be considered to have been admitted to the United States only after he has been inspected and issued Form I–100 as prescribed in § 475.22. If the immigration officer at the recruitment center in Mexico determines that the alien is inadmissible as an agricultural worker, he shall refuse to note the alien's conditional permit and such decision by the immigration officer shall not be subject to appeal to a special inquiry officer.

§ 475.22 Immigration inspection at reception centers; authority to admit; hearings before special inquiry officer. (a) Any alien who presents the conditional permit described in § 475.21, duly noted by an immigration officer at a recruitment center, who is found to be admissible under this part as an agricultural worker may be so admitted by the examining immigration officer, at which time he shall—

(1) Be fingerprinted as follows:

(i) By placing the rolled impression of the right index finger on the reverse side of the original Form I–100a, Alien Laborer's Permit and Identification Card, which shall be prepared in duplicate in each such case;

(ii) By placing complete fingerprints of both hands on one copy of Form AR–4; and

(iii) By executing the obverse of Form AR–4 and placing thereon the serial number of the Form I–100a and a stamped notation reading "Admitted as agricultural worker"; the executed form shall be mailed direct to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Washington 25, D. C.

(2) Be given the Form I–100a bearing his photograph and stating his name, place of birth and citizenship, duly noted by an immigration officer to show the date, place, and period of his admission into the United States and signed by said immigration officer across the bottom of the photograph, partly on the photograph and partly on the card. Such noted card shall constitute an alien registration receipt card pursuant to section 264 (d) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and shall be the sole documentation required for admission to the United States under the provisions of this part. The Form I–100 shall be forwarded to and retained by the district director of the district having jurisdiction over the port of the alien's entry.

(3) The foregoing shall be deemed to be in compliance with the provisions of Chapter 7 of Title II of the Immigration and Nationality Act relating to the registration of aliens.

(b) Any alien seeking admission under this part in whose case the examining immigration officer at the reception center is not satisfied that such alien is admissible, shall be held for hearing before a special inquiry officer, and the procedure applicable to aliens seeking admission to the United States under the general provision of the immigration laws shall be followed: Provided, however, That the case of an alien believed to be inadmissible to the United States under the provisions of paragraphs (27), (28) or (29) of section 212 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be handled in accordance with the provisions of section 235 (c) of the said act and § 235.15 of this chapter.

475.51 Extension of period of admission.

§ 475.23 Recontracting in the United States. During the period for which he is admitted, or any authorized extension thereof, an agricultural worker may, with the approval of the district director having jurisdiction over the place of the alien's employment, be recontracted by the same or another employer. When an agricultural worker is so recontracted, his Form I–100a shall be appropriately noted and the officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the port of the alien's entry notified.

§ 475.24 Duplicate identification cards. Duplicate Form I–100a may be issued in the discretion of the district director or the officer in charge having jurisdiction over the place of alien's employment where the original has been lost, mutilated, or destroyed. The officer in charge having administrative jurisdiction over the port of the alien's entry shall be notified of the issuance of such a duplicate Form I–100a.

§ 475.51 Extension of period of admission. Extension of the temporary admission of an alien admitted to the United States as an agricultural worker under Title V of the Agricultural Act of 1949, as amended, and regulations pursuant thereto or under this part may be granted by the district director or the officer in charge having jurisdiction over the place of the alien's employment only upon determination and certification by the Secretary of Labor that:

(a) Sufficient domestic workers who are able, willing, and qualified are not available at the time and place needed to perform the work for which such workers are to be employed;

(b) The employment of such workers will not adversely affect the wages and working conditions of domestic agricultural workers similarly employed; and

(c) Reasonable efforts have been made to attract domestic workers for such employment at wages and standard hours of work comparable to those offered to foreign workers.

PART 22—APPEALS OF PREFERENCE ELIGIBLES UNDER THE VETERANS' PREFERENCE ACT OF 1944

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, paragraph (a) of § 22.9, paragraphs (c) and (e) (1) of § 22.11 are amended to read as set out below:

§ 22.9 Hearings—(a) Right to appear personally or by representative. Appellants shall have the right to a hearing and to appear personally or through or accompanied by a designated representative in connection with their appeals to the Office of the Chief Law Officer or the regional office as the case may be. Employing agencies shall also have the right to participate in such hearings. Both parties shall have the right to produce witnesses and to cross-examine witnesses in hearings. If an appellant has expressed a desire for a hearing, arrangements will be made at any stage of the proceedings agreed upon between the appellant and the Office of the Chief Law Officer or regional office concerned. This will be the only opportunity for a hearing and presentation of evidence and witnesses in connection with the appeal, except as provided in § 22.11 (e).

• • • • • •

§ 22.11 Further appeals to the Commissioners. • • •

(e) Board of Appeals and Review Procedures. The Board of Appeals and Review will review the entire record of such further appeals. In its discretion, the Board may afford the parties an opportunity to appear personally and present oral arguments and representations on the procedural aspects of the case and merits of the appeal, but no evidence will be considered by the Board which could have been submitted at the time of the original appeal to the Office of the Chief Law Officer or regional office. If alleged new evidence is offered which was not available at the time of original appeal, the Board will consider whether the evidence is actually new and of such material consequence that the case should be remanded to the office of original jurisdiction. If the case is remanded the appeal will begin anew in the office of original jurisdiction. In exceptional cases the Board may in its discretion receive and consider new evidence without remanding the case and may afford the parties an opportunity to produce witnesses and cross-examine witnesses.

• • • • • •

(e) Reopened appeals. (1) The Commissioners may in their discretion, when in their judgment such action appears warranted by the circumstances, reopen an appeal at the request of the appellant, or his designated representative, or the employing agency concerned and may grant both parties an opportunity for a personal appearance. In connection with such reopened appeals, both parties will be afforded an opportunity to submit briefs or written representations.

TITLE 19—CUSTOMS DUTIES

Chapter I—Bureau of Customs, Department of the Treasury

[T. D. 53159]

PART 13—SUGARS, SIRUPS, AND MOLASSES; PETROLEUM PRODUCTS; WOOL AND HAIR

CLEAN CONTENT OF IMPORTED WOOL AND HAIR

The United States Court of Customs and Patent Appeals in its decision in United States v. Fred Whitaker Co., Inc. (1952) C. A. D. 492, 40 C. C. P. A. —, affirming Fred Whitaker Co., Inc. v. United States (1951) C. D. 1365, has ruled that the expression "clean content" contained in paragraph 1102 (b), Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U. S. C. 1001, par. 1102 (b)), was intended by Congress to mean the "commercial yield" of imported wool, that is, as the court stated, "• • • the wool from which all the weight of grease and foreign material has been removed, including the wool fibers which are unavoidably and irrevocably lost" as a result of commercially applied cleaning processes.

In order to reflect the decision announced by the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals in this case, the definition of "clean content" of imported wool and hair contained in § 13.11 (a) (1), Customs Regulations of 1943 (19 CFR 13.11 (a) (1)), is amended to prescribe that wool or hair fibers ordinarily lost during commercial cleaning operations shall not fall within the meaning of that expression. Section 13.14, Customs Regulations of 1943 (19 CFR 13.14), is amended to prescribe a method, based on the best available information, for ascertaining in connection with the examination of imported wool and hair the allowance to be made for the estimated ordinary loss of such fibers. This method is designed to produce uniform and reasonably accurate allowances which are applicable to each type and condition of imported wool and hair. Section 13.14 is also amended to prescribe procedures and conditions according to which importers may elect to submit proof of actual irrecoverable losses of wool or hair fibers resulting from commercial cleaning operations.

1. Section 13.11 Definitions, paragraph (a) (1), Customs Regulations of 1943 (19 CFR 13.11 (a) (1)), as amended, is hereby further amended by adding at the end thereof the following new sentence: "'Clean content', as herein defined, shall not include the quantity of any wool or hair fibers ordinarily lost during commercial cleaning operations."

2. Section 13.14, Customs Regulations of 1943 (19 CFR 13.14), as amended, is hereby further amended by deleting the asterisk at the end of paragraph (e) and by adding the following new paragraphs (f) and (g):

§ 13.14 Weighing, sampling, and laboratory testing for clean content. • • •

(f) Except as provided in paragraph (g) of this section, in the determination of the clean content of any general sample taken in accordance with this section, an allowance in weight shall be made for wool or hair fibers which it is estimated will be lost ordinarily during commercial cleaning operations. For each general sample the scoured yield of the imported wool or hair and the quantity of vegetable matter present in the general sample shall be ascertained. The weight of the vegetable matter shall be subtracted from the weight of the scoured yield, and the difference shall be considered the weight of the clean fibers present in the imported wool or hair. The allowance for the quantity of wool or hair fibers estimated to be lost ordinarily during commercial cleaning operations shall be computed by making a base allowance of five one-thousandths (0.005) of the ascertained weight of the clean fibers present in the imported wool or hair and an additional allowance of six-tenths (0.6) of a pound for each pound of ascertained vegetable matter: Provided, That the combined allowance for such estimated commercial cleaning loss of fibers shall not exceed 15 per centum of the ascertained weight of the clean wool or hair fibers.

(g) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, an allowance equal to the actual irrecoverable loss in weight of wool or hair fibers resulting from commercial cleaning processes to which a particular sampling unit of wool or hair is subjected shall be made if the importer at the time of entry, or withdrawal from warehouse, for consumption notifies the collector of his intention to furnish evidence establishing such actual irrecoverable loss and produces such evidence within three years from the date of entry or withdrawal. In such cases (1) absolute segregation of such wool or hair shall be maintained until the importer has been notified by the collector that he has accepted evidence showing such actual irrecoverable loss; (2) such evidence shall not be based on samples or estimates, but shall include manufacturer's records showing in detail the actual irrecoverable losses, if any, in wool or hair fibers resulting from commercial cleaning processes to which the whole of the segregated wool or hair has been subjected; (3) such wool or hair and records relating thereto, which are pertinent in this connection, shall be kept available for such inspection as the collector may from time to time deem appropriate; (4) liquidation of the entry covering such wool or hair shall be suspended pending acceptance by the collector of evidence of actual irrecoverable loss, unless such evidence is not furnished within 3 years from the date of entry or withdrawal; and (5) if such evidence is not furnished within that time, it shall be presumed that no such loss has occurred and in those cases, no allowance for any loss of wool or hair fibers after importation shall be made in the determination of the clean content of the sampling unit, notwithstanding any other provision of this part: Provided, That as to wool or hair which has not been entered for warehouse an importer may abandon his intention to furnish evidence of actual irrecoverable losses by filing written notice of such abandonment with the collector within 60 days after entry. If such notice of abandonment is filed, the provisions of paragraph (f) of this section shall apply as if no notification under this paragraph had been filed.

(R. S. 251, sec. 1 (pars. 1101–1104), 46 Stat. 646, 647, as amended, sec. 624, 46 Stat. 759; 19 U. S. C. 66, 1001 (pars. 1101–1104), 1624)

Notice of the proposed issuance of the foregoing instructions was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on September 9, 1952 (17 F. R. 8124), pursuant to section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1002). The basis of the instructions is section 1 (pars. 1101–1104) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U. S. C. 1001 (pars. 1101–1104)), as construed by the courts and their purpose is to amend the definition of "clean content" of imported wool and hair and to provide for the ascertainment of such "clean content" in connection with the assessment and collection of customs duties.

These instructions shall be effective on the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, the delayed effective date provisions of section 4 (c) of the Administrative Procedure Act being dispensed with because the instructions relate primarily to actions to be taken by customs officers and, although affecting rights of interested persons, do not require any action to be taken by such persons.

[SEAL] FRANK DOW,
Commissioner of Customs.

Approved: December 16, 1952.

JOHN S. GRAHAM,
Acting Secretary of the Treasury.

§ 40.4 Classes of aliens eligible to apply for diplomatic visas—(a) Regular diplomatic visas. Aliens of the following classes seeking to enter the United States as nonimmigrants may apply for regular diplomatic visas:

(1) Heads of states and their alternates;

(2) Members of a reigning royal family;

(3) Governors - general, governors, high commissioners, and other similar high administrative or executive officers of a territorial unit, and their alternates;

(4) Cabinet ministers and their assistants holding executive or administrative positions not inferior to that of the head of a departmental division, and their alternates;

(5) Presiding officers of chambers of national legislative bodies;

(6) Justices of the highest national judicial tribunal of a foreign country;

(7) Officers of the diplomatic service and consular officers of career of a foreign government;

(8) Diplomatic couriers regularly and professionally employed as such by a foreign government;

(9) Military, naval, air and other attachés of career, and assistant attachés of career, assigned to a foreign diplomatic mission in the United States or elsewhere;

(10) Military officers holding a rank not inferior to that of a brigadier general in the United States Army or Air Force and naval officers holding a rank not inferior to that of a rear admiral in the United States Navy;

(11) Members of a diplomatic mission of a temporary character;

(12) Officers and representative-members of international bodies of an official nature, other than international organizations so designated by Executive order;

(13) Representatives of foreign governments, and the staff members of foreign-government delegations, to international organizations so designated by Executive order;

(14) Attendants, servants, and personal employees, as defined in § 41.30 of this subchapter, of a principal alien who is within one of the classes described in subparagraphs (1) to (13), inclusive, of this paragraph;

(15) Members of the immediate family of a principal alien who is within one of the classes described in subparagraphs (1) to (13), inclusive, of this paragraph;

(16) Members of the immediate family accompanying or following to join the principal alien who is within one of the classes described in subparagraph (14) of this paragraph; and

(17) Any other alien in whose individual case the Department may specifically authorize the diplomatic or consular officer to accept an application for a regular diplomatic visa.

(b) Limited diplomatic visas. Aliens of the following classes seeking to enter the United States as nonimmigrants, if not classifiable within one of the categories specified in paragraph (a) of this section, may apply for limited diplomatic visas:

(1) Subordinate members, including employees, of international bodies of an official nature, other than international organizations so designated by Executive order, who are traveling on official business of such international body;

(2) Subordinate staff members, including employees, of foreign-government delegations to international organizations so designated by Executive order;

(3 Members of delegations proceeding to or from a specific international conference of an official nature;

(4) Members of the immediate family, attendants, servants, and personal employees, accompanying or following to join the principal alien who is within one of the classes described in subparagraphs (1) to (3), inclusive of this paragraph;

(5) Any other alien in whose individual case the Department may specifically authorize the diplomatic or consular officer to accept an application for a limited diplomatic visa.

§ 40.5 Classes of aliens ineligible to receive diplomatic visas. Ineligibility to receive a diplomatic visa shall not preclude an alien from applying for a nondiplomatic visa appropriate to his case as an immigrant or as a nonimmigrant. The following classes of aliens shall be considered ineligible to receive diplomatic visas:

(a) Aliens declared by the Department to be individually persona non grata;

(b) Aliens not in possession of a diplomatic passport, or its equivalent if the government to which they owe allegiance does not issue diplomatic passports to any of its nationals;

(c) Aliens not within one of the classes described in § 40.4;

(d) Aliens not within one of the classes of nonimmigrants defined in section 101 (a) (15) or section 212 (d) (8) of the act;

(e) Aliens who are ineligible to receive nonimmigrant visas under the immigration laws and regulations, unless the Attorney General shall have authorized their temporary admission under the authority contained in section 212 (d) (3) of the act, if applicable.

§ 40.6 Advisory opinions from the Department. Subject to appropriate instructions from the Department, a diplomatic or consular officer may issue a diplomatic visa, or may refuse to issue a diplomatic visa in the case of an alien eligible for a nondiplomatic nonimmigrant visa, without reference to the Department for an advisory opinion. In the case of an applicant for a diplomatic visa who is found to be ineligible to receive a nonimmigrant visa of any kind, the diplomatic or consular officer shall be governed by the regulations contained in Part 41 of this subchapter, and by any special instructions received from the Department, regarding the requirement of advisory opinions.

§ 40.7 Application for diplomatic visa. (a) Application for a diplomatic visa shall be made at an American mission, or at a consular office authorized to issue diplomatic visas, regardless of the nationality or place of residence of the applicant.

(b) Application for a diplomatic visa shall be made in person, unless the personal appearance of the applicant for the purpose of executing such application is not required in the discretion of the diplomatic or consular officer concerned, in which event the information required to complete the application Form 257 shall be obtained and inserted by the diplomatic or consular officer. No oath or affirmation shall be required in connection with the execution of an application for a diplomatic visa.

(c) Application for a diplomatic visa shall be made on Form 257 by or for each person 14 years of age or over, regardless of the number of persons to be included in such visa. Each alien 10 years of age or over, to be included in a diplomatic visa, shall furnish 3 identical and signed photographs of himself, unless the alien is exempted in the discretion of the diplomatic or consular officer, from compliance with the photograph requirements on the ground that such requirements would result in unusual and exceptional hardship or inconvenience, in which event a signed notation shall be made by the diplomatic or consular officer in the space provided for a photograph in the application form. Forms 257a, 257b, and 257d, when completed, shall be appended to the alien's passport and presented by the alien with his passport to the immigration officer at a port of entry when applying for admission into the United States. Form 257c shall be retained in the files of the issuing office.

§ 40.8 Passport requirement. (a) Every alien applying for a diplomatic visa shall be required to present a valid diplomatic passport, or the equivalent thereof, issued by a competent authority of a foreign government recognized de jure by the United States.

(b) The issuance of a diplomatic visa to an alien within Class A–3 or G–5 as described in § 41.5 of this subchapter shall be subject to the condition that the initial period for which the alien may properly be admitted into the United States under the act is to be determined by the Immigration and Naturalization Service after the alien arrives at a port of entry, and the period of stay authorized by that Service may not extend beyond a date which is 6 months prior to the expiration of the alien's passport. An alien whose passport is not valid for the necessary period shall be required to obtain and present such a passport before the diplomatic visa is issued.

§ 40.9 Evidence of diplomatic status. A diplomatic or consular officer to whom an alien applies for a diplomatic visa may require any reasonable evidence he deems necessary to establish such alien's eligibility to receive a diplomatic visa. In the case of an alien classifiable within the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (A) or (G) of the act, the officer to whom application is made shall have discretionary authority to require confirmation of the status of such alien from the foreign office or the international organization concerned.

§ 40.10 Procedure in issuing diplomatic visas. (a) The form of a diplomatic visa shall be the same as the nondiplomatic nonimmigrant visa, except that it may bear the title "Diplomatic Visa" or the word "Diplomatic" shall be stamped diagonally across the lower left hand margin of the visa stamp, in such manner as to be partially covered by the impression seal of the office. The word "Gratis" shall be inserted in the space provided for a fee stamp. The printed title of the signing officer in the visa stamp shall be appropriately amended to show the exact title of the officer who signs the visa.

(b) The diplomatic visa stamp shall be impressed upon the alien's passport. The "V" number of the application of each alien included in the diplomatic visa shall be inserted in the blank space provided therefor in the visa stamp. The visa shall be considered as covering all aliens whose application numbers are so listed and who are included in the passport. In the case of an alien who is a member of the immediate family, or an attendant, servant, or personal employee, of a foreign-government official or employee, or who otherwise derives status from a principal alien who is not accompanying him, the name and position of the principal alien from whom such status is derived, shall be written below the lower margin of the visa stamp in the diplomatic passport.

(c) A diplomatic visa shall show the classification of the bearer to be a nonimmigrant under section 101 (a) (15) of the act. The applicable classification symbol, as specified in § 41.5 of this subchapter, shall be inserted in the space provided in the visa stamp. The date of issuance and the date of expiration of the visa shall be inserted in the visa stamp, showing the date, month, and year in that order, the name of the month being spelled out, as "24 December, 1952".

(d) In issuing a diplomatic visa to an alien who (1) contemplates a stay in the United States of more than 29 days and (2) will be subject after such stay to registration and fingerprinting in the United States under the provisions of sections 262 and 263 of the act, and the regulations of the Attorney General issued pursuant thereto, the procedure prescribed in § 41.19 of this subchapter may be followed if the alien so desires.

(e) In issuing a diplomatic visa, the diplomatic or consular officer shall affix his signature, indicate his title, and impress the seal of his office in the spaces provided in the visa stamp. The delivery to the alien or his authorized agent of the visaed passport, with Forms 257a, 257b, and 257d attached, shall complete the issuance of the visa.

§ 40.11 Diplomatic visas issued without charge. In accordance with international comity and practice, and upon a basis of reciprocity, no fee shall be charged for the application for a diplomatic visa or for the issuance of such a visa.

§ 40.12 Significance of diplomatic visa. An alien to whom a diplomatic visa has been issued shall be entitled to apply at a port of entry for admission into the United States as a nonimmigrant, and the presentation of such a visa by such alien at a port of entry in the United States shall, in the case of an alien properly classified under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (A) or (G) of the act, or in the case of an alien who is an accredited official of a foreign government in immediate and continuous transit through the United States, as referred to in section 212 (d) (8) of the act, and who is classified under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (C) of the act, be considered conclusive evidence of the proper classification of the bearer.

§ 40.13 Revocation or cancellation of diplomatic visa—(a) Revocation. Diplomatic and consular officers are authorized to revoke ab initio a diplomatic visa in any case in which it is found that:

(1) The visa was procured by fraud or misrepresentation, or by other illegal means; or

(2) The alien was ineligible ab initio to receive the diplomatic visa under the immigration laws and regulations in effect at the time it was issued.

(b) Notice of revocation. Notice of the revocation of a diplomatic visa shall, if practicable, be given to the alien at his last known address prior to his departure for the United States, and to the master, commanding officer, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee, of the carrier or transportation line on which the alien is known or believed to intend to travel to the United States. Such notice shall also be communicated to the Department for transmission to the Attorney General, and to the diplomatic or consular office which issued the visa if the revocation was effected by any other diplomatic or consular office upon instruction from the issuing office or the Department. Upon receiving notice of revocation of his diplomatic visa, the alien shall be required to present his passport at the office indicated in the notice for appropriate notation on the visa stamped therein. The word "Revoked" shall be written plainly on the face of the visa stamp by the revoking officer who shall sign and date such notation, but the revocation shall be effective and shall invalidate the visa from the date of issuance even in the absence of such notation. If it is not practicable to give the alien notice of revocation prior to his departure for the United States, a full report of the facts in the case shall be submitted promptly to the Department.

(c) Cancellation. Diplomatic and consular officers are authorized to cancel in futuro a diplomatic visa in any case in which it is found that the alien to whom the visa was issued is no longer eligible for such visa. An alien shall be considered as no longer eligible for a diplomatic visa if he ceases, by reason of circumstances arising after the visa was issued, to have the qualifications necessary to obtain such a visa, or if another visa of any kind is issued to him. In any such case the alien shall be required to present his passport to the diplomatic or consular officer for cancellation of the diplomatic visa stamped therein. Such cancellation shall be effected by writing the word "Canceled" plainly on the face of the visa stamp. The cancelling officer shall sign and date his notation of cancellation. A report regarding each cancellation of a diplomatic visa shall be forwarded promptly to the Department by the cancelling officer.

(d) Record of revocation or cancellation. Upon the revocation or cancellation of a diplomatic visa, appropriate notation of the action taken, including a statement of the reason therefor, shall be made on Form 257c or on an appended memorandum, or a report of the action taken shall be forwarded to the issuing office for its files. An alien whose diplomatic visa has been revoked or cancelled shall be required to surrender Forms 257a, 257b, and 257d, as requested by the diplomatic or consular officer, if such forms have not been surrendered to the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

The regulations contained in this order shall become effective at 12:01 a. m. on December 24, 1952. The provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 238; 5 U. S. C. 1003) relative to notice of proposed rule making and delayed effective date are inapplicable to this order because the regulations contained therein involve foreign-affairs functions of the United States.

[SEAL] DAVID BRUCE,
Acting Secretary of State.

AUTHORITY: §§ 41.1 to 41.150 issued under section 104, 66 Stat. 174; 8 U. S. C. 1104. Statutory provisions interpreted or applied are cited to text in parentheses.

§ 41.1 Definitions. The following definitions, in addition to the pertinent definitions contained in the Immigration and Nationality Act, shall be applicable to this part:

(a) "Act" means the Immigration and Nationality Act.

(b) "Affirmation" means a verification in confirmation of truth, in lieu of a sworn statement, by a person who has conscientious scruples against taking an oath.

(c) "Consular officer", as defined in section 101 (a) (9) of the act, shall include the District Administrators of the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands hereby designated as consular officers for the purpose of issuing nonimmigrant visas.

(d) "Department" means the Department of State of the United States of America.

(e) "Passport" as defined in section 101 (a) (30) of the act shall not be considered as limited to a national passport, but shall be considered as including any other document issued by a competent authority, which shows the bearer's origin, identity, and nationality if any, and which is valid for the entry of the bearer into a foreign country. The term "passport" shall not be considered as limited to a single document but may consist of two or more documents which, when considered together, fulfill the requirements of a passport as defined in section 101 (a) (30) of the act: Provided, That written permission to enter a foreign country shall be considered as fulfilling one of such requirements if it is clearly valid for such purpose and specifies no conditions to such validity for the alien's entry into a foreign country.

(f) "Port of entry" means a port or place designated by the Attorney General or the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization at which an alien may apply for admission into the United States.

DOCUMENTATION OF NATIONALS, CLAIMANT NATIONALS AND FORMER NATIONALS

DOCUMENTATION NOT REQUIRED FOR CERTAIN NONIMMIGRANTS

§ 41.6 Nonimmigrants not required to present passports, visas, or border-crossing identification cards. The provisions of section 212 (a) (26) of the act relating to the requirement of passports, visas, and border-crossing identification cards for nonimmigrants, either do not apply as provided by law, or have been waived by the Secretary of State and the Attorney General acting jointly in pursuance of the authority contained in section 212 (d) (4) of the act, in the cases of aliens who are otherwise qualified for admission as nonimmigrants under the applicable provisions of the immigration laws and who fall within any of the following categories:

(a) A Canadian citizen who has a residence in Canada and

(1) Is making application for admission to the United States from Canada; or

(2) Is making application for admission to the United States after a visit solely to some place in foreign contiguous territory or adjacent islands.

(b) A British subject who has a residence in Canada and is making application for admission to the United States from Canada, or from, and after a visit solely to, some place in foreign contiguous territory or adjacent islands.

(c) A Mexican national who

(1) Is a military or civilian official or employee of the Mexican national government, or of a Mexican state or municipal government, and the members of his family, making an application for admission to the continental United States from Mexico on personal or official business or for pleasure; or

(2) Is passing in immediate and continuous transit through the continental United States from one place in Mexico to another by means of a transportation line which crosses the border between the United States and Mexico; or

(3) Is a member of a fire-fighting group entering the United States in connection with fire-fighting activities.

(d) International Boundary and Water Commission officers, employees, and other personnel, entering the United States in the performance of their official duties, and Mexican nationals employed directly or indirectly on the construction, operation, or maintenance of works in the United States undertaken in accordance with the treaty concluded on February 3, 1944, between the United States and Mexico, and entering the United States temporarily in connection with such employment.

(59 Stat. 1252)

(e) A French national who has a residence in French territory in the West Indies, who is in possession of a round-trip transportation ticket, and who is making application for admission into Puerto Rico or the Virgin Islands of the United States for business or pleasure.

(f) A Netherlands subject who has a residence in Netherlands territory in the West Indies and who is making an application for admission to Puerto Rico or the Virgin Islands of the United States for not more than twenty-four (24) hours.

(g) An alien who is being transported by railroad in immediate and continuous transit through the United States directly from one part of Canada to another, or directly from one part of Mexico to another, without stopover, in accordance with the terms of a contract, including a bonding agreement, entered into by the transportation line and the Attorney General under the provisions of section 238 (d) of the act: Provided, That at all times such alien is in transit through the United States he shall be in the custody of an officer of the United States or such other custody as may be approved by the Attorney General.

(h) An alien whose case is not within the provisions of paragraph (g) of this section, who is being transported in immediate and continuous transit through the United States without stopover from one foreign place to another in accordance with the terms of a contract, including a bonding agreement, entered into by a transportation line and the Attorney General, under the provisions of section 238 (d) of the act, to insure such immediate and continuous transit through, and departure from, the United States en route to a specifically designated foreign country: Provided, That such alien is in possession of a travel document which is valid for his entry into a foreign country for a period of not less than 60 days after the date of immediate and continuous transit through the United States: And provided further, That at all times such alien is not aboard an aircraft which is in flight through the United States he shall be in the custody of an officer of the United States.

(i) An alien member of the armed forces of the United States who (a) is in the uniform of, or who bears documents identifying him as a member of, such armed forces; (b) has not been lawfully admitted for permanent residence; and (c) is making application for admission to the United States under official orders or permit of such armed forces.

(Sec. 284, 66 Stat. 232; 8 U. S. C. 1354)

(j) An American Indian born in Canada, having at least fifty per centum of blood of the American Indian race, and passing the border of the United States.

(Sec. 289, 66 Stat. 234; 8 U. S. C. 1359)

§ 41.7 Nonimmigrants required to present passports but not visas or border-crossing identification cards. The provisions of section 212 (a) (26) of the act relating to the requirement of visas and border-crossing identification cards for nonimmigrants have been waived by the Secretary of State and the Attorney General, acting jointly, for aliens who are otherwise qualified for admission as nonimmigrants under the applicable provisions of the immigration laws and who fall within any of the following categories:

(a) A Canadian citizen having a residence in Canada who is returning thereto from any country or place, other than foreign contiguous territory or adjacent islands, and is making an application for admission to the United States.

(b) A British subject having a residence in British territory in the West Indies, who is making an application for admission to Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands of the United States.

(c) A Netherlands subject who has a residence in Netherlands territory in the West Indies and who is making an application for admission to Puerto Rico or the Virgin Islands of the United States for more than twenty-four (24) hours.

(d) Nationals of foreign contiguous territory or adjacent islands who are entering the United States as seasonal or temporary workers under specific legislation enacted by Congress and in accordance with international arrangements concluded upon the basis of such legislation.

(Sec. 212, 66 Stat. 187; 8 U. S. C. 1182)

NONIMMIGRANT VISA APPLICATIONS

§ 41.9 Application for nonimmigrant visas—(a) Form of application. Every alien applying at a diplomatic mission or consular office for a nonimmigrant visa shall make application on Form 257, which shall consist of an original and 3 copies, designated 257a, 257b, 257c, and 257d. The requirement that an alien shall state in such application his race and ethnic classification does not pertain to his religion.

(b) Aliens required to make separate application. Except as provided in § 41.11 relating to the issuance of visas to certain nonimmigrants in the United States, or as provided in § 41.65 relating to crew-list visas, every alien shall make a separate application for a nonimmigrant visa. In the case of an alien under 14 years of age, or one physically incapable of making an application, such application may be made by the alien's parent or guardian, and, if the alien has no parent or guardian, by any person having legal custody of, or a legitimate interest in, such alien.

(c) Personal appearance. Except as otherwise provided in this section, every alien applying at a diplomatic mission or consular office for a nonimmigrant visa shall be required to appear in person before a consular officer to execute Form 257. The requirement of personal appearance may, subject to operational instructions, be waived in the discretion of the consular officer, in the case of any alien who is within a class of nonimmigrants described in section 101 (a) (15) (A) or section 101 (a) (15) (G) of the act, or in the case of a child under 10 years of age. If a waiver of personal appearance is granted, the application form shall be completed by the consular officer from available information relating to the alien.

(d) Photographs. Except as hereinafter provided, every alien applying at a diplomatic mission or consular office for a nonimmigrant visa shall be required to furnish with his application 3 identical photographs of himself. A child under 10 years of age shall not be required to furnish photographs unless he is the bearer of a separate passport. The photographs shall reflect a reasonable likeness of the alien as of the time they are furnished. Each photograph shall be two by two inches in size, unmounted, without head covering, have a light background, and clearly show a full front view of the facial features of the alien. Each copy of the photograph shall be signed by the person making the application with the full name of the alien in such manner as not to obscure the alien's features. The requirements of this paragraph may be waived in the discretion of the consular officer in the case of any alien who is within a class of nonimmigrants described in section 101 (a) (15) (A) or (G) of the act, or in accordance with the Diplomatic Visa Regulations contained in Part 40 of this title. If the photograph requirement is waived, a signed notation shall be made by the consular officer in the space provided for a photograph in the application form.

(e) Place of application. With the exception of certain aliens who are in the United States and who may be issued nonimmigrant visas under the provisions of § 41.11, every alien applying for a nonimmigrant visa shall make application at a United States consular office in the consular district in which he has established his residence: Provided, That a consular officer shall have discretionary authority in hardship cases to accept an application for a nonimmigrant visa from an alien who has no residence in his consular district, but who is physically present therein.

(f) Application fee. A fee stamp or fee stamps in the prescribed amount shall be affixed to the application form and cancelled. If no application fee is prescribed, the word "Gratis" shall be inserted in the space provided for the fee stamp.

(g) Signature and seal. Form 257 shall be signed by or on behalf of the applicant in the appropriate spaces provided therefor and in the presence of the consular officer. The application shall be sworn to or affirmed by the applicant before the consular officer who shall then sign such application and impress the seal of his office in the spaces provided in the application.

(Sec. 222, 66 Stat. 193; 8 U. S. C. 1202)

§ 41.10 Documents required in connection with application for nonimmigrant visa; medical examination; police certificates—(a) Authority to require documents. Every alien applying for a nonimmigrant visa shall furnish in duplicate if the consular officer in his discretion so requires, with his application a certified copy of each document pertaining to him which may be considered by the consular officer to be necessary to a determination of the alien's eligibility to receive a nonimmigrant visa.

(Sec. 222, 66 Stat. 194; 8 U. S. C. 1202)

(b) Unobtainable documents. In the event an alien applying for a nonimmigrant visa establishes to the satisfaction of the consular officer that any document or record required under the authority of this section is unobtainable, the consular officer may permit the alien to submit, in lieu of such document or record, other satisfactory evidence of the fact to which such document or record would, if obtainable, pertain. A document or other record shall be considered "unobtainable" if it cannot be procured without causing the applicant or a member of his family actual hardship other than normal delay and inconvenience.

(c) Medical examination of nonimmigrants. An alien applying for a nonimmigrant visa shall be required to present in duplicate a medical certificate from a reputable and competent physician selected by the alien from a panel of such physicians approved by the consular officer, or to be examined by a doctor of the United States Public Health Service, if he is coming from an area or in a status which indicates that a medical examination is advisable, or if the consular officer otherwise has reason to believe that such certificate or examination would disclose that the alien is ineligible to receive the visa.

(Sec. 221, 66 Stat. 192; 8 U. S. C. 1201)

(d) Police certificates of nonimmigrants. An alien applying for a nonimmigrant visa shall be required to present a police certificate if the consular officer has reason to believe that the alien has a police or criminal record. In such case the alien shall be required to furnish in duplicate with his application a certification by the appropriate police or other authorities stating what their records show concerning the alien: Provided, That the provisions of this paragraph shall not be applicable in the case of an alien applying for a nonimmigrant visa under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (A) (i) or (ii), or 101 (a) (15) (G) (i), (ii), (iii), or (iv), or as an alien entitled to the benefits of section 212 (d) (8), of the act.

(e) Certificates as part of application. If a medical examination or a police certificate is required of an alien under the provisions of this section, the medical certificate or notification showing the results of the examination, or the police certificate, or both, shall become a part of the alien's application for a nonimmigrant visa. The duplicate copy of each such document shall be attached to Form 257d.

(f) A consular officer shall have authority to require, in his discretion, that an applicant for a nonimmigrant visa answer any questions pertaining to arrests, police or criminal record, or other facts in his case which are deemed to be material to his application. Such additional statements shall be attached to Form 257d and made a part of the alien's visa application and shall be covered by the alien's oath to, or affirmation of, the application.

(g) Disposition of supporting documents. (1) When issuing a nonimmigrant visa to any alien, the consular officer shall return to the alien for presentation to the immigration authorities at the port of entry the original of all supporting documents furnished by the alien with his application, except police and medical certificates which shall be disposed of as provided in paragraph (e) of this section. The duplicate of each such document shall be retained at the consular office for at least two years and filed with Form 257c during such period.

(2) When refusing a nonimmigrant visa to any alien, the consular officer may return to such alien the original of all supporting documents furnished by the alien with his application. The duplicate of each such document shall be retained at the consular office for at least one year and filed with the memorandum of refusal during such period, except in the case of a duplicate of a document which discloses a permanent ground of ineligibility, which shall be retained indefinitely in the files of the consular office subject to special instructions from the Department regarding its disposition.

ISSUANCE OF NONIMMIGRANT VISAS

§ 41.11 Authority to issue nonimmigrant visas in the Department. The Director of the Visa Office of the Department and such members of his staff as he may designate are authorized, in their discretion, to issue nonimmigrant visas to qualified aliens who are classifiable within a nonimmigrant category defined in section 101 (a) (15) (A) or (G) of the act, who are in the United States, who, if in the United States in such nonimmigrant category, have been duly notified to the Secretary of State, and who, after a temporary absence, desire to reenter the United States in the nonimmigrant status specified in the visa.

(Sec. 101 66 Stat. 166; 8 U. S. C. 1101)

§ 41.12 Procedure in issuing nonimmigrant visa—(a) Visa evidenced by stamp in passport. Except as hereinafter provided, the issuance of a nonimmigrant visa shall be evidenced by a stamp placed in the alien's passport and properly executed by the consular officer. The symbol for the classification of the alien and the visa, as provided in § 41.5, shall be inserted in the visa stamp. In the case of an alien whose passport was issued by a government not recognized de jure by the United States, or in the case of an alien for whom the passport requirement has been waived, the visa stamp shall be impressed in the appropriate space on the reverse side of Form 257a. No seal, signature, stamp, or notation of any kind shall be placed in a passport issued by a foreign government not recognized de jure by the United States.

(b) Form of nonimmigrant visa stamp.

(c) Numbering. The V-number of the application of each alien included in the visa shall be inserted in the space provided in the visa stamp. If the visa was issued upon the basis of a petition filed with and approved by the Attorney General, as in the case of a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (H) of the act, the petition number shall be noted in the visa stamp, in addition to the V-number of the application, but not necessarily in the same space.

(d) Period of validity. If a nonimmigrant visa is issued for an unlimited number of applications for admission within the period of validity, the word "Unlimited" shall be inserted in the space provided in the visa stamp. Otherwise a specific number shall be inserted. The date of issuance and the date of expiration of the visa shall be inserted at the proper places in the visa stamp and shall show the day, month, and year in that order, the name of the month being spelled out, as "24 December 1952."

(e) Visa fee. A fee stamp or fee stamps in the prescribed amount shall be affixed to the nonimmigrant visa stamp in the space provided for a fee stamp, or on the same page of the passport or Form 257, and cancelled by the consular officer. If no visa fee is prescribed, the word "Gratis" shall be inserted in the space provided for the fee stamp.

(f) Signature and seal. The consular officer who issues a nonimmigrant visa shall affix his signature, indicate his title, and impress the seal of his office in the spaces provided in the visa stamp.

(g) Disposition of Form 257. In issuing a nonimmigrant visa the consular officer shall deliver completed Forms 257a, 257b, and 257d, to the alien with his visaed passport, except as provided in the cases of crewmen under § 41.63. Form 257c shall be retained in the consular files.

§ 41.13 More than one person included in nonimmigrant visa. A single nonimmigrant visa may be issued to include more than one qualified alien if each alien executes a separate application and the V-number of each application is inserted in the space provided in the visa stamp. In such a case the visa fee to be collected shall be equal to the total of the fees prescribed for each alien included in the visa. On a basis of reciprocity, a spouse or child who is accompanying the bearer of a foreign passport, and who is included in the same passport by the issuing government, shall not be required to pay any visa fee in addition to that paid by the bearer.

§ 41.14 Fees for nonimmigrant visas. (a) The fees for nonimmigrant visa applications made by the nationals and the stateless residents of each foreign country and for the issuance of nonimmigrant visas to such aliens shall be collected in the same amounts as prescribed in the Schedules of Nonimmigrant Visa Fees issued by the Secretary of State and shall thereby correspond, as nearly as practicable, to the total of all similar visa, entry, residence, or other fees, taxes, or charges assessed or levied against nationals of the United States, in connection with their entry or sojourn, by the foreign countries of which such aliens are nationals or stateless residents.

(Sec. 281, 66 Stat. 231; 8 U. S. C. 1351)

(b) Aliens exempted from nonimmigrant visa fees. Upon a basis of reciprocity, or as provided in section 13 (a) of the Headquarters Agreement with the United Nations (61 Stat. 716), no fee shall be collected for the application for, or the issuance of, a nonimmigrant visa to an alien of any of the following classes:

(1) Nonimmigrants described in section 101 (a) (15) (A) of the act;

(2) Nonimmigrants described in section 101 (a) (15) (G) of the act;

(3) Nonimmigrants who are issued diplomatic visas under the provisions of Part 40 of this subchapter;

(4) Persons entitled to pass in transit to the United Nations Headquarters District under the provisions of section 11 (3), 11 (4), or 11 (5) of the Headquarters Agreement and who are issued C–2 visas as nonimmigrants under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (C) of the act. An alien in this category, if issued a visa as a B–1 or B–2 nonimmigrant, for example, under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (B) of the act when he is qualified to receive such a visa, shall pay the fee, if any, prescribed for aliens of the same nationality or stateless resident status.

(c) A fee collected for an application for, or the issuance of, a nonimmigrant visa, shall not be refunded without specific authorization from the Department.

§ 41.15 Validity of nonimmigrant visa. (a) The period of validity of a nonimmigrant visa shall date from the time of issuance and shall relate only to the period during which the alien to whom the visa was issued may use it in making application for admission into the United States and shall have no relation to the period of time he may be authorized to stay or remain in the United States, if, upon his arrival at a port of entry, he is admitted into the United States by the immigration authorities. Except as provided in paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section, the bearer of a nonimmigrant visa may, within the period of its validity, make any number of applications for admission into the United States: Provided, That the passport of the bearer continues to be valid for the necessary period, and his nonimmigrant status shall not have changed.

(b) Except as provided in paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section, every nonimmigrant visa shall be valid for a period of 12 months, or for a period of 24 months in the case of an alien who is a national of a foreign country whose government issues visas to United States nationals of a similar class valid for as much as 24 months, or whose government does not require visas of United States nationals of a similar class visiting such country.

(c) A nonimmigrant visa, including one issued to an alien in transit, may, in consideration of reciprocal treatment accorded nationals of the United States by the alien's government, or in consideration of the alien's purpose in travelling to, or through, the United States, or for other valid reasons, be issued for a period of validity which is less than the time specified in paragraph (b) of this section, or for a limited number of applications for admission within the period of validity of the visa.

(d) The validity of a nonimmigrant visa issued to an alien who qualifies as a person entitled to pass in transit to and from the United Nations Headquarters District under the provisions of section 11 (3), 11 (4), or 11 (5) of the United Nations Headquarters Agreement (61 Stat. 758), and whose admission is authorized by the Attorney General under the provisions of section 212 (d) (3) of the act despite the alien's inadmissibility under the provisions of section 212 (a) (28) of the act, shall be limited to a single application for admission within such period as, in the opinion of the consular officer, is reasonable to permit the bearer to travel to the United States.

(Sec. 221, 66 Stat. 191; 8 U. S. C. 1201)

§ 41.16 Revalidation of nonimmigrant visa. (a) A visa issued on or after December 24, 1952, to an alien as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) of the act may, upon a basis of reciprocity accorded nationals of the United States of a similar class, be revalidated by a consular officer: Provided, That

(1) Such visa has been used by the alien to gain admission into the United States, or if not used, the alien still has Forms 257a, b, and d, which were issued to him;

(2) The application for revalidation is made at the consular office which issued the original visa, or at another office with the consent of the original visa-issuing office;

(3) Such visa is about to expire or expired less than 3 months prior to the application for revalidation; and

(4) The consular officer is satisfied that the alien has maintained a bona fide nonimmigrant status and is otherwise eligible to receive a visa as a nonimmigrant.

(b) A formal application for the revalidation of a nonimmigrant visa need not be required, and the consular officer may, in his discretion, waive the personal appearance of the alien concerned if the consular officer is satisfied that the alien is physically present in the consular district. A nonimmigrant visa may be revalidated any number of times during the period of validity of the alien's passport, if such passport is valid for the period which would be required if an original visa were being issued.

(c) In revalidating a nonimmigrant visa, the consular officer shall follow the procedure prescribed in § 41.12, except that a new Form 257 need not be executed. A new visa stamp shall be impressed in the passport and the word "Revalidated" shall be inserted in the space provided for the V-number in the visa stamp. An appropriate notation of the revalidation, regardless of where it occurs, shall be made on Form 257c on file at the original visa-issuing office.

(d) The period of validity for which a visa may be revalidated shall be determined in accordance with the pertinent provisions of § 42.15 of this subchapter.

(e) The prescribed fee, if any, for the issuance of a nonimmigrant visa shall be collected for any revalidation of such visa.

REFUSAL AND REVOCATION

§ 41.17 Refusal of nonimmigrant documentation. (a) Every alien shall be presumed to be an immigrant until he establishes to the satisfaction of the consular officer that he is properly classifiable within a nonimmigrant category specifically referred to in § 41.5.

(b) Except as provided in paragraphs (c), (d), and (e) of this section, the provisions of section 212 (a) of the act specifying the grounds for refusal of visas to aliens, as implemented by § 42.42 of this subchapter, shall apply to all nonimmigrants.

(c) Aliens who are properly classified as nonimmigrants under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) of the act, as implemented by § 41.5, shall not be refused nonimmigrant visas or other nonimmigrant documentation on the ground that they are:

(1) Illiterates, as referred to in section 212 (a) (25) of the act;

(2) Polygamists, or persons who practice, or advocate the practice of, polygamy, as referred to in section 212 (a) (11) of the act;

(3) Aliens ineligible to United States citizenship, and aliens who, at the time of their departure from the United States, were nonimmigrants, as provided in section 212 (a) (22) of the act;

(4) Physically defective persons, as referred to in section 212 (a) (7) of the act, if a bond or other undertaking has been furnished as provided in section 221 (g) of the act;

(5) Persons likely to become a public charge, as referred to in section 212 (a) (15) of the act, if a bond or other undertaking has been furnished as provided in section 221 (g) of the act.

(d) (1) None of the grounds for refusing visas to aliens as specified in section 212 (a) of the act shall apply to nonimmigrant aliens within class A–1, as referred to in § 41.5, unless the President so directs and specific instructions are issued by the Department.

(Sec. 102, 66 Stat. 173; 8 U. S. C. 1102)

(2) Aliens in the following classes of nonimmigrants shall be refused visas or other documentation only under those provisions of section 212 (a) of the act stated specifically with reference to each category in this subparagraph:

(i) Class A–2: Section 212 (a) (27) and (29);

(ii) Class C–2: Section 212 (a) (26) (A), (27), (28), and (29);

(iii) Class C–3: Section 212 (a) (26) (A), (27), and (29);

(iv) Class C–1: Section 212 (a) (27);

(v) Classes C–2, C–3, and C–4: Section 212 (a) (27), and (29).

(3) The grounds for refusing visas to aliens as specified in section 212 (a) (28) of the act shall not be applicable to aliens within Classes A–3 and G–3.

(Sec. 212, 66 Stat. 197; 8 U. S. C. 1182)

(e) The grounds for refusing visas to aliens as specified in section 212 (a) (14) of the act shall not apply to an alien who establishes that he is properly classifiable within a specific nonimmigrant category symbolized in § 41.5.

§ 41.18 Revocation and invalidation of nonimmigrant visa and other nonimmigrant documentation. (a) A consular officer is authorized to revoke a nonimmigrant visa or other nonimmigrant documentation under the following circumstances:

(1) The consular officer knows, or after investigation is satisfied, that the visa or other documentation was procured by fraud, a willfully false or misleading representation, the willful concealment of a material fact, or other unlawful means; or

(2) The consular officer obtains information establishing that the alien was otherwise ineligible to receive the visa or other documentation at the time of issuance.

(b) A consular officer is authorized to invalidate at any time a nonimmigrant visa or other nonimmigrant documentation in any case in which he finds that the alien has become ineligible for such visa or other documentation. The invalidation shall terminate the validity of the visa or other documentation on the date of such invalidation.

(c) The bearer of a nonimmigrant visa or other documentation which is being considered for revocation or invalidation shall, if practicable, be notified of the proposed revocation or invalidation and shall be given an opportunity to show cause why such action should not be taken. In connection therewith, the alien shall be required to submit for consideration Forms 257a, 257b, and 257d, and to present his travel document containing the visa stamp. If the visa or other documentation is revoked or invalidated, the visa stamp or other documentation shall be cancelled by writing the word "Revoked" or "Invalidated", whichever is applicable, plainly on the face thereof. The cancellation shall be dated and signed by the consular officer. Failure of an alien to submit Forms 257a, 257b, or 257d, or his travel document, as required, shall not affect the validity of the revocation or invalidation of his visa or other documentation.

(d) Notice of revocation or invalidation shall be given to the master, commanding officer, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of the carrier or transportation line on which the alien is known or believed to intend to travel to the United States, unless the consular officer finds that Forms 257a, 257b, and 257d have been taken up and the visa stamp cancelled. Notice of revocation or invalidation with a full report of the facts in the case shall be submitted promptly to the Department for transmission to the Attorney General: Provided, That no such notice and report need be submitted to the Department in the case of an invalidation of a visa, if the copies of Form 257 have been taken up and the visa stamp cancelled prior to the alien's departure for the United States. The consular office which issued the visa or other documentation shall be notified of the revocation or invalidation of such visa or other documentation if such action was effected by any other consular office or by the Department.

(Sec. 221, 66 Stat. 192; 8 U. S. C. 1201)

REGISTRATION AND FINGERPRINTING

§ 41.19 Registration and fingerprinting of nonimmigrants. (a) Every alien applying for a nonimmigrant visa shall be fingerprinted, except:

(1) An alien classifiable as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (A) (i) or (ii) or section 101 (a) (15) (G) (i), (ii), (iii), or (iv), of the act;

(2) An alien who is an applicant for a diplomatic visa and is exempted from fingerprinting under the provisions of Part 40 of this subchapter;

(3) A child under 14 years of age at the time of application for a nonimmigrant visa.

(b) The fingerprints of a visa applicant shall be taken on Form AR–4 in the case of every alien subject to fingerprinting at the time of his application for a nonimmigrant visa.

(c) In appropriate cases the fingerprints of an alien may be taken on Form AR–4 at the time he makes informal or preliminary application for a nonimmigrant visa, if such procedure is considered necessary for the purposes of identification or investigation. An alien's fingerprints shall, upon the issuance or refusal of a nonimmigrant visa, be transmitted promptly to the Department for appropriate disposition.

(d) Forms 257b and 257c, when duly executed, shall constitute the alien's registration record. The information required in the application shall be sworn to or affirmed by the alien.

(Sec. 221, 66 Stat. 191; 8 U. S. C. 1201)

BORDER-CROSSING IDENTIFICATION CARDS

§ 41.20 Nonresident aliens' border-crossing identification cards—(a) Aliens eligible to receive. A nonresident alien's border-crossing identification card as defined in section 101 (a) (6) of the act, and as required by section 212 (a) (26) of the act, may be issued to an alien who, upon proper application therefor, establishes to the satisfaction of the consular officer that he:

(1) Is a citizen of Canada or other British subject, having a residence in Canada, or a citizen of Mexico having a residence in Mexico;

(2) Is seeking, and has frequent occasion, to enter the continental United States or Alaska from Canada or the continental United States from Mexico, as a nonimmigrant;

(3) Is a bona fide nonimmigrant and is otherwise eligible to receive such a card under the provisions of the act;

(4) Is in possession of a valid passport or other travel document in the nature thereof duly issued to the holder by the appropriate authorities of Canada, Great Britain, or Mexico, and valid for re-entry to Canada or Mexico, if such a passport or other travel document is required for entry into such country;

(5) Can not reasonably be expected, because of remote residence from the border or some other exceptional reason, to make application for such card at an office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

(b) Application procedure. An application for a nonresident alien's border-crossing identification card shall be made on Form I–190 at a United States consular office in Canada or Mexico. The applicant shall execute the application in triplicate under oath or by affirmation before the consular officer. Four identical photographs of the alien, as described in § 41.9 (d), shall be submitted with the application. One of such photographs shall be attached to each copy of the application form and to the identification card which is issued to the applicant. The photograph requirement may, in the discretion of the consular officer, be waived in the case of an alien under fourteen years of age at the time of issuance of the card. The original of application Form I–190, duly executed, shall be retained at the consular office and the duplicate and triplicate copies shall be attached to the identification card issued to the alien for delivery to the immigration officer at the time of application for admission into the United States.

(c) Alien under fourteen years of age or incapable of executing application. Applicants for nonresident aliens' border-crossing identification cards shall appear in person and make separate applications therefor. In the case of an alien under fourteen years of age, or one physically incapable of making an application, the application for a nonresident alien's border-crossing identification card may be made by the alien's parent or guardian, or, if the alien has no parent or guardian, by any person having lawful custody of, or a legitimate interest in, such alien. An alien under fourteen years of age, or one physically incapable of executing an application, shall be required to appear in person at the time application is made in his behalf.

(d) Evidence of border-crosser status. Whenever any alien makes application for a nonresident alien's border-crossing identification card, the burden of proof shall be upon such alien to establish that he is entitled to classification as a nonimmigrant border-crosser and that he is otherwise eligible to receive such card under the provisions of the act. The consular officer may require the alien to furnish any evidence deemed necessary to sustain such burden of proof, including evidence of the alien's intention and ability to depart from the United States at the expiration of his temporary stay. The applicant shall furnish evidence of residence in the border area within the consular district in which application is made, except that a nonresident alien's border-crossing identification card may be issued at a consular office in the interior of Canada or Mexico to an alien who resides in the consular district of such office and who has good and sufficient reason frequently and habitually to cross the land border between the United States and Canada, or the United States and Mexico.

(e) Procedure in issuing nonresident alien's border-crossing identification card. If an applicant is found to have the qualifications specified in this section, a nonresident alien's border-crossing identification card may be issued to such applicant on Form I–186. The identification card shall show the date of issuance, the signature of the issuing consular officer, and a brief description of the applicant, and shall be valid for such period as is specified on the card. In the event the photograph requirement has been waived, the right index fingerprint of the applicant shall be placed on the card in lieu of his photograph. The applicant shall sign the card with his full name, or by witnessed mark after proper identification. The seal of the issuing consular office shall be impressed on the card. The applicant shall appear at the consular office in person to receive his nonresident alien's border-crossing identification card, unless the consular officer is satisfied that such card may be safely mailed to the applicant in exceptional cases in which personal appearance would entail undue hardship. No fee shall be charged for the issuance of a nonresident alien's border-crossing identification card or for the application.

(f) Supporting documents not presented in duplicate. The contents of all pertinent documents not presented with a duplicate copy for the consular files in support of the alien's application for a nonresident alien's border-crossing identification card shall be noted on the copy of the application which is retained for the consular files or in a separate memorandum attached thereto. Original documents shall be returned to the applicant.

(g) Invalidation of nonresident alien's border-crossing identification card. Consular officers are authorized to terminate the validity of a nonresident alien's border-crossing identification card issued by a consular officer:

(1) If the consular officer knows, or after investigation is satisfied, that such card was procured by fraud, a willfully false or misleading representation, the willful concealment of a material fact, or other unlawful means; or nonimmigrant aliens within class A-1, as alien to submit Forms 257a, 2[illegible]

[illegible] the act, may be issued to an alien shall be upon such alien to establish that [illegible] or other unlawful means, or

(2) If such a card is found in the possession of an alien other than the rightful holder; or

(3) If improper use is being made of such card; or

(4) If the consular officer receives information establishing the alien's ineligibility to receive a nonresident alien's border-crossing identification card.

(h) Surrender of invalidated card. An alien whose border-crossing identification card has been invalidated shall be required to surrender such card upon request of the consular officer, and such officer shall submit a report of the reasons for the invalidation to the Secretary of State for transmission to the Attorney General.

(Sec. 101, 66 Stat. 166; 8 U. S. C. 1101)

OFFICIAL VISAS

§ 41.30 Officials of foreign governments. (a) An alien aplying for a nonimmigrant visa under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (A) (i) or (ii) of the act shall be required to establish to the satisfaction of the consular officer that he is an accredited official or employee of a foreign government recognized de jure by the Government of the United States, and that he is acceptable to the President or the Secretary of State, or that he is a member of the immediate family of such official or employee.

(b) Except as provided in § 41.92 (c), no alien shall be accorded nonimmigrant status under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (A) of the act if the facts in his case clearly bring him within any other specific nonimmigrant category defined in section 101 (a) (15) of the act.

(c) The term "accredited" as used in sections 101 (a) (15) (A) and 212 (d) (8) of the act refers to an alien holding an official position, other than an honorary official position, who is in possession of a travel document or other evidence showing that he seeks to enter, or pass in transit through, the United States for the purpose of transacting official business for his government, and that he is a national of the country whose government he serves: Provided, That an alien who is not a national of the country whose government he serves in an advisory, consultative, or other capacity not contemplated by section 101 (a) (15) (A) (iii) of the act shall, if otherwise qualified, be classified under section 101 (a) (15) (B) of the act, or, if in transit, under section 101 (a) (15) (C) of the act.

(d) The term "immediate family", as used in section 101 (a) (15 (A) of the act, means close relatives who are members of the immediate family by blood, marriage, or adoption, and who will reside regularly in the household of the principal alien from whom they derive their subsidiary status.

(e) The term "attendants", as used in section 101 (a) (15) (A) (iii) of the act, includes an alien who is paid from the public funds of the foreign government employing him and to which he owes allegiance, and who is accompanying, preceding, or following to join a foreign-government official or employee to whom he owes a duty or service, regardless of its nature. The term includes an attendant who is a member of the armed forces of the foreign government to which the foreign-government official or employee, as well as the attendant, owe allegiance.

(f) The terms "servants" and "personal employees", as used in section 101 (a) (15) (A) (iii) of the act, include an alien who is employed in a domestic or personal capacity by a foreign-government official or employee, who is paid from the private funds of such official or employee, and who seeks to enter the United States solely for the purpose of such employment.

(Sec. 101, 66 Stat. 167; 8 U. S. C. 1101)

§ 41.31 Official or representative of foreign government not recognized by the United States. (a) An official of a foreign government which is not recognized de jure by the United States, or a member of his immediate family, or the attendant, servant, or personal employee of such official, shall not be classified as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (A) of the act.

(b) Any alien referred to in paragraph (a) of this section may, if otherwise qualified, be classified as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (B) or (C), or, if he is a representative of such government to an international organization, under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (G) (iii) of the act.

§ 41.32 Procedure in issuing visa to foreign-government official or employee—(a) Derivative status cases. In the case of a person who is a member of the immediate family, or an attendant, servant, or personal employee of a foreign-government official or employee, or who otherwise derives status from a principal alien who is not accompanying him, the name and position of the principal alien from whom such person derives his status shall be written below the lower margin of the visa stamp in the foreign passport.

(b) Official on personal business. A foreign-government official or employee, or a member of the immediate family, attendant, servant, or employee of such official or employee, who seeks to enter the United States temporarily for personal business or pleasure, shall, if otherwise qualified, be classified as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (B) of the act.

(See Sen. Rep. 1137, 82d Cong., 2d Sess., p. 19)

(c) Courier and acting courier on official business—(1) Courier of career. An alien who is regularly and professionally employed as a courier by the government to which he owes allegiance shall ordinarily apply for a diplomatic visa at a United States mission as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (A) (i) of the act. When proceeding to the United States on official business for his government and not applying for a diplomatic visa, such an alien shall, if otherwise qualified, be classified as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (A) (ii) of the act, and the symbol A-2 shall be inserted in the space provided for classification in the visa stamp and in Forms 257b and 257c.

(2) Official acting in capacity of courier. An alien who is not regularly and professionally employed as a courier by the government to which he owes allegiance, who, however, holds an official position with, and is proceeding to the United States in the capacity of a courier on official business for, his government, shall, if otherwise qualified, be classified as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (A) (ii) of the act. In such a case the symbol A-2 shall be inserted in the space provided for classification in the visa stamp and in Forms 257b and 257c. The case of an alien who is not a national of the country for whose government he is acting as courier shall be considered under the provisions of subparagraph 3 of this paragraph.

(3) Nonofficial acting in capacity of courier. An alien who is not regularly and professionally employed as a courier, who holds no official position with the government for which he is acting in the capacity of courier, or is not a national of the country for whose government he is acting in the capacity of courier, shall, if otherwise qualified, be classified as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (B) of the act. In such a case the symbol B-1 shall be inserted in the space provided for classification in the visa stamp and in Forms 257b and 257c.

§ 41.33 Evidence of official status. An alien applying for a nonimmigrant visa as a foreign-government official or employee, or as an attendant, servant, or personal employee of such an official or employee, or as a member of the immediate family of any such alien, may be required to present evidence of his status and of the means and destination of his travel to, or through, the United States, and any other evidence considered necessary to establish eligibility to receive a visa as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (A) or (101) (a) (15) (C), and other applicable provisions, of the act.

§ 41.34 Significance of nonimmigrant visa in official cases. A visa properly issued to an accredited official of a foreign government as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (A), or (C) of the act shall entitle such official to apply at a port of entry in the United States within the period of its validity for admission as a nonimmigrant, and such visa, when presented to the immigration authorities by such official shall be conclusive evidence of his proper classification.

TEMPORARY VISITORS

§ 41.40 Temporary visitors. (a) An alien applying for a nonimmigrant visa under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (B) of the act shall be required to establish to the satisfaction of the consular officer that he seeks to visit the United States temporarily for business or temporarily for pleasure.

(b) The term "business," as used in section 101 (a) (15) (B) of the act, refers to legitimate activities of a commercial or professional character. It does not include purely local employment or labor for hire. An alien seeking to enter for employment or labor pursuant to a contract or other pre-arrangement shall be required to qualify under the provisions of § 41.100. An alien of distinguished merit and ability seeking to enter the United States temporarily with the idea of performing temporary services of an exceptional nature, requiring such merit and ability, but having no contract or other pre-arranged employment, may be classified as a nonimmigrant temporary visitor for business.

(c) The term "pleasure," as used in section 101 (a) (15) (B) of the act, refers to the purpose of an alien who seeks to enter the United States temporarily as a tourist or for some other legitimate purpose, including amusement, education (other than some activity which would make him classifiable as a student or teacher), health, rest, or visits with relatives or friends. Under no circumstances shall an alien who seeks to enter the United States as a student or for prearranged employment of any kind be classified as a temporary visitor for business or pleasure, unless such classification shall have been authorized by the Secretary of State after consultation with the Attorney General.

(Sec. 101, 66 Stat. 167; 8 U. S. C. 1101)

§ 41.41 Exchange visitors. The term "exchange visitor" refers to an alien who falls within one of the categories specifically named in section 201 of the United States Information and Educational Exchange Act of 1948, as amended (62 Stat. 7; 66 Stat. 276; 22 U. S. C. 1446), who seeks to enter the United States temporarily and who has been selected to participate in an exchange visitor program designated by the Secretary of State, as provided in Part 68 of this subchapter. Exchange visitors shall be classified as nonimmigrants under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) of the act. In issuing a visa to an exchange visitor the symbol "EX" shall be inserted in the space provided for classification on the visa stamp and on Forms 257b and 257c, and the number of the program shall be added to the symbol.

§ 41.42 Burden of proof and evidence of temporary visitor status. (a) An alien applying for a visa as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (B) of the act shall not only have the burden of establishing that he is entitled to classification as a temporary visitor within the meaning of that section of the act, but also that he is not ineligible to receive a visa as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 212 of the act and § 41.17.

(b) An alien applying for a visa as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (B) of the act shall establish specifically that:

(1) He has a residence in a foreign country which he has no intention of abandoning;

(2) He is not classifiable under any of the nonimmigrant categories defined in section 101 (a) (15) (F), (H), or (I) of the act;

(3) He is proceeding to the United States temporarily for one of the purposes specified in section 101 (a) (15) (B) of the act;

(4) He intends in good faith, and will be able, to depart from the United States at the expiration of a temporary stay;

(5) He is in possession of a valid foreign visa or other form of permission to enter some foreign country upon the termination of his temporary stay; and that

(6) He has made adequate financial provision to enable him to carry out the purpose of his travel to, sojourn in, and departure from the United States.

(Sec. 291, 66 Stat. 234; 8 U. S. C. 1361)

TRANSIT ALIENS

§ 41.50 Transit aliens. An alien applying for a nonimmigrant visa under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (C) of the act shall be required to establish to the satisfaction of the consular officer that he seeks to enter the United States temporarily as a nonimmigrant and solely for the purpose of proceeding in immediate and continuous transit through the United States to a foreign destination, or that he qualifies as a person entitled to pass in transit to and from the United Nations Headquarters District under the provisions of section 11 (3), 11 (4), or 11 (5) of the Headquarters Agreement with the United Nations.

(Sec. 101, 66 Stat. 167; 8 U. S. C. 1101)

§ 41.51 Burden of proof and evidence of transit status. (a) An alien applying for a visa as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (C) of the act shall not only have the burden of establishing that he is entitled to classification as an alien in transit within the meaning of that section of the act, but also that he is not ineligible to receive a visa as a nonimmigrant under the applicable provisions of section 212 of the act, or any other provision of law, and § 41.17.

(b) An alien applying for a visa as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (C) of the act shall establish specifically that:

(1) He is proceeding to the United States solely for the purpose of passing in immediate and continuous transit through the United States to a foreign destination or to the United Nations Headquarters District;

(2) He is in possession of a ticket for, or other assurance of, transportation to his destination;

(3) He is in possession of sufficient funds to enable him to carry out the purpose of his transit journey, or has sufficient funds otherwise available for that purpose;

(4) He is in possession of a valid foreign visa or other form of permission to enter some foreign country: Provided, That possession of such a visa or other form of permission shall not be required in the case of an alien proceeding through the United States for the purpose of applying for admission into Canada or some other country if under the laws or regulations of the country of destination the alien would not be required to present a visa, or other form of permission as a condition of entry; and that

(5) He intends in good faith, and will be able, to depart from the United States at the expiration of the period for which he may be admitted.

(Sec. 291, 66 Stat. 234; 8 U. S. C. 1361)

§ 41.52 Certain aliens in transit to United Nations. An alien within the provisions of sections 11 (3), 11 (4) or 11 (5) of the Headquarters Agreement with the United Nations, to whom a visa is to be issued for the purpose of applying for admission solely in transit to the United Nations Headquarters District, shall be issued a nonimmigrant visa classified "C-2", and shall be informed by the consular officer that, if admitted, he may be subject to such restrictions in his travel within the United States as may be provided in regulations prescribed by the Attorney General.

CREWMEN

§ 41.60 Crewmen. (a) An alien applying for a nonimmigrant visa under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (D) of the act shall be required to establish to the satisfaction of the consular officer that he seeks to proceed to, and land in, the United States temporarily and solely in pursuit of his calling as a nonimmigrant crewman serving in good faith as such in some capacity required for normal operation and service on board a vessel or aircraft proceeding to the United States. Aliens employed on board such vessel or aircraft in a capacity not ordinarily associated with, or required for, normal operation and service on board the vessel or aircraft, or persons employed or listed as regular members of the crew in excess of the number normally required, shall be considered as passengers and shall be documented as any other passenger not employed aboard the vessel or aircraft.

(b) An alien serving as a member of the crew on board a fishing vessel having its home port or an operating base in the United States is not comprehended within the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section. Such an alien is classifiable as an immigrant.

(c) Each nonimmigrant crewman seeking to proceed to and land in, the United States temporarily in pursuit of his calling shall, except as provided in § 41.64, apply for an individual visa as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (D) of the act and in accordance with the provisions of § 41.9.

(Sec. 101, 66 Stat. 167; 8 U. S. C. 1101)

§ 41.61 Burden of proof and evidence of crewman status. (a) An alien applying for a visa as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (D) of the act shall not only have the burden of establishing that he is entitled to classification as a crewman within the meaning of that section of the act, but also that he is not ineligible to receive a visa as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 212 of the act, or any other provision of law, and § 41.17.

(b) An alien applying for a visa as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (D) of the act shall establish specifically that:

(1) He intends to proceed to, and land only temporarily in, the United

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN LIBRARIES

[illegible] indicating the name of each crew- [illegible] sular officer is authorized to separate a [illegible] of the crew list filed in the consular office

States solely in pursuit of his calling as a crewman;

(2) He intends in good faith, and will be able, to depart from the United States with the vessel or aircraft on which he will arrive, or on some other vessel or aircraft; and that

(3) He is in possession of a national passport, or other travel document, crewman's identity certificate, or other papers, which establish his origin, identity and nationality if any, and which further establish unconditionally that he will be permitted to enter some foreign country after a possible temporary landing in the United States.

(Sec. 291, 66 Stat. 234; 8 U. S. C. 1361)

§ 41.62 Foreign-government official crewmen. (a) All alien crewmen serving as such on board any vessel or aircraft proceeding to the United States with a purpose of landing temporarily in the United States shall be subject to the provisions of § 41.60 (c) or § 41.64, except those serving on:

(1) Foreign warships or other vessels of war, or military, naval, or other aircraft of the armed forces of a foreign country, when making friendly calls at United States ports under advance arrangements made with the military, naval, or air force authorities of the United States; or

(2) Any other government vessel or aircraft.

(b) The term "government vessel or aircraft" means a vessel or aircraft owned and operated, or operated only, directly by the Government of the United States with government personnel in connection with public business of a non-commercial and non-profit character, or a foreign-flag vessel or aircraft owned and operated, or operated only, directly by a foreign government recognized de jure by the United States, with foreign government personnel in connection with public business of a non-commercial and non-profit character. The term "government vessel or aircraft" shall not include a vessel or aircraft which is merely controlled or subsidized by a government, or one which is engaged in what would ordinarily be regarded as commercial shipping or commercial transportation.

(c) Whenever any alien seeks to enter the United States in the circumstances described in subparagraph (1) or (2) of paragraph (a) of this section, advance arrangements shall be made with the Secretary of State and the Attorney General regarding the documentation and admission of such alien.

§ 41.63 Procedure in issuing visas to crewmen. (a) The provisions of §§ 41.5 and 41.12 shall be followed in issuing a visa to an alien as a nonimmigrant under section 101 (a) (15) (D) of the act, except in the case of an alien whose name is included in a crewlist visa as authorized in § 41.64, or except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) In the case of a crewman who is issued an individual nonimmigrant visa and whose passport was issued by a government not recognized de jure by the United States, or a crewman in whose case the passport requirement has been waived, the visa shall be stamped at the reverse side of Form 257a, and the completed Forms 257a, 257b, and 257d shall be delivered to the alien. In all other cases of crewmen who are issued individual visas the alien's visaed passport shall be delivered to him, but Forms 257a, 257b, 257c, and 257d shall be retained in the consular files pending the receipt of special instructions from the Department concerning their disposition.

§ 41.64 Crew-list visas. Until December 31, 1953, or until such later date as it becomes administratively practicable to act on the applications of all crewmen for individual visas, a crewman who is unable to obtain, but has not been refused, an individual visa as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (D) of the act and § 41.60 (c), and whose name appears on the crew list of a vessel or aircraft on which he is proceeding to the United States as a crewman, may be included in a crew-list visa. Such crew-list visa may be issued by a consular officer in accordance with the provisions of § 41.65.

(Sec. 221, 66 Stat. 192; 8 U. S. C. 1201)

§ 41.65 Requirement of crew-list visas. (a) Until December 31, 1953, or until such later date as it becomes administratively practicable to act on the applications of all crewmen for individual visas, there shall be submitted for visaing at the consular office nearest the foreign port or place from which a vessel or aircraft commences its voyage to the United States a crew list of all nonimmigrant alien crewmen who are not in possession of a valid individual visa.

(b) No crewman shall be considered as having complied with the documentary requirements of the act relating to applicants for admission as nonimmigrants unless his name appears on a visaed crew list, or he is in possession of an appropriate individual visa, or the nonimmigrant visa requirement is waived by the Secretary of State and the Attorney General acting jointly on the basis of an unforeseen emergency in an individual case under the authority contained in section 212 (d) (4) of the act.

(66 Stat. 187; 8 U. S. C. 1182)

(c) If there is no consular officer stationed at the port or place from which the vessel or aircraft commences its voyage to the United States, but if a consular officer is stationed at a nearby port or place to whom the crew list may be submitted for visaing by mail or otherwise without delaying the departure of the vessel or aircraft, the crew list shall be so submitted. If there is no consular officer stationed nearby, the crew list shall be submitted for visaing at the first port or place of call at which a consular officer is stationed.

(d) A vessel or aircraft arriving at a port in the continental United States, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands, after entering and clearing from a port or place in the Canal Zone for purposes other than transit, refueling, or landing passengers for medical treatment, shall be subject to all the crew-list visa requirements applicable to vessels or aircraft arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place.

(e) Supplemental crew-list visas shall be obtained at the port of departure or at subsequent ports or places of call to cover any additional crewmen who have been signed on since the previous crew-list visa was obtained, unless such crewmen are in possession of valid individual visas.

§ 41.66 Crew-list visas not required. (a) The presentation of a crew list for visaing shall not be required in the following cases:

(1) A vessel or aircraft proceeding from a port or place at which no American consular officer is stationed and compliance with the requirements of § 41.65 (c) is not possible;

(2) A government vessel or government aircraft;

(3) A vessel or aircraft operating between a port of the United States and a port of Canada, if not touching at a port of any other country;

(4) A vessel or aircraft operating on regular service exclusively between a port in the State of Florida and Habana, Cuba: Provided, That a new crew-list visa must be obtained (i) to cover the first trip each month, and (ii) at any other time during the month whenever a new crewman having no individual visa is signed on;

(5) A vessel or aircraft which is proceeding from one foreign place to another, and is diverted from its course to a port in the United States under emergency conditions;

(6) A vessel or aircraft having alien crewmen who desire to land temporarily in the Virgin Islands of the United States while the vessel or aircraft on which they are serving is in a Virgin Islands port;

(7) A vessel or aircraft having members of the crew all of whom are in possession of individual visas or reentry permits, or who are otherwise permitted to land without crew-list visas under the regulations of the Attorney General.

(8) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, a crewman proceeding to the United States under the conditions described therein may not be found to be eligible to land temporarily as a nonimmigrant unless the nonimmigrant visa requirement is waived by the Secretary of State and the Attorney General acting jointly on the basis of an unforeseen emergency in an individual case.

§ 41.67 Refusal of crew-list visa. (a) A consular officer who knows or has reason to believe that a crew list submitted for a visa contains the name of an alien who is not a bona fide crewman, or who is otherwise ineligible to receive an individual visa as a crewman, shall either withhold the crew-list visa until the name of such alien shall have been removed from the crew list by the master of the vessel or the commanding officer of the aircraft, or he shall issue the crew-list visa, excluding therefrom the name of any such alien listed as a member of the crew. In excluding an alien's name from a crew-list visa, the consular officer shall place a notation below the visa stamp indicating the name of each crewman so excluded. In no event shall a consular officer strike an alien's name from a crew list.

(b) When a crew-list visa is refused in any case, a full report shall be forwarded by the consular officer to the Department in sufficient time to be received before the arrival of the vessel or aircraft at a port of entry. In such a case the original of the crew list shall be returned to the master or commanding officer, and the duplicate shall be filed in the consular office.

(Sec. 221, 66 Stat. 192; 8 U. S. C. 1201)

§ 41.68 Crew-list form. (a) Crew lists or manifests of aliens employed on vessels or aircraft as members of the crew shall be prepared in duplicate on Department of Justice Form I–480 in cases of vessels, or on Customs General Declaration Form 7507 in the cases of the crews of aircraft, or on such other form as the Department of Justice may prescribe. Masters or agents of vessels and commanding officers of aircraft shall be required to obtain a supply of crew-list forms which they may purchase in the United States from Collectors of Customs. Consular officers anticipating a demand for such forms shall keep a supply on hand from which they may furnish copies in an emergency. Consular officers shall requisition copies of such forms from the Department.

(b) No application for a crew-list visa shall be required other than the presentation of the alien crew list in duplicate and all necessary information with respect thereto.

§ 41.69 Procedure in issuing crew-list visas.—(a) Preparation of crew list. (1) Entries on the crew list of a vessel or aircraft shall be made in the English language. All entries on both copies shall be made in accordance with the regulations prescribed by the Attorney General for the preparation of such lists.

(2) The person preparing an alien crew list shall insert the word "first" before the name of each crewman who was not employed on the vessel or aircraft on its last preceding trip to the United States. In addition, the initials "PE" (meaning "Previous Experience") shall be inserted immediately after the word "first" in the case of each crewman proceeding to the United States on his first trip on a vessel or aircraft to which he has been transferred from another vessel or aircraft of the same transportation line.

(3) If a crew list is prepared on more than one page, the pages shall be securely fastened together with eyelets in the upper left corner, tied by ribbon or taste inserted through the eyelets, and the crew-list visa shall be placed on the last page. The ends of the ribbon or taste shall be brought through a slit cut in the last page and fastened to that page, opposite the visa stamp, by a wafer seal on which the impression seal of the consular office shall be placed. The consular impression seal shall be placed on all other pages in the lower right corner. The pages shall be numbered.

(4) In order to facilitate the handling of the crew list of a large vessel, a consular officer is authorized to separate a crew list containing 400 or more names into four separate sections. The separate sections shall correspond to the following departments of the crew of the vessel: "(I) Deck Department, (II) Engine Department, (III) Catering Department, and (IV) Armed Guard". The crew-list visa shall be placed on the last page of the last section of the crew list. Each section of the crew list shall be closed in such a manner as to prevent any additions to the list after the visa has been issued with the words "I. Deck Department (or II. Engine Department, III. Catering Department, or IV. Armed Guard). Containing _____ members of the crew". The final section of the crew list shall be closed with the additional words "Crew list in four parts: Total crewmen _____".

(5) The name of each additional crewman signed-on a vessel or aircraft after the issuance of a crew-list visa shall be included in a supplemental crew list. If such name is in substitution for the name of another alien listed as a member of the crew, the name of such alien shall be indicated by the person preparing the supplemental crew list submitted for a visa.

(6) If the additional members of the crew are signed on in an emergency, under circumstances which make it impossible to submit the names to the consular officer before sailing, the facts shall be reported to a consular officer at the first port of call at which a consular officer is stationed. Such consular officer may issue a supplemental crew-list visa covering the names of the additional crewmen if they are qualified for inclusion in a crew-list visa.

(b) Form of crew-list visa. The nonimmigrant-visa stamp shall be used in visaing a crew list. The crew-list visa shall be issued to be valid for a period of six months from the date of issuance and for one application at a port of entry for permission to land temporarily. The last day of such period shall be specified in the visa stamp as the last day of validity of the visa. The classification symbol D shall be inserted in space provided in the visa stamp for classification of the crewmen as nonimmigrants under section 101 (a) (15) (D) of the act and § 41.5. The issuing officer shall sign the visa, indicate his title, and affix the seal of his office in the usual manner.

(c) Crew-list visa fees. A fee of $2.00 shall be collected by a consular officer for visaing a crew list (Tariff of United States Foreign Service Fees). A fee stamp, or stamps, in the prescribed amount shall be placed on the visa and cancelled. No fee shall be charged for a crew-list visa issued in the case of a United States vessel or aircraft, or for a supplemental crew-list visa issued in the case of any vessel or aircraft.

(d) Disposition of crew list. After the crew-list visa shall have been issued or refused, the original copy of the crew list shall be returned to the master or commanding officer of the vessel or aircraft for delivery to the appropriate authorities at the first port of arrival in the United States. The duplicate copy of the crew list filed in the consular office shall bear appropriate notations to identify the service, its date, fee and fee number.

TREATY ALIENS

§ 41.70 Treaty traders. (a) An alien applying for a nonimmigrant visa under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (E) (i) of the act shall be required to establish to the satisfaction of the consular officer that (1) he is entitled to enter the United States solely to carry on substantial trade principally between the United States and the foreign state of which he is a national, under and in pursuance of the provisions of a treaty of commerce and navigation between the United States and such foreign state, or that (2) he is the spouse or child of any such alien and is accompanying or following to join him.

(b) The term "national", as used in this section, means a citizen or subject of a foreign country with which there is existing, at the time of application for a visa, a treaty of commerce and navigation as provided in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) The term "trade", as used in this section, means trade of a substantial nature which is international in scope, carried on by the alien in his own behalf or as an agent of a foreign person or organization engaged in trade, and is principally between the United States and the foreign state of which such alien is a citizen or subject. Consideration shall be given to any conditions in the country of which the alien is a national which may affect the alien's ability to carry on substantial trade principally between the United States and such country.

(d) The nationality of a spouse or child of a treaty trader shall not be material to the classification of such spouse or child under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (E) (i) of the act.

(e) Representatives of foreign information media shall first be considered for possible classification as nonimmigrants under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (I) of the act and § 41.110, before consideration is given to their possible classification as nonimmigrants under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (E) of the act and of this section.

(Sec. 101, 66 Stat. 168; 8 U. S. C. 1101)

§ 41.71 Burden of proof and evidence of treaty-trader status. (a) An alien applying for a nonimmigrant visa as a treaty trader under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (E) (i) of the act shall not only have the burden of establishing that he is entitled to classification as a treaty trader within the meaning of that section of the act, but also that he is not ineligible to receive a visa as a nonimmigrant under provisions of section 212 of the act or any other provision of law, and § 41.17.

(b) An alien applying for a visa as a nonimmigrant treaty trader under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (E) (i) of the act shall be required to present any evidence deemed necessary by the consular officer to establish that he is entitled to nonimmigrant classification under that section. Such alien shall establish specifically that:

(1) He is proceeding to the United States solely for the purpose of carrying on substantial trade principally between the United States and the foreign state of which he is a national, under and in pursuance of the provisions of a treaty of commerce and navigation between the United States and such foreign state. In this connection, bank statements, invoices, and correspondence from persons or organizations with whom or with which he has, and will have, commercial relations, may be required;

(2) He intends in good faith, and will be able, to depart from the United States upon the termination of his status; and that

(3) If he is employed or to be employed, his employer shall be a foreign person or organization and he shall be engaged in duties of a supervisory or executive character, or if he is, or is to be, employed in a minor capacity, he has special qualifications which make his services essential to the efficient operations of the employer. An alien employed solely in a manual capacity shall not be entitled to classification as a treaty trader.

(Sec. 291, 66 Stat. 234; 8 U. S. C. 1361)

§ 41.75 Treaty investors. (a) An alien applying for a nonimmigrant visa under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (E) (ii) of the act shall be required to establish to the satisfaction of the consular officer that (1) he is entitled to enter the United States solely to develop and direct the operations of an enterprise in which he has invested, or in which he is actively in the process of investing, a substantial amount of capital, under and in pursuance of the specific provisions relating to treaty investors, negotiated after June 27, 1952, in a treaty of commerce and navigation between the United States and the foreign state of which the alien is a national, or that (2) he is the spouse or child of such an alien, and is accompanying or following to join him.

(b) The term "national", as used in this section, means a citizen or subject of a foreign country with which there is existing at the time of application for a visa a treaty of commerce and navigation as provided in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) The nationality of a spouse or child of a treaty investor shall not be material to the classification of such spouse or child under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (E) (ii) of the act.

§ 41.76 Burden of proof and evidence of treaty-investor status. (a) An alien applying for a nonimmigrant visa as a treaty investor under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (E) (ii) of the act shall not only have the burden of establishing that he is entitled to classification as a treaty investor within the meaning of that section of the act, but also that he is not ineligible to receive a visa as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 212 of the act or any other provision of law, and § 41.17.

(b) An alien applying for a visa as a nonimmigrant treaty investor under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (E) (ii) of the act shall be required to present any evidence deemed necessary by the consular officer to establish that he is entitled to nonimmigrant classification under that section. Such alien shall establish specifically that:

(1) He seeks to enter the United States solely for the purpose of developing and directing an enterprise in the United States in which he has invested, or is actively in the process of investing, a substantial amount of capital;

(2) The enterprise is one which actually exists or is in active process of formation, and is not a fictitious paper operation;

(3) He is not applying for a nonimmigrant visa in an effort to evade the quota or other restrictions which are applicable to immigrants; and that

(4) He intends in good faith, and will be able, to depart from the United States upon the termination of his status.

(Sec. 291, 66 Stat. 2341; 8 U. S. C. 1361)

§ 41.77 Advisory opinions in treaty-investor cases. For the purpose of coordinating the administration and enforcement of the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (E) (ii) of the act among consular officers in each country of the world, each consular officer to whom an alien applies for a nonimmigrant visa as a treaty investor shall forward a full report of all the pertinent facts in each case to the Secretary of State with a request for an advisory opinion.

STUDENTS

§ 41.80 Students. (a) An alien applying for a nonimmigrant visa as a student under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (F) of the act shall be required to establish to the satisfaction of the consular officer that he seeks to enter the United States temporarily and solely for the purpose of pursuing a full course of study at an established institution of learning or other recognized place of study in the United States, particularly designated by him and approved by the Attorney General. The Attorney General has approved until further notice, for the purposes of section 101 (a) (15) (F) of the act, all schools and places of study which, on December 23, 1952, are on the approved list of institutions of learning for the purposes of section 4 (e) of the Immigration Act of 1924, and consular officers shall be guided by such list in considering the cases of applicants for visas as nonimmigrant students under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (F) of the act.

(b) Official students. An alien who has been selected by his government to study at an institution of learning or other place of study in the United States shall, if otherwise qualified, be classified as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (F) of the act, regardless of whether the alien's expenses for such study will be borne by his government, unless such alien is classifiable as an exchange visitor within class EX as provided in § 41.5, or unless such alien is accredited and accepted as a foreign government official, as defined in section 101 (a) (15) (A) (ii) of the act. In issuing a visa to an alien under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (F) of the act, the symbol F shall be inserted in the space provided for classification in the visa stamp and in Forms 257b and 257c.

(c) Official trainees. An alien who has been selected by his government for training in the United States with an agricultural, commercial, financial, governmental, or other industrial establishment, shall, if otherwise qualified, be classified as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (H) (iii) of the act, regardless of whether the alien's expenses for such training will be borne by his government, unless such alien is classifiable as an exchange visitor within class EX as provided in § 41.5, or unless such alien is accredited and accepted as a foreign government official, as defined in section 101 (a) (15) (A) (ii) of the act. In issuing a visa to an alien under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (H) (iii) of the act, the symbol H–3 shall be inserted in the space provided for classification in the visa stamp and in Forms 257b and 257c.

§ 41.81 Burden of proof and evidence of student status. (a) An alien applying for a visa as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (F) of the act shall not only have the burden of establishing that he is entitled to classification as a student within the meaning of that section of the act, but also that he is not ineligible to receive a visa as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 212 of the act or any other provision of law, and § 41.17. Such alien shall establish specifically that:

(1) He has a residence in a foreign country which he has no intention of abandoning;

(2) He is a bona fide student qualified to pursue, and seeking to enter the United States temporarily and solely for the purpose of pursuing, a full course of study as prescribed by the approved institution of learning or other recognized place of study which has accepted such student for study;

(3) He is in possession of sufficient funds to cover his expenses or other arrangements have been made to provide for his expenses;

(4) He has sufficient scholastic preparation and knowledge of the English language to enable him to undertake a full course of study in the institution of learning or other place of study by which he has been accepted, or if his knowledge of the English language is inadequate to enable him to pursue a full program of study in such language, the approved school or other recognized place of study is equipped to offer, and has accepted him expressly for, a full program of study in a language with which he is sufficiently familiar; and that

(5) He intends in good faith, and will be able, to depart from the United States upon the termination of his status.

(b) An alien who intends to study the English language exclusively while in the United States may be classified as a nonimmigrant student under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (F) of the act, if otherwise qualified, and if the approved school is equipped to offer, and has accepted him expressly for, a full course of study in the English language, even though no credits are given by the institution for such study. In all cases in which special arrangements have been made with the approved school for the acceptance of a student who lacks an adequate knowledge of the English language, or who intends to enter the United States solely for the purpose of studying the English language, a copy of the letter from the school setting forth such special arrangements shall be appended to Form 257b.

(Sec. 291, 66 Stat. 234; 8 U. S. C. 1361)

INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATION ALIENS

§ 41.90 Aliens coming to international organizations. (a) An alien applying for a nonimmigrant visa under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (G) (i) of the act shall be required to establish to the satisfaction of the consular officer that he seeks to enter the United States as:

(1) A designated principal resident representative of a foreign government recognized de jure by the United States, to an international organization of which his government is a member; or

(2) An accredited resident member of the staff of such representative; or

(3) A member of the immediate family of such a representative, or of an accredited resident member of his staff.

(b) An alien applying for a nonimmigrant visa under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (G) (ii) of the act shall be required to establish to the satisfaction of the consular officer that he seeks to enter the United States as:

(1) An accredited representative, other than a designated principal resident representative described in paragraph (a) of this section, of a foreign government recognized de jure by the United States, to an international organization of which his government is a member; or

(2) A member of the immediate family of such representative.

(c) An alien applying for a nonimmigrant visa under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (G) (iii) of the act shall be required to establish to the satisfaction of the consular officer that he seeks to enter the United States as:

(1) An accredited representative of a foreign government not recognized de jure by the United States, to an international organization of which his government is a member; or

(2) An accredited representative of a foreign government recognized de jure by the United States, to an international organization of which his government is not a member; or

(3) An accredited representative of a foreign government not recognized de jure by the United States, to an international organization of which his government is not a member; or

(4) A member of the immediate family of a representative as described in subparagraph (1), (2), or (3) of this paragraph.

(e) An alien applying for a nonimmigrant visa under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (G) (iv) of the act shall be required to establish to the satisfaction of the consular officer that he seeks to enter the United States as:

(1) An officer or employee of an international organization; or

(2) A member of the immediate family of such officer or employee.

(e) An alien applying for a nonimmigrant visa under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (G) (v) of the act shall be required to establish to the satisfaction of the consular officer that he seeks to enter the United States as:

(1) An attendant, servant, or personal employee of a representative, officer, or employee referred to in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d) of this section; or as

(2) A member of the immediate family of such attendant, servant, or personal employee.

(f) Aliens referred to in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), and (e) of this section may be accorded a nonimmigrant classification under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (G) of the act only if they seek to enter, or pass in transit through, the United States in pursuance of their official duties directly related to such status, as distinct from personal or other private business or pleasure in which case they shall be classified, if otherwise qualified as nonimmigrants, under some other appropriate category defined in section 101 (a) (15) of the act.

(g) No alien shall be accorded nonimmigrant status under section 101 (a) (15) (G) of the act if the facts in his case clearly bring him within any other specific nonimmigrant category defined in section 101 (a) (15) of the act.

(h) The term "international organization" means any public international organization which has been designated by the President by Executive order as being entitled to enjoy the privileges, exemptions, and immunities provided for in the International Organizations Immunities Act (59 Stat. 669).

(i) The term "principal alien" means one from whom an alien who is a member of his staff, a member of his immediate family, or his attendant, servant, or personal employee, derives such subsidiary or subordinate status, provided such status is comprehended within the specific provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (G) of the act.

(j) The term "immediate family," as used in section 101 (a) (15) (G) of the act, means close relatives who are members of the immediate family by blood, marriage, or adoption, and who will reside regularly in the household of the principal alien from whom they derive their subsidiary status.

(k) The term "attendants", as used in section 101 (a) (15) (G) (v) of the act, includes an alien who is paid from the public funds of the foreign government to which he owes allegiance, or from the funds of the international organization, and who is accompanying or following to join the principal alien to whom he owes a duty or service.

(l) The term "servants" and "personal employees", as used in section 101 (a) (15) (G) (v) of the act, include an alien who is employed in a domestic or personal capacity by a principal alien, who is paid from the private funds of such alien, and who seeks to enter the United States solely for the purpose of such employment.

(Sec. 101, 66 Stat. 168; 8 U. S. C. 1101)

§ 41.91 Evidence of status as representative to, or officer or employee of, international organization. (a) An alien applying for a visa as a nonimmigrant representative to, or as an officer or employee of, an international organization shall be required to present evidence of his status and of the means and destination of his travel to, or through, the United States. The consular officer to whom such alien applies for a visa may, if in doubt, require a confirmation of the status of such representative, officer, or employee from the appropriate foreign office or from the international organization concerned, and any other evidence considered necessary to establish the applicant's eligibility to receive a visa as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (G), and other applicable provisions, of the act.

(b) An alien who applies for a visa as a resident member of the staff, a member of the immediate family, or an attendant, servant, or personal employee, of a principal alien may be required to present satisfactory evidence of such status.

§ 41.92 Procedure in issuing visa to representative to, or officer or employee of, international organization. (a) The provisions of §§ 41.5 and 41.12 shall be followed in issuing a visa to an alien as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (G) of the act.

(b) In the case of an alien who is a resident member of the staff, a member of the immediate family, or an attendant, servant, or personal employee of a principal alien, the name and title of the principal alien from whom such status is derived shall be written below the lower margin of the visa stamp or on the same page of the passport or other document bearing the visa stamp.

(c) An alien who seeks to enter the United States as a foreign-government representative to an international organization and who, at the same time, is proceeding to the United States on official business as a foreign-government official within the meaning of section 101 (a) (15) (A) of the act, shall, if otherwise qualified, be issued a visa as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (A) of the act.

TEMPORARY WORKERS

§ 41.100 Temporary workers and trainees. (a) An alien applying for a nonimmigrant visa as a temporary worker or trainee under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (H) of the act shall not be granted such status unless the consular officer is in receipt of an authorization from the Secretary of State to grant the alien such nonimmigrant status upon the basis of a petition of the alien's prospective employer in the United States, filed with and approved by the Attorney General. Such approved petition shall constitute prima facie evidence that the alien is entitled to apply for classification as a temporary worker or trainee within the meaning of section 101 (a) (15) (H) of the act: Provided, That the approval of such petition shall not, of itself, establish that the alien is a bona fide nonimmigrant or that he is otherwise qualified to receive a nonimmigrant visa.

(b) Aliens who are entitled to classification as nonimmigrants under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (A) or (G) of the act shall not be subject to the petition requirements of section 101 (a) (15) (H) and section 214 (c) of the act, unless they are coming to the United States under contract or other pre-arrangement to perform service or labor for hire, or for training, which is outside the scope of the official duties inherently involved in their status, in which case they shall be classified as nonimmigrants under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (H) of the act and approved petitions shall be required before the visas are issued.

(c) No consular officer shall refuse to grant nonimmigrant status to an alien under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (H) of the act on the ground that the alien is not qualified to perform the service or labor, or to undertake the training, specified in the employer's petition approved by the Attorney General: Provided, That a consular officer who knows or has reason to believe that such alien is not so qualified shall suspend action on the alien's application for a nonimmigrant visa under section 101 (a) (15) (H) of the act and submit a full report to the Secretary of State for possible reference to the Attorney General of the question whether the Attorney General desires to reconsider his approval of the employer's petition.

(d) If the consular officer knows or has reason to believe that an alien applying for a visa as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (H) of the act is ineligible to receive such visa under the provisions of section 212 of the act or any other provision of law, and § 41.17, he shall refuse to issue such visa and shall submit a full report to the Secretary of State for possible reference to the Attorney General to complete the file of the Immigration and Naturalization Service in the case.

(e) Aliens coming to the United States as temporary workers or trainees under the exchange visitor program provided for in the United States Information and Educational Exchange Act of 1948, as amended (62 Stat. 6, 66 Stat. 276; 22 U. S. C. 1446), shall be classified as nonimmigrants under the symbol "EX" and the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) of the act, and § 41.5. Such cases shall not be subject to the petition procedure provided for in section 214 (c) of the act. (See § 41.41.)

(f) An alien who is of distinguished merit and ability and who seeks to enter the United States temporarily with the general intention of performing temporary service of an exceptional nature requiring such merit and ability, but having no contract or prearranged employment, may be classified as a temporary visitor for business under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (B) of the act.

(g) The term "industrial trainee", as used in section 101 (a) (15) (H) (iii) of the act, shall include an alien coming to the United States for training in agriculture, commerce, communications, finance, government, or transportation, as well as for training in a purely industrial establishment. The term "industrial trainee" shall also include a student who seeks to enter the United States to pursue a course of study or training at a vocational training school.

(Sec. 101, 66 Stat. 168; 8 U. S. C. 1101)

§ 41.101 Alien servant or personal employee of member of the Foreign Service of the United States, or of other citizen or resident of the United States. An alien seeking to enter the United States temporarily for employment as a servant or personal employee of a member of the Foreign Service of the United States, or of any other citizen or resident of the United States, shall, if otherwise qualified, be classified as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (H) (ii) of the act. Such alien servant or personal employee shall be subject to the petition procedure referred to in § 41.100 (a). In issuing a visa to such alien the symbol H–2 shall be inserted in the spaces provided for classification in the visa stamp and Forms 257b and 257c.

NEWS REPORTERS

§ 41.110 Representatives of foreign press, radio, film, or other information media. (a) An alien applying for a nonimmigrant visa under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (I) of the act shall not be accorded such status unless he establishes to the satisfaction of the consular officer that he seeks to enter the United States as:

(1) A representative of a foreign press, radio, film, or other foreign information medium, solely to engage in such vocation; or as

(2) The spouse or child of such representative, and is accompanying or following to join him.

(b) An alien who will be engaged in the United States in newsgathering activities between the United States and the country of which he is a national, and who is entitled to enter the United States under and in pursuance of the provisions of a treaty of commerce and navigation between the United States and the foreign state of which he is a national, shall be classified as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (I) of the act and not as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (E) of the act.

(66 Stat. 168; 8 U. S. C. 1101)

§ 41.111 Burden of proof and evidence of status as representative of foreign information media. (a) An alien applying for a visa as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (I) of the act shall not only have the burden of establishing that he is entitled to classification as a representative of a foreign information medium within the meaning of that section of the act, but also that he is not ineligible to receive a visa as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 212 of the act or other provision of law, and § 41.17. Such alien shall establish specifically that:

(1) He seeks to enter the United States solely to represent in good faith a foreign press, radio, film, or other foreign information medium; and that

(2) He intends in good faith, and will be able, to depart from the United States upon the termination of his status.

(b) In order to qualify as the representative of a foreign press, radio, film, or other information medium within the meaning of section 101 (a) (15) (I) of the act, an alien shall be accredited by such a foreign medium having its home office in a foreign country, the government of which grants upon a basis of reciprocity similar privileges to representatives of such a medium having home offices in the United States, except that when the information medium is owned, operated, subsidized, or controlled by a foreign government, directly or indirectly, the reciprocity required by the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) (I) of the act shall be accorded by such foreign government.

TEMPORARY ADMISSION OF EXCLUDABLE ALIENS

§ 41.150 Procedure in recommending temporary admission of excludable aliens. (a) In the case of an alien who is properly classifiable as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (15) of the act, but who is known or believed by the consular officer to be ineligible to receive a visa as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 212 (a) of the act, other than paragraph (27) or (29), the consular officer to whom application is made by the alien for a nonimmigrant visa may, upon his own initiative, or shall, upon the alien's request, or upon the request of the Secretary of State, submit a full report to the Secretary of State with a recommendation for possible transmission to the Attorney General for advance authorization of the temporary admission of the alien into the United States as a nonimmigrant. The consular officer's recommendation, whether favorable or unfavorable, shall be accompanied by a full explanation of the facts in the case, and by an application to the Attorney General for temporary admission on such form, if any, as may be required by the Attorney General. A statement of the reasons for the consular officer's favorable or unfavorable recommendation shall be included in the report.

(b) When the Attorney General authorizes the temporary admission of an excludable alien as a nonimmigrant and the consular officer is so informed by the Secretary of State, the consular officer may proceed with the issuance of a nonimmigrant visa to the alien, subject to the conditions imposed by the Attorney General upon the alien's temporary admission into the United States.

(c) In the case of an alien who is seeking to enter the United States for the purpose of proceeding in transit to the Headquarters District of the United Nations in the United States under the provisions of section 11 (3), (4), or (5) of the Headquarters Agreement with the United Nations, and who is known or believed to be ineligible to receive a visa under the provisions of section 212 (a) (28) of the act, but not mandatorily ineligible under the provisions of section 212 (a) (27) or (29) of the act, the consular officer shall submit promptly to the Secretary of State a full report with a request for an advisory opinion concerning the action to be taken in the case. The consular officer may include in such report a recommendation for possible transmission to the Attorney General concerning the alien's possible temporary admission into the United States under the provisions of section 212 (d) (3) of the act. Upon receipt of notification from the Secretary of State that the Attorney General has authorized the temporary admission of such an alien in transit, the consular officer may proceed with the issuance of a transit visa to the alien, subject to the conditions imposed by the Attorney General for the admission of the alien in transit to the United Nations Headquarters District.

(Sec. 212, 66 Stat. 187; 8 U. S. C. 1182)

The regulations contained in this order shall become effective on December 24, 1952 at 12:01 a. m., e. s. t. The provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 238; 5 U. S. C. 1003) relative to notice of proposed rule making and delayed effective date are inapplicable to this order because the regulations contained therein involve foreign affairs functions of the United States.

[SEAL] DAVID BRUCE,
Acting Secretary of State.

AUTHORITY: §§ 42.1 to 42.49 issued under sec. 104, 66 Stat. 174; 8 U. S. C. 1104. Statutory provisions interpreted or applied are cited to text in parentheses.

§ 42.1 Definitions. The following definitions, in addition to the pertinent definitions contained in the Immigration and Nationality Act, shall be applicable to this part:

(a) "Act" means the Immigration and Nationality Act.

(b) "Affirmation" means a verification in confirmation of truth in lieu of a sworn statement by a person who has conscientious scruples against taking an oath.

(c) "Chinese person" means an alien who is attributable by as much as one-half of his ancestry to a people or peoples indigenous to China.

(d) "Consular officer", as defined in section 101 (a) (9) of the act, shall include the District Administrators of the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands hereby designated as consular officers for the purpose of issuing immigrant visas.

(e) "Department" means the Department of State of the United States of America.

(f) "Passport" as defined in section 101 (a) (30) of the act shall not be considered as limited to a national passport, but shall be considered as including any other document issued by a competent authority, which shows the bearer's origin, identity, and nationality if any, and which is valid for the entry of the bearer into a foreign country. The term "passport" shall not be considered as limited to a single document but may consist of two or more documents which, when considered together, fulfill the requirements of a passport as defined in section 101 (a) (30) of the act: Provided, That written permission to enter a foreign country shall be considered as fulfilling one of such requirements if it is clearly valid for such purpose and specifies no conditions to such validity for the alien's entry into a foreign country.

(g) "Port of entry" means a port or place designated by the Attorney General or the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization at which an alien may apply for admission into the United States.

CLASSIFICATION OF IMMIGRANTS

§ 42.2 Presumption of immigrant status. Every alien shall be presumed to be an immigrant until he furnishes information or presents evidence establishing nonimmigrant status under the provisions of Part 41 of this subchapter. An immigrant shall be classified as a quota immigrant until he establishes that he is classifiable as a nonquota immigrant. In order to be classified as a nonquota immigrant, an alien shall be required to qualify for such classification within one of the nonquota immigrant categories specified in section 101 (a) (27) of the act and hereinafter more specifically described in this part.

§ 42.3 Immigrant classification symbols. (a) A visa issued to an alien as an immigrant within one of the nonquota immigrant classes defined in section 101 (a) (27) of the act, or to an alien as an immigrant within one of the quota immigrant classes described in section 203 (a) of the act, shall bear a symbol to show the classification of the immigrant, in conformity with section 221 (a) of the act. Such symbol shall be inserted by the consular officer in the designated space on the visa side of the immigrant visa application Form 256.

(Sec. 221, 66 Stat. 191; 8 U. S. C. 1201)

CLASSES OF NONQUOTA IMMIGRANTS

§ 42.4 Nonquota relatives. (a) An alien shall, regardless of ancestry, be accorded a nonquota immigrant status under the provisions of section 101 (a) (27) (A) of the act, only if such alien establishes by the presentation of appropriate evidence to the consular officer that he is the spouse or child of a citizen of the United States, and is the beneficiary of an approved petition filed in his behalf with the Attorney General by such citizen, upon the basis of which the consular officer shall have been authorized by the Secretary of State to grant the nonquota immigrant status. An approved petition for first-preference quota status for the husband of a United States citizen shall, if still valid on December 24, 1952, be deemed to be valid for nonquota status under section 101 (a) (27) (A) of the act until December 24, 1953, except as otherwise provided in § 42.28.

(b) In issuing an immigrant visa to an alien child as a nonquota immigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (27) (A) of the act, the consular officer shall warn such alien, if he is approaching the age of twenty-one years, that he will not be admissible as such a nonquota immigrant if he fails to apply for admission at a port of entry in the United States before reaching the age of twenty-one years.

(Sec. 101, 66 Stat. 169; 8 U. S. C. 1101)

§ 42.5 Returning resident alien—(a) Burden of proof. An alien shall, regardless of ancestry, be accorded a nonquota immigrant status under the provisions of section 101 (a) (27) (B) of the act only if such alien sustains the burden of establishing through the presentation of appropriate evidence to the consular officer that the applicant has the status of an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence and that he is returning to the United States from a temporary visit abroad.

(Sec. 291, 66 Stat. 234; 8 U. S. C. 1361)

(b) Evidence of returning resident status. An alien applying for a nonquota immigrant visa under the provisions of section 101 (a) (27) (B) of the act shall be required to present any evidence deemed necessary by the consular officer to establish eligibility to receive such visa. In this connection, the applicant may be required to furnish for inspection his alien registration receipt card (Form I–151) if such a card has been issued to him, or an expired reentry permit if such a reentry permit was issued to him. Such alien shall be required to establish specifically that:

(1) He had the status of an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence at the time of his departure from the United States;

(2) He departed from the United States with the intention of returning thereto;

(3) He is returning to the United States from a temporary visit abroad: Provided, That when his stay abroad was protracted, he shall be required to establish whether the reasons therefor were beyond his control and whether he was not responsible therefor, in order that it may be determined whether the sojourn abroad was temporary.

(c) Authority to require supporting documents. The provisions of section 222 (b) of the act requiring an immigrant to furnish with his application for a visa certain records and documents shall apply, in the case of an applicant for a nonquota immigrant visa under the provisions of section 101 (a) (27) (B) of the act, to the extent of requiring the applicant to furnish those records and documents which relate to the period of his residence in the United States, unless the consular officer has a valid reason for questioning the legality of the alien's previous admission into the United States for permanent residence, or his eligibility otherwise to receive a visa.

(d) Bearers of reentry permits. No alien who is in possession of an unexpired reentry permit issued to him shall be issued an immigrant visa of any kind without a specific authorization from the Secretary of State, and an authorization from the Attorney General to take up the alien's reentry permit.

(e) Bearers of border-crossing cards. No alien who is in possession of a valid and unexpired resident alien's border-crossing identification card issued to him shall be issued an immigrant visa of any kind without a specific authorization from the Secretary of State, and an authorization from the Attorney General to take up the alien's border-crossing identification card.

§ 42.6 Natives of Western Hemisphere countries. (a) An alien shall be accorded a nonquota immigrant status under the provisions of section 101 (a) (27) (C) of the act only if such alien sustains the burden of presenting evidence which establishes to the satisfaction of the consular officer that:

(1) Such alien was born in Canada, the Republic of Mexico, the Republic of Cuba, the Republic of Haiti, the Dominican Republic, the Canal Zone, or an independent country of Central or South America, or that

(2) Such alien is the eligible spouse, or the child of an alien referred to in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, and is accompanying or following to join him.

(b) The provisions of paragraph (a) of this section shall not apply to a Chinese person, or to any other person who is attributable by as much as one-half of his ancestry to a people or peoples indigenous to the Asia-Pacific triangle, unless such person is the child of, and is accompanying or following to join, an alien referred to in subparagraph (1) of paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Nonquota immigrant status under the provisions of section 101 (a) (27) (C) of the act, once acquired as provided in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, shall not be lost by the operation of the provisions of section 202 (a) (1) or (2) of the act.

(d) An alien born in a quota area and claiming nonquota immigrant status under the provisions of section 101 (a) (27) (C) of the act because of relationship to a spouse or parent born in a nonquota country shall be required to present the evidence necessary to establish such status.

(e) An alien referred to in subparagraph (2) of paragraph (a) of this section, who is following to join an alien parent in the United States, shall establish by satisfactory evidence that the parent was born in a nonquota country, and has the status of an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence.

(f) An alien applying for a nonquota immigrant visa as the spouse of an alien classifiable as a nonquota immigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (27) (C) of the act shall be required to establish that the applicant's spouse from whom nonquota status is derived by the applicant under that section of the act was born in a nonquota country and is eligible to receive a nonquota immigrant visa under that section of the act, or that such applicant's spouse was born in a nonquota country and has the status of an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence. Such an applicant shall not be eligible for nonquota status under section 101 (a) (27) (C) of the act if he or she is a Chinese person, or any other person who is attributable by as much as one-half of his or her ancestry to a people or peoples indigenous to the Asia-Pacific triangle.

(Sec. 101, 66 Stat. 169; 8 U. S. C. 1101)

§ 42.7 Former United States citizens—(a) Women expatriates. An alien applying for reacquisition of citizenship under the provisions of section 324 (a) of the act shall, regardless of ancestry, be accorded nonquota immigrant status under the provisions of section 101 (a) (27) (D) of the act only if such alien sustains the burden of presenting evidence which establishes to the satisfaction of the consular officer that she was a citizen of the United States and that she lost her citizenship by reason of marriage to an alien, or by reason of the loss of United States citizenship by her husband, or by reason of her marriage to an alien who was ineligible to citizenship, and that she has not acquired any other nationality by any affirmative act other than marriage. The provisions of this paragraph shall apply to aliens regardless of their marital status at the time of the issuance of a visa.

(b) Military expatriates. A person, regardless of ancestry, who shall have been a citizen of the United States, and who shall have lost his citizenship under the provisions of section 349 (a) (3) of the act, or under the provisions of section 401 (c) of the Nationality Act of 1940 (54 Stat. 1169), by entering, or serving in, the armed forces of a foreign state, and who may apply for reacquisition of citizenship under the provisions of section 327 of the act, may be accorded the status of a nonquota immigrant under the provisions of section 101 (a) (27) (D) of the act.

(c) Children expatriates. An alien shall, regardless of ancestry, be accorded a nonquota immigrant status under the provisions of section 101 (a) (27) (E) of the act only if such alien:

(1) Sustains the burden of presenting evidence which establishes that he was a citizen of the United States and that he lost such citizenship prior to January 1, 1948 through the naturalization in a foreign state of a parent or parents as provided in section 349 (a) (1) of the act; and
